SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 10.—(C. P.)—Three Hindus were held by Solano County authorities to-day as the hunt for the murderers of Sant Ram Pande, 31, University of California student, took on ramifications of a sinister Oriental mystery.

The State Bureau of Criminal Identification, for which Pande gave up his studies in order that he might work on the unsolved killings of thirteen of his countrymen in California in the last five years, allegedly had been under surveillance by Hindus in the Sacramento Valley.

Clarence S. Morill, head of the bureau, said State criminal records were being guarded by armed men because of the surveillance by Hindu characters.

Murder Cult Recalled.

The manner in which Pande met death, Morrill said, recalled the activities of the Thuggees of Northern India, the strange cult which worshipped the black goddess Kali and practiced murder. Pande's headless body was found trussed to a tractor wheel in the Sacramento river near Rio Vista last week. The head evidently had been severed by someone with a knowledge of surgery.

Decapitation was a rite of the Kali followers.

Udiham Singh, Shajga Singh and Magahar Singh, fellow countrymen of Pande, were arrested at a ranch barn near Rio Vista last night.

In the barn officers said they found a harrow, one side of which was weighed with a tractor wheel similar to that found with Pande's body. Officers said they regarded the fact the other side of the harrow was minus a counterbalancing weight as significant.

The three Hindus, officers said, admitted they were in the United States without proper credentials.

SNOW IS DRIFTED SEVEN FEET DEEP ON COUNTY ROADS

All Snow Removing Machinery Available is Put Into Use.

30 MILES OPENED UP.

Duncan McFarlane Says Storm Worst in His Eleven Years as Superintendent.

Since the forenoon of Sunday when it turned out to face the raging blizzard the County snow plow has worked almost unremittingly and is still valiantly battling in an effort to open up the connecting links between various centres throughout the County. With 165 miles of county roads to handle, the task is an arduous one, and two Caterpillar maintenance graders are being called in to augment the work, being done by the new F.W.D. combination outfit. Up to the time of going to press approximately 30 miles of roadway have been opened up to automobile traffic. This includes the section between Peterborough and Keene on which the plow encountered considerable difficulty on Sunday and Monday, and the Peterborough-Lakefield road over which it was working this morning. The next section to be tackled will be from Peterborough to Warsaw, while the Caterpillar plows will be pressed into service on the Burleigh road.

Duncan McFarlane, County Road Superintendent who is directing operations, brings back reports of immense drifts of heavy snow on the County Roads and township sidelines. In places he states and particularly on the Buckhorn road the snow is level with the fences being seven feet deep by actual measurement. Generally speaking roads running east and west are not so seriously affected as those running north and south; accordingly the road out to Norwood is not in such a bad condition.

Worst in 11 Years

Mr. McFarlane averred that in his eleven years' experience, he had never witnessed such immense snow drifts, and described how on Sunday while tackling the Keene road the two operators of the plow, were obliged to resort to the shovel on frequent occasions while the sidewings on the plow were practically useless against the heavy snow. The men were also troubled with a mild attack of snow-blindness and were unable to bring the plow in on Sunday night or to continue working through the night as they had intended to. Continuing the task on Monday morning the snow plow became stuck in seven feet of snow at Zion and farmers lent their aid with shovels. The plow eventually arrived home at midnight last night, and this morning at an early hour was

TRAINS COLLIDE OUTSIDE LONDON FIVE ARE INJURED

Siding Switch Improperly Set—Freights Meet Head-on.

MAIN LINE TIED UP.

All Victims Are Members of Crews Who Jumped Before Locomotives Met.

LONDON, Ont., March 10. (CP)—A head on collision between two Canadian Pacific Railway freight trains at 3.30 a.m. this morning on the main line 200 yards east of Hyde Park side road resulted in the injury to five members of the train crews all of London, when they jumped just before the two locomotives met.

The injured are:—

Engineer H. Stevens, 23 Sterling Street, right knee injured.

Two Cars Derailed

The injured were brought to their homes in London. Two box cars and the tender of engine No. 811 were derailed. Train No. 903 enroute from London to Windsor, in charge of Engineer Stevens, had pulled into the siding at Hyde Park to allow train No. 904, engine No. 1091, from Windsor to London to pass. The switch was improperly set and instead of train No. 904 which was travelling about 35 miles an hour

FIREMEN BATTLE OVER TWO HOURS TO GAIN CONTROL

Starting About 10.30 O'clock This Morning in or Near Furnace in the North-east End of the Basement the Blaze Spread Rapidly, Breaking Through the Floors.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $50,000—LIKELY BE HIGHER, TWO INJURED IN BLAST, ONE OVERCOME BY SMOKE

Court House Been Scene of Many Memorable Events, Sir John A. MacDonald, Sir Oliver Mowat and Sir Richard Cartwright Conducting Cases There.

KINGSTON, Ont., March 10.—Fire which raged for more than two hours in the court house here, was under control at 12:30 today, but not until a great deal of damage had been done.

The fire which broke out about 10 o'clock, apparently started near or in the old furnace in the northeastern end of the basement. It spread with rapidity and broke through the floors at that end, while dense volumes of smoke retarded the work of the firemen and prevented the rescue of documents which were endangered.

While no official estimate of the loss could be secured, it is believed that the damage will run perhaps to $50,000 or more. Fire Chief Robinson summoned twenty-five unemployed men to help the firemen in their work.

At noon the fire broke through the roof and the entire building was in grave danger, the fire spreading rapidly. Frank Purdy, county treasurer, heard a cry of "fire" and barely was able to make his way through the smoke to the outside.

Three Firemen Hurt

During the early progress of the fire, three members of the fire department were injured. Charles Saunders got the full force of an explosion in his face when working at one of the windows on the north side of the building. He suffered severe lacerations and was taken to the General Hospital.

Fireman Thomas Patterson was working at a basement window when he was overcome by smoke, while Fireman Smith had an artery in his wrist cut.

The Court House is one of the finest examples of achitecture in this section of the country. It was built of limestone and though completely gutted by fire in 1874, its construction was such that not a stone had to be replaced.

Built in 1856.

It was built in 1856 at a cost of $100,000, but it would cost several times that amount to replace it.

The Court House has been the scene of many memorable events. It was in this building that Sir John A. Macdonald conducted cases before Judges back in the late fifties and early sixties. Here it was also that such men as Sir Oliver Mowat, Sir Richard Cartwright, and other prominent men carried on their defence or prosecution of cases.

SENECA WOMAN PLEADS GUILTY

Judge Fixes No Date For Sentencing Nancy Bowen on Manslaughter Charge.

IN BUFFALO COURT.

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 10 (C.P.) —Nancy Bowen, 65-year-old Seneca Indian woman, to-day pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of manslaughter, first degree in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Clotilde Marchand in her Buffalo home a year ago.

The plea was entered before County Judge F. B. Thorne, who did not immediately fix a date for sentencing of the aged woman. The law provides a penalty of imprisonment not exceeding 20 years for this offense.

Nancy originally was indicted, together with Lila Jimerstn, Cayuga Indian woman who was acquitted a week ago, on a charge of murder, first degree. She testified for the State in the prosecution of Lila, admitting that she beat to death Mrs. Marchant, wife of an artist with whom Lila was on intimate terms. Nancy insisted, however, that she murdered Mrs. Marchand only because the young Indian woman had said she was a "white witch" and that all Nancy's relatives would die unless Mrs. Marchand were removed.

JOSEPH P. COTTON SINKING FAST.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Mar. 10.—(C. P.) John Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore informed the State Department shortly before noon to-day that Joseph P. Cotton, Under Secretary of State, was "sinking rapidly." Mr. Cotton has been ill for several weeks.

The report added the Under-Secretary was not expected to live more than three hours.

CLAIMS U.S. CASH BUILT I'M ALONE

If Contentions Proved Case Be Dropped From Realm of International Controversy.

USE WARTIME PRECEDENT.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 10 (C.P.)—A new witness to testify that United States money built the I'm Alone, controlled her operations, and paid her crew has been found by the Government.

This evidence will be the principal argument of the case now in preparation by George Wharton Pepper, the American Agent, for presentation to the Joint American-Canadian Arbitration Commission.

If these contentions can be proved they are expected to remove the case from the realm of international controversy, on the basis of a wartime precedent in which the United States dropped its protests against a British seizure of German-owned vessels under United States registry.

These were the steamers Hocking, Kanakee and Genesee. The British Government justified their seizure by proving they were owned by the Stinnes interests, despite the United States registry.

The United States Government will attempt to deal similarly in the I'm Alone case.

ALBERT RICHARDS IS DEAD

BROCKVILLE, Ont., March 10. — Albert Richards, who retired a short time ago from the Presidency of the Chamber of Commerce and who was active in many other community organizations, died suddenly at his home here this morning. He was an official of the Eugene F. Phillips Electrical Works, Limited, and came here from Montreal with that concern a few years ago.

COASTGUARD RENDERS ASSISTANCE CREW OF CANADIAN RUM-RUNNER

FEUD IS FORGOTTEN.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 10.—(C. P.)—United States' coast guardsmen and the crew of a Canadian rum-runner met on the high seas to-day but combined to cut red-tape and bring quick relief to two Nova Scotia seamen.

The coast guard patrol boat Sebago was patrolling rum row early to-day when she picked up a wireless message from the Nova Scotia motor ship Shanaliam, out of Shelburne, N.S.

The skipper of the Shanaliam messaged, he had two injured seamen aboard who urgently required medical assistance. The Sebago had no doctor aboard. Furthermore the Shanaliam was known as a rum runner, having been seized last December with 1,500 cases of liquor aboard. The Canadian vessel was released under bond.

Feud is Forgotten.

But the feud which exists between the coastguard and the rum-runner was forgotten.

The situation was referred promptly to Commander H. R. Searles of the coastguard. He advised the captain of the Shanaliam that the only course open appeared to be for the rum-runner to seal her cargo of liquor and make for Port St. George, Staten Island, where the injured men could be taken to the marine hospital. So the Shanaliam with her hatches sealed was making for that port today with the understanding that when the members of her crew had been treated she could put to sea again.

She was outside the twelve mile liquor treaty limit when she radioed the coastguard to-day and she must be outsidt that limit again when the hatches are unsealed. Then, once again the coastguard will take up the hunt with the Shanaliam the quarry. It was the first case of the sort in the history of the coastguard.

No details were available concerning the injury to the seamen but it is considered probable they were hurt when the rum-runner rode out the storm which has swept the coast in this vicinity for the past three days.

NEW POLITICAL PARTY FORESEEN BASED ON PROHIBITION PLATFORM

New Body Would Disect Itself From Prohibition Union Official Explains.

CONVENTION UNDER WAY.

TORONTO, Ont., March 10 (C.P.) —The formation of a new political party which would form its foundation on a platform of Prohibition, loomed as a possibility from the annual convention of the Ontario Prohibition Union, which opened there to-day. A section of the conference already has plans to lay before a special meeting to be called in the afternoon. The party, if formed, it was explained to the Canadian Press by one of the officials, would disect itself from the Prohibition Union so that the Union would not be subject to any political control or motive.

The conference opened this morning to receive routine reports and to deal with minor business. The agenda was received and notices of motion were called for. A number of minor committees were appointed. A report by the executive committee which met yesterday was to be laid before the conference later to-day.

Order For Greenhill Will Not Be Issued

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 10.—(C.P.) —Holding the opinion of the law made no provision for the issue of an order to the Governor of the Toronto jail to produce Ambrose Greenhill for medical examination in his defense, Mr. Justice Middleton today refused a request for such an order for Greenhill, who is charged with the murder of his foreman, Montague Hamilton.

The request was opposed by the Attorney-General's Department.

Discovery Of Billy Led To Trio's Arrest

CALGARY, Alta., March 10 (C.P.) —Arrest of Mike Radko, Bertram Jones and Albert Allen, in connection with the murder of Ernest Mirwinter, Calgary taxi driver last August, was due to discovery of a home-made billy at the scene of the crime, witnesses at the preliminary hearing of Radko and Jones on a charge of murder disclosed yesterday.

Allen, to be given a separate hearing on a charge of being an accessory, said Jones and Radko were members of the party, including himself, when Midwinter was killed. The fourth, known as "The Kid," is still being sought by police.

Hearing resumes to-day.

PARTS OF PLANE, FLIER'S HELMET WASHED ON SHORE NEAR WITHROP, FISHING VESSEL WITH FOUR, MISSING

Eight High School Students Buried Day in New Hampshire Drifts.

SHIP WRECKAGE FOUND.

Vermont Suffers Worst Storm in Years—All Highways Blocked.

BOSTON, Mass., March 10 (C.P.). — New England took stock to-day after a disastrous south-east storm had claimed the lives of five fishermen, endangered ten motorists marooned in White Mountain snow drifts, and left washed up on Massachusetts shores the battered parts of a plane and a flier's helmet and goggles.

Eight Groveton, N.H., High School students, their basketball coach, and a chauffeur were found late yesterday in the impassable drifts of snow that cut Crawford Notch, N.H., from the rest of the world. For 18 hours they were without food as the drifts piled higher and higher about them.

Further down the coast, at Winthrop, an aviators helmet and goggles were found. A minute search by Coast Guardsmen failed to reveal anything additional that might explain them.

Wreckage Cast Ashore

Earlier yesterday the sea cast up planks and spars at Newburyport, all that remained of the Boston fisherman Julia, whose crew of five was lost during the storm of Sunday night and Monday morning. Another fisherman, the St. Providenca, was missing with her crew of four.

In Vermont, the storm was the worst experienced in many years. Abandoned automobiles dotted the main highways in Rutland County and plows, tractors and large gangs of men worked through yesterday and last night in an effort to break a road out across the state from Rutland to White River Junction.

Drifts from eight to ten feet deep made the task of digging out extremely difficult. Old dobbin and the sleigh plowed through the Vermont cities and towns again as the only means of transportation.

Just east of Rutland, an abandoned automobile, completely buried in a drift, was uncovered by highway workmen. The roads to New York and Boston were opened for a scant six miles from Rutland. In one farmhouse, about four miles north of Rutland, 63 men, women and children, all marooned motorists, spent the night.

Tobacco Was All That Thief Wanted

The thief who burglarized Gardner's Drug Store in Norwood on Thursday night is addicted to tobacco, police are positive. He carried away 5½ pounds of chewing tobacco, 20 packages of pipe tobacco, and a like number of cigarette packages. Although there was money in the cash register and much more valuable loot in the store, the thief gave his whole attention to the restocking of his tobacco supply. He broke into the store by removing a pane of glass from the rear door.

CONTRACTOR AIDS FUNDS OF PARTY

Uproar is Caused in Public Accounts Committee of Saskatchewan House.

HAD NO MACHINERY.

REGINA, March 10. — Two prominent Regina Conservatives were linked to-day with a road-gravelling contract allegedly issued without tender by the Anderson Government to a firm which had no equipment to do the work, in evidence given at a tempestuous hearing of the Legislature's Public Accounts Committee. W. Barnard, former gravel contractor, testified under protection of the Canada Evidence Act.

The chairman of the committee warned him that he would be arrested if he refused to answer the questions put by Hon. A. C. Stewart, Minister of Highways.

Mr. Barnard testified that a contract for road-gravelling was given without tender last summer to the firm of Barnard & Boyle. The contract, he testified, was obtained through Dr. D. S. Johnstone, president of the Regina Conservative Association, and T. A. Anderson, prominent Regina Conservative.

The witness swore that the firm did not have the equipment at the time to carry out the work, but that an undertaking was given to the Department's chief engineer that it would be obtained.

Barnard's evidence was marked by a series of clashes with Hon. Mr. Stewart and other Ministers, especially when the former contractor declared that a certain amount of profits from the contract had to be paid into the Conservative Party's campaign fund.

The BEST Gray Hair Remedy is Home Made

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and one fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It will gradually darken streaked, faded or grey hair and make it soft and glossy. Orlex will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

Expect St. Lawrence Soon Open To Traffic

MONTREAL, Que., March 10 (C.P.) —The Department of Marine is making every effort to extend the navigation season on the St. Lawrence river declared Hon. Alfred Duranleau, K.C., Minister of Marine here Saturday. He stated that the worst parts of the river had been cleared of ice, with the exception of the section between Sorel and Montreal, which when cleared would permit the navigation of ships between Quebec and Montreal. Mr. Duranleau expressed satisfaction with the work of the icebreakers this year and predicted the ocean steamers would soon be docking in Montreal.

JAPANESE REPLY TO NAVAL ACCORD

COMMENTS APPENDED.

TOKYO, March 10. (CP)—Japan's reply to the British-Franco-Italian naval accord has been sent to London and while not published is understood to express unreserved approval although appending a number of comments in the nature of desiderata.

These notes call attention to the large tonnage both of submarines and superannuated craft allowed to France. The fear is expressed, it is understood that the proposal will allow both countries to exceed the limits of the Washington Treaty in capital ships and thus entail reratification of the treaty in modified form, which is considered undesirable.

Fear is expressed also that if France and Italy build new capital ships now it will tend to nullify hope of reaching an agreement on abolition of capital ships at the next naval conference in 1936. It was presumed that these addenda were for consideration at the disarmament conference at Geneva, in 1932.

UNITED COUNTIES WILL NOT OPPOSE COBOURG APPEAL

Cobourg's Financial Obligations to Counties Must Be Provided For.

RESULT OF INCREASE TAX.

Cobourg's County Rate Was Increased by Nine and Half Mills This Year.

Reeve G. H. Hootan of Cavan township, Warden of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, went to Toronto this morning in connection with the application of the town of Cobourg to the provincial Legislature for authority to separate from the counties.

Cobourg's petition will be heard by the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature on Thursday, and will likely be supported by a strong deputation from Cobourg.

When asked by The Examiner last night what attitude the counties' council would take on this proposed severance of municipal relations between Cobourg and the United counties, of which it has been the counties' town since 1895, Warden Hooton said he had discussed this question with a few members of the council and it was generally felt that there would be no opposition to Cobourg's move providing satisfactory arrangements were made in regard to Cobourg's outstanding financial obligations to the counties.

"If they have made up their minds to separate from us,I suppose there is nothing we can do about it except to see that the question of finances are taken care of," Warden Hooton remarked.

A Result Of Tax Increase.

Cobourg's projected secession is a direct result of the new equalization of assessment which was fixed by Judge L. V. O'Connor last December. On the basis of this assessment which comes into effect this year Cobourg's county rate would be increased by 9½ mills. Their contribution to the counties treasury has been estimated at $36,326.30 for this year, an increase of approximately $16,000.

The revaluation of the counties' taxable properties last year followed from Warden Hooton's assertions that the urban municipalities in the united counties were not paying taxes commensurate with the amounts collected from the townships. He contended that the equalized assessment, which had not been revised for nearly twenty-five years, was not fair to the rural municipalities, and the resulting revaluation, particularly as it has applied to Cobourg, confirmed Warden Hooton's contention.

Compromise Rejected

Every offer made by the township representatives in the early stages of this debate two years ago was rejected. Slight readjustments of the assessment on a percentage basis which were then proposed received scant consideration from the towns and villages who demanded the form

CENTRAL STATIONS AND INDUSTRY

The ever-growing part taken by Central Electric Stations in assisting industry in Canada is shown by the fact that they supplied 60 per cent of the total power used in manufacturing in 1928. The Water Power and Hydrometric Bureau Department of the Interior, states that of the total output produced by these central stations, nearly 99 per cent is generated by water power.

Freight on C.P.R. Derailed—3 Hurt

LONDON, Ont., March 10 (C.P.).—Three members of the train crew were slightly injured early to-day when a freight train was derailed near Hyde Park, a few miles west of London on the Canadian Pacific Railway. Telegraphic communication has been temporarily disrupted, as wires are down in the locality and further particulars are not available.

EARNINGS DROP BUT SURPLUS IS SHOWN BY C.P.R.

MONTREAL, Mar. 10.— (Canadian Press Despatch.)— A sharp increase in special income, to counterbalance the decline in gross earnings which resulted from a shrinkage in traffic on Canadian railways, is shown in the preliminary statement of earnings, expenses and interest and dividend disbursements of the Canadian Pacific Railway, issued following a directors' meeting here yesterday. In addition to a large decrease in gross earnings, apart from special income, there was also a large cutting down of working expenses shown in the statement. All fixed charges and dividends were earned, with a surplus of $133,186.

Gross earnings from railway and lake steamers for the year ended Dec. 31, 1930, were $180,900,804, against $209,730,955 in 1929. Working expenses totalled $142,652,146, against $166,586,411, leaving net earnings from railway and lake steamers at $32,248,658, against $43,144,544 in the preceding year. Special income totalled $20,042,923, a new high record, composed of net revenue from investments and available resources, $3,402,369; interest on deposits and interest and dividends on other securities, $6,689,324; net earnings, ocean and coastal steamship lines, $7,031,939; and net earnings, commercial telegraphs, hotels, news department, rentals and miscellaneous, $2,919,291.

This makes a total income of $58,291,581, against $58,376,764 in 1929. After deduction of fixed charges, $19,159,865, there reamined a surplus of $39,131,716. Pension fund absorbed $750,000; preferred dividends totalled $5,005,623, leaving balance for the common of $33,376,093, against requirements of $33,242,907. Net surplus was $133,186 on the year.

TORIES CHANGE THEIR ATTITUDE ON INDIA PARLEYS

Baldwin's Decision Welcomed in Resolution Passed by Committee.

CHALLENGE TO GOV'T.

Sudden Reversal of Policy is Inexplicable to Majority of Politicians.

LONDON, Eng., March 10. (CP)— The Labor Government, which hitherto has almost unanimous backing in the House of Commons on its Indian policies, to-day faced a serious challenge in what many regarded as a right about face by Conservative leaders.

The Indian Committee of the Conservative Party met last night and passed a resolution reading:

"This committee welcomes the decision of Mr. Baldwin that the Conservative Party cannot be represented at any further Round Table Conference to be held in India, as now is foreshadowed by His Majesty's Government."

Politicians Startled

The reference to Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative Chieftain, who January 28, announced his endorsement of the policies worked out at the London Round Table Conference, was inexplicable to most politicians outside the inner Conservative circles, but several explanations were advanced.

One of these was that Mr. Baldwin had surrendered to the small die-hard faction led by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, which has strongly opposed further concessions in India, and another was that the outcome of recent negotiations between the Viceroy Lord Irwin, and Mahatma Gandhi, had displeased him. A third explanation advanced was that the resolution referred only to a Second Round Table Conference to be held "in India" and not one which might be held in London.

The puzzle apparently will not be solved until Thursday when the Commons will debate Indian development.

The Government has hoped through a second Round Table Conference, at which Nationalist elements, absent in the first conclave will sit also, to proceed with plans to establish an Indian federation with qualified Dominion status, that is, Dominion status with military and financial safeguards.

HAMAGACHI BACK AT HIS OFFICE

Japanese Premier Assumes Office First Time Since Wounded by Assassin.

WELCOMED BY CROWDS.

TOKYO, March 10 (A.P.).—Premier Hamaguchi to-day resumed his place at the head of the Government, having recovered somewhat from the effect of the gunshot wound inflicted by a young assassin last November 14.

The Premier appeared pale and weak, but his determination to take up his duties brought cheers even from the opposition, which evidenced the utmost courtesy.

After a brief address to the Diet, in which he thanked its members for sympathies shown him and asked support for various government measures now under consideration, Hamaguchi returned to his residence.

Crowds cheered him as he left the building.

Tomeo Sagoya, who shot the Premier, and two alleged accomplices still are held on charges of attempted murder.

A mallet bearing blood stains and bits of hair found near the car strengthened the police contention and the jury accepted the prosecution's belief that Rouse deliberately planned then carried out a scheme whereby he hoped to wash his past off the slate of life.

He made a brave attempt to carry through to the end the non-chalant attitude he maintained throughout his imprisonment and trail. As the last minutes approached however his emotion proved too much for him and when the warders arrived to take him to the place of execution he became hysterical and shouted long rambling sentences. When the cell doors were opened for his walk to the scaffold he was almost fainting and had to be assisted to the gallows.

GIVE THRESHER LIEN ON GRAIN

FARM LOAN STATISTICS.

TORONTO, March 10.—Answering questions in the Legislature yesterday, Hon. Thomas Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, gave the following information regarding the finances of the Agricultural Development Board:

The bill provides that the operator of a threshing machine shall possess a certificate from the Minister of Agriculture. He will have a lien on the grain he threshes for his wages and can take enough grain to cover his charges, and after holding it for fifteen days, may sell it. Such a lien shall have priority over all other claims.

THOROUGHBREDS have both beauty and pace . . . and certainly the 1931 Pontiac Six qualifies on these counts!

This fine car has the sleek grace of a blooded horse . . . indeed it has a beauty and luxury much greater than its low price implies.

Large, spacious Fisher Bodies are tastefully upholstered in rich fabrics. They are carefully insulated against cold and noise. Rubber insulation at 43 chassis points smothers noise and vibration, and eliminates many bothersome points of lubrication.

As an instance of added value, note also that the 1931 Pontiac has 5 wire wheels as standard equipment on all regular models without extra cost. You will also find Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers on all four wheels.

Then too, you will discover the 1931 Pontiac Six easy and comfortable to drive. It's a real thoroughbred, easy to manage, eager to obey. The famous 60 horsepower motor has speed for acceleration and speed for steady going . . . and either kind comes easily, quietly and economically.

Put this car through its paces yourself. We will gladly furnish a car for you to drive. Consider its value . . . a General Motors value, easy to buy through GMAC, General Motors' own, time payment plan, and with complete and continued satisfaction pledged by the General Motors Owner Service Policy.

SPECULATION RIFE IN WEST AS TO 1931 WHEAT CARRYOVER

Combination of Circumstances Might Reduce it to 90 Million.

CONSIDER THE BEAR.

(By C. V. Combe, Special to The Examiner. Copyright 1931.)

WINNIPEG, March 10 (S.N.S.).—With official figures available at the close of the first half of the Canadian 1930-1931 crop year the vital question of the extent of the carryover on July 31, 1931, again arises in wheat trade circles here. Some pessimists insist that this carryover will amount to 175 million bushels while the optimists insist that it cannot be more than half that amount, namely 90 millions.

The official Canadian carryover on July 31, 1930, was 131 millions, an all-time high. The five-year average at that date was 91 millions, against the previous five-year average of 37.5 millions. During one year of prospective bumper crops and buoyant prices the carryover had been reduced to less then 10 millions.

Statistics give a clear indication of what might be expected at July 31 in any normal year of world nancial and grain production conditions. Unfortunately, the story of accumulated Canadian grain is duplicated in practically all countries except Argentine and chaos reigns in world finance to a very large extent.

For the eight crop years beginning with the 1922-23 crop and ending with the 1929-30 crop, 59.6 per cent. of the total export sales of Canadian wheat and flour were made in the rst six months of the crop year. In the record crop year of 1928-29 69.4 per cent. of sales were made in the same period, while during the 1924-25 crop year only 46.6 per cent. of the total was exported.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures show that 156 million bushels of grain were exported in the first six months of the 1930-31 crop year, ending on January 31, as against 177 millions, the previous eighty-year average, with a maximum of 268 in 1928-29 and a minimum of 90 millions in the 1924-25 year.

If the maximum percentage of first half year sales, established in the 1928-29 crop year, is duplicated this year then 69.4 per cent. of the total sales has already been made and Canada can expect to sell only 79 millions more, leaving the country with a carryover of 165 million bushels, on official figures which show 400 millions exportable at July 31.

If the better half of the crop year lies ahead on the same ratio as in 1924-25, then only 46.6 per cent. of total sales for the present crop year have so far been export sales for the year of 316 million bushels. This would reduce the carryover to 84 millions, the lowest point since July 31, 1927. This if, of course, what all traders would like to see.

The eight-year average sales in the first six months were 59.6 of the total. Should this be approximated, then Canada will sell no more than 262 million bushels, leaving a carryover of 138 million bushels.

World demand is, at the moment, obscure. A chapter of accidents is conceivable by means of which wheat would go on a bull rampage, but the laws of probability are against that. Crop disaster, continental in scope, whether North America, Europe or Asia, would accomplish it, but nobody could wish for that. Similar disaster in Argentine and Australia during their next summer, which will be winter for us, could go a long way to ameliorate the situation.

The bear side is loaded heavily. The United States with a carryover of 275 millions and a n apparently normal winter wheat crop working its tenuous way to maturity is perhaps the greatest danger point of all. Should it decide to end the tie-up in international wheat trading by abandoning price fixation and pressing sales all previous bear markets will look like pink teas. However, such a course is unlikely unless world prices strengthen considerably in the meantime.

After a few remarks by the chairman, "A debate was presented, resolved the teen age girls have a better time than the teen age boys." Vera Coutt and Helen Tackabury for the affirmative and Howard Orvis and Lorne Richards, for the negative. The worthy judges were, Lyal Davey, J. L. Terrill and Grace Mutton. The debaters were very clever and humorous and their points were clear, given in a discreet manner.

After a careful summing up, the judges declared the affirmative the winners witha few more points. After an applause Grace Mutton favored with a vocal solo accompanied by the ukelele, which received a hearty encore. God save the King. Refreshments were enjoyed for a social half hour.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, March 10. — Friendly strength reflected in foreign cables and a goodly amount of export business transacted over the week-end injected a bullish feeling into trading on the wheat pit here yesterday. Values at the close were ⅜c to 1¼c higher for the session.

Pit trade was mostly local. Offerings remained light until the final minutes when selling became more free. Minor spreading between here and Chicago had little effect on local prices.

Cash wheat trade was limited and aggregate sales negligible. Export sales of barley featured the coarse grains section. The futures prices in this commodity advanced more than one cent. Other grades were neglected and reflected the firmness in wheat.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 10.—Piling-up of United States visible supplies of wheat and corn pulled grain prices downward late yesterday, more than offsetting early upturns. The late setbacks were in the face of considerable buying, based on correct surmises that the Government report on farm reserve stock of corn would prove smaller than the average of recent unofficial estimates. The official figures on farm reserves of wheat, however, were unexpectedly large, indicating much less feed use of wheat than supposed.

Wheat closed nervous at the same as Saturday's finish to ¼c lower, corn ⅛c to ¾c down; oats ⅛c to ⅛c off, and provisions showing 12c decline to 5c advance.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Mar. 10.—The storm had little effect on the Toronto egg market, except to hold prices from dropping too low. Receipts were heavier than ever yesterday and word from shipping points was to the effect that plenty of supplies were on hand. Local brokers accordingly lowered their prices for graded supplies and were offering them in free cases at 25c for extras, 3c for firsts, 21c for pullet extras and 18c for seconds. If the weather had not changed for the worse, the market would have been considerably weaker.

Country shippers were offered one cent less per dozen yesterday, on all grades. They were quoted 23c for extras, 21c for firsts and 17c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Retailers were able to secure supplies for less money at 31c for extras in cartons, 29c for extras loose, 27c for firsts and 21c for seconds loose.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, March 10. — Potato and egg prices were lower and butter and cheese quotations were unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes, in carlots, lost five cents at 80 cents per 90 pounds bulk and to retailers prices also declined 5 cents at 90 cents per 80-pound bag.

On the egg market, British Columbia fresh firsts, in carlots, lost 1 cent at 27 cents a dozen, while extras and pullets were unchanged at 29c to 30c and 26c to 27c, respectively. Ontario and prairie extras, firsts and seconds, were unchanged at 28c to 29c, 26c to 27c and 20c a dozen, respectively. Receipts were 2,403 cases. Quotations to retailers were lower as announced on Saturday.

Regraded Eastern Townships and fresh Western No. 1 butter was quoted at 31c to 31¾c a pound, and to retailers solids were 33c to 34c a pound. Receipts were 21 boxes.

On the cheese market winter colored was quoted at 14c to 14¾c a pound and receipts were only 27 boxes.

FINE PROSPECTS FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Miss Jean MacKechnie, Edmonton, Outlines Program to Havelock Committee.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE.

HAVELOCK, March 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — Another definite step toward providing high-class entertainment for Havelock citizens was taken on Monday evening, when the local Chautauqua committee held a meeting in the Armstrong House for the purpose of meeting Miss Jean MacKechnie of Edmonton, Alta., and to make arrangements for the coming Chautauqua to be held here on March 30, 31, and April 1 and 2.

Miss MacKechnie outlined the plans and scope of the 1931 winter entertainments, which will be given in 95 towns and villages this winter and early spring in Ontario. She then gave a very interesting review of the plays and personnel of the coming Chautauqua, telling the committee of the splendid attractions which are promised Havelock audiences this year. This stirred the enthusiasm of the committee, who are convinced the project will be put over with certain success, and they wish to pass on to the citizens their confidence and assurance that they will get splendid value for their money this year.

W.I. Ladies to Help.

A feature of the meeting was an enthusiastic group of the ladies of the Women's Institute, who have very kindly undertaken to sell tickets for the entertainments on condition that the proceeds, if any, go to the Institute Library Fund. The town has been divided into sections and the following ladies have been chosen to sell the tickets: Mesdames Gould, Bullied, Hoffman, Jamieson, Scott, Hubel, Lancaster, and Cross.

With H. T. Mathison in the chair, officers and committee for the year were appointed as follows: Secretary-treasurer, Percy Yuill; Advertising Committee, T. P. Lancaster, H. T. Mathison, A. T. Armstrong, G. Young, E. Fennell, P. Yuill, H. Spencer. Reserved seat tickets will be handled by A. C. Denike.

The ticket selling campaign will begin on March 16. All tickets will be interchangeable in the family only. The cost for reserving a seat for all the programs will be only 50 cents extra on season tickets. Only a limited number of reserved tickets will be available.

The Entertainments.

Of the program itself, there would be four evening and two afternoon entertainments. The first day stars a brilliant comedy by the Peerless Players, "Turn to the Right," a production with a shade of dramatic and gripping human interest. On the second day the Lowell Patton artists would be featured both afternoon and evening. This trio consists of Lowell Patton, the eminent pianist and composer, Fenwick Newell, the world-known Canadian tenor, and Gloria Robinson, a delightful English singer.

On the afternoon of the third day is a gala entertainment consisting of the Elias Tamburitza Serenaders, a family group that performs in costume and come from Croatia of Jugo-slavia, bringing with them the music of their country combined with the standard classical and popular numbers so dear to the hearth of English-speaking people. In the evening this quartette will give the prelude to the lecture, "By the Peaceful Pastures of Palestine," a story very ably told by the young Athenian, Julius Caesar Nayphe, who draws some wonderful word pictures of the East in a thrilling and entertaining manner. Concluding the program on the last evening will be the farce, "The Whole Town's Talking," played by Canadian players, a sketch that is screamingly funny and a fitting climax to the four-day feature.

The hall and property committee will be made up of the following: Messrs. Armstrong, Denike, Howard, Fennell, Smith, and Rutherford.

SOUNDS LIKE GOOD BUSINESS.

A bill introduced by Mr. Hipel, Liberal member for South Waterloo, in the Legislature fits in with the opinion of a good many other people on the matter covered by the measure.

Under the present regulations when a vacancy occurs among aldermen who have been elected for a longer period than one year—as in Peterborough where members of the Council are elected for a two-year term—the person who is named by the council to fill the gap is expected to finish out the term of office of the alderman he replaces.

Mr. Hipel's measure would amend the Municipal Act so that the appointed alderman shall sit only until the next annual election when some person is to be elected to finish out the balance, if any, of the term of office in which the vacancy occurred.

That seems a sensible proposal.

The present arrangement means that if a vacancy is caused by the death or resignation of an alderman, perhaps in the first month or two after he has been elected, the person named as his successor would continue to hold office, despite the fact that he was not chosen by the people, for nearly two years.

The suggestion that he should serve only until the next election when the ratepayers will have the right to decide by their votes who shall act is good business, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Henry will not kill this bill as he has so many others during the present session.

NOT COURTEOUS TREATMENT.

Some explanation is called for in regard to the unceremonious way in which a number of county judges were retired from service last week.

There is widespread indignation in Toronto over the manner in which Judge Morson was retired, and a similar feeling prevails in Brockville in regard to Judge Reynolds, who, according to the Recorder and Times, was "actually left in ignorance of his contemplated superannuation until more than twenty-four hours after the name of his successor had been publicly announced.

The retirement of judges who have passed the age limit mentioned by the regulations is not in itself a matter over which the public will quarrel, although there is a natural disinclination on the part of judges as there is on the part of other people to retire when they are in good health and capable of service.

But surely public servants who have given long and faithful attention to their duties are entitled to courtesy and consideration when the time comes for them to retire; to allow the news of their superannuation to come first through the medium of the newspapers is not the kind of treatment the people of Canada wish to accord officials who have served them well.

There should be a statement from Ottawa as to why the retiring judges were not given the courtesy of an official notice before the news was given out to the press.

THE PREMIER UNPOPULAR?

The comment from the Globe that "Hon. G. Howard Ferguson must sometimes wish he was back on deck to advise his successor to disguise his 'no' with a smile" gives a little color to the story written by the Toronto correspondent of the Border Cities Star, who declares that Premier Henry is rapidly becoming unpopular among the Government members of the Legislature, and that Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen can have the premiership of Ontario if he so desires.

According to the Windsor newspaperman, there is a strong feeling among many Conservatives that the services of Mr. Meighen should be utilized, and that the only fear of those who are pressing for the ex-Premier's return to public life is that he will refuse to accept the provincial leadership of his party.

How much there is in this story it is impossible to say, but there is some reason to believe that the statement that Premier Henry has not gained in popularity among his followers since the session opened is not without foundation.

The Premier has not hesitated to kill a number of measures introduced by his followers, and the almost curt manner in which it was done has not endeared him to those whose bills had to be withdrawn.

Mr. Ferguson, it is true, was always "boss" while he was Premier, but he managed to conceal the iron hand; his successor does not seem to have inherited the knack and, according to the Border Cities Star, it is hurting his chances of being chosen leader when the Ontario Conservatives hold their convention.

THE NEW ENVOY.

While those on the inside had anticipated such action, the announcement that W. D. Herridge, K.C., of Ottawa, has been chosen as Canadian representative at Washington will occasion surprise throughout the country, inasmuch as the new envoy has not been a prominent figure in public life.

Mr. Bennett justifies the choice by emphatically declaring: "We have no man in Canada who is more acceptable to the United States than Mr. Herridge. He is well and favorably known in the neighboring Republic, especially in Washington."

The Globe, on the other hand, expresses amazement at the selection that has been made.

"To place therein one who is totally untried and untested—one whose equipment for such service as is required is wholly problematical—simply because he has proved a satisfactory and congenial Man Friday is the sort of experiment that does not do justice to the best interests of the country," declares the Globe.

However, the majority of Canadians will probably defer judgment until the new envoy has had a chance to show whether or not he is capable of accomplishing what this country expects of its ambassadors.

The complaint that he has no public or political service, as voiced by the Globe, loses much of the weight when it is remembered that Mr. Massey, who represented Canada so brilliantly at Washington, also was without experience in public life, and his political record was confined to one unsuccessful election.

The "Colonel House" of Ottawa may justify the confidence that has been imposed in him by the Premier; he is Mr. Bennett's choice, and the latter will have to take the blame if developments show that a mistake has been made.

WRONG AS IT STANDS NOW.

There was good debating in the Ontario Legislature on the bill to do away with the municipal income tax, which has now gone to committee prior to making its final appearance.

The arguments set forth in favor of continuing the tax centre around two points: (1) that the municipalities need the revenue, and that the income tax helps to keep the tax rate down for the benefit of the man with a small income, and (2) that if the income tax were done away with, or made optional, it would mean that the cities now collecting it would have to increase their tax rate.

The arguments against continuance in the existing law are these: (1) there are 422 municipalities in the Province now which do not collect the tax, and these places have an advantage in the securing of industries which other places forfeit when they collect the tax; (2) there is no justification for the tax because it is not for payment of any service received by the person paying it.

There is probably more inequality in the municipal income tax than in the federal tax. A municipality has not the same power to search out income as has the Dominion; no municipality could keep an organization in existence to secure all the taxes which might come from assessable incomes, and for that reason there are, in every municipality, only a section of the residents paying this tax. They are generally those whose incomes can be readily ascertained from the records of the companies where they are employed, or from the books of the municipal corporation itself.

It is also a fact that municipal income tax is not in payment for any service rendered by the municipality. There is a certain amount levied against propery for school purposes, for debenture rates, etc., and the amount of that tax is full payment for what the owner of the property in question has received from the city. The municipal income tax is merely a forced gift to the municipality by those whose incomes are already taxed for Dominion purposes.

The law can hardly remain as it is because it has been made the occasion for a hit-and-miss system that is miserable. According to a strict interpretation of the enactment, the 422 municipalities in Ontario where no collection of income tax is made are living in open defiance of the law, and nothing is ever done to make them force collection. They are at liberty to make it known to prospective industrial concerns that they do not levy this tax.

The Legislature should do one of two things: Do away with the tax entirely, or make certain that it is collected uniformly in the Province.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

PRESIDENT HOOVER AND THE VETERANS.

In spite of the opposition of President Hoover, who sent a special message to Congress asking that the bill be not passed, the Veterans' Loan Bill was passed by the House, and later passed by the Senate. Treasurer Mellon was also against it, but the influence of these big men was unavailing. In Canada or Great Britain such a happening would have brought about the downfall of the Government in office, but defeats mean nothing in American political life. Executives are in for a stated period, and no matter how often the chief executive, or executives, experience a setback, they stay on the job till their time is up.

A peculiar situation arose, which was brought about largely by the economic condition of the country.

The United States, instead of paying the returned men a cash bonus as was done in Canada, issued what were called 'adjusted compensation certificates," payable in 1945, or at death. The total face value was $3,440,000,000. Veterans were permitted to borrow on these certificates to the amount of twenty-two and a half per cent. The bill raised the borrowing power to fifty per cent., and if all the veterans take advantage of the power that the bill gives them, the United States Treasury will have to pay out $1,700,000,000.

The argument for the measure was that if the veterans were suddenly given the power to throw nearly a billion and three-quarters into the buying market, it would go a long way toward solving the present economic depression. No doubt it would have meant a boom in automobiles, houses and house furnishings and in many other ways, but President Hoover and Treasurer Mellon simply said the Treasury couldn't afford to pay out that much money. And bankers said it would bring about disaster to a large number of small banks which would go bankrupt.

But in spite of all that the bill passed both Houses over the President's veto. The money will have to be found either by more borrowing, or by increased taxation.

All of which shows the Canadian method to have been the better. In the years during and immediately after the war the United States was enormously prosperous and more able to stand the gaff than now.

And it also shows that the mere hoarding of billions of solid gold in steel vaults does not represent real wealth.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Anyway the storm taught a lot of motorists a new game—that of walking.

Mr. Bennett has gone outside of the ranks of party stalwarts to select a Canadian representative at Washington. Such a course is not likely to be greeted with cheers from the orthodox.

Figures as to how much snow fell in Peterborough over the week-end vary, according to the imagination of the calculator.

A Boston Transcript writer said a lot in one paragraph when he penned the following: "Naval race between France and Italy is 'ton for ton, gun for gun,' which means, no doubt, son for son, later on."

"I am heartily in accord with the theory of letting youth speak, but to have a whole city and a Province get excited over it seems too bad," says Dean Matheson of Queen's University, expressing a view that The Examiner thoroughly agrees with.

Mayor Webb and a delegation of prominent Winnipeg men are en route to Ottawa to urge the Government to appropriate money for public works in the western city. What Mr. Bennett really wants now, however, is a deputation that will show him how to save money.

The man who knows it all doesn't know one thing. He doesn't know how many people yearn to kill him. —Kingston Whig-Standard.

The Red-Headed Goddess

By

ALICE ROSS COLVER

First, however, she was made to sit by the fire, near which two or three women had been preparing food while the men danced. As she seated herself on a log, there came to her nostrils the fragrant, familiar smell of coffee, and an equally appetizing odor of roast lamb. She was so grateful for the warmth of the one and the nourishment of the other, that she overlooked entirely the fact that she drank the coffee without sugar or cream, and had to tear the meat with her fingers. When she was done, she managed to make the women understand her desire for a bowl, in which she might wash her hands. They, in turn, translated her need to two little girls who, delighted at an opportunity to serve the goddess, fairly tumbled over themselves in their rush to the brook and back.

Not until then was she permitted to withdraw, but, after she had washed and drunk, she was led by two women to the farthest hogan, and the blanket which hung over the door was pulled aside for her to enter. Instinctively she snapped on her cigarette lighter as a flashlight to inspect her new quarters, and was unaware of the consternation this produced until she heard a gasp behind her, and, turning, saw that the squaws had fled in fright and she was at last left alone.

Yet not alone, quite, either, for her flickering flame had revealed curled up against the far wall of the shelter a small white lamb. It rose and swayed uncertainly on its legs, blinking at the light, until Lorraine, with a cry of delight, approached and drew it into her lap as she dropped onto the bed of old blankets.

"Oh," she cried "This is comforting. You darling baby you! This is what makes a hogan home, I'm sure!" She buried her cold hands deep in the woolly warmth of the lamb's coat, then suddenly she lifted her head and sniffed the air daintily. "I guess," she said slowly to herself, "I guess I won't inspect these apartments too closely. Something tells me my bed hasn't clean sheets. Do you mind if I use you for a sort of pillow?"

In the darkness she lay down on the blankets, gingerly drawing one or two up over her, but she kept the lamb cuddled close to her head and as she felt the warm, wet nose nozzling her face she put up a hand to the little animal.

"I'll call you Lize. It's short for civilize. Now listen, Lize. You and I have got to stick together after Silver Tongue leaves us. We've got to stick so that everywhere the goddess goes the lamb will follow too, because you and I are the only white folks in camp."

CHAPTER XII
WHEELING SHAPES.

The bright morning sunlight streamed into Dirk's little shelter, creeping by inches up the long, still form of the sleeping man, until at last a ray touched his eyelids. Its warmth and brightness, penetrating his heavy slumber, made him shift and turn uneasily, and the discomfort caused by that to his aching body finally woke him again to his miseries.

For awhile he lay staring at the rudely latticed wall of his room and wondering if Lorraine was awake yet. He hated to run the risk of disturbing her by calling her, for he knew her sleep had been broken since he had been hurt. How long had it been anyway? Idly he tried to recall the time since his fall, but his pain had blurred memory so that night had shifted into day without his being aware of it. Anyway, it had been long enough for Lorraine, who had had to carry the weight of everything on her slim shoulders.

His thoughts warmed tenderly as he thought of her. He would never be able, after this, to make life "safe" for her. Indeed she had said once, "The only thing I'm afraid of, Dirk, is of being rescued!" Of course she had meant the Indians. There lay still in her heart a secret fear of them, because of what her father had said of them, but he had felt that unconsciously there had been another meaning to her words. Her swift flush, her quickly dropped eyes had conveyed more than a hint that she loved as did he, this solitude together, his freedom and this simplicity. It held an enchantment like nothing they could remember in their old civilized life—their "tinsel" life, she had called it, and then had added how tarnished the silver now seemed. Well, there was no need for them to remain in the familiar way of living when they eventually got out of this. They need stay only long enough to be married.

Here he drew a quick breath. The days of waiting for that seemed long in spite of the sweetness of this fantasy. And the time ahead of him still held a tantalizing aspect. Lorraine and he were living together in a rare intimacy yet not together. He could not know her kisses. He dared not take her slight, pliant figure in his hungry arms, and the restraint he had to put upon himself was almost past bearing. It was past bearing for an indefinite time he thought, and the sooner they crashed into the next danger, and through it, the sooner this agony of waiting would be over.

So thinking, he gave at last a long low whistle, followed by three quick high ones—his usual signal that he was awake. He felt so much better this morning, he mused while he was waiting for Lorraine to appear, that perhaps he could try moving out of this little hole where he'd been cooped for—again he wondered how many days. By jove! If it had been more than three or four, the fruit and vegetables he had brought from that canyon would be all gone. Were they gone? Lorraine had never said a word. How like her not to let him worry!

But where was she? Ordinarily his first whistle brought her running before he had completed it. He pursued up his lips and tried again, then lay listening intently for a sound of her hurrying footsteps. But, aside from the usual chorus of birds, he heard nothing, and a vague alarm crept over him which his common sense tried in vain to dispel. Nonsense! Nothing had happened to Lorraine. Why, what could? She was simply tired out at last and over-sleeping. He wouldn't whistle again. He'd see if he couldn't slide out himself and start breakfast and surprise her when she did finally appear.

Lifting himself on his elbow, he saw for the first time Lorraine's thoughtful preparations for his comfort during her absence—the bowl of water, the pile of nuts, two small dried peaches and an ear of corn, and, pinned to the corn by a thorn, the soiled map with writing on its edges. Snatching it hastily, he read her short message:

'Dirk, dear, the sheep got away. This is the last of the food. It's getting colder every day and we are both in rags. Finally, you have been delirious for twenty-four hours, and I'm worried to death. I'm going up on the desert to find the canyon where the Indians are. I'm sure I can! The moon is as bright as day. The temple isn't far away, I know, and I'll be back before morning with good news. Don't worry, Lorraine.

Dirk stared unbelieving at the note paralyzed by its message. She had done that? Had done—that! That wild reckless, brave thing! It was impossible for him to contemplate it. Abruptly he crushed the note in his hand and snatched out his watch. What time was it? Nine o'clock! And she had said she would be back before morning. But she must be! She must be here and just hiding! Just playing a game! Groaning in agony of mind, Dirk struggled up to his feet and somehow staggered out to the little beach.

"Lorraine! Lorraine!"

He made a trumpet of his hands and shouted until the woods about him echoed, and all the shy, wild things had scattered and hidden in terror. But no Lorraine answered. No flying figure rushed to meet him or sprang playfully from behind a rock or tree. For a moment Dirk swayed, unbelieving, then as the full truth of the matter burst upon him, he stumbled to her shelter, shaken by his fear and his love for the girl, but hoping against hope. It was empty and overcome by weariness from his illness his emotion, Dirk sank to the ground.

In a few moments however, he was up again, moving with grim determination pitiful to behold, back into his tent to gather up the food left there, to struggle to put his shabby pump on over his swollen foot, to thrust into his pocket his own little slingshot, the pebbles. Over and over his weakness turned him faint, and his head swam with the pain he endured, but he held to his resolution, somehow building up strength as the used it, summoning up courage as he needed to, until he had succeeded in crossing the wide meadow and had finally found the new path, described to him my Lorraine, where the sheep had first discovered it.

Here he wavered. His suffering was almost unbearable, but a glance back at the empty camp made him set his lips more firmly. He would crawl every inch of the way if need be on hands and knees, but get to the top he would, where his voice would carry for miles and would reach Lorraine wandering, dizzy, frightened, lost, in that immense, trackless wilderness. He would shout until she heard. He would shout until she answered. He would shout until she found him. Then together—to-gether—they would descend to the canyon home of theirs. To-gether they would struggle through the days until he was well enough to search with her. They would starve, if need be—No! Not starve! How silly of him! He shook his head angrily at the vagrant thought. He had his slingshot and he would shoot as he had before he hurt his foot. Foolish Lorraine! Why hadn't she thought of that? Darling, brave Lorraine! Little, desperate Lorraine, frightened past good judgment by his illness—

So, with white face straining upward, with beads of perspiration standing on his lips and brow from his effort, with his ankle throbbing and his head jumping as though knives were being struck through it, he worked his way, foot by foot up—up—until he came to the place where the two huge trees lay atop of each other. Here, without warning, he fell in a faint.

When he came back to consciousness, he found himself staring into a dark face close to his own. Utterly bewildered by the appearance of this Indian, and by his unfamiliar surroundings, Dirk strove with a slow fumbling mind to recall what had happened. But the sick man's fever had risen again, and facts were not sharp in his memory. Only one thing was clear to him—that Lorraine was lost somewhere on the desert looking for Indians, and here was an Indian. Seizing his arm he shook it imperiously, his voice peevish with weakness.

"The white girl! Have you seen the white girl? The white girl is lost on the desert. She was looking for you. Tell me—tell me——"

"The white girl is safe," said Silver Tongue.

Safe! Dirk fell back against the tree trunk unbelieving, trying to grasp the wonderful truth of this and hold it, but it kept eluding him, chased away by hundreds of other doubts. This Indian—who was he? How did he know whether Lorraine was safe or not? How could he, Dirk, trust him if he did know? If she was safe why hadn't he brought her back with him? Lorraine would have wanted to come, would have insisted. If she was safe—But she wasn't safe! These Indians—he knew all about them! She was hurt—or imprisoned—or killed. The suspicions swarmed in a cloud to his sick mind, and he grew threatening. He shook a futile fist before the swarthy face so close to his own, and his words tumbled forth thickly, incoherently:

"Safe! Safe! Like hell she's safe! What have you done with her if she's safe? Where are you hiding her? Tell me! Tell me or by . . . I'll kill you!"

Silver Tongue rose and, folding his arms, looked down at Dirk. His words dropped slowly, contemptuously, relentlessly into the seething chaos of the white man's mind.

"It is not the white man who can kill Silver Tongue. It is Silver Tongue who can kill the white man, crawling at his feet. But Silver Tongue will be merciful. Useless as he is, the white man is yet of some value; so Silver Tongue as the white girl is of some value; so Silver Tongue wishes to return them both to the land that nourished them. I have said the white girl is safe. But it is a safety that is as slim as the new moon. At any time my people may change their way of thinking of her and then——" He made a significant gesture.

The words hammered like stones against Dirk's mind and fell heavily away. Pulling himself up, he seized the Indian's arm again.

TOM MOORE'S POSITION

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—It must have struck most people by this time that the strong position taken by Labour as represented by its Canadian president, against Russia requires some explanation. It does. The socialistic state is not in favour of doles or insurance of any kind for those capable of work. Hence all those capable of work must work; in Russia tramps are shot. Mr. Moore is not in favor of this as he calls it "forced labor." He believes in the good old-fashioned way of having property-owners taxed for the benefit of the unemployed (the dole). It is this dole that is ruining England and Ireland financially and physically.

It is said that the morale of the mass of the people there has become very low. This state of drifting with the dole paid by taxes on property is the noble policy approved by Mr. Tom Moore.

That there is forced labour in Russia no one denies, not certainly Stalin and Company. But it is through idle labour living on charity and becoming more and more willing to do so that Russia won't have and Mr. Moore will. I think we must agree that of the two, Russia's is by far the more respectable. Property owners will begin to smell a rat some of these days and our next law will be that all who can work whether by brain or hand must do so and the state will find employment just as in Russia.

If this system advocated by Moore and voluntary idleness is allowed to spread, we shall have a lot of cunning evaders who will do nothing and say nothing, but suck eggs. Hence their name.

Byron Bowins Has Head Seriously Cut

LINDSAY, March 10 (Special to Examiner)—Byron Bowins, of the village of Woodville, had a narrow escape from death this week while engaged in digging a well. While working at the bottom a stone became dislodged and fell, hitting him in the head. He was rendered unconscious by the blow, and considerable difficulty was experienced in getting him out of the well. He was finally brought to the top in a bucket. Several stiches were required to close a bad cut in his head.

WAGE QUESTION IN COAL FIELDS

South Wales Miners Are Dissatisfied With Present Settlement.

THREATEN TO HALT WORK.

CARDIFF, Wales, Mar. 9. (AP)—Labor trouble again threatened today in South Wales coalfields, which have been working only a short while after an extended tie up early this year.

The difficulty has arisen over the award of an independent chairman of the joint conciliation board on the question of wages, which are to be reduced on an average of 7 pence daily. The men in the various centres are considerably dissatisfied and threaten to halt work.

The executive council of the South Wales Miners' Federation is much concerned and has asked all districts not to take independent action but to await the decision of the delegates' conference which is to be convened March 16. It was understood at a conference to-day that a demand probably will be made for immediate government inquiry into the South Wales coalfields.

Mother Saves the Day

"I feel so blue," complained Margaret to her room-mate, "I shall never get my exams!" And there were tears in her eyes. Then the telephone rang. "Why, Mother," cried the girl, gladly, "What a wonderful surprise!" And it was due to the frequent Long Distance calls from her mother that Margaret was reassured and passed with flying colors.

POTATO INDUSTRY GIVEN HARD BLOW

Duty laid on by Cuba be Felt in P.E.I. and Nova Scotia.

U. S. MARKET CLOSED.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., March 10—With prohibitive duties previously imposed by the United States, the potato industry of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island was dealt a severe blow over the week-end. Word was received by officials of the Associated Shippers of New Brunswick from Cuba that a heavy duty on table stock entering that country would be effective the year round. Formerly potatoes from these provinces could be shipped into Cuba during four months of the year under a light duty. This action will mean the shutting off of the Cuban markets entirely to Canadian potato shippers, according to A. D. McCain, of Florenceville, Vice-President of the Associated Shippers.

In these four months when potatoes entered the Cuban market under a light duty, from 35 to 40 per cent of the potato production in New Brunswick was shipped there. Under the new regulation seed potatoes will continue to enter duty free, but according to Mr. McCain, this is only a small portion of the trade in potatoes with the southern country.

Steinberg Appeal Will Be Heard On Wednesday

TORONTO, Ont., March 10 (By the Canadian Press)—The fate of Abraham Steinberg, who has been sentenced to hang on April 21 for the murder of his former partner Samuel Goldberg, will be decided by first Appellate Court at Osgoode Hall on Wednesday. On this day his appeal from the conviction and sentence will be heard.

Steinberg, depending upon the outcome of the appeal, may also be a witness in one of the most unusual actions ever launched, a $50,000 damage suit against him brought by Mrs. Sala Goldberg, widow of Goldberg, whose body was found following a fire in a monument works, where the condemned man and Goldberg were partners.

George Cox Injured In Big Tree Felling

LINDSAY, March 10 (Special to Examiner)—George Cox, who resides close to the village of Minden, was the victim of an accident last week which might have been attended with more serious results. He was engaged in felling a tree, which in its fall had lodged across another tree. The butt of the fallen tree went into the air about twenty feet and fell back again. It shot rearwards and sideways, and struck Mr. Cox in the back. Several ribs were fractured and severe internal injuries were suffered. He was rushed to his home, and is under the care of a physician.

Chicago Wheat Gains, Following Corn Lead

CHICAGO, Ill., March 10.—(By the Canadian Press)—Influenced by bullish aspects of government figures on farm reserve supplies, grains averaged higher early to-day, especially corn. Unexpected firmness of Liverpool wheat quotations and smallness of receipts at European continental centres were an additional strengthening factor. Opening unchanged to ½ cent up, corn afterward rose all around. Wheat started at ¼ decline to ¼ advance, and subsequently hardened.

Food is Too Good To Leave the Jail

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 10 (C.P.). — Where the coffee and beans are good is home to 40 Little Rock negroes, wherefore two open doors failed to tempt them to leave the city jail last night.

Two officers making their rounds discovered a cell open at both ends, but all 40 prisoners, serving out $15 to $100 fines, were safe inside.

"Good cawfee and beans here, cap'n," was the reason given by several spokesmen for the failure to take advantage of the opportunity to escape.

How the doors chanced to be opened was not learned, but they were closed just out of respect for proper prison etiquette.

Winnipeg Review

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bawlf Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

The wheat market was fairly strong again yesterday with prices higher throughout the session, and on the extreme bulge were 1½ cents above the close on Saturday, holding mostly very steady at about 1 to 1 1-8 higher. At the start there was some fair buying by seaboard houses but after this demand was satisfied, the buying was practically all local, either short covering or investment buying, with local sentiment more or less friendly. Offerings were not heavy but showed some signs of increasing on the extreme bulges. Generally speaking the market was more or less a professional affair with both buying and selling against the daily offers. Liverpool was strong, earlier cables coming about ½ higher than due and this started our market off strong, and that market finally closed 1 to 1 3-8 higher. Chicago was ¾ higher during the first part of the day but this was more than lost later, and the weakness there helped to pull our market down from the high marks. Buenos Aires cables were 1 5-8 higher at 3 o'clock and a little local buying developed on this strength. Export sales over the week end were small estimated at around 300,000 bushels. In the cash markets shippers and terminals were taking the odd cars of straight grades and tougha that were coming out, but offerings were very little and spreads were unchanged to ¼ better for certain grades. The Canadian Visible increased 741,000, U.S. Visible increased 1,263,000 bushels both visibles should be decreasing at this time of year. On passage decreased 2,520,000 bushels figures now 55,360,000 compared with 36,986,000 a year ago. The heavy snow over the winter wheat belt the past few days has had no effect on the market.

Coarse Grains—The feature of these markets was some further export business worked in barley, no amount being given. This is said to be largely distressed barley in Eastern positions. Oats and barley were firm but there was very little going on. Flax firm closing 1¼ to 1 5-8 higher.

Liverpool cables due 1-8 lower to unchanged based on Winnipeg.

NEW DELHI, March 10. — India's population has increased 30,000,000 during the last decade, it is estimated from the preliminary census returns thus far received. The census of 1921 put the figure at 318,000,000, but figures now available show that during the last ten years there has been an increase in population exceeding all estimates.

Freedom from pestilence and famine, the lessons the natives have learned in sanitation, generous medical facilities and more enlightened living generally have contributed to the increase in population which appears cretain throughout India.

Burma's population has risen at least 10 per cent. and probably 12 per cent. Bikanir State takes the lead, however, with an increase of 41.7 per cent., largely due to the completion of a large irrigation project and the consequent immigration. This immigration, however, while it explains the increase in Bikanir, has not left a gap elsewhere.

Population increases of 35 per cent. in the Ahmednagar district of Dekkan and 32 per cent. in the adjoining Poona district may perhaps be similarly ascribed to new irrigation works, but here again the immigration leaves no gap elsewhere. It merely shows such general pressure of population that the people immediately flow into the areas providing support for fresh inhabitants.

In Madras Province, where there is an active birth control society, the population has increased 22 per cent. The census of 1921 showed an increase in population in Madras since 1911 of slightly more than 1 per cent. The fact that it was not larger was ascribed to the influenza epidemic of 1918, which accounted for 6,000,000 deaths.

Express Fear For Tug Missing On Michigan

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., March 10. — (C.P.)—Relatives of four men, crew of the fishing tug Ethel S., who has been reported missing on Lake Michigan since last Thursday, to-day were concerned as no word was received of the ship's fate in the storm of Sunday and Monday, in which waves piled 30 and 48 feet high.

Because of heavy drift ice blocking the channel, it was impossible for coastguards from the Charlevoix station to leave the harbor here to search for the men. Unless the Ethel S. was able to reach some haven in the Beaver Island group, it will be certain to have met trouble.

Witnesses Snowbound Bell Trial Adjourned

OWEN SOUND, Ont. Mar. 10.— The trial of Neil Bell and his daughter, Mrs. Percy Lavers, scheduled to be heard here this morning before County Judge C. T. Sutherland, was adjourned because of the non-appearance of the majority of the witnesses in the case. The witnesses were snow-bound in Meaford, 20 miles from here. The snow plow which usually keeps the road between here and Meaford open, is reported to have broken down and the road became badly drifted. The two accused face charges of theft in connection with the discovery, last December, in the home of Bell, of a quantity of goods valued at $6,000 and which, it is alleged, were stolen from several houses of business in Thornbury and Clarksburg where the two accused reside.

Russo-Turk Protocol Is Finally Completed

ANGORA, Turkey, March 10 (C.P.). — The text of a protocol limiting naval armaments in the Black Sea, and signed here Saturday by Turkish and Russian representatives, was published yesterday.

Completing the Russo-Turk protocol of 1929, the new agreement engaged Turkey and Russia not to proceed with any augmentation of naval armaments on the Black Sea or contiguous seas without notifying the other party six months in advance. This part of the agreement is identical with that signed between Turkey and Greece some time ago.

British Government Favors Arbitration

LONDON, Mar. 10. —(AP)— The British Government was more firmly committed than ever today to friendly disputes with adoption by the House of Commons of a resolution authorizing signing of the general act of international arbitration.

The resolution itself was accepted by the Commons without division after a Conservative Party resolution against the act, sponsored by Sir Austen Chamberlain had been voted down 221, to 139. Sir Austen argued that the Arbitration Act would hinder the regular processes of the Council of the League of Nations.

UP-TO-DATE CANADIAN INSTRUMENTS

The draw-tube telescope as part of an instrument for taking the levels of the earth's surface, is obsolete. The interior focussing telescope is now utilized by the Geodetic Survey of Canada, on precise and control levelling operations. The new type was first introduced on Canadian surveys in the year 1913 and results obtained ultimately led to its adoption for all high order levelling.

TRAINS COLLIDE

When the crews of both trains saw that an accident was inevitable, they jumped clear, and suffered injuries when they struck the ground.

The engine of train No. 904 was badly damaged, the cow catcher was torn off, and the front of the locomotive crushed in the impact. The engine of No. 903 escaped with very little damage.

Express Delayed

Train No. 20 from Chicago to Montreal, was delayed one hour fifty minutes, and train No. 635 from Toronto to Detroit was held up for over three hours. While the main line was not blocked it was necessary to pull train No. 904 from the siding to the main line, so that it could continue to London.

As one of the box cars plunged off the tracks, it struck the telegraph wires, tearing them down for a distance of 30 feet. Rail communication by wire with London was put out of commission until they were repaired.

WILLYS-OVERLAND'S PROGRAM SUPPORTED BY DEALER FORCES

Most Important Plans in Company's History—Look Confidently to 1931 Business Volume.

Sales Efforts Concentrated.

Willys-Overland's 1931 program is the most progressive and important it has adopted in more than twenty-three years' experience in the automobile industry. Our plans, factory policies, product and prices, submitted to our dealer organization at a series of meetings in the past few weeks met with the warmest enthusiasm and we look forward to the new year with well-founded confidence.

The 1931 program was outlined by the officers and sales executives of our company. More than 1000 Willys-Overland dealers, salesmen and prospective dealers attended these affairs and voiced their unqualified support.

Viewed from every angle our company has never in the past ten years been in such splendid position to take advantage of its opportunities. From a financial standpoint, Willys-Overland is in the strongest position with no bank borrowings — and this in spite of the business slack of the past sixteen months. Further, we are not faced with the usual merchandising of-old stocks.

We have been many months in the development of our 1931 product. Appreciating that the trend toward thrift would be more pronounced in 1931 and that buyers would demand greater dollar values than ever before, we proceeded to plan our program on that basis.

MINING BRIEFS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, March 10.—Production of Howey gold mines during the month of February totalled $56,000, according to official word. Figures on tonnage and grade are not yet available. The hand-sorting plant is being ordered in the near future and an attempt will be made to have it transported to the property prior to the spring break-up.

Arno interests have signed an option agreement on the Hurd property in Baden township, which adjoins Argyle and Bannockburn in the Matachewan district, a well-known northern mining service reports. The property is stated to have important possibilities with the adjoining Snyder claims showing free gold on surface.

According to advices from Timmins, output of gold from March gold mines during 1930 was not sufficient to cover operations and contingencies. The ore yielded an average of $5.66 per ton, producing $306,000 from 54,000 tons of ore. The mill handled an average of 150 tons per day. A moderate increase in grade of the ore or the development of a large tonnage of similar grade to that treated last year would open the way for profitable operations, it is believed.

Rich gold ore is reported to have been disclosed on a group of claims situated in Scadding township at Lake Wanapetei, some 20 miles northeast of Sudbury. Visible gold is in evidence, it is stated, although average values have not yet been ascertained. The discovery lies in the neighborhood of the old Gold Nugget property worked in a small way a dozen or so years ago.

Mining in Arizona apparently "ain't what she used to be." From Tombstone comes the story that at last a use has been found for part of the equipment around abandoned stamp mills and ore smelters, relics of boom days in the vicinity. Farmers are buying the galvanized water storage tanks and converting them into water tanks for ranch use. The average mine tank may be made into two 5,000-gallon receptacles for every-day use.

Base metals have shown a softer tendency in London for several days, recent losses having largely wiped out gains made last month. Following are closing quotations on the London metal market to-day: Standard copper, £48, off 10s; tin, £122 2s 6d, off £1; lead, £13 10s, off 6s; zinc, £12 7s 6d, off 5s.

forging ahead in front of a pile of snow, up the Lakefield road.

Seven Hours for Trip

Seven hours was the time required to complete the journey from Lakehurst to Bridgenorth yesterday, states the driver of the Lakehurst-Peterborough stage who confidently set out in the hope of running through on schedule. Between Lakehurst and Ennismore Cross, however, he encountered drifts of snow over six feet deep and for a distance of 500-600 yards was obliged to shovel his way through a drift nine feet deep. He left Lakehurst at noon and completed the eighteen miles to Bridgenorth at 7 p.m., thus averaging a little more than two-and-a-half miles per hour.

A local undertaker who went out yesterday for the purpose of directing a funeral in Douro township, had to resort to a horse rig to undertake the journey over the Warsaw road. He reports that the road is extremely heavy, but passable, having been opened by teams going through. The snow is several feet deep in places, he stated.

REFORM BILL DEFEATED

TOKYO, March 10 (C.P.)—About 3,000,000 Japanese citizens to-day lost their prospects of immediate franchise because of decision of the government to withdraw its electoral reform bill, which would have lowered the age qualification from 25 to 20. The decision not to proceed with the measure was taken in consequence of the Privy Council's opposition.

CANADA GIVEN PROMINENT PLACE AT TRADE SHOW IN BUENOS AIRES

One of Main Features is Series of 200 Pictures Valued at $50,000.

J. O. TURCOTTE IN CHARGE.

BUENOS AIRES, March 10 (A.P.)—Canada has one of the largest and most striking displays of the British Empire Trade Exhibition, which the Prince of Wales will inaugurate on March 14.

Although many of the Canadian exhibits did not arrive until late in February the effective display arranged for them was the subject of much comment by early visitors to the exhibition grounds. Officials in charge of the Canadian section explained that much of the scheme followed was worked out in Canada and the exhibits were already assigned places.

The Canadian show is in charge of Exhibition Commissioner J. Oscar Turcotte, permanent Canadian Commissioner in London.

The Canadian pavilion is instantly recognized by the enormous maple leaf on its front wall. Visitors entering first see a big Spanish language sign saying: "Canada bids you welcome."

The next feature noticed is the great series of paintings of Canadian scenes hung high on the walls and illuminated. Exposition officials said the complete series numbered 200 paintings, and they are valued at $50,000.

Booths for the various Canadian provinces have prominent locations. Then follow exhibits of lumber, paper, farm machinery and other Canadian products. The Canadian National and Pacific Railways have their exhibits in the pavilion, instead of in the general railway section in an adjoining pavilion. There are also several signs and motion pictures advertising Canada.

Mother Strangled—Daughter Suicides

FORMER GUELPH GIRL STRANGLED IN NEW YORK

The deaths of mother and her daughter—one by murder, the other by suicide—shock New York out of its customary complacency this week and started the greatest campaign in 20 years against organized crime. The shabby story of how Vivian Gordon, formerly of Guelph, Ont., and in some quarters described as a high-grade racketeer, earned her living on the fringe of the underworld and there made enemies who strangled her, has resulted in the suicide of her 16-year-old daughter, Benita Bischoff, who scribbled five lines into her diary and opened the gas jets in a white cottage at Audubon, N.J. She had been living there with her stepmother and her father, who went home occasionally from Washington, where he is a prison official. Bischoff divorced Miss Gordon seven years ago and obtained custody of the child after his wife was sent to Bedford reformatory on an immorality charge which she contented was "framed." On the LEFT is shown Vivian Gordon and RIGHT, her former husband, John C. Bischoff.

The meeting was brought to a close with several items of business unfinished.

INSTITUTE COURSE AT YOUNG'S POINT

Home Nursing and First Aid Classes to Commence on March 16th.

YOUNG'S POINT, March 10) Examiner Correspondence).—Commencing on Monday, March 16th at 2 o'clock p.m., a ten-day course in Home Nursing and First Aid, sponsored by the Woman's Institute of Young's Point, will be held in the McFarlane Hotel, with Miss Alexander, R.N., of Toronto, in charge.

Every woman and girl in the village and district is invited to attend these classes.

W.M.S. Meets.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the local schoolhouse on Wednesday evening, with the attendance of sixteen members, and the present, Mrs. Tedford, in the chair.

Mrs. F. M. Young, convenor of the relief committee, told of having purchased rubbers and yarn to knit stockings for a little motherless boy, and a letter was read by the boy expressing his thanks for the many kindnesses he had received.

Miss Jennie Kearney reported the girls' sewing class was doing well. The roll-call was well responded to with many Irish jokes.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Andrew Wilson on the afternoon of April 1st, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Adrian Brooks was appointed to have charge of the program for that day.

After much discussion about how to raise money, it was decided to have a progressive euchre party and social evening on the evening of March 17 in the McFarlane Hotel.

Mesdames Max. Kidd, William Young, and Andrew Wilson are the committee chosen to make arrangements for the party.

After the business part of the meeting was concluded, Miss Redpath gave a very amusing reading entitled "Kolinsky at the Wedding," followed by a splendid talk given by Rev. E. C. Moore on "How the Woman's Institute Can Help the School Teachers in Their Work." He spoke of the tendency to neglect things of vital importance in our public schools through lack of thought and interest, and urged the importance of environment. Beautiful lives should have beautiful environment; do your best with what you have. Rev. E. C. Moore told of an organization called the Parent and Teachers' Association, which does a splendid work.

HALL IS GUEST OF ROTARY CLUB

Car Industry is Subject of Most Interesting Address to Campbellford Club.

LIFE OF HENRY FORD.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 10 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent)—The weekly luncheon of the Campbellford Rotary Club was held on Monday in the St. Lawrence Hotel with the president, H. N. Carr in the chair. The speaker for the day was T. E. Hall, local car dealer, who gave a very interesting address on his classification.

Mr. Hall confined the first part of his address explaining the car industry in Canada relative to the dealer and the public. He pointed out that though agriculture has always been considered the basic industry of the country, that in the past twenty-five years the automobile industry has become one of the staple businesses of Canada, and has aided largely in the industrial development of the country.

Speaking of the beginning of horseless traction, the speaker pointed out that it was the outcome of many inventors in different parts of the world. The first steam carriage was put on the road in 1770 by a Frenchman, this having a speed limit of 2½ m.p.h. with a forced stop every 100 feet to make steam. Then came the experimental period up to 1909 when the principal of internal combustion was worked on. After that date the growth of the car increased until it reached the stage where it ceased to be a luxury and became a necessity. Mr. Hall also explained in full the working of an ordinary car engine.

The latter portion of the address was given over to an outline of the history of Henry Ford, one of the leaders in the industry. Born in Michigan, U.S.A., 1863, he left school at the age of 15 and worked for his father on the farm, at the same time experimenting with watch making. At 16 he left home because of his father's objections to the mechanical bent, and went to Detroit to work in a machine shop for $2 per week, supplimenting this wage by evening employment. He later went into an engine shop and started to set up and repair steam tractors.

In 1870 Henry Ford went to work with the Edison Company of Detroit as an engineer and it was while here that he conceived the idea of the mass production of a cheap car for all classes. Borrowing the money to put his idea into action he built his first car. In 1902, a two cylinder affair with four horse power and a chain drive. This sold for $200 and with this money started on a second car, this time a four cylinder car with eight horse power. From this small beginning has grown the present concern which produces over half the cars of the world and in 1926 had assets over one billion dollars. Up to 1926 the T model Ford was predominant on the market. Having served its term of usefulness however, it was replaced in that year by the model A, a car that is on the par with any higher priced make.

At the conclusion of the address a few remarks were made by Dr. Daley of Port Hope, a Rotary guest from that place.

Largest Attendance Since Organization at Efficiency League Meeting.

TRENT RIVER, March 10 (Examiner Correspondence) — Efficiency League at United Church. Considerable interest is being excercised amongst the League members as the attendance on Friday night was the largest since the league was organized.

R. W. Umphrey, the worthy president, is putting forth every effort to make the weekly meetings interesting. The meeting Friday night was opened with hymn No. 226, followed by the Lord's Prayer in concert, responsive reading taken from 1 Corinthians 13; after the minutes of the last meeting were heard the subject of the advisability of accepting the offer of the young people of Tabernacle Church to bring a five act play "Under the Laurels" at some future date and to go fifty-fifty on the proceeds, it was decided to have the play put on in the United Church on Friday March 20th. On Friday, March 13th, Rush Point League will be visitors with Trent River League and will furnish the program, while Trent River League provide the lunch.

Rufus Redden had charge of the program Friday night. And the program was as follows: trio, "I have been above with Jesus," by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Robson and Miss Doris Robson; Mr. Isaac Lawson gave a paper on "Pentecoste and modern Religion," recitation, Ethel Shearer; address, "The causes of unemployment" by George Armstrong of Seymour West and pupil attending Campbellford High School. This address was given by George at the oratorical contest held recently at Campbellford. Solo, "Christ will our Pilot be" by Miss Betty Ormiston; recitation by Miss Marie Seaborn; vocal duet, "Whispering Hope," by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Robson.

At the conclusion of the program the different colors collected in groups for a contest "Different things you find on a pine tree," resulting in the white side winning out.

The attendance at the league was 67. Miss Bessie G. French played the accompaniments for the evening. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

FORMER WARDEN OF VICTORIA DEAD

Highways Out of Lindsay Are Still Closed to Motor Traffic.

WATER SUPPLY LOW.

LINDSAY, March 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—A pioneer resident of Victoria County, and a former Warden, in the person of Taylor Parkin, passed away in Lindsay on Sunday in his eighty-sixth year.

The deceased was born in England, and came to Victoria County when quite young, settling in the village of Cameron, where he farmed for a great many years. He later resided in Uxbridge, but during the past few years lived in Lindsay.

He was Reeve of Fenelon Township for a number of years, and was one of the best known residents of the county.

Highways Blocked

There is little prospect of either the Lindsay-Toronto or Lindsay-Peterborough highways being opened for traffic during the next few days. The big plough which has been operated on these two stretches by the Highways Department, came to grief yesterday at Sunderland after ploughing through the drifts from Manchester. It will be laid up a few days for repairs.

Many motorists from outside points spent the week-end in Lindsay, and were obliged to travel by rail and leave their cars behind.

Water Supply Low

The heavy snowfall during the week-end is going to prove a blessing to the people of Fenelon Falls who have been face to face with a water famine during the past few weeks owing to the source for domestic supply giving out.

It will also prove a boon to electric power users in this area, as the northern lakes, which are the reservoirs or feeders for the Trent waters have been very low. Power users have been very much concerned over the situation. For instance, the village of Kinmount has had no electrical energy for some time, owing to the low water in Burnt River. The Austin Company, which supplies the village with electricity, was unable to operate its plant, but the copious snowfall will help to again fill the northern lakes.

TRENT RIVER

Mr. George Brooks held a bee for drawing stone for the Cheese factory, Thursday, the stone is for a fill in for a cement floor for the curing room.

Here's a Room that PAYS ITS OWN RENT

... ONCE upon a time it wasn't a room at all. It was just waste space beneath the roof. Then we learned how easy it was to make use of such places with TEN/TEST and we converted it into a recreation room.

But it was afterwards that the big surprise came. In building the room with TEN/TEST we had put insulation between the roof and the rest of the house. Heat no longer escaped. The house at once became more comfortable and the coal bill came down.

Now, every year the saving in fuel represents a nice tidy rent from the room, and we have the room too.

We killed two birds with one stone . . . we got another room and we reduced our fuel bill by practically one-third. Not bad for TEN/TEST.

MILLBROOK SCHOOL CADET CORPS WINS LAURA SECORD JUNIOR CUP FOR THE THIRD SUCCESSIVE YEAR

Durham County Team Has 980 Total Out of Possible Score of 1,000.

OTTAWA NORMAL SECOND.

Grove School Corps of Lakefield Second in Residential Group.

MILLBROOK, March 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — Instructor B. B. Dawson has received notice from headquarters that in the Junior Group of the Laura Secord Rifle Competition for 1930, Millbrook Continuation Cadet Corps, No. 403, has again been successful in winning the Laura Secord Cup, this making the third year in succession that this honor has come to the school, the Corps and the community.

Out of a possible score of 1,000, the Millbrook team made 980; the next in line, the Ottawa Normal School Corps, No. 106, having a record of 945, and receiving as their prize ten pounds of Laura Secord chocolates, donated by the candy shops of that name, Toronto; the third position, for which the prize was five pounds of the Laura Secords, went to Queen Victoria Public School, Belleville, No. 389, with a total of 905.

Grove School Second.

In the residential group, the Grove School Cadet Corps, Lakefield, No. 241, came second with a score of 791, and the winner of the gold medal in the residential school group was Cadet C. Miall, whose total was 92 out of a possible 100. In the senior group, No. 487, Athens High School Cadet Corps, held first place with a score of 976.

In the junior series of the competition three of the local Cadets made 100, or a perfect score, but for some reason only the name of Cadet Lyal Nattress is listed on the official sheet as holding the individual high score, the other two names being omitted.

In the senior series the local group of Cadets scored 919 out of a possible 1,000. The shooting in the Imperial competition has also been completed locally and the results sent to England, where final standing will be adjudged, the whole Empire being included in this event. Last year the Earl Jellicoe sword came to the Millbrook Cadet Corps as winners of first place for the small unit in the British Empire.

What To-day Means To You

"PISCSE"

If March 10th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to noon, from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 10 p.m. to 11:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Time will prove that March 10th is not your "unlucky day"—no immediate benefit will follow changes made or steps taken, but fruitful seed will be sown. New friendships will be formed, with possible engagements or marriage to follow, for the unattached readers of the fair sex.

Children born on this March 10th will have the ability and the gumption to make something of themselves, no matter what their handicaps may be. They will have self-assurance convincing ways and personal charm. They will have high ambitions, considerable personal pride, and splendid ideals.

If born on a March 10th, you have a "jolly good fellow" complex, and one of the traits of a curmudgeon. Fortunately, however, your good nature is tempered with discretion, and you have a large fund of common sense. You are not guilty of the cheap follies of "conviviality" but you are always a good sport, and you believe in a 'fifty-fifty" basis of living. You are very generous, and your generosity springs from a warm heart, and is not mere swank, or the desire not to be thought mean.

You never sell your self-respect for worthless popularity with boon companions. Your good will and good cheer is unconsciously extended to one and all. Unless you are physically very strong, you will find your energy will be sapped by those who live on outside stimulation. Beware of these robbers of your strength, magnetism and vitality!

You have considerable optimism, and are not a worrier. You have the contentment that is not always chasing after rainbows. Little things please you immensely, and you find joy in simple pleasures. You do not seemingly take anything seriously, but you have courage and perseverance, two factors which make for personality and success. You refuse to accept the "impossible," and you are not surprised by the miracles which lie around the corner. If you marry, you and your mate will know the meaning of "together," in both your play and work, your sorrows and your joys.

Doings in Legislature

TORONTO, Ont., March 10 (C.P.). —To-day in the Legislature:

Debate on Speech from the Throne ends.

Yesterday in the Legislature:

Second reading bills to amend the Municipal Act, to amend the Vital Statistics Act, and to amend the Dentistry Act.

House in Committee of the Whole passed bill to amend the Mining Act.

TOWNSHIP FACES $892.88 DEFICIT

Church Army Mission to Conduct Meetings in Apsley Church for Week.

Evidence that Apsley, in common with other municipalities, is affected by the economic conditions, is reflected in the auditors' report of the township of Burleigh and Anstruther for 1930 just published, which shows the municipality facing a deficit of $892.88, with uncollected taxes on December 31 amounting to $1,376.91, more than $600 greater than the amount remaining uncollected at the end of 1929. The auditors' report differs to the extent of $1,664.93 to the financial statement presented to the ratepayers at the nomination meeting which showed a balance of $772.05 after all liabilities had been paid.

Those of the settlers who are fortunate enough to have good cedar on their lots, are making a living by taking out telegraph poles which are worth a good price. They have to be delivered on the main road from whence they will be picked up by the company. This is a much better paying proposition for those who have them than taking out logs for lumber, the price for delivery on the creek being away below last year's.

A Church Army Mission, conducted by Captain Casey, will be held in Apsley at St. George's Church from March 12th to the 16th, both dates inclusive. Services for women will be held at 3 p.m. on Friday and Monday, at at 4:15 p.m. for children, with mission services for everybody each evening at 7:30.

A movement is on foot, sponsored by Mr. E. L. Blackwell, to organise a brass band in Apsley, three members having joined already. If this should meet the eye of any one having second-hand instruments to dispose of, preferably E flat cornet, trombone, bass, kindly communicate with Rev. C. A. G. Spence, stating price and kind of instrument.

390 View Persian Art Who Saw Exhibit in 1851; British Octogenarians Recall the Koh-i-Noor

LONDON, March 10—It had never been realized there were so many hale and hearty octogenarians and nonogenarians in England as assembled at Burlington House to-day as guests of Sir Arnold Wilson, an authority on Persia.

Sir Arnold had the interesting idea of inviting to the Persian art exhibition those who had attended the great exhibition in Hyde Park in 1951. The exhibition staff, expecting a handful of replies, was astounded by a deluge of letters from nearly 700 persons throughout the country, of whom 390 turned up today. Despite a windy day with the thermometer hovering about the freezing mark.

The salons of the Royal Academy were thronged with silver-haired men and women in Victorian bonnets, some in invalid chairs and others leaning heavily on the arms of their children and grandchildren, but many walking about without aid.

Every one was astonished by the lively interest taken in the exhibition by the aged visitors and keenness shown by many in taking advantage of the opportunity of exchanging reminiscences with their contemporaries.

Although the majority of the 1851 survivors must have been in swaddling clothes then, memories of that exhibition were particularly vivid. Two elm trees inside the building and the Koh-i-noor diamond remained most in the minds of those who could recall the exhibit. Several recalled the alarm-lock bed which tipped up and ejected its occupants at any designated hour.

The guests, whose combined ages totalled more than 30,000 years, were entertained at 10 o'clock by Lord MacMillan, chairman of the exhibition board of management.

"The 1851 vintage was of remarkably good growth," Lord MacMillan addressed them. "Certainly it was a healthy generation." He added that the 1851 exhibition was due to the work of Prince Albert, pointing out in the Albert Memorial statue book he was holding in his hand the catalogue of that exhibition.

Canon J. M. Wilson, Sir Arnold's father, who is 94 years old, replied in behalf of the veterans.

JUST TO MIND OUR OWN BUSINESS

By ALICE BURFOOT

Just to mind one's own business, is the most difficult thing for the great majority of the world at large to do. It is a case of always seeing the mote in our brother's eye, and forgetting the beam in our own. We pick our neighbors to pieces, see all of their outstanding faults in glaring colors, instead of weeding out the same faults in ourselves (probably) and putting "our own house in" order first." We are all so keen to tell the other man what he should do. "What I should do, were I in his place," one often hears.

This is an age truly of criticism. We criticise the play, we criticise our church, our clergyman, our doctor. "At our politicians we fling torrents of criticism" and we criticize each other. We are all so anxious to put the other man right, and teach him his business. We forget that each man's life is different from another. At that moment he is living where his past living has brought him. Each man is different from his brother, just as blades of grass differ, some are strong, some are weak, some grow in the sunshine, some in the shadow, but all is grass. So mankind differ one from another, "but all are men." Some have grown in the shadow of dark corners of the earth, and have suffered, and perhaps grown hard, and, perhaps, grown bigger. Others have lived in the sunshine of life, with love and beauty around them. Is it for him to tell the other man who has suffered, what he should do, to pick out his faults? He does not know the past circumstances of that man, the past that has brought his present conditions. We judge our neighbors by outward appearance. We listen to what somebody tells us, seeing them through their eyes, and therefore usually seeing all of their outstanding faults magnified, and their virtues forgotten. If we would only be more tolerant, one towards another, and judge our brothers less harshly, and look at our own shortcomings, for none of us yet are perfect, for we all have many outstanding faults, even the best of us. It must be so, until we grow into the fulness of the perfect man. If we think of the world as a garden, and all the different flowers, as different people, we shall see that each flower has some outstanding quality and each one helps to make the garden beautiful—and the great Gardener, who watches over that garden constantly rays the sunshine of love upon all, making some to grow strong, and some more beautiful, and some more sweet. All are His flowers, He loves them all, for all are needed to make the garden beautiful, for He sees all growing into perfection, slowly, but surely, for He has the vision beautiful and knows that one day every flower will be a glorious flower. Even so, does God look upon His beloved children, seeing each one growing up into the likeness of his Heavenly Father. If men would criticise themselves as severely as they do other men, and send thoughts of help and tolerance to their brothers, there would soon be a greater race of men in the world. We make life so hard and difficult for each other by constantly misjudging each other, and placing obstacles in their pathway of life, by doubt, and suspicion. Every man has some good in him, however evil he may appear on the surface, and by seeing that good in him we are helping him to grow a better man. And so if we would mind our "own business" and turn the searchlight of criticism on ourselves, instead of our brothers, then perhaps we should be helping to make this world a better place to live in.

HINT AT MURDER IN YOUTH'S DEATH

INQUEST WEDNESDAY.

MONTREAL, Que., March 10 (C.P.) —Patrick Campbell, 19, night watchman at an east end coal yard, was murdered according to Dr. Wilfred Derome, medico-legal expert, and detectives. A theory that Campbell had died as the result of a kick from a horse in the stable at the coal yard was dismissed by the police. An examination of the body was made and an autopsy was performed by Dr. Derome. An inquest will be opened Wednesday. The detectives advanced the theory that Campbell was in the stable when someone entered and struck him on the head with a blunt instrument. When Campbell attempted to fight back, he was again struck and lost consciousness. He was found in the stable Saturday morning and died in hospital on Sunday. The wall and floor of the stable were covered with blood.

An examination of the body showed that two deep wounds in the head had been inflicted with a blunt instrument and also 25 wounds on the body. Detectives claimed that they have clues which may lead to an arrest.

FIRST PETERBOROUGH TROOP.

The meeting was opened last Friday in St. John's Parish Hall with the usual ceremony. This accomplished, the boys were sent to their patrol corners for an instruction period, during which the troop leader drilled each patrol individually in the meaning of the hand signals.

When the game period came two games were greatly enjoyed. The first was the game of "Rough and Tumble," while the second was the unique game "Kelly Says," and was taken by S.M. Ingram of Oshawa.

At the camp fire the new troop orchestra gave several selections and accompanied some of the songs. The suggestion was made that if the boys were anxious to be real Scouts they might respect private property and take care not to cut across lawns, etc. This was particularly urged as the season of muddy lawns is coming with the advent of spring.

The lowering of the flag and the National Anthem closed the meeting.

16 INCHES AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 10 (C.P.)—With thousands of men working in cities, towns, and along highways of the middle-western states, business was gradually returning to normal today after the week-end's 16.4 inches of snow.

Two more deaths were reported in Chicago, attributable to the storm, bringing the total to 18.

LONDON SUFFERS HEAVIEST SNOW IN TWENTY YEARS

Thousands of Unemployed Given Jobs Clearing Miles of Streets.

RAILROADS USE PLOWS.

Cross Channels Steamer and Air Service Extremely Difficult.

LONDON, March 10 (C.P.). — Southern England, which until this week had escaped severe winter weather, was making up to-day for the lapses of the past three months.

A temperature of 22 degrees Fahrenheit prevailed in London this morning, while thousands of erstwhile unemployed engaged in removing from the streets an estimated 9,000,000 tons of snow which fell yesterday, the heaviest fall in twenty years. The sky was threatening and continued snow and cold were predicted.

Roads all over the British Isles were piled high with snow or, more dangerous still, were encrusted with ice which made traffic difficult and hazardous. The railroads brought out their snow plows and adhered fairly closely to train schedules.

Laconia Buffeted

Cross Channel steamers and some air services continued through snow storms which blotted out the sea and sky. Pilots described the experience as much like flying through a fog. Among incoming liners buffeted by the storm was the Cunarder Laconia which shipped a huge wave off Cornwall, scattering a party of seamen working on deck and injuring two, one of whom died.

Winter sports, which Britain enjoys only very infrequently, were engaged in to-day as the heavy winds of the week-end calmed.

The Oxford and Cambridge crews training at Putney for their coming race, had their boats and oats encrusted with ice when they came in from a turn on the river. The men were severely tested.

The fire started on the first floor of their two family dwelling and swept up the stairs, cutting off the retreat of the Abrams family. MAGISTRATE DEFENDS HIS ACTION IN SENTENCING VIVIAN GORDON

CONFERRING A FAVOR.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 10. (CP) While the search for her slayers went forward, the road that Vivian Gordon trod to the reformatory in 1923 was illuminated for the first time to-day.

In the latest of Referee Samuel Seabury's inquisitions into the Magistrates' Courts Magistrate H. Stanley Renaud defended his action in sentencing the then Benita Bischoff for an indeterminate term and said he would do it again—even though she was a first offender and was convicted on the unsupported testimony of one vice squad patrolman.

One of Best Schools

"She was sent to Bedford, perhaps, because it is one of the best schools in the country" he said yesterday "if they took off the 'reformatory' name, it would be full of girls coming in there of their own volition. It is a wonderful school."

After Renaud testified that she refused to reveal her background.

"If she had made an error" he replied, "that was the best place for her to learn the error of her ways and be trained in the proper method of life—a wonderful school."

Referee Seabury interrupted at this point to ask a question:

"In sending her to Bedford you considered that you were conferring a favor on her rather than incarcerating her in a penal institution."

"Absolutely" Renaud replied.

While witnesses still were parading before the grand jury, District Attorney Charles B. McLaughlin of the Bronx said he had made "definite progress" in the solution of the Broadway courtesan's strangling.

"I feel much better about the case this week" he said, "we have eliminated many crazy theories. We are now going through a real elimination process."

CAMPBELLFORD THEATRE NOT CONDEMNED BY GOV'T

CAMPBELLFORD, March 10 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent)—The following letter has been received from Capt. T. E. Hyland in reference to a statement made at the last regular session of the Campbellford Town Council held March 2, by H. S. Perry of Belleville. Mr. Perry stated that the old Regent Theatre "Was condemned by the government" and Capt. Hyland takes exception to this statement as follows:—

"In your paper of March 3 a statement of H. S. Perry regarding the Regent Theatre gives the wrong impression and might be used to the detriment of the property.

I would be pleased if you would publish the following corrections in your paper as the Regent Theatre is still under consideration and will be overhauled and placed in first class condition for talkies in the very near future.

The Regent Theatre has not been condemned by the government as stated by Mr. H. S. Perry at the council meeting of March 2. The theatre building is in a perfectly sound condition but the projection room is situated on the outside of the building does not conform with the government regulations as to size.

In fact Mr. Perry has been trying to rent or lease the Regent Theatre but evidently was unable to raise the required funds.

To build a theatre with a seating capacity of 500 would cost at least $30,000 with an extra ten thousand dollars to equip, which means an outlay of at least $40,000 which together with the high cost of talkie films of to-day makes it impossible for a town of less than seven thousand population to support.

Trusting you may find room in your paper for the above, I beg to remain,

Yours sincerely,
T. E. Hyland.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Mrs. A. W. Power, 581 Jane St., Toronto, Ont., writes:—"Eight years ago I had a very serious illness. I had a bad attack of pleurisy and pneumonia and was six months in bed. This illness left me with a terrible cough. I tried several cough medicines, but they did not seem to have any effect. One day my mother brought me home a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after I had taken several more I noticed my cough gradually leaving me. Since that time if ever my husband and children or myself have bad colds I always get 'Dr. Wood's.'"

MILLBROOK SCHOOL CADET CORPS WINS LAURA SECORD JUNIOR CUP FOR THE THIRD SUCCESSIVE YEAR

Durham County Team Has 980 Total Out of Possible Score of 1,000.

OTTAWA NORMAL SECOND.

Grove School Corps of Lakefield Second in Residential Group.

MILLBROOK, March 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — Instructor B. B. Dawson has received notice from headquarters that in the Junior Group of the Laura Secord Rifle Competition for 1930, Millbrook Continuation Cadet Corps, No. 403, has again been successful in winning the Laura Secord Cup, this making the third year in succession that this honor has come to the school, the Corps and the community.

Out of a possible score of 1,000, the Millbrook team made 980; the next in line, the Ottawa Normal School Corps, No. 106, having a record of 945, and receiving as their prize ten pounds of Laura Secord chocolates, donated by the candy shops of that name, Toronto; the third position, for which the prize was five pounds of the Laura Secords, went to Queen Victoria Public School, Belleville, No. 389, with a total of 905.

Grove School Second.

In the residential group, the Grove School Cadet Corps, Lakefield, No. 241, came second with a score of 791, and the winner of the gold medal in the residential school group was Cadet C. Miall, whose total was 92 out of a possible 100. In the senior group, No. 487, Athens High School Cadet Corps, held first place with a score of 976.

In the junior series of the competition three of the local Cadets made 100, or a perfect score, but for some reason only the name of Cadet Lyal Nattress is listed on the officia. sheet as holding the individual high score, the other two names being omitted.

In the senior series the local group of Cadets scored 919 out of a possible 1,000. The shooting in the Imperial competition has also been completed locally and the results sent to England, where final standing will be adjudged, the whole Empire being included in this event. Last year the Earl Jellicoe sword came to the Millbrook Cadet Corps as winners of first place for the small unit in the British Empire.

What To-day Means To You

"PISCSE"

If March 10th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to noon, from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 10 p.m. to 11:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Time will prove that March 10th is not your "unlucky day"—no immediate benefit will follow changes made or steps taken, but fruitful seed will be sown. New friendships will be formed, with possible engagements or marriage to follow, for the unattached readers of the fair sex.

Children born on this March 10th will have the ability and the gumption to make something of themselves, no matter what their handicaps may be. They will have self-assurance convincing ways and personal charm. They will have high ambitions, considerable personal pride, and splendid ideals.

If born on a March 10th, you have a "jolly good fellow" complex, and one of the traits of a curmudgeon. Fortunately, however, your good nature is tempered with discretion, and you have a large fund of common sense. You are not guilty of the cheap follies of "conviviality" but you are always a good sport, and you believe in a 'fifty-fifty" basis of living. You are very generous, and your generosity springs from a warm heart, and is not mere swank, or the desire not to be thought mean.

You never sell your self-respect for worthless popularity with boon companions. Your good will and good cheer is unconsciously extended to one and all. Unless you are physically very strong, you will find your energy will be sapped by those who live on outside stimulation. Beware of these robbers of your strength, magnetism and vitality!

You have considerable optimism, and are not a worrier. You have the contentment that is not always chasing after rainbows. Little things please you immensely, and you find joy in simple pleasures. You do not seemingly take anything seriously, but you have courage and perseverance, two factors which make for personality and success. You refuse to accept the "impossible," and you are not surprised by the miracles which lie around the corner. If you marry, you and your mate will know the meaning of "together," in both your play and work, your sorrows and your joys.

TOWNSHIP FACES $892.88 DEFICIT

Church Army Mission to Conduct Meetings in Apsley Church for Week.

Evidence that Apsley, in common with other municipalities, is affected by the economic conditions, is reflected in the auditors' report of the township of Burleigh and Anstruther for 1930 just published, which shows the municipality facing a deficit of $892.88, with uncollected taxes on December 31 amounting to $1,376.91, more than $600 greater than the amount remaining uncollected at the end of 1929. The auditors' report differs to the extent of $1,664.93 to the financial statement presented to the ratepayers at the nomination meeting which showed a balance of $772.05 after all liabilities had been paid.

Those of the settlers who are fortunate enough to have good cedar on their lots, are making a living by taking out telegraph poles which are worth a good price. They have to be delivered on the main road from whence they will be picked up by the company. This is a much better paying proposition for those who have them than taking out logs for lumber, the price for delivery on the creek being away below last year's.

A Church Army Mission, conducted by Captain Casey, will be held in Apsley at St. George's Church from March 12th to the 16th, both dates inclusive. Services for women will be held at 3 p.m. on Friday and Monday, at at 4:15 p.m. for children, with mission services for everybody each evening at 7:30.

A movement is on foot, sponsored by Mr. E. L. Blackwell, to organise a brass band in Apsley, three members having joined already. If this should meet the eye of any one having second-hand instruments to dispose of, preferably E flat cornet, trombone, bass, kindly communicate with Rev. C. A. G. Spence, stating price and kind of instrument.

390 View Persian Art Who Saw Exhibit in 1851; British Octogenarians Recall the Koh-i-Noor

LONDON, March 10—It had never been realized there were so many hale and hearty octogenarians and nonogenarians in England as assembled at Burlington House to-day as guests of Sir Arnold Wilson, an authority on Persia.

Sir Arnold had the interesting idea of inviting to the Persian art exhibition those who had attended the great exhibition in Hyde Park in 1951. The exhibition staff, expecting a handful of replies, was astounded by a deluge of letters from nearly 700 persons throughout the country, of whom 390 turned up today. Despite a windy day with the thermometer hovering about the freezing mark.

The salons of the Royal Academy were thronged with silver-haired men and women in Victorian bonnets, some in invalid chairs and others leaning heavily on the arms of their children and grandchildren, but many walking about without aid.

Every one was astonished by the lively interest taken in the exhibition by the aged visitors and keenness shown by many in taking advantage of the opportunity of exchanging reminiscences with their contemporaries.

Although the majority of the 1851 survivors must have been in swaddling clothes then, memories of that exhibition were particularly vivid. Two elm trees inside the building and the Koh-i-noor diamond remained most in the minds of those who could recall the exhibit. Several recalled the alarm-lock bed which tipped up and ejected its occupants at any designated hour.

The guests, whose combined ages totalled more than 30,000 years, were entertained at 10 o'clock by Lord MacMillan, chairman of the exhibition board of management.

"The 1851 vintage was of remarkably good growth," Lord MacMillan addressed them. "Certainly it was a healthy generation." He added that the 1851 exhibition was due to the work of Prince Albert, pointing out in the Albert Memorial statue book he was holding in his hand the catalogue of that exhibition.

Canon J. M. Wilson, Sir Arnold's father, who is 94 years old, replied in behalf of the veterans.

JUST TO MIND OUR OWN BUSINESS

By ALICE BURFOOT

Just to mind one's own business, is the most difficult thing for the great majority of the world at large to do. It is a case of always seeing the mote in our brother's eye, and forgetting the beam in our own. We pick our neighbors to pieces, see all of their outstanding faults in glaring colors, instead of weeding out the same faults in ourselves (probably) and putting "our own house in order first." We are all so keen to tell the other man what he should do, "What I should do, were I in his place," one often hears.

This is an age truly of criticism. We criticize the play, we criticize our church, our clergyman, our doctor. "At our politicians we fling torrents of criticism" and we criticize each other. We are all so anxious to put the other man right, and teach him his business. We forget that each man's life is different from another. At that moment he is living where his past living has brought hm. Each man is different from his brother, just as blades of grass differ, some are strong, some are weak, some grow in the sunshine, some in the shadow, but all is grass. So mankind differ one from another, "but all are men." Some have grown in the shadow of dark corners of the earth, and have suffered, and perhaps grown hard, and, perhaps, grown bigger. Others have lived in the sunshine of life, with love and beauty around them. Is it for him to tell the other man who has suffered, what he should do, to pick out his faults? He does not know the past circumstances of that man, the past that has brought his present conditions. We judge our neighbors by outward appearance. We listen to what somebody tells us, seeing them through their eyes, and therefore usually seeing all of their outstanding faults magnified, and their virtues forgotten. If we would only be more tolerant, one towards another, and judge our brothers less harshly, and look at our own shortcomings, for none of us yet are perfect, for we all have many outstanding faults, even the best of us. It must be so, until we grow into the fulness of the perfect man. If we think of the world as a garden, and all the different flowers, as different people, we shall see that each flower has some outstanding quality and each one helps to make the garden beautiful—and the great Gardener, who watches over that garden constantly rays the sunshine of love upon all, making some to grow strong, and some more beautiful, and some more sweet. All are His flowers, He loves them all, for all are needed to make the garden beautiful, for He sees all growing into perfection, slowly, but surely, for He has the vision beautiful and knows that one day every flower will be a glorious flower. Even so, does God look upon His beloved children, seeing each one growing up into the likeness of his Heavenly Father. If men would criticize themselves as severely as they do other men, and send thoughts of help and tolerance to their brothers, there would soon be a greater race of men in the world. We make life so hard and difficult for each other by constantly misjudging each other, and placing obstacles in their pathway of life, by doubt, and suspicion. Every man has some good in him, however evil he may appear on the surface, and by seeing that good in him we are helping him to grow a better man. And so if we would mind our "own business" and turn the searchlight of criticism on ourselves, instead of our brothers, then perhaps we should be helping to make this world a better place to live in.

HINT AT MURDER IN YOUTH'S DEATH

INQUEST WEDNESDAY.

MONTREAL, Que., March 10 (C.P.) —Patrick Campbell, 19, night watchman at an east end coal yard, was murdered according to Dr. Wilfred Derome, medico-legal expert, and detectives. A theory that Campbell had died as the result of a kick from a horse in the stable at the coal yard was dismissed by the police. An examination of the body was made and an autopsy was performed by Dr. Derome. An inquest will be opened Wednesday. The detectives advanced the theory that Campbell was in the stable when someone entered and struck him on the head with a blunt instrument. When Campbell attempted to fight back, he was again struck and lost consciousness. He was found in the stable Saturday morning and died in hospital on Sunday. The wall and floor of the stable were covered with blood.

An examination of the body showed that two deep wounds in the head had been inflicted with a blunt instrument and also 25 wounds on the body. Detectives claimed that they have clues which may lead to an arrest.

FIRST PETERBOROUGH TROOP.

The meeting was opened last Friday in St. John's Parish Hall with the usual ceremony. This accomplished, the boys were sent to their patrol corners for an instruction period, during which the troop leader drilled each patrol individually in the meaning of the hand signals.

When the game period came two games were greatly enjoyed. The first was the game of "Rough and Tumble," while the second was the unique game "Kelly Says," and was taken by S.M. Ingram of Oshawa.

At the camp fire the new troop orchestra gave several selections and accompanied some of the songs. The huggestion was made that if the boys were anxious to be real Scouts they might respect private property and take care not to cut across lawns, etc. This was particularly urged as the season of muddy lawns is coming with the advent of spring.

The lowering of the flag and the National Anthem closed the meeting.

16 INCHES AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 10 (C.P.).—With thousands of men working in cities, towns, and along highways of the middle-western states, business was gradually returning to normal to day after the week-end's 16.4 inches of snow.

Two more deaths were reported in Chicago, attributable to the storm, bringing the total to 18.

LONDON SUFFERS HEAVIEST SNOW IN TWENTY YEARS

RAILROADS USE PLOWS.

LONDON, March 10 (C.P.). — Southern England, which until this week had escaped severe winter weather, was making up to-day for the lapses of the past three months.

A temperature of 22 degrees Fahrenheit prevailed in London this morning, while thousands of erstwhile unemployed engaged in removing from the streets an estimated 9,000,000 tons of snow which fell yesterday, the heaviest fall in twenty years. The sky was threatening and continued snow and cold were predicted.

Roads all over the British Isles were piled high with snow or, more dangerous still, were encrusted with ice which made traffic difficult and hazardous. The railroads brought out their snow plows and adhered fairly closely to train schedules.

Laconia Buffeted

Cross Channel steamers and some air services continued through snow storms which blotted out the sea and sky. Pilots described the experience as much like flying through a fog. Among incoming liners buffeted by the storm was the Cunarder Laconia which shipped a huge wave off Cornwall, scattering a party of seamen working on deck and injuring two, one of whom died.

Winter sports, which Britain enjoys only very infrequently, were engaged in to-day as the heavy winds of the week-end calmed.

The Oxford and Cambridge crews training at Putney for their coming race, had their boats and oats encrusted with ice when they came in from a turn on the river. The men were severely tested.

MAGISTRATE DEFENDS HIS ACTION IN SENTENCING VIVIAN GORDON

CONFERRING A FAVOR.

NEW YORK, N.Y. March 10. (CP) While the search for her slayers went forward, the road that Vivian Gordon trod to the reformatory in 1923 was illuminated for the first time to-day.

In the latest of Referee Samuel Seabury's inquisitions into the Magistrates' Courts, Magistrate H. Stanley Renaud defended his action in sentencing the then Benita Bischoff for an indeterminate term and said he would do it again—even though she was a first offender and was convicted on the unsupported testimony of one vice squad patrolman.

One of Best Schools

"She was sent to Bedfort, perhaps, because it is one of the best schools in the country" he said yesterday "if they took off the 'reformatory' name, it would be full of girls coming in there of their own volition. It is a wonderful school."

After Renaud testified that she refused to reveal her background.

"If she had made an error" he replied, "that was the best place for her to learn the error of her ways and be trained in the proper method of life—a wonderful school."

Referee Seabury interrupted at this point to ask a question:

"In sending her to Bedford you considered that you were conferring a favor on her rather than incarcerating her in a penal institution."

"Absolutely" Renaud replied.

While witnesses still were parading before the grand jury, District Attorney Charles B. McLaughlin of the Bronx said he had made "definite progress" in the solution of the Broadway courtesan's strangling.

"I feel much better about the case this week" he said, "we have eliminated many crazy theories. We are now going through a real elimination process."

OFFICIALS SILENT ON HUDSON RUMOR

Refuse to Make Statement Regarding Manufacture of Hudson Cars in Canada.

DETROIT, Mich., March 10. (CP) —Officials of the Hudson Motor Car Corporation of Detroit had no statement to make yesterday regarding the report published in Toronto that the Hudson and Essex cars would be manufactured in the plant of the Durant Motor Company of Canada.

The Canadian Press is reliably informed, however, that Hudson officials have been looking over the ground in Canada, with a view to keeping intact its Canadian sales organization following the action of the Canadian Government in reducing for tariff purposes the discount allowed on list prices of United States automobiles.

The Durant Company, it is understood, is one of several possibilities for the producing of Hudson-Essex cars in Canada, and so far no proposition has been laid before the Hudson board of directors.

Bogus 'Twenties' Being Circulated

When someone offers you an American $20 bill, best be a little chary about accepting it, is the advice police throughout the district are giving business men. From Belleville and Kingston has come the wail of merchants who have been victimized.

The "twenties" those merchants had tucked into their cash registers were not worth anything except as paper. They are old United States one dollar bills which have been cleverly raised to the higher denomination.

Merchants did not discover that they had been hoodwinked until they took their cash to the bank. The sharp eye of the teller at once detected the false currency. Kingston suffered an epidemic of these raised notes, and one was passed off in Cobourg more recently.

The gang may move into Peterborough to pull their stunt. Anyway it is best to be careful than sorry, say the police.

UNITED COUNTIES

of revaluation which first employed three independent valuators appointed by the counties council, Col. T. J. Johnston of Peterborough, George Thompson of Cobourg and R. J. Rowe of Clarke township. The urban representatives next opposed the report which these valuators submitted, and their appeal was finally referred to Judge O'Connor, whose finding bore heavily upon Cobourg by reason of the large increase in that town's equalized assessment upon which the county tax rate is based.

Now the Cobourg council is seeking permission to cut adrift from the counties, and in all probability their request will be granted.

By-Law to Ratepayers

The next step in this process of separation would be the reference of a by-law to the ratepayers of Cobourg for their approval. If they endorse the proposal, the counties council and the Cobourg and the Cobourg council will arrange for the funding of the town's financial indebtedness to the unoted counties. If they fail to agree, the Municipal and Railway Board is called upon to act arbitrators.

In a recent discussion of Cobourg's action to apply to the Legislature for separation, Councillor Jackson of the Cobourg council, said he did not think the ratepayers of the town should have to pay taxes for roads built "away off in Cavan, Manvers and Cartwright townships in Durham county or in Seymour and Murray townships in Northumberland."

Cobourg is content to pay a share of the cost of the county roads which immediately radiate into the nearby country and are an advantage to the merchants and other business men of the town and a convenience to the farmers who live in the townships comparatively close to Cobourg.

Rental Dispute, Too.

And while Cobourg is preparing to dissolve its municipal associations with the united counties of which it has been an integral part for thirty-six years, it has demanded an increased rental from the counties for the quarters in the town hall which are used by the counties council and its several departments. Negotiations in December and January failed to effect an agreement as to the amount the counties considered a fair rental, and this dispute has not yet been settled.

PICTURE—March 6 —CULLEN.

Here's slimming lines for the woman of heavier figure.

And a smart dress that will answer many needs for the lovely spring days that are not so far away.

The bodice has a deep cross-over vest, one of the best means to conceal breadth. The softly falling jabots lend a pretty effect and contribute much toward its slenderness.

The yoke of the skirt is cut to the martest depth to narrow the hipline. The seaming, tapering as it does to a deep point, is decidedly length giving.

Printed crepe silk in midnight blue combines with plain matching blue crepe, with white embroidered mousseline in this lovely model.

Size 36 requires 3¾ yards 39-inch with ¾ yard 39-inch contrasting and ¼ yard 39-inch all-over lace.

Wreckage Is Found Near Newburyport

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., March 9. (CP)—Fragments of an unidentified vessel, including the pilot house, were discovered by Coastguards on the shore of the Merrimack river at the harbor entrance here this morning.

During the height of last night's gale, a craft, dimly discerened through the heavy rain was warned away from the shore by Coastguard lights but it was not believed she was in danger. Coastguardsmen said they thought the vessel was probably a fishing smack.

In consequence of the discovery to-day, crews began a search for bodies.

Dishes known as Chartreuse are particularly appropriate to serve during Lent.

• • • • • • •

The name is distinctly associated with the great religious order of Monks who originally came from a little town near Grenoble in the south of France.

• • • • • • •

It was not until after twice being expelled from that country and having widely dispersed that the group who went to Tarragona, Spain, began to make their various preparations, of which there are several.

• • • • • • •

Their formulas are secret.

• • • • • • •

And it is in connection with this word secret that culinary dishes are associated. The word "Chartreuse" when applied to solid foods signifies a preparation of several main ingredients one of which is hidden or secreted in the other.

• • • • • • •

It is said that sometimes monks would find themselves eating certain kinds of food not included in the prescribed diet of the day, because the forbidden food was completely concealed or secreted in another proper edible and therefre not known to them.

• • • • • • •

Here is a recipe for Chartreuse of Fish: The main ingredients are fish, preferably halibut, tomato, and cheese. The tomato and fish are in equal proportions.

• • • • • • •

1 Cup each of finely minced boiled halibut, and tomato pulp well drained and cut into small pieces; one small onion minced and sauted in one tablespoon of butter; 1 tablespoon flour, stirred into the onion and butter after the onion is slightly browned.

• • • • • • •

Blend with one cup of milk to make a smooth sauce and add one well beaten egg and one tablespoon grated cheese; add one tablespoon of minced parsley and minced sweet pepper; ¼ teaspoon salt; 3-8 teaspoon pepper and dash of mace.

• • • • • • •

Into the sauce put the fish and tomato and stir gently but sufficiently to make an even mixture. Line a buttered mold with boiled rice, ¾-inch thick all around.

• • • • • • •

Pour into the mixture and cover with rice until the mixture is completely hidden. Put the mold in a pan of boiling water and set in an oven with temperature 400 degree, for 40 minutes.

• • • • • • •

Remove, unmold and serve with tomato sauce or parsley-butter sauce, poured around the mold but not over it.

Return to fire and let it boil gently for five minutes. Then add banana butter and mix thoroughly. Have yolks well beaten and add to mixture, stirring rapidly to prevent uneven cooking of eggs. Cook until quite thick. Remove from fire and add vanilla. Cool and pour into baked pie crust. Cover with meringue. Put in moderate oven (350 F.) from eight to ten minutes until delicately browned. Postscript Enacted In Barrie's Play

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 10 (C.P.)—A postscript by James Matthew Barrie to his 29-year-old play, "The Admirable Crichton" was acted out last night after the revival of the play on Broadway by a cast in which were Fay Bainter and Walter Hampden.

After the final curtain, William Gillette, the veteran actor who was the first Crichton, read a letter written by Barrie in London on February 23, to the group which presented last night's revival here. In it he suggested several other ways in which the English play of class distinction might have been ended.

Sir James thus enabled all the characters whom he rescued from the desert island in Act Three to return to it at the final curtain.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

FEEDING THE BODY BY MEANS OF THE VEINS

There are times, when to keep the stomach and intestine at rest, really means life itself; an ulcer of the stomach or intestine, an operation where two ends of intestine have been joined together after a gangrenous portion has been removed; in obstruction of intestine and so forth. Yet the patient must have food must be nourished if life is to be preserved.

Therefore, it is interesting to know of a method of resting the digestive apparatus, and yet keeping the patient alive.

Dr. Geo. A. Hendon, Louisville, Ky., describes a method he has employed in a number of cases by means of which he not only supplies the food necessary to keep the patient alive, but supplies also any medicines that are needed.

The method is to open up the flesh and expose the vein above elbow or knee, and insert a metal tube to which is attached a rubber tubing which in turn is fed from a vacuum bottle situated at a height of about six feet.

This vacuum bottle contains the dextrose or sugar solution that is fed into the vein and the system is thus supplied with food without the use of the stomach, intestine and other parts of the digestive system. You can perhaps see some of the great advantages of this method.

"It is a simple, safe, and efficient method of supplying nutritious foods directly into the circulation in any quantity that may be desired. The flow can be regulated so that there is no shock—no reaction."

Aside from its ability to supply food, it ofiers the most logical means of overcoming infection in the blood. You can at once see how a medicine or drug that kills organisms can thus get directly into the blood and do its work without having to go all the way through the stomach and intestine, which not only means the loss of some of its strength, but means that much more delay.

Dr. Hendon mentions the different ailments in which this method has been of help in his hands, and in the hands of other physicians—shock after operations, ulcer and cancer of stomach and intestine, stoppage of bowel, abscess of the liver, obstinate vomiting, blood transfusions and so forth. Patients have been fed in this way for as long as sixteen days, which gave the digestive organs a chance to heal completely.

We must admit that this is a step forward in the treatment of these ailments.

West Toronto Earns Goal Lead Over Niagara Falls

QUEEN CITY WEST-END SEXTET OVERCOMES FALLS' JUNIORS' LEAD

Entering Last Period With Goal Deficit, Toronto Scores 5-4 Victory.

McKILLOP SCORES WINNER.

TORONTO, March 10.—Concentrating on a four-man attack in the third period, West Toronto managed to defeat Niagara Falls by 5 to 4 in the first of home-and-home games in the O.H.A. Junior finals at the Arena Gardens last night.

It required a furious rally in the final session for the West-Enders to gain the decision. They went into the period on the short end of a 3 to 2 count, and the youngsters from the Cataract City increased their margin to two goals about half way through the frame. Then Harvey McClelland, regular right wing of the West Toronto team, who was carried off the ice in the second period with a leg injury that has bothered him for two or three weeks, returned to the game, and in less than two minutes had put the locals back in the hunt with two clever tallies. "Bunny" McKillop provided the counter that gave the West Toronto team a one-goal margin to work on in the return game at the Falls. He blazed a low shot from left wing that caught the far corner of the net.

Third Period Best

The third period provided some of the best hockey and most of the excitement for the fair-sized crowd. In the first period the West-enders looked the better team, and deserved a one or two-goal margin on the play. The Falls, however, held them on even terms by netting two "soft" goals, Davis in the West Toronto net being guilty of some faulty goal-keeping on both shots.

In the second period, the Cataracts outplayed their opponents, and it appeared as though they would pile up a lead to take back home. But the Westenders surprised them, much as they did Oshawa and Owen Sound in the previous rounds. Flinging caution to the wind and pinning their hopes on a desperate offensive campaign, the Junctionites kept the puck constantly around their opponents' net. They provided many opportunities for the Falls by leaving a wide-open defense, but the visitors were kept so busy repelling the local's attacks that they had little time to make use of the chances offered. The West Toronto players had the speed and used it to good purpose in back-checking, while the very persistency of their sorties wore out their rivals, and enabled them to run in three goals in the last ten minutes, to get the verdict.

Although lacking the "class" that has been shown by junior finalists in other years, the two teams are so closely matched that the return game in the Falls to-morrow night should be as hard-fought and as close as was last night's. By their third-period showing the West Toronto players have just as good a chance as Niagara Falls to capture the silverware, even though the Cataracts will have the advantage of playing at home and before a friendly crowd.

LAKEFIELD COLTS BEAT GROVE TEAM

First Game of Juvenile Play-offs is Won By Village Team.

SCORE IS 7 TO 6.

LAKEFIELD, March 10.—(Examiner Correspondence) — The first game of the play-off in the juvenile hockey league between the Colts and Grove No. 1 took place on Saturday morning in the Lakefield rink. The ice was in good condition and the game was fast and very close. The final score was 7-6 in favor of the Colts. When the game opened the Colts were not in the best form being a bit inclined to be "edgy" but they settled down and played a very fine brand of hockey. The Grove was superior in team work while the individual play of the Colts was a little the best. Every boy did his best and the result was a game well worth while to see and clean as there were only three penalties throughout.

Carter of the Grove scored the first goal, which was evened by Percy Payne in a few minutes play. Blewett scored on a pass from Chittick in front of the Grove nets and with a tally of 3-1 the first period closed.

Strickland scored for the Grove and Blewett in a lone rush added one to the Colts' side of the score sheet. Percy Payne and Blewett each added another which rang up a good lead, but Dench on a pass from Carter got past the vigilant but dimunitive Loyst, who was on his toes every minute. The third period opened with a score of 5-3 for the Colts. Dench shortened the lead by a well placed counter but Percy Payne on a pass from Chappel got in a hard short. Then Carter, who was exceptionally good, scored twice, tying the score, and for several minutes it seemed as if it would end that way, but Chittick in the last few minutes of play landed in the winning goal and the Colts won by one in this, the first game of the play-off. Goals will count on the round.

The line-up was as follows:

BOSTON LEADS TORONTO LEAFS IN WIN COLUMN

Victory To-night Will Even Series With United States' Section Leaders.

CANADIENS AND HAWKS.

Teams of Evenly Matched Calibre Will Be Brought Together in N.H.L. Bill.

TORONTO, Ont., March 10 (By George Maguire, C.P. Sports Writer) —There are several hockey "naturals" on to-night's National League program of four games. The schedule has seldom brought together on the same night opponents so evenly matched and indications point to major league fans receiving a rare treat.

A feast of burning speed and artistic stickhandling will probably be served fans when Canadiens, winners of the northern group honors clash with Chicago Blackhawks. It will be the fourth and final meeting of the teams in the regular season.

In the first two matches the Flying Frenchmen were held scoreless. The Hawks won the first game 3 to 0 and the next tilt ended in a goalless stalemate. The Canadian group champions then trounced the American division second place holders, 4 to 2.

Canadiens are not worrying about a playoff berth, having clinched the top rung in their last match. The Chicagoans, on the other hand, need the brace of points to assure themselves of finishing second, behind the Boston Bruins. However, they will not find the Habitants easing up any in the terrific pace they have maintained in the last few weeks of the campaign.

Toronto at Boston

Toronto and Boston meet in the other international fixture which promises more than ordinary hockey. It will be the fourth and last meeting the teams during the current schedule. The Leafs are trailing in victories, 2 to 1, having lost their first clash with the Bruins, 3 to 2, and the second, 7 to 3. In the latter game the Leafs were minus two of their "Kid" stars. They won the third match, 4 to 2, and are determined to square the series by winning to-night.

Detroit and Rangers renew their dispute for third place in the United States section, at New York. The Gothamites are leading the Falcons by five points, but having played two more games than the Detroiters, need a win to keep in the van. Should the Falcons win they will be in a favorable position to nose out Lester Patrick's Blue Shirts.

The teams have met on five previous occasions with honors divided, the Falcons won two games by shutouts and the Rangers duplicated their performance. The other tilt ended in a tie.

It will be a battle of tail-enders at Ottawa, where the Senators entertain the Philadelphia Quakers.

The results of the other three games between these teams prove the Senators do not find the southern division cellar occupants as bad to beat as some of the stronger clubs. The Ottawans have defeated the Quakers twice and tied them once.

SHORE'S UNIQUE RECORD

Even the defence men in hockey sometimes set up new records for scoring. When Eddie Shore, whirlwind defence man of Art Ross's Boston Bruins were facing the Philadelphia Quakers he set up a new record for scoring among defence men for this season. It was the first time that a defence man has performed the "hat trick" this season. In the forward lines triple scoring points have been quite frequent, but never from one of the boys on the defence. In fact on two occasions forwards this year have rung four goals in one game, Eddie Goodfellow of the Detroit Falcons against the Maple Leafs on Christmas Day when the Toronto outfit was trimmed to the tune of 10-1 and Ingram of the Chicago Hawks against the Philadelphia Quakers on New Year's night when the winners had also a field day and scored ten goals. The following men have scored three goals in one game: Bill Cook of the New York Rangers who has performed the "hat trick" twice this season, Carson and Himes of the "Amerks," Tommy Cook of Chicago, Bun Cook of the Rangers, Ingram of the Hawks and "Dit" Clapper of Boston Bruins.

HOARDS WINNERS IN EAST SEYMOUR

WELL-BALANCED TEAM.

BURNBRAE, March 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Scoring the only goal of the game in the dying minutes of the second overtime period, Ken Oddie, star centre player of the Hoard's hockey team, won for his club the much coveted silverware, emblematic of the amateur championship of Rawdon and East Seymour. Glen Ross was the losing team and met their first and only defeat at the hands of the new league champions. Glen Ross only a week previous to the encounter defeated Hoard's 2 goals to 0 to win first place, this incidentally being Hoard's first loss. Hoard's then proceeded to eliminate Menie in overtime on Monday last, and went right on to defeat the Glen team in the best battle of the season.

Superior substitute strength was the apparent reason for Hoard's success, two complete forward lines being used. The game was comparatively clean, Referee Jack Ackers keeping things well in hand. Every man gave his best and although local fans were pleased to see the cup come in this direction, credit is due Glen Ross for the splendid record they have set up.

The line ups:

Glen Ross—Goal, Lonis; defence, Brown and L. Fraser; centre, G. Fraser; wings, Joblin and A. Fraser; subs, Herns, Armstrong.

Hoard's—Goal, Roy Oddie; defence, Jeffs and Hume; centre, Ken Oddie; wings, Hewitt and Hobbs; subs, Rimington, Jones, Rennie, Heagle.

The majority of the Hoard's champions are young players who have been developed on the open air rink at the railway hamlet. Roy Oddie, the regular goalie, is the infant in years, but not in performance. He also is the regular custodian for Campbellford High school team and is destined to make a name for himself in his chosen position. Charles Hoard, manager and veteran goalie, subbed most efficiently in two of the games, so the team has been fortunate in this regard.

Will Jeffs, husky young defence player, is a graduate of the Hoard's home training school in hockey ability. He has speed and weight and teamed well with Will Hume, who was persuaded to don the blades about the middle of the season and has alternated in the right defence position with Frank Heagle. Ken Oddie, elder brother of Roy, has been the regular centre man and leading scorer of the team. He also learned his hockey in Hoard's but received some valuable training in Campbellford high school. He is in line for Junior O.H.A. next season. Jones, his understudy at centre, is a very fast skater and persistent backchecker, a hard man to get away from. Hewitt, regular left wing, is the player drawn from Stirling and a decided attribute to the team. He is very fast and packs a hard shot. Rimington, who subs in this position, is a big rugged player, a splendid check and a tireless skater. Hobbs at right wing is a former Menie man and is perhaps the strongest marksman on the team from long range, but his running mates, Oddie and Hewitt, have been getting all the goals this season from close in. Oscar Rannie, who subs at right wing, is a defense player by nature, but has adapted himself wonderfully to the forward line and is a constant threat. The secondary forward line, while lacking the scoring punch of the regulars are undoubtedly superior in backchecking and provide the necessary wearing down tactics to win against a short-handed team. Hoard's in the seven league games won five, tied one and lost one. In no game did they score more than three goals, winning three games by the 1 to 0 score and in no game has the opposition scored more than two goals. Four of the seven games played saw the Hoard's goalie maintain a perfect average, a record to be proud of in any amateur league.

Regina Vics Take Lead At Saskatoon

— REGINA, Sask., March 10 (C. P.). — "Puss" Traub's Regina Vics took the upper hand in the home-and-home series for the Saskatchewan hockey title last night when they defeated Saskatoon Quakers, 1930 champions, by 2 to 0 in the first tilt. The second game will be played at Saskatoon on Wednesday.

Both Regina goals were tallied in the second session when Bill Gilhooley and Norm Malloy beat "Cooney" Wood in the Quaker net. The shutout victory for Goalie Johnny Clark was his 13th in 28 games this season.

MIC MACS LOSE TO TIGERS 3-0 IN FINAL TILT

Hamilton Winners on Round 5-3 —Marsh, Hamilton Goalie, is Outstanding.

CADETS HOLD GOAL LEAD.

Chatham Maroons Beaten at Home by R.M.C. For 2 to 1 Count.

HAMILTON, Ont., March 10. — Hamilton Tigers, O.H.A. senior champions, advanced last night when they defeated Windsor Mic Macs by 3 to 0, but on the night's play the locals were hardly entitled to that margin, and it was only sensational work on the part of "Hawse" Marsh and the "greenness" of the invading forwards when inside the local defence that gave Hamilton such advantage. The inviding forces showed more than 5,000 fans more speed than they have witnessed in any game this season, so much, in fact, that it enabled them to work inside on Marsh often. But they lacked finish and many a scoring chance went to waste when their shots were wide of their mark.

CADETS HOLD LEAD.

CHATHAM, March 10. — In a keenly contested encounter which seemed to be anybody's game from start to finish, Royal Military College of Kingston took from the Chatham Maroons the first of the finals for the O.H.A. Intermediate championship last night, 2-1. Thus the Cadets enter the game to-night in Kingston with a one-goal lead.

The game last night was one of the fastest and most exciting seen at the local Arena this season. One of the most noticeable features was the scarcity of penalties. Only three players were sent to the box. These came in the latter half of the third period, Kennedy being penalized twice and Curren once.

Both teams started playing strong defensive hockey. In the other play-offs Chatham had won by wearing down their opponents, with both wings checking closely, and last night Kingston played Maroons at their own game. They checked hard and waited for the "breaks." The play was close throughout, with Chatham probably having the advantage in the first part of the first period and the last of the third. The second period was an even break, as far as the play was concerned.

New Ball Will Be Help To Veterans

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 10 (C.P.)—In the opinion of Herb Pennock, veteran left hander of the New York Yankees, the new baseball will help veteran pitchers with control and hurt mediocre batsmen. On the other hand, pitchers who are not so strong on control will have plenty of trouble with the ball, Pennock thinks, while great batsmen like Babe Ruth and Al Simmons, will continue to hit it far and often.

Pennock didn't mention himself, but he named a few veteran curve-ball pitchers who he thought would benefit, listing among others, George Uhle and Earl Whitehill.

T.V.L. FINAL ON WEDNESDAY EVE

Crucial Fixture Scheduled For Monday Night Called on Account of Storm.

PLAYERS IN FINE SHAPE.

The Madoc and Stirling teams have until to-morrow night to prepare for the final battle for the Trent Valley League championship. The crucial fixture was scheduled for last night in Belleville, but the big storm stepped in to block traffic, causing the game to be shifted to to-morrow night.

Reports form headquarters of both clubs state that every player is in fine fettle for the big clash. Excitement throughout the district is at fever pitch with Stirling reigning as slight favorites, although many would like to see Madoc topple Bill Whitty's crew.

The delay is merely adding to the tension and record is assured when the teams take the ice to-morrow night.

LEAFS QUALIFY FOR PLAY-OFFS

Will Meet Niagara Falls on March 11 in First Game of Ontario League Series.

TRIPLE TIE FOR 4TH PLACE.

TORONTO, Ont., March 10.—(CP) —Canada's youngest professional loop —the Ontario league—closed its regular schedule last night and today preparations are underway for the championship play-offs.

Guelph Maple Leafs clinched the top rung by defeating Stratford Nationals, 8 to 6, and qualified to meet the second place Niagara Falls squad on March 11 in the first match of the play-offs. The Cataracts assured themselves of finishing second when they held Oshawa Pats to a one-all tie last night.

Four teams will participate in the play-offs but the tentative schedule arranged for the third and fourth teams has been upset by Kitchener Silverwoods who trounced Galt 4 to 2, thereby creating a triple tie for fourth position with Galt and Oshawa.

These three teams will now have to meet in "sudden-death" games to decide who will clash with Stratford, the third place team.

The final standing follows:

	P	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Guelph	30	16	12	2	107	86	34
Niagara F's	30	14	12	4	82	66	32

Would See Germany Joint Naval Accord

LYON, France, March 10 (A.P.)—Regret that Germany did not participate in the naval accord among Great Britain, France and Italy was expressed here last night by former Premier Herriot in an address to maimed war veterans.

"It is wrong to believe," he said, "that we seek peace always with the treaty of Versailles in our hand. Do not forget the lesson of history—after Tilsitt, which closely limited armaments, Prussia was able to hide her force. We will achieve peace and security only when Germany is linked to a general system of disarmament."

CLUBMEN BEATS EAST CITY TEAM ON ROUND 4 TO 3

Failure to Combine Effectively Proves Downfall of Hardware Huskies.

WINNERS HOLD EDGE.

Stars Now Meet Johnson Seahorses for City League Championship.

Stars eliminated Choates from the City League running last night at the Brock street rink by the score 1-0, and will play off with the Seahorses for the championship. The win last night gave Stars the round 4-3, as the first playdown game was a 3-all draw.

The game was staged on fast ice before a small number of fans and it was just as close as the score indicates. The Hardware Huskies were somewhat off-color and failed to combine effectively. The winners hand an edge nearly all the way, playing more aggressive hockey and teaming up well.

Coming out for the first, the Stars took the offensive right away and kept Anthony worried with several wicked thrusts. Not much speed was shown until near the end. Both outfits were travelling faster in the middle session and play was more even. Choates missed half a dozen good countering chances through poor work around the net. Halfway through the frame, Ellis took the rubber down fast and passed to G. Jay at the defense who bulged the hemp for the only marker. Stars were combining to better advantage at this time though Choates were speeding up and trying hard. The last chapter found Choates setting a fast and furious pace but Stars kept right with them. The East City boys missed several good chances in this go, and they were threatening often the last part of the period.

Both Goalies Good

Both goalies did some classy net-minding with Anthony having more to stop. Choates forwards, both lines, tried hard to balance the count and the defense came down fast on lone rushes. But the team as a whole were not working up to their usual form. G. Jay, Frost and Young all broke fast and backchecked hard for the Stars, while the alternates did nothing to weaken the line when they were on. Ellis and Wately both looked good when they got hold of the rubber. Each outfit drew three penalties. The teams:

HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS IN THE SPORTS WORLD

BOOSTS AND KNOCKS For EVERYONE

Choate's Hardware didn't look their best in last night's affair. They couldn't seem to get going most of the time. Not only did they miss numerous scoring chances, but they had no luck at all. The Stars had it over them like a tent the first period, and held a slight edge the other two as well.

• • • • • • •

Jim Ellis doesn't work his head off all the time. But he can sure travel when he wants to. And he always seems to figure in the scoring. It was his pass to George Jay last night that put the Choates outfit out of the picture.

The Norwood-Lakefield play-off game which was to have been played in Norwood last night is called for tomorrow night. The roads should be passable by then. The return game in Lakefield will be played Friday night. This is for the East Peterborough League championship.

Madoc and Stirling will play off for the Trent Valley League championship in Belleville on Wednesday night. A host of fans are hoping the winners of these two leagues will meet in a post-season series.

Miniature golf fans will have a vacation of six or eight weeks now, as the Putt-a-While Golf Club has closed until about the first of May, when it will re-open out doors. The first half of the winter found the indoor course popular, but lately the putting-fiends have sort of eased off. Resting up for the summer's invasion, probably.

Boxing should hold a bigger place in the spotlight now that hockey has faded from the picture. A few students of the sour science are taking lessons at the "Y," but a large number are learning how to handle their dukes over at the Armouries twice a week. Gord Garwood is the instructor and he expects a bigger turnout from now on. Boxing tournaments may be arranged in a month or so, and possibly some of the Toronto boxers may be invited down.

• • • • • • •

The Armouries also is the only place in town where softball may be seen at present. One or two games every Tuesday night in the Garrison Softball League are attracting quite a few spectators. As the boys have been at it nearly two months now, some snappy play is witnessed.

News from the baseball big league camps begins drifting up from the south. A large crop of rookies are threatening the positions of many established ball tossers. And it is more than probable that certain veterans will be picking up slivers off the bench this summer, while promising recruits will be in there taking a vicious cut at the old apple. On the other hand, some of the ancient pitchers should return in triumph with the advent of the deadened baseball. Knuckle-ball and spitball artists still able to totter to the mound hope to hypnotize youthful fence-busters who have only a nodding acquaintance with sharp-breaking pitches. Time will tell.

An American sports writer gleefully tells of a certain old-time American League umpire who wears glasses away from the diamond. This fact he carefully hides from players and newspapermen, not wishing to give them more ammunition for their razzing quips. He believes that an umpire need not have perfect eyesight for his job, so much as a quick mind and good judgment. So henceforth, indignant fans and players should not yell, "You're blind!" No, they should admonish him thusly, "You're rather slow-witted" or "You're judgement is at fault!" and he is sure to feel indescribably small.

AUREL JOLIAT ONE OF CLEVEREST STICKHANDLERS IN PRO. HOCKEY

Tricky Little Offensive Player and Smart Checking Centre Ice Man, Flashy Canadien Has Played on Two Stanley Cup Championship Teams.

FOURTH IN SCORING HONORS IN CANADIAN GROUP; "DAVID OF N.H.L." UNAFRAID OF BEST OF THEM

MONTREAL, Que., Mar. 10.—(By the Canadian Press)—Aurel Joliat, chosen by 22 out of 37 sports editors of National hockey league cities for left-wing on a mythical all-star team, and by one for the centre berth, is the "mighty atom" of Montreal Canadiens, Canadian group leaders and holders of the Stanley cup, emblematic of the world's professional title. A tricky little offensive player, and a smart checking centre ice defence man, Joliat is one of the cleverest stickhandlers hockey has ever seen.

Weighing only 135 pounds and about 5 feet 7 inches in height, Joliat's slim, wiry figure is ever in the thick of the play. His stick beats a brisk tattoo on the ice as he compared with the majority of big league players. Holiat's size and weight have not handicapped "Quette," as French-Canadian fans know him. He skates fast and can turn on a dime, stopping with disconcerting suddenness in the midst of a rush so that his pursuers swing past him as he shifts, leaving him clear to continue his bewildering, weaving dash in another direction.

The modern "David of the N.H.L." is not afraid of anybody, and has even upset such hockey goliaths as Big Ching Johnson, a massive Ranger defenceman with a well-timed body check. He plays with a long-handled stick with scarcely any bend in it, enabling him to carry the pack far in front of him with better control. Remarkably quick on his feet Joliat hurdles the sticks of opposing defencemen with grace and agility, and has scored many a goal with a quick snap shot after stealing the puck off the stick of an opposing player. He often stickhandles his way around the goalkeepers to push the puck into the net.

Fourth In Honors.

Joliat is fourth in the scoring honors of the Canadian group with 13 goals and 19 assists, most of the latter passes going to Howie Morenz, flashy Canadian centre, another member of the mythical all-star sextette, who converted them.

Born in Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 9, 1901, Joliat is 29 years old. He played as an amateur with Ottawa Aberdeens in 1915, and then with the Ottawa New Edinburghs 1917-18 and Iroquois Falls, of the northern Ontario Hockey Association, in 1919. After a brief period with the Saskatoon team of the Western Canada League he signed up with Canadiens in 1921, being a regular and consistent star ever since, and playing on the world's championship teams of 1924 and 1930. He is married.

City Loop Play-Offs Start Thursday Night

The first game of the City League playoffs is scheduled for Thursday night at seven o'clock at the Brock Street rink. Seahorses and Stars will clash in the first of the home and home games, goals to count, for the City League championship and the Tully Trophy. The second and final game will probably be played Thursday or Friday.

The undefeated Johnson Seahorses have been off the ice nearly two weeks and are likely to find the speedy Stars in better shape owing to their hard series with Choates, just finished. At any rate, there is no hesitation in predicting a fast, thrilling battle from start to finish. The ice is in great condition, and both outfits are confident they will obtain a sufficient lead in the first contest to assure them of being the new city champs.

Bowling Alley Gossip

By Pin Boy

Three decisive shut-outs were registered last week in the Ladies' City League, when the West Ends, Columbians, and Metropolitans, Quakers and Brinton Carpet. The West Ends had quite an edge on the Metropolitans who with the exception of S. Holland were away below form. O. Rightmeyer with 232-531 and A. Simpson 186-510 were the heavy scorers for the winners. The Quaker Oats girls wern't exactly in the fight at any time with the Columbians who started off fast and were never headed. D. Prest led the winners with 184-478 while L. Campbell and B. Coursey ran a close race for second high with 213-469 and 177-467 respectively. Nashua Paper received plenty of opposition from the Brinton girls in the first two games which they won by the close margins of 36 and 2 pins. The paper makers made sure of every point in the third game when the Brintons slumped. The winners collected 2,530 pins against the Carpet makers 2,201. M. Hatcher with 194-563 and L. Lockhart with 188-538 led the parade for the Nashua while J. Firth was outstanding for the losers bowling 317-551.

Ottawa City Teams Battle Through 170 Minutes of Scoreless Hockey To Set Mark

OTTAWA, Ont., Mar. 10.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Tottering on their skates, two teams of utterly exhausted hockey players crawled off the auditorium ice here last night after 170 minutes of scoreless hockey with the championship of the Senior City Hockey League still undecided but with a probable record for goaless play tucked away.

After playing 80 minutes Saturday without a score, Rideaus and Shamrocks took the ice last night determined to fight to a finish. Ninety minutes more of furious battling had them hanging on the boards completely played out. Although there is not an open ice date before Thursday, when the district finals are scheduled, the players refused to continue and league officials agreed.

Ice Boat Is Propelled By Rocket; Syracuse Student Makes First Run

SYRACUSE, N.Y., March 10.—A silvery little craft that roared and spat fire leaped 50 feet in two-fifths of a second over the mushy ice of Oneida Lake this afternoon, and Harry W. Bull, 21-year-old Syracuse University student, crouched in its tiny cockpit between twin streams of flame, had made the first rocket ice boat run on record.

It was a short run, and a breathtaking one which stopped as the plane-shaped little sled, leaping ahead with bullet speed, swerved from a narrow, shoveled course and plowed into snow that clogged its runners and swung it around like a pin-wheel.

A gasping crowd of 500 scattered pell mell as the rocket sled, with flames and smoke gushing from five exploded rockets in nether side, whirled dizzily about and pointed straight back at the audience.

Young Bill sat coolly in the cockpit and held a steady hand on the switch which was set to touch off the remaining 28 rockets in swift succession.

The smoke cleared and calm was restored in a few seconds.

Two other tests ended as abruptly and in the same fashion as the first one. But spectators saw and the grinding news reel cameras recorded that the rocket propelled boat was capable not only of moving but moving with dazzling speed.

If Bull had had the advance of clean ice and a sufficient expanse cleared of obstacles he could have fired off his full equipment of rockets in quick order on the first test as he had intended to do and traveled at least 1,500 feet, he and his university associates estimated.

AMERICAN HORSES ENTER IN THIS YEAR'S NATIONAL

Sanford's Sandy Hook, Bright's Boy and Mount Etna Along With Whitney's Easter Hero and Sir Lindsay Listed to Run.

SPECIAL ACCOMMODATIONS FOR RACE FANS.

The Grand National, the world's greatest steeplechase, will take place this year on Friday, March 27. It will be run as usual over the famous course at Aintree, which is only three miles from the heart of Liverpool. Arrangements have been made by which visitors will be able to get to the racecourse and back in comfort from any part of England.

Among the 85 entries for the Grand National are a large number of American horses, including "Laddie" Sanford's Sandy Hook, Bright's Boy, and Mount Etna and J. H. Whitney's Easter Hero and Sir Lindsay, who finished third last year. (The latter two are also entered for the Gold Cup at Cheltenham.) An interesting entry is the Hungarian gelding Gyi Lovanni owned by Capt. R. Popler, an officer in the Czecho-Slovakian army. From Ireland come seven fine 'chasers, including Georginatown, who has won her last twelve races.

World-travellers who arrive at Liverpool by sea before the race can take a taxi and be on the course in a few minutes. They can stay either in Liverpool or in the adjacent seaside town of Southport, and if they should land some days before the great race it is as well to remember that the race meeting, of which the Grand National is the peak of excitement, actually begins on March 26.

Innumerable special trains are run from London and from other parts of the country for the Grand National. Although Liverpool is 200 miles from the Metropolis it is possible to leave London at 9 a.m. or thereabouts, lunch in comfort on the train, have time to walk about the course and examine the really awe-inspiring jumps, and then obtain a magnificent view of the race from the stands or even from the railway embankment itself and the top of the train; and finally return to London directly after the race in time for dinner. No matter in what part of the country a visitor is staying he will find himself within reach of one of these Grand National specials.

Special services of air-liners are also run from the London terminal aerodromes to a temporary aerodrome adjoining the racecourse. Many racing enthusiasts witness the opening of the flat racing season on March 25 with the classic Lincolnshire Handicap on the course hard by the old cathedral city of Lincoln and then move on to Liverpool for the Grand National meeting.

SARAZEN-FARRELL IN SEMI-FINALS

Former Tee Champion Seeking Re-ascension to Golf Throne.

MIAMI, Fla., March 10.—(By the Canadian Press)—Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, seeking re-ascension to the golfing throne they lost in 1930, met the challenge of Tony Manero and Denny Shute to-day in semi-finals of the $5,000 international four ball matches.

At the other end of the bracket, Walter Hagen and Horton Smith were matched with Willie MacFarlane and Whiffy Cox, withd opesters favoring the former pair.

Gene and Johnny pulled themselves out of a hole in their quarter finals match, saving the day with a 1 up score for 36 holes after they stood four down at 18 holes to John Kinder and Jack Thompson.

Manero and Shute slid under the wire with a 2 and 1 count to eliminate the defending champions, Clarence Gamber and Cyril Walker.

MacFarlane and Cox advanced by their defeat of Charley Guest and George Christ, 4 up and 3 to go.

The debonair Hagen and his youthful partner took Wild Bill Mehlhorn and Frank Walsh to the clubhouse at the short end of a 3 and 2 score without exertion on the part of the winning pair.

GEODETIC FLYING OPERATIONS

Canadian aeroplanes flew almost five hundred hours in connection with the transportation requirements of the various parties of the Geodetic Survey of Canada, Department of the Interior, in northern Quebec during the field season of 1930. At times as many as five separate parties were altogether dependent on the aeroplanes for the transportation of food and other necessary supplies. The same detachment also flew seventy-five hours on photographic work.

GREAT THRONG GREETS GANDHI AT HOME TOWN

Mahatma Borne Aloft in Followers' Arms to Escape Being Crushed.

ATTENDED BY MISS SLADE.

AHMADABAD, India, March 10 (C.P.). — After a year's absence, Mahatma Gandhi was back in his own home town to-day, a conquering hero.

Thousands turned out at every wayside station yesterday as the train bearing the Nationalist leader sped from New Delhi, where Gandhi last week won from Viceroy Lord Irwin concessions which Indians largely consider represent a victory over the British Government.

Climaxing the day of ovations, the largest crowd of all bet the Mahatma at the railroad station upon his arrival here. His aides and local Nationalist Volunteers had to fight their way through the mass of frenzied, gesticulating Indians bent upon paying homage.

Nearly Crushed

The monster crowd surged toward the tiny 63 year-old sage, and for a time it was feared he would be crushed to death. He was rescued by Nationalist volunteers who bore him aloft through the human sea and placed him in an automobile.

Gandhi, who was observing his weekly day of silence, made no answer to the ovations, but tears rolled down his cheeks as at theupraised hand thousands knelt, those nearest him crawling forward to kiss the hem of his homespun garments.

Scoring the luxuries of first class travel, Gandhi, attended by the ever faithful Miss Madeline Slade, daughter of a British Admiral, rode here in a dilapidated third class coach. When he left the coach he had slung over his shoulder a mattress and tin utensils which he has used for preparation of his food.

It was just a year ago that Gandhi left Ahmadabad to begin his memorable march to the sea to gather salt in defiance of British law. He vowed at that time not to return until India had won independence from Great Britain. Indians largely regarded the concessions granted by the Viceroy to be a long step in this direction.

Falling Stove Pipes Save Brockville Man

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Mar. 10.—His escape cut off by smoke that filled the lower portion of the house, Willard Weermark, Merrickville, had to leap from an upper balcony at two o'clock this morning when, awakened by the noise of falling stove pipes, he discovered the house to be filled with flames. The building, a two storey structure, situated on the main street of the village and owned by Charles Giffin, Frankville, was almost completely destroyed, but the volunteer brigade prevented spread of the fire to an adjoining building occupied by the Holiness Movement as a meeting place.

SOVIET LUMBER HEADED FOR U.S.

Shipment Sent to Provide Test Case of Treasury Department Ruling.

FACES EMBARGO.

MOSCOW, March 10 (C.P.).—The steamer Anversile sailed from Leningrad on Friday for New York, loaded with lumber for the Amtorg Trading Corporation, Soviet trade organization in the United States.

On February 10 Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the United States Treasury, placed an embargo on Russian lumber and wood pulp from the four districts of the White Sea of Northern Russia, holding that convict labor is used in their production.

Advices from Russia thereafter said that the Soviet Government, through the lumber trust, would send a shipment of lumber to the United States to provide a test case of the Treasury Department ruling.

Secretary Mellon's finding places the burden of proof on the importer to show that goods are not produced by convict labor. To land the cargo in the United States, the Amtorg would have to prove that only free labor entered into production, loading, or transportation.

2,000 SEEK WORK AS MILL OPENS

Employees Disregard Strike Order Called for Date of Re-opening.

WAGES ARE CUT.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 10. —(C.P.)—Two thousand workers clamored for employment as the gates of No. 2 cotton mill of the American Printing Company re-opened to-day. The mill re-opened under a readjusted wage scale, which provided an approximate reduction of 10 per cent. in the wages of the mill hands.

Last week, when the announcement of reopening was made, members of the Textile Council ordered a "general strike." The strike order was based on the wage reduction and was scheduled to start this morning at the reopening of the mill.

As the gates swung open, however, a crowd of 2,000 clamored for work. Mill employers were forced to turn away hundreds for whom they had no employment. Enough were taken on to run the machinery on a full time basis and preference was given to the former employees.

Police, stationed at the mill gates to prevent any disturbance, spent their time keeping the hands seeking work in line and directing traffic.

The strikers announced they would hold a meeting at 10 a.m.

A BEDTIME STORY

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LAUGHING FOX.

Bad Baby Bunty ran off into the woods, twiddling her ears and twaddling her funny little tail. If this is the first time you ever knew that Baby Bunty, the cute little orphan rabbit was bad, I must tell you how it happened.

One day Jingle and Jangle, the twin rabbit girls, quarreled in the hollow stump bungalow about an ear ribbon. They pulled the cloth and all the dishes off the table and poor Uncle Wiggily felt so unhappy about it that he ran off to the woods. In the woods the rabbit gentleman met a jolly old dog who gave him a tickle stick.

When Baby Bunty and the other rabbit boys and girls came home from school and found Uncle Wiggily was still away, wandering in the woods, Baby Bunty said she was going to look for him.

Nurse Jane begged Baby Bunty not to do this, but the little orphan rabbit said:

"I'm going to be bad and run away to find Uncle Wiggily!"

So that's how Bunty started to be bad and why she ran away. Of course I suppose she really wasn't very bad, for she loved Uncle Wiggily a great deal. She wanted to find him.

So out he popped.

"Uncle Wiggily! Uncle Wiggily!" called Baby Bunty, as she reached the woods and wandered around, looking for the old rabbit gentleman.

There was no answer.

"Uncle Wiggily! Uncle Wiggily!" called Baby Bunty again. "Where are you?"

There was no answer.

"I know what I'll do," said the little orphan child. "I'll speak some baby talk and maybe, if he hears me, he'll answer then."

You see Baby Bunty thought maybe Uncle Wiggily was hiding in the bushes near her and the reason he didn't answer when she called was because he was still felling unhappy about the quarrel between Jingle and Jangle.

"But if he is anywhere around here," said Baby Bunty to herself, "and if he hears me speak baby talk, as he calls it, he'll hop right out and make me stop. So here goes for some baby talk."

That was another bad thing for Baby Bunty to do. First she was bad in running away when Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy told her not to. And second she was bad (just a little bit, you know) in using baby talk which Uncle Wiggily had kindly asked her not to do. So Bunty called:

"Unkie Wig! Unkie Wig! Where is oo?"

If that isn't baby talk please tell me what is? Of course Bunty was allowed to say, "Unkie Wig". That part was all right. Uncle Wiggily didn't mind being called "Unkie Wig" by the little orphan. But those two words were all the baby talk Bunty was allowed.

"I'll say some more, too!" she exclaimed when Mr. Longears did not answer her third call. "Ho, Unkie Wig! Unkie Wig! Tum an det ur ittle durl!"

My, such a lot of baby talk! Bunty thought surely Uncle Wiggily, if he heart that, would come popping out of the bushes to stop her. And that's just what happened. Mr. Longears felt so sad that he had made up his mind not to go back to his hollow stump bungalow until dark. He heard Bunty when she called him the first time, but he would not answer. But when she used too much baby talk he just couldn't sit there in the bushes and listen. So out he popped, saying:

"Bunty! Please! No more baby talk! Stop it!"

"Oh, Unkie Wig!" cried the little orphan rabbit when she saw him. "At last I have found you! I am so glad! Please come back with me and Jangle and Jingle will never be bad any more!"

"All right," said Bunty. "All right—Unkie Wig!" Of course she was allowed to say that much.

So Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty started home through the woods, the rabbit gentleman carrying the tickle stick the jolly dog had given him. And all of a sudden out from the bushes popped the Fox.

"Oh, the Fox is going to bit us!" cried Baby Bunty.

"I think not," said Mr. Longears. So he pointed the tickle stick at the Fox and right away that queer chap began to laugh.

"Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! Tee hee! Tee hee! Ho! Ho!" laughed the Fox and he laughed so hard he couldn't get his mouth closed to bite and while the Fox was still laughing Baby Bunty and Uncle Wiggily ran safely along toward the hollow stump bungalow.

Lakefield Audience Is Given Real Treat

LAKEFIELD, March 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The Kiwanis Club of Peterborough brought a real treat to the village on Friday night with their concert part, which put with their concert party, which put under the auspices of the Lakefield Agricultural Society. The audience was unfortunately not up to expectations but those who were there were unanimous in their praises of the entire program. The Cheerio Entertainers with their harmonica band, the black face skits, the singing of songs which everyone knows and loves and the Lauder songs of Mr. Thompson and the readings of Miss Payton, all were good and formed part of a first class program.

The kindly thought of "helping out" another society was deeply appreciated and is itself a striking example of the value of a service club not only to the town or city where it is located but also to the community at large.

Albert Darling, president of the Agricultural Society was chairman and John I. Allen, president of the Kiwanis Club, made a few introductory remarks.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

To Neutralize Acidity and Fermentation. Prevents Indigestion, Sour Gassy Stomach

People who suffer from indigestion usually have tried pepsin, charcoal, soda and various digestive aids and got little more than slight temporary relief—sometimes not even that.

But before giving up to chronic dypepsia, just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but pure Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from any druggist in either powder or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or four tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment, and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You can enjoy your meals without fear of indigestion.

W.M.S. MEETING AT PARSONAGE

United Church Pastor Gives Interesting Story on Allocation Window.

ORGANIZE GROUPS.

WARSAW, March 10 (Examiner Correspondence) — Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Wilkinson opened the parsonage on Thursday afternoon to the W.M.S. of the United Church. After the usual routine opening excercises, including the scripture lesson of Christ healing the blind man, the roll call was answered by a verse with a promise. A prayer of thanksgiving was read in unison. Rev. J. W. Wilkinson then told a story built in a picture called the allocation window.

The group lists were distributed. New convenors for all, and the groups wholly changed. The group convenors are: A—Mrs. ——; B—Mrs. W. Anderson; C—Mrs. T. Cooper; D—Mrs. Wilkinson. Mrs. O. B. McIlvena gave a piano selection.

Word was given out that Dr. Margaret MacKellar, whose life history was read last Thursday, would speak in the United Church, Warsaw, on Friday afternoon, March the twentieth. It is a great privilege to have one of Dr. MacKellar's standing come to us, an opportunity which seldom comes.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames David Taylor, W. Anderson, J. A. Sargent, Rufus Payne, William Cooper and Arthur Edwards.

A letter sent by the late Mrs. Plunkett asking for signatures to a petition to disassociate prohibition from politics, and to require the teaching of scientific temperance in all public and high schools was read. It was voted upon, and the resolution adopted. Signatures of all but two of the ladies present were obtained.

U.S. Will Not Attend Wheat Parley At Rome

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 10. — Samuel R. McKelvie, grain member of the Farm Board, said to-day the United States would not participate in the International Conference on Wheat Limitation at Rome, March 26.

"The Board feels," he said, "it should not lead domestic growers to believe that it could compete in world markets. The Board's program embraces a plan of putting production on a domestic basis first."

Then Mrs. Bill had an inspiration. "How about telephoning? It will solve everything!" They did . . . and matters were easily settled by Long Distance. It ended the worry.

Salmon Packing Firm Continues Advertising

VANCOUVER, March 10.—Definite assurance that the "Clover Leaf" salmon advertising campaign, which commenced on January 13, will be carried on during the ensuing months of 1931, is given in a statement issued here by Mr. Richard J. Gosse, Managing Director, British Columbia Packers, Limited.

The "Clover Leaf" salmon advertising has appeared in newspapers of Canada during the months of January and February. Mr. Gosse's announcement means that it will be continued, and probably be enlarged, after the first half of this year.

"Response to our advertising at the end of the first two months justified our faith in this arm of merchandising and the marketable surplus of Canadian salmon has been greatly reduced," states Mr. Gosse.

J. J. DUFFUS LIMITED CELEBRATES 20TH ANNIVERSARY WITH BANQUET

SERVICE IS STRESSED.

From thirty to forty employees of the J. J. Duffus, Limited, gathered at the Empress Hotel last evening, as guests of Mr. Duffus and in honor of the twentieth anniversary of his entry into the automobile business. "We are celebrating a twentieth anniversary," said Mr. Duffus, "but that is not all. The prime reason for this get-together is to seriously discuss from all angles, how we can best improve our service, so that it will result in super-satisfaction for our large and increasing number of highly appreciative customers."

He contended that the automobile is a national necessity, as definitely a part of the international transportation system as the roads or ships. It is the unit of personal transportation.

The automobile has come far along the road of universal use. From now on it must be sold, not as novelties are sold, but as a commodity. Nothing but the thorough-going methods that have made great merchants successful in other lines can hereafter keep the automobile man off the rocks. Forethought and fair-dealing are still the only permanent foundations for any business structure. Long headed management plus honesty will bring average results.

Mr. Duffus proceeded to stress the importance of the service department in the modern automobile business, added that heavy overhauls are a thing of the past. Owners of automobiles and trucks aim to keep them in fine running condition, following the policy of the great railroads where locomotives are inspected and reconditioned every three hundred miles.

Eighty per cent of the car sales, he thought, are influenced or determined by service. The service manager's greatest responsibility is that of creating confidence.

In conclusion, he asked that the staff bear these principles in mind, which he is convinced will result in conditions mutually satisfactory to the customers, the firm, and the various institutions with whom business is done. Longfellow's counsel was never more needed than it is today:—

Look not mournfully into the past,
It comes not back again,
Wisely improve the present; it is thine.
Go forth to meet the shadowy future
Without fear, and with a manly heart.

Mr. "Luke" Peacock, newly appointed Service Manager, gave a comprehensive resume of the various rules and regulations which would be gradually put into effect, explaining the reason and going into detail in connection with the various forms used in the Service Department to avoid mistakes so as to give the uttermost satisfaction to the customer and follow-up service executions, so that customers would be thoroughly satisfied. He solicited the continued co-operation of every member of the staff and expressed willingness to work with them in helping to solve their problems.

A census of the length of service of the employees was taken and not including those who were taken on the staff recently, the average length of service is ten years. Mr. Duffus remarked that the first two men he hired are on the staff. Nearly a dozen have been continuously employed from thirteen to twenty years.

Watch Presented

An extremely pleasant and gratifying part of the program was the presentation of a Gold Watch to J. J. Duffus. The presentation was made by Wm. Pinn, Manager of the Stock Department, who said that it was given as a token of the esteem in which he was held by the employees. He expressed the hope that Mr. Duffus would live long to enjoy its use and that it would recall many pleasant and successful years of business, with assurance of continued 100 per cent co-operation on the part of all.

Mr Duffus, expressed his deep and sincere appreciation, not only for the splendid gift but the sentiment and feelings unanimously expressed on the part of all those present. He said he would use it with a great deal of pride and satisfaction and as a remembrance of the twentieth anniversary.

SOCIETY PLANS MAKING QUILT TO RAISE FUNDS

Fenella W.M.S. Holds Monthly Meeting at Home of Mrs. W. H. Curtis.

REPORTS READ.

Miss Florence Macklin Appointed Delegate to Attend Cobourg Presbyterial.

FENELLA, March 10 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Fenella W.M.S. held its monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon, March 4, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Curtis. The meeting opened with singing followed by the Scripture reading, Jude 20-25, read by Mrs. Fred Talling.

Following the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Miss Florence Macklin, several items of business were transacted. The following ladies were appointed a committee to arrange for an autograph quilt as one means of raising funds: Mrs. T. Montgomery, Mrs. Fred Talling, Mrs. Saul Leach, Mrs. C. W. Macklin, and Mrs. Howard Macklin. Miss Florence Macklin was appointed a delegate to attend, with the president, the presbyterial being held in Trinity United Church, Cobourg, on March 26. Arrangements were made for the special W.M.S. service to be held in Fenella United Church on Sunday morning, March 22, when Dr. Margaret MacKellar, a missionary to India, home on furlough, will be the special speaker. A report of the "Day of Prayer" service held by the circuit W.M.S. in Roseneath United Church, was read by the secretary.

Heralds responsing were: China, Mrs. Bruce Macklin; India, Mrs. Clark Jewell. Mrs. Fred Talling, temperance superintendant, contributed an illuminating article on the temperance situation. One sentence in the article stands out clearly: "The ugly truth is this: At a time when tens of thousands of Ontario families are living on their savings, or upon charity, more money is being spent on liquor than ever before. The average permit holder spent on liquor during 1930 no less than $120. This amount would sustain the ordinary family for many weeks."

Mrs. James Knox had charge of the following program: Mrs. G. Montgomery, Mrs. James Knox, Mrs. N. C. Leach, Mrs. H. Macklin and Miss Florence Macklin read leaflets, giving a short synopsis of "Japanese thought and the Christian message, chapter six, in the study book, "Fruits of Christian Missions in Japan." Kagawa, the great Japanese evangelist, is a writer of verse and prose, and as a social reformer is known the world over. Within the last two years he has organized the whole Christian Church in Japan in what is known as the "Kingdom of God Movement." His plan is to go from one end of Japan to the other, preaching and appealing for decisions for Christ. No study of modern Christianity in Japan would be complete without more than a passing notice of this great Japanese evangelist.

The devotional leaflet, "Thine i the Kingdom and the Power and the Glory," was read by Mrs. Saul Leach.

God calls us to a magnificent adventure when He bids us spread His Kingdom on the earth. What is needed is a new vision of t e greatness and splendor of the task.

Mrs. Fred Talling gave a reading, "Across in the East," the story of a college girl's decision to become a missionary and the rich reward in souls gathered for the Master.

A vocal solo by Mrs. A. Nill, "In the Garden," completed the program. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction in unison, after which a social hour was enjoyed, while the hostess, assisted by the lunch committee, served tea. Collection for the day amounted to $2.95. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. Montgomery, with Mrs. Clark Jewell as program leader.

The program for the W. I. meeting to be held on Thursday afternoon, March 12, at the home of Mrs. John Herrington, promises a number of interesting features. A paper, "Little Things Worth While," will be given by Mrs. W. Rogers; a photo contest, for which a prize will be given to the one guessing correctly the largest number of first photos of the members; an apron contest; a roll call: Irish jokes, and a paper, "Good Form in Public Places," by the president, Mrs. Harrison George.

Personals.

The many friends of Mrs. W. H. Sandercock are pleased to learn she is recovering from a recent acute illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Lonsberry, of Grafton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McNaught on Friday.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 8 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"What is the meaning of this?" panted the excited tutor. "I am going to see Ajax, and YOU musn't interrupt," laughed the boy. The now furious Mr. Moore next found himself face downward upon the bed, his head shoved deep into a soft pillow. He struggled, but his efforts were vain. For whatever else Tarzan of the Apes may or may not have bequeathed his son, he had at least handed down almost as marvelous a physique as his own at Jack's age.

The tutor was as putty in the boy's hand. Kneeling upon him, Jack tore a sheet to shreds and bound the man's hands behind his back. All the while he talked: "I am Waji—chief of the Waja. You are an Arab sheik who would murder my people and steal my ivory. Villain! I have you in my power at last! I go, but I shall return!" And the son of Tarzan jumped across the room, and disappeared through the window down a water spout.

All of which, as Mr. Moore wrathfully told Lord Greystoke, was fitting cause for him to resign. His business was teaching. "Not untying myself from strips of bed sheets," he added. Tarzan, after satisfying himself the tutor was unharmed, determined it was time to act. He called for his motor car and started for the theatre, while the horrified tutor departed for less vigorous employment.

"I see my son is no Little Lord Fauntleroy," Tarzan commented as he drove through the London streets. Jack has disobeyed his mother's objections and had gone to see Ajax. This was unusual—but enough. In the music hall the trainer hesitated as he faced the infuriated ape. Suddenly, a tall, broad-shouldered man brushed past him. The youth uttered one confused word, "Father!" The ape gave one look at the English lord—and headed to-

STARLINGS

S. D. Carver of North Monaghan recently remarked to The Examiner that reports of the early arrival of blackbirds in this community were undoubtedly astray. The flocks of birds that created this impression must have been starlings, Mr. Carver said, as these birds are becoming more numerous.

ANSON HOUSE CHOSEN

As soon as present legislation is put through the proper Parliamentary channels, the name of the Protestant Home will be changed to that of Anson House.

In line with the modern spirit of removing the taint of dependence from the lives of those less fortunately situated, it was suggested at previous meetings of the Board of Management that a more up-to-date, as well as euphonious name, might well be applied to the handsome house on the hill which affords a shelter for those of declining years and lean purse. The name of Anson is just a reference to the street on which the Home is situated and does not commemorate the name of any special citizen.

He has had some factory experience and is willing to do anything that will give him a home for a couple of months and enough to keep him. He is without relatives and is absolutely at a loose end. GEORGE ST. MEN HEAR ADDRESS

Dr. H. M. Yelland Shows Moving Pictures of His Trip to Alaska.

C.N.R. TRAVEL PICTURE.

An interesting and instructive program given under the auspices of the George Street United Church Men's Club last evening in the basement of the church. Dr. H. M. Yelland showed moving pictures and gave a talk on his recent trip to Alaska. These pictures were taken by himself, and depicted many points of interest around the Great Lakes, through western cities, as Saskatoon, Calgary and Banff, over Vancouver Island and up the west coast to Alaska. Particularly interesting were the pictures shown and references made to the flowers of this northerly country. Sweet peas were spoken of as being from six to seven feet in height, and dahlias were often ten inches in diameter. This is remarkable considering the shortness of the summer season.

Films on "Power" were shown by Mr. McLean of the C.N.R. who traced the evolution of travel from the dog teams and canoe through to the most modern of locomotives. A travel picture was also shown, depicting a trip from Montreal to the West Indies.

Herbert Snelgrove, President of the Club, acted as chairman.

Musical numbers were given by May Pollock and Tom Allen (duet), and Harold Wilson (cornet solo).

RAY ROSE TO REFEREE.

Will Handle Both East Peterborough Final Games.

The Norwood and Lakefield hockey teams have agreed on Ray Rose as referee for both the final games in the East Peterborough League. The first game will be played at Norwood Wednesday night, and the second at Lakefield Friday night. If the roads north and east of the city are as open for traffic as they are expected to be by Wednesday night, it is likely that quite a number of Lakefield fans will accompany the team.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

"STRANGE INTERLUDE"

A powerful and arresting but by no means pleasant play was Eugene O'Neill's "Strange Interlude," as presented at the Grand last evening by the Theatre Guild. Mr. O'Neill, generally recognized as America's leading dramatist, has given the stage something new in technique in this amazing presentation or perhaps it would be more accurate to say that he has made a new use of an old time stage device, the "aside." There is this difference, however, that the soliloquy utilized by the playwrights of yesterday was merely incidental to the action and dialogue, while the author of "Strange Interlude" has made the "aside" speeches of primary importance. In fact, his play has little action, and is mainly concerned with the secret thoughts of the characters expressed in soliloquy—thoughts which are often in contradiction to their outspoken words.

Staged in nine acts, "Strange Interlude" covers a period of 27 years in the life of Nina Leeds and the three men whose fate is entangled with hers. Nina's powerfully emotional nature has been thwarted in early womanhood by the death of her love in the war, the lover whom, had not her father interfered, she would have married before he went to the front.

So neurotic does she become that on a young doctor's advice and urged to do so by the shy, self-effacing novelist who has always loved her, she marries a healthy young man for whom she does not care, but who she believes will give her the children for which she craves. She learns after marriage that there is insanity in her husband's family and that they dare not have children. But the man's sanity depends upon his happiness—he is unaware of his family history—and he desires a child as much as she does. So a child is born with the doctor as the father, and then comes the further complication, that Nina and the doctor become lovers, with the result that the entanglement thereafter is torture to everyone concerned save the ignorant and foolish husband.

Given a story like that, with such characters expressing their innermost thoughts with true O'Neill frankness, it can readily be realized that "Strange Interlude" is not the sort of theatrical fodder one would select for a steady diet, nor are its characters the kind of people you'd naturally choose to spend four hours with very often. Nevertheless, it is one of the outstanding dramatic productions of the past decade and the Theatre Guild has given it a presentation that is worthy of its fame.

The company seen here was thoroughly adequate and the play was flawlessly staged. Elizabeth Risdon gave a most moving performance as the neurotic Nina, and she was admirably supported by Blaine Cordner as the doctor, Richard Barbee as the husband and Leonard Mudie as the novelist—the last a superb study of self-doubting futility. Special mention was earned, too, by Maud Durand, whose picture of the mother of the husband threatened with insanity was one of the highlights of a striking performance.

This daring and original play of Eugene O'Neill's was indeed a strange interlude in the stage history of Peterborough, a history that in recent years has almost completely dried up—and it will be remembered by those who saw it for its original technique, its powerful lines, and the smoothness with which it was acted in spite of an attendance that was by no means conducive to getting the best out of the players.—F. Tweed Is Taking Up Case Of Henry Kimpel

KITCHENER, Ont., Mar. 10.—(C.P.)—S. C. Tweed, M.L.A. for North Waterloo, has approached W. J. Egan, Deputy Minister of Immigration at Ottawa, with a view to lowering immigration barriers raised against Henry M. Kimpel, Canadian born. Kimpel was born near Hanover in 1872 and when he tried to enter Canada at Sarnia in January, was turned back. An old family Bible shows the date of Kimpel's birth and establishes his birthplace as Bentinck township, Grey county.

HAMILTON MEN'S FINES QUASHED

Not Guilty of Disorderly Conduct for Parading Before Theatre Judge Says.

UNION TROUBLE.

TORONTO, Ont., March 10 (C.P.)—Four men who patrolled in front of the Lyric Theatre, Hamilton, wearing raincoats with such slogans as "This theatre does not employ union projectionists," were not acting "wrongfully and without lawful authority," and were not guilty of "disorderly conduct," Mr. Justice Rose ruled, in a judgment handed down at Osgoode Hall to-day. In his judgment, Mr. Justice Rose quashed the convictions and ten dollar fines imposed upon Frederick E. Baldassare, William Davis and John Henderson. William Peech, the fourth man, was given suspended sentence.

The union, through Baldassare, it was complained, had asked the manager, Ross Stewart, to employ four union projectionists instead of the two fully qualified non-union men employed in the new theatre.

Happened at Opening

The "picketing" was done on Saturday, June 21, when the theatre opened.

Magistrate Burbidge imposed the fines following the laying of charges against the men that "They did unlawfully with a view to compel the manager of the Lyric Theatre to employ moving picture operators belonging to the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Operators, beset to watch the Lyric Theatre."

The "beseiging," Mr. Justice Rose remarks, "is admitted." The conduct of the raincoat wearers was "peaceable," he says, "and there was no disturbance. No one was seen to be accosted; no crowd gathered; there was no evidence of threats or obstruction against prospective patrons.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO RECEIVE TREAT

In View of Successful Paper Collection Conducted by Queen Mary Association.

The largest crowd of parents and friends that has attended in years was present last evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Queen Mary Home and School Association, when a pleasing program was given by the pupils. The president, Mrs. W. H. Lytle, was in the chair.

It was decided, in view of the great success of the recent paper collection, and of the hard work done by all the pupils, down to the tiny tots, that the executive of the association treat all the children to ice cream, in the near future.

The program was as follows:

Opening selection by pupils of Miss Stenton's class; musical trio by pupils of Mrs. Craig's class; vocal solo and dance by Orville Wainman; violin solo by Bobbie Borland; chorus, "Little Boy Blue", by pupils of Miss Batten's class; dance by Dora Doukas; playet, "The Mad Tea Party", by pupils of Miss Deyell's class; chorus "Winter Tune" and exercise by pupils of Miss Madill's class; playet, "The Lost Knife", and chorus, "Scots Wha Hae", by pupils of Miss MacNaughton's class; piano solo by Marion Salmonsen; chorus, "Gliding Through the Meadow", by pupils of Mr. Wagar's class; recitation by Margaret Pitchford, playet, "Robin Hood" by pupils of Mr. Clark's class.

IDENTIFICATION FINGERPRINT STUDY IS VERY INTERESTING

FUTURE FOR STUDY.

Crime and criminals with particular close study to the science of fingerprinting is the hobby indulged in by V. E. White of this city, a familiar figure on the highway between Peterborough and Lindsay last summer on which he patrolled as traffic officer. At his home on George street, Mr. White has converted a room into a study, which is complete with a microscope adapted to very minute detail work, while on the walls and work table are distributed numerous sheets, each containing the complete fingerprints of some criminal together with numerical formula for classifying the impressions.

Mr. White who realizes that fingerprinting provides an infallible means of identification, is studying with a purpose, believing that in the near future there will be afforded full opportunity of putting his studies into practice, as the demand for students of the science increases.

Mr. White quotes a passage from Holy Scripture in support of his contention that the science was known to mankind in the dim ages of antiquity. The verse in question states, "He sealed up the hand of every man; that all men may know his work."

It is universally known that the individuality of fingerprints and their value in proving identity were known to the Chinese about 200 B.C., and an impression of the thumb was used by them in lieu of a signature; but it was not till the nineteenth century that the classification of the ridges on the finger tips was attempted. In 1832 Purkenje, professor of physiology at Breslau suggested a system of classification and in 1858 Sir William Herschel laid the foundation of the present system in Bengal.

The full value of the work of Purkenje, Herschel and others was only recognized when Sir Edward Henry devised a numerical formula for classifying impressions, and this system has been widely adopted by police organizations throughout the world.

They are Dr. William Tytler, whose career commenced in the early seventies and continued until last year; James Davison, principal-emeritus of the Guelph Collegiate, who taught for nearly fifty years; and David Young, who has been a member of the teaching profession for 48 years, and who will retire at the end of the present term from the position of supervising principal of Public Schools.

Burma Villagers Beat Off Rebels

RANGOON, Burma, March 10 (C.P.). — Armed with bows and arrows and a few double-barrelled guns, a few volunteers, most of them Christians, to-day successfully defended the village of Minhla, in the Tharawaddy district, from an attack by Burmese rebels. A number of the attackers were slain and others were made prisoners. The villagers, who had been trained for the fight by their headmen, suffered no casualties.

Denmark's exports to the United States last year totaled nearly $3,000,000.

Four Drink Wood Alcohol--Three Die

BOUT IS STAGED IN MINER'S SHACK NEAR GLACE BAY

LITTLE HOPE FOR RECOVERY

Tragedy Occurs After Men Return to Carousal on Second Day.

GLACE BAY, N.S., March 11 (C.P.). — Three Glace Bay citizens are dead and a fourth is in a serious condition in the Glace Bay General Hospital, all believed to be victims of wood alcohol poisoning. The dead:

Angus Macdonald, 65, miner.
Alexander Nicholson, 38, miner.
John McGillivray, 40, miner.

Seriously ill:

William Williams, 65, miner.

The four had gathered on Monday afternoon in a one-roomed shack at the Sterling Mine, where Williams resided, taking with them a one-quart bottle of alcohol. All afternoon the four men sat drinking the alcohol diluted with water. At six o'clock, according to Williams, who was conscious at an early hour this morning, Nicholson and MacGillivray left his place for their own homes. Macdonald remained at the one-roomed shack all night.

Gathered Again Tuesday

All four gathered at the shack again yesterday afternoon, but whether or not they had more alcohol the police were unable to determine.

At three o'clock in the afternoon MacDonald was taken seriously ill and was removed to his home a short distance away. Physicians were called but their efforts proved futile and within two hours the victim had died.

At 1 o'clock Nicholson and MacGillivary were both taken violently ill and both died within a few minutes of each other shortly after one o'clock this morning.

Williams, the sole survivor of the drinking bout, was taken ill late last night and was removed to the hospital where only slight hopes are held for his recovery.

Neil R. McArthur, K.C., Crown Prosecutor, ordered an autopsy to be held in the case to-day.

To-morrow the proceedings open with a boy's judging competition in the morning to be followed after the noon recess, by addresses from prominent speakers, including T. G. Raynor, Seed Branch, Ottawa, who will speak on "Seeds," and R. M. McKenzie, of O.A.C., Guelph, whose talk on "Fertilizers" should prove of great interest to the numerous farmers who are expected to be present, and a banquet in the evening.

Six Counties Represented.

J. B. Nelson, fair secretary and treasurer and local agricultural representative, is entirely satisfied with the number of entries which have arrived from each of the six counties to which the fair is open. He

NAVAL ACCORD IS MADE PUBLIC BY HENDERSON

France and Italy Allowed to Build Two Capital Ships Before December, 1936.

TONNAGE INCREASE.

Whole Agreement Looks Forward to General Revision at 1932 Parley.

LONDON, March 11.—(CP)— The terms of the British-Franco-Italian naval accord, transforming the London Naval Pact into a virtual five-power agreement, were made public today in the form of a memorandum by Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, the Foreign Secretary.

The basis of the Franco-Italian agreement outlined in the memorandum is the detailing of the limits of both the French and Italian building programs in all fleet categories until 1936.

It is estimated by naval experts that France will continue to hold a superiority of about 157,000 tons over the Italian fleet, although this is not stated explicitly in the memorandum.

Under the new accord France and Italy accept all provisions of part three of the London Naval Treaty which they declined to approve last spring.

Building Provisions

The building provisions give both France and Italy the right to complete before December, 1936, two capital ships whose displacement shall not exceed 23,333 tons and those gun caliber shall not exceed 12 inches.

Each nation may build 4,000 tons of air craft carries.

These two categories, capital ships and air craft carriers, are regulated by the Washington Treaty.

As for vessels whose tonnage is regulated by the London Treaty, the Henderson memorandum says that neither France nor Italy will build any more submarines other than for completion of their 1930 programs and for replacement of over age tonnage.

As regards cruisers, France and Italy agree that after completion of the 1930 class they will build no more big cruisers—those carrying armament larger than six-inch guns. This clause is effective during the life of the present agreement.

In the small cruiser category the two nations agree that tonnage of new construction to be completed shall not exceed the tonnage which is replaceable in this category before December 31, 1936.

Slight Increase.

By the new capital ship agreement the Washington Treaty tonnage basis is increased for France and Italy respectively from 175,000 to 181,000 tons, but the Henderson memoran-

Court Asked to Identify Amnesia Victim; Two Women Claiming Man as Husband

FLORENCE, Italy, March 11 (C.P.). — Two women followed passionately to-day the proceedings in Italy's strangest case of questioned identity, involving a decision by the Court of Appeals as to whether an amnesia victim is Professor Giulio Canella or the typesetter Mario Bruneri.

On the identification depends the marital future of each woman, the parentage of three children, and the legitimacy of two. A lower court held the man is Bruneri, wanted by police for stealing tombstones from the cemetery where the amnesia victim was found.

Signora Canella came to Florence before the hearing of her appeal started. She has four children, two born after she identified the man in an asylum at Collegno as her husband, missing since a Signora Bruneri arrived at the courtroom to-day with her only child Giuseppe.

The Professor Canella who was reported missing in the war was a man of means and position, and brother-in-law of the President of the Italo-Brazilian Chamber of Commerce.

SPEED IN PARKS NOT BE LOWERED

Bill Approved Increasing Allowance Large Cities Can Spend on Entertaining Visitors.

SET AT $30,000 ANNUALLY.

TORONTO, Ont., March 11.—(CP)—A bill topermit cities to regulate motor traffic in parks by setting the speed limit at less than 15 miles per hour, was rejected by the Municipal Law Committee of the Legislature to-day. The bill was sponsored on behalf of the City of Toronto. The committee approved the bill which increases the amount large cities can spend on entertainment of distinguished visitors. The allowance to cities over 300,000 is raised from $20,000 per year to $30,000.

Approval was also given a bill providing for assistance to widows and dependants of police officers killed in the course of their duty. City Councils will be empowered by the bill to make pay allowances or pensions to the dependents in such cases.

Prince Sets Style In Hard Straw Hat

LONDON, March 11. — As goes the Prince of Wales, so goes the well-dressed man of England.

Now that Edward has given his cachet to the hard straw hat —so favored for summer wear in America—it is likely England will this year favor the hitherto despised "boater."

The Prince and his brother donned the "boaters" when they stopped at Panama en route to South America. London newspapers carried pictures of the brothers standing under the new headgear. Merchants are stocking up.

GANDHI IS IN BED AFTER HARD DAY AMONG ADMIRERS

Tumult on Return to Home City Said to Have Brought on Fever.

TO START SPEAKING TOUR.

Congress Demands Complete Independence for India if it is to Attend Parley.

AHMADABAD, India, March 11 (C.P.).—Utterly exhausted by the gruelling ordeal to which welcoming crowds here have submitted him, Mahatma Gandhi, Nationalist Leader, had to spend most of to-day in bed.

The tremendous strain to which he has been subjected by the intense heat, the blinding dust, and the unceasing tumult of the crowds who have pushed him about as they attempted to touch his garments, was said to have brought on a slight fever.

Stuffed Cotton in Ears

At one point in his triumphal trip from New Delhi here, where he had not been seen for more than a year, the noise of the mobs who came to greet him became so great that Gandhi stuffed his ears with cotton, ironically enough it was on his weekly day of silence.

During the public outpouring to see him yesterday he once pleaded with the crowd, "If you love me, do not crush me to death." He will leave tomorrow for a speaking tour in the Kaira district, where the campaign for non-payment of taxes originated.

Demand Independence

If the forthcoming meeting of the All-India National Congress at Karachi decides to participate in the second round table conference, it will do so only on condition that India has complete independence and control of the army and finances, said Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, President of the Congress, here last night.

TORY ATTITUDE IS NO SURPRISE

Gandhi Claims Their Fears About So-called Safeguards Are Justified.

NOT IN INDIA'S INTERESTS.

AHMADABAD, India, March 11.—(CP)—Decision by the British Conservative Party not to participate in an immediate Round Table Conference in India did not come as a surprise to Mahatma Gandhi, he said today.

"I must say," the Mahatma said, "that the position of the Congress Party is unequivocal and exceedingly simple. The party is pledged to win complete independence at the earliest possible moment. It will look with grave suspicion on any dilatory tactics.

"The Conservatives fear about so-called safeguards is justified. The congress will accept no safeguard which is not clearly proved to be in the interest of India, and those which were discussed at the London Conference were certainly not in India's interest. On this question of vital importance to India equivocation would be dangerous.

231,351 HAVE BEEN GIVEN WORK SINCE RELIEF SCHEME STARTED

Figures By Senator Robertson Include C. N. and C. P. Railway Totals, But Not Quebec.

NEEDY AIDED.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 11 (C.P.)—The joint Dominion-Provincial Unemployment Relief Scheme, which came into operation last September, has provided work for at least 231,351 persons, Senator G. D. Robertson said to-day in a press release. This figure did not include the total for Quebec Province, but did include the number of men given work through the special efforts of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

The statement of the Labor Minister showed that the total of man-days of work provided by the scheme was 3,975,355. In addition to this, direct relief was given to needy families and individuals in all parts of the country.

"The Canadian Pacific Railway Company reports that work done as a result of the agreement under the Unemployment Relief Act, by which the railway company advanced the date of carrying out certain works, so that unemployment might be relieved, has resulted in 4,645 individuals being given employment up to February 28th. These men were given a total of 138,166 man-days' work.

"The Canadian National Railways reports that work done as a result of the agreement under the Unemployment Relief Act has resulted in 3,180 individuals being gvien employment up to February 28th, 75,522 man-days' work having been given."

WORKMAN FOUND DEAD IN SNOW.

QUEBEC, Que., March 11 (C.P.).—The body of Victor Lemieu, Highway Department employee at Quebec, was found yesterday partly covered with snow, a short distance from the Quebec-Charlesbourg Road. It is believed the man, unable to withstand the 59-mile-an-hour gale blowing there on Monday morning, sought shelter by a roadside fence and perished before he could reach more adequate covering.

Ruined Court House Presents Sorry Sight

KINGSTON, Ont., March 11 (C.P.). — With one wing of the huge building filled with a mass of charred beams and wrecked furnishings, the Court House here presented a sorry spectacle to-day. The erstwhile sparkling white walls are smeared and dirty from the effects of the fire, while the roof of the wing is practically all gone.

To-day members of the County Property Committee were on their way to the city to meet this afternoon and discuss the necessary repair work to be done. They will meet with officials from the City of Kingston. Insurance of $175,000 is carried on the Court House, of which the county has $125,000 ad the city $50,000.

It is estimated that the damage from yesterday's fire will run close to $100,000.

STEAMER FAILS TO PICK UP FAMILY MAROONED ON LONELY LIGHTHOUSE

Heavy Seas Off Little Hope Rock Dash Hopes—Food Supply Renewed.

TRY AGAIN SATURDAY.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 11.—(CP)—John Lanille, keeper of the lighthouse at Little Hope Rock, Shelburne County, wants the Marine Department to take off his wife and family, as a result of the buffetting their home has sustained from recent series of easterly gales, but is extremely doubtful if this can be done before the end of the week at the earliest.

Marooned Weeks At Time

Boats are unable to land on the rock for weeks at a time, even during the summer months. The Lady Laurier arrived off the Island this morning and succeeded in getting a surf boat away. But this was unable to land and the provisions required to replace those washed away in the storm were hauled through the surf after a line of communication had been established by means of pistol and rocket apparatus. Keeper Langille's first request when the surf boat came within hailing distance was that his family be taken from their badly battered home. In addition to the loss of the out buildings, he reported his living quarters, within the light-house, housing eight, all told, had been much damaged.

Owing to weather conditions it will be impossible to take off Mrs. Langille and her five small children today. But the Government steamer Stanley will be off Little Hope light

Scullin's Labor Gov't Attacked By Hughes

CANBERRA, Australia, March 11.—(C. P. Cable Via Reuters.)—A slashing attack on the Labor Government of Premier James Scullin was opened in the House of Representatives to-day by Australia's war-time Prime Minister, the veteran Rt. Hon. William Morris Hughes.

Mr. Hughes, who was Prime Minister from 1915 to 192.. in caustic phrases argued that the Government had wasted some golden chances. The majority of the people of Australia believed the time was ripe for a motion of no confidence in the Ministry, he asserted.

"The Government's failures have been abject," Mr. Hughes declared, in opening the debate on the Opposition's motion of censure.

Examiner Blamed For Having Crown Appeal Sentence

First Division Court at Osgoode Hall Reserves Judgment in the Appeal of the Crown Against the Sentence Given Leonard Matthews By Judge O'Connor.

CROWN'S APPEAL DECLARED HON. G. N. GORDON BROUGHT ABOUT BY BITTER ATTACK ON HON. PRICE

E. W. Bayley, Deputy Attorney-General, Declares That Sentence Was Inadequate to the Crime and Asks for a Term in the Penitentiary—Newhall Statement.

TORONTO, Ont., March 11.—(Special to The Examiner)—First Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall today reserved judgment on the Crown's appeal against the sentence given Leonard Matthews, former Peterborough policeman, convicted of 11 separate counts of robbery while on patrol duty as constable.

Hon. G. N. Gordon, counsel for the defence, called to the attention of the court the splendid record Matthews had as a constable on the Peterborough police force.

Matthews shot to death a Berserk gunman in a duel at a Peterborough hotel on one occassion and had thwarted, single-handed an attempt of a nitro glycerine safe cracker to rob a garage.

The Crown's appeal, declared Mr. Gordon was only brought about by a bitter attack on the Attorney-General of the Province by a Peterborough newspaper which condemned the action of the crown authorities in not seeking and obtaining a more severe sentence for a constable who admittedly was a thief.

Living Outside Income

"Matthews had a wife and three children and was living outside his income", said Mr. Gordon, "when he came in the way of temptation and fell", counsel declared.

But there were instances in criminal actions where men had been given opportunity to make restitution and as a consequence had been given lighter sentences.

There were brokers of Toronto who had been given thirty months to repair the loss of their creditors and had been given consideration as a result. "But this man has done all he could. He has made a voluntary assignment for the benefit of his creditors," Mr. Gordon said. "There were police officers at Windsor who got only thirty days for stealing turkeys," he added. "Why should the court be other than lenient with this man?"

"If professional criminals deserve punishment certainly a man who is supposed to guard against them, a man who forgets his duty to the extent this policeman did deserves the same treatment," said Edward Bayly, K.C., for the Crown.

Matthews joined the Peterborough police force December 15, 1920, and, according to an affidavit of the Peterborough Chief of Police, confessed to eleven robberies charged against him and admitted numerous others. All of them occurred during the time he was employed as a police officer walking his beat at night and supposedly protecting the property of citizens.

On the eleven charges on which he was convicted, Matthews pleaded guilty. From these eleven robberies he secured a total of $1,373.50. He admitted that his lawless expeditions extended over a period of four years, during which time suspicion was thrown upon employees of the stores he robbed, and the authorities were puzzled and alarmed by the series of mysterious robberies.

BANDIT TRAPPED INTO CONFESSION

Montreal Detectives Set Secret Watch and Hear Matte Brag of Bank Hold-up.

SUSPECT CLEARED.

MONTREAL Que., March 11. (CP) A clever subterfuge on the part of Montreal detectives led Paul Emile Matte, 30, to confess to the hold-up of a north-end branch of the Bank of Montreal ten days ago. A part of the $1,000 stolen has been recovered, together with Matte's revolver. John Violanga of New York, awaiting trial for the hold-up, has been cleared of the complicity by Matte's confession, but will not be set free. New York police have telegraphed that he is wanted in that city for homicide in connection with an automobile fatality.

Montreal detectives arrested Matte here on Monday and booked him on a minor charge, without telling him what he was really wanted for. The detectives set a secret watch over him, and claim they heard him bragging of the hold-up. They finally drew a full confession from him that he had held up the bank single-handed, forcing the bank staff to remove their trousers so they could not pursue him into the street.

Henry States France Should Be Wheat Mart

MONTREAL, Que., March 11. — (CP)—"France should prove to be an excellent market for Canadian wheat in the future, especially because at the recent Wheat Conference in Paris she did not commit herself to regulated purchases of wheat from Central European countries," C. A. Henry, New French Minister to Canada stated here today as he passed through the city en route to Ottawa where he will present his credentials.

Mr. Henry explained that France imported a certain amount of hard wheat for mixing purposes to raise the quality of bread. He stated that Canada produces the best hard wheat in the world, which should provide a market. The new minister refused to comment on the actual agreement now pending between France and Canada for the purchase of wheat by the former country.

U.F.O.-Progressive Amendment Snowed Under

ONTARIO HOUSE CARRIES ADDRESS BY BIG MAJORITY

U.F.O.-Progressive Amendment Is Snowed Under 95 Votes to 6.

LIBERALS SUPPORT GOV'T.

All Opposition Forces Line Up Against Main Motion to Carry Address.

TORONTO, March 11. — By a registered vote of 95 to 6—the largest Government majority in the recollection of the oldest member of the House—the Ontario Legislature yesterday turned thumbs down on the Oliver - Slack - want-of-confidence amendment; carried by 82 to 19 the main motion for adoption of the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne; formally terminated the initial debate of the present session; and cleared the decks for the presentation to-morrow of Provincial Treasurer Edward A. Dunlop's first Budget since assuming office.

The Oliver-Slack amendment, seeking, as it did, to put the House on record as regretting "the Government's failure to establish and maintain markets for farm products, so that by increased selling volume the farmer could meet his high overhead cost," was supported by Hon. Harry C. Nixon and his Progressive group, but was opposed by William E. N. Sinclair and the logical Liberal Opposition, as well as by the Government.

"Unfortunate Episode."

In vigorous tones Mr. Sinclair denounced the amendment as "an unfortunate episode" in the debate, coming as it had after the Government had acted on his suggestion to convert the Agriculture Committee of the House into an inquiry committee; after that committee had held two or three meetings as "an economic committee" and not as a political body, and after the House had pretty well agreed on co-operated effort, this session, to try and solve the agriculturists' present-day difficulties and problems.

"My attitude," said Mr. Sinclair, following the adjournment of the House "is that since the Government is doing what we asked it to do we can't turn right around and kick it in the back. And I think the thinking people of the Province will quite agree with me."

The discrepancy between the two division votes is due to the fact that while the Liberals side with the Government on the amendment, they just as strongly oppose the Government on the main motion. There were no pairs.

Willing to Work With Liberals

The closing hours of the debate were featured by Mr. Sinclair's appeal for co-operation on farm questions; by Mr. Nixon's condemnation of the Government's new milk regulations, of the Government's gun-license policy; and of the Governments campaign methods in the recent West Hamilton by-election; and by Premier George S. Henry's cool, calculated, step-by-step, member-by-member reply to the argument thrown against Government policy by the Opposition since the debate commenced, almost three weeks ago. Mr. Henry expressed every willingness to work with the Liberals in improving

France Boosts Duty On Australian Wheat

OTTAWA, Ont., March 1. — The Department of Agriculture has no information further than the brief cable it received from it Trade Commissioner in Paris that a duty of approximately $2.50 per bushel was levied against Australian wheat whereas the rate from Canada and other countries was about 84 cents. It was stated outside the department by men in close touch with the French situation that the levy against Australia would be in the nature of a surtax which the Government had the power to impose by order. For some time France and Australia have not been on good terms economically it was stated and France had not been buying any wheat from that Dominion recently.

COUNCIL PASSES FINAL READING CLOSING BY-LAW

New Open Night By-law for Campbellford Stores Will Be Effective March 31.

TAX COLLECTIONS.

Members Elected to Court of Revision—Will Convene on April 9.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, March 11. — A special meeting of the Campbellford town council was held last evening in the Public Library with all members present, Mayor J. M. Bygott in the chair.

The first item of business was the presentation of the tax role for 1930 by the collector, J. D. Cummings. This showed taxes paid to the treasurer $78,985.35 with cash to be handed in approximately $79,000.00. Arrears of taxes $7,589; abatements, $931.00; discounts $763.00, making a total of $88,171.88. The tax role amounted to $87,859.68; interest $329.00; added $32.76, making a total of $88,220.76 with cash on hand of $48.88. Mr. Cummings also stated that there were 180 parcels of land in arrears of taxes, and on motion this list of unpaid taxes was referred to the Finance Committee for consideration and to be reported upon at the next regular meeting.

F. W. Wood, the town treasurer, reported to the effect that the list of property liable to be sold by the town for unpaid taxes in arrears for the past three years or over amounted to $10,435.41. He also stated that to this amount there were the arrears for 1929, which were not liable for sale. On motion of Deputy Reeve N. Alex MacColl seconded by Reeve N. Stone it was carried that the town solicitor be instructed to prepare a by-law authorizing the disposal of properties that were three years or more in arrears of taxes.

Revoking all former by-laws, the new early closing by-law was presented by Reeve Stone and seconded by Deputy-Reeve MacColl, read three times, passed, signed and sealed. This specifies that all stores in town designated shall on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of each week close from 7 p.m. to 5 a.m. the following day on Wednesday from 9:30 p.m. to 5 a.m. and on Saturday from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m. the following Monday. This also makes allowances for holidays and grants all barbers the right to keep open until 8 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. This by-law becomes effective on March 31.

Assessing By-law.

Another by-law that was presented and carried was the assessing by-law under the Local Improvement Act. This called for the fixing of the rates for the sewer and water mains laid under the unemployment scheme. In connection with this, a motion proposed and seconded by Deputy-Reeve MacColl and Councillor E. C. McKeel authorizing the town solicitor to prepare a general by-law declaring that all sewers and water mains should be apportioned on the basis of the town assuming 40 per cent. of the cost and the property-holder 60 per cent. of the cost was passed.

Mayor Bygott brought up the question of the expenditure of the money, which amounts to $1,221.00, which is still left to the town from the Government grant. He pointed out that the work would have to be

NOGARET FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

Sentenced to Hang on June 12 By Mr. Justice C. A. Wilson.

CLEMENCY RECOMMENDED.

MONTREAL, March 11 (C.P.). — Friday morning, June 12, was set as the date of execution of Albert Nogaret, Brother Dosithee, who was convicted late yesterday afternoon of the murder of 7-year-old Simone Caron. Following a verdict of a jury in the Court of King's Bench, Mr. Justice C. A. Wilson, wearing the traditional black tri-cornered hat and black gloves, pronounced the words which sealed the fate of the 48-year-old Frenchman, who was formerly in charge of the kitchens of the Academic Roussin, Pointe aux Trembles, Que.

The convicted man was advised of the verdict by his lawyer, Lucien Gendron, K.C., in the interval between the verdict and the passing of sentence. Nogaret is very deaf. He made no statement and showed no signs of emotion.

Clemency Recommended.

The foreman stated the jurors recommended Nogaret to the clemency of the court. The Judge advised that in view of the verdict he would have to pass sentence immediately, but would forward to the proper authorities the recommendation of clemency. The jury was out one hour.

RUM BLAMED FOR "GUN GIRLS" BY FOE OF GANGS

NEW YORK, March 11. — Racketeers and gangsters with money to spend upon girls are responsible for an ever-increasing number of young women in the underworld, where they must face such a fate as overtook Vivian Gordon.

That is the assertion of Captain Cornelius W. Willesme, whose twenty-five years with New York's police won him the reputation of "gang buster." Captain Willesme declared yesterday:

"Many girls are getting into the underworld through liquor and 'making whoopee' in night clubs. Their poor boy-friends cannot pay the price of entertainment. The gunmen and racketeers are the fellows with the money. Inevitably many girls prefer the heavy spender.

"Gun Girls" New.

"Fifteen years ago we had bad women, but not 'gun girls.' Nowadays girls want to do everything the men do, even to using a gun.

"Not all these girls are reared in an environment that brought them into contact with criminals. Young women of education and refinement have been and are being drawn into the life of the gangs.

Have Huge Funds.

Captain Willesme, who recently retired and is the author of a biographical book, "Behind the Green Lights," declared racketeering has expanded tremendously under prohibition. Racketeers are so wealthy, he says, they have set aside huge defence funds, have engaged the cleverest lawyers, and have gained belief in their ability to "fix" any case.

PURPORTED CONFESSION OF ROUSE PRINTED IN LONDON DAILY SKETCH

Reveals Killer Had Strangled His Unknown Victim Then Fired Car.

HOPED TO ESCAPE.

LONDON, March 11 (C.P.).—The Daily Sketch to-day printed what purported to be a confession of Arthur Rouse, who was executed at Bedford Prison yesterday for the murder of an unidentified man last November. Up to the time of his death he maintained, except for the hitherto undisclosed Daily Sketch confession, that he was innocent of the crime and that the dead man, whose body was found blazing in his car, had set himself afire accidentally.

The confession reveals that Rouse hoped the victim would be mistaken for himself, thus extricating himself from a web of amours of his own weaving. He said that he strangled the man and then set fire to him and his car by means of a trail of petrol which he ignited some distance from the car.

He did not know the man's name but had talked with him several times over a glass of beer at the bar of a suburban public house. He picked him up on the night of the crime, ostensibly to give him a lift north to Leicester.

RELIEF MONEY WRONGLY USED

Newton Claims Grants to Manitoba Distributed For Political Purposes.

USED TO PAY TAXES.

WINNIPEG, Man., Mar. 11. (CP)—Charges that money granted by the Dominion Government for unemployment relief in Manitoba had been used for political purposes were made in the Legislature last night by F. Y. Newton, Conservative Member for Roblin. Mr. Newton did not instance where Dominion funds had been distributed for political reasons and members of the Bracken cabinet made vigorous denial.

Money for relief purposes also had been diverted in some municipalities for the payment of taxes, Mr. Newton claimed. In the municipality of Hillsburg, he said of $1,200 spent on relief work, $1,000 had come back to the municipality in the form of payment of taxes and arrears.

Hon. W. R. Clubb, in reply, read a letter from the administrator of works at Hillsburg stating that no money was withheld from workmen against taxes, and that all money applied to taxes was so applied with the wish and consent of those concerned.

EUROPA SUFFERS ROUGH CROSSING

Lands 242 Passengers at Cherbourg After Fighting Storm Three Days.

NO ACCIDENTS.

CHERBOURG, France, March 11 (C.P.).—Badly buffeted by a violent storm during the past three days, the Europa, one of the two fastest liners on the Atlantic, arrived off here at 2.00 a.m. to-day and landed 242 passengers very much the worse for wear and tear.

The storm overtook the liner Saturday, forcing her to reduce her speed from 26½ to 24 knots.

Commodore Johnsen said that the tempest retarded all eastbound ships and that he had bad weather all the way. The Bremen, with the wind at her back, he believed, would make good time on the westward crossing. "Fortunately," he said, "there were no accidents and we received no messages asking for aid."

Waves slapped over the decks continually and most of the passengers kept in their cabins. The Europa will treat herself to a brief overhauling when she arrives at Hamburg.

Zoo Doctor May Stage "Getting Lion's Goitre"

NEW YORK, March 11.—Dr. Harry Nimphius will decide to-day whether Curlicue, lion cub in Central Park Zoo, will be operated on to remove a goitre.

The cub is reported as responding to treatment of ichthyol ointment, prescribed by Dr. Nimphius, the park veterinarian.

Curlicue is the daughter of Curley, one of the two adult lionesses at the zoo, and was born last October 19. Curlicue has a brother—a twin—and he's healthy as possible. Curlicue's illness is the first of its kind reported in the Central Park Zoo in twenty-five years.

BITTER WEATHER STILL SWEEPING EUROPE ENGLAND

Remote Hamlets in Devonshire and Derbyshire Isolated, Short of Food.

RIVER FLOODS HALTED.

LONDON, Mar. 11.—(A.P.)—There was no sign to-day of a break in the bitter winter weather which has gripped most of Europe since last week. France, Germany, Austria and tht British Isles continued to experience exceptionally low temperatures and heavy snowfalls.

Although some places in England reported higher temperatures others recorded temperatures of below zero Fahrenheit. Renewed snow storms thickened the already heavy blanket of snow. Scotland and Northern England have vast drifts and roads are blocked.

Remote Hamlets Need Food.

Some remote hamlets in the hilly country of Devonshire, Derbyshire have been isolated for three or four days and are believed short of food. Roads everywhere are dotted with stalled automobiles unable to travel on the glazed surfaces. Cornwall, the warmest county in England, had its first snow in fourteen years yesterday, and numbers of children learned for the first time in their lives to make snowballs.

France is experiencing the coldest late winter in many years. Temperatures vary from fourteen to 28 Fahrenheit. Snowfalls have been particularly heavy in Normandy, Brittany, Alsace and Savoy where enormous avalanches have blocked a number of roads.

The bitter weather, however, has blocked temporarily threats of floods in the Seine and its tributaries and the Rhine although with melting snow they may be renewed.

The Atlantic continues storm ridden, with many steamers overdue.

Shaw Sees Artillery As Farm Tractors

LONDON, March 11 (By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Correspondent) —Rt. Hon. Tom Shaw, burly Secretary of War, has his eye on the ploughshare as well as the sword. He is not going to recommend any more one-sided disarmaments, but in mechanized artillery he, in fancy, sees tractors for Canadian prairies. "It has often been said," he told the House of Commons, "that science seems to have been devoted more to the destruction of life than preserving it. But none who have seen our mechanized army at work can question the help its inventions might be to humanity in the Dominions. When one sees a tractor hauling a small train through rough country, over ditch and dyke, one can see what such an invention might mean in Canada or Australia."

OYSTER SUPPER WELL ATTENDED

DELIGHTFUL SUPPER.

ROSENEATH, March 11 (Examiner Correspondence)—On Wednesday, an oyster supper was served in Centenery United Church to the surrounding community as a social gathering for the congregation and was in full charge of the Ladies' Aid Society

Although limited to a community a few visitors drifted in and were greeted very cordially. The Centenery congregation is handicapped for accommodation to giving a public supper and for this reason limited their invitation to about sixty guests.

The tables were arranged in the centre of the church and looked lovely and most of all they were laden with many good things to satisfy the inner man and abundance of delicious oysters which is a rare treat and luxury.

The program committee did splendid in arranging the evening's entertainment which consisted of a debate "Resolved that electricity is of more benefit to the general public than steam." Miss Josephine McGee with Mr. Ernest Burrison supporting the affirmative while Miss Elva Sandercock with Mr. Orrie Robins supported the negative. To give any just report of the debate would take up too much space, as each speaker had seven minutes with three for return. Miss McGee and Mr. Burrison gave abundant evidence and proof of the uses, value and benefit the world is receiving from electricity through motors, telephones, wirless, X-ray, home comforts and a great many other lines were mentioned. while Miss Sandercock and Mr. Robins refuted their opponents, giving many reasons why steam is more beneficial at the present time than electricity as in steamships for transportation and railways, sterilization, steaming of breakfast foods, lumbering and many other good points were spoken of breakfast foods, lumbering and the judges to make a decision but finally the affirmative won by a small margin.

The judges were Miss Hilda Arthur, Mr. Silas Sherwin and Mr. Norman Sherwin. Mr. Alvin Kelly was timekeeper and Rev. R. W. Paton, M.A., was asked to act as critic of debate, and spoke very favorably of the way the various speakers debated, offering helpful constructive criticism.

After the debate a musical contest was enjoyed by every one. The winning group were prevailed upon to sing, and did so after due consideration.

Britain Gone Limit In Her Disarmament

LONDON, March 11 (C.P.)—Great Britain can go no further with disarmament, Rt. Hon. Tom Shaw, Secretary for War, told the House of Commons to-day, unless reductions she makes are duplicated by other nations.

"There are certain things this Government will not do," he said. "They will not admit compulsion; they will not admit any policy which will lead to a militarist frame of mind But at the same time they cannot go further with disarmament."

It is impossible at this time, he said, to propose a decrease in army strength, and for that reason the army figures in this year's estimates remain approximately the same as last year

A SCIENTIFIC TALK ON COLDS, PNEUMONIA AND flu

HEALTH reports show that flu, like colds and pneumonia, is generally more prevalent at this season of the year. And authorities are urging everyone to take all possible precautions to protect themselves.

Just what causes flu has not yet been definitely established by science. But authorities agree that a weakened, run-down condition may make us easier prey to flu—just as it makes us easier prey to colds and other dread winter ailments. So they stress the importance of building up our vitality and resistance. Eat nourishing food. Get plenty of rest, fresh air and exercise. Avoid exposure. And start taking a good, fortifying tonic at once.

All main streets are being cleared of snow enabling traffic to resume its way, and giving work to the unemployed of the town. An effort is also being made to clear some of the township roads to enable the resumption of wheel traffic.

The election of the Court of Revision took place, resulting as follows: Mayor Bygott, Reeve Stone, Deputy-Reeve MacColl, and Councillors Carr and Bennett. This body will convene in the Public Library on April 9.

FARMERS REJOICE WITH SNOW FALL

Roads Are Still Far From Being Good For Traffic—Highway Open.

MOISTURE FOR LAND.

BAILIEBORO, March 11.—Examiner Correspondence.—Bailieboro and vicinity had its full share of the snow and wind which prevailed all day Sunday and Monday. The highway and township roads were blocked with snow in a manner in which the people of the community have not witnessed for many years. Almost three feet of snow lay on the fields and roads. Although the men residing on the township worked all day Monday to get their beats open, when evening arrived the roads were still very heavy.

The school attendance only averaged about a third and the rural mail men found their respective routes very difficult to travel over. On the Port Hope-Peterborough highway, the snow plough managed to make a narrow road where there was not more than enough room for two cars to pass. The sides of the highway were piled over the car tops with the new snow. As the old saying is: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and although the storm was so severe, the farmers are all greatly rejoicing over the heavy snow fall. It will serve to provide moisture for the parched soil and help fill up the dry wells and cisterns. As many of the farmers stated: "It is exactly what we require."

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Cole of Port Hope were guests of friends in the vicinity on Thursday.

Miss Helen Rosevere of Peterborough visited her cousin, Miss F. Watt, over the week end.

Mr. K. Barnard was a visitor to Toronto on Saturday.

Miss E. Falls was the week end guest of friends at Whitby.

Mr. A. Dawson is the guest of friends in Toronto

Master Arthur Deyell of Lindsay is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. White.

Mrs. I. Dawson is a visitor to Toronto this week.

Among those who attended the hockey game at Keene recently when the local boys played the Keene sextette were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Lang, Miss M. Fisher, J. Ackison, S. Johnsson, F. and K. Barnard, S. and K. Lang, R. Butler, A. Watt, A. Deyell, L. Dawson, E. Earnshaw, L. Dawson, I. Musprat, A. Brown, M. Wood and J. Barnard.

Messrs. D. Taylor, E. Earnshaw, S. Lang, S. Johnstow and R. Butler were visitors to Peterborough on Saturday evening.

ONTARIO HOUSE

the status of agriculture, and pleaded for an emphatic rejection of the amendment.

Two other speakers who figured in the wind-up were William Newman (Liberal, North Victoria) and J. Fred Reid (Conservative, West Windsor). Mr. Newman's reiteration of his "prohibition" stand was one of the most compelling bits of oratory ever heard in the Ontario House. Mr. Reid's "fun-making" was about as "rib-tickling" a half-hour act as ever heard in the Chamber, or outside it for that matter.

Congratulates Mr. Sinclair

Liberal House Leader Sinclair was congratulated by Mr. Newman for his policy of co-operation in the matter of agricultural relief. Mr. Newman also expressed his gratification on the work done by the Government on the Coboconk-Dorset highway. Roads, he said, were of especial importance in the North because of the tourist traffic.

A good deal of Mr. Newman's speech was devoted to the question of wolves. "We have a great menace in the wolf because of its destruction of deer," said he. He deplored the fact that, in spite of the increased bounty, the number of wolves killed in 1930 was 1,037 lower than in 1929. The five districts surrounding Algonquin Park, however, had shown an increase in the number of wolves killed.

"Algonquin Park is a protection for wolves" he declared.

Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, explained that a new Superintendent appointed in Algonquin Park last year had died before putting into effect plans for hunting wolves in the winter. His plans, however, had been carried out, and so far this winter 75 wolves had been slain.

"Real Process"

The destruction of 75 wolves this winter was real progress, said Mr. Newman, and he was glad that there was an organized plan to hunt wolves in Algonquin Park.

Coming to the temperance question, Mr. Newman launched a stinging criticism of the speech made by W. W. Staples (Conservative, Victoria South). He mentioned that Mr. Staples had said that he (Mr. Newman) could move himself to tears. Mr. Newman explained that he had had considerable difficulty with public speaking. "I haven't had anything more dirty put over me in public life" he declared. Instead of trying to make the liquor law more temperate, Mr. Staples had wasted the time of the House in ridiculing him.

"I came into public life on the temperance issue, and I haven't pulled down my flag," he said. Regarding his attitude at the Liberal convention, he stated that the liquor question should be taken out of party politics, and the people allowed to decide the matter by independent vote. He advocated that the Minister of Education approve a course in temperance on which children would have to pass an examination. Concluding, he declared he stood for total prohibition in Canada "and neither the member for South Victoria nor any one else can say Newman has lost his temperance principles."

Mr. James, representing Fairbanks Morse Company, addressed the Council regarding water supply for fire purposes.

T. Newman, tax collector, was given an extension of one month for collecting of taxes, and that 6 per cent. be added from the first of the month for delinquents.

The motion that Rev. Blanchard be granted a cheque for $10.00 to be used for a destitute family and that the Reeve and F. Parker be given power to act if they find other destitute families in the village, was adopted.

The Council adjourned to meet the first Monday of April at 7.30, or at the call of the Reeve.

Interesting Address.

The young people of Trinity Church held their regular meeting on Monday evening in the Sunday School Room. Miss Christina Connell had charge of the meeting. The Scripture lesson was read by Fred Weir. The devotional leaflet was taken by Miss L. Race. Business was discussed, and Rev. Mr. Blanchard sang a solo. F. Johnson, the speaker of the evening, gave the story of his boyhood life in his native country Denmark, and also his experiences when he first came to Canada, which was very interesting and entertaining, giving the listener some idea of the unintentional misunderstandings which arise between the Canadian-born and the strangers within the gate. Community singing was then enjoyed.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Mar. 11—Butter prices were lower on the local market yesterday, brokers reporting sales at ¼c below previous quotations. The general range of prices, however, was lower to steady, with some sales being made at figures level with previous offerings. Brokers quoted No. 1 creamery at 31¼c to 31½c, and No. 2 at 30¼c to 30½c. Trading was not very active, only a few sales being made at the new range of prices.

Cheese

There was a light demand for cheese and receipts were not too heavy, as many shippers were asking prices fully a cent above the market. There was no reason for an increase on the local market, and prices were steady at 14¾c for new large, 15c for twins, and 15¼c for triplets. Retailers were buying at the steady prices of 16c for new large, 16¼c for twins, and 16½c for triplets.

Eggs

Receipts of eggs continued to pile up on this market, and, though the market was steady, the undertone was weaker. Brokers reported that seconds were in greatest demand, but were trying to get higher prices on all grades. Sales of graded eggs in free cases, were made at 25c for extras, 23c for firsts, 21c for pullet extras, and 18c to 19c for seconds. Reports from country points were to the effect that receipts were heavy, so the recent road-blocking will have little result.

Country egg shippers were offered 23c for extras, 21c for firsts and 17c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned, these prices being steady with Monday's decreases, and retailers were able to secure supplies at 31c for extras in cartons, 29c for extras loose, 27c for firsts loose, and 21c for seconds loose.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, March 11. — Light trading and meagre export business kept the wheat pit yesterday marking time. Prices moved within a narrow range in dull and featureless trading. Prices at the close were ⅝c to ¼c lower than Monday's finish.

Prices advanced fractionally in the early stages of the market, but this was followed by a period of extreme dullness, in which the price changes amounted to only ¼c and the market dragged on a quiet close.

It was estimated only 300,000 bushels were worked for export.

Cash wheat trading emulated the wheat pit. Trading at mid-session showed No. 1 Northern trading at 2¼c under May.

Further sales of barley featured coarse grain activity. Total exported in the past two days estimated at 600,000 bushels.

Winter white cheese was quoted at 14½c to 14¾c a pound, and receipts were 259 boxes.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes in carlots, were quoted at 80c per 90 pounds, bulk and to retailers 90c per 80-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 11.—Corn led the grain markets up first and then down yesterday. Buying power in corn faded after an early advance had brought about an onslaught of selling to realize profits. Official announcements that only 709,000,000 bushels of corn yet remained in farmers' hands against a five-year average of 1,007,432,000 were responsible for the transient price gains.

Corn closed weak, ⅞c to ⅞c lower, wheat unchanged to ⅝c off; oats unchanged to ⅛c down, and provisions unchanged to 47c setback.

MATURE MEN BE AVAILABLE.

MONTREAL, Que., March 11 (C.P.). —Changes in the requirements for degrees in Presbyterian colleges throughout Canada, making it easier for experienced, mature men to be ordained as ministers, was seen as a vital necessity to overcome the threatening shortage of pastors, by Rev. W. O. Mulligan, Montreal, speaking at a meeting of the local Presbytery yesterday. Not enough young men were available to meet the needs, he said, but there were many experienced men of between 30 to 40 years of age, unable to take a long university course, who would prove valuable when ordained and for whom some provisional emergency course should be provided.

The meeting decided to bring the matter to the attention of the Church Board of Education.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11, 1931

AN IMPORTANT SESSION.

One of the most important parliamentary sessions in Canada'h history will begin to-morrow at Ottawa.

The beginning of a new session finds many problems awaiting solution—widespread unemployment in urban Canada and the farmers throughout the country with depreciated incomes.

It finds, too, the national revenues rapidly shrinking, while, on the other hand, the expenditures are increasing, with the Government committed to a number of undertakings that mean greater expenditure.

Mr. Bennett, in his dual capacity of Premier and Finance Minister, has been hard at work for many weeks on these and other problems, but he has kept his own counsel, and the eve of the session finds little authentic news as to the proposals he will bring before Parliament.

There are rumors of a turnover tax; there are reports that departments have been ordered to reduce their expenditures by twenty per cent.; there are hints that there will be a wholesale readjustment of the tariff; there are prophecies of the Federal Government taking over the old age pension scheme to the extent of 95 per cent., but none of these predictions have been made by the Prime Minister himself or by members of the Cabinet, and the session will get under way with no accurate news as to the course of action to be followed by the Government.

Mr. Bennett's scheme in this respect will make the daily unfolding of his plans of more than usual interest to the people of the country.

THE PUBLIC FAILS TO HELP.

It is recognized that the present financial situation presents one of the most difficult problems with which a Canadian Government has had to deal, but the strange part is that while everybody admits that fact there does not seem to be the least inclination anywhere to help the Government in its tremendous task.

On the contrary, despite the falling revenues, there are demands from all quarters on the Government to expend large sums of money on all kinds of public undertakings, to increase grants for this that and the other purpose.

Mr. Bennett's difficulties are being increased by this constant pressure for more expenditure.

"We question the wisdom of going to Ottawa now to suggest how more money can be spent," says the Stratford Beacon-Herald, and The Examiner echoes that sentiment.

Unfortunately, however, while the reasonableness of that attitude is not denied, there is a universal tendency on the part of municipalities and organizations to shift the saving to some other district, while they endeavor to secure all they can get from the public treasury, quite indifferent to the fact that the Dominion has no other source of revenue than the pockets of the people, and that the funds they are seeking from the Government must inevitably come from that source.

A GREAT INDUSTRY.

That the tourist trade is well worth all the attention Canadians can give it is confirmed by figures made public by the American Automobile Association as to the outlay for recreational travel during 1930.

Estimating that the annual vacation bill of the people of the United States is now practically equal to the annual foreign trade of that country, the association issues the interesting information that last year American motor tourists spent $326,000,000 in visiting Canada, while rail and water travel was responsible for the expenditure of $75,000,000.

The report adds that "in the face of a decline in the vacation business within the United States proper, Canada had an increase both in the number of visitors and in the total spent."

These figures are an answer to those who want to know what value the tourist traffic is to the farmers of Canada.

Surely it is obvious that visitors cannot spend the huge sums mentioned in this report without benefitting directly or indirectly Canadians generally.

These expenditures naturally mean a better market for the products of Ontario farms, and they mean money in the pockets of Ontario farmers.

In the first place, this small army of visitors must be fed—that entails a direct demand for Ontario farm-raised products; secondly, tourist purchases of other articles means more money for city merchants and more work and greater spending power for city workers, which again serves to make a better market for Ontario farmers.

A TRIBUTE TO A NEWSPAPERMAN.

The following tribute to F. D. MacKay, former editor of the Peterborough Review, who died last week in New York, appears in the Lethbridge Herald:

"To those a couple of thousand miles away who never even heard the man's name, the death of Francis Dean MacKay, in New York, is a matter of no concern or interest. And yet Canadian newspaperdom without the training men of the MacKay type gave to recruits to the reporting staffs of small Ontario dailies forty years ago, would not be what it is to-day. With rare exceptions, some of the topnotchers on metropolitan newspapers, came out of the country and small city offices. It was at Chatham, Ont., that Harry Anderson, present managing editor of the Toronto Globe, first sought to prove that journalism's fate rested in his hands, and it was probably a man like Francis Dean MacKay, who put him on the road to the high position he now holds on the Toronto daily. So it was with Jos. Atkinson, publisher of the Toronto Star, and Jos. T. Clark, who wields such a bright and facile pen as a Star editorial writer. Atkinson began on a Port Hope weekly and Clark with a Pickering weekly. They leaned to the reporting job, but it is probably to the MacKay steering them along in their junior years that they give most credit for their success. Francis Dean MacKay city edited and edited and reported all at the same time on a small Ontario daily when $12 a week, with probably half of it taken out in trade with advertisers, was the salary that even made the job attractive. The juniors started with $2 or $3 a week wage, which in the case of one, who served with MacKay, was taken up wholly for bed and board—and bed and board of a pretty fair kind could be had in those days for $2.50 or $3 a week. The new reporter in this case began first of all by setting type by hand (mostly patent medicine readers that had no other tendency than to put one to sleep) in the day time and reporting at night. Gradually, under MacKay's guidance, a straight reportorial job at five a week was made available. MacKay kept on training his junior, with the result that the lad moved out into a larger newspaper office and eventually into the direction of a daily newspaper himself. He never forgot MacKay. Without his guiding and restraining hand, his sharp but always kindly intended criticisms he might not have gone very far. This man now looks back upon those years with MacKay as the best spent in his chosen life occupation. It was MacKay who made the foundation and he saw that it was as solid as he knew how to create. Canada or any other country, journalism or any other occupation, needs to say a blessing for the MacKays. What the preacher was in the pulpit and the teacher in the school, the MacKay was in the office, the store and the trade. They trained men—men who have contributed to Canada's upbuilding in small and large ways. Canada should never forget its MacKays; indeed, it should pay reverence to them."

OCEAN TO OCEAN.

The proposed trans-Canada highway is one of the most interesting items on the national endeavor program. This ocean-to-ocean motor route has been under discussion for more than a decade. It has been urged by many public and semi-public bodies. It has the support of both federal and provincial authorities. And there are only two things standing in the way—inability, so far, to secure agreement as to route, and cost. The latter consideration is a temporary one, based, of course, on the depressed conditions of the last year and a half.

* * * *

There will be no immediate start on the project. Prime Minister Bennett clearly intimated to a delegation from the Canadian Good Roads Association and the Tourist Association, the other day, that the treasury cannot afford the expenditure at this time. He also pointed out that the question of provincial and federal control of the expenditures and the completed road had not been settled, and would require a good deal of negotiation.

Political opponents of the present administration will rail at Mr. Bennett's attitude in this respect—recalling that immediate construction of this highway was one of his campaign pledges—but common sense tells us that it would be folly for Ottawa to proceed with this expensive project at once, much as the country needs the highway. The national treasury is in a depressed condition. The country is faced with the almost certain prospect of increased taxes. In these circumstances, Mr. Bennett, no matter how eager he may be to implement his promise, cannot be blamed for deciding to postpone the undertaking.

* * * *

We can find no disagreement anywhere in the country on the underlying principle. Everyone seems to feel that Canada needs this transcontinental motor highway and that our progress as a nation will be retarded just as long as we fail to have it. It is annoying, of course, to realize that a Canadian, in this highly motorized age, cannot drive his car from one end of the country to the other, that he must cross an international boundary line and use the highways of another nation, in order to get from Canada's East to Canada's West. The time consumed in making the American part of the journey means the expenditure of large amounts of money in the United States that would otherwise be kept in Canada. The lack of a through highway, also, means that we are not securing nearly as much foreign tourist business as would otherwise be the case. All these factors, then, and many others lead to the inevitable conclusion that Canada should construct this motor route at the earliest possible moment. At the same time it would be a great mistake to embarrass the treasury.—Border Cities Star.

THE HERRIDGE APPOINTMENT.

Hon. George P. Graham's paper, the Brockville Recorder and Times, evidently does not share in the misgivings expressed by several journals as to the appointment of Major W. D. Herridge as Canadian envoy to Washington. The Recorder and Times says:

"The public will note that some weeks ago the R. and T. suggested that Major Herridge, of Ottawa, would make an excellent representative of Canada at Washington.

"Now that he has been named for that important position, the opinion previously expressed by this paper holds good.

"The only criticism of the selection is that Major Herridge lacks experience in public affairs, and there is no assurance that he will be found equal in diplomatic acumen for the exacting positions which will surely be encountered in the performance of his duties at Washington.

"No country was ever blessed with a more astute and successful representative to a foreign country than was Canada when Hon. Vincent Massey presided at the Canadian legation at Washington. What experience, pray, did Mr. Massey have before going to Washington? Very little in public life and none in diplomacy. Yet he made a place for himself and for Canada in the heart of the United States that will always serve as an example to his successors.

"Major Herridge is square-shouldered, stands straight on his feet on all questions, and though, as yet, he has had no great opportunity of showing his real worth, the R. and T. predicts that he will prove equal to all demands made upon him when occasion arises.

"The new ambassador has a warm heart, as proven by the fact that for years, impelled by his humanity, he has been active as one of the Board of Governors of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada, and also a member of the finance committee of the same organization.

"This journal congratulates the new ambassador, and wishes him a resplendent career as representative of the country in which he was born, and for which, in the Great War, he fought nobly."

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The French Foreign Legion celebrated its hundredth anniversary on Monday. A lot of novelists should have assisted in the celebration, for without the Legion there would have been a noticeable lack of material.

Probably the Kingston Whig-Standard is opposed to the appointment of Major Herridge because it does not fit in with the Whig-Standard's views on the patronage question.

The Red-Headed Goddess

By

ALICE ROSS COLVER

"All right! All right! But where is she? I must get to her! Show me where she is!"

"The white girl is safer without you."

"That's damn nonsense!" cried Dirk.

"I have spoken. I go now to notify the white girl's father on the magic wire that carries words through the air. On the ninth day, at the end of the Mountain Chant, when the Indians dance their dance around the fire, the white girl will be delivered to her father by Silver Tongue. If the white man wishes also to be delivered into the hands of his people, and to see the white girl once again, he must do as Silver Tongue says."

"What's that?" Dirk demanded suspiciously.

"The white man must wait here in hiding until Silver Tongue returns again. The white man must make no move to find the white girl. When Silver Tongue returns again he will be able to lead the white man, in safety, to the place of the Mountain Chant, where the white girl and the white girl's father will be also."

"I don't believe it!" Dirk said wildly. "It's all hokum. If you've got the girl why didn't you bring her back to me? She wanted to come, didn't she? What's the idea about this Mountain Chant stuff? Why have we got to wait till you start a bonfire and do the Black Bottom around it—or whatever you do—before we can see each other? Why can't she come back here to me and wait with me? Answer me!"

"The story is long," said Silver Tongue coldly. "And the time is short, for Silver Tongue has many miles to go before sundown. If the white man does not believe Silver Tongue——" he shrugged, turned and was gone without another word. The branches swung together behind the swift movements of his figure, but, except for their trembling there was not a thing to convince Dirk whether or not he had been dreaming. Not a sound. Not the faintest snapping of a twig or whisper of a breath. Silver Tongue had disappeared with a completeness and finality that stung Dirk to frenzy. He shouted, but only the walls of the canyon gave back an answer. He shouted until he was hoarse, until he had no voice left, clambering up after the Indian all the while, promising anything, everything, in his desperation. But the savage had vanished. Only the heavens heard his cry and these, when at last he stood under them on the desert's edge, mocked him by their remoteness, their cold, harsh, unscaring blue.

Breathing like an exhausted runner, Dirk stood and stared about him, scanning the horizon, as far as he could see, on all sides, but there was not a living thing in sight, not the tiniest moving speck he could assume was an Indian. There were the grotesque red carvings of inhuman monsters upthrust against the still, azure sky, there were the turrets and spires of distant, gleaming, imagined cities, taunting in their deception, there were, closer at hand, long dry fingers of sand, hard furrowed ribs of rock, clumps of dwarfed scrub oaks, bunches of gramma grass all gray with dust and here and there a pit of striped color, and over it all silence, the silence of the long dead, the silence of the never awakened. A space filled with emptiness, a waste shrieking its solitude, a place where a man would go mad before he could die.

There was hoplessness in Dirk's heart as he lifted his hands and called across the desert. His voice was small, and lost in the greatness of the stretches. After that one shout, his arms fell to his side, and he shook his head. The motion made him dizzy, so that instinctively he closed his eyes. When he opened them a moment later his glance fell on tracks in the sand. Of course! Why hadn't he thought? Such a simple thing to do! It would take a long time to track Lorraine, but he could do it, he would do it.

At first there was a confusion of footprints, his own, the Indian's horse's hoofs. Oh! if she had been carried away on horseback! But no. Those were fresh to-day, made by the Indian, for at last he found hers—little flying tracks across the sand, little hurrying feet, little scuffing, running, moccasined feet. The relief of this definite discovery was, for a moment, almost a sickness. She had been here, indeed. She had gone his way straight toward the Greek Temple. Again he shook his head in impatience at his own stupidity. Why hadn't he remembered that? He must be losing his mind, he thought savagely. But with these tracks, and that temple ahead to guide him, he would be able to follow until he found her.

But though Dirk's intention was strong enough, his body was not, though his desire lay clear as the way before him, his eyesight soon became blurred by the faintness of pain, though his will was resolute, his mind was weakening with the weight of a too great agony, both mental and physical. So shortly, his own purpose became confused, and his sick reason could find no satisfactory explanation for his actions. What was he stumbling around out here in the desert for, when his ankle hurt so? Why wasn't he back in the canyon with Lorraine? Oh, yes, he remembered. She had said the food was gone, and he had come up to hunt! Not food! It was Lorraine he was hunting. It was she who was gone. The Indian had carried her away, had taken her to a dance. The fantastic idea mused him. With hands on his hips he rocked in sudden loud laughter at the thought, reeling and weaving in the sand like a drunken man. A dance on the desert! Hah! That was a good one! But he'd better stop laughing. It wasn't, after all, a laughing matter. Lorraine was kidnapped by an Indian, who had said she was safe and he'd return her. He'd return her somewhere—sometime. What a lie! He straightened and swore aloud suddenly. What a damn lie that Indian had told! He could see now, quite clearly, what the fellow had wanted. Money. A ransom. Of course he should have thought of that! And he had so much money, for he and Lorraine hadn't spent a cent since they'd struck the desert. If he'd only thought of giving the man money! Well, he still could. He still had the money—and right on him. Sitting on the sand, he took out his wallet and spread out the bills, counting them carefully over and over, but unable ever to total the sum. Cursing his inability, he stuffed them away again, and staggered to his feet. It didn't make any difference how much it was. The Indian chap would want it all. The thing to do, then was to catch the Indian chap. Which way had he gone?

Dazedly he stared about him, blinked, passed a hand across his eyes and stared again. The world was so damn shiny and so far away. The farther he walked the farther away it got. It was that sky. Always blue. Why wasn't it green? There wasn't anything green here, he thought fretfully. Green didn't shine. If only the sky were green! Then his head wouldn't ache so. His hand went up and touched the bandage, and he felt it, bewilderedly. Must have hurt that somewhere, somehow. But how and where? Well, never mind that now. If the Indian had done it—the thing was, what was he doing here under this shiny tin roof? What was he doing on this floor that danced in the sun as though it were sprinkled with diamonds, that rose and fell like an ocean—Oh, yes, he was hunting.

His face twisted into a triumphant grin. He knew now. He was hunting, following tracks. There they were! Great, staggering tracks that zigzagged back and forth like a man who'd been out all night. What kind of an animal was that? What could it be? He crouched down, peering at his own crazy footprints, and waited, slingshot in hand, for his prey to appear.

He waited minutes—hours—days. A snake slid silently across his foot, but he did not notice it. A horned toad blinked lazily in the sun a few yards away, safely unobserved. In the blueness above him appeared suddenly a wheeling shape. Two wheeling shapes, Infinitesimal, patient, they wheeled and wheeled, while the man knelt watching, with his slingshot in his hand, for the anumal he must shoot and take home to Lorraine. At last, with disconcerting unexpectedness, a rabbit popped out of its hole and stared wildly about. Dirk saw, it, took careful aim, let the pebble fly and in a second the little furry animal kicked its last on the sand.

For a moment Dirk still knelt there, staring with bloodshot eyes at the inert form, then he staggered up, muttering, and seizing the rabbit by the ears, lurched on his way. He'd go home now—back to the canyon—and tell Lorraine not to worry—not to worry—he'd take care of her. Let the sheep go! What matter? What matter anything? Why worry? He had the rabbit——

Abruptly he paused, staring perplexedly about him as a flash of rational thinking struck through the darkness of his mind like lightning. What was he doing here? What was this rabbit for? The Indian—Lorraine—— It all came back with terrible clarity. He was following Lorraine—her footprints. Lorraine who was lost! Lorraine, who was stolen and held by the Indians! He was going to her rescue, giving the Indian a ransom to free her; and now he had lost the trail. Chasing this fool rabbit he'd lost the trail, for there were only his own uneven tracks everywhere he looked. Lorraine was gone. Gone—forever. He drew a great sobbing breath.

"Lorraine!"

The heart broken shout rose and rang through the silences as Dirk fell prostrate at last, but only the vultures heard it. Wheeling patiently, high in the blue sky, their black shapes flew lower, steadily lower, as they waited for the man on the sand to die.

WHY GAME A DRAW

To the Editor Examiner,

Dear Sir,—Having worked out the chess game, as reported in The Examiner of Friday, March 6, between Boris Kostich, Jugo-Slavian chess master and V. Cole, the query arises as to why the game was called a draw. I fail to see why it could be a draw, as there were twenty-two chessmen left on the board. Have any other chess enthusiasts in the city worked the game out, and if so what results did they obtain?

Amateur.

Ed. Note,—We are informed on good authority that the number of chessmen left on the board has little bearing on the decision as to whether a game is drawn or not. In some of the world championship games the game has been declared drawn with only two pieces off the board; the players having realized that the game if played to a conclusion, would only result in a draw. Move 18 reported as QR-QI should have been QR-KI.

BRITISH CANADIAN ANSWERS

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—Permit me space in your valuable paper in answer to "Another British Canadian."

"Another British Canadian," I am sorry you would take my letter in the way you did. I did not intend to insult anybody, but as you yourself must know, there are always those who take advantage of kindness and would not work.

Then again, there are people who would rather work for what they could get than receive relief and it hurts when they have to receive outside help. Yes, the city, and in fact everybody, who could, has helped wonderfully even to trying to aid anyone coming in from outside. I, myself, was married in Peterborough and had three of my four children christened in Peterborough. I lived there quite a few years.

My house stands on one acre of land and out of my pension I am trying with the aid of my husband, to make things meet. We haven't a big pension. I don't say everyone is looking for what he can get, but there are those in every city and I thought that it would be a great way for the city to find out those people who are deserving cases. I, myself, would rather have my husband in his perfect health as he was before the war than the pension he is receiving and his bad health.

I am a Peterborough backer and would like to see Peterborough the way it was years ago—on a sound footing with plenty of everything. But this depression is over all the world and I am sure Peterborough had done everything in her power to relieve the unemployment in every way.

Luxuries are a thing of the past, I guess. I haven't any oilcloth on the floors and I am sure it doesn't worry me any as long as the floors are clean and I can find the children bread when they are hungry.

I know there are hundreds worse off than I am and I wish I could help them, but I cannot, and so like others must bear it. I did not put that letter in to slur anybody or our City Fathers. As you say, they are trying to do their very best in every way possible to help relieve the situation and in time hope things will straighten themselves out for the better and we hope it will be very soon.

I always called Peterborough my home, having come to Peterborough twenty years ago from England. I spend every cent I can spend in groceries, etc., in Peterborough.

Hoping you will see my letter in the way I intended it and not as an insult and hoping for better times with lots of work, I am,

Yours respectfully,

British Canadian.

What To-day Means To You

"PISCES."

If March 11th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. The danger periods are from noon to 1:30 p.m. and from 10 p.m. to midnight.

Astrological influences on March 11th will be enervating, and you will have to fight against unpleasant moods and pessimism. Young people in the throes of love affairs will be unreasonably jealous and false suspicions may cause much unhappiness. Make tact and caution your watchwords!

The child born on this March 11th will have a very stubborn, wayward nature. It will not be unprincipled, however, and will be too "wise" to ever get into serious difficulties. It will respond to love and affection, and may be guided by tactful methods, when it will not heed commands.

You have little "fight" in your nature, and you are content to eke out your existence by occupying a mediocre position. You have ambitions, but when faced with obstacles, you give in to them immediately and relinquish all thought of achieving your original aim. You are a doot-mat under the feet of adverse circumstances. You do not know how to create your own opportunities and are many times blind to the ready-made ones which stare you in the face.

You suffer from the nervous affliction of never feeling sure that you are right, and any challenge immediately cause doubts to rise. Your convictions are unstable. You will never have a convincing or forceful nature until you acquire more self-assurance. You have too much ability to accept a back seat in life, but as yet you do not know how to display your talents. You have a good mind and clever hands, which are both "hog-tied" by foolish fears. Your roots of habit sink deep, and you are an inhabitant of ruts, out of which you dislike being ousted. You allow yourself to become mentally anchored, when it would be better for you to maintain a free and open mind. A proper mate will do much to bring you out of your shell, and love may open the real doors of happiness and success for you.

Record Gold Output For Transvaal Mines

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, March 9.—(By the Canadian Press)—A new record in the gold output in the Transvaal mines was reached in 1930, when the value was computed at $227,673,230, according to the Transvaal Chamber of Mines official statistics, including the gold production for December. In this past year three new records were established in monthly production and thus the 12 months' figures totalled more than any previous 12 months in the history of Transvaal mining.

The Transvaal's total production of gold during 1930 amounted to 10,719,760 fine ounces, an increase over the previous year's figures of 307,434 ounces. At the standard value of gold, the 1930 output represents a total of $227,673,230, an increase over the 1929 value of no less than $6,529,490.

The 1930 figure brings the Transvaal's production of gold since the commencement of the fields to the total of 250,163,852 fine ounces, representing (at the standard value which, of course, was supplemented by a "premium" amount to more than $150,000,000 during the war period) of no less than $5,313,142,590.

THOU SHALT KNOW HEREAFTER

When life's pilgrimage is over
And you've reached the shining strand
Where in fair and fadeless beauty
Stretches out Immanuel's land.

Then, our loving Heavenly Father
As the cloudless noonday clear
Shall make all earth's unsolved problem
To your raptured sight appear.

Trust Him, then, O Christian, trust Him,
Trust His wisdom, power and love,
For what now His mercy hideth
You shall learn, some day, above.

MUNICIPAL ACT WILL BE STUDIED

Special Committee Being Contemplated to Consolidate the Numerous Amendments.

MEET AT CLOSE OF SESSION.

TORONTO, Ont., March 11 (C.P.). —Appointment of a special committee to make an exhaustive study of the Ontario Municipal Act, is contemplated by the Government, Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Provincial Secretary, stated to-day. The Municipal Act is probably the most amended Act on the statute books, and the committee will review all aspects of the Act with a view to consolidating the many amendments added in recent years and bringing it up to date.

The composition of the committee has not yet been determined, but it will meet some time after the end of the session. Expert assistance and advice from legal officers and civic officials will be obtained. Mr. Macaulay made the announcement in the Municipal Law Committee of the Legislature to-day, when a number of amendments to the Act were under consideration.

The committee approved some provisions of a bill to give more power to townships bordering on large cities to regulate buildings. The councils may prohibit the erection of incinerators or other garbage plants in defined areas close to highways.

Less Than Acre in Size

Little Hope Rock, a ledge less than an acre in extent, jutting out from the sea two miles off Port Mouton Head, had been out of communication with the shore since Wednesday of last week when the easterly gale swept away the outbuildings, and with them the light's stock of food and fuel. The Lady Laurier, unable to land a boat on account of the high seas running at the time, attempted to communicate with the light keeper last Saturday but without great success. After refueling at Halifax, she returned to the scene this morning.

UNCERTAINTY REGARDING TAX REVISION AFFECTS BUYING.

The Ottawa representative of Hardware and Metal reports that interviews he has had with the trade in that territory show that these firms are not overly anxious to do much heavy buying of future supplies until it is definitely known what form the proposed new Federal tax is to take and how much it is to be increased over the present sales tax.

NEW YORK LIST DROPS 7 POINTS

N. Y. Central Railway Suffers Decline Following Dividend Announcement.

DOWNWARD TREND.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 11.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Reduction of the dividend of one of the primer trunk line railways took the wind out of bull sails in the stock market today.

Losses of 1 to 7 points or more became fairly general among more active issues as the day wore on, but it was notable that stock was not urgently pressed for sale, and principal issues were well taken on the way down. Reduction of New York Centrals annual dividend rate from $8 to $6 on the day succeeding the flotation of a large bond issue came as a surprise to some quarters, although it was well known that current earnings did not support the higher rate, and bankers pointed to the action as a striking commentary on the impregnable credit of this old Vanderbilt road.

New York Central stock rose 2 points in the early trading, but showed a loss of more than 2 after the dividend announcement. Other carrier issues were depressed Union Pacific losing 7, and Atchison 4. Byers, a recent pool favorite, was a weak feature in the industrials, losing 6 points. U. S. Steel and American Telephone were among issues losing 2 or more, and such stock as American Can, Radio, General Electric, Sears Roebuck, Kennecott, Anaconda, Standard of New York, and Bethlehem lost a point or more.

TORONTO LIST LOWER TO-DAY

Prices Decline as Toronto Exchange Reflects New York Influence.

MOTOR GROUP STRONG.

TORONTO, March 11 (By The Canadian Press).—Toronto stock exchange market drifted irregularly lower in uninspiring trading to-day, the local exchange reflecting New York influence. For the most part, losses were for less than a point.

Oils were outstandingly weak, the situation in the industry showing no improvement in the United States. British American equalled its low at 13, Imperial oil dipped under 15¼ to the lowest in a long time, and International Petroleum sold at its low of 12¾.

Offsetting weakness in the oils was the strength in the motor group. Ford was the chief actor locally, advancing one point to 28½ on a good turnover, a large part of which buying originated from New York. Durant Motors was less active and unchanged at 9¾.

Winnipeg Review

There was no feature to yesterday's wheat market, trading being the smallest in months. Offerings were very light, there being no pressure whatever in evidence. Exporters and seaboard houses were quiet, practically no business worked overnight. Trade both here and Chicago ignored the U. S. Government report on Farm Reserves which was construed as moderately bearish but this was offset largely by the firmness in Liverpool, that market closing 1-8 to ¼ higher, Buenos Aires was unchanged at 3 p.m. Local cash wheat continues very quiet, offerings are small and were being absorbed by terminal interests at unchanged spreads. Flour situation was unchanged. Bradstreet's available supplies decreased 1,051,000 bushel for the week, the figures now being 461,755,000 bushels as against 414,843,000 last year. Local market was quite firm during the first part of the day with early prices gaining half a cent from the close Monday night but this upturn was not held and the market was inclined to be draggy late in the day. Winnipeg futures closed 3-8 lower.

Coarse Grains.—These markets were also quiet yesterday with trade smaller than on several days past. There appeared to be some buying orders for barley and oats slightly under the market and some selling orders slightly over prevailing levels but very little changed hands. Cash markets generally quiet. Flax steady, demand small, no pressure. Liverpool due ½ lower.

LEASIDE FACTORY OFFERED TO NASH

Understood United States' Company Officials Negotiating With Durant People.

TORONTO, Ont., March 11.—(CP) —The facilities of the Durant Motor Company, at Leaside, Toronto suburb have been offered to C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motor Company according to the Toronto Star today.

The newspaper says it has learned from Roy D. Kerby, president of the Durant company, the services of the Leaside plant were equally available either to the Nash Company or the Hudson-Essex Company, which it was rumored, also were negotiating with Durants to manufacture cars at the Leaside factory.

C. W. Nash, who, the paper says, is in the city incognito, and three other officers of the company went into conference with the executive of the Breay-Nash Motor Company here. They would not divulge the nature of the meeting, assuring reporters a statement would be made public at the end of the session.

STOCK AT 90 FOR NEW HIGH

Miscellaneous Group Receives Greatest Amount of Trading on Standard To-day.

TREND IRREGULAR.

TORONTO, March 11 (By The Canadian Press).—Eldorado featured the early session on the Standard Stock and Mining exchange to-day, rising 7¾ cents to sell at 90¾, in heavy trading.

The miscellaneous group received the greatest amount of trading, but the trend in the group, as well as throughout the list, was irregular. Macanda yielded to profit-taking, and lost 2 to 40, while Ventures added ½ to sell at 62½. Other changes included Algonquin up 3-8, Ritchie 1½, Chibougaman 1, Arno 1½, and South Keora 1½; Central Patricia lost 1¾ and Nipissing 6.

Golds were quiet, with the exception of Bidgood, which, in heavy trading, added ¼. Siscoe, Big Missouri and Mining Corporation had small recessions, while Howey, and Sylvanite were up 1 and ½ respectively.

In the oils, Commonwealth added 3, Associated 1, and Chemical Research 15, while Home lost 2, and Acme 1½. B. A. Oil, Olga, and Nordon went unchanged.

MINING BRIEFS.

TORONTO, March 11 (Special to Examiner).— The Noranda report published today will come as a pleasant surprise to a number of shareholders. In spite of the fact double of the tonnage handled in 1929 was treated in 1930 ore reserves are increased by approximately 1,500,000 tons. Earnings of $1.71 per share compare with $1.91 the preceding year and almost covered the company's disbursements for the period of $1.75. Working capital position also is considerably improved.

With the annual report of the International Nickel Co. scheduled for release on Tuesday, R. C. Stanley, president, was somewhat reticent in discussing the affairs of the company in an interview today. He did admit, however, that the affairs of the company were in good shape and that the returns for the year were satisfactory in view of the many difficulties that confronted industry in general during the past fiscal period. There has been a steady improvement in operations to date this year.

New uses are being found for nickel, corrosion resistant steel of the nickel chromium type being in increasing demand. Adoption of more enduring standards by the large users of electroplated equipment, too, it was pointed out, was responsible for other profitable sources of outlet.

Diamond drill companies in Ontario employed approximately 300 men during 1930, and distributed around $500,000 in wages. The tendency during the year was toward lower cost of drilling, the tenders for contracts at the close of the year being somewhat below the estimates when the year commenced. Returns to the department of mines show approximately 79 miles in length of core was drawn by the various diamond drills operating in Ontario. In the five years, 1926 to 1930 inclusive, diamond drills operating in this province have drawn about 400 miles of core. The cost of this diamond drilling has been close to $6,000,000 or well over $1,000,000 yearly.

Diamond drilling is contemplated on the Holdsworth gold show near Hawk Junction in the Gondreau area, where a surface crew is now at work under the direction of B. C. Lamble. A diamond drill has been delivered at the location and will be set up shortly. Some of the nicest looking samples to come from that part of the Michipicoten field have been exhibited from the Holdsworth. It is said that a vein of good width and strength has been opened up in the work done to date and that diamond drilling will be done to establish depth conditions.

LAKEFIELD FANS GOING BY TRAIN

The Lakefield hockey club and fans who are bound for Norwood tonight decided to take no chances on motor transportation, and this afternoon it was understood they will go by train, leaving Peterborough on the local tonight and returning tomorrow morning The East Peterborough League game will start about nine o'clock, and according to reports there will be a dance after the game, and as a further attraction some of the local curlers are accompanying the team and will take on a rink or two of the Norwood club.

The Norwood road is blocked at its Peterborough end. On account of the work of clearing the snow from the center of the city and residential streets, the Board of Works department has been unable to get around to the road over the canal.

The highway is said to have been plowed between Norwood and Shearer's corners, but the rest of the route to Peterborough is said to be blocked by Sunday's snow.

Members Of Fire Department Turn Cowboy To Rescue Six Cattle From Watery Grave

A dramatic little incident occurred this morning when six cows belonging to J. T. O'Connel paid an untimely visit to the cemetery and then, evidently through preference, attempted to find a watery grave in Little Lake.

The cattle were being driven along Crescent Street, and when nearing the curve around to the cemetery made a sudden bolt towards the snowy graveyard. The beasts, finding themselves hard pressed by their owner, forced their way out and down towards the shore of the lake. It was not until they were well out on the ice that they discovered their chary predicament. Two cows crashed through the ice and were obliged to swim around. The other four were more fortunate and managed to stand on the bottom and keep their heads above water. The owner phoned to the Fire Department for help. "Cowboy" Brown with his two assistants, Jos Axtell and Foster, came to the rescue. With a remarkable display of lassooing and concentrated energy, they were able to save the lives of the six valuable cattle. The cows were then loaded on a wagon and taken to a nearby barn where they were warmed and given treatment.

CAPT. DUFF COOPER BITTERLY RAPS ATTITUDE OF LORD ROTHERMERE

Official Tory Candidate For St. Georges Resents Attacks Made on Baldwin.

BEAVERBROOK ACTIVE.

LONDON, March 11 (By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Correspondent).—"Lord Rothermere has not got the guts of a louse," bitterly remarked Captain Duff Cooper, Conservative candidate in the St. George's by-election, in a speech last night. "I must apologize for the language, but when you are fighting with the gutter press you have to use the language of the gutter," he continued. "Lord Rothermere has always confessed he does not understand classical English, therefore I am endeavoring to speak a tongue he does understand."

Baldwin Main Issue

The question of Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin's leadership is the main issue in this remarkable by-election, in which two Conservatives are only candidates in the field. The Beaverbrook and Rothermere press are giving energetic support to the unofficial Conservative, Sir Ernest Petter, and are denouncing Mr. Baldwin.

Stung to the quick by the attitude of the Rothermere and Beaverbrook organs, Captain Duff Cooper, the official Tory candidate, delivered a biting attack on the press barons last night. "Lord Rothermere, this man who denounces me as a softy and has always been in favor of a policy of cuttling, has never shown any courage in his life," he declared.

"Their attitude and mentality is emphasized once more by the very mean attack started against Mr. Baldwin. Lord Rothermere says Mr. Baldwin was a rich man and is a rich man no longer. He has forgotten that Mr. Baldwin gave one-fifth of his fortune to the country. Not a penny came from Rothermere; not a farthing from Beaverbrook. Now they are sneering at Mr. Baldwin for his poverty."

Beaverbrook Replies.

Meanwhile, at the meeting of Sir Ernest Petter, anti-Baldwin candidate, Lord Beaverbrook himself replied to Mr. Baldwin's description of him as an "insolent, irresponsible plutocrat."

"At any rate," said the Canadian-born newspaper peer, "I was not born a plutocrat. I am the son of a humble preacher of the Word. I have known what it is to work with my hands."

"Isn't Rothermere a plutocrat?" an interrupter asked.

"He is a very rich man," replied Beaverbrook, "but he is as generous as he is rich, constantly giving away money on the largest scale."

The battle is being waged in a safe Conservative riding, the seat being vacant by the death of Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, former Conservative Minister for War. He had a majority of 16,154 in a straight fight with a Labor candidate in the general elections.

CHEMONG ROAD IS PLOWED OUT

Twenty-five Men Opened Road Between Bridgenorth and Fourth Line.

The road from Bridgenorth to the intersection at the Lindsay Highway was opened to motor traffic yesterday, thus completing the work done on the Provincial Highway and providing a through route from this city to the little village on the shores of Chemong Lake. The herculean task was undertaken by the villagers themselves, who were not content to remain snowed-in. In the words of an eye-witness of the task, "it was a charitable work, undertaken without remuneration in a successful attempt to open the road to automobile traffic. Many of the men were unemployed, and are not car owners themselves."

Describing the concerted attack which was made on drifts of unusual size, The Examiner's informant states that an army of twenty-five men started out in the morning. They were preceded by a sleigh drawn by a sturdy team of horses owned by Fred Jopling. The sleigh was unladen, but was assisting a heavy-laden truck to force a road through the drifts.

Very frequently the truck and sleigh were almost completely buried, and at this stage the twenty-five villagers, each armed with a shovel, were on hand, and sturdily plied muscle and sinew, making further progress possible. The truck, owned by M. A. McWilliams of Bridgenorth, was loaded with wood. The state of the road was indescribable, but some idea of the job which confronted these men may be gleaned from the fact that it took several hours to cover the two and a half miles from the village to the turn at the 4th line of Smith. It was four o'clock in the afternoon before the work was completed.

The road in its present state is described as a canal, along which motorists need to exercise great care, as there are no turning-out places.

Never have the pine trees looked so pretty, it is stated. At present their branches, heavy-laden with snow, are bowed downwards and almost meet the large drifts which are piled up against their sturdy trunks.

NEW LINK SEEN FOR N. B. POWER

RESULT OF ENQUIRY.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., March 11. (CP)—Establishment of an important new link in the power development of New Brunswick is presaged in a statement received by the Telegraph Journal from N. C. Head, executive officer of the International Power and Paper Company, New York.

Mr. Head said expectations of improved business conditions in the immediate future have made it necessary for the company to inaugurate plans to supplement the power developments at Grand Falls, N.B., "either by additional storage facilities or by a steam plant, or both both." The announcement came as result of enquiry regarding the purpose of a bill to be brought before the present session of the New Brunswick Legislature providing for the taking over by the Gatineau Power Co. of the charter rights and properties of the Saint John River Power Company.

Mr. Head declared that in this connection the Saint John River Power Company and the Gatineau Company were both subsidiaries of the International Power and Paper Company and that their consolidation is designed to facilitate further expansion in New Brunswick.

DOG LOSES LIFE BUT SAVES BABY

NEVER SEEN AGAIN.

SEGUIN FALLS, Ont., March 11.—(C.P.)—Andre Minett's dog has gone where all good dogs go, but he is mourned not only in the household of his trapper, woodsman master, but by many neighbors in this backwoods settlement, for in his passing it was given the Minett dog to play an heroic role.

Last Saturday Mrs. Minett left her baby in a carriage some distance from the house in a clearing. At a time when only the family dog remained about the house three wolves appeared out of the bush, advancing towards the carriage. From a hill some distance away Mr. Minett saw his dog rush towards the carriage, and then advance towards the wolves ready for battle. He circled the wolves, and as they turned away from the carriage to attack him, the dog headed for the bush with the wolves in pursuit. He was never seen again. Mr. Minett points out that the dog could have escaped by running to the house, but this strange procedure in drawing the wolves back into the bush undoubtedly saved the baby's life.

SLIGHT FOOD CHANGES AFFECT THE BODY TREMENDOUSLY.

My grand niece weighed less at eight months than at birth, due to "Infantile eczema." Was plastered with ointments and unbathed for seven months—entire household exhausted from lack of sleep. I added vegetable juice to each bottle feeding, nothing more. After two days she slept fourteen hours without waking. Ointments then discontinued, baths resumed. No rash, no itching in four years since. Why? Vegetable juice alkalinized her blood, killing the acid-caused eczema. Alkaline Roman Meal has kept her blood alkaline since.

Alkaline Roman Meal also saved my life when the great Osler told me twenty-two years ago I could not live four months. Now at 72 not two per cent. of men 30 have muscles, strength or endurance equal to mine, built up out of alkaline Roman Meal. I'll send you a free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and other literature, also sample of Roman Meal and Kofy-sub, the new alkaline beverage, if you'll write for them to ROBT. G. LONDON, March 10 (A.P.)—Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, yesterday introduced in the House of Commons a resolution for acceptance by Great Britain of the League of Nations General Arbitration Act, providing for compulsory arbitration of international disputes.

"NOW REMEMBER my advice when you bath baby"..... Said the Nurse—

"BABY is doing nicely; his weight is right, his colour is good, and he is taking his food regularly. All you've got to be careful about is his skin, to prevent chafing or irritation. He needs a soap that is more than merely cleansing in action—he wants one that is mild, soothing and absolutely pure. I always recommend Infants Delight. Besides being pure, it contains boracic and is decidedly antiseptic without being at all harsh. In addition, it is very healing. By using Infants Delight, you have the advantage, not only of washing baby in a thoroughly pure soap, but also of giving him what amounts to a boracic sponge."

Infants Delight has been used with satisfaction by over a hundred thousand Canadian mothers. Try it for YOUR baby; your doctor will recommend it.

Stole 500 Chickens But Left His Card

A thumb print sent him here

IN A certain suburban district, 500 chickens had disappeared, but no one could find the thief. Then one morning, in the henhouse of E. O. Wagner, a pocket mirror was found. On that mirror was a thumb print.

In the finger print records of a nearby city was found a print that matched it. It said as plainly as a letter, "The man who stole those chickens is Albert Espens. He lives in Bakersfield. He is father of 11 children, but not straight."

They found the chickens in a tunnel, beneath the culprit's barn. They put him behind the bars. He made the mistake of leaving a record with a finger print impressed.

Pocket mirror with tell-tale thumb print

Germ-Laden Prints

This is told to remind you that you leave finger prints on everything you touch. And those finger prints are usually germ laden.

You pick up the germs from things others have touched, from handshakes, from pets, etc. Your touch may convey them to foods—to a piece of toast you butter, to a cookie, to a chocolate. A few of those germs may breed to millions in the mouth. From there they go to attack vital organs.

Life Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which may be conveyed in this way. Colds are the most common, perhaps. Any hand which has been used to check a sneeze or a cough becomes contaminated. And every touch of that hand, in the print it leaves, may spread colds.

How to be Safe

Lifebuoy Soap is used by millions, the world over, to combat these dangers. It contains a germicide. Its lather kills germs, or makes them inactive.

So wise people wash with it often, and always before meals. They teach their children the habit. Thus Lifebuoy, in every country, is saving a vast amount of sickness and infection.

A Delightful Way

Lifebuoy is a luxurious soap, based on two palm oils. No better soap was ever made, no greater beautifier. There is no perfume, but the lather is gentle and abundant. And a refreshing scent of safety, which lingers for a moment, tells you how it protects.

Another protection is against bodily odours. Use it for every bath. Then all evening or during the day, you may be sure of no offensive odour from the body.

If you will prove these facts, by a simple test you will always wish to have this luxury soap at hand.

Lifebuoy kept on the wash basin and bath enables everyone at home to benefit by it. Your dealer has Lifebuoy ready for you.

INCUBATION, HATCHING AND REARING OF CHICKENS SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

T. P. Gleave, Poultry Expert, Addresses Members of Poultry Association.

SLIDES ARE SHOWN.

"Incubation, hatching and rearing of chicks" was the subject of an interesting and instructive lecture delivered last evening by T. P. Gleave, poultry expert and research worker, before an assembly of the Peterborough Poultrymen's Association held in the Chamber of Commerce council room. Mr. Gleave has devoted the past 29 years of his life to the study of poultry, their productions and reproduction, and the diseases which are playing havoc among them. The lecturer's address was concluded by a series of slides depicting the growth of the chick inside of the egg from the first day of incubation until hatching time. These slides were made by Mr. Gleave himself during a period of nine years, and only after making thousands of investigations.

The beginning of the subject, declared the speaker, is in the breeding stock which must be the best that money and judgment can obtain. The birds must also be housed right, in safe, sunny and sanitary quarters. The hen house must be safe, so that quietness may make the hen "confident and comfortable." The flock must be fed right, with the widest range of foods possible. Satisfactory combinations of foods can be obtained from a large selection, but there is a special need for animal protein. Poultrymen must therefore study out the problems of foods, and in addition the more they know about incubation the better. They must know the contents of an egg, what it is used for, and the process of incubation itself.

"What is an egg?" said Mr. Gleave. "It is a life germ surrounded by a hard porous protective shell and has nourishment within it which will protect the growing chick until incubation and a few days afterwards until hatching." The speaker gave two reasons for the shape of the egg. First, the shape is such that it will roll in a circle, so that if it rolls out of a nest, it will return to where it left and be easily gathered in by the mother hen. Secondly, it will stand on the large end, leaving the air space at the top for breathing.

Every egg ever to be laid by a hen is contained within the chick. The egg-making organisms within the hen consist of the ovaries and the oviduct. The ovaries comprise the life cells, and the oviduct is where the eggs are actualy made. The life cells have several "yokes" hanging about the ovarian capsules. These are surrounded by veins. When a yoke becomes large enough, due to the surplus of energy over and above that required for body building, it splits off and enters the mouth of the oviduct. Three weeks are required for the making of a yoke.

The oviduct is a convoluted muscular tube about 26 inches in length during the laying period. When the yoke enters the oviduct it is started off in a twisting motion. Three or four layers of albumen are wrapped around it to keep the germ on the top of the egg. The real "white" is then put on. Two layers for the inner and outer membrane are added. Carbonates of lime and magnesium, etc. are used in the construction of the shell which is porous.

Incubation takes 14 days and hatching requires 7 days. Immediately an egg commences being incubated, there is a multiplication of the original life cells or germ, resulting in a circle of black dots around a white one. At the end of the first 24 hours, there are three divisions: the spine, the ribs and the heart. The skeleton is finished at the close of the second day. During the third day, the heart commences to beat and veins radiate from the embryo. On the sixth day there is a slight movement of the limbs. Every part is complete at the end of the eleventh day. The fourteenth day is a critical one in the growth of the chick; it changes from the embryonic to the hatching stage—the chick turns its head the long way of the egg, and towards the air space. On the eighteenth day it lays its head on its breast, under its wing. The beak then shoots out, and by the twentieth day its beak has pierced the air space. The chick then commences to breathe and to peep. The struggle for life ensues, for the chick must get out within a very few hours. In its awkward position it seeks the weakest part of the shell with its claws and beak. When finally it breaks through, it takes a deep breath of air, and again goes into the shell. The chick repeats this two or three times before casting off its shell and stepping out into the world.

From this time on poultrymen must give great care and attention to the brood. The chick has absorbed the yoke of the egg just before leaving its shell, and a food supply must be given which will be equivalent to the richness of the yoke.

Mr. Gleave made mention of two poultry diseases which are deleting flock after flock of birds, and referred to research work being carried on at the present. He was confident of the success of his 29 years of labor on these diseases, and promised the poultrymen of the world a remedy in the near future.

W.M.S. ALLOCATION FOR YEAR IS ANNOUNCED AT SOCIETY MEETING

Plan Arrangements For Bay of Quinte Conference to be Held in April.

AT ST. JAMES' CHURCH.

The Women's Missionary Society of St. James' United Church held their March meeting yesterday afternoon in Wesley Hall, with twenty-five members present. The president, Mrs. A. E. Moorhouse, presided and a most interesting and helpful program was given, opening with the hymn, "Jesus calls us, o'er the tumult," followed by prayer.

A short business session consisted of reports of committees as well as the minutes and the treasurer's reports—all of which were quite encouraging.

The announcement of the allocation for 1931 was brought before the meeting for acceptance by the secretary of Christian Stewardship and Finance. Announcement of the annual branch meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the W.M.S. to be held in St. Andrew's United Church late in April was made and the ladies were requested to arrange for the entertainment of delegates and report to the billeting committee by the end of March.

Arrangements for the distribution of Easter thankoffering envelopes were made and members appointed for this work.

Reception of fees and the offering concluded the business of the day.

The Lord's Prayer has formed a part of the devotional service at each meeting during the winter. To-day the phrase, "Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory," was the theme on which Miss M. Deyell spoke in a very beautiful scripture reading. Mrs. Ingham and Mrs. Curtis offered prayer for the workers both at home and in active service, and all joined heartily in singing "Lead on O King Eternal."

A temperance resolution which had been passed at the Presbyterian meeting was brought before the members of St. James' W.M.S. for acceptance and passed unanimously. Following this a tribute was paid to the life and work of the late Mrs. Plunkett, who was the promoter of the resolution. The president, in a brief word of appreciation, spoke of the great influence of the life so lately taken, as a direct challenge to each one of us to re-dedicate ourselves anew to this work. In further tribute the hymn, "I could not do without Thee," was softly sung by the members.

Watch Tower Heralds.

The Heralds on the Watch Tower brought in many interesting items of news from the various departments. Mrs. F. D. Armstrong reported on Christian Stewardship and read a story on the use of the envelope system.

The Temperance department was represented by Mrs. Sargent who dealt with its relation to child life.

Mrs. W. K. Sloan gave some very interesting excerpts from personal letters from missionary friends in India, who told of their experiences in their chosen field of labor. Mrs. Rose reported work being carried on in Africa, Mrs. Reesor spoke on Japan, which country is of special interest just now since it is the field under study by the auxiliaries.

Mrs. Dryadale also gave an interesting story of child life in Korea. The study for the month from "The Fruits of Christian Missions in Japan" was taken up by Mrs. H. Davidson who made the story a most profitable one in her splendid review of the chapter chosen for this meeting.

Misses Marjorie Stewart and Helen Spence sang a very appropriate duett, "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer", Miss Alleen Rose accompanying at the piano. "Oh Master Let Me Walk with Thee" was the closing hymn just before the benediction.

An interesting feature was the fact that the hymns used at Tuesday's meeting were chosen by a shut-in member, Mrs. G. H. Rowe, who was thus able to participate in the program.

Final arrangements for the Mother and Daughter banquet to be held on the 16th inst., were made by the committees in charge and a fine program is promised to the Mothers and Daughters of St. James'.

SCOUT CONCERT BEING PLANNED

GIVEN ON MARCH 20.

Plans for a grand Boy Scout concert to be held in the Collegiate Auditorium on Friday, March 20, were last night discussed at an informal little dinner meeting at Hooper's Tea Rooms by members of the executive of Peterborough Boy Scout Association, with President J. A. Sullivan in the chair.

The concert is to be put on by the combined troops of the city to raise funds for the extension of Scout work throughout the district, and already handsome subscriptions have been received for the cause from His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, H. Morrow, G. A. Morrow and the Kiwanis Club. The program which is to include exhibitions of Scout lore, and a camp scene, is to be considerably strengthened and augmented by the inclusion of prominent local artists. Tentative plans include the following, who are to be asked for their cooperation: Viola I. Payton, elocutionist; Frederic G. Mann, A.R.C.O.; Douglas Carlisle and Geraldine M. Collins, soloists; Joseph Minicolo, cornet soloist; Messrs. R. Hendry and J. Smith, and V. Coleman, boy soloist.

Commissioner Irwin from Boy Scout Headquarters, has also promised to be present.

There were present at last night's meeting besides the President: J. T. Hornsby, District Commissioner; J. A. McKone, Assistant District Commissioner; H. Scotheran, C. Rogers, E. Wolff, Chas. Coleman and A. L. Inch.

SMYRNA FEELS QUAKE.

ISTANBUL, March 11.—(C.P.)— A violent earthquake was felt last night at Smyrna. The population was terrified and rushed into the streets, cemetries and other open places. No details of damage were received here, all communications being severed.

British railways now have nearly $50,000,000 invested in bus lines.

EFDERAL DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR ISSUES REPORT ON PETERBORO' CO.

Valuable Booklet is Issued Describing Peterborough County.

GIVES WIDE SURVEY

Recently issued by the National Development Bureau, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, a comprehensive report on Peterborough County with special reference to its resources and industries, is now available by application to the Department.

The report, one of a series covering the counties of southern Ontario, aims to present in compact form the principal facts concerning the natural resources and industrial development of the County of Peterborough, with much other information of general interest.

The main sources of information for the compilation of the book have been reports issued by various branches of the Federal and Provincial Governments and the bureau acknowledges the assistance received from such authorities, as well as from officers of municipalities, the the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce and Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Lakefield Board of Trade and individual manufacturers throughout the county.

That the report adequately fulfills a long felt need for some kind of condensed and reliable information touching upon every phase of the County's industrial and economic life, its topographical features and municipal statistics, is the general opinion of business men who have been asked for an expression of opinion.

Among the numerous maps included in the report, are those in two colors touching upon the geography of the County, its raw resources and industrial plants.

Industries

"Peterborough County with its numerable raw resources and its strategic situation for distribution has attracted an extensive and diversified list of valuable industries some of them not only marketing their goods throughout Canada but shipping to many parts of the world," states one chapter of the report.

"In the whole county investigation shows that there are, including dairy factories, 152 manufacturing concerns of which 82 are located at Peterborough City, 14 at Lakefield, 9 at Havelock and 13 at Norwood. This constitutes a very pronounced concentration in the southerly and urban centres. The remaining 34 industries are mostly saw mills, grist mills and dairy factories, in the rural sections of the county."

"An impressive illustration of the important place of these manufacturing plants in the city of Peterborough, as revealed by the latest published Government reports. The industries in that city alone, for the year 1928, had aggregate capital invested of $34,795,223, employed 5,349 persons receiving $5,712,694 in salaries and wages, and produced goods having a value of $36,124,000. In fact while Peterborough city was surpassed in total population by 10 other cities in Ontario, the annual value of its output of manufactured goods ($1,689,000) per thousand of population, was exceeded by only one of those 10 larger cities.

Population Grows Fast in England

LONDON, Eng., Mar. 11. (CP) Figures of the English Registrar General published to-day revealed the population of England and Wales at increasing faster than ever.

Last year had the lowest death rate on record in the two countries and the increase in population by excess of births over deaths was 194,033. It was the decrease in the death rate rather than an increase in the birth rate which made for increase in population, the birth rate being the same as in 1929, 16.3 per thousand, which was the lowest ever recorded.

The death rate was 11.4 or two below 1929 and .2 below 1923 and 1926, which represented the previous lowest figures. The infant mortality rate was 60 per thousand, also the lowest figure ever recorded.

FASCISTS BREAK UP SESSION.

MUNICH, Bavaria, March 11.—(C. P.)—Ink bottles and ash trays were used as missiles by Fascist members of the City Parliament in an attack on Peoples Party deputies during debate last night.

After a fist fight the session was closed. The People's Party deputies did not share the Fascist views on a measure under discussion.

Man Overboard—An Unrehearsed Pose

A quick-thinking photographer snapped this unusual picture of what was probably the subject's most thrilling moment. As the liner Mauretania was putting into Cherbourg Harbour, France, one of its passengers, Mr. F. Hyde, fell overboard. There was another quick-thinker on board, besides the photographer, in the person of Sir Malcolm Campbell, famous auto racer, who threw the life buoy shown in the picture. Mr. Hyde was rescued by one of the liner's boats.

BRITISH INDUSTRIAL PARLIAMENT SUGGESTED BY LABORITE MEMBER

Would Not Interfere With Present Body, and Relieve it of Many Details.

SCHEME BEING STUDIED.

LONDON, March 11 (By George Hambleton, C. P. Staff Correspondent).—On its slow course before Parliament at Westminster, is a bill to establish a British Parliament of Industry. Hon. G. L. Mander, Labor Member of Wolverhampton, sponsor of the bill, has secured leave to introduce the bill without opposition, but is prepared for the time being to leave it there for study. The Industrial Parliament would consist of 200 members. Sixty would represent the House of Lords and House of Commons; one hundred each, employers and trade unions; and forty would be ex-officio. The new Parliament would act as conciliator in threatened strikes or lockouts, and would sift measures affecting industry before they were submitted to the main Parliament. "It would not interfere with the present Parliament," said Mr. Mander, "and I believe would assist in relieving it of a lot of detail."

WHY SUFFER FROM YOUR LIVER?

Why be handicapped with unsightly blotches on the face, eyes with yellow tinge and that tired and languid feeling? This indicates a torpid liver.

Headache, Dizziness and Biliousness surely follow. You must stimulate your lazy liver, start the bile flowing with Carter's Little Liver Pills.

They also act as a mild laxative, purely vegetable, free from calomel and poisonous drugs, small, easy to swallow, and not habit forming. They are not a purgative that cramps or pains, unpleasant after effect following, on the contrary a good tonic. All druggists 25¢ and 75¢ red pkgs.

This should be an attractive opportunity for the thrifty business man to save on his budget for office supplies.

The teams are: H. W. Jordan, captain; P. Stinson, Dr. H. A. Turner, J. W. Hutchison, F. W. Pendrie, D. Sheppard, R. I. Fallis, Ivan L. H. Gray, T. A. Wood, H. G. Elson, C. B. Sutton.

The daily program is arranged as follows: Thursday, March 26, first day, popular Broadway play, "Turn to the Right", by the Peerless Players; March 27, afternoon, Unusual Specialities, by Lowell Patton Artists; evening, Grand Concert, Lowell Patton Artists; March 28, afternoon, Gala Entertainment, The Elias Tamburtza Serenaders; evening, Musical Interlude by the Tamburitza Serenaders, and lecture "By the Peaceful Pastures of Palestine," by Julius Caesar Nayphe, who was born in Damascus and is a royal entertainer. Last year capacity houses greeted the Chautauqua artists on every day of the Festival, and it is hoped this success may be repeated again this season.

STREETS CLEARED IN LAKEFIELD

Cement Company's Snow Plough Renders Valuable Assistance in Lakefield.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

LAKEFIELD, March 11. — The snow storm on Sunday blocked traffic in a way that has not been in years. The snow plough appeared on Monday morning and was accompanied by a gang of men with shovels and during the day the entire village was opened up for traffic. Two teams of horses attached to the Cement Company's snow plough opened the road to the Grove. Sunday congregations were reduced to their lowest terms as the snow was almost impassible. The C. R. N. trains ran in on Monday on time and the local mails were according to schedule. Rural mails were unavoidably delayed.

The death in Peterboorugh last week of Mr. J. N. Bacon was deeply regretted by a wide circle of friends in Lakefield, especially in curling circles, where Mr. Bacon was well-known. A good curler and a good sportsman, he knew how to win with grace and lose with a smile. He exemplified the best ideal of British fair play in sport.

Lakefield Personals.

In TORONTO The KING EDWARD HOTEL

Only a HAND-KER-CHIEF

BUT it was no joking matter to the bride. Someone had stepped on her "going away" handkerchief. The rare little bit of handed-down lace was crumpled and soiled. And it had to be washed with infinite care. Could we? We could and did.

We rather pride ourselves on our ability to take care of our guests. You'll find it reflected in rooms that have closets big enough to hold all your clothes . . . in every appointment which a hotel worthy of the name provides. But what you'll be sure to notice is a spirit of extra service, in all the little things which United Hotel employees are taught to take the time to do well!

"Meet me at The King Edward Hotel" is the byword among experienced travelers who visit Toronto. The register of this world-famous hotel contains more members of royalty, leaders in the business and social worlds than any hotel in the Dominion. The supreme cuisine of Claude Baujard . . . the music of Luigi Romanelli . . . and the most convenient location, are but 3 of the exclusive King Edward attractions.

The Kingston Whig-Standard of recent date contains an interesting account of a play presented in the Kingston Grand Opera House by the Dramatic Guild of Queen's University. The young people chose "Baa, Baa, Black Sheep," a comedy by P. G. Wodehouse and Ian Hay. The account says: "The show was good. The comedy and brilliant dialogue of Wodehouse brought the laughs as it always does, and the actors were extremely well suited in their parts. Those who were particularly good in their parts were Bert Gardiner as Aubrey Wyndrum, the wooden-headed clergyman; Art Pettapiece as Sergeant Gannet, the officious police officer, and Mary Medd as Mrs. Pottle, the proud mother of the servant girl, who for a short time almost married above her station, although her heart was in the keeping of another." Miss Mary Medd, who was described in another account, in the Varsity publication, as being extremely good, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Medd.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Have you readers ever heard the saying, "Haste Makes Waste?"

* * * * * * *

It is the proverb of the plodder and the consolation of the slow worker and soothes the spirit of the person who "has worked all day" but who has accomplished very little.

* * * * * * *

Only when deliberation is necessary to the proper understanding of the processes of work, or when accuracy, and better craftsmanship are promoted thereby, does haste make waste.

* * * * * * *

If these essentials to good work are attainable plus speed, then it is that slowness not haste, that is detrimental. Time is the wasted element, and his is a worker's prized asset.

* * * * * * *

A homemaker should be one of the first to discriminate between haste that wastes and haste that helps.

* * * * * * *

The regular routine household tasks become so familiar that the rythhm of them should be rapid and no deftness be lost. Avoid getting the plodder's pace in performing them.

* * * * * * *

It is so easy to set a slow tempo in these things, which can then take up practically the entire day.

* * * * * * *

Speed up the action and have time for the unusual and consequently the more interesting features of the day.

* * * * * * *

There is always something more than routine work in a day that a homemaker would like to have time for. Learn to make haste without waste. Set a new adage before you—haste that helps.

* * * * * * *

If you are one of the people who has been consoled by this adage, why not turn over a new leaf now and be consoled only with the proverb, "Haste that Helps," and avoid the plodder's pace which wastes time.

Our Mail

Conducted by ANNE WILCOX

Dear Anne:

A few days ago you had a talk about being alone. I have had cause to pity people who could not be comfortable, nor happy, when alone.

Oh, how I love a chance to be alone; to have peace, quiet and time just to think or work and think; to uninterruptedly get through some piece of work of any kind, to read, or to have a quiet evening to really talk things over with the good man or sew or knit while he talks to me or reads, for just to have a quiet meal together.

I love to have the men all away for a meal, or just the girls and I, though she generally contrives to think up some special dainty, while my delight is a bowl of bread and milk. When everyone is out of earshot I can enjoy a bit of music. Oh, there are so many things I just jump at a chance to be alone for. No matter how I am placed never have I been lonely.

Now, dear Anne, do not think I am a hermit, or dislike company. I love it, but there is a time to be alone in this hurly-burly rush of life there seems to be too little of it. I have been away where for months I saw no one with whom I could associate, but where there was so much else that there was no loneliness; some pitied me, but I learned much.

There are people who never spend an evening at home by themselves, nor just with their families. They could not live, if alone. Their children are like unto them. Home is a place to eat and sleep and have company, that is all. Even if the company be always good, the habit is wrong.

I have known teachers to give up schools, nurses give up cases, wives to persuade their husbands to give up good positions, simply because they always wanted company; they could not entertain themselves. If they must be alone, they become morose.

If we want to get the best out of life we absolutely must be alone, sometimes We cannot always depend on others' Some can work best with others around; I cannot work so well and positively dread baking with anyone around. Results are not usually good.

The higher things of life demand quiet To be broad we must spend time alone with our Maker. Children need play and playmates. They should also be taught to entertain themselves while so. They should also need to be taught teamwork, as well as their place in society with companions, and organizations, in which they should be interested. The person who simply cannot be alone is rarely a good listener, and what he says, does not often amount to much; he has had no chance for downright thought.

At times the loneliest place is a crowd of people. We, in the country, have such wonderful chances which those in the city have not. There are disadvantages, but they seem overbalanced.

I will stop, but when country life comes in, I do not know where to stop.

Best wishes for you and neighbors,

Sincerely,

Quid Est.

Thank you so much, Quid Est, for your most interesting letter, and I am hoping that many of the younger folks will read it. I know some young people who simply could not spend a night at home, but must be up and going. Sometime, perhaps, they will realize their folly when it is too late!

WHAT CAN YOU EXPECT FROM REMOVAL OF TONSILS

You have perhaps been advised to have your tonsils removed, but before doing so you naturally want to know just how much benefit you may expect from their removal.

In the first place you should try to find out if your tonsils are really to blame for your rheumatism—arthritis—for your kidney or heart ailment, so before the tonsils are even removed the teeth should be thoroughly examined and tested by means of the X-ray. The teeth are very frequently to blame and tonsils should not be removed until some months after infected teeth have been extracted. Even after the bad teeth have been removed the poisons remain in the blood for months and many of the organisms have been found in the large intestine nearly a year afterwards.

However, when it is finally decided that your tonsils are to be removed, what can you reasonably expect as far as any joint, kidney or heart trouble is concerned. The results in the cure of acute or chronic rheumatism from the removal of tonsils are among the most brilliant that are obtained in medicine.

In truth, immediately after the operation there is often an increase in the pain and other sumptoms due to the stirring up of the poisons in the tonsils and the fact that these poisons get into the blood in large quantities at one time, but in a few days or a couple of weeks the pain and symptoms go away and do not return.

In fact your doctor will tell you of scores of cases where the pain and swelling disappeared almost immediately.

But what about kidney or heart ailments that have been caused by bad tonsils?

If the structure of the kidneys or heart has been damaged you can hardly hope or expect that they can be repaired. This you should know before operation.

However, you can readily see that if the tonsils are removed there can be no further damage done to the kidneys or heart, because you will have no more infected tonsils to cause damage. The poison factory has been closed down for good. You can likely get along all right even with your damaged heart and kidneys if you have no more attacks.

Further, if the tonsils must come out and you are able to withstand the operation, see that a complete job is done. The X-ray, the electro-coagulation, snaring a portion of the tonsils and leaving stumps, are not considered the best forms of treatment, when there is no reason why the complete job should not be done.

Australia's apple crop this year is estimated at 7,000,000 bushels.

Arrangements Made For Church Banquet

Mothers and Daughters of St. James' United Church to Hold Annual Gathering.

The March meeting of the Y.L. Mission Circle was held last night at the home of Mrs. E. J. Wagar, Lock Street, with a large representation of members present, Miss Jessie Martin, president, was in the chair. The opening hymn was followed by prayer offered by Hazel Nixon. A duet, "I will follow in His footsteps," was contributed by Misses Jennie Smart and Marion Wood. The Scripture lesson, from St. John's Gospel, was read by Miss Marjorie Baldry. The business was dealt with and plans completed for assisting in the mother and daughter banquet to be held soon. The Circle members were honored with an invitation which was accepted to present a pageant at the branch meeting to be held in the city during the latter part of April. The study book, "The Fruits of Christian Missions in Japan," was given by Miss Jean Hammond, who synopsized a part of the chapter on the historical review of Christian work in Japan in a most interesting and comprehensive manner. The report brought by the Circle delegate, Miss Zetta Wood, frim the Presbyterial meeting gave a splendid survey of the activities of this gathering. Many excellent suggestions for Circle work were reported, with practical ideas for adding variety to the program. In concluding this part of the program the members joined in singing "Prayer changes things," and prayer was offered by Mrs. Rose for our adopted missionary, Miss Jean Gillespie of Japan. An Irish contest caused much merriment during the social hour following, while the refreshments and decorations carried out the St. Patrick color scheme, and were served by the hostesses for the month, Misses Jessie Martin, Jean Hammond, and Connie Wagar.

Silver Blonde is Loveliest, Says Noted Artist; Men Who Know Prefer the Creamed Coffee Skin

NEW YORK, March 11—Women who are lovelier than all others, in the eyes of Reynaldo Luza, famous fashion artist, are silver blondes, with skin the color of slightly-creamed coffee.

Sophisticated gentlemen says Luza, not to mention less exacting gentlemen, react to a silver blonde with creamed-coffee skin in a manner akin to rapture.

Luza should know. He is really Count Luza de Luza of Peru, representative of Harper's Bazar in Paris, and he moves in the cosmopolitan world that qualifies him to speak.

He got out his drawing boards yesterday immediately after his arrival at the Hotel Madison on one of his infrequent visits to this country. He intended to make a few sketches of American society girls. He said:

'American girls keep their slim figures better than any other women. They make wonderful models for the European modistes.

"Styles for women today are beautiful, comfortable, distinguished, feminine and adaptable. It is a happy style era. Those short baggy frocks that made men of women, showing no feminine curves never will come back.

'Every woman can dress in a way to make herself fascinating. All women can't be pretty, but they can be smart. Intelligent men prefer charm and chic to pretty-prettiness.

'American girls often put on terrible facial make-ups. Subtle make-ups must be studied. They can be the difference between plainness and beauty. Only stupid men object to women making up."

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET.

Splendid Papers Are Given at Session Held in Queensboro.

QUEENSBORO, March 11. (Examiner Correspondence.)—There was a good attendance at the Young People's Union on Friday evening. The meeting was opened by singing "Jesus I my cross have taken," followed by The Lords Prayer in unison. Miss Ida McCaw read the scripture lesson from Gal. 4; 19, 10; 5:22-26; Acts 17:28.

Miss McCaw also explained the lesson, pointing to Paul's joy in believers who were loyal and true to their church. Mrs. Samuel Dunning gave a paper on "Pentecost" pointing out that in Pentecost the whole group in the upper room received the Holy Ghost and that Pentecost was evidence of power coming from without and not some dormant faculty in man that had been aroused or awakened.

Mrs. J. F. Everson gave a paper entitled, "The house we live in" in which it was noticed that one's thoughts, words and actions were the makers of life, and showing how that life was according to our choices, our likes and dislikes and that we have to live with ourselves. Miss Marion Love sang sweetly, "You can help someone." Other hymns used were "Jesus loves me this I know" and "Jesus is tenderly calling thee home."

JERUSALEM VISIT MEETS OPPOSITION

Difficulties May Arise Over Proposed Archbishop of Canterbury's Trip to Holy Land.

VATICAN CITY, March 11.— (By the Canadian Press.)—Vatican Circles have learned unofficially that the Holy See has made representations to the British Government regarding the situation which might be created in Jerusalem by the proposed visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury on J. P. Morgan's yacht.

The Vatican, it is understood, is not directly opposed to the visit, but pointed out that the visit might be interpreted in Palestine as an Anglican bid for part possession of the Holy Sepulchre now guarded by four religions, the Roman Catholic, the Greek, the Armenian and the Copt.

It was said that if the Archbishop visited the Sepulchre it would be necessary to received him with full honors, thus creating a precedent.

Several years ago the Archbishop cancelled a visit to Jerusalem when similar objections arose.

"Hasn't Scratched Yet"

OUR DESTINATION IS
1931 PROSPERITY STREET

ALL CANADA, and the rest of the world for that matter, has been detouring away from PROSPERITY STREET.

We've been groping down dark and uncharted lanes...Over-production, Cheap Money, Heedless Speculation and Easy Credit...these are the by-ways we have been traversing in our riotous ramblings that led us to a blind alley of Depression.

The great trouble was an excess of Cheap Money, making it easy for everyone to run into debt. A wild stock market was another consequence and Over-production another.

But great forces are now at work generating this return to Prosperity. We're getting used to doing without Cheap Money...we're adjusting ourselves to rely on savings, both in what we buy and in what we invest, rather than to gain by the hysteria of Speculation.

We've come to realize that Over-production often meant hurried production . . . the slighting of quality to produce volume . . . to hide cheapness under the veil of Low Price.

But we've changed our tempo to produce quality rather than volume and that in itself means more substantial value to the consumer and fortunately the re-adjustment is attended by lower cost on better grade commodities.

For the past six months merchants have been selling more than they have been buying and the country has been consuming more than manufacturers have been producing. A situation of this sort leads inevitably to a spurt in business with the ensuing result of Prosperity to wage-earners as well as retailers and manufacturers.

Surely 1931 is fraught with promise and beckons us all to turn the corner into PROSPERITY STREET

Toronto Maple Leafs Held to a 3-All Tie at Boston

WEILAND SINKS TIEING COUNTER IN 3RD PERIOD

SPECTACULAR HOCKEY.

Senators Triumph in Uphill Struggle—Brilliant Canucks Outscore Hawks.

TORONTO, Ont., March 11 (By George Maguire, C.P. Sports Writer) —Four visiting teams returned to their home cities to-day with little to show for their efforts in last night's National Hockey League fixtures. Toronto Maple Leafs were the only team to secure a point which they collected at Boston where they held the Bruins, champion sof the United States section for the fourth consecutive year, to a 3-all tie.

Chicago Blackhawks left Montreal after finishing on the short end of a 2 to 1 count in their game with Les Canadiens, Canadian group champions. Philadelphia Quakers clashed with Ottawa Senators in a battle of tail-enders and lost out, 5 to 3, but not before they had extended the senior loop cellar occupants into overtime. In the fourth scheduled match Detroit Falcons fell victim to the losing complex of visiting teams when they dropped an important game to New York Rangers, 3 to 2, and except for a slight mathematical chance, can count themselves out of the play-offs.

While the visiting teams failed to garner many points they certainly provided more than ordinary opposition for the home clubs. The Leafs had their game with the Bruins well in hand just eight minutes from the end when they were leading, 3 to 1, but "Cooney" Weiland, crafty little Hub centre, snapped two clever goals into the cage within six minutes to knot the count and shatter the Leafs' hopes of registering a victory in Boston, something they haven't accomplished in years.

The Blackhawks failed to match speed with the Canadiens in the Forum, but they kept the result in doubt until the very end. Pete Lepine took Aurel Joliat's pass for the first Habitant marker halfway through the opening frame, but Lola Couture squared matters less than a minute after the start of the second by scooping a pass out from "Doc" Hommes into the Canuck cage.

"Chuck" Gardner, regular choice of the experts for all-star goalkeeper, was mainly responsible for the teams remaining deadlocked until late in the last chapter. During the closing minutes of the second period and throughout the third, he turned aside a steady barrage of shots from the Canadien snipers, and it was not until Marty Burke made a perfect play that he finally was beaten. The hard-hitting Habitant defenceman passed to Nick Wasnie, standing directly in front of Gardner for the winning goal with less than five minutes to go.

One Point in Lead

Chicago's defeat coupled with Rangers' victory leaves the Black-Hawks only one point ahead of the New Yorkers. The latter, however, have played two more games and are hardly likely to finish better than third.

Bill Cook, rated the greatest right winger in hockey, practically assured his team of a play-off berth by scoring the deciding goal against Detroit, late in the overtime session. Bill gave brother Fred the pass for Rangers' first goal in the frame and took the lead in the race for point scoring honors in the United States section. He has notched more tallies than any player in either section.

Paul Thompson gave the Rangers a two-goal lead early in the third but the Detroiters rallied to score twice and even the count.

The Senators nearly lost their first game of the season to the Quakers when the Philadelphians unleashed a neat passing attack which netted them three markers in the first 20 minutes.

Art Gagne teamed up with Danny Cox and Bill Touhey to reduce the margin by two in the first two minutes of the second period, and Cox knotted the count on a pass from Gagne late in the third. In the overtime the Senators proved much the better and scored twice to clinch the verdict.

PICK EVERTON AS THE WINNER IN CUP FINALS

Interest on Saturday Will Centre Around Semi-Final Cup Games.

DRAW ANNOUNCED

TORONTO, March 11.—Interest in the old country on Saturday settled around the semi-finals for the English and Scottish Cups, and it is interesting to compare the records of the teams engaged in previous cup competitions. West Bromwich Albion and Everton, two second division teams, are down to meet on the Manchester United ground and there are many who think that Everton will not only win the second division title, but will take the cup. Everton won the cup in 1906 when the defeated Newcastle United 1 to 0, and they were runners- up in 1893, 1897 and 1907.

West Bromwich Albion won the cup way back in 1888, defeating Preston North End 2 to 1. They were runners-up four times, in 1886, 1887, 1895 and 1912.

The other semi-final brings Birmingham and Sunderland or Leeds of the first division together. Neither of these clubs has its name inscribed on the trophy, though Sunderland was the runner-up in 1913.

In the semi-final of the Scottish Cup, Kilmarnock, winners of 1920 and 1929, meet Celtic at Hampden Park. Celtic have won the trophy eleven times, in 1892, 1900, 1904, 1907, 1908, 1911, 1912, 1914, 1923, 1925 and 1927.

Orangeville Defeated By Belleville Sextet

BELLEVILLE, March 11.—Belleville Collegiate and Vocational hockey team was not even extended last night when they won their district in the Interscholastic series, defeating Orangeville High School 10 to 0. By the win Belleville will represent Central Ontario in the Interscholastic finals to be played in Toronto this week-end. Orangeville could offer no defense against a team that had too much speed, played better combination and checked back at every opportunity.

Morgan, Sherry and St. Denis shared the scoring honors, each tallying three times, the other counter being scored by McGuire. Sherry had one assist and Morgan two, the other goals being scored on individual efforts. Sherry was always a threat, his skating being a prominent feature with Morgan following closely.

Kearns was easily the best for Orangeville, with Rhoamer a close second. Walker exhibited nice stickhandling and poke-checking ability in centre ice, but was taken out of the play with fast back-checking.

Belleville—Goal, Scopis; defense, Byrnes and Sherry; centre, McDonald; wings, McGuire and Morgan; subs, St. Denis, Hughes and Graves.

Smythe-Ross Feud Renewed in Boston

BOSTON, Mass., March 11.—A long-standing hockey feud between Art Ross and Connie Smythe, managers of the Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs, flared up here last night after the spectacular 3—3 overtime tie game played by those keen National League rivals.

Ross said he terminated an argument by aiming a blow that Smythe sidestepped.. Bystanders prevented the Bruins' pilot from taking further physical action.

As a result of the mixup, Smythe ordered the immediate recall of Benny Grant, a spare goaltender, whom he had loaned to the Boston Canadian-American League Club, the Bruins' minor league farm.

Grant, however, was ordered to ignore Smythe's recall by his manager, Eddie Powers, who claimed the Toronto club had agreed to demand the player's return only in the event that Lorne Chabot, regular Toronto goalkeeper, was injured.

CRAWFORD HAS NOTABLE RECORD

Prince Albert Minto's Coach Played on Four World's Championship Teams.

RESIDES ON FARM

SASKATOON, Sask., March 11 (By The Canadian Press)—Twenty years in professional hockey, during which time he played on four world's championship teams, is the remarkable record of Russell "Rusty" Crawford, coach for the Prince Albert Mintos. Having outlasted ninety per cent of the players who performed with him in his best days, Crawford attributes his lasting qualities to his life on the farm.

"I was always fit when the season opened," he remarked. "I like farm life, and I like to play around with the boys and coach them in amateur hockey. They are the future stars of the hockey world."

Crawford, with his wife and seven children, live on the farm which he filed on as a homestead in the early days of his career. He is a successful mixed farmer.

When "Rusty" did not report for hockey duty last autumn, it was the first time since 1912 that his name had not appeared in the line-up of some professional team either in Canada or the United States. His exact age—a mystery to his friends, is estimated to be somewhere around fifty. He commenced his hockey career at Vernon, Ont., his home town.

Coming to Western Canada, he first went to Vancouver to work for a packing company. He left there in the fall of 1907, intending to go to Montreal to play with the Wanderers in the National Hockey association. But W. M. Van Valkenburg, of Regina, who later donated the senior trophy to the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey association, met him at the Regina station and persuaded him to play for the Capital city team that season. "Rusty" proved a valuable addition to the Regina team and his fame spread throughout the province. The years 1908-09 found him with the Prince Albert Mintos.

In 1910 he played with Saskatoon Ho-Hos, or Wolesalers and with a Saskatoon all-star team in Winnipeg. During the 1910 season "Rusty" joined the Quebec Bulldogs, in the National association and helped that club to win the league championship and the Stanley cup. He was one of the stars of the Quebec team which boasted such notables as Joe Hall and Mummery. He broke into print during the winter of 1913 by clashing with another veteran of to-day, Newsy Lelonde, who then was playing with the Montreal club.

The Quebec team broke up in 1919 and Crawford was sold to the Toronto Arenas and in 1918 was on his second Stanley cup team when the Arenas defeated Vancouver for the honors.

In 1921-22, when R. M. "Bob" Pinder recruited an "amateur" team to represent Saskatoon in the Big Four league, he signed "Rusty" as one of his forwards. When pro hockey made its debut on the prairies, he went to Calgary Tigers and again stood out as one of the best forwards in the circuit. Calgary traded him to Vancouver Maroons where he played until the Western Canada League disbanded. Vancouver sold him to Minneapolis Millers, in the then American Association, and now the American League. Since the 1926-27 season "Rusty" played with the Millers and, despite his years, was in the line-up practically every game that his team played. Even last winter, when many people thought him through, he came through when a goal was needed when his blistering shots put his club on the right end of the score. At mid-season his weight generally was less than 150 pounds.

SOLDIERS HOLD CHATHAM TO TIE IN SECOND TILT

Holding Maroons to 2-all Stalemate, the Cadets Win on Round 4 to 3.

EVEN COUNT IN THIRD.

Niagara Falls Entertains West Toronto in Junior Final To-night.

TORONTO, Ont., March 11 (C.P.) —Only one Ontario Hockey Association championship is at large to-day and its future destiny is likely to be decided to-night when Niagara Falls Cataracts entertain West Toronto, in the Junior final.

The match is the second of home-and-home games and, while West Toronto enjoy a one-goal lead secured in the first engagement at Toronto, they will likely be forced to bring to the fore every ounce of their fighting spirit to retain the lead. The winner of this game, in addition to being crowned O.H.A. titleholders, will also qualify to meet Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds, Northern Ontario Hockey Association representatives, in the Memorial Cup play-downs.

Royal Military College, Kingston, won the Intermediate crown last night by holding Chatham Maroons to a two-all stalemate at Kingston. The Cadets won the first game at Chatham on Monday by 2 to 1, and therefore won the round, 4 to 3.

The Maroons commenced last night's game like certain winners when they tied the score on the round in the first minute of play. Both teams appeared tired following the gruelling game of the previous night and most of the scoring efforts were feeble.

The Soldiers took the lead in the last minute of the second frame and increased their margin early in the third. A minute later, the Maroons tied the score on the game but failed to break through for the winning counter.

On Thursday night at Toronto the newly-crowned Intermedite champions swing into action against Sudbury Wolves, N.O.H.A., Senior title-holders, in a "sudden-death" game to decide who will meet Hamilton Tigers, O.H.A. Senior champions in the Allan Cup playdowns.

JACKETS LEAD LONDON CLUB

London Tecumsehs and Pittsburg Tie for Fourth Position in International League.

BULLDOGS SPLIT POINTS.

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 11. (CP)—With the majority of the clubs having only four more games to play the race in the International hockey league has resolved itself into a struggle for the last play-off berth.

London Tecumsehs and Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets are the contenders for the fourth position, with the league leading Buffalo Bisons, second place Windsor Bulldogs and third Place Indians appearing to have their berths clinched.

Last night the Yellow Jackets gained a point on the Londoners by defeating Cleveland, 1 to 0, while the Bulldogs were holding Tecumsehs to a goalless tie in the Forest City.

Tex White, slender right winger, kept alive the Smoky City hockeyists play-off hopes by converting a pass pass from "Whitey" Fields into a well-earned goal late in the opening frame. While both sides opened up wide in a vigorous assault on the opposing goalkeepers no further scoring occurred and the Yellow Jackets trooped off the ice with only one point separating them from fourth place.

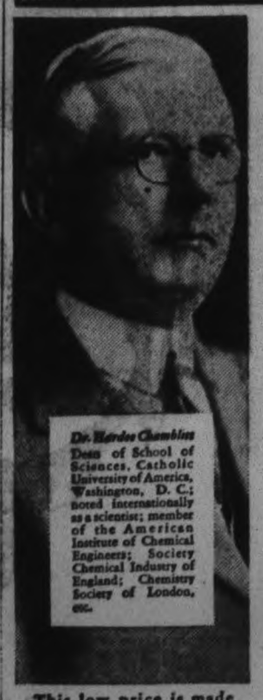
Herbie Stuart hung up his twelfth shutout of the season by keeping the high scoring Bulldog marksmen from piercing his guard. This equals the record of 12 established by Billy Taugher, Buffalo goalguardian.

Good as Stuart was he did not outshine the recruit Norman Smith, from Montreal A.A.A. who guarded the Bulldog cage to perfection. The split in points enabled the Windsorites to break the deadlock with Cleveland for second place. The Indians' defeat dropped them back into third place but they hold a two game lead over London.

The Distinguished Scholar and Scientist...

Dr. Hardee Chambliss, Ph.D.,

compares 33 different toothpastes and tells why Colgate's has "greater ability"



Dr. Hardee Chambliss
Dean of School of Sciences, Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.; noted internationally as a scientist; member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers; Society Chemical Industry of England; Chemistry Society of London, etc.

THIRTY-THREE modern toothpastes on trial! On trial for cleansing properties, for reputed claims and actual accomplishment!

Dr. Hardee Chambliss undertook this exhaustive study—and he now proclaims Colgate's superior! His reasons? Here they are. The reasons of an eminent educator and scientist:

"Colgate's has greater ability than other dentifrices to get down into tiny crevices and fissures of the teeth, flooding away decaying particles."

"Colgate's cleans the surface safely because of its very effective wetting power and its low surface tension (penetrating foam)."

Colgate's—undoubtedly because of its high standing among dentists—has been used by more people than any other dentifrice ever made.

Dr. Hardee Chambliss says:—

"I have tested and compared thirty-three different dentifrices with reference to their cleansing qualities. I find Colgate's not only cleans the surface safely, but also because of its very effective wetting power and low surface tension (penetrating foam) it has greater ability than other dentifrices to get down into tiny crevices and fissures of the teeth, flooding away decaying food particles. Other dentifrices, because they are sluggish, lack this power."

"Colgate's fulfills the one function of a dentifrice—to cleanse the teeth thoroughly."

Hardee Chambliss

This low price is made possible only because more people use Colgate's than any other dentifrice—and have for 30 years.

SAINTS HOLD EDGE ON PLAY THROUGH TILT

Superior Combination and Tight Defensive Work Accounts For Victory.

CLOSE CHECKING AFFAIR.

Maisie Cowan and Arleigh Comstock Are Star Performers For Winners.

In a postponed senior fixture staged on the Y.W.C.A. floor last evening, the St. Paul's contingent handed the "Y" Seniors' championship hopes a severe blow when they outscored the Seniors 7-2.

The game was fast throughout with the Saints having the edge with nice combination and they fully deserved their win.

Both squads missed several fine scoring opportunities, the Seniors in particular having hard luck around the baskets and coupled with close checking, a low score resulted.

The winners put it over the "Y" team with their speed and nice passing and only at rare intervals did the Seniors how the form that has kept them at the top all season.

Star Performers

Maisie Cowan showed nice form for the winners, gathering four points and together with Arleigh Comstock who played a steady game at centre, kept the position busy most of the time.

It was the Saints' defence that carried a major part of the burden and Jeannette Allin with Edna Morrow proved a decided stumbling block to the "Y", the former especially breaking up attack after attack that would otherwise have proved disastrous.

The entire Senior squad worked hard all the way but didn't appear to be working together as well as on former occasio

Kay Haggart, Isobel Davidson, Sybil Sharpe and Ev. Armstrong tried hard to keep their team in the fight but each shot drew a blank and with the St. Paul defence working to perfection, it was impossible to get in for close shots.

Play Close in First

During the first period, play was very close with both teams having a share in the attack but with both defences stopping everything.

Maisie Cowan scored for the Saints and Kay Haggart singled on Clara Patterson's foul to make the half time count 2-1 for the Presbyterians.

In the first of the final session, St. Paul's drew away from the Seniors with a fast passing game and worked in close to let Arleigh Comstock and Maisie Cowan score, and Toady Patterson added a single when Hazel Jackson fouled.

The Seniors fought back hard and for the final ten minutes had everything their own way but the best they could do was one point, Gwen Hewitt scoring. Shot after shot failed to find the basket and the basket and the Saints held on grimly to their five point lead and the final whistle found them leading 7-2.

HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS IN THE SPORTS WORLD

BOOSTS AND KNOCKS For EVERYONE

Many of the younger hockey fans may be surprised to know that the Stanley Cup was not always a professional trophy. No, sir. Before 1912 amateur teams competed for it. It was offered some forty years ago by Lord Stanley for annual competition. Then it was switched over to the pros. Originally a fifty-dollar mug, now battered and tarnished, it is one of the most highly prized cups in sportdom.

Outcast Is Winner Of Blue Ribbon Cups

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 11. — Condemned to death two weeks ago for the crime of being homeless, hungry and dirty, "Patches," a greyhound, has won three blue ribbons in the Mississippi Valley Kennel Club's show here.

When the dog arrived at the Humane Society's death chambers, Gerald B. O'Reilly, head of the society, recalled that E. J. Burke, an advertising solicitor, was looking for a greyhound.

"She's dirty and downcast, but you're welcome to it," O'Reilly told Burke. Burke accepted the gift.

"Patches'" three victories kept her in the running for the grand sweepstakes of the show.

MANITOBA FINALISTS IN GOALLESS GAME

Brandon Surprises Winnipegs in First Game of Series.

BRANDON, Man., March 11. — Brandon Wheat Kings and Winnipeg struggled 20 minutes overtime here last night in the first game of the Manitoba Senior hockey play-offs without scoring a goal. They teams agreed not to play the third overtime period because ice conditions were so poor.

Back in Winnipeg Thursday night the teams will resume the battle which will decide Manitoba's Allan Cup entry. The Wheat Kings, champions of the Western Manitoba League, played nearly perfect defensive hockey in stalling off the fleet Peggers, winners of the Winnipeg City League.

Two more games will be necessary to decide the series, at least two victories being necessary to the winning team.

BILL COOK SPENDS OFF-SEASON ON FARM IN THE CANADIAN WEST

United States' Section Lead Scorer Believes Hockey and Farming Good Mixers.

NINE YEARS WITH PROS.

Hockey and farming counter-balance, providing recreation and acting as a conditioner for the other, Cook finds. When National League ice surfaces disappear with the coming of Spring, Bill begins his long journey to Lac Vert, Sask., where he operates his 480-acre farm. On the adjoining farm is brother "Bunny" Cook, who teams up with Bill as left winger for the Rangers during the hockey season. On his farm during the summer, Bill finds time for hunting big game and small game. He also takes a fling at baseball, and there is great rivalry among the teams in that section.

Started in 1914

Bill Cook's hockey career had its start back in 1914 when he played in Kingston, Ont., his home town. He played both Junior and Senior hockey with the Frontenacs in the Ontario Hockey Association. "And then," as Bill naively puts it, "comes a lapse of about three and a half years in my life."

That was when he served with the 46th and 34th Highlanders, and Canadian Field Artillery, spending 22 months in France, a year at the front, and then going to Archangel, when nine more months were added to his military record.

The professional hockey career for Bill Cook began nine years ago, after his discharge from the army. He had starred in Senior amateur company with the famed Soo Greyhounds, and then came the professional offer to play with Saskatoon in the Western Canada League. There he served under the great Newsy Lalonde, and for four years played for the same team.

Fifth Year in N.H.L.

Five years ago—this is his fifth in the N. H. L.—he was sold to the New York Rangers when the W.C.L. disbanded. He has been with them since. The last two year he played with Saskatoon he led the league in scoring and was named on the All-Star team. After joining the Rangers he led the N.H.L. in scoring the first season. This is the third year he has been named on a National League all-star sextette. He finished among the leading N.H.L. scorers for the season 1928-29, and was fourth high scorer in the American division for 1929-30.

At present he is the leading point scorer in the United States group, having scored 30 goals and assisted with 12 others for a total of 42 points. He is leading the entire league in the matter of netting the puck. His nearest rival is Howie Morenz of Canadiens with 27.

Bill is married and has three children, the oldest seven years. "About 32 years" is his own age. He hopes to have many more successful seasons with the Rangers. When his hockey days are over—and he dreads to contemplate this eventuality—Bill may make his home in a Middle Western Canadian City. But he still wants that wheat farm, depression or no depression, and he intends to go there whenever he feels the urge.

HIS BACON IN MACON

NEW YORK, Mar. 11.—Al Cohen, who hits well enough and looks trim enough in the outfield to make the big league grade some day, is going to collect one pig when the Brooklyn team settles down for a ten-day stay in Macom next month.

You may not believe that a Jewish boy—his father is a Newark Rabbi—is messing around with pork but Al is making a strictly commercial transaction out of it.

He played with the Macom team last year and was voted the most popular player on the team. Al has a cultivated tenor voice and sung his way around all the fraternal organizations in Macom. When he received his popularity award he was presented with a wrist watch and a baby pig. The pig he left with the ground-keeper at the Macom ball park.

Said porker is now worth something on the hoof. When the Robins get to Macom a hog calling exhibition will be given by that famous "Wahoser," none other than "Pea Ridge' Day, with Cohen attempting to place first in the field trials with his pig.

CAVALRY DEFEATS RANGERS "B" 13-7

Winners Hit Vinnette Hard to Take Lead From the Start.

Cavalry trotted off with a 13—7 victory over Rangers "B" Company last night in a Garrison Softball League game, played at the Armouries. It was a good game to watch and a fair crowd of fans excited most of the time. The winners hit Vinette hard and his support fell down when the bases were loaded. The Cavalry base-runners stole their opposition blind, even stealing home on a couple of occasions.

The third inning was a big one for the victors, when they crossed the plate seven times. Twelve batters faced Vinette before the side was retired. They bagged their last three runs in the sixth. The losers were blanked in the second and third, but got one or two in each of the other frames.

The Horsemen hit hard and fielded snappy all the way, and Stewart mixed his pitches up enough to keep the sluggers off-balance. Sheehy and Calladine grabbed some hot drives several times to rob "B" Company of almost sure hits. Vinette tried hard on the mound for the latter crew, but couldn't fool the other team. His infield missed a number of chances when there were men on the paths. The teams:

Umpires.—Nixon and Calladine.

SIR GEORGE FOSTER SCORES COCKTAILS

Cocktail Infection Has Spread Alarmingly Declares Speaker.

TORONTO, March 11. — A new menace of the liquor traffic in the shape of "the cocktail infection," has spread alarmingly in the past few years under a glamor of high society and fashion countenanced even by Government House, a mass meeting of the Ontario Prohibition Union in Hygeia Hall last night was startled to hear from Sir George Foster, honorary president of the union and Canadian delegate to the League of Nations.

It was all part of the liquor traffic's insidious plans to snare the rising generation as potential future customers to support its nefarious business, Sir George declared. When he first encountered the effects of the germ five years age, he said, hosts were content to serve as appetizers sufficient cocktails to provide one apiece for their dinners guests, "with perhaps two for the greedy ones." But now enough was served to provide double, quadruple, "nay, quintuple portions."

BIRTHS INCREASED IN SOUTH AFRICA

Annual Reports Show Infantile Mortality Lowest so Far Recorded.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Mar. 11. —(By the Canadian Press)—According to the annual report of the Department of Public Health, the birthrate in the Union for the year 1929 was higher than in the two preceding years; the crude death-rate was the lowest since 1925; the infantile mortality was the lowest so far recorded; and the survival rate higher than it has been since 1925.

The only unsatisfactory feature of the vital statistics is that the maternal mortality is higher than in any of the three preceding years, and, as the report phrases it, "certainly very excessive."

The European population in 1928 based on the censuses of 1921 and 1926 is estimated at 1,728,937, Bantu, 5,277,923, Asiatic, 183,771, mixed and other colored, 577,852, total 7,777,583. The European birth-rate per thousand of the population was 25.8, which is higher than England and Wales, France, Germany, New Zealand, Scotland, the United States of America, Australia, Canada, or Southern Rhodesia. Italy and Lithuania have birth-rates of 26.1 and 28.8 respectively. The European death-rate in the Union was 10.15 crude and 10.69 corrected for age and sex distribution. This is lower than any of the other countries above enumerated with the exception of Southern Rhodesia.

The infant mortality rate was 70.49 per thousand births. The rate, the report shows, has markedly improved since the date of Union, though it has risen slightly since 1926. The survival rate or rate of natural increase was 15.6. This rate is also falling slightly, but is higher than that of any other country except Egypt and Ploand.

A BEDTIME STORY

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CRYING WOLF

Baby Bunty sat down on a snow-covered log in the woods and looked at Uncle Wiggily. The reason the little orphan rabbit could sit down on a log all covered with snow was because she had on a warm fur coat. And Baby Bunty said:

"Oh, Unkie Wig, how did it happen?"

"How did what happen?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"How did you make the Fox laugh by pointing that stick at him?" asked Baby Bunty.

"Oh! this is a tickle stick," Uncle Wiggily answered. "Whenever I point it at any animal, good or bad, no matter what they have just been doing, they must stop and laugh. You see the stick tickles them just by being pointed at them and then they must chuckle, grin and giggle, as you saw the Fox do."

"Yes, I saw him laugh all right," Bunty went on. "He laughed so hard he couldn't close his mouth to nibble us, which was a good thing. But what about this tickle stick? Who gave it to you?"

Then Uncle Wiggily told how a jolly dog, whom he had met in the woods, had given him the tickle stick. Baby Bunty had gone to the forest to help Uncle Wiggily hop home, as I told you in the story before this one, and, just as she met him, out of the bushes popped the Fox. Mr. Longears pointed a queer stick at the nibbling chap and, all of a sudden, the Fox began to laugh very hard.

"So that is a tickling stick, is it?" asked Baby Bunty, as she and Uncle Wiggily ran through the woods, away from the laughing Fox and toward the hollow stump bungalow.

"This is the tickling stick," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I never saw one like it before. I think it will be very useful and—Ha! Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! HO! Oh, tee hee! Hee tee! Ha! Ha!"

"Why, Unkie Wig! Whatever is the matter?" asked Baby Bunty in surprise at the loud laughter of the rabbit gentleman. "What happened?"

"Oh, dear me! Ho! Ho! Ha! Ha! I pointed the tickle stick at myself," went on the bunny uncle, carefully holding it away from himself now. "I pointed the tickle stick toward me and of course I had to laugh."

"Oh, what a wonderful stick!" exclaimed Bunty as she and Uncle Wiggily kept on hopping toward the bungalow. "Will it make me laugh if you point the tickle stick at me, Uncle Wig?" asked the little orphan rabbit, using all the baby talk she was allowed.

"Why of course it will," was the answer. "See here!"

Mr. Longears turned the end of the tickle stick toward Bunty. All at once she began to giggle and laugh and chuckle.oo

"Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! Twee! Twee! Twee!" Bunty laghed, and she felt so jolly that tears came into her eyes, but they were tears of joy. At last she laughed so hard that Uncle Wiggily turned the stick the other way, and without knowing it, he pointed it at a tree.

All at once the tree began to shake all over, just like a fat man when he laughs. The tree, of course, could not laugh out loud, but it did its best as long as the tickle stick was pointed at it.

If you had been there you might have thought it was the wind blowing that made the tree shake. But it was really Uncle Wiggily's tickle stick which did it.

So Mr. Longears, not wanting the tree to shake itself to pieces with laughter, put the tickle stick in his overcoat pocket where it couldn't point at anything or anybody, and the bunny gentleman and the little orphan rabbit hopped on together.

But before they reached the bungalow, all of a sudden, out from behind a bush popped the Woozie Wolf. At first Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty thought perhaps the Wolf might want to nibble them. But as they looked at him they saw the Wolf was crying. Great tears rolled down his hairy cheeks.

"Oh, you poor Wolf!" said Baby Bunty kindly. "Why are you so sad? Why do you cry?"

"Yes, tell us," begged Uncle Wiggily "Are you crying because you are hungry?"

"No," barked the Wolf, "I am not. I am crying because I just left my den where my wife is cooking me a nice meal of beefsteak and onions. She started to peel the onions and they are so strong that they pulled tears from my eyes. These are onion tears, you see."

"Well, it makes you look sad to cry even onion tears," said Uncle Wiggily. "So I think I shall make you happy and jolly with my tickle stick." The bunny took from his pocket the stick and pointed it at the Wolf and, right away, that fuzzy chap began to laugh.

"Ha! Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho!" And back home he ran, chuckling, to eat his onions.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The 16 ounces thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

SERVICES CANCELLED ON SUNDAY EVENING

Parishioners Unable to Attend Because of Heavy Snowfall at Millbrook.

MILLBROOK, March 11 (Examiner Correspondence) — The heavy snow storm of Saturday night, and all day Sunday, made it necessary to cancel evening worship in the three local churches, the impassable state of roads and sidewalks making it practically impossible for any congregation to assemble. The only church service in the morning was that of Saint Andrew's United Church, when over forty were present, but as the storm increased toward noon attendance at the Sunday School sessions was greatly depleted.

Those who did brave the elements and go out were obliged to wade through drifts to their knees, the municipal snow-plow, if any such thing exists, having had such a prolonged holiday this winter it has apparently been consigned to the 'limbo of forgotten things.' Any car that was taken out was repeatedly stuck in the deep snow, the Presbyterian minister trying this means of reaching his morning congregation at Centreville, going into the ditch just over Allen's hill and having to be drawn out with horses, the trip being abandoned. All afternoon services at outside appointments were cancelled, in connection with any denomination, and school teachers living in the village were unable to reach their 'seats of learning' on Monday morning, the pupils having to thank Nature for an unexpected holiday.

The snow-plow on the C.N.R. went through at ten o'clock on Sunday evening, and back again through the night, so all trains were practically on time on Monday from the morning onward. A number of those who came home by car on Saturday for the week-end were obliged to go back by train on Monday morning, leaving their cars for a later date, as the prospect is that the paved roads east of the village will not be cleared to the highway until at least Wednesday of this week, the snow-plow being so much in demand elsewhere on the regular highway sections.

The few who came in by cutter on Sunday to attend church, or Sunday School sessions, found the roads so filled the snow was more than up to the floor of the cutters, and the horses had heavy ploughing.

"Digging out" was the favorite occupation on Monday, citizens having to rid verandah roofs of the heavy weight of snow lest there be a collapse under the strain. Hours of steady work were required to clear paths, and make going at all possible, aching backs and strained muscles being undoubtedly the most prevalent form of ailment in the community, as a result of the fact that more snow fell on Sunday, and continued to pile up almost all day Monday, than had previously fallen all winter to the present date. Those pessimistic souls who prophesied "two winters in one year" because the bear saw his shadow on February 2, were doubtless entitled to say, "I told you so," but the one good feature of the storm was the replenishing of cisterns that have been practically dry for weeks, while all out of doors was very beautiful, trees, shrubs and hedges being laden with a burden of soft whiteness of many fantastic shapes.

TRENT RIVER.

Mr. Johnson, of Toronto, arrived Tuesday to open the Brewer residence which he has leased for an indefinite time. Mr. Johnson will have charge of the work of remodelling the Sedgwick pavilion, purchased a few months ago from Mr. J. Sedgwick by Miss Terry, who has been managing the "Honeymoon Huts," near Grimsby, Ont.

Mrs. Stanley Carnrite has been confined to bed suffering from a severe cold.

Mr. James Ketcheson, township assessor, made his annual calls through here on Wednesday.

Mr. Wellington Burgess' auction sale of stock, implements and chattels was held Wednesday afternoon and was the largest attended sale in this district for some years.

Farm implements brought a fair price; buckwheat, 48 cents; feese, $2.50; sheep averaged $9.75; the highest price for sheep was $10.22; hens (pure bred), 92 cents apiece; heifers, $21; one pure bred cow went for $47; horses, $94; five sows sold for $21 each.

Selling continued until a late hour, but everything offered was disposed of. Mr. Burgess and family are moving to Norwood to reside.

Life looks rosy for him

Health worth more than fortune

THE baby to be envied is the one who is born with an inheritance of perfect health, to begin with. And who's lucky enough to have a mother who knows how to build up this fortune.

"Perhaps I'm old-fashioned," she'll say to the doctor who pronounces her child physically 100% at a baby show, "but this health certificate means more to me than all the stock certificates in the world. If my baby grows up strong and well, I'm willing to leave it to him to make a career and fortune for himself.

"Already I'm teaching him the value of regular habits. Regular sleep, regular meals, regular functions. He's never once been off schedule, not even when he was cutting teeth or traveling to the country. I make sure of that by giving him Nujol regularly."

Nujol works so easily and naturally that it won't upset a baby under any conditions. It keeps everything functioning properly. It not only prevents any excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming but aids in their removal. It is safe and sure. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories, 2 Park Avenue, New York.

Heir to millions

Just try Nujol for your baby. Give it to him regularly for the next three months. See if it doesn't make things much easier for both of you. Certainly it could do no harm — for Nujol contains no drugs or medicine. Your druggist carries it. Be sure you get the genuine. Sold only in sealed packages.

GREY COUNTY CROWN ATTORNEY RESIGNS

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Mar. 11.— C. S. Cameron, K. C., County Crown Attorney for Grey County, has tendered his resignation to the Attorney General, it is announced here today, to take effect shortly. Mr. Cameron has held office but a short time, having been appointed last October. Mr. Cameron declined to give reasons for his action. His successor is expected to be named within a few days.

Bob Connors Suspended For Cutting Brennan

VANCOUVER, March 11.—Bobby Connors, forward of the Seattle hockey team of the Pacific Coast League, has been suspended by President Frank Patrick for the balance of the season for rough play. Former Detroit star, Connors cut Doug. Brennan, Vancouver defenseman, over the head in Friday night's game at Seattle, the force of the blow breaking Connor's stick.

FEEL MEAN?

Don't be helpless when you suddenly get a headache. Reach in your pocket for immediate relief. If you haven't any Aspirin with you, get some at the first drugstore you come to. Take a tablet or two and be rid of the pain. Take promptly. Nothing is gained by waiting to see if the pain will leave of its own accord. It may grow worse! Why postpone relief?

There are many times when Aspirin tablets will "save the day." They will always ease a throbbing head. Quiet a grumbling tooth. Relieve nagging pains of neuralgia or neuritis. Or check a sudden cold. Even rheumatism has lost its terrors for those who have learned to depend on these tablets.

Gargle with Aspirin tablets at the first suspicion of sore throat, and reduce the infection. Look for Aspirin on the box—and the word Genuine in red. Genuine Aspirin tablets do not depress the heart.

HACKETT AND ARLEN TO WRITE NEW PLAY

Distinguished Writer and Playwright Collaborating on "Good Losers."

LONDON, March 9.—(By the Canadian Press)—The recent announcement that Michael Arlen and Walter Hackett were collaborating on a new play to be called "Good Losers" led a writer for the London Observer to pry out of the two distinguished writers and playwrights the secret of collaboration. The writer burst in upon the two at the Whitehall Theatre. The article which resulted read:

"How do collaborators collaborate?" I asked.

"Look," Hackett replied. "Michael walks up and down at that end of the room and I at this. It's easy." Michael Arlen, realizing that it was a serious matter, then let me into the secret. "Hackett suggested that I should write a play with him, and he gave me the gist of a story. I took the idea away with me and changed it, entirely altered the whole thing and developed the characterization, wrote the first draft of the dialogue, and brought it back to Hackett, who then proceeded to reconstruct the play. We went through it line by line to-gether and rewrote most of the scenes. Well, that's exactly how it's done," said Arlen.

"It seems perfectly simple," I said, "but did you never quarrel?"

"There are no arguments at all," said Hackett. "I have shouted a good deal, but Michael preserved a seraphic calmness all the time. Realizing that I know more about play-writing than he does he always replied to my protestations, 'Please don't think me arrogant, but it must be my way.'"

"One of the troubles about Michael Arlen," Hackett continued, "is that he is a monomaniac about dialogue. I can't get enough words out of him. I have worked with novelists before and found that their characters have had too much to say. His dialogue get briefer and briefer. He is always wanting to cut. Once I discovered that he crept back here after midnight and surreptitiously cut out some more words. "Asked about the play's nature Arlen merely said:

"It deals with a condition in which many Londoners have found themselves during the last few years. I think I might give him one more hint," he said to Hackett. "The title is really based on the remark that is s often made: 'I realize one thing: ever since we won the war we have had to be good losers.'"

The government hotel and catering employment exchange in London has found work for more than 2,000 since it was opened December 17.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 9 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan's eyes went wide in astonishment and he stopped as though turned to stone. The giant beast was calling out to him in excited jabbering...."Akut!" cried the man. The bewildered boy looked from his father to the ape, then back again, as from the lips of the Englishman flowed the gutturals of an ape that were answered in kind by the huge anthropoid, now clinging to the man with every evidence of pleasure and satisfaction.

And from the wings an unkempt figure watched the strange proceedings, his evil, leering features working spasmodically in varying expressions ranging from amazement to terror ...."Long have I looked for you, Tarzan," the ape was saying. "Now that I have found you at last, I shall come to your jungle and live there always." The man stroked the beast's head affectionately, oblivious to his son's astonished, fascinated gaze.

Through the man's mind was running rapidly a train of recollections that carried him far into the depths of the primeval African forest, where this huge, man-like beast had fought shoulder to shoulder with him years before. He saw the black Mugambi wielding his deadly knob-stick, and, beside them, with bared fangs and bristling whiskers, Sheeta, the terrible. And pressing close behind the savage panther, this same ape, Akut, and his fellows.

The man sighed. Strong within him surged the jungle hunter he had thought dead. Ah! if he could go back—for even a brief month! To feel the brush of leafy branches against his naked hide. To smell the jungle fragrance. To sense the noiseless coming of great beasts upon his trail; to hunt and to be hunted; to kill! The picture was alluring. And then came another picture. His wife, still beautiful and young; friends; a home; his son!

TO DISCUSS BIG MATCH

At the request of J. J. Duffus, chairman of the local committee for the International Plowing Match, a meeting has been called and is to be held in the Board Room of J. J. Duffus Limited on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

This is the most important meeting which has been called since the official announcement was made some time ago that Peterborough is to have the International Plowing Match this year, and is for the purpose of making a final draft of the various committees who will get down to the business of organization immediately.

BEDDING IS NEEDED.

We would like very much to get a baby carriage that will go up a narrow stairway. A large-sized one would be of no use.

Four women who are very ill are in need of bedding, sheets and pillow cases being their especial want just at present. Quilts are also needed in another home.

A woman with size 46 bust needs a coat and warm dress.

A woman who has to go out daily to work has two small children. She would like to get the help of a young girl who would come in and stay with the children, in return for her board.

FUND TOTALS $12,430

The fund for the Peterborough Relief Association still continues to mount by slow stages. The sum of $12,430.09 has now been realized, with about $8,600 in cash. The following is today's list.

Total prev. reported	$12,408.09
Customs House, (add.) W. R. Parker	5.00
Customs House, (add.) F. C. Haggart	5.00
J. J. Quinlan, 354 Water Street	5.00
Public School Staff (add.)	7.00
Total to date	$12,430.09
Of the total amount, actual cash	$ 8,599.48
The balance pledged.

FLOWING MATCH COMMITTEE.

The local committee in charge of the preparations for the International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery demonstration which will be held here this year will meet Friday night in the Board room of the Duffus building. A great deal of detail work confronts the local executive, but it is being actively approached and meetings will be held regularly.

Mrs. T. Monk President Of Confederation Assoc.

Mrs. T. Monk was elected as president of the Confederation Home and School Association, at the third annual meeting of the society, held in the schoolroom on Monday evening. Mrs. W. Andrews presided for the election, which included the following officers: Mrs. J. Milby, first vice-president; Mrs. W. D. Edwards, secretary; Mrs. R. King, treasurer; Mrs. J. Carter, social convenor; Mrs. P. McBride, relief convenor; Mrs. A. Barnes, telephone convenor.

An interesting address was given by the retiring president, Mrs. H. Clare, and much regret was expressed by the members over her resignation from office.

An Expensive Visit

Admiral Sir Michael Hodges, Commander-in Chief of the British Atlantic Fleet, paid a visit to the flagship of the United States Navy, which cost the British Goverment $50,000. Navigating the British flagship, H.M.S. Nelson", through the Panama Canal, to greet the United States fleet, cost more than $25,000. Above is pictured the British admiral (right) as he received a welcome from Admiral J. V. Chase on the U.S.S. Texas.

CAUSE OF BALDNESS BEING BLAMED ON SYMPATHETIC NERVOUS SYSTEM

Drug Must Be Found With Opposite Effect to Thallium Acetate, Doctor States.

RESTORERS TO DRINK.

NEW YORK N.Y., March 11. (CP) Hair restorers made to drink were described to the International Beauty Congress to-day as a scientific hope for bald heads.

After 2000 years of mostly rubbing remedies on the outside, said Dr. Herman Goodman of New York, the cause of one of the most ordinary types of baldness beginning to appear deep in the sympathetic nervous system. This system controls involuntary activity. Certain drugs, taken internally, have partly confirmed its connection with baldness.

Known 2000 Years Ago

This type of baldness denudes the top of the pate, leaving the well known fringe at sides and back. The Roman writer Celsus first described it 2000 years ago, said Dr. Goodman. Celsus, like everyone since, noted that this loss began after adolescence.

Recently, said Dr. Goodman, scientific evidence has been accumulating that before adolescence all the hair of the head is under control of the nervous system. The latter consists of the cranial and spinal nerves concerned with voluntary movements.

Recently, said Dr. Goodman, scientific evidence has been accumulating that before adolescence all the hair of the head is under control of the sympathetic nervous system. After adolescence only the locks on top of the head remain under the sympathetic system the fringe passing under dominion of the central nervous system. The latter consists of the cranial and spinal nerves concerned with voluntary movements.

The common male baldness begins at the time of change of this nervous control.

Discovery Made in Drug.

Beginning of the new idea of nerve control goes back about 40 years, said Dr. Goodman, to Dr. R. Sabouraue of Paris. He discovered accidentally the thallium acetate, taken internally causes loss of hair, but that rubbed on the outside to remove superfluous hair, it has no such potency. Its control is through the nerves.

Drugs whose action upon the sympathetic nervous system is antagonistic to that of tallium acetate have shown some powers of preserving hair.

"Unless very definite results can be obtained with drugs having the opposite effect of thallium acetate, persons with nerve baldness must be resigned to go bald or else wear a wig."

OBITUARY

SILAS HOLMES.

QUEENSBORO, March 11. (Examiner correspondence.)—The funeral of the late Silas Holmes, who passed away in Belleville General Hospital at midnight, Wednesday, two days after he had been mortally wounded while working in the woods a mile south of here, was held from the home of his brother Allan, in Madoc township on Saturday morning, and was conducted by his pastor, the Rev. J. F. Everson, who spoke from Job 24 and 22, "No man is sure of life."

The service was held in the United Church and was largely attended, testifying to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The choir sang, "Some time we will understand."

He was twice married and leaves to mourn besides his widow, nee, Matilda Way, two brothers and two sisters Allan in Madoc township, Ira, of Picton, Mrs. Albert Reid, Madoc, and Mrs. Stanley Way, Picton; also three sons and four daughters, Arthur, of Alberta; Frank, of Enterprise; Harry at Cooper; Mrs. Bert Moore, (Essie) Sulphide; Mrs. William Cleave (Laura), Thomasburg; Mrs. Rayner (Kathleen), Niagara Falls; Mrs. Raymond Skinner (Gladys), Niagara Falls.

NAVAL ACCORD

dum explains that this slight increase of total tonnage will not in itself give rise to any new construction during the period of the agreement.

Also the gun calibre of projected capital ships will be reduced from 13 inches to 12 inches.

The whole agreement looks forward to general revision of the naval question in the course of the disarmament conference at Geneva next year.

Great Britain is a vital third party to the Franco-Italian agreement, toward which secret negotiations among British, French, and Italian experts went on for months before Mr. Henderson and Mr. Alexander hurried to Paris and Rome and brought them to successful termination.

The British delegates received the full co-operation of the French and Italian Governments.

The necessity for national economy in the present period of world depression probably was a contributing factor in the success of the negotiations.

Submarines.

Of submarines Mr. Henderson wrote: "France has 81,989 tons built and building which will be underage on December 31 this year, and the French Government is willing to rest on a lower figure. Both France and Italy, however, have agreed not to include any submarines in the 1931 program and not to lay down any further submarine tonnage before 1933.

"The submarine question will be before the 1932 disarmament conference, but to take account of the contingency that a satisfactory solution may not prove possible, then, the right of Great Britain to increase her destroyer figure under an article of the London Naval Treaty is fully reserved."

SNOWMOBILE IS USED TO DELIVER STOCKS' BREAD

150 Loaves Were Taken Into the Warsaw District By Stocks Bread Company.

TWO IN DISTRICT.

No Tie-up of Bread Deliveries on Any of the Routes Mr. Dutton Reports.

Running to regular schedule with bread deliveries; fully prepared to meet any exigency caused by the fickle pranks of nature, is but one of the ways in which Stocks Limited interpret the word service. Last winter they commissioned an airplane to get bread supplies in to Warsaw, on an occasion when the roads were snowbound, while yesterday in seeking around for a means of transport over drifted roads—the worst in many years— they resorted to a Snowmobile. James Dutton, Jr., who accompanied the driver of the vehicle which is owned by Bruce Parker of this city, is full of praise for the performance which it put up. Loaded with 150 loaves of bread the Snowmobile—a Ford standard model—tackled six feet drifts of snow, tracking a way through with an ease which was astounding.

"I was always inclined to be somewhat sceptical about Snowmobiles" Mr. Dutton remarked to The Examiner, "but I am sold on the idea now." He added that the driver demonstrated the ease with which the vehicle may be handled under all conditions and deliberately plowed through the large accumulations of snow in the ditches and turning-out places, the vehicle responding wonderfully in high gear.

There has been no tie-up in bread deliveries on any of the routes, it is learned and Mr. Dutton is full of praise for the way in which the drivers of the horse vehicles have worked under great dificulty.

The only other Snowmobile in the district, as far as can be ascertained is that owned by H. E. S. Clements, garage proprietor of Warsaw. Mr. Clements was in the city this morning with the mail, and his vehicle equipped with steel runners in place of front wheels, and with caterpillar tractor wheels at the rear excited a great deal of notice. The snowmobile was built by the owner, about ten years ago and was originally fitted with a 1910 model Ford engine which has since been replaced with a 1925 model Ford engine, and a rear worm axle from a ton truck.

Mr. Clements can confidentally face the worst snow drifts with this vehicle, which is in great demand by the Warsaw doctor, who has to make urgent calls to almost inaccessible spots during the winter in the course of his duty.

APPLE GROWERS CLAIM THEY NEED CHAIN OF COLD STORAGE PLANTS

Hon. T. L. Kennedy Gives No Suggestion of Gov't Views Upon Question.

TRUCK FARMERS UP FRIDAY.

TORONTO, Ont., March 11 (C.P.). — Erection of a chain of cold storage plants in Ontario to improve marketing facilities for Ontario apples was urged on the Government to-day when a group of apple growers appeared before the Agriculture Committee of the Legislature. The proposal was that the cold storage plants should be built and operated by the Apple Growers' Association with Government assistance.

Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, gave no suggestion of the Government's views on the question, but he admitted the need of obtaining better arrangements for getting Ontario apples on the market in good condition.

At its next meeting on Friday the committee will hear representative truck farmers. So far in reviewing different branches of agriculture the committee was heard, dairy farmers, wine growers, and live stock men.

Water Color Exhibit Will Tour Dominion

OTTAWA, Ont., March 11 (C.P.)—Synchonizing with the first few weeks of Parliament, an exhibition of water-colors, executed by the most outstanding of contemporary British artists will be on view at the National Gallery.

The exhibition opens this afternoon with Sir William Clark, British High Commissioner, present. The collection will be sent on tour throughout Canada later and will be in this country for the greater part of the current year. About 300 pieces constitute the exhibit, representing the work of 120 painters, men whose names stand high in the art circles not only of Great Britain, but of the world at large.

$154.25 Is Received From Regent Theatre

The Examiner Cheer Fund wishes to acknowledge very gratefully the receipt from the Regent Theatre management of a cheque for $154.25, representing a portion of the proceeds of the showing of "The Princess and the Plumber," which has been turned over to The Examiner for its relief work.

Another kindly donation received yesterday was a new suit for a boy, in response to an appeal in these colums, a few days ago. The generous man who gave this suit would be very pleased if he could glimpse the heartfelt gratitude of the boy and his mother for this suit, which means all the difference between a ragged and a neat appearance.

FAMILY IS LEFT HOMELESS; FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Mother of Nine Badly Burned When Oil Can Explodes.

IN NEED OF HELP.

Her face streaked with the brown-yellow of salve over fiery burns, darkened by the smoke and grime of flames that had just taken in their cruel path all she owned in the world, except her children and her husband, Mrs. R. Farthing of Leahy's Lane turned her head to a grimy pillow this morning and wept. They were hard, difficult tears—the desperate bitter tears of a woman who has worked and suffered and denied herself, so that her nine children might have a roof over their heads and comfortable clothes to their backs.

Any woman would have wept—perhaps a lot more than Mrs. Farthing did. She has the fortitude that women possess that have withstood a lot from life—but fire deals a cruel blow. It came this morning like a devastating blast and swept away in its path everything that the Farthings own in the world. Kindly neighbors, the Pellows, themselves with five children and not too much of this world's goods, have taken them in. They were all there this morning—the dazed father and the seven smaller children. The eldest Farthing boy is married and has a home of his own and the eldest girl is working at Warsaw. The others range in years from eighteen to three years, and they are clean-faced, nice-mannered girls and boys. The girl of sixteen was able to save $25 recently from her small wages in a local factory. This was to be used fo clothes for herself and her small-

GASOLINE PRICE BEING REDUCED

Distributors in Peterborough Announce Small Cut in Peterborough.

PETROLEUM SLUMP.

Reaction of material benefit to the motoring public has followed the recent slump in crude petroleum prices in the mid-United States fields, and a cut in wholesale gasoline prices was announced this morning by leading oil distributors in Peterborough and in other sections throughout the Province.

On some grades of gasoline a cut of 1½ cents, and on other grades a drop of 1 cent per gallon is in effect this morning; the full benefit of which, it is stated, will accrue to the consumer, although enquiries in the numerous service stations in the city elicited the information that they have not yet been informed of any drop in price and that the old prices are still ruling.

Exclusive of Government tax of 5 cents, the gasoline prices are now below pre-war standard, it is learned. The following table illustrates yesterday's gasoline prices, and the new schedule in effect to-day at various important centres, tax not included:

	Prices. Old.	New.
Peterborough	23	21½
Toronto	22	19½
Hamilton	22	19½
Ottawa	22	20½
Halifax	23	22½

The slight spread in prices between Toronto and Peterborough and Halifax is caused by the freight situation.

Two Bandits Leave Tailors Pantless But Not for Long

CHICAGO, Ill., March 12 (C. P.). — Two Chicago tailors were kept working overtime last night in spite of the fact that business was extremely dull.

It sounds paradoxical, but it's true nevertheless. This is how it happened.

Two men walked into the tailor shop of Louis Hirsch, drew pistols, herded Edward W. Pence, the manager, and his assistant, Peter Zimmerman, into a rear room, took their money and their trousers and walked away.

It was late and Pence and Zimmerman wanted to go home, but couldn't because there were no ready-made pants available in the shop.

Then they solved the problem by sitting down and making two pairs, finishing up around midnight.

Parliament Hill Brilliant Scene For Initial Act

MEMBERS FROM FOUR CORNERS OF CANADA GATHER IN COMMONS CHAMBER AWAITING CALL TO SENATE

Ministers Asked, in Speech From Throne, to Practise Every Economy Compatible With Proper Administration of State Until Revenues Reflect Definite Improvement.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12.—(CP)—Parliament opened today with all the color which custom has decreed for the initial act of a new session. Under a bright, though somewhat overcast sky, Rt. Hon. Lyman P. Duff, Administrator and Acting Chief Justice of Canada, drove with his flashing cavalry escort to the Parliament Buildings. Guns boomed forth the vice-regal salute, The National Anthem rang out from the band of the Governor General's Foot Guards, and the Guard of Honor snapped to attention, as the first Canadian to perform the opening ceremony, stepped from his car on Parliament Hill at three o'clock.

In the Commons Chamber, members from the four corners of Canada had gathered, awaiting the summons to the Senate. In the Upper Chamber, to which the Administrator proceeded escorted by senior officers of the naval, military and air forces of Canada, a colorful assembly sat. The floor of the dignified Red Chamber, on which only a single Canadian woman has the right to take her seat during the session, was occupied this afternoon by many women dressed in beautiful gowns. The galleries were filled, again largely with women dressed for the occasion. Uniforms of representatives of the military and naval forces vied with the women's dresses in contributing to the color of the scene.

Summons by Black Rod

Then came the summons by Black Rod, followed by the parade of commoners down the long corridor to the Senate Chamber. Here, at the brass bar, beyond which members of the House of Commons may not go, they listened to the throne speech. In both the official languages of Canada, Mr. Justice Duff touched briefly on events which have occurred since the last session of Parliament, and indicated some features of the legislative programme for the weeks to come.

The speech made, and a copy of it delivered to Hon. George Black, Speaker of the Lower House, the Commoners returned to their own quarters for a short period before adjournment. The second session of Canada's seventeenth Parliament had opened.

Legislation for the creation by Parliament of a Tariff Board, amendments to the tariff, bills for the more effective control of national finance, for the revision of the existing provisions for Government purchases, for amending the Naturalization Act and altering the Copyright Act will be introduced at the coming session, the speed from the throne announced to-day.

The readiness of the Government to render whatever additional assistance may be deemed advisable in the national interest respecting the wheat crop of the Prairie Provinces is declared.

"The reference to the Supreme Court of Canada of the respective jurisdictions of the Dominion and Provinces over radio broadcasting" the speech stated, "necessarily postpones any definite legislative action being taken until the opinion of the court of last resort has been taken."

Measures respecting old age pensions aid to agriculture, technical education and highway construction will be brought down this session. The speech announced.

Further revision of the tariff to be brought down the speech mentions, will be such "as may be carried out with but incidental adjustments to the British preference schedules now in force.

Speech From Throne.

The following is the text of the Speech from the Throne:

Honorable Members of the Senate:
Members of the House of Commons:

I welcome you to your duties at a time when the nations of the world are passing through a period of great economic depression. Canada has not escaped it. But the Canadian people have met the trials of the moment with patience and fortitude, and are facing the future with the courage

BALDWIN HURLS HIS CHALLENGE AT EXTREMISTS

Says Tory Party's Policy on India is That Announced By Lord Peel.

Wants No Grudging Spirits.

Twits Churchill on Speech Urging Cooperation With India Made Dozen Years Ago.

LONDON, Eng., Mar. 12. (By Geo. Hambleton, C. P. Staff Correspondent)—Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin today flung a straight challenge to Indian extremists.

Facing a packed House of Commons, the Conservative Leader spoke with some nervousness. But he did not mince words. The policy of the Conservative Party on India, he declared, stood where it was announced by Lord Peel at the close of the Indian Round-Table Conference.

Will Carry Out Policy

"I shall carry out that policy" he proceeded, "in no niggardly spirit, with every desire to overcome the stupendous difficulties which face us.

"But if there are those in the Conservative Party, if they are in the majority, who would approach this subject in a niggardly and grudging spirit, who would have concessions forced from a reluctant hand—if they are in the majority—then in God's name let them choose another leader."

As he uttered the momentous words, Mr. Baldwin glanced around over the crowded ranks of Conservatives behind him. There was an answering roar of cheers.

The thunder of cheers from the Tory ranks reassured the serious-faced leader. "If they are in the minority," he continued, "then let them refrain from throwing further difficulties in the way of those who have undertaken an almost surperhuman task."

As Mr. Baldwin spoke, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, who split with Mr. Baldwin on the Indian question and became recognized leader of the die-hard element, was but one seat removed from him.

There was another dramatic moment when Mr. Baldwin quoted from Hansard a speech urging co-operation with India. The speech was delivered a dozen years ago, and, said Mr. Baldwin, it expressed his own views with a felicity of phrase which he himself, a man of plain words, could not hope to equal.

"Name,' Name," shouted members from all parts of the House. Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, who evidently remembered it, was all smiles.

Points to Churchill

Mr. Baldwin half-turned towards Mr. Churchill, and with an indicative wave of his hand, continued: "When I heard my Right Honorable Friend make that speech——"

The remainder of the sentence was lost in a roar of laughter, in which Mr. Churchill joined.

"I think it is good for me to quote that," Mr. Baldwin added dryly. "It makes my speech sound like a Sunday School lesson."

Rt. Hon. Wedgwood Benn, Secretary of State for India, declared that Mr. Baldwin's speech would be heard with relief and delight by all sections of opinion in India.

GANDHI HEADED AGAIN TO COAST TO MAKE SALT

Object of March is to Test Truce Between Himself and Lord Irwin.

NO INTERFERENCE LIKELY.

AHMADABAD, India, March 12. — (C. P. Cable)—To test the truce between himself and Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India, Mahatma Gandhi left here today to retrace the route he took one year ago, and to again make salt on the sea shore. The agreement provided that Indians in the salt districts should be allowed to make salt for their own use, but must not sell it beyond their own villages.

The authorities were not expected to interfere with the Mahatma's present venture, which is being followed with intense interest, His march to the sea which inaugurated the civil disobedience campaign a year ago, will on Saturday start down to Dandi on the sea shore.

Will Visit Bombay

Gandhi will go to Bombay on Monday, spending two days there, and hence to New Delhi where he will attempt to establish a measure of unity between the Moslems and Hindus, in preparation for the second Round-Table Conference.

Gandhi's followers prostrated themselves before him when he reached Borsad today, women fighting to kiss his feet and children garlanding him with flowers. "Our truce with the Viceroy is only temporary," the Mahatha said. "I shall not rest until all confiscated land has been restored. But how can we bring the dead back to life?"

POLAND RATFIES TREATIES

August Saleski, Foreign Minister, sponsoring ratification of the German Polish Commercial Agreement, said that it would restore the trade equilibrium between the two countries.

Nine-Months Term In Reformatory Is Quashed By Court

Chief Justice Mulock in Delivering Judgment Declares That Court Must Not Be Allowed to be Carried Away By Its Sympathies—Four Year Term in Portsmouth.

COURT HAD TO DETERMINE WHETHER SENTENCE WAS REASONABLE OR SHOULD BE INCREASED

Chief Justice Declares That it Was Difficult for Appellate Judge to Determine What Would Be an Appropriate Sentence.

(Special to The Examiner and C. P.)

TORONTO, Ont., March 12.—Declaring that a court must not allow itself to be carried away by its sympathies, Chief Justice Mulock today announced that the First Appellate Division had increased from nine months determinate to four years in the penitentiary the sentence imposed on Leonard Matthews, Peterborough policeman convicted on eleven charges of theft and shopbreaking while on duty.

The judgment was the result of an appeal, heard Wednesday by the Attorney General's department on the ground that the sentence was inadequate.

"We must be governed by our minds and not our hearts," the Chief Justice said in delivering the court's judgment.

The accused man, the Chief Justice said, had pleaded guilty to the offences, which had taken place over a period of some two years, and been committed while Matthews was supposed to be guarding the property of the people he robbed. Apparently, he said, a sympathetic feeling, "both" on the part of the prosecution and the community, had influenced the trial judge in imposing the sentence, "which didn't amount to much as punishment."

Offence Grave One.

"We have to determine whether the sentence was reasonable or whether it should be increased," Sir William said. "The offence of which he was found guilty was a grave one. He was guarding the property of the people whom he robbed. We should be loosening the obligation of respect for the law that ought to be ever present in the minds of its administrators if we allowed our sympathies to dictate our judgment.

"It is difficult for the Appellate Judge to determine what would be an appropriate sentence," Sir William continued.

"No set of circumstances are just the same. We have never dealt with a case exactly as this one. There are extenuating circumstances in this case. This unfortunate man was married and had three children. He filled a position in the community. He was well liked. These were the circumstances that evidently appealed to the trial judge, but we must not be carried away by our sympathies. Courts must govern with their minds and not their hearts. We have given this matter a great deal of consideration, and think the sentence should be increased to four years, and the appeal of the Attorney-General is granted."

The thefts complained of took place from early in 1929 to January, 1931, it had been explained at the hearing yesterday. Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., who appeared for the prisoner, argued that there had been very many light sentences for similar offences where police officers were involved.

ROME PLANNING NIGHT OF GAIETY

Feast of Mi-Careme Will Give Respite From Lenten Rigors.

ROME, Mar. 12.—(C.P.)—Mi-careme, or 'Mezza Quaresoma" as it is known in Italian, will be held in Rome and all the other big Italian cities this evening, to give old and young a respite from the Lenten rigors, now half done.

Falling on a Thursday when meat is permitted, the feast will be plentiful and gay in many Roman households, and in the big hotels that cater to the foreign tourist trade. The few night clubs that the Italian capital boasts are advertising special programs and attractions, and a number of associations, such as those of the Italian and foreign press, are staging costumed dancing parties in their quarters.

Confetti throwing will, as in former years under the Mussolinian rule, be prohibited, but there will be many youngsters of both sexes promenading the Corso Umberto and the other big down-town arteries, clad in fancy dress and false noses and masks, and blowing horns until early to-morrow morning.

POISON VICTIMS LIKELY TO LIVE

Coroner's Jury Adjourns Inquest on Three Glace Bay Men.

TOOK COLUMBIA SPIRITS.

GLACE BAY, N.S., March 12 (C.P.) —Coroner A. B. MacGillivray swore in a jury yesterday to inquire into the tragic deaths last night of Angus MacDonald, John MacGillivray and Alex. Nicholson, alcohol poisoning victims. After viewing the bodies, the jury decided to adjourn the inquest until next Wednesday.

At the request of the Crown authorities Dr. Fabien Bates and Dr. T. F. Meahan performed autopsies on the remains of MacGillivray and Nicholson and the stomach contents of the two men will be forwarded to Halifax, where they will be analyzed.

A bottle of deadly alcohol known as "Columbian spirits," obtained at the veterinary hospital in the Sterling Yard, caused the drinking tragedy at "The Rost" in the Sterling district, which claimed the lives of the three well-known Glace Bay miners and endangered the lives of two others, it was disclosed following an investigation by officers of the Nova Scotia and Glace Bay Police Departments.

William Williamson and Donald Dean, both of whom were with the three poison victims when the drinking bout started Monday afternoon in Williamson's shack, were still patients in the Glace Bay General Hospital to-night, and both, according to medical men, will recover.

Theatrical Magnate Killed at Nice

GUN SPITS DEATH AS WIFE SHOOTS TO SAVE HER LIFE

Tragedy Occurs as Philadelphia Man Hints at Affairs With Italian Lover.

NO CHARGES LAID.

Police Fail to Shake Story of Former Runner-up in Atlantic City Beauty Contest.

NICE, France, Mar. 12.—(CP)—Long hours of merciless questioning today failed to shake the story of Mrs. Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger that when she shot and killed her husband, the Philadelphia theatrical magnate last night she killed in self-defense.

After hours of nagging, jealous quarrelling, she told police, he accused her of having an Italian lover. Then, just as his fingers clutched at her throat, leaving vivid red marks which were still visible today, she took a gun she had hidden and shot four times, two bullets finding their mark.

Apartment Searched

While Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger was at the police station other officers searched the apartment she occupied with her husband, scanning their correspondence and seeking some flaw in the story which she tells. Their two children, aged three and eighteen months, who were not awakened by the shooting, were under the care of the janitress.

The case has startled police, who find it hard to believe the beautiful but distraught woman, who as "Miss St. Louis" was runner-up in the 1923 Atlantic City beauty pageant, before them is the confessed killer of her husband, who at 54 more than doubled her 26 years. They were married in 1925 and have been divorced and remarried once since.

Wife's Statement

"If I hadn't killed him, then he would have killed me,' she sobbed in answer. Her account of the shooting as given to police in a formal statement follows:

"After dinner my husband started drinking whiskey. I undressed to go to bed and returning to the salon started to read an Italian paper. He, infuriated, said that my desire to learn that language was because I had an Italian lover. This started the quarrel.

"I went to bet but I took the precaution of putting the revolver I bought three months ago under my pillow because he had threatened me before. He was only half undressed when he started talking about an Italian lover.

"Suddenly, leaning over my bed he seized me by the throat. I managed to escape him and seized my revolver. I fired it once full into his face and then three more times. He staggered to the other room and I followed him and then fainted beside him.

"When I recovered I awakened the janitor and told him to notify the police."

Friends of Nixon-Nirdlinger and his wife, who was Miss Charlotte Nash of St. Louis, said that he undoubtedly loved his wife very much but was most jealous. Yesterday morning he engaged detectives to trail her, explaining that he did not intend to use any information he might get against her but simply wanted to know what she was doing.

His body is being held at the morgue and while she is being held by police no formal charges have been filed.

Planes to Scout For Moonshiners And Rum Runners

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—Federal dry agents are about to begin an aeronautic search for stills.

Prohibition Director Woodcock announced plans for establishing a permanent aviation department in the Prohibition Bureau, making use of planes from rum runners.

He added: "There are some sections, such as New York, where scouting from a plane would be useless, since the stills are mainly located in houses. In other places, though, such as Southern Maryland and along parts of the Mississippi River, liquor is being made in the open and these operations could easily be detected from the air."

DIPHTHERIA HITS IN POINT BARROW

Anxiety Rises as Antitoxin Supply is Practically All Gone.

HOSPITAL FULL.

POINT BARROW, Alaska, March 12 (C.P.). — A renewed outbreak of diphtheria gripped this settlement today, overflowing the only hospital with patients. Anxiety among health authorities rose because virtually all available antitoxin had been used.

Dr. Henry Griest of the Presbyterian Hospital said the Health Bureau at Fairbanks, which sent a supply of antitoxin here last Sunday by Joe Crosson, airplane pilot, had advised him it was hesitant about sending more serum by plane because of the expense.

The physician replied financial considerations were secondary. He said that if the situation at Wainwright, south-west of here, became more serious, more than 500,000 units of antitoxin would be needed.

May Use Movie Planes.

Motion picture company airplanes at Fairbanks were reported earlier in the week to be arranging to transport additional serum, but whether financial arrangements were preventing this was not definitely stated.

Two new cases of the disease appeared here yesterday and two more houses were quarantined. No one is allowed to enter or leave Point Barrow without special permission. There is no physician at Wainwright. Dr. Griest is caring for patients at Point Hope and Demarcation also.

The physician said first immunization treatments here had not all proved effective because some of the serum was old and the doses necessarily small, due to the short supply.

NEW SHOCKS FRIGHTEN CITIZENS.

MAN RETURNING HOME FINDS WIFE DRUNK, KILLS HER

Toronto Workman Kicks Wife to Death While She is Intoxicated.

HELD FOR MURDER.

Declares Woman Had Been Drinking Heavily Since Christmas.

TORONTO, March 12.—On his return home from work last evening and finding his wife, Frances, aged 42 years, lying in a drunken stupor on the floor of the dining-room in their rooming-house at 66 Ann street, William Milne, aged 42 years, a civic employee, is alleged to have kicked her three times as she lay on the floor, killing her. He then placed her lifeless body on a couch, and covered it over with a blanket, according to the police.

Pausing for a few moments, Milne then telephoned Dundas Street West Station, and asked that a constable be sent to the house. Motorcycle Constable De Ferrari (439) was despatched to the house and on looking at the body saw the woman was dead. He at once notified headquarters. Detectives Tuft and Hogan were sent to the house, and Milne was arrested on a charge of murder.

Post-Mortem Held

Chief Coroner Dr. M. M. Crawford stated last night that when he arrived at the house about 7.30 and examined the body, the woman had been dead for some time, in his opinion. Dr. W. L. Robinson performed the post-mortem last night in the morgue in the presence of Dr. Crawford stated, however, that sufficient evidence had been found to show the woman had been injured apparently by kicks.

Taken to headquarters, Milne expressed his willingness to give Inspector of Detectives A. J. Murray a statement of the killing. "Drink and what she owes," led Milne, he is alleged to have declared, to making the attack on his wife. His wife, he said, had been drinking liquor heavily since before Christmas and the regularity with which, on coming home, he found her intoxicated and in no condition to prepare meals for himself or three male boarders preyed on his mind.

In Helpless Condition, He Says

Returning home about 5.30 last evening, Milne said, he walked through the hall to the kitchen. Not finding his wife there he walked into the dining-room and claims to have found his wife stretched out on the floor in a helpless condition.

There was a heated exchange of words. The woman, he says, staggered about the floor in an attempt to argue with him, when finally he asserts she fell down. It was as she lay on the floor, the prisoner, the police say, confessed to kicking her three times. At the time he was wearing heavy rubber overshoes.

Eric James and James Sims, roomers, were upstairs in their rooms during the trouble. Sims slept all through the argument, and knew nothing until a detective walked into

3RD VICE SQUAD RAIDER OUSTED BY MULROONEY

IN SEABURY INVESTIGATION

"Failed to Testify in Accordance With Report," Says Commissioner.

NEW YORK, March 12—Another vice squad policeman was blasted out of the Police Department Monday as a result of disclosures in the Seabury investigation.

He is Richard B. Ganly, thirty-three. He was dismissed by Commissioner Mulrooney, the third to be dismissed since the vice inquiry started.

Arrested Dancer

Ganly was found guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer at a departmental trial in connection with his testimony on the arrest of Nina Artska, the Russian dancer.

Mulrooney said: "Testimony shows the officer failed to testify in accordance with the report submitted by him at the time of the arrest."

The Commissioner went on to say Ganly's usefulness in future cases "has been destroyed."

Third to be Ousted

The other two patrolmen dismissed were William M. O'Connor and James J. Quinlivan. Ganly was appointed to the force July 7, 1924. At one time he was the partner of Patrolman Andrew J. McLaughlin, who arrested Vivian Gordon in 1923.

OFFICER RISKS LIFE IN RACE TO SAVE BOY

Speeds at 90 Miles an Hour Through New York Traffic to Obtain Serum.

DEATH MINUTES AHEAD

NEW YORK, March 12—With the life of a nine-year-old boy at stake, Motorcycle Patrolman John Hydock raced thirty-four miles through crowded streets at ninety miles an hour.

But death, mocking the speed of one of man's machines, was the victor.

Hydock and his motorcycle were summoned Saturday, it became known yesterday, in a last minute effort to save Richard E. Duhig, of Mount Vernon, who lay suffering from meningitis in St. John's Hospital, Yonkers.

Supply on East River

The doctors told Hydock that the nearest supply of serum that might save the boy was in the laboratories of the New York City Health Department.

Hydock, astride his machine, catapulted southward. Down Broadway, past the city line to Riverside Drive, he sped.

Red lights were only signals for greater bursts as he continued on through West End ave. to 50th St. There he was stopped by a New York motorcycle patrolman. Hasty words of explanation followed.

Precious Time Lost

Then, with the other rider blazing the way, Hydock raced on to the laboratory. Eleven precious minutes were lost there while the serum was being prepared.

Then the return trip—at even greater speed, thanks to the escort. In Yonkers, doctors snatched the serum from Hydock and took it to the sick room. As they entered, the boy breathed his last.

RAID IS STAGED ON CAPONE CLUB

Officers Attempt to Burn Open Safe to Get Records on Liquor Traffic.

VISITORS RELEASED.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 12 (C.P.).—Federal Prohibition agents early today raided the Cotton Club of Ralph Capone in suburban Cicero, and called for acetylene torches in an effort to obtain records for use in their investigation of the liquor traffic.

The raid itself was the upshot of a previous visit to the club by Roy Budd and Dan Copely, Federal Prohibition officers, who were sitting in front of the place March 5 in an automobile when accosted by an unknown gunman and Jack Karron, the club's doorman. Despite the fact that they revealed their identities, Budd and Copely said they were taken to the Cicero police headquarters. They were subsequently released after charging Karron with interfering with Federal officers.

This morning Budd and Copely led a squad of Federal officers into the club. They reported they found a half dozen guests, the chorus girls and orchestra scattered over the club. The guests promply broke half a dozen bottles of liquor on the floor, but there was no other confusion.

All Freed

After releasing the guests and members of the chorus and orchestra, the officers began a methodical raid of the place for liquor and other evidence. When Manager Jacob Spielman refused to give them the combination to the safe, they decided to try to burn it open.

Ralph Capone is a brother of Alphonse Capone, the gang chief who recently was sentenced to six months by a Federal Judge for contempt of Court, growing out of his failure to respond to summons of a Grand Jury which was investigating incomes two years ago. Ralph Capone is under sentence for an alleged income tax violation, but has appealed the case

Records Seized

When the safe was later opened, a number of records were seized and taken at once to the Federal building.

The Cotton Club was operating under a temporary Federal injunction, issued by Judge Wilkerson, May 14, 1930, which prevented raids unless there was definite evidence of law violation. Federal officials sidestepped the injunction by entering the place on a John Doe warrant. After discovering liquor, they said they were free to move about the club as they wished, since the evidence of liquor would prove law violation.

Aid of President Will Be Asked for Straus Memorial

NEW YORK, March 12—President Hoover will be asked to be honorary chairman of a committee to raise funds for a memorial monument to Nathan Straus, philanthropist.

This was decided by the Broadway Association at a luncheon in the Hotel Astor at which the association voted unanimously to sponsor a Straus memorial campaign.

The President, in a letter to August Jannsen, Broadway restaurateur, already had made known his willingness to help such a project as soon as the form of the memorial had been agreed upon.

HOUSE DEFEATS LIQUOR MOTION OF PROGRESSIVES

Conservatives and Labor Vote Against Principal of Referendum.

REDUCE SPENDING.

Liberal Members Present Vote With Progressives and U. F. O.

TORONTO, March 12.—The principle of referendum and plebiscite in dealing with the liquor question was decisivley defeated in the Ontario Legislature yesterday.

The motion which would put the House on record as adhering to this principle was voted down by 81 to 16. Conservatives stood as one against the motion, and they pounded desks to welcome the support of the lone Labor member in the Opposition benches—Earl H. Hutchinson, Kenora.

That was the only extra help the Government members got from the Opposition side yesterday. Progressives, U.F.O., and all the Liberal members in the House voted for the motion by Harry C. Nixon, Leader of the Progressive group.

Ironical Welcome

Mr. Nixon rather ironically welcomed the Liberal support, contrasting it to the "Damon and Pythias" attitude of the Liberal House Leader and the Government of the day before.

William E. N. Sinclair, in support of the motion, stated that it was substantially the same principle he had advocated in the last election, and upon which his constituents in South Ontario had returned him to the Legislature.

Premier Henry, opposing the motion, restated the Government's position that the liquor questions should be settled by the Administration on its own responsibility. The principle of referenda, plebiscites and recalls, shifting responsibility from where it properly rests—with the Government—was incompatible with British institutions, he declared. His support of a plebiscite in 1924 he defended as a transition move back to responsible government from the unusual conditions following the wartime measure of the Ontario Temperance Act.

The Call For a Vote.

Mr. Nixon's motion read as follows: "That this House affirms its adherence to the principle of referendum and plebiscite, and believes that an opportunity should be given to the people of Ontario to vote on the liquor question in this manner when a sufficient public demand for such action is apparent.'

The debate carried speakers back into recent and more remote history of plebiscites and referenda on the liquor question in the country. Mr. Nixon's point that the Conservative Administration itself had adopted the principle with the approval of such leaders as Sir William Hearst, Hon. C Howard Ferguson and Sir George Foster was countered from the Government side with statements that plebiscites had been held by Liberal statesmen, Sir Oliver Mowat, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir George Ross, but that the prohibition majorities had never been implemented with legislation.

To Reduce Spending.

One of the outstanding pleas of the debate was that by Dr. L. J. Simpson (Liberal, Simcoe Centre), who urged that Conservative members, responsible for the Liquor Control Law, should bring all their influence to bear on the Government to adopt measures to reduce spending on liquor by at least one-third of the present amount.

Although the Liberals present voted solidly for the motion, the following were not in the House: Thomas F. Murray (Renfrew South), Norman O. Hipel (Waterloo South), William J. Bragg (Durham), and S. C. Tweed (Waterloo North).

WINTER REIGNS ACROSS EUROPE

LONDON, March 12 (C.P.).—Winter still held most of Europe in a fierce unrelenting grip to-day.

Germany, France, Austria, Switzerland, Scandinavia, Holland and the British Isles suffered from the bitter weather and storms which began last week and have continued with little pause since.

The Zuyder Zee, Holland's great inland sea, for the first time in several years, was frozen over and ferry service was suspended. Roads were either blocked by snowfall or made extremely dangerous for traffic in all the affected countries.

Conditions in Great Britain were a trifle less severe than yesterday, although cold winds and frost continued. There was some anxiety in the hill country at the prospect of melting drifts bringing large scale floods.

The Seine was still rising in Paris to-day, registering slightly more than nineteen feet at Austerlitz Bridge, an increase of three inches since yesterday morning.

BOOK-SELLING RACKET BARED

Use of Prominent Men's Names Netted Promoters $90,000 Officials State.

PUBLISHING FIRM RAIDED.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 12 (C.P.). — The New York American today said Federal authorities had uncovered book-selling rackets in which the promoters had collected about $900,000 through the unauthorized use of the names of President Hoover, Vice-President Curtis, Calvin Coolidge, and other prominent persons.

Among these others, the paper said, are Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Alfred E. Smith, former Governor David W. Davis of Idaho, Senator Royal F. Copeland, Senator Robert Wagner, and Cardinal Hayes.

The American reported that Assistant Federal Attorney Edward I. Aranow raided a publishing firm, seized records and supoenaed officials for questioning.

United States Attorney Medalie was quoted as follows:

"There is no doubt in my mind that we have come upon a new kind of promotion scheme."

Letters of prominent men extolling Lincoln Memorial University, the National Lincoln League, and the disabled United States veterans were used by salesmen, it was said, to secure subscriptions to two sets of books under the guise that the money would go to these organizations.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, March 12. — Egg prices were lower, butter quotations higher, and cheese and potato prices unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

Carlot prices of fresh Ontario and Prairie eggs all lost 1 cent, extras being quoted at 27c to 28c, firsts at 25c to 26c, and seconds at 19c to 20c a dozen. British Columbia fresh eggs, in carlots, were unchanged, extras selling at 29c, firsts at 27c, and pullets at 26c a dozen. To retailers prices were also lower. Fresh specials and extras were unchanged at 35c and 33c, while fresh firsts and fresh pullet extras lost 1c at 29c to 30c and 28c a dozen. Fresh seconds were unchanged at 23c. Storage extras, firsts, and seconds lost 1 cent at 22c to 23c, 19c to 20c, and 17c to 18c a dozen, respectively. Receipts were 3,285 cases.

On the butter market regraded Eastern Townships and fresh Western No. 1 gained ¼c at 31½c pound. To retailers solids were 33c to 34c, and prints 34c to 35c a pound. Receipts were 46 boxes.

Winter white cheese was quoted at 14½c to 14¾c a pound, and winter white at 12c, while receipts were only 68 boxes.

New Brunswick Green Monutain potatoes, in carlots, were quoted at 80c per 90 pounds bulk, and to retailers 90c per 90 pound bag.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, March 12. — With the new lower prices in effect, trading on the local butter market yesterday was slightly better. There was no great activity, but some stocks were moved, which was an improvement on previous conditions. Brokers quoted and sold at 31¼c to 31½c for No. 1 creamery, and 30¼c to 30½c for No. 2 solids.

Cream.

Cream prices were higher, the general range giving place to the steady prices of 32c for special, 31c for No. 1, and 28c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points. There was some talk during the week of prices going up another cent, as some creameries were securing more cream than those staying within the regular agreed range.

Eggs.

Receipts of eggs were still heavy, but brokers reported a fair movement, which was helping considerably. Nevertheless, supplies at country points had not been depleted to any great extent, and a much better local demand will have to materialize if the market is to remain firm. Brokers were of the opinion that prices would go up in the near future and many thought that a weaker market might result unless the demand increased. Brokers were quoting graded eggs, in free cases, at 25c for extras, 23c for firsts, 21c for pullet extras, and 17c to 18c for seconds. Country shippers were offered 23c for extras, 21c for firsts, and 17c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Retailers were securing supplies at 31c for extras in cartons, 29c for extras loose, 27c for firsts loose, and 21c for seconds loose.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, March 12. — Traders displayed little action in the wheat market here yestreday, and with the exception of the last hour, sales were few. Values opened slightly easier, in sympathy with easiness in Liverpool and Buenos Aires, but at the close fractional gains were recorded, ranging from ½c to ¾c a bushel.

The high points of the day were touched during the final hour when traders found offerings scarce and a slightly better local demand.

Demand for cash wheat and coarse grains was limited, and trade light throughout the session.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Mar. 12.—Grains scored advances late yesterday, but not until after wheat had equalled the season's low price record. The late rallies accompanied announcements that the domestic wheat price basis paid by Farm Board allies had been lifted ½c per bushel at Kansas City and a full cent at Minneapolis. There were simultaneous indications that the basis on wheat for export by way of the Gulf of Mexico had been cut 1 5-8c.

Wheat closed firm, unchanged to 7-8c higher; corn, unchanged to ⅝c up; oats, 1-8c to 3-8c advance, and provisions unchanged to 7c down.

Bullish wheat factors that loomed up in the last half of the day included an Argentine exchange rate advance. A further rise, too, in the price of silver was expected to improve Oriental demand for wheat. Washington crop reports dwelling upon beneficial effects of recent heavy snow and rain in domestic winter wheat territory was lost sight of after the market started upward.

Corn and oats swayed with wheat, declining early and advancing late. Receipts of corn were small, primary terminals having only 436,000 bushels against 1,276,000 a week ago.

TRAIL RANGER NEWS

"VIKING" TRAIL RANGER CAMP

The "Viking" Trail Ranger Camp of Mark St. United Church held their regular meeting in the church. The meeting was presided over by Floyd Alton, acting as Chief Ranger in the absence of Ray McColl. After the customary opening ceremony Neil Alton led in prayer which was followed by the scripture reading by George Hunter.

Some new club rules were constitutionally adopted.

The camp started a study from a text book on, "Jesus and a Boy's Philosophy of Life." The group are planning to discuss one chapter per week. They are also discussing the problems of the life of Jesus and the life of to-day.

Splendid progress is being recorded in the Badge Work Department. Nearly all of the fellows have commenced the work required for their Group Games Badge. Mel. Mackey is leading with five games to his credit. All present last night tried the first part of their Observation Badge and a report as to their results will be shown on the Bulletin Board in the Sunday School hall next Sunday.

Games such as checkers and chess are being keenly contested and the club have been fortunate in securing the services of Art Reynolds who will coach the boys on the game of chess.

The members were reminded of the meeting which is to be held after Sunday School on Sunday. Mr. C. Robb closed the meeting with the benediction.

HOW TO GET RELIEF FROM CATARRH

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness, or head noises, go to your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength); take this home, add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant, and costs little. Every one who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find it is just what you need.

GENIUS NORMAL BUT ORDINARY FOLK MAD

Ambition for Wealth Sign of Childishness. Says Dr. Obermeyer.

MONTREAL, March 12 (By The Canadian Press)—What is wrong with most people is that they are not really grown up. Fairy tale day dreaming of being great powerful people of having lots of money and endless breakfasts in bed isn't so much an indication of a wonderful faculty of imagination as just plain childishness and is, moreover, rather dangerous, as the onset of hard reality is likely to bring the world crashing down around one's ears. These were some of the points driven home by Dr. Charles G. Obermeyer, a young Africander, in a recent address before the Montreal Women's club.

Dr. Obermeyer likened the human soul to a chariot with two horses, one strong, courageous, vital and energetic; the other lame, self-indulgent, lazy, neurotic, and behind them the charioteer controlling and guiding. The great geniuses, Homer, Shakespeare and Dante, for example, were good charioteers, having reasoned control over their emotions, not through prohibition but by direction.

"The genius is the ideal of what we, potentially, are," declared the lecturer. "Genius is sometimes called abnormal. But it is we who are mad; they who are normal. We are confused, cannot express our emotions, do not know what we want, and carry conflicting feelings about the same things all through our lives."

OBITUARY

ERMA HUFF.

BONARLAW, Mar. 12.—(Examiner Correspondence.) — The death occurred on Thursday, March 5 of Erma Huff, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Huff, on the 13th concession of Rawdon, in her 17th year.

Erma had only been ill a few days when she was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, where she underwent an operation on Wednesday evening. She passed away on Thursday at 2 o'colck.

She leaves to mourn her loss her parents, two sisters and one brother, Edna and Phyliss and Kenneth.

The many beautiful floral tributes spoke in silence of the high esteem in which she was held.

The funeral was held on Sunday, it being her 17th birthday. The service was to have been held at the house but owing to the terrible storm that raged all day, the service was held in the school house adjacent to the cemetery. The Rev. Mr. Bunt, of Springbrook, officiated, and burial was made in the 12th Line cemetery.

The pallbearers were Leslie Baker, Max Green, Cyril and Ralph McKeown, Reg. Burkitt and Clarence McComb.

GAS IN STOMACH HURTS THE HEART

Thousands of Cases of Heart Failure Are Caused by Acute Indigestion, Says Medical Writer

Gas pressure from sour, acid, upset stomach is not only nauseating and highly uncomfortable but some day it may prove fatal!

When your meals are followed by bloating, a feeling of fulness or pressure, shortness of breath and pains around the heart, you may be sure that the acid condition of your stomach is producing a GAS that is pushing upwards and crowding your heart. That's the reason for the shortness of breath and sharp, shooting pains.

Whether young or old, the presence of stomach gas is truly serious and should always be given prompt and careful attention.

To quickly banish gas, cleanse and sweeten the stomach, neutralize the acidity—nothing is better than the daily or "as needed" use of ordinary Bisurated Magnesia. It gives almost instant relief.

Any good druggist can supply Bisurated Magnesia, in powder or tablet form, at very small cost—but be sure you get BISURATED Magnesia—recommended by Doctors and Druggists throughout the civilized world for more than 15 years.

Demand Votes For All Verdun Women

MONTREAL, March 12 (By Canadian Press)—While welcoming the evidence that several of the city fathers favor the principle of votes for women, an organization which has carried on the campaign for the municipal franchise for married women in Verdun, Quebec, registers strong objection to the limitations of the clause inserted in the bill to amend the City Charter which would give the vote only to those married women who own property in their own names. Such discrimination is branded as undemocratic and discriminatory in a letter which has been sent to the Mayor and Municipal Council of Verdun over the signature of Mrs. S. C. Price, president of St. Willibrord's Ladies United Association.

Esthonia to Participate World's Grain Exhibition

REGINA, Sask., March 12 (By The Canadian Press).—Esthonia is the fourteenth country officially to accept an invitation to participate in the World's Grain Exhibition to be held here in 1932. This tiny republic, situated on the far eastern shores of the Baltic Sea, has appointed Dr. Mihkel Pill, head of plant breeding stations, to take charge of and accompany the exhibit to the conference.

First entries in the competitive classes come from widely separated points. The first entry of corn came from Wisconsin. Alberta is represented with an entry in the oat and wheat classes, while Ontario is well to the fore with an exhibit of beans.

Work already has commenced on the construction of the spacious building specially designed to house the exhibits. Cost of this building alone is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $200,000.

MANY PROPOSALS.

The executive committee of the Ontario Prohibition Union has submitted a report to the annual convention containing a large number of important resolutions, some of which will appeal to most people as reasonable and others that will just as certainly seem too drastic.

With the suggestion that annual reports of the sales made in each Government store in the Province should be published, The Examiner is in thorough sympathy; it is a policy that has been frequently supported in these columns.

So, too, has been the proposal that there should be registration for over-night guests at tourist camps and road-houses—these places are at present under no control.

There will be little quarrel with the suggestion that greater restrictions be provided in regard to the amount of liquor purchased or to drinking in hotel rooms.

The suggestion, however, that hospitals be required to report on all accidents in which liquor is apparent would impose a responsibility on hospital staffs that they have no right to be shouldered with.

Nor will the majority of people favor detention for first offenders, as the report suggests.

It is the general opinion that the present law which provides for a fine is serving the ends of justice satisfactorily, and that to make the penalty on the first charge of over-indulgence in liquor detention would be unfair and drastic.

AN EFFECTIVE CLEAN-UP.

Winnipeg reports the successful completion of the biggest clean-up of criminals in the city's history, a campaign that has resulted in the arrest and conviction of thirty-eight housebreakers and holdup men and the recovery of over half of the money and goods looted by these men.

It is a remarkable testimony to the effectiveness and efficiency of Winnipeg police methods that every person arrested in connection with the recent crime wave was convicted and sentenced—and in most cases the sentence was long enough to serve as a warning to the criminally inclined.

The success of the police, it is to be imagined, will prove about the most useful burglary insurance Winnipeg could procure anywhere.

A clean-up of the nature reported and the speedy trial and conviction of the criminals will strengthen the feeling that Canadian justice is to be feared by those who try to prey upon society, and that crooks need expect a short shift if they extend their activities in Canadian cities.

When the record set up by the Winnipeg police is compared with the ineffectiveness of the police departments of American cities to protect their communities against racketeers, bandits and gunmen, most United States crooks are likely to arrive at the conclusion that they had better give Canada a wide berth.

HERE'S THE WAY TO DO IT.

Where there's a will there's a way.

The municipality that really wants to cut down expenditures can do so.

The little town of Bow in New Hampshire has supplied the world with the recipe for municipal economy.

At a town meeting the other night the community decided to turn off the street lights now serving the population of 700, and right there $2,000 a year was shifted to the credit side of the ledger.

That's all there is to it; the municipality that desires to cut down its tax rate has only to apply the pruning knife and let the chips fall where they may.

It can be done—if the citizens are willing to do without the services they have become accustomed to and depend upon.

If a community is prepared to do without street lighting and fire and police protection, and good roads and permanent sidewalks, and a lot of other important services, it can cut its expenditures in half and effect a corresponding reduction in the rate.

But few towns are like this litle New Hampshire centre.

Most of them are made up of people who, while they are inclined to grumble over taxation, would rend the air with howls of indignant protest if they were deprived of the municipal services they regard as essential.

There are not many communities which would be willing to go as far as the good citizens of Bow.

THE LOGICAL ATTITUDE.

In refusing to line up with the Progressive and U.F.O. group in voting for a want-of-confidence amendment, Mr. Sinclair and his Liberal followers in the Legislature were entirely logical.

The motion, fathered by the only U.F.O. representative in the House, Farquhar Olive, sought to have the Legislature censure the Government for what it termed "failure to establish and maintain markets for farm products so that by increased selling volume the farmer could meet his high overhead cost."

The Liberal leader condemned the amendment as "an unfortunate episode," and he was quite justified in so doing in view of the fact that his non-partisan suggestion that farmers' difficulties and problems should be given especial attention during the session, made when the House opened, had been accepted in the same spirit by the Government.

"My attitude," Mr. Sinclair declared, "is that since the Government is doing what we asked it to do, we can't turn right around and kick it in the back. And I think the thinking people of the Province will agree with me."

There is little doubt of that fact because most people realize the seriousness of the situation as regards agriculture, and welcome the attempt that is being made on a non-political basis to deal with that situation.

With the two old parties alive to the necessity of such action, it is surprising to find that the only members inclined to play politics with the present crisis are the representatives of those who would benefit the most by a successful solution of the pressing problem.

ONE OF DEPRESSION'S LESSONS.

Economic depression is a boon to some young folk, in the opinion of Parker F. Scripture, of Utica, N. Y., judge of Oneida County children's court. Boys and girls, he finds, are behaving better than formerly and one reason for this improvement in general conduct in the last three months, he says, might be the scarcity of funds which in some cases has sent youngsters to work helping support the family when otherwise they might be loafing. Boys continue to outnumber, by far, the girls brought into his court, he noted.

There should be a moral in this judge's remarks for indulgent parents with sons who have graduated from school but who have shown no inclination to take up some line of work. It is this transition period which has wrecked many a youth. Without any tasks to take up their time, or part of it, they frequently turn to amusements which are likely to have an unwholesome influence on their lives. Many of these, too, are liberally supplied with spending money by generous but short-sighted parents. Uninterrupted loafing is bad for any young man and is worse when he is given money to gratify his desires. Parents who encourage their sons to lead this kind of a life may feel that they are allowing them to have a little fun before they settle down to work, but this fun is not always as innocent as it seems. Many youths, well supplied with money and with nothing to do, have received a wrong bent in life.

Parents should keep their boys at school as long as possible, and when their studies cease, they should set them at occupations which are likely to prove profitable to them in after years. If this is impossible at first, then they should be employed at temporary jobs. Work of the proper kind has never spoiled a youth's character, but loafing often has, and will invariably do so if extended indefinitely, killing ambition and sapping energy.

Putting a youth at work does not mean that his day of fun is over. He will still have plenty of time for recreation and amusement, and these will be of a more helpful nature than if his whole time was given over to the pursuit of pleasure.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

WORK AND FOOD IN RUSSIA.

Addressing the All-Russian Congress of Soviets on the subject of forced labor, Premier Molotoff drew a contrast between Russia and the rest of the world with results entirely satisfactory to himself. "It is our rule that he that works not, neither shall he eat. In capitalist countries they have now amended it—he that worketh shall not eat either." Only two exceptions to this epigrammatic parallelism suggest themselves: it does not correctly describe conditions in other countries and it does not correctly describe conditions in Russia.

In none of the Western industrial centres now in the grip of business depression is unemployment accompanied by starvation or lack of shelter and clothes. From the virtually unanimous reports on living in Russia—of the black bread and cabbage soup diet, of the uncouth raggedness, of the underheated houses where people go to bed as the only way to keep warm—it seems patent that a higher standard obtains among the unemployed masses of Western Europe living on unemployment Government relief. The same is true of the unemployed in the United States under our system of voluntary relief. It is not only the hard-faced "capitalist" who maintains that one of the problems of unemployment insurance to be dealt with is the fact that the "dole" supplies enough subsistence and even comfort to make work unattractive to many of the unemployed.

For Soviet Russia, on the other hand the rule that he who does not work shall not eat needs explanation. As a general doctrine it does not invite serious objection, if we leave aside "humanitarian" considerations, which have no place in the Soviet Government's immediate program. Perhaps it is right in Russia to-day, or anywhere at all times, that the man who refuses to work shall be allowed to perish of hunger. But the case is radically altered if the Government which offers a man the alternative of working or starving has previously deprived him of the opportunity to work and to feed himself. That is precisely the condition of scores of thousands of peasants, the so-called "Kulaks," whom the Government in the course of its collectivization campaign has deprived of house and goods and cast into the street, with his wife and children, to perish, or actually exiled to the Arctic.

In proudly affirming the work-or-starve doctrine, Premier Molotoff would suggest that it is a question of dealing with chronic loafers and idlers who would shun work of any kind anywhere in Russia. But the work-or-starve rule in the lumber regions is applied to scores of thousands of men who would have been only too glad to work and feed themselves if the Soviet Government had let them alone. On the same page with Premier Molotoff's epigram in yesterday's Times a correspondent from Moscow thus sums up the case of the peasant in the lumber camps:

> The collectivization of farms was decided upon. The Kulaks were disfranchised and thousands of them were exiled to the North. With no money and no jobs in the strange, frozen wilds of the Arctic, their sole chance of making enough to eat was to work for the State timber-cutting gangs.—New York Times.

The Henry Government, having been sustained by a vote of 95 to 6, must be heaving sighs of relief.

It is announced that there is no truth in the report that Sir Henry Drayton would be the chief speaker on behalf of Michigan wets. The head of Ontario's Liquor Control Board never had any intention of participating in the controversy.

Politics never grow monotonous in Peru where they have had four different rulers in the past two weeks.

There will not be a great deal of excitement at Ottawa until Monday when the party leaders are scheduled to swing into action.

The consensus of opinion as to the Herridge appointment seems to be that the wisest course is to defer judgment until the new envoy has been given a chance to make good.

CHAPTER XIII
TWO TELEGRAMS.

Senator Kent was alone in his sunlit study. His morning mail was piled high beside him awaiting his careful scrutiny, but he showed no signs of interest in anything that might possible be there. He, sat in his deep armchair, his head bent his eyes fixed on space, his kindly expression replaced by one of intense strain and melancholy. A faint twitching in one cheek and a whitening of his hair around the edges showed the ravages that his despair over Lorraine had made.

It had been two weeks now since her disappearance. The newspapers had shifted the accounts of it from the front pages to the back. The picture houses were flashing items of newer interest. The radio announcers made their nightly appeal for information to a bored audience, who switched to other stations until they had finished. Rumors, alarms, letters and telegrams had dwindled in proportion. The air pilots had ceased their search—even including Stephen Moore—and everyone had reached the hopeless conclusion that enveloped the Senator in deep despondency.

His meditation was now filled with a dull pain that gave him no rest, for a deep and bitter remorse gnawed relentlessly at his soul. He blamed himself for Lorraine's death. If it had not been for his unsympathetic attitude toward Dirk, she would never have run off as she had with him. If he could only have stifled his instinctive resentment against the fact of her loving someone else more than she did him—for it was resentment against the fact rather than against the man—she might be here with him now, alive and happy.

As always, his thoughts became unbearable. He stirred, passed his hand rather desperately over his eyes and then, with determined effort, he turned toward his letters. Life was bleak and barren and there was nothing left for him but work, but that at least he had. That he could do—he must do—to save his reason.

Glancing hastily over the stack, he picked out one from Adam Potter, dictated from his home in Phoenix after his return with the committee men from a brief sojourn in the desert at Joe' Smith's agency. He had had a telegraphic report from Potter a few days after Lorraine's disappearance, stating that the two visitors were now on the same mind as Potter and himself regarding the seriousness of the situation, but, in the press of the greater matter of Lorraine's flight, and awaiting a confirmation of this report from Potter, the message had lain neglected until now. This letter, he thought, as he tore it open, doubtless repeated at length what the telegram had said. He read it slowly.

"Hines and Rockwell are now convinced," Potter concluded in his letter, "as we have long been, that the Indian problem is grossly mishandled in many respects, that Washington's present methods are presenting the Government to a still uncivilized and dangerous group in a most unfavorable light, that the whole ystem needs overhauling and adjusting to conditions that have grown out of the changes wrought by time and enforced education, and, most particularly, that the moment for rapid alterations is now, when the present unrest is more than an imagined disquietude. The threat of real violence, which is felt by all those in authority who are close to the Indians, is taken most seriously by them and by us. Agent Smith declares he has even been issued an ultimatum by the Navajos, in which, if he is not authorized by Washington to return to them within two weeks land that was originally given to the Hopi tribes, the Navajos will wage war against the whites in their territory "as their fathers and their fathers' fathers did before them." It is a known fact that the wandering tribes are gathering and preparing for this very event, in the confident expectation that Washington will remain, as usual, wrapped in the inertia of indifference. The rebellion will be staged at the end of their famous nine-day Mountain Chant, and the time for this is regulated by the moon. If our Government is to be saved from public disgrace, brought about by neglect and stupidity, we as its servants, must bestir ourselves to immediate action. As Chairman of the Investigation Committee, the next m ove is in your hands and I am sure, after our conference at your house, that the urgency of the situation is impressed upon you and that you will lose no time in arousing the officials at Washington to a more militaristic policy. A formidable force of soldiers is the only t'ing that will check the Navajos at the present time. Once this danger is past, the matter of necessary alterations in our governmental regulations regarding the whole territory, can be taken up. Enclosed you will find a brief statement signed by Hines, Rockwell and myself, corroborates the truth of this letter and signifies unqualifiedly the unanimity of our feeling in this issue."

This letter Kent read twice. Then he pulled himself wearily from his chair and went to his desk. Potter was right It was up to him, and there was no time to lose. Even when pressure was brought to bear on Washington, the Government was still slow to act. Kent knew too well from his experience in the capital as Senator, that if his recommendation could be delayed and pushed aside, without apparent neglect, it would be done. On Indian matters there seemed to be a silent, agreed resistance to action. There were always miles of official tape to unwind. There were always other affairs more pressing. There were always maddening mistakes that could be traced to "misunderstanding of terms." But all of these dangers must be avoided. Somehow Kent must immediately reach the highest power in the Department of the Interior and procure swift action, if his appointment was to be justified, if the Indians were to know justice, if they were to feel respect for the Government, whose authority they were now daring to flout, but, most of all, if the white people working for Washingtonin the desert were to be saved.

The Senator deliberatd for many moments, but at last he reached out a thin hand and touched a bell. His secretary appeared almost immediatly, bearing, in her presence, the concern the whole household felt for the grief of a beloved master.

"I will dictate a few telegrams and letters," he said.

Miss Conant nodded and slipped quietly into her place, her plain face bent over her note book. What would it be this time, she wondered, thinking of the hundreds of letters that had gone out since Lorraine's disappearance. What more could the poor man do than he had already done? She sent a quick, pitying look toward her employer. He was leaning back in his chair, his finger tips nearly together, his worn face lifted to gaze across the room at the top of the door. Thinking that he looked years older already, she returned her glance to her pad and began taking notes as rapidly as he dictated.

"To the Department of the Interior," he began.

There came a knock at the door and Hawkins entered apologetically with two telegrams which he placed before the Senator. Then he stood waiting.

"Thank you, Hawkins. That will do. I'll read them later."

"But there's an answer to one, sir. The boy is waiting."

Kent sighed patiently, picked up the top envelope and ripped it open. The change that swept over him was startling enough to the man and woman observing him so closely. He turned perfectly white and his breath seemed to leave his body, then slowly such a brightening, such a lightening spread over his features that he bore the exalted look of one who has seen a vision. He turned to them both, shaking with excitement, his voice hoarse with awe, with doubt, with joy.

"Can it be true? Can this thing be true? Oh! My God! If it is—Listen!" And he read the telegram from Silver Tongue.

Winslow, Arizona.

"I find your daughter and white man and keep her safe. Come to place of Navajo's Fire Dance with money on uprising of next moon and she will be returned to you.

SILVER TONGUE."

Incredulous, astounding news! They stared at each other, at the telegram and at the Senator, who was so profoundly affected. After the first dazed moment, Hawkins and the secretary, feeling a reaction of skepticism, exchanged swift, secret glances of warning—a mutual agreement not to disillusion Lorraine's father.

But for him there was no doubt. The telegram had an authentic sound, and he was transfigured by his joy. Suddenly, however, a new emotion shook him, and he read the brief missive again with a startled look on his face. In the second reading certain words and phrases leaped all to clearly to meet his eyes. "Winslow"—"Navajo Fire Dance"—"Uprising of next moon——"

Why, it was the Navajos who were threatening the rebellion! Was his daughter, Lorraine, in the hands of these savages? And he was bidden to come to the very place of their planned revolt! At the very time! What did that mean? What diabolical intention lay behind the promise?' This threat This good news that was so bad? This terrible news that had seemed so heaven sent at first? Was he to be lured there, to be robbed, and then to be held as unwilling witness to the murder of his own daughter, before he too fell a victim to their primitive fury?

«And there was more to the mystery than this. "I find your daughter and white man and keep her safe." What about Dirk? Was he to be killed? Had he already been killed? Or had he been found dead? "—and she will be returned to you." It seemed as though Dirk was not living, as though Lorraine was alone and helpless in the hands of the lawless redskins.

All these thoughts flashed through his mind in the passing of an instant. In the next moment he had snatched at the second telegram—forgotten until now—and had ripped it open. Did this confirm or deny the previous news? Did it qualify and amend so that the words was better or worse? He read it silently, then turned to his watchful servants and read it aloud.

"It's from Potter, Adam Potter, the Senator from Arizona," he explained briefly. "'Have just learned of your loss and make haste to tell you Agent Smith meutioned hearing airplane pass over his station about two weeks ago. As he is not on direct mail route, he was impressed enough to wonder about it. Suggest you make all haste to Smith's and arrange to send searching parties from there. Glad to help in any way possible. My camping equipment, my knowledge of desert and Indians and my time are at your disposal. Wire reply if I can co-operate.'"

As he finished reading, Kent became once more a keen, quiet efficient business man. His face was drawn and pale with the tenseness of the hour, but his eyes held again the gleam of battle, and, with the gesture to Hawkins to wait, he dictated a telegram to Potter.

Phoneix, Arizona.

"Thanks for your offer of help. Glad to consult you. Flying to Phoenix to-day.

KENT."

UNFAIR CRITICISM

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Mr. Editor,—My attention has been drawn to an article of "The Herald," of Marmora of last week's issue, under the headline, "Would Stop Highway work."

In this article the Editor after condemning the Peterborough County Council for their action etc., in very sarcastic language winds up with the following paragraph:—

"For a generation or two Peterborough County has been notorious for having the worst roads in Old Ontario and for its niggardly policy in regard to roads and this action is in keeping with its reputation."

Now we do not mean to uphold the Peterborough County Council on their stand in the matter, neither do we censure them on their decision. They were elected by the people to look after our welfare and we leave it to them.

Premier Henry made the statement "Where is the money coming from?" and if the County Council is taking that in consideration we can't see just where they are wrong, and probably Premier Henry may approve of their willingness to halt a while.

In this time of depression, "step easy" might be a good slogan for most of us to follow and keep formost in our minds. "Where is the money coming from."

We cannot understand why The Herald refers to the Peterborough County roads in such a manner for of late Hastings has had nothing over Peterborough in its roads—other than its Provincial Highways. In fact, we think all will agree that the main roads in Peterborough County are somewhat better than those of Hastings.

Probably the Editor has been blind or has not travelled much, particularly over his own town where the village pays a tax rate of 69 mills and not much to show for it.

The paragraph mentioned reaches back a generation or two as stated, therefore rather reflects on some who have gone from this world, which is why we challenge his statement. We haven't the slightest doubt but that those faithful pathmasters who are gone and the present generation have done their best according to the ways and means they had to do their work and to their own estimation to which they had and have a full right, though termed by the Editor as being a niggardly policy. True, some parts of Peterborough County had very poor roads so had Hastings and most other counties.

Though swimming in self-estimation, the Editor of The Herald of Marmora, Ontario, should surely realize what a county such as Peterborough has had to contend with, else his judgment has been very narrow and short-sighted.

We creep before we walk,
Log cabin before the mansion;
Sickle before the reaper;
Oxen and horse before the cars, etc., so why reflect on the past as notorious and niggardly.

We have heard of The Herald of Marmora as "The Marmora Scandalizer" and so we might say, it has been notorious in its writings and niggardly policy and this article "Would stop Highway work" is in keeping with "its" reputation.

Thanking you for space,

Defendant.

What To-day Means To You

"PISCES"

If March 12th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. to noon, from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and from 11 p.m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 7:30 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Astrological influences on March 12th are pictured as unfavorable, and disappointment and danger may be avoided by doing as little as possible. It will pay to loaf. Let it be a day of thought and not of action; as mental perceptions will be unusually keen. Sunset will bring a change and happy events may be anticipated within the home-circle.

Children born on this March 12th will have sprightly natures, keen wits, a love for sports, and a passionate adoration for animals. They will be quick students, and have retentive memories. They will be original and quick in their work, but will be inclined to slight details.

You are an intellectual being, and a live one, but your life is not an easy one—you live on a stretch. You are almost too eager to crowd too many things into your life, and your mind is in a constant turmoil. In your anxiety not to miss anything, you miss a great deal, for one cannot appreciate anything properly, when constantly passing through life on top-most speed. In conversation, you are not "on the spot," your mind wanders from the matter in hand, to a new thought which you want to air.

You are unable to keep your judgment clear of your emotions and your passions. Anger, enthusiasm, excitement, and resentment all have their place in life, but you should learn to withhold your verdict until they have cooled down. Your "do it now" spirit gains you much, but on the other hand, it has hurt you much. You blurt out words which you would like to recall, and do things, which you wish you had left undone.

In your friendships, you are too possessive. Others find your complete ownership trying, and soon seek release. You are generous when it comes to sharing things, but you cannot share those who are near and dear to you with others. You love passionately, and it may be said that you are loyal. As you grow older, you will live less intensely, and you will not let your heart so completely run away with you. You would make a fiercely protective parent, and a domineering one.

Muscular-Rheumatic Aches and Pains

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Distressing muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond pleasantly to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant," because it gets action and is not just a salve. Musterole helps bring soreness and pain to the surface, and thus gives natural relief. You can feel how its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy; jars and tubes.

The Worry Ends

"I can't seem to see my way out," said Will Sloan to his wife. "If I could only get some sound advice!" His wife suggested his brother, who lived in a distant city. "You could telephone him, Will. He is sure to help you." Will hadn't thought of that. He did—and how grateful he was to Long Distance! His brother solved the problem.

DANISH VESSEL STRIKES ROCKS

CARRIES FULL CARGO.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 12 (C.P.)—With two holds flooded, the Danish motor vessel Guldborg, Capt. J. Mollerup, was reported early to-day in a serious condition on the rocks off Maude Island, at the entrance to Nonoose Bay, about five miles north of Nanaimo. The ship left New Westminster yesterday and called at Chemanius, leaving there late in the afternoon for Nanoose to complete cargo when she ran aground.

Under charter to the Seaboard Lumber Sales Company, Vancouver, the vessel had previously loaded two and one-half million feet of lumber for Atlantic ports.

An SOS from the stranded boat sent salvage vessels to her aid from Victoria and Vancouver. Full extent of the damage to the vessel will not be known until later to-day.

The Guldborg is of 2,638 tons net register and is owned by C. H. Hansen of Copenhagen.

Two London Bills Meeting Opposition

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 12.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Two London bills were before the Private Bills committee of the Legislature to-day. Both were met with opposition, under one bill the City Gas Company of London sought power to borrow money to finance certain expansions. The city opposed giving the company unlimited borrowing powers.

The other bill related to the city itself and was to enable the issue of debentures to make certain improvements.

Gordon Sinclair Given Suspended Sentence

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 12.—(C.P.)—Convicted on a charge of criminal negligence arising out of a motor accident on the highway near Toronto on Feb. 14, Gordon Sinclair, of London, was to-day given suspended sentence by Magistrate Keith when he appeared in county police court. The driver's license was also suspended for two years.

Sinclair was the driver of a car which was struck by a train at a level crossing west of Toronto, in which accident Ross Wilson, also of London, was killed. The accused and four other youths were on the way to a Y.M.C.A. meeting in Toronto when the fatal crash occurred.

DRAFTING NEW INSURANCE RATES.

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 12.—(C.P.)—Company representatives of the Canadian Automobile Underwriters' Association are in conference here to-day to draft the new schedule for motor car insurance rates in Ontario. The meeting was called following the announcement by the Attorney-General that new schedules for casualty insurance, based upon the report of the Royal Commission, would shortly be in effect.

LOSSES SMALL LIGHT TRADING TORONTO LIST

Leaders of Recognized Standing Only Issues to Show Activity.

OIL SECTION WEAK.

TORONTO, March 12 (By the Canadian Press).—Sagging beneath its own weight the Toronto Stock Exchange market this morning retracted still further from last night. Losses were small as the volume dwindled on the decline. The list narrowed again to-day, only the leaders of recognized standing showing any degree of activity.

Oils were weak but not alarmingly so. Announcement of a reduction in the price of gasoline made no appreciable difference in the market attitude towards this group, possibly on the ground that most Canadian companies are distributors and that apart from initial inventory losses the reduction in price would not affect them as they would also get the benefit of crude reductions. At any rate, the losses in this group this morning were no heavier than they have been on other mornings this week and the volume the first couple of hours was considerably less than yesterday.

Nickel at mid-day was selling unchanged from last night. Noranda was lower at 17, Brazilian off ¾ at 26½, Ford of Canada down slightly.

LESSER ISSUES LEAD TRADING

Base Metal and Oil Stocks Irregular to Lower in Tone on Standard.

SOFTNESS IN FAVORITES.

TORONTO, March 12 (By The Canadian Press).—Eldorado was again the featuring issue in a brisk gold section on the mining market to-day, some softness appeared in a few of the active stocks for the first part of sessions, but other lower-priced golds came to life to take their place, and the group, as a whole, had a strong appearance at noon. Base metal and oil issues were irregular to lower in tone.

Opening substantially above last night Eldorado moved up steadily to a high of $11.14 and showed a net gain of 17 at $1.11 when taken at mid-day. Nipissing recovered 5 to $1.80, Northern Canada was up 7 to 39 and Sylvanite 6 to 6. In the penny group Dominion exporters and Algonquin were active and higher. Small recessions appeared in Premier, Big Missouri, Central Pat and South Keora.

The one-half-cent cut in the price of export copper was reflected in an easier tone among copper stocks, Sherritt, Gordon dropping 3 to $1.07, Hudson Bay 15 to $5.35 and Nickel and Noranda a few cents apiece. Ventures saw renewed demand and an advance of 3 to 63.

Peninsular and Olga firmed a cent each in the oil section, but East Crest was off 4, Calgary and Edmonton and Calmont a couple apiece, and Acme Gas a cent or so to 22.

N.Y. LIST STRONGER IN LATER TRADING

Declines of One to Three Points in Morning Trading Are Cleared Up.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 12. (CP) Selling prompted by adverse dividend news was soon mopped up in to-day's stock market, and bull leaders made cautious efforts to get things in hand again.

The list slipped off 1 to 3 points in the first hour, but worked slowly higher thereafter. Trading was spiritless. Both business and corporate news was confusing enough to restrain the public from entering the market.

Speculators for the rise again concentrated their efforts in some of the eastern utilities. Tobaccos rose moderately in response to the enviable earnings report made by the leading cigaret marker, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of N.J., and United Gas Improvement rose 2 points or so. Eastfan and Ward Baking "A" gained as much and Allied Chemical recovered 4.

NEW FRENCH MINISTER, C. A. HENRY ARRIVES TO TAKE POST IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12.—(CP)—Once again France is represented in Canada by her own minister. Shortly after noon to-day, Charles Arsene Henry, Minister Plenipotentiary to Canada of France, accompanied by Madame Henry, arrived in Ottawa from New York.

Quite a little crowd had gathered at the station to greet the new minister, who succeeds Hon. Jean Knight, the first French Mnister to Canada, who returned to France some months ago. Premier R. B. Bennett was one of the first persons to shake Mr. Henrys hand, and other members of the Government followed with greetings and expressions of welcome.

Prohibit Optometrists From Using Prefix "Dr"

TORONTO, Ont., March 12 (C.P.).—Legislation to prohibit optometrists from using the prefix "doctor" was urged by a deputation representing the College of Physicians and Surgeons which to-day waited on the special committee of the Legislature appointed to deal with the optometry bill introduced by A. E. Honeywell, Ottawa North.

The deputation asked that optometrists be prohibited from using any prefix or by other means creating the impression in the public mind that he is anything else than one authorized to prescribe glasses.

Talking pictures are being introduced into the public school of Middlesex, England.

Mr. Justice Duff enjoys the distinction of being the first Canadian to officiate in this capacity. MINING BRIEFS.

TORONTO, March 12. (Special to Examiner).—A fight for the control of Sisco gold mines is in the making if present developments mean anything. For the past week Toronto brokers and others have been solicited for their proxies to vote at the annual meeting by a party in close touch with the present control now comes a notice, in the form of an advertisement, to stockholders that no official proxies have as yet been mailed but will be going forward with the annual report in a day or so.

The annual report of Kirkland Lake Gold Mining Company published today, not only establishes a new production record for the company but also shows an operating profit for the first time in several years. Improvement is due entirely to higher grade ore from the lower levels tonnage treated having been slightly below that of 1929. Further explorations at depths is planned for the present year and since Jan. 1 the winze has been carried to 4,530 feet, 230 feet below the bottom level at the end of the year. Crosscutting on the 4,500 level greatest depth reached by a Canadian metal mine to date, will be under way in the near future. In view of its low per ton costs, Dome Mines should earn, if it maintains the production rate enjoyed in January and February, two dollars a share or better in net profit this year, the Northern Miner states. February production, considering it was a 28 day month, was about average. The 1931 Dome record so far follows: January, 4 837 tons milled, $300,185 recovery and $6.70 per ton grade. February, 41,8 tons, $271,750 and $6.50. In February the mill averaged 1,49 tons daily. Shanghai reports that gold bars valued at $6,500,000 are to leave there tonight for San Francisco, according to plans made by the Central Bank of China, the only institution permitted by the Government to export gold. This shipment is designed to bolster China's silver, and the bank also hoping to make a profit on the exchange transaction. The utmost secrecy is maintained over the shipment, though enough erroneous reports have leaked out during the past week to enable speculators to reap rich rewards.

Reports from Sudbury that McVittie Graham mines had taken a sampling option on the Alkins Bros. Property in Scadding township, Sudbury district, cannot be confirmed at the head office where it is said no advices have been received. McVittie Graham directors will be sending out the annual report within the next few weeks. It will speak of the exploratory efforts of the company and bring out the fact the treasury retains over $125,000 in cash.

TORONTO, Ont., March 12 (C.P.)—Said by police to have admitted breaking into 46 homes in East Toronto, Archie Sinclair, diminutive Scottish youth, appeared in Police Court to-day and was remanded without bail until March 19. Police say the arrest of Sinclair has terminated an epidemic of house-breaking and burglary since last October.

Steamer Explodes; 200 Chinese Die

SHANGHAI, March 12 (C.P.).—Two hundred persons were believed drowned when the heavily loaded Chinese passenger steamer Pachi blew up and sank in the Yangtse Kiang River, seventy miles from here last night.

Among the 300 passengers aboard the vessel were a hundred Chinese soldiers who were thought to have thrown their cigarette stubs into the cargo, which was principally cotton.

An explosion followed, spreading fire in the hold. Most of those on the boat jumped over the side, where a revenue cruiser was able to pick up a few survivors.

Winnipeg Review

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bawlf Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

Wheat was dull and featureless during the first part of the day and while offerings were very light, prices declined half a cent from the close Tuesday night. On this decline some export business was met and the market gradually firmed up, and later in the day further export business was received, the total for the day being estimated at 300,000 bushels, although nothing was worked overnight. Offerings continued light throughout and with the buying against the export sales the market took on a strong tone, prices advancing ¼ to 5-8 over the close last night and closed at practically at the top. In the cash market shippers and terminal interests were taking the offerings which continued very light and spreads were mostly unchanged except for durums, which were in good demand at half to one cent over Tuesday's closing spread with round lots hard to get. Country marketings on Tuesday totalled 335,000 bushels as against 155,000,000 a year ago.

Coarse Grains.—There was very little doing in the coarse grains. Offerings continue light but the actual demand is very thin. There is some further inquiry from importers for barley but no business was confirmed. The cash markets were generally quiet with Eastern Canada taking the odd car of oats and barley.

Liverpool Cables due 5-8 to 7-8 higher, based on Winnipeg.

Accountants' Dispute Before Legislature

TORONTO, Ont., March 12 (C.P.)—A dispute between different associations of accountants was aired in Private Bills Committee of the Legislature to-day. The Association of Accountants and Auditors of Ontario in a private bill sought to change the title of their members from "Licentiate in Accountancy" to "Certified Public Accountant" and the letters after their names from "L.A." to "C.P.A."

Both the Ontario and Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants opposed the bill on the ground that the latters "C.P.A." would cause confusion with their designation "C.A." Appearing for the Ontario Chartered Accountants, R. H. Parmenter, K.C., said the bill was an attempt to invade the field of chartered accountants, who had set up a standard and established a reputation before the public.

BRIDGEBURG TO CHANGE NAME

TORONTO, Ont., March 12 (C.P.)—Changing the name of the town of Bridgeburg to Fort Erie, is provided for in a bill approved in Private Bills Committee of the Legislature to-day. The change is contemplated, after the village of Fort Erie is annexed to the present town of Bridgeburg.

FIVE MUNICIPALITIES IN COUNTY COLLECT MUNICIPAL INCOME TAX

Otonabee and North Monaghan Only Rural Townships to Enforce Act.

SUPPORTS INCOME TAX.

Referring to an editorial comment on the bill in the Ontario Legislature to abolish the municipal income tax, which The Examiner quoted from the Stratford Beacon-Herald on Tuesday, a reader who has followed the debate on this measure today discussed several of its phases which, he believed, would be of interest to local ratepayers.

One of the arguments against the continuance of the municipal income tax, said this citizen, is "there are 422 municipalities in the province now which do not collect the tax, and these places have an advantage in the securing of industries which other places forfeit when they collect the tax."

"To the ratepayer who is not acquainted with the detailed facts," he continued, "that seems to be a rather weighty argument. Of those 422 municipalities which are all lumped together 369 are townships. First of all, there are 569 townships in Ontario, and 200 of them enforce the municipal income tax. When the townships are considered in this respect it should be remembered that farmers are in a special category.

Other Income Exemptions.

The farmer is exempt from municipal income tax. If he receives an income from other sources than his farm he is also exempt up to $3,000. This means that no matter what the income from a farm may be it is not subject to a municipal income tax. Then if the farmer has other investments the income which he receives from them is exempt up to the sum of $3,000. And at 6 percent interest this sum would represent the income of an investment of $50,000.

How many farmers in the 369 townships which do not apply the municipal income tax have $50,000 invested outside their farms and bringing them in yearly $3,000? I believe the number is so small and negligible that these rural municipalities pass up this tax altogether. Not only are such farmers exempt up to $3,000, but also for $400 for each of their dependents.

When Mr. Ellis, a member of the Legislature from the city of Ottawa, argues that 422 municipalities do not enforce the municipal income tax his argument is greatly weakened by the fact that 369 of the municipalities are townships and that few farmers in these townships have sufficient collateral income to bring them within the scope of this tax.

Two Local Townships.

Two of the townships in Peterborough county apply this income assessment and tax. They are North Monaghan and Otonabee, and the income taxes which they collected in 1929 were respectively $19,400 and $4,251. The three villages, Lakefield Norwood and Havelock also collect income taxes. In North Monaghan, for example, there are suburban residents whose properties are assessed so low that it is only fair to the farmers in that township that there should be an income tax. Probably they own properties outside the city and live there because the taxes on their property is very low as compared with the taxes on similar homes in the city.

Passing on to the towns and villages in Ontario there are three hundred of these municipalities, and of that number 247 have adopted the income tax. Of the remaining 53 towns and villages, 28 of them have populations less than one thousand. How many of their residents have incomes in excess of $3,000? Five of the 53 municipalities have more than 5,000 residents. These five towns which do not enforce the municipal income tax law are Easterview in Carleton county, adjoining Ottawa; Walkerville in Essex; Port Colborne; Mimico and New Toronto.

One City Stands Alone.

Of the 27 cities in Ontario, 26 of them collect income taxes. The only exception is Port Arthur. That does not indicate that the towns and villages and especially the cities have not taken advantage of this law which certain interests are now asking the Legislature to abrogate. Nor has there been any indication that manufacturing industries have made Port Arthur their mecca. As a matter of fact these companies are not taxed for income, according to my information which I believe to be correct.

When those 422 municipalities which Mr. Ellis emphasizes are boiled down to what might be called actual cases his figures lose the most of the impressiveness which his generalization may impart to unthinking people. I don't think the present law is perfect, but if it is rescinded it will release many persons from the payment of local taxes who do not own property and are not in business. One-third of the residents of Peterborough who are assessed for municipal income are not property owners. They are earning good wages or receive interest on investments and they enjoy all the advantages which the city provides. Why should they escape taxation? Why should the cost of maintaining the common utilities such as schools and roads, lights and waterworks be borne entirely by the property owners? I feel certain that they are not in sympathy with this proposed change in the law; but it seemed to be supported by a minority that is influential because it is wealthy. The majority of the people must depend upon their representatives in the Legislature to oppose the proposed Bill, but it is likely that not a few of the members of the Legislature are personally interested in the abolition of the municipal income tax."

Nationalists Given Congress Building

BOMBAY, India, Mar. 12.— (C. P. Cable.)— The authorities to-day restored the Congress building, confiscated last October for non-payment of taxes, to the Nationalists. Two group of Nationalist Congress Party volunteers clashed outside the building and a score of natives were injured. The aggressors seemed to be Pathans and Sikhs who sought redress for grievances they have against the main Congress body.

Order was restored by the President of the Bombay Congress Party, who promised the Pathans and Sikhs that their claims would be immediately considered.

GROVE SCHOOL DEFEATS COLTS FOR JUNIOR CUP

Winners in Final Game 3-1 After Ten Minutes' Overtime to Take Round 9-8.

COLTS CAPTURE FIRST.

Heavy Ice Hinders Combination Play on Part of Both Teams.

LAKEFIELD, Mar. 12.—(Examiner Correspondence.) —Attended by all the pomp and circumstance of a senior final, the Juvenile Hockey League played the last game for the Mackenzie Trophy on Tuesday night. The game was between The Grove and the Colts and was very close, requiring ten minutes' overtime to give the Grove a 3 to 1 victory and a 9 to 8 total on the round.

There was a large number of fans present and the bright lights and cheering crowd gave zest to the game, for the boys who have played their league games on Saturday mornings to necessarily rather sparse crowds.

The first of the two final games was played last Saturday with a score of 7-6 in favor of the Colts, who therefore started the game with a lead of one.

Louis Sabatino handled the game in a manner satisfactory to all concerned.

Heavy Ice.

The ice was heavy and both teams were handicapped as the puck was inclined to stick at critical moments and hamper attempts at combination.

The Colts were not in their best form and persisted in shooting from the blue line, although that has been proved to be utterly futile. A fast combination play which brought the puck close to the nets won the goals for the Grove, who were in first-class form and played as good a combination game as the soft ice permissed fire. Loyst and Macrae were lucky in some of their shots which missed fire. Loyst and Moeral were brilliant in their respective goals and saved the day over and over.

Vivian Payne played a good strong game but, like his team mates, he pinned his faith to long shots which were of no avail. Hill and Blewett played well but were checked before they could get far. The checking on both sides was very keen and every inch was contested hotly. Dench, Carter and Gunn, the Grove forwards staged a good attempt at combination but heavy ice and the close checking fo the Colts kept it from being very effective. Anderson and Warren made a strong defense combine.

First Period Scoreless.

The first period saw lots of play but no score. Anderson drew the only penalty.

In the second period Gunn scored from close-up on a pass from Anderson and about five minutes later Gunn landed another. This gave the Grove a lead of one and the play was keener than ever. Warren and Carter and Lennox drew the penalties.

Blewett, in a lone rush, scored the only goal of the third period, and when the gong sounded the managers announced that overtime periods would be played, and the fans settled down to see the finish. Warren drew the only penalty of the third.

In the first period Dench served after a hard run, and the second period saw a blank score, but penalties served by Dench and Anderson.

The penalties were mainly for tripping and offences for which the heavy ice was responsible, for the game was clean and fast without a single dull minute. The line-up was as follows:—

Grove.—Macrae, goal; Warren, r. defence; Anderson, l. defence; Dench, centre; Carter, r. wing; Gunn, l. wing; Findlay, Strickland and Hepburn, subs.

The Trophy

The Mackenzie Trophy was donated to the Juvenile Hockey League of Lakefield, open to boys fifteen years and under, two years ago by Rev. A. W. Mackenzie, D.D., of The Grove and for the past two years it has been won by the Colts, who lost it to The Grove this year. Great credit is due to Dr. Mackenzie for his endeavors to promote clean sport in the community, and to Messrs. T. W. Chaplin and K. A. Mackenzie, who have managed the teams and have given much time and energy to the league which, of course, furnishes a recruiting and training ground for future O.H.A. teams. The Juvenile League is more firmly established as a local fixture and one worth while as the large crowd of fans at Tuesday's game can testify.

his room and wakened him. James said he returned home from work around six o'clock. He went upstairs He heard Milne and his wife fighting, he said, and decided not to go downstairs for dinner. The fights, he said, were periodical occurrences, and on previous occasions had gone without his evening meal owing to the trouble between the couple. Finally, Milne called him downstairs, and is alleged to have explained in detail what had transpired.

Telephones to Police.

As the two men stood talking, Milne finally stepped back and telephoned to the police. Connecting the telephone line to No. 2 Station, Milne asked that a man be sent to the house. This was at 7.15 p.m.

AND

"Fine for dishes, too," says Mrs. M. Mangels

"I tried many soaps in my washer before I came to Rinso. There's nothing like it for speed! The clothes come so bright and snowy, they look like new. And Rinso is so economical; a little gives a lot of thick, lasting suds. I like it for dishes, too—it loosens grease in a flash. Lately I've been using Rinso for all cleaning, too; it's such a wonderful help."

MRS. M. MANGELS

Rinso's rich suds loosen dirt like magic. Clothes soak so white and clean, even boiling isn't needed.

Rinso is safe. And economical, because it's granulated, compact. One cupful gives twice as much suds as one cupful of lightweight, puffed-up soap.

Great either in tub or machine; the makers of 38 famous washers recommend it. Get the BIG package. You'll like Rinso for dishes—and for all cleaning, too.

Penniless Parents Wander Homeless; Baby Dies of Cold

WHEELING, W. Va., Mar. 12. (CP) — A cold wind howled through the West Virginia Mountains, biting at the faces of Clem Gibbons and his wife, as they trudged, homeless and penniless, through two Ohio counties into Wheeling yesterday. Mrs. Gibbons, near collapse, carried their sick baby.

Once Mrs. Gibbons stopped to look at the child. It lay so still at her breast, she stopped again. The child was dead.

Art. Jeffrey's staff here contributed sufficient money for the pair to buy food and take the child back to Steubenville, O.

There Coroner Arch Bell sent the little body to a mortuary.

DISCRIMINATION!

The housewife of today is possessed to no small degree of the virtue of discrimination. She has the ability to note the difference—to distinguish, and this is no more in evidence than in her food shopping activities.

From the huge mass of advertising, from the various statements of superiority, service and savings, she must be able to discriminate—to separate the wheat from the straw.

Dominion Stores enjoy the patronage and confidence of the MAJORITY of Ontario housewives, and we invite you to join this great army of discriminating shoppers—shoppers who appreciate the difference.

QUARREL OVER CARDS BLAMED SHIP SUICIDE

Liner Pennsylvania Reports Traveller Cheated, but Brooded Over Public Scene.

BODY FOUND HANGED

Denounced by Professional Gamblers as "Cheap Sport" for Stopping Payment on Cheques.

NEW YORK, March 12—A violent quarrel with three Broadway card sharps over the loss of $4,100 drove a happy voyager to suicide a month ago on the liner Pennsylvania, it was disclosed when the vessel returned to New York.

The investigation, made by detectives engaged by the Italian Consul also disclosed that the family of Henry Sammartino, young Italian of Youngstown, O., had set aside $30,000 to determine the cause of his death.

Body Found Hanged

Sammartino was found hanging from a curtain pole in his cabin on February 11 when the Pennsylvania, of the Panama-Pacific Line, was sailing from Panama toward San Diego.

Sammartino, a young business man taking a vacation cruise, was a carefree traveler when the Pennsylvania sailed from New York January 31. He had money to spend, as three members of a gang of professional card players saw at once.

They invited Sammartino to play with them, and took $1,300, all his cash, from him at the first sitting at stud poker. At the next game they took $2,800 in traveler's cheques. Then some one warned the loser, and he stopped payment on the cheques with the purser.

Denounced in Public

In a public quarrel in the smoking room, the gamblers denounced the loser as a "cheap sport' and threatened revenge. But they left the ship at Havana.

From then on, Sammartino brooded, always refusing company. At Panama a steward was assigned to watch him. Near San Diego the steward entered Sammartino's cabin to find his charge dead.

Sea Invades Isle; Spoils Fresh Lake

HALFAX, N.S., March 12.—(C. P.)—Once upon a time, in fact as late as last week, there was a deep lake of fresh water on Sober Island, off the shores of Halifax county. The lake is still there but a storm came and now the water is quite salt. Adding new territory to their Atlantic domain, hungry seas tore through a wide wall of earth and trees ten feet high, and the mile long lake that provided generations of fishermen with ice and a natural rink now rises and falls with the tides. At high tide fairly large vessels can enter through the wave-beaten passage-way and anchor in the lake.

One island resident, looking back 85 years, says that never before within that period has salt water entered the lake.

SOVIET CONGRESS WOULD RETALIATE

Favors Prohibiting Imports From Countries Like Canada Who Debar Red Goods.

MOVE AIMED AT U. S.

MOSCOW, Mar. 12.—(C.P.)—Resolutions recommending retaliatory measures against nations which, like Canada have imposed embargoes on Russian imports were passed at the Sixth All-Union Soviet Congress.

One such resolution, coming at the close of discussion on Premier Molotoff's opening speech last Sunday, "instructs the government to take measures restricting imports from countries debarring our exports." The United States was not specifically mentioned but the resolution was presumably aimed in that direction.

The Congress urged the Government to carry forward its policy of international peace and to continue strengthening trade relations with other nations, at the same time recommending that more attention be given the army in view of the "capitalist war threat." Complete collectivization of the farms was urged with elimination of the Kulaks, or rich peasants, as a class.

SUSPECTED BANDIT HELD.

WINDSOR, Ont., Mar. 12.—(C.P.)—Lucie Bergeron, Windsor, has been arrested in Detroit, for the Windsor authorities on suspicion of being implicated in several armed robberies in Windsor in the past few weeks.

Detroit police are also probing his activities in that city.

PARLIAMENT HILL IS BRIGHT SCENE AS SECOND SESSION IS OPENED

and faith which must triumph over every difficulty. In prosperity they were united. In adversity that union is made still stronger by the spirit of co-operation and mutual understanding which is the surest bulwark of the nation's welfare and happiness.

These attributes of Canadianism are national assets of real value, and, upon their possessions, I do profoundly congratulate you.

It will be your privilege to consider certain measures designed by my Ministers to ameliorate existing conditions, to provide further means by which our people may go forward to achieve a prosperity heretofore unattained and to furnish them with all possible safeguards against a recurrence of the present subordination to world forces.

Gulf To Be Bridged.

The fact that in this period of universal distress Canada has been spared the same acute degree of hardship which many other nations have been called upon to bear, will not, I know, blind you to the fact that between this country, as it is and as it should be, there is a gulf to be bridged by the industry and zeal of all those who have the welfare of the nation in their keeping. The problems which stand between us and ultimate prosperity are manifold and great. To be effectually met, they must first be understood. Confusion between cause and effect will but delay their solution. My Government has explored the origins of our difficulties and is firmly of the belief that many of our problems do not arise out of world-wide depression, but are antecedent to it; and that domestic factors have also largely determined the degree of economic distress from which this country is suffering.

It was the belief which impelled my ministers at the emergency session of Parliament held in September last to remove one of the root weaknesses in our industrial system by effecting such then possible changes in the tariff as would, in their opinion provide substantial security against harmful world competition. Although in the internal world conditions have changed but little for the better, this tariff legislation has resulted in a marked improvement in the domestic situation through the strengthening of established industries, and in addition many others, formerly exporters to Canada, have now become producers in Canada.

The operation of the Unemployment Relief Act, 1930, has proved equally beneficial. While the grant authorized by this Act could not immediatley have checked unemployment arising from causes of which you have full knowledge, yet its careful administration by my ministers, ably aided by the Provincial and Municpal governments and the two great railway systems, has resulted in the institution of a nation-wide program of public undertakings, each one a unit in a scheme of national development, which have collectively provided work for the greatest number of men who have ever been employed through the direct efforts of the Federal Government.

Since the last session of Parliament four of my Ministers attended the Imperial and Imperial Economic Conferences in London. Several constitutional questions, arising largely out of the resolutions of the Imperial Conference of 1926, were fully discussed and in principle, approved. My Ministers, however, held the view that before certain constitutional changes embodied in these resolutions should be made effective by a statue of the Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the Provinces of Canada should be given an opportunity of further considering them and of satisfying themselves that these proposed changes do not in any way restrict their constitutional rights. Unanimous concurrence in this view having been given by the representative of Great Britain, the Irish Free State and other Dominions, my Ministers have called a Provincial Conference to be held at Ottawa in the month of April for the consideration of the proposed changes. Following the conference you will be asked to take appropriate action.

Agreements Hoped For

Exhaustive consideration of the means most likely to ensure a lasting and mutually advantageous scheme of Empire economic co-operation was also commenced at the Imperial Conference, and many matters preliminary to a final conclusion were then disposed of. Searching investigation into the merits of alternative schemes by the Governments concerned is continuing, and it is confidently hoped that, at the adjourned conference to meet at Ottawa during the ensuing summer, agreements will be concluded for closer Empire trade, which will strengthen still more the bonds of Empire and bring to every part of it great and enduring prosperity.

Pursuant to the fixed policy of my Government to combat all influences which are inimical to the social and economic welfare of this Dominion, an order-in-council has been passed prohibiting the importation of certain commodities into Canada from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

My Ministers have completed the organization approved by legislation at the last session of the Sixteenth Parliament for administering the Pension Act as amended, and have taken steps to ensure that every care shall be exercised to obtain the just and equitable satisfaction of all legitimate claims.

Studying Marketing

My Ministers have had under anxious consideration, the means by which an orderly marketing of the wheat crop of Western Canada may be assured, and have already taken such effective action towards that end as the circumstances appear to justify. My Ministers are aware that changing conditions in the world's markets may necessitate further intervention by my Government, which is prepared to render whatever additional assistance may be deemed advisable in the national interest. The present situation has emphasized the necessity of effecting a reduction in the costs of production and marketing of the wheat crop and of providing more stable markets, as the welfare of all parts of Canada is involved in satisfactory returns being received by the grain growers.

The broad outline of the general scheme of National development undertaken by my Government, including provision for old age pensions, aid to agriculture, technical education and highway construction, has already been made known. My Ministers are persuaded that this general scheme cannot advantageously be altered. Careful consideration has, therefore, been given to the progressive stages by which it will be carried out, and you will be asked to consider measures sanctioning such action as the current economic situation warrants, and such as can be undertaken without undue demands upon the national exchequer.

You will be asked to consider such further revision of the tariff as may be carried out with but incidental adjustments to the British preference schedules now in force.

You will have before you for consideration a Bill to create a Tariff Board, the purposes of which will be to ensure stability of trade, opportunities for the development of our home market by Canadian producers in fair competition with those of other nations, and the protection of our consumers from exploitation.

Amongst other measures to which your attention will be invited are Bills for the more effective control of national finance, for the revision of the existing provisions for Government purchases; for amending the Naturalization Act; and for amending the Copyright Act.

The reference to the Supreme Court of Canada of the respective jurisdictions of the Dominion and Provinces over radio broadcasting necessarily postpones any definite legislative action being taken until the opinion of the Court of last resort has been obtained.

Members of the House of Commons:

The public accounts for the last fiscal year and the estimates for the coming year will be submitted at an early date. The estimates will manifest my Ministers' resolve that, until the revenues of th country reflect a definite improvement in the economic situation, every economy compatible with the proper administration of the state will be exercised.

Honorable members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

The policies and measures I have outlined are based upon the firm belief of my Government that this country is soon to enter upon a new era of prosperity, and that the proper development of its vast resources by a people pledged to unity and co-operation, and endowed with courage and industry, will ensure to Canada a leading place among the nations. I pray that Divine Providence, which has made you citizens of His favored land, may guide and bless your deliberations.

PROFITS FROM SA LE OF LIQUOR ESTIMATED AT $10,000,000.00

turns from corporation taxes. Last year this source yielded $4,800,000 and this year $6,420,000 is expected from it.

No change is expected in returns from the sale of liquor, wine and beer permits, although liquor sales are expected to yield an increase in profit of $2,500,000. Receipts from permits are placed at $960,000, last year's figure. Amusement taxes are expected to show a drop of about $100,000. The estimated return is $1,190,000.

For the spending side of the present year the Highways Department will bulk large. This department will spend $19,400,000 this year, an increase of nearly $1,500,000 over last year's expenditure of $17,908,412.

More Spent on Education

Increased expenditure is also planned on education. Combined capital and ordinary payments on this account will be $12,015,000, compared with $11,773,407 last year. This increase will be almost offset by a decrease in outlay on public works from $3,544,674 last year to $3,300,000.

Under the heading of Loans and Special Funds, capital receipts amounting to $12,200,000 are expected. This is made up by repayment of Hydro advances, $2,200,000; housing, drainage and other loan repayments, $2,125,000; Old Age Pensions and Mothers' Allowances repayments, $6,470,000; Public Service Superannuation Fund deposits, $880,000; other special fund deposits, $225,000.

Expenditures on account of loans and special funds are: Hydro advances, $20,000,000; Agricultural, drainage and other loans, $8,470,000; Old Age Pensions and Mother's Allowances chargeable to Dominion and Municipalities, $6,770,000; Public Service superannuation fund, $340,000; other special funds, $130,000. The total expenditure on these accounts will be $35,710,000.

An interesting feature of the Budget is that the Province's share of the cost of Old Age Pensions in 1930-31, estimated at $2,650,000, almost exactly equals the estimated deficit of $2,670,000.

It was Mr. Dunlop's first Budget as he assumed the duties of Provincial Secretary in the Cabinet reorganization since the last session. Together with the Budget he presented supplementary estimates totalling $10,462,627.

FAMILY IS LEFT

er brothers and sisters—but it went, like everything else, in the fire.

Some Furniture Saved.

The ony things saved were some bits of parlor furniture; a couch two small rocking chairs and a Victrola. The house, a comfortable one of brick, made cosy for the family by the hands of the mother, who, working whenever she could at cleaning and washing by the day, still found time to make a livable home for her brood, is gone forever. A stark ruin under in two jagged walls of brick stands up against the winter sky. Everything went in the holacaust; even the hundredweight of flour and the jars of fruit that the mother had put by.

One of the girls, Irene, has burnt hands, and so has the boy Norman. It was the forethought of the mother for her children that caused her own serious face burns. She had run up the stairs to find the cause of the smoke smell as the family sat at a seven o'clock breakfast on the return of the father from his all-night work at a local factory, work that came only after many months of non-employment. Flames from overheated pipes burst out as she opened the upper door and then she thought of the five-gallon can of coal oil in a storehouse room. It was when she went to lift this to get it away from the flames that it exploded in her face and burnt her across and around the eyes. She was dragged out unconscious. Now she lies in a neighbor's house, unstrung and sick—all her possessions gone forever, after many years of hard work—nothing to her back but a blackened house dress, her children with only the clothes they stood in at the moment.

This family needs everything in the way of house furnishings. We would be glad to receive offers of furniture of any sort from dishes to beds. It is winter time and they are absolutely without goods of any type and without a roof to cover their heads. Telephone The Examiner if you can help them in any way.

Cobourg Suspect Is Remanded Again

COBOURG, Ont., Mar. 12.—(C.P.)—Leslie Forbes, London, Ont., charged with armed robbery of the Dominion Bank here on February 17, appeared before Judge O'Connor this afternoon and was remanded until March 27. Walter Clifford, a member of the trio, comes up for trial March 20. The juvenile from Des Moines, who faces a like charge will appear before the Judge in the morning and an adjournment will be made until March 25, according to the Crown Attorney.

Rubber bands exported from the United States last year weighed 370,844 pounds, as compared with 487,004 in 1929.

MILLBROOK

Members of the Millbrook Cadet Corps, No. 403, who were successful in winning the silver trophy in the annual Laura Secord Rifle Competition for 1930, thus bringing this handsome cup to Millbrook for the third consecutive season, were Cadets Lyal Nattress (medal); Harold McCamus; Norman Armstrong; Jack Howson; A. T. Armstrong; Marshal Larmer; Owen McCarthy; Gordon Davis.

The entertainment given by the Musical Eckardts, and sponsored by the Women's Institute, in the Town Hall on Monday evening, was fairly well attended considering that the big storm prevented anyone from the country from attending, and the artists themselves, who motored from Toronto, were hopelessly stuck soon after turning off the highway at Donaldson's corner. A team and sleigh were secured through the good offices of Willis Hall who brought the party of six to the village, with as much of their equipment as room could be found for, the heavy going necessitating a walk for the horses for practically the whole four miles of the journey.

By making good use of the telephone the Institute officers succeeded in making it known through the village that the entertainers had arrived in the community shortly after 7 p.m., and financially the concert came out somewhat better than we hoped for, considering all the untoward circumstances connected with its production.

The task of carting off the heaps of snow from the downtown section of King Street all day Tuesday, in order to save the cellars of the stores from being flooded when the melting process began, provided work for a number of men, as did also the shovelling of flat roofs over business premises, leaks having developed in the ceilings of underneath rooms, as the result of the accumulation of snow from the heavy storm of Sunday and Monday.

Rural mail carriers have been hindered from making their full rounds this week, owing to the heavy fall of snow, but by Wednesday at least part of each route had been covered, W. Muspratt, whose route is number one, east of the village, reaching all of his places of call on Tuesday.

PILES GO QUICK

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers from itching, bleeding or protuding piles have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves or cutting remove the cause. Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery.

Contract Cancelled By Highway Minister

REGINA, March 11. (CP)—In a statement issued yesterday Hon. A. C. Stewart, Minister of Highways, declares that certain phases of the evidence taken before the public accounts committee at Monday's session have not been given due prominence.

It was brought out in evidence, he stated, that W. Barnard, given a road contract by Government, had given "every assurance of having the necessary equipment," although at the time the contract was let he did not have equipment of his own. Further, the letting of the contract was influenced by Barnard's plea that he be given the contract as a relief measure, to aid truck drivers in the district affected.

Documentary evidence also showed, stated Mr. Stewart, that neither Dr. D. S. Johnstone nor T. A. Anderson, prominent Regina Conservatives had influenced him at all in letting the contract. He complained that it was not made clear in the report that as soon as he (Mr. Stewart) obtained information that Barnard had "told deliberate untruths in order to advance his own purposes" he gave instructions to the department that "the contract was to be cancelled and that the department would not recognize any contracts in which Anderson or Dr. Johnstone claimed to have any interest.

Eczema Itched Badly. Face Disfigured. Healed by Cuticura.

"Eczema first appeared on my forehead in pimple-like form. Later it spread from my forehead towards my nose and gradually my whole face became affected. It itched and burned badly at times, and when I scratched it caused eruptions. After a while the pimples would dry up and then new ones would come in their place. My face was disfigured. The trouble lasted over a year.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Nellie Gach, Ladywood, Man.

FRIENDS HONOR WARSAW FAMILY

Social Gathering Held at Home of James Hawthorne in Honor of W. Hawthorne and Family.

MOVING FROM DISTRICT

WARSAW, Mar. 12. — (Examiner Correspondence.) — Mr. and Mrs. James Hawthorne entertained about sixty neighbors, relatives and friends of the Anglican church on Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Hawthorne and family who have bought a farm in North Smith and will move there in a few days. Bad though the roads were, it took one and a half to two hours for sleigh loads to cover distances that could easily have been covered by cars in ten or fifteen minutes; nearly all who were expected were present. Relatives from Peterborough could not get out.

Various games and good old-fashioned visiting were enjoyed until about eleven o'clock, when all assembled in the spacious living room. J. A. Crowe said a few words about the family as neighbors, and read a short address. Mrs. Arthur Edwards, during the time the family had lived in their home, a next door neighbor, and Mrs. Albert Cooper, a member of the Anglican church, to which the family belong, and president of the Ladies' Guild, of which Mrs. Hawthorne is a member, presented a set of dishes, one hundred and fourteen pieces, and a table cloth.

Mr. Hawthorne thanked the people for their thoughtful and kindly words. A few remarks were made. William Davis said that what meant more than the gift was the feeling towards the family one and another had. 'For they are jolly good fellows' was sung and a bounteous supper was served, and much friendly converse, before a double circles joined hands and sang Auld Lang Syne.

Beware of Bladder Weakness Getting-Up-Nights

Disturbed Rest Undermines Health, Saps Vitality, States Physician Who Recommends Home Treatment

Men and women who are constantly annoyed and distressed by Bladder Weakness or Urinary Irritations should take immediate steps to combat their trouble before it reaches a serious or perhaps dangerous stage!

Backaches, Headaches, pains in feet and legs, nervousness, restlessness, frequent but scanty urination with burning and pain, getting-up-nights—these are some of the more troublesome signs of Bladder Weakness or Irritation that should have prompt attention.

No matter how stubborn your case may seem to be or how many different medicines you have tried without success—don't give up, and think your case hopeless or the natural consequence of advancing years, until you have tried the special private prescription of Dr. Southworth, a physician of over 40 years' successful experience.

In order to reach the many thousands who cannot come to his office Dr. Southworth has placed his URATABS in good local drug stores—and invites you to try them without risk of cost, unless pleased. If URATABS bring you swift and certain comfort you will be happy. If they do not satisfy, they will cost you nothing—so, if you need this grand medicine, try it today! All good druggists.

SEWING GROUPS ARE ORGANIZED

Much Work Accomplished in Y. W.C.A. Sewing Classes—Encouraging Reports Read.

DIRECTORS MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Board of Directors was held on Monday afternoon, Mrs. E. E. Harvey presiding.

Following the devotional period, minutes and financial reports, the foreign work campaign was explained. All classes and groups at the Y. W. C. A. were making a special effort to raise $150. The bulletin board in the hall representing the months and days of the year records the amounts brought in. Board and committee members will comprise one of the teams.

Mrs. F. D. Kerr reported that Dr. Locke's illness had been more serious than at first thought, and that he would not be able to fulfill his engagement until after Easter. The board decided that rather than bring some one else to further postpone Dr. Locke's lecture on Russia until April.

The physical director's report mentioned plans for the Gym. pageant May 1 and 2. The sewing committees, with general convenors, Mrs. H. Wightman, Mrs. Forbes Allen, Mrs. H. Beal and Mrs. L. J. LeClair, have been busy all month and much work has already been accomplished. A room has been fitted up for cutting material and a sewing room with seven machines provides room for the groups of sewers. The sewing groups and convenors: George Street Church, Mrs. F. Brownscombe; Murray Street, Mrs. H. G. Webber; St. John's, Mrs. Bacon; Trinity, Mrs. Huffman; St. Andrew's, Mrs. Patoine; St. Paul's, Mrs. Pullingham. Ladies' Gym. classes, Mrs. L. Yeates; Ashburnham League, Mrs. Parsons, and a special group, Miss Large.

Convenors of the advertising committee are Mrs. E. E. Harvey and Miss M. Elliott; the ticket committee, Miss A. Wood and Mrs. G. E. Porter; and the car committee, Mrs. D. Drummond and Miss E. Scott.

Three basketball league games have been played weekly during the month. On Feb. 14th the Junior Valentine Party was held in the gymnasium and much enjoyed. The Senior classes enjoyed a social hour around the fireplace following their class work.

The general secretary reported several new classes started in the education and religious departments. The travel series is proving quite popular; Miss Laura Wilson will be the speaker on this Friday on Paris, and Rev. Dr. McLean the following Friday, on a trip to the Holy Land. Others in the series will be Hawaii and Our Canadian West. The St. John Ambulance Nursing Class completed their course and passed their examinations. Classes in correct English and English and Arithmetic are meeting a need. The first of the Wednesday half hour series of talks was given by Dr. Middleton, and was followed by Rev. Mr. Wren last night on Communism. Later in this series will be a health talk by Dr. Yelland and a talk on "Praying for Definite Things," by Rev. Mr. Moorhouse.

The Employment Bureau still receives many calls from girls looking for work, and many cases have received special attention and help.

Tea was served and the meeting closed with prayer.

MUSICAL EVENING HELD IN STIRLING

Mrs. H. Rollins Gives Graphic History of Opera Il Trovatore in St. Andrew's Church.

STAGE BACHELORS' REVERIE

STIRLING, Mar. 12. (Examiner Correspondence). — Miss L. Smith conducted the musical evening in the St. Andrew's church parlors on Tuesday evening.

The greater part of the time was spent in the study of the wonderful opera, Il Trovatore.

Mrs. Harper Rollins gave a most graphic history connected with the setting of this composition, as it is the most popular number of the famous Italian composer Verdi.

Scene one takes place in the vestibule of the palace of a wealthy count. The servants awaited the return of their master who was calling on his love, Lenore. During this hour one of the number told a tragic tale of an occurrence in this home when the present count was a small child.

A nurse upon entering the room screamed at sight of a gypsy bending over the baby's cot. The child shortly afterwards died and the gypsy was burned at the stake although perfectly innocent. Her daughter wished to avenge her death and stole another child from the home.

Scene II—Outside Lady Leonore's window the count is gazing upward; also Mandrice (supposed gypsy) is playing on a lute. The count becomes jealous and a dual is fought—Leonore swoons.

Scene III—Gypsy camp...they lie around fires until daybreak. They awake and strike anvils in chorus.

Next scene—Leonore is about to enter convent. The count orders another gypsy (Mandrica's supposed mother) to be burned at the stake, also the order is given to send Mandrico to the block. As he falls in death the gypsy exclaims triumphantly to the aunt, "You have killed your brother"

Mr. R. Williams W. Dermedy and Lex Nathan sang "The Anvil Chorus".

Mrs. Murduff and Miss Smith sang "Ah, I have sighed to rest me" as a duet.

Mrs. Williams gave "The Anvil Chorus" as an instrumental.

Chas. Allen gave a beautiful piano interpretation of the whole story. This shaded from the moonlight serenade, the gypsy camp-fire, to the death dirge and the final doom.

Reverie of a Bachelor

This number was acted by a number of girls while the choir sang behind the scenes.

Mr. W. Anderson reading before the fireplace became drowsy and as "Memories" was sung the following passed before his violin: "Two little girls in blue", H. Ward and M. Rosebush; "Dream Girl" Aletha Spry; "K-K-Katy", Iva Chambers; Lenora Ward, in Girl Guide costume, for King and Country; Evelyn Drewry, College girl; Rosa Spry, athletic girl; "When its moonlight in the Rockies" Mrs. E. Ward; "Rose of No Man's Land", Red Cross Nurse, Billy Morton; "Three o'clock in the morning", Society Belle; Helen Lamb, "Peggy O'Neill."

A musical contest closed the evening.

SOCIETY WOMAN BARES $350,000 VICE FRAME-UP

Social Worker Declares Extortioners Victimized Wealthy Widow on Three Occasions.

MANY WOMEN PAY

Victims Afraid to Tell Authorities of Blackmail Plots Fearing Consequences.

NEW YORK, March 12.—An astounding story of a Brooklyn society woman, who claims to have been framed by policemen and racketeers and mulcted of $350,000 was unfolded by Mrs. Catherine Parker Clivette, social service worker.

Mrs. Clivette, president and founder of the Society for the Prevention of Unjust Convictions, made her statement to newspapermen in the lobby of Brooklyn Police Headquarters.

Thinks There are Others

At the same time Mrs. Clivette expressed belief that the society woman is but one of 1,000 victims of vice frame-ups in Greater New York, all of whom are afraid to tell their stories for fear of meeting the fate that befell the murdered Vivian Gordon.

Mrs. Clivette came to Brooklyn headquarters with a committee of five to listen to testimony in the hearing of two former vice policemen, on trial on departmental charges. After the hearing she talked to reporters.

She said she knows personally of many cases of girls who were falsely accused and convicted. But she was most impressed, she said, by the details concerning the wealthy woman, a widow.

"Framed" Three Times

This woman, Mrs. Clivette said was fleeced of the $350,000 and framed three times by the same group of extortioners. The last time, Mrs. Clivette said, the woman took poison in jail, but recovered. Now, broken by her experiences, she has virtualy imprisoned herself in her home, admitting callers only if they use an elaborate code of signals.

To-day Dixie's Heritage is Canada's Favourite Coffee

"GOOD to the LAST DROP"

AN outstanding example of Southern hospitality is the Maxwell House in Nashville, Tennessee. Not only did this distinguished old inn become famous for its food, but also for a wonderfully rich and mellow coffee originated by a Southern gentleman with a genius for flavour.

A coffee so good that those who tasted it once never forgot it. Instantly it became Dixie's favourite. In these later days most people choose Maxwell House as their favourite coffee.

Canada Quick To Recognise Its Superiority

When the news of this distinctive coffee spread, Canada lost no time in deciding on its merits. Today Maxwell House is the country's favourite, roasted and packed in a great Canadian plant. Vacuum packed in tins ensures that you get it always fresh—just as if you had just ground it yourself. Ask your grocer for Maxwell House in the blue tin.

Always Fresh

There is no such thing as a coffee fresher than Maxwell House. It is always packed in a vacuum tin which protects its rare, fragrant flavour. The lid sits tight so that it keeps better after you open it.

Association Plans Showing Of Pictures

A moving picture exhibition of an educational and entertaining nature, to which members of the general public are extended a cordial invitation, is being given on Friday evening by Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association, at Austin's Banquet Hall.

President J. W. Gravestock is of the opinion that these series of pictures constitute the finest which the Association has ever shown; one of the most important of them being a reel loaned by the Government Forestry Association stressing the damage which may be caused through fishing out of season. "The Forestry Association," Mr. Gravestock states, "sent a man fishing before the opening of the season. He caught an enormous amount of fish, and the pictures show bass lying on the nets in shallow water."

The entertainment which is being put on as a social activity of the association, is entirely free, and the showing will be in the capable hands of Fred L. Roy. Besides the Government pictures there will be reels of local pictures, giving interesting sidelights on the activities of the club.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

DO DREAMS INJURE THE HEALTH

It is surprising how important dreams are becoming in the minds of many people.

They try to figure out for themselves the meaning of a dream, or consult someone who has the reputation of being able to interpret dreams.

Now, as a matter of fact, the majority of dreams are not our true selves; we do not act in the dream in the same manner that we would if we were awake. It would seem that our senses just act for themselves, as it were, with no real guiding force behind them. Some outstanding psychologists tell us that a dream is really the same experiences in our life as when awake, except that we do in a dream what we'd like to do, as what our inner consciousness bids us do, whether we are aware of it or not.

Now, my thought is not to try to understand dreams, but only to try to find out whether they affect our health. That is, does all the thought and action we go through in a dream tire us, upset us, or help us? Now a dream that upsets us, gives us shock, or has something of horror in it, is bound to take something out of us just as a pleasant dream may be exhilirating.

The fact that dreams disturb sleep, that they make the mind active, and often tense the muscles, would seem to show that they must tire mind and body, and have a harmful effect upon health.

As a matter of fact, however, dreams do not harm the system in the majority of cases because they occur toward morning when the body has really had a good night's rest.

As you know, you may switch on the light some morning to see the time, and finding that you can't rest another few minutes, promptly go off to sleep again. You are awake again in five minutes, and during that time have had the most fantastic dream. And the time that the dream would have consumed had you been awake would have been hours, days, or even weeks.

Thus the fact that most dreams come toward morning after you are rested, and really do not take up very much time, thus requiring very little mental or physical effort, would seem to prove that the ordinary dreams do not interfere greatly with sleep, or with your general health. Dreams due to bodily causes such as indigestion in children and adults, require treatment of the indigestion, because, in addition to the dreams there are often long periods of sleeplessness between the dreams. Thus the lack of sleep and the energy expended during the dream, can undermine the health.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Every day in newspapers and magazines we come across advertisements for cleaning agents for kettles and kitchen crockery.

• • • • • • •

There is a great number of such agents on the market, and they range from soap to steel wool, with many sand varieties sprinkled in between and liquids to pour on or form solutions with water.

• • • • • • •

They clean by dissolving grease or scouring away uneven spots. Most of them also are comparatively modern. They are among the many aids to present-day housekeeping which simplify work and are a boon to the homemaker.

• • • • • • •

She has all sorts and kinds from which to make selections to suit her preference and her special needs.

• • • • • • •

It should be remembered that these cleansing agents from their very nature are enemies of the culinary art. They are desirable because they can rid kettles and crockery from particles, stains and spots.

• • • • • • •

No least speck of cleansing agent should remain on a utensil or dish nor any trace of a liquid linger, invisible though it may be.

• • • • • • •

The absolute necessity of washing away cleansing agents from cooking or serving utensils is not sufficiently recognized. Those which can be recognized through taste, such as atoms of soap, bring storms of protest from members of the family.

• • • • • • •

From this fact a housewife is particular to rinse soap dishes in hot water not alone to make them easy to dry and sterilize them, but to soak off any tiny bit of soap that might remain.

• • • • • • •

There are other agents which are not easily detectable, but which are far more detrimental to health. Particles of metal or spots of liquid may mingle with foods. If these occurrences were frequent, which can easily be the case, then danger is present.

• • • • • • •

The cleansing agents themselves are excellent, but I am only giving a warning against the careless usage of the agents on kitchenware and dining-room dishes.

Madoc Captures T. V. L. Hockey Championship

Wins From Stirling 3 to 2

Madoc Fans Jubilant as Team Wins First Championship in Twenty-eight Years.

McGUIRE IS OUTSTANDING.

Davis and Henderson Receive Injuries—Northerners Take Lead From First.

(Special to The Examiner)

BELLEVILLE, Mar. 12.—A year of hockey upsets was concluded in this city last night when Madoc won the championship of the Trent Valley League in convincing fashion, the score being 3 to 2 and the periods 3-0, 3-1. The score in no way indicating the superiority of the winners, especially in the first period. This is the first championship for Madoc since 1903 and their victory was well-earned. A large delegation from Madoc district was in attendance and they simply went wild when the timekeeper's gong signalled the end of the game. They jumped upon the ice and bodily picking up the members of the team shouldered them and walked them about the arena, the remainder doing the goose step behind, while the Stirling delegation filed from the rink silent but admiring the game fight put up by the Madoc squad.

The game was the most interesting of the three that has been played the series. It was filled with thrills and spills and the rooters were continually on their feet as the play went back and forth with the lightning rapidity. The contest was rough neither squads asking any quarter, nor giving none. The checking was hard and there were a few sly butt ends and high sticks thrown in for good measure.

Referee Armstrong of Toronto, handed out thirteen penalties, nine of these going to the ultimate winners. Injuries in the game were frequent, Davis of Stirling retiring midway of the first frame with a badly cut forehead and Henderson was knocked cold twice, once colliding with the boards head-on, and once being kicked in the head with a skate as he was relieving the pressure of his goal. When Davis went off, the spark plug of the team went with him and Madoc was quick to sense the advantage and made the best of their opportunity.

Holds Slight Edge

Madoc had a slight edge through their superior playing in the first frame but at that they were lucky to escape at least a tie at the end of time, for Stirling was certainly outlucked on a couple of plays. Madoc made no pretense at carrying the play in the last frame as they had a two goal margin and were sitting pretty, and by the aggressiveness of Stirling, it earned for them the edge in that frame.

McGuire with two goals and an assist was the outstanding performer for his team. He certainly showed he is one of the best defensemen in the league. His rushes were timely and well directed, and his first goal was the prettiest and neatest that has been scored in the Belleville arena this winter. Andrews worked hard along with McGuire and both were hard to pass. Hulin played a stronger game than his last effort, and he was the strongest in the third period when they needed him most. Lheureux played a steady game in center and was the equal of Davis, while Henderson on the wing outplayed his check all night.

Stirling displayed more finish in all round ability but they were not there in the pinch. The three goals that beat Morton would have taken any goalie. Beatty and Ingram worked hard on the defense, but the speed of the Madoc front line made the going tough.

The Little brothers worked themselves into exhaustion and D. Little figured in both goals scored by his team and the laurels are probably his, with Davis a close second. Both teams were ready to call it a day and although Stirling were beaten they were not disgraced.

Hockey is an uncertain game. Stirling all through the regular schedule had the Indian sign on the winners last night, but Madoc was better in the shorter series. The boys that like a wager and took the short end as Stirling was an easy five to three favorite, are laughing at the dopesters to-day. It was a great series and the Trent Valley League will be back stronger than ever. It does not hurt to have the honors passed around and Madoc are worthy champions and the north country will take their hats off to them.

Both teams were cautious at the opening of hostilities, laying back waiting for the breaks. D. Little was penalized for a trip and Madoc "ganged 'em" but could not break through. The pace quickened and for three minutes it was lightning hockey. The boot heel went up and down, Madoc offensive being more sustained. Morton was called upon to make many tough saves and Hulin was nearly beat with a bounding puck. L'Heureux was holding his own with Davis, Stirling's shifty centre, while Little on the boards was boring in continualy. Madoc broke the ice, when Johnson hooked the rubber from Davis, and McGuire following closely picked it up. He worked in on the defense and getting Ingram between himself and Morton released his drive. Morton was beat cold on the spot. Bryan drew a penalty and Madoc held the fort when the sides returned to full strength.

Davis is Injured

Davis was cut in the eye and retired. A shower of hats littered the ice when McGuire again went through to beat Morton with a waist high drive. Stirling seemed to lose their driving force with Davis out of the line-up and were only an ordinary team. Henderson was sent to the cooler for butt ending but Stirling was unable to take advantage of the break. The game roughened and Ty Little and Henderson were given a rest, McGuire crashed "D" Little hard. Andrews and McGuire put on a little offensive of their own, McGuire made a beautiful weaving rush and when he lost the rubber, Andrews followed in fast and skating in close on Morton did not give him a Chinaman's chance. The goal was scored just seconds before time. Madoc looked much the better team in almost every department.

Davis returned to the line-up after Dr. Carleton of Stirling had put five stitches in his forehead. The "Red Shirts" went on the offensive and in one minute "D" Little carried up and shot. The rebound came out and Davis performed the feat of sinking the gypsum in the hemp. Morton had a close call, when McGuire nearly beat him. Stirling maintained their drive and a continual din was heard from the large number of rooters present.

Davis was given a rest for a trip and Madoc took up the pressure. Ingram deliberately butt ended Johnson but he escaped the eye of the official and shortly afterwards he high sticked L'Heureux. Stirling ran into hard luck on a rush, Davis failing to poke the rubber into the open twine. McGuire was chased for kneeing and Ingram followed for tripping. Henderson in stopping a rush crashed headlong into the boards and was out cold. After attention he gamely continued. Davis missed a nice chance and also missed the rebound. It was a real break for Madoc. Johnson was benched for holding and L'Heureux followed shortly after for tripping. Stirling became disorganized from the consistent back checking of the Madoc squad and continually bunched in centre.

Play More Even

With three men back on the defense and in protecting their lead, Johnson was benched for hipping Beatty as he was set to shoot. In a scramble, Henderson was kicked in the head when he tried to smother the rubber. Stirling missed a beautiful chance, when a perfect pass came out to Ingram, and he shot it into Hulin's pads. D. Little put his team in the running, when he notched a lucky counter; he carried down the left boards and shot, Hulin deflecting the gypsum into the hemp. Stirling swarmed around the Madoc net and the Black Shirts shot it up the ice to relieve the pressure. Madoc did not have a shot on Morton for fully seven minutes. At one time every Madoc player was piled up in their own net trying to avert a score. Henderson was penalized for trying to throw the gypsum to stop the play. L'Heureux caught the whole Stirling team behind him and nearly beat Morton. The game was ended amid a scramble. The line-ups:—

Stirling.—Goal, Morton; defense, Beatty and Ingram; centre, Davis; wings, Little and Little; alternates, Ackers, Wallace and White.

Combines Carry One Goal Lead Into Finals

NORWOOD BEATS LAKEFIELD 2-1 IN FIRST GAME

Homesters Connect For Counters in First and Third Periods.

PLAY OPENS SLOW.

But Speeds Up as Teams Mix in Second Canto — Ware, Wright and L. Sabatino Score.

NORWOOD, March 12.—One goal in the bag is all the Norwood-Havelock Combines take to Lakefield Friday night for the final game that winds up the East Peterborough Hockey League. It may be enough, but Alex Kempt would feel a lot more comfortable if his team had run up a bigger score than that 2-1 result in the first of the home and home titular playoffs here last night. Goals count on the round. Kempt and Moosie Murduff of Lakefield might have agreed to a possible three-game series if there had been more certainty about the Peterborough ice in the event of a third game being necessary.

Apparently Lakefield surprised the Combines by holding them to a margin of one goal. In their last game here against the Cornawagas of Peterborough Norwood had played a wide open, free passing style of hockey that made a hit with the fans, but it didn't work against Lakefield. The Cementville outfit fashioned the game to their own liking, and the further it progressed the more they liked it.

Lakefield held the home team to 1-0 in the first period. The score showed no change when they changed ends again, and although the Combines tacked on another along in the third period, the Murduff men grabbed that one back in a scant minute. And that ended the scoring.

Play Opens Slow

The game started as gently and agreeably as a bridge tea, but that atmosphere of amiability was dispelled after four or five minutes of jockeying, and the battle opened up all along the front. At no stage was it deliberately dirty. The most of the infractions were for tripping in the close checking, with Lakefield the more frequent offenders and Windy Ware of Norwood probably the most frequent victim, especially in the first period.

The second canto was a bang-up, hectic affair that bristled with strenuous action that permitted no let up. Spills and sprawls were numerous, rushes that shuttled back and forth on a high note of excitement, good hockey mixed with some that was not so good, altogether a crowded period that provided plenty of thrills.

The speed eased off in the third frame, especially after Lakefield got their solitary goal. Probably they were content to try to hold the score at that compartively comfortable figure and start their home game with only one counter in the red. At any rate that is how it turned out, and the game in Lakefield Friday night should draw a packed house.

The teams were as follows:

Referee—Ray Rose.

Summary:

First Period.

1. Norwood, Ware, 17 mins.

Second Period.

No score.

Third Period.

2. Norwood, Wright (Hill), 12 mins.
3. Lakefield, L. Sabatino (Blewett), 55 secs.

The First Period.

After the adagio movement in the opening minutes, Ware of the Combines turned on the pressure along his beat on the right boards and was greeted with a salvo of upsets. Blewett drew the first penalty for tripping Ware as he shot. It was a perfectly good check that unintentionally materialized into a trip. Ware came right back in the same groove and Louie Sabatino dumped him going in. Lakefield were two men short.

John Sabatino had looked on from the subs' bench up to that stage, but he immediately relieved White on the defence. He employed his usual method in that kind of pinch by keeping the puck just as far as possible from his depopulated zone. Blewett managed to get inside the Norwood defence for a shot, but nothing happened at either end while the two Red Shirts were looking on from the timers' station.

Lakefield were intact again but not for long. White was banished for tripping Shannon in a play that seemed to have a goal tag on it. Shannon rushed down the centre path with Brennan alongside. Only White stood in the way. Shannon kept possession of the puck and lost it when White upset him. And on top of that and almost in the same danger spot Stabler's check sent Ware sprawling, and again Lakefield were shy two men.

The fans didn't like that method of defence, especially the nose dives that were shaking Ware up and turning his thrusts aside. Louie Sabatino and Blewett relieved the tension for a few moments with a rush that brought them close to Beavis, but Blewett's shot was blocked by the Norwood boy.

Mr. Ware jumped back into the limelight with a burst of speed along the right rail and scored as Louie Sabatino checked him. Louie was given a rest for hooking Shannon. White followed for dumping Ware in a check, and McLaughlin was handed the 1rst Norwood penalty for bumping Louie Sabatino against the boards.

Norwood went to work without any preliminaries in the second period. Charlie Brennan bored in on Junkin and slammed the rebound right back at him. Ware made it three fierce shots in a row. Junkin looked good in the face of that fusilade. Tom Wood greeted the penalty timers for holding. Two attacks by Wright and Ware and Hill and Brennan were halted. Stuffy Mahood bobbed about the Norwood rear area and stole the puck from McLaughlin. Mahood lost it, but Wingett recovered and wasted a chance with a shot over the net. White showed his speed on a fine rush with Wingett alongside, but—no pass, and no goal. Junkin got in the way of two sizzling shots from Ware and Brennan. John Sabatino earned a penalty by bumping Ware. McLaughlin and Hill combined in a fast rush, but the shot was off the net.

Shannon paraded to the timres in the third period for spilling White in front of the Combines' goal. McLaughlin burst through the Lakefield defence. His shot zinged over Junkins' head. Glenn Wright's poke check turned White back. Stabler tried a lone dash which Shannon cut short. Lynn Hill sifted through the Lakefield defence and his shot bounced out to Wright, who lobbed the puck into the net.

The Cement team retrieved that goal in the next minute. Blewett picked up the puck around centre. He lost it along the right wing lane, but Louie Sabatino recovered, took a couple of strides, fired through the defence — a rather long shot that fooled Beavis, the only counter against him in two games. In the last three games, two of them with Cogs, Beavis has been nicked for only two goals.

McLaughlin got the gate for tripping Blewett in the Combines' defence territory. Johnny Sabatino blocked a shot from Glenn Wright. It looked like a mighty helpful save. Hill was abreast of Wright, who circled around Tom Wood, but Sabatino flashed into his path as he shot. Ware, Wright, and Hill worked a pretty combination, and Junkin matched it by booting back Hills' shot. The penalty gate closed behind Wannamaker, and on his return he slammed the puck at Beavis, and almost reached the rebound.

Victory For Amerks Over Ottawa, Coupled With Maroon Downfall to Canadiens, Will Oust Montreal.

BRUINS AND HAWKS.

TORONTO, Ont., March 12 (By George Maguire, C.P. Sports Writer)—Renewal of the struggle for third position in the Canadian group provides chief interest in to-night's National Hockey League contests.

Four games are scheduled with Montreal Maroons, holders of the northern section third rung by one point over New York Americans, drawn against their intra-city rivals, Les Canadiens, champions of the group.

The teams have met on five previous occasions this season, and if the results of these tussles are any indication of the merits of the opposing squads the Munromen are not likely to strengthen their position.

Canadiens won three of the games while two ended in stalemates, and even though Howie Morenz, meteoric centre ice star, will not see much action the Habitants are favored to finish their series with Maroons with an unblemished record.

While the Munromen tackle the Flying Frenchmen the Amazing Amerks will entertain Ottawa Senators. Victory for Eddie Gerard's hockeyists, coupled with a loss for the Maroons, will enable the star-flecked New Yorkers to oust the Montrealers from third place.

Amerks Have No Easy Win.

In the five previous engagements with the Senators the Gothamites won three and lost two. The Canadian group tail-enders have been playing a brand of hockey in recent games which belies their lowly position in the standing and the Amerks will have anything but an easy time annexing victory.

Detroit Falcons, fourth place holders in the United States section, can maintain their mathematical chance of overhauling the third place New York Rangers, by defeating the tail-end Philadelphia Quakers in the Pennsylvanian city. The motor magnates have won four and lost one in five previous tilts with the Quaker City representatives.

Boston and Chicago meet in the fourth fixture. The Bruins, who clinched the United States division title by tieing with Toronto on Tuesday, have found the Blackhawks about the hardest opposition in the junior loop. In five games to date, the Hawks have lowered the Boston colors three times. The Bruins won the other two games.

The Hawks are trailing the Rossmen by 13 points, and are only one in the van of the New York Rangers

Stars And Sea-Horses Clash This Evening

Stars and Sea-horses meet to-night at seven o'clock at the Brock Street rink in the first of home and home games to decide the City League championship. The second game will probably be played Tuesday night.

The ice is in good shape and there is sure to be some fast hockey seen. So far this year, there has been little to choose between the two outfits and the boys will put up a great battle to take a lead into the final game. There are some pretty husky players on these teams, some of them being O.H.A. stars, and fans are always assured of seeing plenty of action when those topnotchers clash.

Three goals in each of the last two periods gave the Smelterites their margin after a scoreless first period.

CATARACTS WIN O.H.A. HONORS

Niagara Falls Cops Off Second Game 8-2 to Beat West Toronto on Round 12-7.

THREE ISSUES SETTLED.

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 12. (CP)—The Ontario Hockey Association is now prepared to meet all comers. Champions have been determined in the three classes, Hamilton Tigers senior; Royal Military College, Kingston, intermediate, and Niagara Falls junior.

The Niagara youngsters won the first junior champions for the Cataract city by swamping West Toronto under an 8 to 2 score in Niagara Falls last night. The losers won the first of the home and home series at Toronto, 5 to 4, but lost the round, 12 to 7. The newly crowned titleholders will now meet Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds, Northern Ontario Hockey Association representatives, in a two game test for the all-Ontario crown. Both tussles will be played here, the first on Saturday and the second on Monday.

To-night the first test of strength between the two Ontario Associations will be staged at Arena Gardens when Royal Military College of Kingston, O.H.A. intermediate champions, clash with Sudbury Wolves, N.O.H.A. senior monarchs, in a "sudden-death" Allan cup elimination fixture.

If the Cadets win they will meet Hamilton Tigers, O.H.A. senior titleholders in home and home games in the next round of the Allan Cup playdowns. The first game will be played at Kingston on Saturday with the return at Hamilton next Monday. Should the Wolves win, however, they will meet the Tigers here Saturday afternoon and at Hamilton on Monday. The winner will qualify to meet the Ottawa district representatives in the next round.

SUPERIORS NEAR TOP

EDMONTON, Alta., March 12 (C.P.)—Edmonton Superiors advanced to within one game of the Alberta Senior Hockey championship last night, when they decisively defeated Canmore Intermediates by 5 to 1. Second game of the series will be played at Canmore Friday night, and if Canmore wins, the teams will play the third and deciding game in Edmonton the following night.

CHRYSLER
STRAIGHT EIGHTS
and
A NEW SIX
STYLED LIKE THE EIGHTS

Chrysler Eight Sedan, $1950, f. o. b. Windsor, Ont. (wire wheels extra)

CHRYSLER'S SMARTEST AND FINEST CARS

THE NEW Chrysler Six—big in size, big in power—and the Chrysler Eights are, in a very true sense, the Show Cars of 1931—outstanding in style.

In the new Six, as in the Eights, refreshing smartness is created by an extremely low center of gravity, which also makes for greater safety at all speeds. You actually feel safer as you ride along and notice the needless height of other cars.

And performance!—Chrysler performance is as outstanding as Chrysler style. The new Chrysler Six has a 70-horsepower engine. The Chrysler Eight has a 90-horsepower engine. The Chrysler Imperial Eight has a 125-horsepower engine. In addition, the two Eights have an exclusive Chrysler Multi-Range 4-speed transmission with Dual High gears. There are two distinct high gears—one for sprinting in traffic and climbing hills, the other for the open highway. A quick, quiet gear shift makes it easy to shift back and forth between the two "highs" at any speed without clashing.

See the new Chrysler Six, the Chrysler Eight and the Chrysler Imperial Eight at the Automobile Show, and at the special exhibit in our showroom.

BIG BILL TERRY SEEKING $25,000 FROM N.Y. GIANTS

But Stoneham, Gotham Club Owner Refuses to Offer More Than $22,000.

FIGURES SUITS McGRAW.

Quarter Century Demand Final, Says First Sacker—Will Join Any Camp.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 12 (A.P.)—Baseball time and the call of John McGraw softened Big Bill Terry today and the New York Giants' stubborn first-baseman slashed his holdout demands from $30,000 a year for three years to $25,000 for one.

Nothing softened Charles E. Stoneham, president of the Giants, who offered $22,000 and stuck to it.

"We don't want him, nor does any other club at $25,000," Stoneham said in New York. If that is so, rejoined Memphis Bill, the National League's leading first baseman will spend the Summer looking after his local real estate holdings and playing shepherd to a bunch of oil company trucks.

Longs for Camp

Still bristling with self-confidence and determination, Terry's manner nevertheless was shot with longing for a ball camp—most any major league camp with a $25,000 pay-cheque—and he revealed that he and McGraw have talked often and earnestly by long distance telephone from San Antonio, where the Giants are training.

"I reduced my price to $25,000 and a one-year contract," Terry said. "From Mr. McGraw's talk I am almost positive that amount is agreeable to him, but it seems that Mr. Stoneham is both president and manager, insofar as finances are concerned.

"In these times of depression, a lot of millionaires are getting along without their yachts and I guess we can get along without Bill Terry," Stoneham said.

To that, Terry only said "Huh."

$25,000 Demand Final

The $25,000 salary demand is final, Bill said, reiterating that he should get what Lou Gehrig gets, and Gehrig is reported to have capitulated a holdout stand for $25,000.

Terry seldom mentions Lou.

"That guy across the river" is his way of bringing up the subject.

Terry batted .401 last year. He admits to 33 years and a desire to reap while he may.

If necessary, he says, he is "perfectly willing to be traded to any club that will meet my price." He prefers the Chicago Cubs but hasn't much hope of going with them.

HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS IN THE SPORTS WORLD

BOOSTS AND KNOCKS For EVERYONE

The first of the City League playoffs will find Stars and Sea-Horses mixing it up tonight at the Brock. The game is called for seven tells. The final game will take place early next week. Goals are to count on the round, and both squads are hoping to bank a nice lead after to-night's encounter.

• • • • • • •

The winner gets the Tully trophy and, incidentally, the City League title. And that wont be so hard to take, maybe.

• • • • • • •

Hats off to Asburnham. They sure breed hockey players over there. Must be the weather or something. There were two Mark street teams in the Church hockey League playoffs. And a bunch of East City players scattered through the South End City League. King George school won the Public School Hockey League.

• • • • • • •

Choates put up a tough argument before they were eliminated in the City League playdowns, and they were all Ashburnham boys. And what would St. John's O.H.A. Juniors have done without their East City stars?

• • • • • • •

The Kansas City Pla-Mors are safely intrenched in second place and will finish the schedule on March 25th. They play off with Tulsa, the league-leaders, early in April for the championship of the American League. Bert McLeod and "Biffer" Ranger are playing regular with the Pla-Mors and showing up well, according to Kansas City papers.

• • • • • • •

Bert writes that hockey is real popular down around there. They're getting bigger crowds than ever this year. Most of the players in this eight-team league are Canucks, though there are a number of Yank stars too.

• • • • • • •

When Madoc beat Stirling 3-2 last night in Belleville, it was the first championship for them in over twenty-five years. They are now the champs of the Trent Valley League.

• • • • • • •

Madoc fans carried the winners off the ice on their shoulders at the end, while a bunch of them did the snake dance. Some fun, all right. But the losers made it a battle all the way. Well, they couldn't both win.

• • • • • • •

The boys in this league take their hockey seriously. No pink tea affairs about it. They certainly waded into each other last night. Just like they've been doing all year. One fellow had to leave the game with a cut forehead, and another was knocked cold twice, but stayed in there. And they say rugby is rough!

• • • • • • •

Norwood have a one-goal lead to take to Lakefield to-morrow night. They will have a fight on their hands to hold that margin. It ought to be a wow of a scrap to see. No quarter asked or given.

• • • • • • •

The champs of the East Peterborough League and Madoc should arrange a series to see which, if either, of the leagues is the better. The games would pack them in.

• • • • • • •

The Grove School first team have challenged any City League team to a game at the Brock on Saturday. The Lakefield boys have played eleven games—some of them pretty tough—without losing one.

• • • • • • •

Choate's Hardware Juniors have expressed a willingness to take them on. If they can get their team together for that day. Well, let's hope the two outfits tangle. It should be interesting.

• • • • • • •

The St. Louis Cards heaped insult on injury the other day when three of their rawest rookie pitchers whipped the champion Philadelphia Athletics 4-3 to take the third game of the "World Series" in Florida.

REGINA VICS IN ALLAN CUP PLAY-DOWNS

TRAIL SMOKE EATERS UP.

Johnny Clark, Western Shutout King, Gives Brilliant Display in Holding Victoria Nets.

WINNIPEG, Man., Mar. 12. Scarred a little, but formidable champions for all that, Regina Vics today were the newest Allan Cup contenders in the west. Vics dethroned Saskatoon Quakers as Saskatchewan titlists, winning the final round 2 to 1, though beaten last night at The Hub by a 1 to 0 score.

Johnny Clark, brilliant Vic netman who has scored 13 shut-outs this season, gave a sensational display in holding the Quakers, only Bob McQuarrie's shot in the second period beating him.

Alberta was convinced its champions would be Edmonton Superiors, who defeated Canmore intermediates 5 to 1 in the first of a three-game series. At Trail, Carroll Kendall's Smoke Eaters downed the British Columbia intermediate champions 6 to 0 and practically assured themselves of another try for the Allan Cup.

To-night amateur hockey's battleground will shunt to the eastern end of the prairies. Brandon Wheat Kings and Winnipeg will try to reach a decision here in the second game of a series for the Manitoba senior title. They struggle to a scoreless tie at Brandon Tuesday.

At Fort William, Elmwood Millionaires, five-times junior champions of Manitoba, will start their annual task of tackling the Thunder Bay's winners. This time it is Westfort Maroons and Millionaires, runners-up for the Memorial Cup two years ago, are expected to take a lead back here with them for the second game of the series.

COAST GUARD BOATS GO AGROUND.

BOSTON, Mass., March 12.—(C.P.)—Two coast guard patrol boats went aground near Deer Island early today at nearly high tide. The boats, Nos. 171 and 190, were navigating the swift current of Shirley Gut when they grounded.

The 171, in the lead, grounded on the upper edge of the island. Coast guard officials at the east Boston base, said they would attempt to haul them off at the height of today's tide.

Grant Will Remain With Boston Tigers

BOSTON, Mass., March 12.—Benny Grant will be in his regular goal position for the Boston Bruins Cubs to-night when they clash in Boston with the Springfield Indians, Canadian-American Hockey League leaders.

The goalie, owned and loaned by the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National League, was recalled Tuesday night after Connie Smythe, manager of the Canadian club, became embroiled in an argument with Art Ross, Bruins' pilot, who is also an officer of the Boston minor league club. During the day Manager Eddie Powers of the Cubs smoothed out matters with Smythe and persuaded the latter to rescind Grant's recall.

WEST-END CANUCKS DEFEAT LEAFS 4-1

Brilliant Hockey Game Features Close of West End League.

The West End Hockey League came to a spectacular climax last evening at Brock street rink when Wooll's "Les Canadiens" managed to step over McWilliams' high-hatted "Maple Leafs" in a 4-1 victory for "Les Canadiens."

The game started off with lots of pep and somehow Cathcart managed to slip the puck past Mattice after a skirmish in front of "Les Canadiens" net to make the score 1-0 at the end of the first period.

In the second period McWilliams' "Maple Leafs" became quite conceited but soon became dubious of their lead when "Little" Kirkwood skated through Turner's legs and passed to Wooll who shot the puck past McWilliams to tie the score.

In the third period McWilliams' "Maple Leafs" found extreme difficulty in getting past the stellar defence of "Les Canadiens" where "Big" Kirkwood and Parnell met the "Maple Leafs" with the odd butt-end and graceful body-check. Then Wooll skated down from centre and breezed another past McWilliams who was in the midst of a "siesta" and made the score 2-1 for "Les Canadiens". A few minutes later Rowan and "Big" Kirkwood rushed down to get another goal apiece before the final bell to make the score 4-1 for "Les Canadiens".

The teams:

"Les Canadiens"—Goal, G. Mattice; defence, L. Parnell and J. Kirkwood; wings, R. Rowan and G. Kirkwood; centre, G. Wooll.

"Maple Leafs"—Goal, B. McWilliams; defence, W. Turner and H. Mowry; wings, R. Pulkinghorn and B. Cathcart; centre, J. McWilliams.

Referee—Joe Dunkerley.

ONTARIO LEADERS DEFEAT CATARACTS

Oshawa, Kitchener and Galt to Meet in Sudden Death Games for Play-off Berth.

TORONTO, Ont., March 12 (C.P.)—Guelph Maple Leafs started their play-off series in the Ontario Hockey League auspiciously at the Royal City last night by defeating Niagara Falls, 2 to 1, in a keenly contested match.

The Leafs, who finished first in the standing at the conclusion of the regular schedule, took the lead half way through the second frame after a scoreless opening 20 minutes, when Randle and Rise teamed up for a well-earned goal.

"Honey" Kuntz squared matters with just 20 seconds remaining and the count remained knotted through a hectic third session, and until late in the overtime period when Randle notched the winning marker unassisted.

The Leafs were originally slated to meet Galt Terriers in the next game on Friday, but as Oshawa and Kitchener finished in a deadlock with the

OTTAWA FINALISTS BATTLE 2-ALL TIE

Almonte and Metcalfs Fail to Settle Series For Intermediate Honors.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12 (By the Canadian Press).—Ottawa Valleys' tangled hockey situation struck another snag last night when Almonte and Ottawa Montcalms, Intermediate champion finalists, played 90 minutes to a 2—2 tie in the third game of their Intermediate championship series. In the first game they played a 1—1 tie and in the second they battled 90 minutes to a scoreless deadlock.

Another game will be played Friday when a district winner must be decided to meet the winners of the Ottawa City League, now in an even more elongated series. The final winners of the district meet the O.H.A. championship team in the Allan Cup playdowns.

Buffalo now stands once more on even terms with Chicago Shamrocks in fourth place, four points back of Duluth Hornets. Bouchard for Buffalo, Metcalfe for Tulsa and Mitchell for Kansas City each notched two goals in last night's play.

16,529 ENTRIES AT ROYAL FAIR

Directors Hold Annual Meeting In Toronto To-day—2,501 Exhibitors.

MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR

TORONTO, March 12—In the Annual Report of the Royal Winter Fair, presented to the annual meeting at Toronto to-day the Directors stated that circumstances attending the Last Fair proved in a most convincing manner that the Royal exerts a robustly healthy influence in Canadian national life far beyond strictly agriculture interests. The world-wide economic conditions during the summer and fall made it early apparent to the Directorate that a difficult year for the Fair might have to be faced. They therefore promtly decided that forceful, wellco-ordinated efforts should be made, having those conditions in mind, to ensure a continuance of the annual record of progress for the Fair. Their most sanguine hopes were surpassed. Press and public joined in heartily by cheerful spirit and cordial co-operation to make the Royal of 1930 a collective expression of Canada's confidence in the true economic soundness of the Dominion and of agriculture, its foundational industry, in particular. Under such happy conditions, the largest revenue from general attendance in the nine-year history of the Winter Fair was received. In fact, the general admissions to the Fair—the key to public to public attendance—showed an increase of fifteen per cent over the previous year. Once more there was evidence that the strength of the Royal lies first, in its service to the soundest and most stable of Canadian industries, and secondly, in the means it affords of expressing and declaring that stability to the Dominion at large.

The total entry in all departments amounted to 16,529. These were made by 2,501 exhibitors. The entries were divided as follows: Alberta, 421; British Columbia, 55; Manitoba, 491; New Brunswick, 107; Nova Scotia, 82; Ontario, 13,142; Quebec, 525; Prince Edward Island, 254; Saskatchewan, 362; United States, 797; Ireland, 89; Germany, 110; Hungary, 54; and Sweden, 40.

LAKEFIELD HEARS FORMER RECTOR

Archdeacon Warren of Toronto Gives Two Inspiring Sermons on Sunday.

LAKEFIELD, March 12.—(Examiner Correspondence).— Archdeacon Warren of Toronto was the special preacher in St. John's church on Sunday and delivered two very powerful sermons.

Archdeacon Warren was for eighteen years rector of this parish, leaving in 1906 for Toronto, where he had accepted the appointment of superintendent of missions for the diocese of Toronto. He was appointed Archdeacon of Peterborough in 1905 and was later promoted to be Archdeacon of York. He has a wide circle of friends in this community who welcome his visits to the parish and village of Lakefield.

His morning text was taken from the 8th and 9th verses of the first chapter of St. John: "If we say we have no sin we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us: but if we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

At the evening he spoke on the words of St. John the Divine given to us in his book of Revelations: "I was in the spirit on the Lord's Day."

Rescue of Doll Costs Tot's Life

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 11.—(C.P.)— Kathleen Vern was only two years old, but she had the same instinct that drives mothers into burning buildings to rescue their children, and as a consequence she is dead.

Yesterday she was playing in the back yard at her home and accidentally dropped her doll into a burning trash pile. Without a moment's hesitation, she dived into the fire to rescue it.

Her mother pulled her from the flames and tried to tear off her burning dress, but Kathleen was seared so severely that she died a few hours later.

Mr. A. M. Fitzgerald of Peterborough was in the village on business on Tuesday.

Mrs. Reid of Stoney Creek was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Connell last week.

The congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church will worship in the basement of the new church on Sunday next at 11 o'clock in the morning and 7 o'clock in the evening. Sunday school will be held at 10 a.m. The preacher for the occasion will be Rev. (Dr.) Rochester of Toronto, editor of the Presbyterian Record. The corner stone of the church was laid on October 16 last.

Local mails came in and went out on time in spite of the storm but the rural mails were late indeed and some were not delivered till Tuesday and later. The roads to Apsley and Buckhorn are still blocked but willing hands are working to open up the lines of communication so that the intrepid Mr. Easson of Buckhorn and Messrs. Stevens and Brown of Apsley will again make their regular trips.

The Warsaw Dramatic Club are putting on their three-act comedy, "Wild Ginger" in the Town Hall, Lakefield, on Wednesday, March 18, under the auspices of the Woman's Institute of Lakefield. The play comes highly recommended as an excellent evening's entertainment, and the proceeds will be used for relief work. There will be a good musical program between the acts.

KING'S OWN CLASS PLANS YEAR'S WORK

Mrs. A. E. Moorhouse is Hostess to Members at Regular Meeting.

Mrs. A. E. Moorhouse was hostess last evening at St. Jame's Parsonage, to the members of the King's Own Bible Class, of which she is the teacher.

This class of young matrons have planned a rather ambitious program for the year. Their work is wide in its scope and includes relief department which is already deep in actual work, as well as in plans. The King's Own Class forms a circle in affiliation with the Ladies' Aid, and their financial objectives also cover many other worthy causes in church life.

The business session was opened with prayer by Mrs. Moorhouse, and the Vice-president, Mrs. John Freeman, presided, dispatching the many items with great efficiency.

A delightful social hour followed, when dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

A merry time was also enjoyed in an old-time "taffy-pull," which brought to a successful conclusion the evening's activities.

JUBILEE BRAND "FANCY FIVE" PEAS

Grown in Peterborough County and Canned in Peterborough City

Leading authorities have made the statement that the climate and soil conditions of the County of Peterborough are ideal for the production of Peas.

In verification of this statement, the Canadian Packing Company last year contracted with a number of the farmers of this county to grow 300 acres of the finest varieties of Peas.

The crop from this acreage was harvested at exactly the right time. The peas were canned within a few hours of the time they were threshed, under the most expert supervision and ideal conditions.

THE RESULTS OF THIS VENTURE WERE HIGHLY SATISFACTORY.

When peas are packed they are graded into five sizes. The smallest peas pass through sieve No. 1 and the largest through sieve No. 5. These are also graded for quality—"Fancy," "Choice" and "Standard."

The finest and most popular pea that we have produced is the "Fancy Five." This pea is sold under the "Jubilee Brand." Our Choice Peas are sold as "Crown Brand," and Standard Peas as "Sunrise" or "Mohawk Brand."

JUBILEE BRAND

'FANCY FIVE' PEAS

are great big tender sweet peas, unequalled by the best brands of competitors and sell for less.

This week-end only they are being sold

HOLDOUT CASES OF DAZZY VANCE, HERMAN DISTURBS ROBINS' NEST

Neither Player Eligible For Havana Exhibition Tour Unless Signed.

BABE MAY SURRENDER.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 12.—Business of holding out by Arthur Charles Vance and Floyd Caves Herman is getting down to the short strokes with the Robins pulling up stakes here a week from Monday and heading for Cuba.

A bit of excitement was precipitated when war correspondents on this front were advised that Frank York, president of the Brooklyn club had issued orders to the Rebels to keep away from the ball yard and to desist from autographing meal checks until they first signed contract.

A check-up revealed that no such orders had been received here. Vance and Herman both toiled at the apple orchard to-day and the Babe played right field for the regulars in a seven-inning practice game. Vance took his customary warm-up and spoke a piece for a sound reel crew who think he is still with the Brooklyn club. He is, but not so still.

May Go Plowing

"I'm just getting in shape for whatever turns up" said the Dazerrerino after he shucked his monkey suit and emerged from the showers. "Maybe it will be only the Spring plowing up at Homosass, but that's where I'll be next week if I am not on the band-wagon by the time the team leaves here.

"As far as I know York has not objected to me practicing with the team. Certainly Robbie has said nothing to me. I am on my own in Clearwater. I have my home here and I'm paying my own feed bills."

Professor Robinson was discovered soaking up some sunshine in a big easy chair down by the clubhouse during the practice game. When he was sufficiently thawed out he declared the cases of Vance and Herman had been taken to a higher court and that was that.

Herman is acting like a man who is about to surrender. He has missed two exhibition games and will sit out another tomorrow. The Babe knows he is going to play baseball with the Robins this season and it is believed he will come to terms this week.

Uniformity Stressed In Golfers' Handicap

MONTREAL, Que., Mar. 12. (CP) Uniformity in the handicap of golfers in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, and the subsequent adoption of a similar set of regulations for the entire dominion will be the aim of a sub-committee of the province of Quebec Golf Association next week at Toronto. The P.Q.G.A. sub-committee is composed of President G. H. Forster, J. A. C. Colvil and R. J. R. Stokes.

At the last meeting of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, it was decided to limit the field for the Canadian amateur championship to players with a handicap of eight. There being no Dominion handicap basis, the R.C.G.A. decided to take the provincial handicap of the player instead of the club handicap. The P.Q.G.A. system of handicapping in some three strokes higher than the Ontario system. A player with a handicap of 11 in this province would have approximately eight in Ontario.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 10 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

At the thought of his son, Tarzan came abruptly back to the present. He shrugged his giant shoulders as he answered the ape. "No, Akut, it cannot be!" he said. "You could not be happy here—I may not be happy there, any more!" The animal trainer stepped forward. The ape bared his fangs, growling. "Go with him, Akut," said Tarzan of the Apes. "I will come to see you tomorrow." Sullenly, the beast moved to the trainer's side.

The latter told where they might be found, and then Tarzan turned toward his son. "Come," he said sternly, and without another word the two left the theatre and had driven nearly home through the half deserted streets before either of them spoke. Then it was the boy who first broke the silence. "The ape knew you, father," he said, "and you spoke together in the ape's tongue. How did the ape know you and you its language?"

And then, briefly and for the first time, Tarzan of the Apes told his son of his early life—of his birth in the jungle, of the death of his parents, and of how Kala, the great she-ape, had suckled and raised him from infancy almost to manhood. He told him, too, of the dangers and horrors of the jungle; of the great beasts that stalked one by day and by night; of the periods of drought, the torrential rains; of cold; of intense heat—and nakedness.

Then he spoke of the fear and suffering, of all the things that seem most horrible to the creature of civilization, in the hope that the knowledge of them might sweep from the lad's mind any inherent desire for the jungle. Yet these were the very things that made the jungle memories, so precious to Tarzan, and all unknowingly as he talked his every sentence glowed with the sparks that fired the boy's hungry desire for adventure.

FIDELIS BAND HAS CHARGE OF SERVICE

Forty Members Take Part in George Street United Church Society Meeting.

The Fidelis Mission Band of George Street United Church had charge of the Junior Service with forty present

The president, Ruth Parnell, read the Scripture lesson and several members led in prayers for the sick members and sick childre: of the world. Loree Wellwood gave the beginning of the "Life Story of Mary Slessor," missionary to Africa.

Elfie Saunders was appointed to write a letter this week to the Band's special missionary, Miss Marion Coon, who is labouring in China. The members were reminded that her Easter Than Offering was to be brought in at the Easter meeting.

FIRE DESTROYS FARTHING HOME

Leahy's Lane Residence Razed at Early Hour This Morning.

STARTED IN OIL STOVE.

One of the greatest tragedies of the year in this vicinity occurred at 8 o'clock this morning when all the worldly possessions of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Farthing, Leahy's Lane, were entirely destroyed by fire, while firemen were absolutely powerless to check the mass of flames or save any of the household effects.

Mr. Farthing's house is just one street outside of the city limits, Leahy's Lane, being parallel to River Road and at right angles to Smith Street. The fire is believed to have started in the oil stove in the chicken brooder. As the hen-house is adjacent to the house, the flames spread rapidly toward it. Having reached the house, the flames lapped around a five-gallon tank of coal oil and a terrific explosion resulted. The whole west wall of the home was blown out.

A call was immediately sent into the Fire Department, but the call was referred to the Mayor because of the fire being outside the City Limits. His Worship ordered the Department to attend the fire. However, the nearest hydrant was so far away that the laying of some 1,600 feet of hose would have been necessitated for a single line of water. The fire had gained the upper hand, and all attempts at checking it would have been futile. At a late hour this afternoon the buildings were still burning, though the fire had somewhat abated.

$5,000 Damage.

No estimate of the losses has been made as yet, but it is expected that it will be in the vicinity of $5,000. It has not been revealed whether this is covered by insurance or not.

Commenting on the fire, the Chief said that people living away from a city hydrant should have a small extinguisher on hand. He stated that if the inmates had had one, they could have extinguished the flames in the poultry house before spreading to the dwelling.

Arrangements Made Billet Delegates

Much Business Discussed at Regular Meeting of George Street Church W.M.S.

The W.M.S of George Street United Church held their March meeting in the Board room of the Sunday School Hall Tuesday afternoon with over fifty members present. The meeting opened with the Invocation by the president, Mrs. Charles Coon, after which Mrs. Richard Parnell, leader of Group B took charge of the meeting for the devotional exercises. Mrs. MacFarlane led in prayer and Mrs. Airess read the Scripture lesson from Galatians the first chapter, verses 9-14 and Jude, 20-25. Mrs. William Knox gave a devotional leaflet, "For Thine is the Kingdom, the Power and the Glory," followed by sentence prayers by Mrs. S. R. Armstrong. Mrs. J. E. J. Millyard and Mrs. Parnell concluding with "The Lord's Prayer," sung by Miss Bryce.

Miss Bessie Elcome and Miss Dorothy White rendered a beautiful piano duet.

The report of the Sick and Visiting Committee, given by Mrs. James A. Spencer, showed 81 calls made by these energetic ladies during the past month. Mrs. E. G. Wellwood reported satisfactory progress being made by the Fidelis Mission Band. It was decided that the society give the Band members a supper during the month, as has been the custom for several years. Mrs. W. H. Cunningham and Mrs. A. I. Brown were appointed convenors. Arrangements were made for billeting a number of delegates for the Bay of Quinte Presbyterial meeting of the W.M.S., which will be held in St. Andrew's United Church in April. It was decided to have a special Easter Thank Offering Meeting during the week previous to Easter and arrangements for same were left in the hands of the life members of the society. Plans for a speaker for the Mother and daughter Banquet were discussed and it was decided that a committee composed of Mesdames Harvey, Coon, Armstrong and McMillan look after this matter.

Mrs. E. E. Harvey gave a brief resume of the previous chapters of the study book, "Fruits of Missions in Japan, concluding with the sixth and seventh chapters which she explained very concisely and clearly, impressing all with the wonderful progress made by the Christian religion in Japan and its influences, socially materially, educationally and morally.

Letter To Peterboro Establishes Record

Averaging a speed of sixty miles per hour across the continent from San Francisco, an air mail letter was delivered to The Examiner Office yesterday afternoon just fifty hours after having been franked with the cancelling stamp in the post office in that Californian metropolis. The stamp, dated March 9, and cancelled at 5.30 p.m., times the departure of the letter on its long journey eastward to this city, where it was received at the local post office at 4.25 p.m. on March 11. On the face of it this would appear to have taken the letter 47 hours less five minutes to make the trip, but allowance has to be made for the three hours variation between Eastern standard and Pacific time, which brings the actual time down to fifty hours less five minutes—a truly remarkable feat, and a reminder of the age of speed in which we live.

COURT ALLOWS IRWIN APPEAL

Decision of Judge Huycke is Upset by the Appellate Division in Toronto.

SUED FOR $566.81.

In the hearing of an appeal by plaintiff W. J. Irwin from a judgment of His Honor Judge E. C. S. Huycke dismissing plaintiff's claim for $566.81 for gasoline and oil supplies, the appeal was allowed in the Appellate Division at Osgoode Hall, Toronto yesterday and judgment was directed to be entered for the plaintiff with costs to plaintiff.

William J. Irwin and Noble Clemett carried on a garage business at Omemee and sued Samuel Henson, contractor of Milton for $566.81 for gasoline, and oil supplied for defendant's trucks being used in connection with the construction of the Provincial highway at Omemee in 1928-29. The action came before Judge Huycke at Peterborough County Court on October 23rd, 1930 and plaintiff's claim was dismissed. Evidence given on behalf of plaintiffs alleged that defendant obtained gasoline and oil supplies and agreed to pay for them. Defendant Henson denied having been in Omemee during the year 1929.

Following the civil action and pending an appeal which had been entered, a charge of perjury was laid against Henson on the information of Irwin. The criminal charge was heard before Judge Huycke in the County Judge's Criminal Court on February 7th, and Henson was acquitted.

In the appeal heard at Toronto yesterday Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., appeared for plaintiff and J. McIntosh, K.C., for defendant.

Potato Growers In N.B. Seek Pact With Cuba

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 12 (C.P.).—With the time for potato planting only a few weeks distant, and the growers in a quandary over market possibilities for their product, cancelling fertilizer orders previously booked, officials of the Associated Shippers' Association of New Brunswick are swinging into action in an attempt to have some sort of trade agreement reached between Canada and Cuba that would re-open that market to Canadian tubers.

N. H. Hatfield, of Hartland, N.B., president of the association, and A. D. McCain, of Florenceville, N.B., vice-president, have written to Hon. Robert Weir, Ottawa, Federal Minister of Agriculture, pointing out the seriousness of the situation, and asking that steps be taken toward the appointment of a commission to investigate the possibilities of such a trade agreement between the two countries.

Fake Naturalization Paper Probe To Start

JUDGE WALLACE BEEN APPOINTED COMMISSIONER

Announcement Made By Under-Secretary Thomas Mulvey, From Ottawa.

MOUNTED POLICE ACTIVE.

Existence of Fraud Ring Uncovered in Toronto Over Year Ago.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13.—(CP)—Following an investigation carried on throughout Canada for the past 15 months by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Judge Wallace of Woodstock, Ont., has been appointed a commissioner by the Federal Government to investigate cases of naturalization papers obtained fraudulently, it was announced here today by Thomas Mulvey, Under-Secretary of State.

Ingenious methods to obtain naturalisation papers for aliens had been uncovered by the police investigation, Mr. Mulvey said papers obtained fraudulently could not be cancelled by the Secretary of State until a commissioner had investigated the circumstances and this led to the appointment of Judge Wallace. If it is discovered the papers were obtained fraudently and that a conspiracy existed, prosecutions will follow in the courts, Mr. Mulvey said.

Disbelieves Reports

When shown press reports from Montreal to the effect that a $3,000,000 fake naturalization paper ring existed in that city, Mr. Mulvey was inclined to disbelieve them. He said the police investigation had never unearthed a forged paper, such as the Montreal ring was charged with selling.

Mr. Mulvey did not believe more than 50 faked papers had been issued in Canada. The existence of a fraud ring first was discovered in Toronto, Ont., more than a year ago. At that time, police found papers might be purchased for sums varying from $250 to $400. Police continued their investigations throughout Canada and are now prepared to lay their evidence before a commissioner. In anticipation of this, Judge Wallace was appointed a commissioner last August but the order later was allowed to lapse. A few days ago, he was reappointed, this time with much wider powers.

LORD PRIVY SEAL DIES SUDDENLY

Death of Vernon Hartshorn is Fourth Labor Gov't Loss in Fortnight.

HAD SPLENDID CAREER.

MAESTEG, Wales, Mar. 13. (AP)—Rt. Hon. Vernon Hartshorn, Lord Privy Seal since 1930 and formerly President of the South Wales Miners' Federation, dropped dead at his home here to-day.

He was at work in his London offices yesterday but came here last night to spend the week-end. He collapsed and died at about noon while Mrs. Hartshorn was with him.

He was Postmaster-General in the first MacDonald Government, went to India as a Labor member of the Simon Commission, and after his return joined the present Government as Lord Privy Seal.

His death is the fourth loss the Labor Government has suffered within the past fortnight.

Earl Russell, Under Secretary for India, died suddenly in France, Rt. Hon. Sir Charles Trevelyan, Minister for Education, and Lord Arnold, Paymaster-General, resigned, the latter because of ill health and the former because of complications connected with the failure of his education bill to get through Parliament.

TROUBLE FOR BELL COMPANY—?

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13.—Is the Government aware that the Bell Telephone Company has an exclusive monopoly in Eastern Canada? This is the question that is being asked in the House of Commons by Armand Lavergne (Cons. Montmagny). As an additional query Mr. Lavergne wants to know if the Government is aware that this company "exacts excessive rates." "What remedy, if any, does the Government propose in order to relieve the ratepayers?" Mr. Lavergne demands.

BALDWIN SCORES 2 PRESS BARONS UPON ATTITUDE

Writes Cooper, St. George's Fight is Over Whether Press or Party Shall Rule.

LEADERSHIP NOT ISSUE.

No Big Stick Gestures as Long as Baldwin Heads Tories Says Manchester Guardian.

LONDON, March 13 (By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Correspondent).—Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin has written to the official Conservative candidate in the St. George's by-election campaign, that the issue there is not the leadership of the Conservative party, as the anti-Baldwinites declare, but whether the press or the party shall rule.

The Conservative Leader denounced the "unfair and dishonest" methods now being adopted by a certain section of the press, referring to the organs of Lord Beaverbrook and Lord Rothermere, who are supporting an unofficial Conservative candidate in the by-election. The attitude of the press is unparalleled in this or any other country, Mr. Baldwin said.

There are only the two candidates in the by-election, necessitated by the death of Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Conservative, elected with a majority of 16,154 in a straight fight with a Labor man in 1929. Captain A. Duff Cooper is the official Conservative, and Sir Ernest Petter, the unofficial Conservative.

Mr. Baldwin followed up his vigorous statement on India in the House of Commons yesterday, with an equaly vigorous attack on the press barons who have been at-

LIQUOR PRICES ARE INCREASED IN 120 STORES

Highest Increase Announced is for the Bourbon Whiskies.

RESERVE BUILT UP.

Increased Revenue Will Not Come From Increased Consumption.

TORONTO, Ont., March 13 (C.P.).—Following the announcement of Hon. E. A. Dunlop, Provincial Treasurer, in the Ontario Legislature yesterday, increases in the prices of whiskies, gins, brandies, and rums went into effect to-day in the 120 Government liquor stores throughout the Province, under the direction of the Liquor Control Board. There is no change in the price list for beers and wines.

Up 30 Cents a Bottle

The highest increase announced was on Bourbon whiskies these going up 30 cents a bottle. On some of the Scottish brands a 25 cent increase was made. Most Canadian brands went up 10 cents a bottle.

With a total turnover of $50,000,000 by the Liquor Control Board last year, the Ontario Government derived a net revenue to the Government of $7,495,000. The Provincial Treasurer said the revenue for this year was estimated at $10,000,000, and Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Liquor Control Board., had arranged to increase the prices to effect the required increase. The increase was not to be gained by an increased consumption of alcohol in the Province.

Increase Bootlegging.

Dr. A. J. Irwin, secretary of the Ontario Prohibition Union, declared to-day the announcement by the Provincial Treasurer that the Government is looking to larger revenue from liquor sales, demonstrated the unfortunate fact that Governments tend to become more and more dependent on liquor revenue when this is available for the financing of the state. "The effects of the changes are somewhat problematical," he said in connection with reports that the prices of spirituous liquors would be increased. It may lessen slightly the consumptoin of spirits, and to that extent will possibly be of some advantage, to everybody but the Provincial Treasurer and the distillers. It will no doubt have some effect towards quickening illicit and bootleg trade, but that is fundamentally a police problem."

According to The Evening Telegram to-day, Stewart McClenaghan, vice-chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board of Ontario, explains that the additional $2,500,000 revenue which the Provincial Government expects from the operations of the Board in the next fiscal year will not be derived from the sale of liquor, but will represent the total amount of profits made by the Board each year.

Hereafter the Board will turn over to the Provincial Treasurer its entire profits. Up to the present, the Board has been accumulating a reserve by way of capital for financing its operations. The reserve has reached a point where it is deemed sufficient, and henceforth all profits will be turned over to the Government.

Sunday's Snow Storm Cost City $1,800; 100 Men Get Week's Work Moving Snow

More than 100 local men are, collectively, $1,800 richer this morning because of Sunday's heavy snow storm. The big gang of snow shovellers, who answered the call on Monday morning to clean the streets, drew their pay last night, and $1,800 was passed through the wicket at at City Engineer's office to them.

It is estimated that by Saturday the streets will be clean and the snow-shovelling job finished. By that time it is figured the snow storm will have put $3,500 into the pockets of this city's unemployed.

Up until this morning some 100 men, 15 teams, and 6 trucks were employed in removing the snow piles from the business district. The storm drain gangs refused to their toil of laying drains to-day, leaving about 60 men to carry on the snow job.

1,500 ARRESTED IN POLICE RAID ON FASCIST HALL

Swoop Follows Information That Reds Had Forged Tickets to Enter Meeting.

1,200 TO BE PROSECUTED.

Eighteen Trucks Required to Take Prisoners to Hamburg Police Headquarters.

HAMBURG, Germany, March 13. (CP).—Fifteen hundred persons were arrested by police here last night in what was probably the largest political raid ever staged in Germany. Of the 1,500 about 1,200 will be prosecuted for disturbing the peace.

Police learned that Communists had forged a considerable number of tickets for a meeting of Fascists. They waited until about 4 000 persons had filled the meeting hall and then closed the doors and proceeded with a two hour examination of the entry cards to detect the disturbers.

It took eighteen police trucks many trips to transport these arrested to police headquarters and the City Hall, where 300 persons were released after a second of scrutiny of the tickets, which lasted until daybreak.

After a meeting had been purged of Reds the Fascist brownshirts posted a heavy guard and the Fascist Minister of Interior of Brunswick, Anton Pransen, spoke undisturbed.

GOV'T WINS VOTE BY CLOSE MARGIN

Premier Lang Comes to Rescue at Last Minute on Non-Confidence Motion.

RESULT IS 38 TO 33.

CANBERRA, Australia, Mar. 13.—(C.P.)— The life of the Australian Federal Government was saved by a narrow margin to-day when an Opposition motion of non-confidence was defeated 38 to 33.

J. G. Latham, leader of the Opposition, moved the motion in the House of Representatives last Friday, accusing Labor Premier Scullin's Government of vacillating, and failure to reduce expenditures and grapple with unemployment, which has reached tragic proportions.

The debate was marked by accusations and denials and the outlook for the Government was precarious because of quarrels within the Labor caucus. At the last minute Premier Lang of New South Wales, whose debt repudiation proposals the Government has turned down, came to the rescue with his followers and voted with the Government.

Conservatives Hold First Party Caucus

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13. (CP)—Conservatives cabinet ministers, members and senators alike, solidly pledged their loyalty and support and roundly cheered Premier R. B. Bennett to-day. It was the first caucus of the party since the special session of parliament last September.

The entrance of the prime minister to the caucus room in the House of Commons brought forth a series of cheers from his followers. When Mr. Bennett spoke in the course of a general discussion cheers again broke forth which reached the corridors, and this was repeated as the meeting broke up.

Discussion was general, but it is understood that members have been given an entirely "free hand" in speech-making on the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

Londoner Sells Lottery Tickets; Gets $500 Fine

LONDON, Ont., Mar. 13. (CP) In an attempt to rid this city of the sale of lottery tickets on American races, Magistrate T. W. Scandrett in City Police Court to-day meted out the stiffest penalty for such an offence when he fined Victor Cloutier Cheapside Street, $500 and costs or the alternative of one year in jail. Cloutier pleaded guilty to disposing for sale of a quantity of lottery tickets on the old Kentucky Derby to be run in May.

RELIEF SPEEDING TO POINT BARROW

New Diphtheria Cases Break Out While Post Awaits Antitoxin Supply.

COMING BY PLANE.

POINT BARROW, Alaska, March 13 (C.P.).—Two airplanes bringing a new supply of antitoxin for this diphtheria-stricken village were awaited anxiously to-day. Joe Crosson and S. E. Robbins, Alaska airmen, left Fairbanks yesterday with the serum.

Crosson landed here last Sunday with a quantity of antitoxin, which soon was exhausted. Several new cases have been reported since then, four virulent cases yesterday. The hospital is overflowing with patients and the less serious cases are being cared for in homes. The seriousness of the epidemic recalled former epidemics that have visited this little settlement.

Thirty-five years ago, old timers said, death rode through the settlement on the wings of a measles scourge, to which 40 per cent. of the population succumbed.

NANCY BOWEN GIVEN SENTENCE

Having Already Served Minimum Time of Term, Indian is Set Free at Once.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 13. (CP)—Nancy Bowen, 65 year old Seneca Indian woman, to-day was sentenced to imprisonment for one to ten years for manslaughter, first degree, but was released immediately since she had already served the minimum time of her sentence. Her sentence grew out of the slaying of Mrs. Clotilde Marchand, wife of Henri Marchand, an artist in Buffalo last March.

Judge Thorn preceded his sentence by Sharp condemnation of Henri Marchand, husband of the murdered woman, whom, he declared had "a large share morally in the murder of his wife because of his affair with Lila Jimerson."

Lila, indicted with Nancy for murder, was acquitted two weeks ago by a Supreme Court jury.

Estate Of $140,000 Is Left By R. Mackay

GODERICH, Ont., March 13. (CP) The final chapter in the unique and sad career of the late Robert MacKay, blind bachelor philanthropist, is written in his last will and testament, just filed for probate here.

It disposes of an estate of $140,000 and the beneficiaries included churches, hospitals, collegiate and public schools, cemetery, children's shelter, fraternal societies and even the town band is not forgotten.

Twenty-six distant relatives and friends, mostly the latter, scattered throughout the country are left sums ranging from one to five thousand dollars.

AUSTIN CASSIDY TO BE ALLOWED ANOTHER TRIAL

Chief Justice Lafontaine Quashes Death Sentence in Appeal Court.

MARSHALL MURDER CASE.

Court Admits Much of Crown's Evidence Against Prisoner's Character, Prejudiced.

MONTREAL, Que., Mar. 13.— (C.P.)—The conviction and sentence of death against Austin Cassidy, found guilty of the murder of Bert Marshall in Hull, Que., last fall, was quashed and set aside in a judgment handed down by Chief Justice Lafontaine in the Appeal Court to-day. The vote of the five judges stood three to two for a new trial.

In his resume of the case, Chief Justice Lafontaine recapitulated the grounds for appeal advanced by Cassidy's counsel when the case was heard. In the opinion of the court, appelant's allegation that much of the Crown evidence was prejudicial against his character was justified.

"The Gallery."

Special mention was made of the introduction of "The Gallery" at police headquarters in Ash's (a Crown witness) identification of Cassidy. The court upheld the appelant's plea that the use of this term in the Crown evidence was unnecessarily prejudicial to the accused's character.

Chief Justice Lafontaine also referred to sections of the Crown Prosecutor's address to the jury, to which the defense objected at the trial. The characterization of Cassidy as one who "hangs about in taverns, taking a drink here and there, and takes pleasure in showing his friends a loaded revolver which he carries" was also considered illegal by the Appeal Court.

BANNED CLASSICS ADMITTED TO U. S.

Books Dealing With Birth Control to Have Test in Federal District Court.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 13 (C.P.).—Five literary classics once tabooed by the United States have obtained official sufferance in this country under liberalization of censorship effected by the 1930 Tariff Act.

"The Arabian Nights," "The Memoirs of Cassanova," Rabelais' "Gargantua and Pantagruel," "The Decameron of Boccacio," and Apuleius' "The Golden Ass" have been recognized by the Treasury as classics, and admitted for importation. Under this decision, faithful and unexpurgated translations have a clean bill of health. Certain editions, as those containing illustrations deemed obscene, still may be excluded.

Soon the admissibility of books dealing with birth-control is to have a test in a New York Federal District Court. Marie Stopes' British viewpoint on "Married Love," is the point of contention, and the outcome will set a precedent.

Cheque Accepted As Full Payment Of Flood Damages

City of Peterborough Settles the B. F. Ackerman Company's Claim For Damages For $18,500 — Case Has Been in Courts Since 1928.

CITY WAS BEATEN TWICE IN THE COURTS LOSSES FIRST CLAIMED TO BE $34-000

City Must Build a New Bridge on Dalhousie Street as Soon as the High Water of the Spring Thaw Has Receded—Guard Against Further Flooding.

The B. F. Ackerman Company's claim against the City of Peterborough was settled to-day for $18,500.

A signed cheque carrying the five figures was presented to the Ackerman Company officials yesterday afternoon by the city and was accepted. At 2:50 this afternoon the Ackerman Company signed a document fully releasing the city from any further costs.

The claim arose from alleged damages caused the Ackerman Company in the Spring of 1928 when the Jackson Park creek flooded the company's premises.

Twice the action has been before the courts and both times a verdict was returned giving Ackerman's the full amount of their claim. In the Spring of 1929 Mr. Justice McEvoy gave judgment allowing the company their claim in full, $18,000. The city appealed this decision carrying the case to its second hearing before the First Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall. Early in February, this year, Chief Justice Sir William Mulock announced that the court had sustained Justice McEvoy's judgment.

Named as Referee

Judge E. C. S. Huycke was named referee to fix damages, and the city was ordered to pay Appeal Court costs.

Immediately that the Chief Justice announced his decision, the city embarked upon a strategic course in order to get a low settlement of the claim with Ackerman's. At an early meeting the Legal Committee of the City Council unanimously decided to appeal the case to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Later, negotiations were opened with the company with a view to getting a settlement. In the first interview the Ackerman's estimated their losses at $34,000, which included not only loss in goods but also loss of business due to inability to meet orders because of spoiled goods.

At another interview the Ackerman's expressed their willingness to sign a full settlement for $22,000. Still at a later time they reduced this again to $19,250. At this point the company officials remained adamant, and refused to consider any lower figure.

The Ackerman Company pointed out that besides the stated claim for $15,000 there was also another claim, the amount of which must be settled by the referee. His Honor Judge Huycke. This included items named under loss of business and was claimed to run into thousands. Also, they maintained, that the costs of the action were heavy and must be fully borne by the city.

AGNES DIGS UP HER OLD WORRY ON EXPENDITURES

Wants $1 Spent For Peace Purposes For Every $100 Spent on War.

WOODSWORTH HAS MOTION.

Coot Suggests Establishment of Nationally Owned Central Bank.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13 (C.P.).—Once again Miss Agnes MacPhail, Progressive member for South-East Grey, proposes to draw the attention of the House of Commons to expenditures made for war, and to advocate expenditures in peace.

On the order paper of the House of Commons notice is given of Miss MacPhail's motion, calling upon the House to declare that "for every one hundred dollars spent on war one dollar should be spent to promote peace by instituting international professorships and scholarships in leading Canadian Universities."

From the same corner of the Commons Chamber comes notice of a motion by J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg North Centre) that "It is desirable that Canada should have the right to amend her own constitution, but that in proceeding to make any amendment, scrupulous care should be taken to safeguard the rights of minorities.

G. G. Coote, U.F.A. member for MacLeod, asks the Commons to declare that there should be established in Canada a nationally owned central band, and W. T. Lucas, U.F.A., Camrose, advocates setting up a system of intermediate credits for agriculture.

TROUBLE LOOMS OVER DISMISSAL

Case of Woman Lighthouse Keeper to Come Before House of Commons.

MIXED-UP AFFAIR.

OTTAWA, Ont., Mar. 13.—(C.P.)—An echo of the incidents that took place last week at the Battery Point lighthouse in Lunenburg Harbor will be heard in the House of Commons when answers are given to a couple of questions in which William Duff (Lib. Antigonish-Guysborough) seeks information in connection with the matter. News despatches from Lunenburg a few days ago told of Mrs. Lilly B. Beisler, the lightkeeper, refusing to surrender her position to a new appointee, of the appointee throwing up the job before he had undertaker, it, and of another person being named to replace Mrs. Beisler.

The present status of this somewhat beclouded situation is being inquired into by Mr. Duff who asks who has now been apointed to that position. The Member demands to know on whose recommendation the appointment was made, if the new appointee is a returned soldier, and, if this person was not named by the Civil Service Commission, will steps be taken to ensure that the Commission act in the matter.

In another question Mr. Duff asks for production of all correspondence relative to complaints made respecting Mrs. Beisler's occupancy of the position and to her dismissal therefrom.

RULES LAID DOWN BY VATICAN FOR ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

No Opposition Be Shown if He Visits Palestine as Private Pilgrim.

IS J. P. MORGAN'S GUEST.

VATICAN CITY, March 13 (C.P.).—It was said unofficially to-day that the Vatican would not oppose the Archbishop of Canterbury's intended visit to the Holy Land if he made the visit privately as one of the many pilgims of every Christian faith who go to the Holy Land at Easter or other seasons.

It was repeated, however, that an official visit by the Archbishop could create a difficult situation, since it might establish a precedent which would permit its repetition indefinitely.

The Archbishop planned to be the guest of J. P. Morgan, on whose yacht he is cruising in the Mediterranean, at a visit to the holy sepulchre in Jerusalem, which is guarded by the Catholic Greek, Armenian and Copt religions. The Holy See had made representations to the British Government suggesting difficulties which might arise from such a visit.

Mumps Outbreak Sweeps Ottawa

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13. — (C.P.)—Ottawa is in the throes of the most serious outbreak of mumps in many years. A total of 1,070 cases have been reported to the Board of Health since the beginning of 1931.

In January there were 450 cases while in February 456 Ottawans were treated for the disease. From March 1 to 12, 164 cases were reported.

VEGETABLE GROWERS SUGGEST THAT ALL TRUCKERS BE LICENSED

NEED ADEQUATE TARIFF.

TORONTO, Ont., March 13.—(CP)—Owing to the operation of trucks, vegetable growers of Essex County are now practically deprived of their local market in Ontario, said E. J. Atkins, President of the South Essex Growers co-operative, before the Agriculture Committee of the Legislature.

The Co-operative Association had to ship its products to Northern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes. He urged some method of controlling the trucking business. Small truckers bought up inferior products, paid little attention to packing and flooded the local markets with cheap vegetables.

"The truckers should first of all be licensed," he said, "and some method of checking back to determine the origin of inferior products placed on the market evolved."

Former Belmont Council Re-nominated

THREE NEW MEN ARE IN RUNNING; PACKED MEETING

J. F. Breckenridge and W. E. Griffith Pitted Against Each Other for Council Leadership.

W. J. SEENEY WITHDRAWS.

Election Date Set For March 19th With Same D.R.O.'s to Act as Previously.

(Examiner Staff Reporter)

HAVELOCK, March. 13. — Snow-bound roads mean nothing to the ratepayers of Belmont-Methuen when a nomination meeting is in the offing, and the prospects are bright for a real scrap; such is the inference which may be drawn from the large crowd which packed Belmont Town Hall yesterday afternoon for the nomination proceedings.

Clerk Grant Dafoe who has been virtual head of the township since the Council disclaimed almost a month ago declared nominations closed at 2 p.m., when he announced that J. F. Breckenridge immediate past reeve and ex-Reeve W. E. Griffith, were again contesting the right to guide the destinies of the 1931 Township Council. The four former councillors, Messrs. Isaac Anderson, Norris Whitney, Christopher Steenburgh and Harry Vansickle were also re-nominated along with four other contestants, a fact which seems to point definately to another election. The other nominees were: Messrs. Joseph McNeeley, W. J. Seeney John H. Scott and Thomas Bannon. The latter was not present at the proceedings, but all the other nominees, with the exception of Mr. Seeney who withdrew, expressed their intentions of putting up a fight.

For Council—Isaac Anderson, proposed by W. J. Seeney, seconded by R. J. Peoples; C. F. Steenburgh, proposed by Geo. Barrons, seconded by William Ellis; Joseph McNeeley, proposed by James Mann, seconded by William Haughton; W. J. Seeney, proposed by William Anderson, seconded by Isaac Anderson; Norris Whitney, proposed by J. W. Ketchen seconded by William Anderson; John S. Scott, proposed by Robert McFall seconded by J. F. McMillan; Thomas Bannon, proposed by J. F. McMillan seconded by George Outwater, and Harry Vansickle, proposed by Wesley Johnston seconded by A. A. Wilde.

March 19th Is Election Date

The election date is set for March 19th, and according to Clerk Dafoe, the same D.R.O.'s will act as previously, while the appointment of poll clerks will be left to their own discretion. Candidates have till 9 p.m. to-day to qualify.

It will be recalled that Griffith, last year's Reeve, was defeated at the last municipal election by Breckenridge who polled but one vote more than his opponent, and that Griffith subsequently demanded a recount; the recount presided over by Judge E. C. S. Hiycke merely confirmed the original number of votes as declared by the Polling Clerk. At a later date proceedings were instituted under the Municipal Act by Frederick Fry, who made application through his solicitor W. F. Huycke of Peterborough to have the election declared null and void on the ground of certain irregularities, which were set forth in affidavits sworn out by

Gandhi is Writing New Press Series

BOMBAY, India, March 13. — (C.P.). — "How to do it" is the title of the first of a series of signed articles by Mahatma Gandhi in his newspaper, "Young India," to-day.

Gandhi urged meticulous respect for all laws and orders promulgated under the agreement between himself and Lord Irwin.

"If we are conscious of our strength and ability to resume civil disobedience whenever it becomes necessary we should find no difficulty in obeying even irksome orders."

MOUNTAIN MOVES VILLAGERS FLEE

Huge Landslide Engulfs Two Hamlets, Nears Third in Chambery District, France.

NO LIVES LOST.

CHAMBERY, France, March 13 (C.P.). — Government engineers to-day attempted to divert an enormous landslide which was bearing down upon the picturesque village of Le Chatelard at the rate of 500 feet an hour after engulfing Berges and Michaud.

The landslide, brought on by the excessive rainfalls in the past few weeks, broke loose from the hillside with a loud rumbling and crashing, and moved downward with an area of about 100 acres. Its volume was estimated at 200,000,000 cubic feet.

The engineers evacuated the 123 inhabitants of Le Chatelard, which is well known to tourists who visit Aix-les-Bains. There were no casualties in either Berges or Michaud.

Another slide of about 1,000,000 cubic feet volume, blocked a road near Moutiers-Tarantaise.

The residents of the hillside, warned of the approaching slide, drove off their cattle and pets and left their homes. Twelve houses composing the hamlet of Michaud were swallowed in the moving mass. Giant walnut trees, for which the region was famous, toppled over and were engulfed along with barns and dwellings.

Engineers believed they would be able to divert the movement to a mountain torrent whose bed probably will absorb some of the moving matter. It was expected to-night to blow up the bridge at Granges in an effort to split the flow in two.

Arabs Being Urged To Boycott Jews

JERUSALEM, Mar. 13.— (C.P.)— Jamel Husseinin, secretary of the Arab Executive, to-day issued a proclamation calling upon Arabs to continue their boycott of the Jews in Palestine.

His notice urged the people to carry on "without noise or threats" and further enjoined merchants not to employ the boycott for private gains.

A local Arab newspaper to-day urged leaders to follow Gandhi's example and discard foreign made clothing, 'thus showing the true spirit of Nationalism which the people will follow."

BUDGET RESULT WILL BE BOOST IN LIQUOR PRICES

Control Board Ordered to Adjust Profits to Make Up Extra $2,500,000.

DUNLOP'S FIRST BUDGET.

Deficit Expected to Act as Red Flag Gaining Much Criticism From Opposition.

TORONTO, Ont., March 12 (C.P.) —Despite increases in returns from the Liquor Control Board and a new corporation tax, the Province of Ontario faces a deficit of $2,670,000 in the present fiscal year. Hon. E. A. Dunlop, Provincial Treasurer, yesterday presented his budget to the Legislature and announced his financial program for the year. It was Mr. Dunlop's first budget and in the ensuing debeate it is certain to meet with much criticism from the opposition.

A deficit is always a red rag to an opposition, and the estimated shortage in 1930-31 follows a deficit of $464,000 in 1929-30. This, together with the increased profit to be demanded from the sale of liquor will make an opposition tinged with prohibitionist sentiment throw itself into the debate with a will.

Tweed to Be Active

The chief financial critic among the Liberals will be S. C. Tweed (Lib., North Waterloo), and he will be the first speaker when the debate begins on Tuesday.

The Government, Mr. Dunlop stated yesterday, was continuing its debt-retirement program. It felt it better to carry a deficit than permit any interruption in that scheme. The new Corporation Tax will impose a levy of one-tenth of one per cent on the capital of all companies now operating in Ontario apart from those which already come under the Corporation Tax Act.

The Liquor Control Board has instructions to adjust its prices in such a way as to produce an added profit of $2,500,000. This means an increase in prices, but the Treasurer said Ontario liquor prices were now lower than in any other Province.

BRITISH EXHIBIT IN BUENOS AIRES READY TO OPEN

Is Greatest Trade Show Britain Ever Staged Outside Empire.

Prince of Wales Officiates.

Object is to Gain Back Great Argentian Trade Lost to U.S. During War.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, March 13 (C.P.).—The Prince of Wales will throw open here to-morrow the greatest British trade show ever held outside the Empire, climaxing Great Britain's effort to recapture first place in Argentina's foreign trade. The finishing touches were put today to the exhibition in preparation for to-morrow's inaugural.

Twenty million dollars worth of British-made goods have been assembled in Palermo—a display calculated to win back to Britain the Argentine trade supremacy which was always hers until the United States wrested it away during the Great War.

The exposition, the visit of Wales and Prince George, the presence of British warships and war planes mark the crescendo of Britain's trade attack, after careful inquiry into why it lost to the United States the affections of Argentina's buyers of wares.

Pact Proposed 2 Years Ago.

Two years ago the D'Abernon mission visited Argentina and proposed a pact under which Argentina's credits for the meat and grain it sends to Great Britain would be used in the purchase of British manufactures.

No agreement resulted, but the mission planted the slogan: "Buy from those who buy from us." It was taken up by the Argentine Rural Society and by others who see what business the new United States tariff law injured.

The Argentine Government has befriended the British exposition by admitting duty-free all exhibits which are not to be sold here. The British automobile trade, which sells but one car in Argentina to every 200 of United States make, is particularly well represented. Many other British firms have sent exhibits, and will maintain branch offices here after the show ends.

The British Government transported some of the exhibits in its own warships and has erected one of the largest pavilions on the exposition grounds.

RELIEF AID SEEN IN DOUBLE SHIFT

B. C. Conservative Advocates an Agreement Between Canada and U. S.

URGES 5 HOUR DAY.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 13 (C.P.) —Speaking in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday, Col. Nelson Spencer, Conservative, Vancouver, advocated an international agreement between Canada and the United States to provide double shifts in all public works, building trades, department and chain stores, and some other industries not competing in world markets; the speaker said his suggestion was offered as a permanent and immediate solution of the unemployment question.

Col. Spencer estimated that 10,000,000 persons were unemployed on this continent and said there was little hope of them getting work until action was taken to bring in a five or six-hour day, and so split up the jobs available for men and women.

Double shifts in the public works of Canada alone, he said, would absorb 100,000 unemployed within 30 days.

Sun Baths No Use In the Plant Life

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 13. —(CP)—Sun baths are fine for men and monkeys, but plants can get along without them.

The Museum of Science and Industry says the ultra-violet rays in sunshine, beneficial to mankind and animals, have no determinable effect on the plant world. Plants given real sun bath treatment appeared exactly the same as those grown under ordinary green house glass, which cuts off ultra-violet rays.

NEW REVOLUTION THREATENS PERU

Southern Chiefs Issue Warning Stating Jimenez Must Resign.

REQUEST IMPOSSIBLE.

BUENOS AIRES, March 13 (C. P.). — A Lima despatch to La Nacion to-day said that military chiefs of Southern Peru had threatened to start a new revolution if Lieutenant-Colonel Gustavo Jimenez does not resign as Secretary of War in the new Government Junta.

The despatch quoted an official communique which said that the southern military group were urging Jimenez to leave office, and offering the alternative of further revolt if their demand is not granted.

The new provisional President, David Samanez Ocampo, in the communique declared that the new Junta was indissoluble and that the War Minister, Jimenez, had been elected by consent of the majority of the army chiefs. It was the counter revolution led by Jimenez which overthrew a few days ago the provisional government of Dr. Ricardo Leoncio Elias, which in turn a few days before had upset the Sanchez Cerro revolutionary regime.

Regular Meeting Of Knox Church W.M.S.

The W.M.S. of Knox United Church held its March meeting on Thursday afternoon last, at the home of Mrs. McDonald, King street. The president presided and the usual program of devotional period, business and missionary study was followed. Several ladies offered their homes for the entertainment of delegates to the annual branch meeting to be held in the near future. A birthday tea at the home of one of the charter members was planned to help raise the allocation and two splendid papers on temperance and one on the study book were very helpful and instructive. A delightful solo by Mrs. E. Johnston was much enjoyed and after the benediction, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and all joined in a pleasant half hour of social fellowship.

QUINTE SEED ASSOCIATION ARE GUESTS OF LOCAL KIWANIS CLUB

John Buchanan as Speaker of Evening Explains Work of O.A.C.

BENEFITS TO AGRICULTURE.

Members of the Quinte Seed Growers' Association, who are gathered here to attend the fifth annual Quinte District Seed Fair, were the guests of the local Kiwanis Club last evening at a dinner in the Empress Hotel.

In explaining the wide-spread work of the Ontario Agricultural College and its benefits to Agriculture, John Buchanan, director of Extension of O.A.C., who was the chief speaker, declared that the college was endeavoring to bridge the gap between the townspeople and the farmers. In his address he answered the criticism levelled at the college from some quarters because of greatly increased expenditure in connection with the institution. He justified the expense because the college was aiding immeasureably in assisting and developing agriculture, in training agricultural leaders and establishing a fine type of farm life.

At the college, declared Mr. Buchanan, a fair balance of practical, scientific and cultural training. He went rather fully into the various departments recounting briefly their purposes and achievements. He pointed out that some of the developments and findings at the college had in themselves been more than sufficient to repay the expense of the college in the contributions they had made to agriculture in the province and the dominion.

"The farmer of the district is the measure of the size of your business of the future," A. J. Mooney, managing director of the first World's Grain Show and Exhibition to be held in Regina in 1932, told business men who were attending the dinner. Mr. Mooney has just completed a tour of Europe in the interests of the World's Grain Show.

He stated that the farmers were in a receptive mood now and understood that they must take advantage of scientific methods in renewing the prosperity of agriculture. Work in ths direction had especially followed the channel of improving seeds and entries had greatly increased at all seed fairs.

The great snow storm had unfortunately kept the attendance of the local fair down, explained C. H. Ketcheson, of Belleville, president of the Quinte Seed Growers' Association. But he explained the value of the snow to the farmers was well worth any inconvenience it had caused the fair. He emphasized the great strides that had been made in this district in the growing of good seed.

Charles D. Cook was chairman of the meeting and J. B. Nelson, local Agricultural Representative and chairman of the agricultural committee of the Kiwanis Club, assisted him.

Other speakers were Colonel Vanderwater, of Foxboro, T. G. Raynor, of the Dominion Seed Branch, Ottawa, and Dr. J. J. Craig.

THREE NEW MEN

various ratepayers in the township. His Honor issued a fiat for the motion to be herd before him on February 25th last, but in the meantime the council disclaimed in a body, on the advice of their solicitor F. D. Kerr, K.C., "to avoid unnecessary expenses of a protracted court trial."

At the close of the official nomination proceedings, Grant Dafoe declared that following usual custom the meeting would be thrown open to discussion. He was appointed chairman on the motion of A. A. Wilde and called upon ex-Reeve Breckenridge to give an account of his stewardship during his six weeks term at the head of the council.

A hushed expectancy fell upon the large crowd; the more fortunate who occupied seats settling down to enjoy the promised encounter in comfort, while those standing at the rear of the hall craned eagerly forward, anxious to catch every word. They were not disappointed, although on the whole the meeting was most orderly and well-conducted. Strained relations between ex-Reeve Breckenridge and Griffith who attacked and counter-attacked in short fiery speeches of criticism were relieved when Mr. Seeney occupied the platform. He expressed his surprise at being nominated, remarking, "now that I am here, I suppose I am expected to make a speech or preach a sermon. He proceeded to tell a humorous story, not without its moral, adding that he still failed to see what all the trouble was about. He eventually produced a copy of the Havelock Standard and laboriously reading through the list of alleged irregularities, stated, "I don't see that I have any chance of winning out if I did stand for election. There is absolutely nothing against the old council, worth talking about, and I am out of it."

Outlines Reason

Mr. Breckenridge the first speaker, outlined the reason that the new election had been made necessary, adding that they were only in office for a matter of six weeks and had not had time to transact a great deal of business. They had however, got the accounts passed and had received from the Government the sum of $.160. That money came down on February 15th, and was placed to the account of the municipality to reduce the loan. In doing this the ratepayers were saved $1.30 per day interest charges.

First to Get Subsidy

"We did our best to get our accounts away in time and can boast of being the first township in the county to get the Government subsidy."

Referring to the question of the road superintendent, the speaker stated that along with Councillors Whitney and Anderson he had interviewed the engineer at Peterborough, when they were advised that the best thing to do was to ask for the resignation of G. W. Steenburgh. This was done, but Steenburgh did not relinquish the position. A resolution was then passed by the council again calling for his resignation, with the Highways Department in full accord.

Metal Culvert Deal

He also spoke of the culvert deal, producing a letter from R. C. Muir, chief engineer of the Department of Highways who had made an investigation concerning the purchase of pipe culverts by the township from the Metallic Culvert Company. A resolution was passed, dealing with the matter, last October, and nothing more could be done, although Mr. Breckenridge explained he made arrangements with one of the company's travellers who was in Peterborough, whereby the township will benefit by an 8 to 10 per cent. reduction in the prices for 1931 over those of last year.

Reverting again to the appointment of a road superintendent, the speaker exclaimed there has been a great deal of talk as to who is going to get the appointment. The only request I made to the Council was that whoever is chosen, shall be so chosen on his merits, and that the Council be unanimous on the matter. If the new road superintendent wants to keep his job he will have to stay on it for ten hours a day, for each day that he draws pay, otherwise I shall fire him also."

"I expect to be a candidate for the Reeveship for the balance of the year," he exclaimed, and before taking his seat asked the chairman's permission to reply to his opponent.

Griffith Replies

"Mr. Breckenridge started in again with the question of the superintendent" said Mr. Griffith, "and seems to take some credit for his dismissal. I remember his saying on a previous occasion that the Government would take the first steps in the matter. The Council merely followed the procedure I had outlined." He charged that Mr. Breckenridge had not carried the same banner into all parts of the township during his election campaign, and that if he had he would not have been elected to the Reeveship. "I told you people where I stood and carried the same banner from one end of the township to the other" he observed.

"Were you not a great Steenburgh man about a year ago" shouted Geo. Barrons from somewhere near the rear of the hall.

"Yes, I said I was," retored Mr. Griffith.

"Well you changed your mind very quickly. Are you sure you did not change your mind before the election" persisted the questioner.

"Quite sure" was Mr. Griffith's reply, which was greeted with shouts of "Sit down."

"Mr. Steenburgh would not do as the Council wanted. That is the reason for the friction. I have nothing against him personally" said Mr. Griffiths. "I claim Mr. Steenburgh was not the right man for the position and I claim so now, and have the Council to back me up. I have not changed."

Referring to the Government subsidy the speaker thought that the old council of which he was reeve deserved a great deal of the credit. They were unable to get the money last year, he explained on account of the fact that the engineer did not inspect the road the year previously.

The speaker did, he admitted, cause a recount to be brought on, but there was no further talk of a protest following that. The next move came from the other side, he said, from Mr. Fry who is sitting right here to-day and who had been charged with having tried to sneak out. I could name forty men, the speaker went on, many of whom are here to-day who called at my home and asked me to lodge a protest, but I have not put up one five cent piece for it. Why did the Council all jump out so quickly? It was to try to make believe they were heroes and that they were saving the municipality some money. I tell you if the Council had stood their ground and had come out on top they would not have paid the costs of the proceedings; Mr. Fry would have faced them, and had the result of the proceedings been otherwise the Judge would have fixed the costs on the persons responsible for the mistakes.

At a later juncture, Mr. Griffith averred that he had never tried to mislead the ratepayers. I am not a quitter and if there is to be an election for councillors they shall not run alone.

Mr. Breckenridge, replying to the previous speaker said he had never asked Steenburgh to do anything for him, and had not changed his colors when in Steenburgh's corner of the township; on the contrary he said he had found the most opposition to Steenburgh right in his own district. Griffith, he said has spoken of conferences held at the Armstrong Hotel, but he never referred to the stories which have emanated in Joyce's store, to the effect that "Breckenridge did not have property in Belmont and could not qualify." He added, Joseph Johnson is credited with passing those remarks. (Mr. Johnson from audience: "I never said anything about it"). Proceeding the speaker said, "Well it was told that my mother owned the property and that I did not own anything. I will give any man in the township a list of my property. (Mr. Fry from audience: "I have a list of it all"). "Well, I can qualify can't I." asked Breckenridge. "I think you can," replied Mr. Fry.

Mr. Steenburgh, the next speaker, criticising the action of Mr. Fry said he tells us he did not have anything against the council, but yet he entered a protest—and the costs would have to go somewhere. What was the trouble. There was a soreness somewhere, and the speaker contended if the costs were to have devolved upon the D.R.O.'s that would not have been at all fair, as he thought they had all done their duty to the best of their ability. The coming election he said, will cost the township $150.00. He asked if it would not have been better to have spent the money on the roads, saying that for every $20.00 put up by the township for roads the Government put up the other $80.00. (Mr. Fry, interrupting: "You do not get $80.00 for every $20.00. The Government puts up $80.00 for every $100.00"). What is the use of bringing this expense on the municipality? When Mr. Fry said he had no fault to find with the Council, he may have meant it, but it is Breckenridge he is after. Are we going to stand for this kind of thing. How long do you think it will take for Mr. Fry to pay the amount back to the township. (Chorus of voices: How Long?) Just thirty years, he replied. I have a statement of the taxes paid to the township both by Griffith and Fry. I have stood by the township and have never let grudges interfere, and he said, pointing to the nominees, if these boys want to run, I will resign, and let them come in to save the township money.

Messrs. Vansickle, Anderson, Whitney, McNeeley and Scott also briefly addressed the electors.

Turkey Is Alarmed Over Bubonic Plague

ANGORA, Turkey Mar. 13.—(C.P.)—Considerable alarm is felt in official circles here at the possibility of spread of bubonic plague in Turkey from Georgia, Southern Russia, where an epidemic is raging.

The frontier has been ordered closed by the Government to persons coming from Russia and goods will be received only at the port of Rizeh, on the Black Sea. All persons will be stoped at the frontier by Turkish immigration officials, will be vaccinated and then detained five days.

The provinces of Artvin and Kars in the Georgian Republic, were known to be especially hard hit by the disease.

BROADCASTING THE OPENING.

There were several outstanding features in connection with the opening of Parliament yesterday.

In the first place, for the first time in the history of Canada the Speech from the Throne was delivered by a Canadian, Mr. Justice Duff acting as administrator in the absence of the Governor-General.

And then it was delivered to the largest audience which ever heard Canada's Parliament opened, thanks to a radio broadcast which utilized a hook-up of twenty-eight stations across Canada, and which, through the medium of the National Broadcasting Company, described the ceremonies and carried the Speech to thousands of United States radio enthusiasts.

This broadcast is something that might well be repeated on other similar occasions, for it must be obvious that a greater interest in national affairs will follow.

Whether or not it would be feasible to utilize the radio for the broadcasting of important speeches during the parliamentary session, The Examiner is not prepared to say, but there is no doubt that such broadcasts would become increasingly popular and increasingly valuable as an educative feature.

THE SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

While the Speech from the Throne at the opening of Canada's Parliament yesterday lacked definiteness as regards details, it was an improvement over recent similar speeches, inasmuch as it gave at least some inkling of the legislation that is to be expected during the session.

It revealed the fact that a bill to create a tariff board will be brought down.

It relieved the situation in regard to radio broadcasting by the announcement that radio legislation will be postponed until the opinion of the courts as to the respective jurisdictions of the Dominion and the Provinces has been secured.

It indicated that some progress would be made with respect to old age pensions, and federal aid to agriculture, technical education and the construction of a national highway, although the reference to these matters conveyed the impression that economic conditions might slow up complete action.

It announced that there would be a tariff revision, with the British schedule as little changed as possible in view of the Imperial Conference to be held at Ottawa.

The Throne Speech also conveyed the information that estimates are being cut down, that the Government is prepared to give further assistance in the marketing of Canadian wheat, and that a provincial conference will be held in April to consider resolutions arising out of the Imperial Conference.

Altogether there was enough material to justify the prediction that the present session is likely to be one of the most fruitful as well as one of the most interesting in the history of Canada's Parliament.

THE PROVINCIAL BUDGET.

The era of balanced budgets in Ontario would seem to be, for the present at least, gone.

Hon. E. A. Dunlop, Provincial Treasurer, bringing down his first budget in the Legislature, not only had to report a substantial deficit for the year 1929-30 but was forced to predict a much greater one for 1930-31.

The actual deficit for the last fiscal year was larger than the pre-sessional estimate indicated, being $646,000 as against the $625,000 predicted some months ago.

For the current fiscal year Hon. Mr. Dunlop could see nothing more favorable than an approximate deficit of $2,670,000, and this, too, in spite of his prophesy of greater revenue during 1930-31.

Evidently the Ontario Government has not yet adopted the idea of cutting expenditures until it hurts, for the Treasurer told the House that the expected gain in revenue, which includes a $2,500,000 increase in liquor profits, will be more than wiped out by heavier expenditures.

Under the circumstances, no measure of taxation relief could be looked for and none has been provided.

The estimated ordinary expenditure for the year is $62,655,000, as compared with $57,989,352.61 last year, while ordinary receipts are estimated at $59,850,000, as against $57,343,291.21 in 1929-30.

In other words, if the Government had been able to keep its expenditures down to last year's total the larger receipts this year would have virtually balanced the budget, but, unfortunately, the administration is planning larger expenditures, notably in education and highways, and the result will be a larger deficit.

It is pointed out, of course, that the deficit expected practically equals Ontario's share of the cost of old age pensions, and that had the Province remained aloof from the pensions scheme the accounts would have balanced.

The majority of Ontario people, however, favor relief for the aged who need it, and are not inclined to quarrel with expenditures in that direction; their chief complaint will be that the Government, in the face of the heavy burden of taxation with which the public is laden, has shown little inclination to cut down other expenditures where a saving might be possible.

LAW MAKERS AND THEIR TASKS.

The chaplain of the New York Legislature, in offering prayer before the assembly recently said: "Give us, O Lord, wise laws, and fewer of them." He was giving expression to a widespread feeling that modern democratic trends, in America especially, have resulted in too great a multiplicity of statutes, people being under the impression that the only way to deal with any problem is to "pass a law" about it, whether the law be practicable and enforceable or not. This feeling is particularly apparent in Canada at this time when Parliament and the Legislatures have convened. The Government, which promises a short session, with a minimum of new legislation, is likely to gain popular favor by so doing.

There may be a good deal of truth in the notion that there is too much legislation, though it must not be forgotten that the many complications of modern development have resulted in the necessity for legislation in fields which did not formerly require regulation. The automobile, the radio, and many other phases of industrial and commercial growth, especially in the matter of stock flotations and sales, are instances of activities that have required of late much more legal regulation than was at one time necessary for the protection of the public.

At this time of economic crisis the people are looking to their legislators to do everything in their power to alleviate the distress. This end will certainly not be gained by the multiplicity of legislation, though some new laws and the revision of existing ones may be in order. The greatest hope, though it must be admitted that its realization still seems remote, is that party interests may be regarded as secondary to the public good. This does not mean that Oppositions should allow everything to pass unchallenged, or that Governments should accede to every demand. But until government by debate is superseded by government by conference, until all factions unite in the interest of the people as a whole, the true ends of democratic administration will not be realized.—Brantford Expositor.

AMERICANS AND INDIA.

—In The London Times British authorities are called sharply to account for mismanaging their publicity in the course of the negotiations between Gandhi and Viceroy Irwin. The Government observed a frigid silence toward the press, and the reporters were compelled to go for their "news" to Gandhist sources. The Times editorial does not even intend to suggest that the newspaper correspondents swallowed the Gandhist "dope," far less than they put it on the wires for the world to read. But if that was the case, if the newspaper men remained uncontaminated, it is hard to see why there should have followed these deplorable consequences:

> If large numbers of readers in the United States have been watching the progress of the negotiations through the Congress spectacles, the Government of India has itself only to blame.

Of larger importance than any lapse in this argument is it to find this great English newspaper apparently subscribing to a popular but fallacious doctrine about public opinion and propaganda. It asserts that large bodies of men in their thinking are always the victims of the first slick press agent that comes along. By this theory popular sympathy on any issue of public moment is the prize of the party that can manage to get hold of the telegraph wires a couple of hours ahead of the other party. This is gross exaggeration. That the propagandist has his small part in shaping public opinion may be granted. That public opinion has been sometimes misled for a brief time—more often it is hours rather than days—by manipulation of the news channels is also true. But that the sustained opinion of large bodies of men on an issue that has been long before them is the product of trickery is not true.

What is more natural than that large numbers of American readers should have followed the progress of events in India with sympathy for the Nationalist cause? Americans are human; that is to say, in the face of any engrossing contest, race, duel, they are bound to take sides. It is not unnatural for Americans to watch with interest a people struggling for self-government. As a matter of fact, most Americans have seen the movement in India through what Gandhist extremists might describe as British spectacles. This is the important body of American opinion which holds that India's own interests demand a gradual working out of her national aspirations. These American spectators want to see India and England solving a tremendously difficult problem through mutual goodwill and forbearance. They have read, for themselves or through their newspapers, the Simon Report, which is not an anti-British document. They have followed the proceedings at the London round-table conference. They are unquestionably more important than those Americans who look through Gandhist spectacles. American newspapers in the overwhelming majority are easily as favorable to the British case as to the Nationalist case.

If American opinion on India were the product solely of the propagandists we should find Americans taking their opinions from the Nationalist emissaries to this country or from bitterly anti-Nationalist books. But as a matter of fact predominant American opinion is with neither. Our people have thought and felt about India as people always do in accordance with their own traditions, their basic sympathies, and their native common sense. The last-named element is one that the propagandist theory of human action steadily refuses to take into consideration.—New York Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

They should have saved that broadcast from Ottawa for a blow-by-blow description of the proceedings later on in the session.

One record has already been created by the present federal session. For the first time in history Parliament was opened by a Canadian.

Ontario's new Provincial Treasurer had to predict a deficit for the current year—not the most pleasant task for a new finance minister.

The Appeal Court has justified the opinion expressed by The Examiner that the sentence originally passed in the Matthews case was inadequate.

Mr. Dunlop's budget speech mentioned greater expenditures on highways, but failed to state whether or not Highway No. 7, east of Peterborough, would be proceeded with this year.

The Conservative and Labor parties in the Legislature piled up a vote of 81 against the principle of a referendum or plebiscite on the liquor question, the "1" being contributed by Labor.

The Red-Headed Goddess

By

ALICE ROSS COLVER

As Hawkins disappeared with the message for the waiting telegraph boy, Kent spoke to Miss Conant crisply:

"Now, then, Miss Conant, time is precious, and a life hangs in the balance of moments. Many lives, to be exact, but only Lorraine's means anything to me. She is in the hands of rebellious savages, who threaten an uprising and open warfare against all whites. Never mind. This telegram from an Indian named Silver Tongue invites me to be present at the very place and at the very time where I know they are planning to start war." His voice turned brittle, and his closed fist came down quietly on the mahogany desk. "If they want war, they'll have war. But not quite as they anticipate. Take this day-letter to the Secretary of the Interior."

He commenced dictating rapidly, never having to search for a word, and with the whole situation at the command of his tongue, aware that the entire matter rested in his hands and in his hands alone. Not one single member of the large force he had gathered about to aid in the search for Lorraine was of any help now. Not a detective, policeman, doctor, or psychiatrist could help him. It was so truly, as Potter had said, "up to him." And while he talked his mind was working like lightning, leaping ahead of every action, foreseeing every move, every possible obstacle. With one eye on his watch, and his hand on his bell, he summoned Hawkins again, gave him clear orders to call Stephen Moore and bid him appear at once, gave him also brief, detailed directions as to the immediate packing of his own clothes, and then picked up the broken threads of his message to Washington. In a few minutes he was done.

"Get that off at once, Miss Conant, please, and then come back here to me. I'll leave you orders to carry out in my absence. I want a message to go twice daily to the Secretary of War."

When she had gone he dropped in his chair for the only brief period of solitude he was to have that day. His brain was humming with all the details of matters he must attend to, but it moved with the precision of a well oiled machine, because of his great happiness. Lorraine was alive. Lorraine was alive, even though she was in grave danger. Dirk was presumably dead, but Lorraine was alive. Lorraine was safe—if he could get avtion from Washington.

He had a little less than two weeks in which to stir the two Secretaries who must authorize the calling out of troops. It wasn't much time, but the Secretary of the Interior was a personal friend. Kent could count on his taking the matter up at once, and in person, with the Secretary of War. With that push there, and his personal telegrams pelting the Department of War from this end, he was at the end of his resources. How long it would take orders to go out from the Department of War to the nearest army post in the desert, and get armed troops transferred two hundred miles across the desert to the scene of the Mountain Chant, was a matter for wild conjecture and—deep prayer. The Senator's eyes closed, and his hands tightly clasped, when Stephen Moore came in, not waiting to be announced.

"Mr. Kent! Hawkins told me!" Both young, strong hands reached for the older man's and held them in a fight grip. "I'm with you, wherever you want to go, whatever you want to do. Dirk—What about Dirk, sir? Is he with Lorraine?"

"Thanks, Moore. I knew I could count on you." But here Kent paused, finding it impossible to speak of his fears for Dirk to his best friend. Evading the dark, intense look on Steve's face, he silently handed over the two telegrams that had come to him, hoping the boy might not interpret them as he had. But Stephen's eyes were hard with repressed motion when he met Kent's regard.

"Looks bad for Dirk," he said briefly.

"We'll find out, Stephen."

"Yes. What's your plan?"

Moore stood erect and silent while Kent outlined it, and explained what he had already done. He wished to fly as soon as possible—at once—to Phoenix. If Moore had friends he wanted to take, and there was room, so much the better.

"We want all the young fighting men on this expedition we can get. We may have to be the United States army. I don't know what we're in for, but it's sure to be hot."

Moore nodded.

"Two chaps will go with us. Dirk's friends, too. Vincent Minor and Jack Ashton. There's only room for four in my plane. Shall we go armed?"

"Yes. But we can outfit at Phoenix. I don't know whether we'll fly from there or go by car. Potter will tell us. How soon can you be ready?"

"In an hour, Senator. Will you drive to the field?"

"Right. Thanks, boy."

The two men gripped hands, then, with a salute, Moore wheeled and strode from the room. Kent stood moment after he had gone. His eyes were closed again and his lips moved silently. Suddenly he spoke aloud:

"Two weeks! Will Washington meet this situation? Has she ever been known to act on Indian affairs in two weeks time? If not—if not—" He stiffened and squared his shoulders. "How much of an untrained army can I myself lead to save Lorraine? My little Lorraine!"

CHAPTER XIV

RED JIM AGAIN.

Red Jim stood in the door of his shack smoking his pipe and watching the hunchback Chinaman shuffling about in the bare, trampled yard before him. He was apparently very busy, but quite as apparently accomplishing nothing, and the monotonous little singsong he kept up suddenly irritated the man observing him.

"You can do nothing better than anybody I ever knew," he said. "Stop that idiotic pattering around! Drop that board! You've picked it up five times! Don't move that shovel again! If you step on that cat's tail once more, I'll shoot you! When in the hell are you going to feed the chickens, anyway?"

"All lite." Chin Lee looked at his master, undisturbed, and slapped his loose slippers in his shuffling run to the cattle shed. In a moment he emerged with a battered pail, which he dumped on the ground before him. Instantly the listless chickens came to life and flew in a scrambling way to the feet of the hunchback, where they fought for the bits of garbage with more fury than they looked to possess.

Red Jim watched him silently. Chin Lee cast an inquiringly hopeful grin towards his master, whose face did not lift. So, sighing, he returned to the shed and came out a moment later with a feed bag which he slipped over the nose of the patient horse. It swung sagging. The horse made a few feeble attempts to toss it higher, gave it up and lowered his head hopelessly, swaying on his widely spread feet.

"Anything in that bag?" Red Jim roared.

Chin Lee nodded.

"Glain there all lite. Horse too damn lazy."

"You fool." Red Jim strode out to the dejected animal, whose bag hung too low and adjusted it properly. "As long as he's a horse you've got to treat him like one. It won't be for long. And as long as you're a fool, I've got to treat you like one," he concluded, and he raised his foot to kick his servant, but, squealing, Chin Lee hopped with surprising agility out of the way.

"You haven't as much sense as an Indian," Red Jim glowered threateningly at the monkey-like figure before him.

"Lindian clome see Jim again soon—mebbe?" queried Chin Lee, always ready to talk, and more than ready to turn the subject from his own shortcomings.

"Who? Silver Tongue?" The wrath of the white man vanished quickly. "I suppose so—when he finds the white girl and her man." Red Jim chuckled. "He'll find 'em, too, if anybody does. He wants my devil box. I wonder if he'll bring them here? Chin Lee," he ordered on a sudden thought, "get my big field glasses. I'll take a look around the horizon."

Chin Lee trotted off, and Red Jim walked slowly out on to the sand, thinking. It had been two days since the Indian had been there. If he had found the airplane victims at all, he would have found them by now. And if they were alive, what would he do with them? It was a baffling question with which to juggle. Would he take them to his tribe, who lived yonder in a canyon, and leave them there while he returned to Jim, to request the devil box to tell him where to take them, and how he could get the money? Or would he find out directly from them and send a telegram on his own initiative to the white girl's father? The latter seemed more probable, for Silver Tongue was no fool. Likely he would not appear at this shack again until he had the money in his clothes with which to buy the cherished devil box. But what would he do with the girl and boy while he was taking the long journey to Winslow, the nearest point of communication with civilization?

Of course it would depend on their condition. If they were banged up by their descent, or half starved and weak and sick, he would have to leave them; and it seemed more than probable that they would not be able to make a three day's journey on horseback after wandering lost in the desert for ten days. But if he left them with his own people—

Red Jim's train of thought was interrupted by Chin Lee's pattering approach. He took the glasses silently and stared meditatively down at them. Chin Lee hovered safely at a distance, consumed with curiosity.

What was the master going to do now? What was he looking for? What was he thinking? Oblivious of the ill-concealed impatience of the Chinaman, Red Jim pursueld his logical deductions.

If Silver Tongue left the couple with his own people, what would happen? He knew well enough of the dissatisfaction that had been stirring the Navajos to rebellious threats for the last year or so. Would they welcome the appearance of these hated whites? Would Silver Tongue return from his journey to Winslow to find that the Indians had already taken revenge on the people nearest at hand? Would he trust his kind? Or would he refuse to risk the loss of such a large sum of money as was promised—the loss of the coveted magic devil box—and would he choose the lesser of the tot evils, and trust Red Jim instead? Silver Tongue would know that his prizes would be safely cared for here, but would he think Red Jim might try to return them to civilization himself, and thus not only keep his devil box for himself but get the reward, too? If there was one thing education and civilization had taught the red man, it was to be suspicious always of trickery from the white. The big hermit grinned and then laughed aloud as he pictured Silver Tongue writhing silently on the horns of this dilemma.

"I think, Silver Tongue, you would come to me," he said at last to himself. "You could revenge yourself on me, if I double crossed you, but you could never revenge yourself on your own people. You would bring the girl and boy here, if you could get them here. If not, you would ride to me and ask me to get them in my Ford. You don't like me, Silver Tongue, and you don't trust me. But you would do that. Yes, I'll stack my horse against yours, that you're on the way now." He lifted the glasses, chuckling. "I've nothing to lose, if I lose!" he said aloud.

"Eh?" Chin Lee ventured, approaching.

"Be off with you!" roared Red Jim. "Get to work! You let me live like a savage! Clean up this place! There are white people coming. Sweep out my house!"

"How you know?" demanded Chin Lee not moving. You see white flokes in glasses?"

But Red Jim made no answer. He was examinging the distant heavens slowly, searching with care and patience for a sign of an approach. Was that clouds of dut kicked up by a horse? Or was it only a whirl made by a gust of wind? Was that distant dark speck moving, or was it——

He gripped the glasses and stared for a long moment without stirring. Chin Lee slipped with caution close up under his master's arm, trying to follow with his bare eyes to the far off place that held Red Jim's attention. At last Jim lowered the glasses and spoke.

Voice of the People

THE WORLD CRISIS

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir:

In view of articles appearing in your excellent journal on the present world crisis, I would like to quote, for the benefit of your readers, the following editorial from one of the great American magazines:

"Five of the ablest senators who place first the interests of the wage earners, farmers and consumers generally...state correctly that in the midst of depression the nation is without effective economic leadership. In spite of months of misery in the industrial centres and on the farms there is lack of any proposal for the solution of one of the greatest economic crisis ever confronting the nation.

The same thing applies to the whole world. There is only one country in the whole world even pretending to have discovered a way out and that is Russia. Whether or not she has found the way out time alone will tell. There is a strange calm in the world as if there was a storm coming. If our present system is a good one why is it so perfectly helpless in the face of unemployment? Forcing workers to earn their relief is a poor substitute for the real thing—employment.

Observer.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear sir:

I trust I am not encroaching upon too much of your valuable space in replying to Mr. W. H. Howard's letter of the 5th.

Mr. Howard states that the employee pays 3 pence (six cents) and the employer pays 4 pence (8 cents) in unemployment insurance each week. That only applies to employed persons between the ages of 16 and 18. Above that age the rate is higher.

This gentleman also states that I do not realize that the population is the size it is. In view of the fact that until recently I spent the last twenty years in various parts of England, Ireland and Wales. Yes and London too, and I doubt very much whether the population of London is larger than that of the whole Dominion.

In contradiction to Mr. Howard's statement that an unemployed person forfeits his benefits by failing to report to the bureau that is not correct he only forfeits that day's benefits if he has been working that day and provided his card is stamped for that day's work he will draw the five days' balance of benefits.

I would like Mr. Howard to stay a little more to the point, instead of trying to sidetrack us by making references to the C.P.R. as I did not infer anything about railroads and as I am very concerned over that gentlemans' safety I think he would do well to keep away from railroad tracks.

Unemployment insurance does not do away with bread lines and soup kitchens for in the Old Country they have unemployment insurance, bread lines and soup kitchens.

The taxpayers would do well to consider the report in The Examiner of March 6, regarding the unemployment insurance. That report states that $500,000,000 is being found for the fund, either by taxes or borrowing and the borrowing power has been increased by another $100,000,000.

Also that the taxpayers are looking forward to the next Budget with growing apprehension. These are points for the Canadian taxpayer to consider.

A nation cannot be insured against unemployment, bread lines and soup kitchens. We have ample evidence of this in the Old Country.

Mr. Howard states that idleness with poverty breeds vice and what brings poverty quicker than idleness. He would do well to note the difference between idleness and leisure as from his remarks about golf clubs, etc., it is apparent that he does not know.

If Mr. Howard chooses to reply I would like him to state when he was in the Old Country in what part and how much he paid in unemployment insurance.

Thanking you for your valuable space, Mr. Editor,

Yours sincerely,

MAURICE J. McCARTHY.

What To-day Means To You

CONCUSSION

Some years ago our champion University boxer received a blow in the chin during a bout that put him "out" temporarily. As the round was just over he received a minute's rest and immediately proceeded to make up his lost points. He landed a b'ow on the other fellow's chin who went down for a count that was longer than ten seconds and the bout was won by the champion. About an hour afterwards I noticed our champion sitting around with the gloves still on his hands.

I asked him why he did'nt get bathed and dressed.

He replied, "Why, I have to box Smith ye."

I informed him that he had defeated Smith by a knockout; that Smith had bathed and dressed and was on his way home. He thought I was joking, but I explained that he had received a blow that had put him down for a few seconds, that the bell had given him another minute, and that in the next round he had won the bout by putting his opponent down for the full count of ten. He bathed, dressed, went home without difficulty and never felt any after effects.

A football player reported to me after practice that he had forgotten his locker number, had forgotten his home address, in fact had forgotten his name. As there were no other symptoms I had him removed to his home and he remained there quietly in the same mental foggy state until noon the next day, when everything became clear again.

A man falls in the street and bumps his head so severly that he becomes unconscious, is rushed to the hospital, and an examination made as to the possibility of fracture of the skull. No fracture is found. In a couple of hours, he becomes conscious and is able to walk home.

What has happened in the above three cases.

It is called concussion.

It simply means that the whole b ain has received a shaking up, but there has been no break in the skull, no break of the blood vessels. The brain substance has been disturbed by this shaking, but no permanent damage done. Of course, death may occur without fracture of the skull if very much damage were done to the soft brain substance.

Usually with concussion the patient becomes unconscious, although severe shouting may arouse him. After he returns to consciousness he may feel giddy, and have slight loss of memory or slight dilusions.

During the collapsed condition heat to the body is the best treatment. After consciousness returns, absolute rest, ice bag to head, and purgative, is the treatment. A liquid diet for two or three days is essential.

CHEQUE ACCEPTED FOR FLOOD DAMAGE

At a meeting of the Logal Committee held on Wednesday night it was decided to place a signed cheque for $18,500 before the company to settle the claim in full. After another long conference yesterday this amount was accepted.

Build New Bridge

In the release from the claim, signed by both parties to-day, it is stated that the city must build a new bridge over the creek on Dalhousie street as soon as the high waters of the Spring thaw have receded. Further, that if any damages are caused to Ackerman's by a flood this Spring a new suit for such damages can be entered.

The city throughout the case pinned its defence upon the argument that the bridge had been erected thirty years ago and that up until 1928 no damages had resulted from flooding. The city further maintained that the 1928 flood was out of all proportion to those that occurred each Spring and that no one could anticipate it.

The company attributed the flooding to the alleged obstruction in the flow of the stream as the result of the construction of the bridge, and by reason of concrete pipe and square timber laid across the bed of the creek. These all helped to dam the water, Ackerman's alleged.

Followed Wise Course

Members of the City Council breathed a sigh of relief when the release was signed this afternoon. The whole lengthy action has caused the aldermen much worry. Great praise was given City Clerk Armstrong and Alderman Fitzpatrick, chairman of the Legal Committee, for the manner in which they had carried on the negotiations during the past two weeks and made the final settlement.

Members of the legal profession in the city told The Examiner that in settling the claim the Council had followed a wise course. Considering the full judgment in favor of the Ackerman Company, they also said that the city had made the best possible settlement.

The release signed to-day by S. T. Medd, solicitor for the B. F. Ackerman Company, and John R. Corkery, city solicitor, read in full as follows:

"In the case before the Supreme Court of Ontario between B. F. Ackerman, Son and Company, Limited, plaintiffs, and the Corporation of the City of Peterborough, defendants.

"The defendants having decided to accept the order of the Appellate Division of this Court dismissing their appeal herein and to acknowledge responsibility as in the judgment of the trial Judge set out:

"It is agreed between the parties as follows:

"1. In lieu of a reference to ascertain the damages as directed in the judgment of the said the trial Judge the defendants will pay and the plaintiffs will accept the sum of $18,500.00 in settlement of the damage sustained by them by reason of the flooding of their factory premises as set forth in the statement of claim herein, said amount to include the plaintiffs' costs to date.

"Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, it is distinctly understood and agreed by and between the parties hereto that the 3rd paragraph of the Judgment of the trial Judge herein is to be and remain in full force and effect, namely 3—and this court doth further order and adjudge, that on and after the 23rd day of January, 1931, the defendants be, and they are hereby perpetually restrained from maintaining the bridge complained of in this action, viz. a certain bridge crossing Jackson's Creek at Dalhousie street, in the said City of Peterborough, in its present conditions or in any condition whereby sufficient outlet is not provided for the waters of the said creek so as to avoid flooding the premises of the plaintiffs in time of high water" and is to be acted upon by the defendants without delay.

3.—The plaintiffs without prejudice to any right they may have to damages for any loss they may suffer or sustain by reason of the defendants delay in complying with the aforesaid Order of this Court with regard to the bridge is said 3rd Paragraph referred to agree to not take any proceedings for the enforcement of the Mandatory Order under the said 3rd Paragraph of the Judgment of the tria judge herein between now and the 1st day of July now next.

IMPERIAL OIL AT LOW MARK

LISTLESS TRADING.

TORONTO, March 13 (By The Canadian Press).—The market on Toronto Stock Exchange wavered this morning with volume at such an ebb that it lent little weigh to carry prices either one way or the other in a definite manner. Oils were an exception and almost without exception moved into lower ground. International Pete unearthed a new low for the curren year, while British American and Imperial hovered around their low points.

International Nickel dropped ¼ point and it was not until going into the second hour that the issue was traded in at all. Noranda eased a small fraction to 17.50.

Durant Motors was a highlight of curb trading with a gain of nearly a point at one time, selling at 11. Near noon it lost a ½ to border around 10½.

Liquors, interlisted issues and leading industrials failed to follow any definite course and tended to shape rather irregular.

CONFIDENCE VOTE IS GIVEN LAVAL

Amendment to Measure Enabling Re-organization of Aeropostale Company Rejected.

RESULTS IS 340 TO 215.

PARIS, Mar. 13. —(C.P.)— The Chamber of Deputies after sitting for more than 24 hours straight this afternoon voted confidence in Premier Laval 340 to 215. The vote brought rejection of a Socialist amendment to a measure enabling re-organization of the Aeropostale Company.

Shortly afterward the body, which had been in session since 9 a.m. Thursday, recessed until two p. m. when it expected to vote on the measure itself.

Senator Laval pleaded the national interest in asking the deputies to vote for the bill, which will empower the Government to re-organize provisionally the French-South American air liner mail service.

The Socialist floor leader, Leon Blum, proposed an amendment which would have brought a reduction of fr. 1,000,000 (about $40,000) in the credits asked for refloating the aeropostale—fr. 6,000,000 ($240,000) outright and fr. 90,000,000 ($3,600,000) annually.

The Senator-Premier immediately made the amendment a question of confidence and after some debate voting proceeded.

Winnipeg Review

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bavis Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

Winnipeg wheat was strong yesterday while Chicago was inclined to be draggy. The local market opened 1-8 to 1-4 higher and on the extreme bulge prices were about one cent above the close last night. Export sales overnight were estimated at around 250,000 bushels and some further business arrived shortly after the opening, sales all told being around 500,000 bushels. During the last hour the market, while holding mostly firm, was rather featureless with a little local buying in evidence but there was not much coming out. The local demand for cash wheat continued fair with very light offerings and spreads were mostly unchanged, although some lower grades were inclined to be easier, but there was no particular pressure of offerings of these grades. The flour situation continued quiet, a moderate domestic demand being in evidence, but practically nothing doing in export channels. Liverpool closed firm, due to the small shipments from Argentine and was 7-8 to 1 penny higher. Buenos Aires was 1-4 higher at 3 o'clock. Black Sea shipments this week are almost 2,000,000 bushels of wheat, of which Russia shipped 1,776,000 bushels.

A heavy snowstorm has taken place in France and put a stop to all field work; temperatures are much lower and more seasonable, so that the young wheat plant will be strengthened, although some may die owing to its unhealthy condition following the abnormally wet mild winter. Rains or snows are forecasted for the winter wheat belt and some lower temperatures in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa, and warmer in other states. Winnipeg futures closed firm, 5-8 to 1-2 higher, while Chicago July closed 3-8 lower, and September unchanged.

Coarse Grains —The feature of these markets was the good export business in barley, about 750,000 bushels being reported worked. There was practically nothing doing in the other grains. Flax market was also stronger with some short covering going on with the outside news a little more bullish as Indian acreage reduced; however, there was particular demand from crushers. Liverpool due unchanged to 1-8 lower based on Winnipeg.

BENNETT 'PHONES TO SIR G. PERLEY IN BUENOS AIRES

Canadians All Well and Had Lovely Voyage Sir George States.

VOICE VERY PLAIN.

Plans Being Made For Premier to Speak to Prince of Wales Saturday.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13 (C.P.).—The Prince of Wales and Premier R. B. Bennett may be in long distance conversation to-morrow afternoon from Buenos Aires to Ottawa. Announcement of this possibility was made by the Prime Minister this afternoon, following a long distance telephone talk between Sir George Perley, Canadian representative at the British Trade Exhibition, Buenos Aires, and Premier Bennett.

Speaks From Offices.

Premier Bennett spoke from his offices in the east block of the Parliament Buildings to Sir George Pegley a few hours after his arrival in Buenos Aires, where the exhibition will be opened to-morrow by the Prince of Wales.

Sir George Perley, the Prime Minister related at the end of the conversation, said that the weather in Buenos Aires was very warm, that all members of the official party from Canada to the exhibition had had a lovely voyage. Sir George stated he was in "fine fettle" and everybody from Canada was well. J. H. Woods, Calgary, spoke afterwards to Premier Bennett.

The sound of the voice of Sir George could be heard at times by those seated in the office of the Prime Minister. The Prime Minister was in an exceedingly happy frame of mind.

"Is that you, Sir George?" the voice of Premier Bennett called over the telephone. "You got in this morning and had a good voyage; how are you and Lady Perley, and everybody?"

Sends Best Wishes

The Prime Minister continued: "Yes, we opened Parliament yesterday and everything went off splendidly. Your colleagues are all here and join with me in wishing you best wishes."

Premier Bennett thanked Sir George for several of his remarks, and apparently Sir George then inquired if there had been a Conservative caucus to-day. "Yes," the Prime Minister humorously replied, "we had a caucus to-day, but I cannot say anything about it as the Press is here." then with a friendly grin towards the Press, Mr. Bennett added: "I suppose, however, it will be in the papers, anyway."

SNOWDEN RESTING EASY.

TILFORD, Surrey, England, March 13 (C.P.). — While Right Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, rested to-day after an uneasy night, Mrs. Snowden read him scores of messages of sympathy coupled with congratulations, for twenty-six years ago to-day the Chancellor and Ethel Annikin were married.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

ST. JOHN, N. B.—Reports to Bradstreet's say that retail trade here continues fair for the time of year with demand at wholesale establishments rather quiet. Collections are just fair. Frank Record, of St John, has four hens of the Golden Seabright Bantam variety that captured four first prizes at the Quebec Provincial Poultry Show in Montreal recently where there were entries in 118 classes and more than 2,500 pens of birds. His birds have also won honors at Saint John and Fredericton.

MONTREAL—Reports to Bradstreet's indicate that retail trade is quiet, reflecting mid-season dullness. Authorities consulted in the jobbing trades are less than satisfied with the volume of incoming orders; groceries and hardware continue, however, to figure as the most active lines. To offset the fundamental disorganization which has overtaken the Canadian grain market, the Government proposes to appoint a Royal Commission to investigate causes and suggest remedies. Millers report that business up to the present date has been negligible during 1931, a combination of circumstances having made the present period of earning power the lowest in the history of the milling industry. The cattle and produce markets are unsettled and weak. According to Government statistics, vegetable canning in Canada increased substantially during the past year, over ten million cans having been produced; tomatoes and peas showed the greatest increase over 1929. Notwithstanding the slight increase in grain movements, car loadings for the year up to the end of February showed a decrease of 89,620 cars. Bank clearings in Montreal reflected a decline of $38,448,722, or 23.80% over the week ending March 5, 1930. According to the Bureau of Mines, the total production in the Province of Quebec in 1930 fell off by 13%, representing a value of about $6,000,000. Collections are slow in most trades.

OTTAWA—Reports to Bradstreet's say that demand for spring clothing and furnishings here is picking up slightly with the approach of Easter and the spring season. Manufacturing operations continue just fair with collections also just fair. Canadian wheat has been moving out at a brisk rate this year, the January exports having been 9,608,852 bushels as compared with 4,994,054 for the same month of the previous year. For the first six months of the crop year, ended with January, wheat exports amounted to 138,297,729 bushels as compared with 81,687,670 bushels for the same period of the previous year, or an increase of 56,610,039 bushels. The United Kingdom continues to be Canada's best customer, and in the first half of the present crop year took 87,524,839 bushels, having a value of $65,563,037, as compared with 61,276,243 bushels, valued at $82,889,975 for the same period a year ago.

TORONTO—Reports to Bradstreet's say that cut price sales in furniture and men's and women's clothing and furnishings continue to bring in a fair volume of business. Otherwise retail trade is awaiting the approach of Easter and it is hoped that with more favorable weather there will be a good demand for spring apparel and millinery. Sales of men's hats so far this season have not been brisk but it is felt that with warmer weather there will be more request for spring felt headgear. At wholesale houses there had been some business passing in spring lines of goods and business in consequence of this is a little more active than it has been. Collections are fair. Manufacturing operations continue spotty but there has been a better demand for skilled labor and some relief in this connection is being experienced although the general employment situation here still remains unfavorable. The heavy snowfall this week provided work for many who needed it.

HAMILTON—Reports to Bradstreet's say that there has not been a great deal of change here except in the clothing and furnishings trade where there is a little more life owing to the fact that the Easter season is approaching. Employment conditions are still unsatisfactory and while there is a fair degree of activity in some departments which have been stimulated by orders from the railroads, improvement is eagerly hoped for. Canadian Industries Limited, of Hamilton, is now shipping fertilizer to various points in Ontario. The company acquired the formulae for fertilizers which were formerly imported from Buffalo but are now being manufactured in the Hamilton plant.

LONDON—Reports to Bradstreet's say that trade and industry here are in much the same condition as a week ago. The heavy snowfall which swept over all the province this week, in some districts delayed traffic considerably but on the whole the dislocation of traffic was small considering the situation. The snowfall was welcome throughout most of the farming districts of the country as it now insures a supply of moisture which had been lacking in many areas all winter. On the whole the farm situation is satisfactory with livestock in good condition but the low prices for cattle and hogs are causing much dissatisfaction.

WINDSOR—Reports to Bradstreet's say that expansion in the automobile trade here has not been as great as had been looked for and while the coming of the actual spring season is expected to see a material improvement, business as yet has not been stimulated by manufacturing as much as people would like to see. In the agricultural sections hereabouts the situation is fairly satisfactory with orchards having come through the winter in fair condition and livestock in good shape although prices are unsatisfactory.

WINNIPEG—Reports to Bradstreet's say that there has been little change here in either retail or wholesale trade generally speaking although in the case of the latter a little improvement is reported in clothing and boots and shoes. Manufacturing operations are a little more active. Collections are still quiet. During 1930 the Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited spent a total of $1,110,000 in the City of Winnipeg. Of this amount $368,000 was in wages and $742,000 for material bought in Winnipeg.

CALGARY—Reports to Bradstreet's say that groceries continue to be the most active lines at retail establishments while trade is still dull. Collections are fair on current obligations but older debts are being met slowly. Sugar produced from beets grown in Alberta had a value of approximately $1,500,000 in 1930, according to figures submitted to a meeting of growers at Stratmore recently. The industry has grown by leaps and bounds. In 1931, 7,000 acres in southern Alberta were devoted to beet growing and this had increased to 14,000 acres in 1930. In the Raymond district alone last year 28,000 tons of beets were grown. The value of this crop was more than $800,000. Average cost of production was from $40.00 to $45.00 for a ten-ton crop, and average price received by growers at factories was $7.00 per ton.

VANCOUVER—Reports to Bradstreet's say that trade at both wholesale and retail stores here is quiet with manufacturing operations still slow. Collections are no better than fair. The new fisherman's wharf building under construction in Vancouver by the Harbour Board will be completed about the middle of March and will provide a centre for the fishing fleet. It includes a cold storage plant and a series of warehouses for fish and fishing equipment

Toll In Sea Tragedy Mounts To 262 Lives

First reports gave the death list at 300 and the number rescued at 180. All who perished were Chinese.

The explosion occurred when Chinese soldiers aboard tossed burning cigarette stubs into the cotton cargo. The ship was anchored immediately but a second blast blew out her stern. Many were burned to death. The other victims drowned as the ship went down.

tacking him. In his letter, he further declared that the question of press domination would have to be faced if the party was to retain its power and independenece.

The Manchester Guardian to-day commented:

"Mr. Baldwin's speech yesterday made it clear beyond a shadow of doubt that so long as he is the leader of the Conservatives there will be no big stick gesture, and no retreat from the advance so hopefully made at the Round-Table Conference and so excellently followed up by Lord Irwin's agreement with Mahatma Gandhi.

"The battle between the old and new Imperialism will have to be fought out in the Conservative party. It will be a hard battle. Mr. Baldwin will constantly be pushed, and he does not well withstand pushing. He will be tricked, and he lends himself to trickery."

Vegetable Growers Suggest License

United States, Mr. Atkins said American dealers did the same in Ontario as Ontario dealers did in Manitoba. In the rush season they shipped their products in by the car load regardless of price to keep their own market clear. An adequate tariff was absolutely necessary.

"The farmer himself is to blame for the marketing condition in Ontario," said Sam Wright, (Conservative, Dovercourt, Toronto). "The Ontario market is gone if the farmer does not buck up and grade his stuff so that it will compete with the outside stuff."

The difficulty was, said Mr. Wright that farmers sold to truckers who came to their farms. The truckers were not able to disregard the grading regulations and sold direct to retailers. The regular wholesalers and shippers had to comply with grading regulation. The result was they could not compete with the truckers and Ontario produce got a bad name compared with graded vegetables from outside the Province.

MINING BRIEFS.

TORONTO, March 13 (Special to Examiner).—Eldorado, featuring issue on the mining board for the past few weeks, provided one of those sudden slumps which give that empty "gone" feeling to olloweers of the market, even those not directly interested. Opening form around $1.20 to $1.25 and holding that level for the first half hour or so, the price suddenly dropped to below $1 a subsequen rise recovering mos of the los ground.

According to theory around the street, profit taking on a large block of Eldorado shares sent the price down to a point where it uncovered a number of stop-los orders, possibly around $1.15. While it s not generally understood, stop loss orders become market orders immediately the price specified is reached and consequently a much larger quantity of stock would be thrown on the market for what it would bring than was originally involved. When this had been absorbed the price began its recovery.

Moffatt Hall is reported to be calling for tenders for diamond drilling on its property in the Eastern Kirkland Lake section. The company is said to still retain a fair amoun of cash and a development program is being outlined for the coming season. It will be recalled that McIntyre Porcupine investigated the Moffatt Hall claims a year or so ago.

An item of interest in the balance sheet of Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Co., as of Dec. 31, 1930, is the cash on hand. At the end of 1930 this was only $21,182, against $24,643 in 1929, $35,928 in 1928 and $11,440 in 1927. Obviously very little cash is needed as the company mines the real basis of cash—gold. This year's report also shows funded debt of $893,400 wiped ou and no interest bearing loans against the company. Total assets of $17,591,242 are up lightly from 1929 but under 1927 and 1928.

International Nickel Co. has placed an initial order with Mullins Manufacturing Co. for the fabricating of 1,000 Kitchen sinks out of monel metal. One department of the Mullins plant is tooled up for forming these sinks for International Nickel. International Nickel ships the monel metal to the Mullins plant where the metal is formed into sinks and then returned to International Nickel, which will do the selling and distributing of the sinks. This is part of the campaign of International Nickel to introduce monel into household use.

STANDARD FIRM ACTIVE TRADING

Eldorado Slumps Below $1 Mark in Early Session—Regains to $1.11.

LIGHT RECESSIONS.

TORONTO, March 13 (By The Canadian Press).—Though majority o prices developed a somewhat irregular tendency, with losses and gains about evenly divided throughout the list at noon, brisk trading continued to feature the mining market in the forenoon session to-day.

Eldorado, opening firm around $1.20, slumped badly to below $1 in the first hour but recovered to stand off 10 at $1.11 when taken. Profit-taking and stop-loss orders are believed to have been responsible for the decline in this featuring issue.

Small recessions appeared in Hollinger and McIntyre but balance of the higher-priced golds were firm. Northern Canada sold up a couple, and small advances were registered in McLeod, Siscoe, Central Manitoba, San Antonio, Central Pat and Bobjo. Fractional declines appeared in Bidgood, Vipond and Ritchie.

Base metals were quiet with Noranda off a few cents at $17.40 and Sherritt Gordon a couple to $1.08. Ventures gained 2 to 65 and Sudbury Basin 3 to 71. Pen Oreille also sold up 5 at $1.25. Nordon featured the oil section, Price moving up 10 to 42. Peninsular and Merland also were slightly stronger, but majority of oils were dull.

Grain Prices Steady Early Morning Drop

CHICAGO, Ill., March 13 (By The Canadian Press).—Dipping a little at the start to-day, grain prices soon steadied as a result of buying on resting orders. Early downturns followed announcement that Australian wheat exports for the week were unusually large, 5,304,000 bushels. Compared with 3,024,000 the week previous and 1,481,000 a year ago. Opening at ¼ cent off to 1-8 off to 1-8 up, wheat later held near to the initial figures. Corn started at a shade decline to ¼ advance, and subsequently showed little change.

$247,195 IS SPENT BY G.M.C. IN THIS CITY DURING PAST YEAR

Canadian Produce and Labor Used in Manufacture of General Motors Vehicles.

SPEND $27,564,874

Peterborough benefited to the extent of $247,195 last year in expenditures made here by General Motors of Canada Limited, for material that goes into the manufacture of cars and trucks, it was revealed in figures to-day by E. R. Richard, Manager of the General Motors Oshawa Zone.

Mr. Birchard, in an interview, gave many interesting sidelights on the extensive operations of this Canadian industry, and directed attention to the fact that General Motors products sold in the Dominion are Canadian-made, from Canadian materials, and that the organization is wholly national in work and character.

"From all parts of Canada come the materials that go into the making of General Motor cars," he said. "In wages, general expenses and purchase of goods, General Motors spent a total of $27,564,874 in this country during 1930."

This money, Mr. Birchard explained, was directly paid out for purchases made in all the principal cities of the Dominion, and indirectly every Canadian community benefited by the operations of plants at Oshawa, Walkerville, St. Catharines and Regina; and branches, zone offices and financing offices across Canada.

Brought in Canada

"Purchases of raw materials and equipment that go into these Canadian cars are made from 600 British and Canadian sources," he pointed out. "The $247,195 worth of goods bought in Peterborough were not only Canadian at the raw sources, which means that the metal, wood and other constituent parts that go into a motor car, come from Canadian mines, forests and other reserves.

"The sale of a Chevrolet or other General Motors car at a great many points in Canada actually means creating employment for labor at those points, an effect in sharp contrast to that which occurs when money is spent on an imported car. Examining the Chevrolet, for instance, as to its actual Canadian content, it is discovered that all parts of the Dominion furnish material, from the mines of Sudbury to the forests of British Columbia.

Mr. Birchard drew attention to the fact that the record for this year was not typical of other years, and because of a business depression that had been widespread, could not be compared favorably with the greater expenditures made by the company in Canada during nnormal times.

1,062 Car Dealers

"But it was interesting to observe," he said, "that General Motors now has 1,062 dealers throughout Canada handling Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, McLaughlin-Buick, Cadilac and LaSalle cars, and 678,949 motor cars have been turned out by the company in the past 15 years. The average number of cars manufactured in the past three years at all plants was 87,334. This production necessitated the employment of 11,140 people during peak periods, and 98 per cent of this number were British subjects.

"The figures I have given," he said, "do not include the $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 paid to the Government in duties, excise and sales taxes, the dividends paid to Canadian shareholders or the other direct benefits to Canadians."

"Etienne" In English Not Brilliant Play

The Times Critic Blames English Translation for Solemnity of French Humor.

LONDON, March 13 (By the Canadian Press)—Writing of the French play "Etienne," by Jacques Deval, translated into English by Gilbert Wakefield, dramatic author, and recently presented at St. James' Theatre here, The Times critic says:

"Whatever failings this play may have had in its original form, it was probably more rapid in its action and less mechanical in its humor than it appears in translation. It is the kind of play that must be swallowed quickly or not at all. Here is the French husband of farce, an amorist in his office, and a preachifying moralist at home, oppressing a son and neglecting his wife. The son promises to make his adoring mother happy in spite of her husband's neglect. He means to work hard at his lessons, but while he is wrestling with German grammar one afternoon he has the misfortune to captivate the lady to whom his father is devoted. His success with the lady and the far-reaching effect of a hoax which he has put upon his father combine to give the household reins of power into the hands of his mother.

"The story is told very leisurely, and the acting, though extremely good of its kind, moves with a deliberate tread that turns what is merely frivolous into solemnity. There is a touch of originality in the grave inquisition which the father holds into the misdemeanors of his son, and here Emlyn Williams, as the sullen culprit, gets a genuinely humorous effect. Indeed, the whole family council, with David Horne and Stanley Lathbury at their drollest, is capital fun and promises much more than the comedy is destined to achieve. For nothing afterwards is on the same level of humor, unless we single out the scene in which the husband's employer degrades him to a lesser department of the shop with consummate tact and the utmost geniality. Miss Mary Clare gives a delightfully firm portrait of the asquiescent wife and adoring mother, and Mr. Williams, as a son whose mischievousness never becomes tiresome and whose simplicity is never priggish, does all that a good actor may to save the play from tedium."

RUSH POINT

A few neghbors and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes on Friday night to celebrate the birthday of their son, Roy. The music for the dancing was ably supplied by Murnie Barton, Harold Seeney and Harold Adley.

A gang of Rush Point men completed shovelling out the roads as far as Havelock on Wednesday forenoon.

Mr. James Keating has returned to his home near Havelock after spending the winter months at Smith Falls.

We are very sorry to learn that he is not well at present.

Owing to heavy roads on Monday the Rush Point pupils, who are attending Norwood High school, were unable to reach there in time for that day's classes.

TECUMSEH'S DEATH SHED HALO ON MUCH ABUSED RACE, SAYS MAIR

Dr. R. C. McBeth Writes Interesting Letter on Work of Canadian Poet, Charles Mair.

DIES IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

TORONTO Ont., March 13.—(By the Canadian Press)—"Recent despatches concerning the discovery of what might be the bones of Tecumseh on the famous battle ground of 1812 interest me mainly on account of my old friend Charles Mair, whose dramatic poem "Tecumseh" is the greatest production of its kind in our Canadian literature." writes Dr. R. G. McBeth of Vancouver in the Globe.

"I knew Mr Mair in my boyhood days on the Red River. Later I met him in Prince Albert the Peace River country in Lethbridge at Fort Steele in the Columbia Valley and in his closing years in Vancouver and Victoria. In Victoria, where he died a few years ago, I used to visit him frequently in the private Home Hospital.

"When I visited Mr. Mair at Fort Steele, in British Columbia, he had retired from active work in the Civil Service and was living in a flower-clad cottage with his daughter, with the glory of mountains and lakes within sight everywhere. Mair had been living so quietly in the Columbia Valley there that his existence was almost forgotten by many and he told me jocularly that day how a member of the House of Commons had referred to the late Charles Mair.' In his generous way Mair used to assert that an article written on my visit to him at Fort Steele brought him before the public again. Later on the splendid volume of Mair's complete works, issued by John W. Garvin, came to preserve the record of this great Canadian writer. Fortunately this volume was published a few months before Mair's death. He had it in his hands when I last visited him in Victoria. It was a great joy to the veteran, then in his ninetieth year not because of himself, but because it would remain to be of service to his beloved Canada.

'Mr. Mair often repeated to me portions of Tecumseh.' He had made a very profound study of that war period, and, as a son of Ontario, knew his ground in a personal way. His intense appreciation of the services of this great Indian Chief deepened with the years. In Mr. Mair's 'notes' he quoted approvingly from Colonel Coffin's 'Chronicles of the War of 1812' where, referring to Tecumseh, the Colonel says: 'His death shed a halo on a much-abused and departing race. May the people of Britain and their descendants in Canada never forget the noble sacrifice nor the sacred obligations it imposes It should be held as the seal of a great covenant; and as Jonathan said to David. 'The Lord be between thee and me, and between thy seed and my seed forever.'"

'To this Mair adds: Those who buried Tecumseh never revealed the secret of his burial place and the Indians resented for many years any attempt to explore the region of his last battle for his grave. It is not likely that his bones will ever be recovered but to Canadians, whose fathers were the friends of his race there remains the duty of perpetuating his memory. There is not in all history a nobler example of true manhood and patriotism.'

"At the close of the great poem Mair gives us to hear Colonel Baby say: 'I mourn the death of one—a soldier—a savage, if you will—able and honorable, valiant, pure as ever graced the annals of the earth.' General Harrison of the American Army says: 'You mean Tesumseh. Search is being made for him. I hope to give him fitting burial.' Then a soldier enters to say: Tecumseh's body cannot be found, 'twas borne away and buried by faithful friends, who would not name the place if they were tortured.' And Mair closes the poem with the fine words he heard General Harrison say:

"'Sleep well, Tecumseh, in thy unknown grave,
Though mighty savage, resolute and brave,
Thou master and strong spirit of the woods,
Unsheltered traveller in sad solitudes
Yearner over Weandot and Cherokee,
Couldst tell us now what have been and shall be.'"

PRINCE IS FAMED AS A TRAVELLER

Heir Apparent's Tours, Prior to the Present One Totals 250,000 Miles.

LEARNS THE LANGUAGE.

LONDON, March 13 (By The Canadian Press)—In the course of six years the Prince of Wales has been absent from England for an aggregate period of three years, during which time His Royal Highness has travelled more than 250,000 miles. This does not include his present tour, along with Prince George, in South America, which will add a good many more thousand miles to the record of this world-famous traveller.

In the course of an address recently by Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey, Comptroller and Treasurer to the Prince of Wales, at a meeting of the Portsmouth Post-War Brotherhood, Sir Lionel made the statement about his Royal Highness having travelled more than 250,000 miles and spoke of the thoroughness of the Prince in seeing points of interest and in preparing himself to meet peoples of various tongues by learning something of their language in as many cases as possible.

Learns the Language

The Prince always went into the interior of any country which he visited, and he learned something of the language that the people spoke, Sir Lionel said. While in South Africa he learned enough Afrikaans to be able to carry on a conversation with the Boers. He also acquired a conversational knowledge of Swahili and when in Quebec he always made his speeches to the French-Canadians in French. Before leaving for his present tour of South America, the Prince had worked hard at learning Spanish The Prince had also seen every conceivable sort of manufacture and had visited every kind of mine.

Recounting a number of stories, Sir Lionel Halsey said that while the Prince was in Australia the people got into the habit of throwing not only flowers but all sorts of fruits, squashy and otherwise into his carriage. As they tried not to hit the Prince with these it was mostly himself (Sir Lionel) who got struck as he sat beside the Prince, and for that he (Sir Lionel) became known to Australians as "Aunt Sally." Sir Lionel added that on one occasion in Africa an interpreter acting for a local potentate began his speech by saying: "The Prince has this day descended from Heaven at great personal inconvenience."

Sir Lionel describing the Prince of Wales' various Empire tours, said the opinion he (Sir Lionel) had formed from his experiences during these was that it was the Monarchy that kept the Empire together. Without that the Empire would tumble into a number of little independent countries which, in time, would be swallowed up by stronger countries. The Monarchy formed a binding link of the Empire, because it was above all parties and politics and acceptable to all. The principle on which the Prince had acted from the start in his Empire tours was to meet as many people as he possibly could. On many occasions the Prince had received 20,000 or 30,000 people, and had stood for over two hours on end so that none might be disappointed.

USE MARRIAGE TO BEAT THE LAW

Boston Immigration Commissioner Reveals Fraud By Aliens.

MARRYING OWN SISTERS.

BOSTON, Mass., March 13.—Mrs Anna C. Tillinghast, Boston's commissioner of immigration, told several hundred members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Club of Boston recently that aliens were getting friendly United states citizens to go to the old country and marry their wives in order to get the women into this country outside the quota.

Some naturalized aliens were even marrying their sisters in order to get them into the country, she said.

Just at present, she said, she had several of these fraudulent matrimonial alliances to untangle, all of which were entered into even without the semblence of a divorce, she declared.

Of course, when the women were admitted as wives, they did not live with their pseudo husbands, she explained, but returned to their real husbands, or relatives, and the matter was ended until they needed a certificate of their arrival or some other document which required searching the immigration records. Then the fraud was brought to light.

Owing to restrictions on immigration, she stated, various expedients were being used to get into this country. One little girl, she said had stowed away in the ventilator of a ship coming to Boston and had remained there 31 days without ever washing her hands or face during all that time When Mrs. Tillinghast asked her why she did it, she said she wanted to get to America and there was no other way, as the quota was filled.

WINDSOR UNIFORM CAUSES TROUBLE

Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia Appears in Plain Morning Attire.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 13 (By Canadian Press)—The appearance of His Honour Frank Stanfield at the opening of the Nova Scotia legislature last month in plain morning attire, set speculative tongues wagging until it was ascertained that improper adjustment of some four pounds of gold braid on the Lieutenant Governor's new Windsor Court Frock was responsible.

The incident, however, was by no means an isolated one in the history of Lieutenant Governors' relations with the official wardrobe Old timers in the press box and around the galleries of Province House recalled that the Honourable D. C. Fraser, who occupied the province's first office from 1906 to 1910, consistently refused to wear a Windsor coat, labelling such habiliment as "the trappings of office."

Nor was this year's opening of the house the first occasion on which the governor's uniform found its way to the front page. Several years ago the stage was set for a formal opening, the hour had struck, but the governor failed to arrive. One enterprising reporter crashed his way into the Provincial Secretary's office where a conclave was in session, with a demand to know the why and wherefore.

"Haven't you heard?" queried a government official of that period, "the Lieutenant Governor tripped over an aide's sword as he was leaving Government House. We're waiting until he can have the seat of his pants sewed up."

The reporter waited to hear no more, and on the morrow the story of the torn trousers appeared on the front pages of the largest dailies in Moutreal and Toronto. In the meantime, of course, the Lieutenant Governor, after a delay caused by something far less disastrous than the entirely erroneous report indicated, had arrived and read the speech from the throne.

It was only with difficulty that certain officials were dissuaded from investigating the origin of the report.

Devotional Meeting Of St. George's W.A.

At the monthly devotional and business meeting of St. George's W. A., held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. A. Sims, McGill Street, this week, a devotional address was given by the rector, Rev. J. L. Hughes, from the words, "Jesus stood in the midst." Six occasions were referred to in the life of Jesus Christ where He is spoken of as being "in the midst." Mrs. E. Tucker, president, conducted the opening devotions and read the Scripture portion. The treasurer's report showed a creditable balance, and work for the bale under the directorship of Mrs. Dossett was brought in, a knitted toque kindly being donated by Mrs. S. Parkes. Mrs. Hughes reported on the junior work. Arrangements were made for the anniversary meeting next month, Rev. E. R. James of St. John's Church having kindly consented to be the special speaker on that occasion. The rector closed the meeting with prayer, after which the hostess served dainty refreshments.

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town, and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

COKE SUPERIOR TO ANTHRACITE

Nova Scotia Fuel Proves Its Superiority Over Imported Coal.

HEAT LASTS LONGER.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 13 (By The Canadian Press)—Nova Scotia coke, manufactured from Cape Breton coal at Sydney, has been proven a more economical and satisfactory fuel than imported anthracite. Not long ago Premier Gordon S. Harrington, in connection with the government for increased use of domestic coal, announced results of a recent test, in the House of Assembly.

Results of the trial, conducted by the provincial fuel board, showed that 1500 pounds of coke outlasted 2000 pounds of anthracite, raised the temperature to a higher degree despite much colder outdoor conditions, required less frequent firings, and left far less refuse.

The tests were carried out in a furnace of the heating plant in the Single Officers' Quarters at Royal Artillery Park. The first trial, with 2000 pounds of anthracite, commencing November 16, 1930, lasted 160 hours, ending November 20. The second trial, using 1500 pounds of coke, began on December 23 and ended on January 1, a total of 207 hours.

The outside temperature during the anthracite test was 42.7 Fahrenheit on the average, the coal producing an average of 62.2 in the halls. During the coke trial, on the other hand, the outside temperature averaged 33.5, and the inside temperature was maintained at an average of 60.2. Boiler room and furnace water temperatures were also at a higher level when coke was used.

Anthracite left 419 pounds of refuse, coke, 88.

"The only obstacle to widely increased use of coke," Premier Harrington remarked, "is the necessity of removing clinker, and that requires very little time or ability. I do not believe our fuel policy will fall down through inability to perform that necessary chore."

UNREST PERVADES UNIVERSITY LIFE

Comes Partially From the World Economic Situation Professor Says.

MONTREAL, March 13 (By The Canadian Press)—A general feeling of unrest and revolt which expresses itself in nationalistic and communistic movements pervades the universities in all parts of Europe to a dangerous degree according to Dr. Walter M. Kotschnig general secretary of the International Student Service, who spoke to McGill students recently. In his address on "Student Conditions in Europe," the speaker showed how an alarming revolutionary trend of thought is to be found throughout that continent.

The unrest which permeates the student's minds comes partly from the economic situation in which they find themselves, Dr. Kotschnig declared. In spite of considerable relief work that has been carried on since the war, the poverty, particularly in South European countries, is appaling.

Old Ring Is Uncovered Former Roman Camp

MONTREAL, March 13 (By The Canadian Press)—A 2,000-year gap in history is bridged by a little band of gold, too small to slip on a man's finger, which lies in a local rooming house greatly indifferent from the Roman villa in which it first saw light of day.

This ring, probably the only relic of its kind outside the cases of the museums, is the property of J. H. Philipsen, a German, who came to Montreal with his wife only a few months ago, and it was given to him by his grandfather, who removed it from a grave in the little Wurtemburg town of Tubingen while excavating to lay down a street.

Tubingen is built on the site of a Roman camp, and the graves unearthed in the excavation are authentic. A number of other rings and ornaments were found and given to various German museums, but the finder, Mr Philipsen's grandfather, was allowed to keep this ring, which he later passed on to his grandson. The ring also has been authenticated, German savants placing the date of its burial at 9 A.D.

It is about three-quarters of an inch in diameter, and a little more than a quarter of an inch broad, with, on the outside surface, a beautifully worked design showing a fox chasing a hare. On the inside is the inscription in bold lettering: "Patio vt Potio." The gold is in perfect condition.

DR. GOODWIN IS SPEAKER AT MEETING

Central Home and School Association Holds Regular Monthly Gathering.

INTERESTING TALK

Presentation and Address Read to Retiring President, Mrs. D. G. Eldred.

Very gratifying and encouraging to the new officers of the Central Home and School Association was the large and enthusiastic gathering of parents and friends who met in the kindergarten room of the school on Tuesday evening for the first meeting held under the new Executive.

Mrs. Wilfred Boorman was in the chair, and efficiently conducted a splendid program, the main item of which was an address by Dr. M. C. Goodwin.

The meeting opened with the repeating of the Lord's Prayer in unison, followed by the singing of "O Canada."

Dr. Goodwin, the well-known chiropractor of this city, addressed the meeting on "General Health Topics." The very eloquent and instructive talk was illustrated by charts, which gave a clearer and fuller meaning of the important relation of the spine to the other parts of the body. The speaker stressed the importance of diet, rest and posture of young children, and no doubt those parents present will benefit by the impressive talk, to which they gave rapt attention.

O. M. Steer proposed a vote of thanks to the speaker of the evening and to the other artists. This was seconded by Mrs. A. Metheral and heartily responded to by everyone. Mrs. Boorman also voiced her appreciation of the splendid program.

The musical program consisted of:

Piano solo—David Pearse.

Violin solo—Jack Skitch, accompanied on the piano by Miss M. Rome.

Readings—"The New Cook" and "A Lullaby," Gladys Watson.

Piano solo—Muriel Baxter.

Violin solo—Russell Huggins, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. A. Foster.

Readings—"Larry o' Dee" and "The Horse," Margaret E. Wyllie.

Piano solo—Betty Detcher.

Group of songs—Senior Fourth, "A Guid New Year" and "The Woods and Groves." Conductor, Mr. Steer.

Piano solo—Jenny Heard.

National Anthem.

Master Tom Hooper, on behalf of the pupils of Mr. Steer's room, in a happy speech, presented a cheque to the Association, to be used in the relief work. Living up to the traditions of Saint Valentine, these boys and girls brought offerings on St. Valentine's Day.

The attendance banner went to Mr. Steer's room.

Miss Margaret Wyllie acted as accompanist for the opening and closing exercises.

After the program the members met in a short business session to discuss routine matters.

Presentation Made.

At the close of the meeting a very pleasant little ceremony took place—the presentation of a beautiful silver entree dish to Mrs. D. G. Eldred, the retiring president.

The following address was read by Mrs. S. Gibbs, and Mrs. P. Gray made the presentation:

"Dear Mrs. Eldred,—In this the month of March, we look back with pleasure over the past twelve months and recall our pleasant associations with you as President of Central Home and School Association for the year 1930.

"We feel it has been a great pleasure to have been able to help so many families who have been in distress, and to still be able to leave such a substantial balance in our treasury. We know it has only been through your untiring efforts and your ever willingness to work and help that has made this possible. Your cheerful manner and your pleasing personality has endeared you to all of us. We therefore ask you to accept this little gift as a token of our appreciation for your faithful services, and we trust we will still have your continued interest in our work."

Signed on behalf of the Central Home and School Association.

Mrs. Eldred made a suitable reply.

INDIGESTION NEARLY DROVE HIM WILD

until TANLAC came to his rescue

What a train of misery follows constant indigestion. The poor, weak stomach cannot digest food properly. Gas causes cramps and bloating; the pressure of gas distends the walls of the stomach and presses against the heart, causing fluttering and excessive nervousness. Because food is not digested, the body is not nourished and there is a steady loss in weight and strength.

As Mr. Henry Sholer, 175 Edinburgh St., Peterborough, Ont., writes, "Often I was so weak and miserable that I had to stop work before quitting time. But good old Tanlac came to my rescue when heartburn, palpitation, headaches and nervousness almost set me wild. Tanlac seemed to build me up all over again and now I have not a complaint in the world. I would not swap Tanlac for all other medicines put together."

You'll agree with Mr. Sholer and 100,000 others who have endorsed Tanlac after giving it a trial. Get a bottle at your druggist's to-day. More than 55 million bottles sold.

NORWOOD JOINS WITH MARMORA ROAD PETITION

United With Peterborough and Havelock in Favor of Highway No. 7 Construction.

CENSURES COUNTY COUNCIL

Unemployment and Lack of a Good Highway Through Division Reasons for Action.

(By A Staff Reporter)

NORWOOD, March 13.—The villages of Norwood and Marmora have joined with the city of Peterborough and Havelock in petitioning the Ontario Department of Highways to continue the construction of the provincial highway which the Peterborough county council has asked the Department to suspend.

The sentiment and wishes of the people of Norwood was expressed in the following resolution adopted at a meeting of the village council this week:

"Moved by Councillor W. B. Parcels, seconded by Councillor Charles Brown: that this council censures the action of the Peterborough county council in suggesting the discontinuance of work on the King's highway No. 7, and that this council submit a copy of this resolution to the Minister of Highways at the same time adding their keen desire for the carrying on of the proposed highway in view of the unemployment situation and because of the lack of a good trunk road through this important division."

At the same meeting of the Norwood council a copy of a resolution was received from E. C. Prentice, clerk of the council of Marmora village, urging the Department of Highways to proceed with the completion of the Peterborough-Tweed highway which was begun last Fall. Marmora also requested Norwood to endorse the resolution and forward their endorsation to the Minister of Highways.

The opposition expressed by the villages of Norwood, Havelock and Marmora to the obstructing appeal made by the Peterborough county council grows out of the common desire to these communities for the improvement of the road which has so long connected them. This road crosses the Peterborough-Hastings boundary, and although it has not been neglected by the municipalities responsible for its upkeep, it has not been in good condition. A provincial highway would encourage communication between these villages and the intervening townships, apart altogether from the business and traffic which would be stimulated by large numbers of summer tourists. If the Department accedes to the request from Peterborough County and delays the resumption of the work which the winter interrupted there will undoubtedly be keen disappointment along the proposed route on either side of the boundary between the two counties.

LAKEFIELD FANS NORWOOD GUESTS

Varied Program For Visitors After Hockey Game.

The Norwood fans who accompany their team their team to Lakefield to-night for the final game in the East Peterborough League will not have time for the return of the hospitality which they extended to the Lakefield visitors Wednesday night. To fill in the long wait from the time the game ended until the arrival of the morning train which brought them back to Peterborough at five o'clock the Lakefield team and their supporters, about thirty of them, were provided with a pleasing variety of entertainment. Two rinks of curlers from Lakefield engaged two Norwood rinks in a midnight session with the brooms and stones. Warden C. S. Tanner of Lakefield skipped one rink against Reeve W. H. Montgomery of Norwood, and the lights were on in the rink for an hour or more after midnight. Down in the town hall there was dancing until after one o'clock. A late supper and fanning "bee" at the hotel completed the program until train time. The thoughtfulness of the Norwood people was greatly appreciated by the visitors. Although there is keen sporting rivalry between the two villages their social relations are most cordial, and Norwood helped to strengthen that sentiment by their hospitality Wednesday night.

Workmen Opening Up Brighton Road

CAMPBELLFORD, March 13.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Every effort is being made on the Brighton-Campbellford highway to open it to traffic, after the severe snow storms of this week. The government plough has been in operation on the road for the past two days and has cleared that portion of the highway between Codrington and Brighton. The road from Ross' to Campbellford is also passable, the plough now being busy on that stretch between Codrington and Ross'. Although the Brighton stage, running out of Campbellford, reached that point on Thursday, it is expected that the highway from here to Brighton will be open for all traffic sometime Friday.

Pilgrim Trust Fund Helps a Cathedral

LONDON, March 13 (By The Canadian Press)—Historic Tudor stained glass is to be installed in the great cloister of Gloucester Cathedral, thanks to a grant of $2,050, made by the Pilgrim Trust. Since the year 1928 the glass, which came from Prinknash Park, near Gloucester, has been lying in the triforium of the Cathedral, the Dean and Chapter being unable out of their limited income to find funds for the restoration and adjustment of the stonework to take the glass.

The glass was saved for the nation by the action of W. St. Clair Baddeley, of Painswick, who some time ago stated that Tudor panels and roundels (Royal and Family armorial), 12 in number, were to be parted with by the trustees of the Prinknash Park estate on account of the death duties. Mr. Baddeley said that a valuation price of 1,000 guineas had been placed on this historic art treasure, and that $3,250 was still needed to enable it to be bought and given to the Cathedral. Thanks to this appeal the money was raised and the panels were presented to the Dean and Chapter.

They would have remained still longer in the triforium but for a successful appeal by Mr. Baddeley to the Pilgrim Trust. The glass was made in part for the country house of Parker, Abbot of Gloucester, and at his order, early in the 16th century, and in part for his successors there, the Chandos-Brydges and the heiress of the Lords Bray, in 1544. All the panels are finely preserved.

The Dean of Gloucester stated recently that, thanks to the Pilgrim Trust, the work of installing the panels in the great cloister would begin at an early date.

Clemency Petition Started For Kovacs

WELLAND, Ont., March 12 (C.P.).—A petition was placed in circulation here to-day seeking the clemency of the Governor-General on behalf of Joseph Kovacs, 45-year-old Hungarian, now in Welland County Jail under sentence of death for the recent murder of Constable James A. McNichol of the Crowland Police Department.

The petition says that Kovacs was prejudiced at his trial not only by the inflamed state of public opinion against the former enemy subject, but also by the pending trial of Jack Brockenshire at Toronto, who is also charged with murder of a police constable.

The petition also claims the weight of competent evidence is shown by the charge of the trial judge to the jury proves that Kovacs was in such a state of intoxication at the time of the commission of the crime as to negative the intention to commit murder.

After "Professor Toni Torrenz, Prince of Palmists, and Best Reader of Hands in Ireland," told a burly stranger at Newry that he would have "a long and prosperous life and would carry through anything he attempted," he learned that the stranger was a policeman, and now is doing hard labor in Newry prison.

ESKIMOS ON TOP

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 13.—(CP)—Seattle Eskimos climbed to the top of the Pacific Coast Hockey League here last night by defeating Portland 3-1. The defeat meant Portland's definite elimination from the league play-off. Savage, Anderson and Bellefeuille were Seattle's scorers. Downie notched Portland's lone tally.

QUEENSBORO LADIES HEAR TALK ON JAPAN

Splendid Outline of Conditions in East Given at W.M.S. Meet by Miss M. Love.

QUEENSBORO, March 13 (Examiner Correspondence). — The March meeting of the W.M.S. was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Ida McCaw. Mrs. Everson, the president, was in the chair and opened the meeting with singing "O For a Thousand Tongues to Sing My Great Redeemer's Praise." Prayer was offered by the pastor. The Scripture lesson was read from Col. 1:9-14 and explained by Mrs. Everson, who stated that the passage read was a prayer of Paul reciprocating the interest and prayers of the people of Colossæ for him.

The Easter thankoffering envelopes were given out and arrangements were made for an open meeting to be held in the church the second Wednesday in April. Mr. Everson, Miss Ida McCaw and Mrs. Everson were left in charge of the program, while Mrs. Bruce Leslie, Mrs. Wallace Kincaid and Mrs. C. B. Hamm were to look after serving refreshments.

Mrs. John Alexander, Sr., read a piece on the temperance situation in Korea, written by Rev. R. M. McMullen, United Church missionary, whose old home is at Emily, a short distance north of Omemee, in which it was stated that whiskey made in England was being freely sold in Korea and this added to the duties and work of the missionary.

Mrs. George Holmes gave a paper on "Missionary Ruts and How to Avoid Them." This was a practical and timely word of council on how to succeed in the work of the W.M.S. and mentioned the danger of the president trying to do all the work and of appointing the same persons from time to time on committees.

Life in Japan.

Miss Marion Love gave a synopsis of the study book, chapter four, entitled "Rural Life and Conditions in Japan." In this it was pointed out that farms in Japan are from an acre and a quarter to an acre and one half in size. Rice is the principal crop and about 300 days' labor is required to grow a rice crop. Ninety-eight per cent. of the arable land has to be irrigated and is worked while standing in mud from one to a foot and one half in depth. Thirty-eight bushels to an acre is an average crop and this will feed four men one year. The rice is harvested in the summer or hot weather, and barley or wheat is sown immediately afterwards. Sometimes a single night's frost in May has damaged the crop to the amount of half a million dollars. Beans are grown on the mud ridges thrown up to keep the water in bounds.

The culture of silkworms is an important industry and Japan supplies sixty per cent. of the world's need. The production of rayon has injured the silk industry very much. The Japanese can grow many fruits and vegetables grown in Ontario and some of the tropical fruits.

The average farmer's income is about $260; out of this he pays around $30 taxes and $40 for fertilizer, after which the tenant gives the landlord half, leaving him about $95 out of which to pay all his household expenses.

A large amount of money is being spent in tobacco and liquor, it being estimated that as much as $10,000 was so spent in one little hamlet. There are a number of unions among the farmers and this has resulted in equalizing the conditions of living.

Women and children are overworked and underfed. An occasional rich man is being influenced by the gospel message and is using his influence to help the poor and oppressed. The work of the Christian missionary is heartily appreciated. The meeting was closed by singing "Hark, the Voice of Jesus Calling," and prayer by Mrs. John Alexander, Sr. The hostess served a delicious lunch, and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Happenings on Hoodoo Friday, 13th, Do Not Always Result in Disaster

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 13 (C.P.). — This is the second Friday 13th of 1931, and another will be along in November

For hundreds of years Friday, unassisted, has been considered a hoodoo, and the same is true of the 13th. When they both fall on one day, superstitious people throw up their hands in horror.

But the evidence shows good things happen on these days as well as ill.

Here are some events that befell on Friday:

Columbus set sail, sighted land, started back to Spain, and returning, discovered the mainland, all on Fridays.

John Cabot started his journey of discovery; the United States Declaration of Independence was signed; Cornwallis surrendered; Melender founded St. Augustine; the Mayflower reached land; the first emigrants reached Plymouth Rock; the airplane Bremen ended Atlantic flight; Shakespeare, Napoleon, Bismarck, Disraeli, and Washington were born; Christ was crucified; the Battle of Waterloo was fought; Joan of Arc was burned; Lincoln and Caesar were assassinated.

As for the 13th:

Richard Wagner, who had 13 letters in his name, was born in 1813, composed 13 famous operas, presented the first on March 13, and died on February 13

In the House of Commons the commission on internal economy and the committee vested with the duty of striking the special standing committees of the House were named. Routine reports were received. The Speaker announced that he had given authority to issue writs for by-elections in Hamilton east and Three Rivers, both seats having become vacant through the death of the former members.

ENGLISMAN AIDS GERMAN EX-SOLDIER

Bequest for the Disabled German Soldiers is Held Valid.

LONDON, March 13 (By The Canadian Press)—"Victorious and wealthy England is well able to provide for its soldiers disabled in the late war," declared Otway Robinson, a retired master mariner, in his last will and testament. Mr. Robinson, who died last year, bequeathed his residuary estate, totalling $175,000, "to the German Government for the benefit of its soldiers disabled in the late war." In the Chancery Division Justice Maugham pronounced the request to be valid. Opposition was offered on behalf o General Smuts, who would have received $25,000 personally in the event of the gift to the Germans being held void, and the remainder of the estate for him to apply as he might think fit for the benefit of disabled Boers who had suffered through the South African War. On General Smuts' behalf it was urged that although Germany was not now an enemy country, bequests of this kind might assist that race to make another war.

Mr. Justice Maugham: On the same principle, said to a discharged prisoner might encourage him to commit another crime.

Counsel: If, however, the gift goes to Boers disabled in the war of many years ago, but who are now citizens of the British Empire, it will help those men and do exactly what testator desires, namely, endeavor to dispel any ill-feeling that might possibly remain between the two races.

Mr. Roxburgh (for the German Reich) said the German Government was perfectly willing to carry out the trust.

Stafford Croesman (for the Attorney-General) supported the proposition that the gift for the benefit of disabled German soldiers was a good charitable gift. He said the suggestion that the gift was against public policy was ridiculous.

Mr. Justice Maugham, giving judgment, said: "A trust for helping ex-enemy soldiers disabled in the war is more likely to tend towards peace in the future than it is to encourage people to adopt bellicose ideas. I see no difficulty in holding that the fund should be handed over to the proper officer on behalf of the German Reich."

LORD BEAVERBROOK CONTINUES CRUSADE

British Statesman Instrumental in Forming New Agricultural Party at Norfolk.

LONDON, March 13.—(By the Canadian Press)—A thorn in the side of the Conservative party for many months Lord Beaverbrook continues with undiminished energy his Empire free trade crusade. After electing one Empire Free Trader and incidentally defeating the official Conservative candidate, Lord Beaverbrook had the satisfaction late in February of seeing his Empire free trader, Brig.-General A. C. Critchley, native of Calgary, poll more votes than the official Conservative in the East Islington-by-election, though Labor retained that seat.

Lord Beaverbrook recently was instrumental in forming in Norfolk the new Agricultural Party. This body, a direct creation of the bustling newspaper baron, is however, fairly local and it is not expected that other agriculturists will follow the example of Norfolk—not at least without considerable campaign work.

The special correspondent of the Sunday Observer paints an intriguing picture of the way in which Lord Beaverbrook "organized" the farmers of Norfolk, who formed a new party with this platform:

"Taxes on foreign foodstuffs, involving the acceptance of the same principle of protection for agriculture that it is proposed to concede to manufacturing industries, (taxes on foreign foodstuffs means all foreign agricultural produce that is competing with the home producers, as, for instance, meat, machine skimmed milk, fruit pulp, bacon, eggs, etc.)

"In addition, a guaranteed market and price covering the costs of production on the average farm to be given for all wheat under cultivation. Duty on imported foreign barley used for malting and distilling without reservation. Preference for home produced foodstuffs in Navy, Army and Air Force contracts.

"Dominions to get the benefit of the market for the supplies of foodstuffs needed over and above the maximum home production under the provisions of Empire Free Trade.

"By this time they have come to know him. When there was a by-election in North Norfolk a few months ago, he was to be seen striding over the fields, all burnt up with fire, energy, and zeal", the Observer says. "Men returning home from their work, often saw him appealing with outstretched arms to a familiar scene of sheep dogs and friends, while a number of philosophical bullocks stared luguburious in the background. They thought him very nice, decided his black hat was rather odd, and did not put his candidate at the top of the poll.

PLEASING PROGRAM PRESENTED MARMORA INSTITUTE MEETING

MUSICAL NUMBERS

MARMORA, March 13 (Examiner Correspondence).—The entertainment of the men folk was taken into consideration as Marmora Women's Institute planned their March meeting. This meeting, but for the storm of the past week-end, would have been held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J Park in Marmora Township with the blocking of the country roads around Marmora it was deemed advisable not to postpone the event but instead to have the venue in town.

Consequently the White Hall was requisitioned and here approximately eighty people with sexes evenly divided gathered for the enjoyment of an entertaining program. Mrs. H. W. Sabine, president of the Marmora Institute, took the chair for the business part of the meeting.

The ladies responded to the roll call with "A wise saying of Father's."

The program committee consisting of E. C. Prentice, D. E. Bell, H. W. Sabine and W. A. Sanderson then got together and soon E. C. Prentice was in the chair and W. A. Sanderson directing community singing with Miss O'Neill of the Continuation School at the piano.

Next came the men's roll call and much amusement was occasioned as practically all responded with "A wise saying of mother's." This was followed by a rollicking song by Ed. Flynn, "Every day will be Sunday bye and bye." Seymour Henry then demonstrated his ability as a harmonica soloist. E. C. Prentice drew out much laughter as he read, "How to figure out your best girl's batting average." George Woodhouse came next with a pleasing song number, "Drifting Along."

Debate Enjoyed

The event of the evening however was the debate in which it was "Resolved that it is not in the best interests of the race for women to return to long hair and long skirts." Leading off for the affirmative H. W. Sabine outlined the four main points to be taken. There was he said, the effect mentally on the wearer the effect on the health of women, the wonderful saving of time in the manufacture of present day apparel, and the financial question. He cleverly enlarged on the first two points and left it to his partner, D. E. Bell to elaborate the thoughts suggested by the latter two. Rev. T. H. Howard made quite a hit with the audience as he launched the attack of the negatives. His ancedotes and ready wit absorbed the closest attention. After D. E. Bell had given his support to the affirmative side, H. R. Haacke ably supported his colleague while the judging was being attended to, some more community singing was enjoyed and Rev. A. B. Coldwell as critic made a few remarks.

The judges were Mesdames C. A. Bleecker, T. N. Marett and R. E. Bonter. Their verdict was that the negative side won out. George Woodhouse was again called upon and in response he choicely rendered "Wedding Bells," Seymour Henry followed with another hormonica selection after which W. A. Sanderson was heard to good effect in "The bonnie, bonnie banks of Loch Lomond."

After some excellent refreshments had been partaken of, the National Anthem was sung and the party broke up.

There is every possibility that the entertaining of the men folks by the Women's Institute will become an annual affair. Though taking no part in the evening's proceedings, Miss Rampage, who is conducting the sewing class was present and entered into the spirit of the evening with all the zest of the local folk.

The meeting was under the direction of the missionary convenor, Mrs. N. Thompson, and the speaker gave a full account of the beauty of the Peace river country as described by Alexander McKenzie, as he and his colleagues found this beautiful attractive country. When they first landed there in the early eighteenth century. The speaker told of the Mission work which is being carried on therein and of the need of the Christian churches to send all the help they can to bring the gospel to the worthy people of the Peace river district.

Karl Lang led in the devotional excercises and during the program a beautiful solo was ably rendered by David Taylor.

Next week's meeting will take the place of a St. Patrick's social. The young people will hold a debate, "Resolved that wealth is a greater source of unhappiness than poverty." LINDSAY ISOLATED IN HIGHWAY TRAFFIC

High Winds Fills Up Roads Which Were Fairly Passable Before Sunday's Storm.

LINDSAY, March 13.—(Special to The Examiner).—This town is again isolated insofar as highway traffic is concerned. The wind which prevailed in the open country on Wednesday and today filled in the highways which were fairly passable so that this afternoon it was impossible to travel on any of the arteries leading from the town.

The Lindsay-Toronto highway, through which a trench was ploughed on Wednesday is completely blocked. The highway's department plough was completely balked in its efforts to penetrate the "beautiful" and last night it was ditched on the outskirts of the town. Two busses are stalled in the snow between here and Whitby, and the opinion is expressed that it will take more than the big ploughs to clear the highway for traffic. There are huge banks of snow on either side of the road, and these reach a height of ten and twelve feet. A large bus is also tied up in Lindsay.

Similar conditions prevail on the Peterborough-Lindsay highway. Yesterday morning a large plough was requisitioned from the highway's department to open up the paved stretch from Lindsay to the Ops swing bridge in order that a funeral cortege might reach Riverside cemetery, which fronts on the highway. The road from this point to Peterborough, however, is blocked. The highway's department plough which operates out of Peterborough has been kept busy keeping the Peterborough-Port Hope highway open for traffic, so that it has been impossible to spend much time on the Peterborough-Lindsay stretch.

Of all Russian imports of farm implements last year 85 per cent were from America.

Have you ever realized that the spirit of homelife is a thing of beauty?

• • • • • • •

It is based on affection and no homelife can be successful unless its members endeavor to "keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

• • • • • • •

Peace is the bond of its security and each member has to live up to the bond as faithfully as if it were a bond in business which is a guarantee of good faith.

• • • • • • •

If you will look in the dictionary you will see it defines a bond as "an obligation in writing under seal."

• • • • • • •

The home is founded on a more precious thing than is business, which is purely commercial, but no business of any kind can be successful unless it keeps the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

• • • • • • •

The spirit of business partnership is co-operation for the benefit of the concern. Unless the partners work peacefully together the business is a failure.

• • • • • • •

But each one has some ideas of his own to contribute and the combination of these ideals spell better business and more success.

• • • • • • •

Surely you can see the resemblance of a successful home to such a business. The common interest—the prospering of the home—is like the prosperity of a business although not reckoned in exactly the same species.

• • • • • • •

Varying temperaments and points of view have to come under the blending influence of this common interest wherein each contributes a quota of individuality plus ideas some of which are widely different.

• • • • • • •

It is in the combination of these ideas and the amicable cooperation of these personalities that success is assured in homelife.

• • • • • • •

In the whole wide universe there is nothing more beautiful than a happy homelife. Is it not work "endeavoring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace?"

That Body of Yours

"PISCES"

If March 13th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and from 9:45 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. and from 6:15 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The planetary aspects of March 13th point to a day of opportunity and advancement, and all that is needed is courage to "wade in" and win. In the evening, pessimism will prevail, and relief should be sought in some form of light recreation.

A child born on this March 13th will possess, both in childhood and maturity, the qualities of a leader. It will have a retentive memory and learn readily. In adulthood, its developed nature will demand strong love. It will not be adverse to flattery.

If your birthday falls on March 13th, you are emotional, dramatic, and always interesting. You are witty and have a pretty humor. You always shine in the social circle in which you move, and are a popular figure in it. You are a great lover of music, and the stars denote that you should have a good singing voice. No success in life will be vouchsafed you, if you are pitchforked into a job that makes no appeal to your nature. You should always strive to follow your natural bent. If you do not, you will become a nuisance to those around you, by continually "kicking against the pricks." Just as soon as you find out in what you are most competent, and what you would most like to do, go to it and stick to it through thick and thin. Apparent failure may dog your footsteps for a while, but persistence will win out in the long run.

You are intensely curious, not only about events, but about persons. Your insatiable desire to gratify your curiosity often impels you to overstep the bounds of natural courtesy. You are intuitive, and it is fairly safe for you to follow your inner promptings. You are rather apt to indulge in gossip and unless this habit is curbed, it will grow upon you to your own discomfiture, and to the annoyance of your friends.

At the hour of 7:30 p.m., eighty-four people assembled and seated to partake of a sumptuous meal with efficient service at the tables made for the comfort and enjoyment of the guests.

The tables looked very pretty in white linen adorned with freshly cut daffodils, while the hall was decorated in gold and blue, the institute colors, with the Union Jack outstanding.

Before partaking of the dainty delicacies provided, all joined in singing the blessing, "Be Present at Our Table, Lord." During the luncheon the atmosphere was filled with laughter and social chat, including some pleasing comments upon the various salads, cakes, pies, etc., that no doubt some of the cooks received a compliment on their skill and artistry in many of the fancy and appetizing dishes that filled the tables.

Rev. R. W. Paton, M.A., acted as toastmaster and proposed the toast to "The King and the Royal Family," followed by all singing the National Anthem. Canada, Our Country, was proposed by Mr. Charlton Grigg and responded to by Marcena Davey, followed by all singing O Canada.

"How Could You Tell, Mother"

Mother sensed that Frank had a cold as soon as he spoke to her over Long Distance. He had avoided writing her about his illness, for he knew she would worry. Now that he was nearly well again, he decided to telephone her, for he knew she would be worrying because he had not written.

That call gave Frank an idea. Why not telephone mother each week instead of writing? The voice-visit was so much pleasanter for both of them than a letter could be. And Long Distance was so quick . . . he got his connection while he held the line. The cost of the call surprised him — just 25 cents — after 8.30 p.m. And their voices were just as clear as on a local call.

Evening rates on "Anyone" (station-to-station) calls begin at 7 p.m. Night rates begin at 8.30 p.m. Just give "Long Distance" the number you want — it speeds up the service. If you don't know the distant number, "Information" will look it up for you.

STUDENTS' NIGHT WITH ENGINEERS HIGHLY PRAISED

Students and Juniors Deliver Addresses at the Regular Meeting.

WEIGHTY SUBJECTS.

Last evening's meeting of the Engineering Institute was termed "Students' and Juniors' Meeting," but such was the weighty material discussed and the involved explanation given, that the seniors were greatly outshone in many respects.

The first speaker was H. E. Barnett, Jr., E.I.C. who chose as his subject "Selectivity Without Distortion." He stated that the aerial was sensitive to all transmissions brought in from the ether. The great problem, however, was the selection of a station and keeping out all others.

The ordinary radio hook-up has a single "peak" of sensivity, and thus other stronger stations could break in on the one selected. A double condenser would obtain a double peak, and therefore more frequencies and a wider selection. By tight coupling broader peaks for bass or low note prominence could be obtained, and vice versa. Also a capacity and negative-mutual inductive coupling would give parellel lines of sensitivity and there would be an equal reproduction of the frequencies coming in. In this case only one condenser would be required.

By adding another tuning resistance, the ordinary single peak would appear between the double one to fill in the gap and thereby give an evener top and added frequencies. Through the steep sides other stations would be kept out, and yet the broad top would save the tones from becoming distorted by a predominence of bass.

H. Ainsworth delivered a very interesting exposition on the talkies. The speaker explained that when a body is vibrated, the consequent movement reaches the ear as sound, and the further away from the ear it is, the fainter the sound, will be. However, in the movies sound at a distance must be caught and put in such a form as it may be reproduced for the theater.

The recording of the sound may be accomplished in two ways: by the disc and by the the sound tracks on the films themselves. The disc (like a gramaphone record) is used in Vitaphone productions. Mr. Ainsworth then explained scientifically the process of sound, wave lengths, and the regularity and irregularity of their recording. Two types of disc recording were explained. The phonograph disc is produced by a wavy line and the cylinder by the varying depths of a groove.

The sound tracks on a film are made of two-ply duraluminum tape with a U edge. In the Movietones the sound is recorded by horizontal lines of varying thicknesses and widths apart. This is known as variable density. The Photphone recording consists of variable widths. About 4 per cent. of the light falls on a photo-electric cell and the energy is amplified into the horn, thus stabilizing frequencies.

In the reproduction of the sound, the speed of the disc for the talkies is one third of that for a gramaphone. An electric filter is used to take out the screechiness. If this process of recording is well done, the sound will be well synchonized with the picture.

The theatre layout is also complicated. There are two projectors because of the length of the feature stories. These are automatically controlled so that at the end of the section of the film on one machine the other may continue without a break. In Vitaphone pictures, the discs have to be also switched over from one machine to another. In sound track pictures, the record is passed through a potentiometer to two synchronizers (one of which may be an ordinary gramaphone for playing between pictures), and then through three amplifiers to the horns behind the screen.

The modern horns are generally six feet square so as to bring out the low frequencies. The screen is specially woven, and has a small holes 1/16 inch in diameter, and 3/16 inch apart.

The final speaker of the evening was T. L. Woodhall, S.E.I.C. who gave an instructive talk on "Photo-Electric Cells—Theory and Application." Mr. Woodhall outlined the three types of photo-electronic units: The photo-conductive, consisting of a thin strip of active material between two conductors, and which produced resistance on exposures to light; the photo-voltaic, consisting of two electrodes, and one electrolyte which is similar to the ordinary cell and is subject to polarization; the photo tube, made of a light sensitive cell, two electrodes, a cathode and an anode, all built in a vacuum or gas filled glass. The last mentioned may be amplified, and is of great use in the commercial field. Filling the tube with gas increases the sensitivity on the application of a higher voltage, but there is a very low amperage.

The tube may be amplified in two manners by a three electrode vacuum or by a grid globe tube consisting of a three electrode tube, an anode and a cathode, and which gives a higher capacity current.

Mr. Woodhall outlined the characteristics of an ideal cell-sensivity, speed of response, linearity of response, reproductivity, and color sensitiveness.

The application of the photo-electric cell include the controlling of processes as exemplified in the automatic control of traffic lights, and in burglar alarms. Quantitative translation finds its application in the movies. The replacement of the human eye is another use to which the cell may be placed. It gives a "light curve' similar to that of the eye, and is therefore valuable in photometry, measuring the output of a lamp, in the pyrometer through its change of color. In concluding, the speaker said, "Any operation depending upon the visibility of the eye in the future will be controlled by the photo-electric cell."

Japanese Princess Named on Birthday

TOKYO, March 13. (CP) — Japan's tiniest bit of royalty was named Yori Atsuko to-day on the seventh day after the princess' birth and shortly thereafter, in strict accordance with time-honored rites, Emperor Hirohito had duly reported the name to the spirits of the imperial ancestors.

The name was chosen from the ancient Japanese scriptures, Yori meaning obedience to heaven and Atsuko meaning generosity to those on earth.

Princess Yori is the fourth daughter born to their imperial majesties, Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako. The sovereign is without a direct male heir to succeed him on the throne of "the line unbroken for ages eternal."

The name Yori Atsuko was chosen by the princess' father.

Movement On Behalf Of Brandon College

After Thirty Years College May Have to Close Owing to Financial Difficulties.

BRANDON, Manitoba, March 13 (By The Canadian Press) — Brandon citizens are considerably concerned over the possibility of Brandon College having to close owing to financial difficulties. Strong efforts are being made to prevent this, the college having been one of the foremost institutions for 30 years, and several meetings have been held with a view to saving the situation if possible. Mayor Cater, the City Council, Executives of the Board of Trade, members of the School Board, Dr. J. R. C. Evans, president of the college, and D. W. Beaubier, M.P., being present. Besides, the Mayor, President of the Board of Trade, H. L. McNeill, and the president of the college have had an interview with Hon. R. A. Hoey, Minister of Education, in an endeavor to obtain the Manitoba Government's assistance in keeping the college open.

It has been proposed that the Provincial Government should make a grant of $12,500 annually for five years, that Brandon city should grant a similar amount on a vote of the ratepayers, and that a syndicate which has offered to help, should guarantee $22,500, thus providing a total of $47,000 a year—regarded as sufficient to keep the college going. The Minister of Education has promised that the Government will seriously consider the matter of helping the college out of its present difficulties.

Brandon college dates back to 1899, when the Baptist Convention took over Brandon Academy, a private high school that had been opened in 1899 by Dr. S. J. McKee. In the following year, the college was incorporated with a board of 21 directors, and in 1901 a handsome new brick building of four storeys, 100 feet in length and 70 in depth, was opened. This, with the addition of Clark Hall, a residence for women students and the first unit of a projected science building, forms the college as it stands to-day.

Shortly after incorporation, a department of arts was organized and later a department of music and expression. In 1910, the college was affiliated with the McMaster University and became a junior college with power to confer degrees. As the years passed, the demand for high school matriculation courses decreased, and there was a great increase in the demand for university courses, until to-day the great majority of the students are taking the arts courses and small classes in Grade II and matriculation are all left of the high school programme. Though the college was founded by the Baptist church it is non-sectarian.

There are almost 200 students at the college and the staff numbers 21, of whom nine are women. For many years the college was maintained by the Baptist church.

Twelve clergy of the parish of St. Mary, Portsmouth England, have asked the vicar to deduct $50 each from their salaries this year to help clear off the church overdraft at the bank.

BOOKS OF OLD FACTORS MAY BE PRICELESS

Rich Store of Books Discovered at Olds Posts on Hudson Bay.

MAY BE FIRST EDITIONS

TORONTO, Ont., March 13 (By The Canadian Press)—Perhaps the greatest treasure of first editions uncovered for generations, will be revealed when examination has been made of a vast store of ancient books discovered in the old posts of the Hudson's Bay factors of bygone days.

The Mail and Empire reveals that a Toronto book collector has been requested by an engineer and bibliphile living on the Bay, for bibliographies to check over the works that have been discovered.

At Albany, at York, there are shelves filled with books that have never been catalogued, the formats never checked with bibliographies to reveal that strange treasure which is enclosed by the original boards of a rare first edition.

A quick survey by the engineer revealed what he believed to be a first edition of Boswell's life of Johnson. Scott's Waverley, Dickens' Pickwick Papers in original paper parts, Richardson, creator of the novel, was represented by Charles A. Harlowe, Pope, Dryden who composed verses to the original Gentlemen Adventures trading into Hudson's Bay and many others are presented. But authentic edition details shall remain to be checked.

For two centuries before the modern pioneering began traders lived on the bay—Wintered on the bay. And in the long, dark days of Winter even the most adventurous spirits found reading a pleasant way to occupy the time. At every post a library by degrees was established as successive factors left their books behind them. Ships in their annual voyages brought out from England the current volumes for the men isolated at Moose, at York, at Albany, at Churchhill.

At Moose the library vanished years ago in a Spring flood. If reports are true, the loss meant much more than the weight of the books in furs. Yet, so the story goes, the books were moved from the room they had occupied for so many years because an official wanted the room for something else. All winter they were piled in boxes on the ice waiting for a new storeroom. In the spring they went out with the ice—books collected over a period of two centuries. Shakespeare was more or less a modern writer when Radisson established the first post for the Gentlemen Adventurers trading into Hudson Bay. Dryden and Somuel Pepys were friends of the first adventurers. The classics of the day naturally found their way to the bay. Men who in England would have cared little about reading, had time to wade through volume after volume in the long winters in the bay. Kelsey came to the bay at ragamuffin boy from London. Yet, his journal just published, is one of the most readable accounts of life in the north. The 18th century editions he must have read at York and Churchhill are still in the libraries at the old forts.

Samuel Hearne had little education but his narrative of his first trip to the Arctic and his discovery of the Coppermine is one of the most thrilling tales in the thrilling series of Arctic adventure. Hearne probably read with joy the Boswell's Johnson which went out to the post just a year or so before his first attempt to reach the Coppermine.

Cure By Antivenine Tiger Snake Poison

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 13 (By The Canadian Press)—Successful laboratory tests of antivenine as a cure for the bite of a tiger snake have been completed and the first supplies of the specific have been issued by the Commonwealth serum laboratories, so that antivenine is now procurable for use against the venom of the deadly tiger snake. Antivenine, however, may not be used successfully for the treatment of a bite of any other venomous snake, but the preparation of copperhead antivenine is proceeding in the Commonwealth laboratories.

Attempts also are being made to prepare a similar specific against the bite of the death adder. In the case of error in the identification of a snake the injection of an inappropriate antivenine is harmless. It may even, to some extent, be effective, although the full effect is obtained only by using the proper serum.

The preliminary work which made the preparation of the antivenine possible was done at the Walter and Eliza Hall Institute connected with the Melbourne Hospital, under the direction of Dr. C. H. Kellaway, who is continuing experiments which were begun three years ago on the nature and effects of the venom of Australian snakes. He was making observations with tiger snakes in his laboratory recently to determine by what means the snake becomes immune against his own venom. The tiger snake will take an injection of its own venom sufficient to kill a dozen horses without showing any effect, and it is believed that a knowledge of how the snake's immunity is gained will be of great importance in advancing the treatment of snake-bite.

Sudbury Qualifies To Meet Hamilton Tigers

WOLVES SCORE DECISIVE WIN OVER SOLDIERS

Outplay O. H. A. Intermediate Champions in Allan Cup Elimination.

BY 8 TO 3 COUNT.

Outweighed By Their Opponents, Winners Much Clever-er on Attack.

TORONTO, March 13. — These Wolves of the North are always the same. They came to Toronto last night unheralded and unsung, and when they skated out on the ice to do battle against the husky Royal Military College Cadets they looked like pigmies in comparison.

"What an outfit!" quoth the old-timers who never miss the amateur struggles, but at the finish the score was 8 to 3 and the Wolves had qualified to play against Hamilton Tigers in the next Allan Cup round.

The Cadets acted like a tired team, but even at their best it is doubtful if they could have conquered the Northerners. The latter proved to be good stick-handlers. They can check, and, above all, they know how to score when they get in close. In fact, on only one occasion, and that the best chance of all, did they fail to tally when they were reasonably certain of hitting the twine, and this opportunity came when the count was 8 to 3.

Cadets Try Hard.

Cadets went down fighting hard. Even when their cause was absolutely hopeless they kept plugging away, and they had no better supporter than Jim Sutherland, famous Kingston sportsman. Sutherland would not be dismayed, and until the last he did not abandon hope. James, however, had little to say when it was over. Cadets didn't live up to his expectations, but that was something else, again.

Blake, Tulloch, Roque, and Delabbio were possibly outstanding for the winners, but not by much, and there wasn't a weakling in the Wolves' line-up. The whole team had speed to burn, and they distanced their pursuers in nearly every race for the gypsum. They, however, will need all of this skating ability to keep abreast of the Tigers. The series should be productive of many thrills.

KEENE BLANKS BAILIEBORO 2-0

Losers Drop Several Opportunities to Score By Poor Work Around Nets.

Keene shut Bailieboro out 2-0 at the Brock street ring last night. It was a fairly evenly-contested scrap, and the losers had Keene stepping in the last frame to keep them out. They lost several chances through poor work around the net, and missed the goal often on hard shots. The Keene team travelled faster and combined better, scoring both goals on passes.

The game started rather slow with considerable backchecking around the centre. Halfway through, Keene notched one counter and play speeded up till the bell. They got one more early in the middle go, and play was even and speedy. Both goalies had to stop some hard shots. The last session was tight enough the first half. Then the losers sent four men down the ice and made it plenty hot for the Keene defense. But the latter team broke away several times to keep the game even and test Muskrat with some tough ones. The chief was right there and handled them with ease. The boys were battling back and forth at the final bell.

For Keene, the Shearer boys went good as did Bowie and McCarthy. Nelson stopped some difficult shots throughout. Muskrat played a nice game in the net for Bailieboro and the forwards never quit trying.

The teams:

Keene—Goal, Nelson; right defense, Fletcher; left defense, Andy Shearer; centre, McCarthy; right defense, Art Shearer; left defense, Bowie; alternates, Spears and Connelly.

Referee—Pat Calladine.

Canadiens Blanked By Maroons 3-0

OUT OF GAME FOR SEASON

VANCOUVER, B. C., Mar. 13.—(CP)—Doug Brennan, defenceman of the Vancouver Lions, who sustained serious injury when Bobby Conners, Seattle forward, clipped him over the head with his stick in last Friday night's game at Seattle, will be out of the game for the balance of the league schedule, it is announced.

Frank A. Patrick, president of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, also intimated that Conners' suspension for the balance of the season would stand.

MAROONS MEET PICTON TO-NIGHT

First Game for J. J. Robinson Cup Will be Held in Bellville.

MADOC ALSO PLAYS

CAMPBELLFORD, March 13.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—The Campbellford Maroons will be seen in action this year, when they travel to Belleville on Friday to clash with the Picton squad in the first round for the J. J. Robinson trophy, Campbellford won this cup last year, which goes to the winner of the three groups in the Bay of Quinte district, Prince Edward County, Trent Valley League, and Belleville City League, and although not holding any league this year has the privilege of defending the title.

This makes a double header to be staged in the Belleville Arena on Friday. Campbellford, the holders of the trophy, will play off with Picton, winners of the Prince Edward group, while Madoc, Trent Valley League Champions will clash with the Y's Men, who hold the lead in the Belleville City League. The winners of these two games will meet to decide the issue sometime next week in Belleville.

This is expected to be a real night of hockey. It will be the Maroons first appearance in Belleville this year, and although the boys have been off the ice since the last of the Trent Valley League games they are well rested up and will put up a good fight to retain possession of the cup.

Madoc on the other hand, has played three games on that ice this year and have given a splendid account of themselves. Giving Stirling more than a run for their money all winter, they stole the bacon from them and took Whittys cup away back home to shine up for next year's struggle. Fans who make the grade and see the game will not be disappointed, and the Belleville fans will no doubt rally to the support of their own team.

Ontario Play-Offs Start This Evening

TORONTO, Ont., March 13 (C. P.). — The second set of games in the Ontario Hockey League play-offs to-night brings together the third place Stratford Nationals and second place Niagara Falls Cataracts on the latter team's ice, and Kitchener Silverwoods and Galt Terriers.

The Silverwoods and the Terriers meet in Galt in the first of home-and-home games to decide who shall meet Oshawa in a "sudden-death" match and qualify to enter the play-offs proper. Galt, Kitchener, and Oshawa wound up the regular schedule in a tie for fourth place.

The Cataracts were beaten by the Guelph Maple Leafs, 2 to 1, in the first game of the pound robin series.

BULLDOGS CAN CLINCH BERTH

Victory Over Cleveland Indians To-night Will Place Them Among Favorites.

PITTSBURG LOSES GROUND.

TORONTO, Ont., March 13 (C. P.)—London Tecumsehs are breathing somewhat easier to-day. Last night their rivals for the last play-off berth in the International Hockey League—Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets—lost a fine chance to gain ground when they fell before the lowly Detroit Olympics 2 to 1.

The Tecumsehs, in addition to holding a one-point lead over the Pittsburgh hockeyists, also have a game in hand which is quite an advantage at this stage of the race with the teams only having three and four games to play.

To-night the third place Cleveland Indians travel to Windsor to meet the Bulldogs of that city in the only scheduled fixture. The Canadian team holds a point lead over last season's champions at present, and by winning to-night can clinch a play-off berth beyond doubt.

CANUCKS LOSE 1ST DECISION TO MUNROMEN

Maroon's Second String Line Carries Red Shirts to Victory Over Intra-City Rivals.

AMERKS DOWN SENATORS.

Shore and Somers Start Free-for-all as Hawks Beat Bruins.

TORONTO, Ont., March 13 (C.P.)—Matching speed with speed and showing marked improvement in their all-round play, Montreal Maroons held the limelight in last night's National Hockey League activities by blanking their intra-city rivals, Les Canadiens, by 3 to 0.

The victory, their first of the season over the Habitants, Canadian group champions, enabled the Munromen to maintain their one-point lead over New York Americans in the struggle for third place. The Amerks remain on the heels of the Maroons, however, by winning over Ottawa Senators, 2 to 0.

Chicago Blackhawks hung up their fourth triumph of the current schedule over Boston Bruins, United States section monarch, by a 3 to 2 score, while in the other programed fixture the lowly Philadelphia Quakers blasted the play-off prospects of Detroit Falcons, beating them 7 to 5.

Two ties and three defeats at the hands of their fellow townsmen was the record that stared Maroons in the face when they took the ice at the Forum, but it didn't worry them in the least.

Hooley Smith, right wing cog in the famous three "S" line of the Maroons, was absentee owing to a broken wrist, but Bill Phillips accomplished a good night's work on the right rail.

It was the splendid showing of the Maroon second string line of Trottier, Northcott and Ward which has carried the team to victory in the last five starts, that was largely responsible for the win.

Amerks Down Senators

Two goals in the last frame enabled the Americans to down the Senators at New York. The teams battled on even terms during the first 40 minutes. Soon after the start of the third chapter, Frank Carson and Bill Brydges scored a goal apiece to keep the "A's" in the running for a play-off berth.

The Bruins did not take kindly to their defeat in Chicago. After Lola Couture scored the winning marker for the Blackhawks in the last minute of the final period, Eddie Shore and Art Somers clashed with flying fists and before they could be separated every player on the ice took part in the melee.

As a result of the triumph the Hawks are now three points in the van of New York Rangers, who were idle.

Detroit Falcons still had a mathematical chance to nose out the Rangers for third place before their tilt with Quakers. The defeat, however, the second straight at the hands of the tail-enders, completely shattered the Falcons hopes of reaching the coveted circles.

WESTCLOX GIRLS IN OVERTIME TIE

Dorothy Gainor and Gladys Mortimer Are Marksmen in Exhibition Hockey Tilt.

NICE STICK-HANDLING.

A good-sized crowd were at the Brock street rink last night to see the girls' hockey game between Westclox and Keene. It ended in a 1-1 draw and a ten-minute overtime period failed to break it. The lasses from Keene know their hockey and they almost beat their opponents, the Westclox notching their counter a half minute before the last bell.

Both teams passed the puck often but their shots were both weak and wide. Dot Webb in the Westclox citadel played the game on her knees but she had more than a prayer when Keene tried to break thrugh her defense. K. Nelson on the Keene defense had the bodychecking system down pat. She dumped all and sundry that tried to get around her side of the rink. Neither outfit displayed a great deal of speed, but there was a certain amount of smart stickhandling seen which is surprising enough considering the girls' inexperience.

Keene Takes Lead.

Keene took the aggressive in the opening canto and the frame was still young when Dorothy Gainor came down the right side and shot from an angle to make it 1-0. The rest of the period was even up and down hockey with plenty of checking, but very clean. The fair players received plenty of voluntary advice from the masculine rooters throughout. The middle chapter was a hard fought session from beginning to end. It was faster and the girls got going right. Flashes of nice stickhandling and checking were scattered all through. D Mortimer worked hard and threatened often. But there weren't many shots and the few there were went wide, or gave the goalies no trouble. Coming out for the last stanza, Westclox pressed hard. Good defensive work by the Keene damsels held them out and their shots were long and lacked steam. Several stiff bodychecks slowed them up and play was fairly even. With the session almost over, Gladys Mortimer went through the entire Keene crew on a beautiful bit of work to balance the count.

Fail to Break Tie.

The players went out for a ten-minute overtime period, but failed to break the deadlock. Westclox sent four girls up and they were dangerous for a while, although Keene went down the ice to threaten more than once. Both outfits were plenty tired and playing ragged hockey at the finishing gong.

For the local team, every girl went good, with Dot and Gladys Mortimer playing an outstanding game. They were the best pair on the ice. Both forward lines for the Keene aggregation worked hard and passed the rubber unselfishly. The defense and goalie held their opponents out most of the time Dot Gainor went nice when she got hold of the disc.

The teams:

Keene—Goal, L. McCarthy; right deefnse, K. McCarthy; left defense, K. Nelson; centre, M. Brown; right wing, D. Gainor; left wing, H. Nelson; alternates, J. Cameron R. Gainor, D. Chapman and E. Nelson.

Referee—"Gamey" Jarvis.

Xavier-McGill Tilts To Be 2-Game Series

MONTREAL, Que., March 13.—(CP)—St. Francois Xavier and McGill University, intermediate and senior titleholders, respectively, will play Monday and Wednesday nights next week in a home and home, total goals to count, series for the provincial championship. The series was originally to go to the team which first won two games but in view of Wednesday's scoreless deadlock it was decided to avoid a protracted struggle by making the series a two game affair.

This plan was announced following a meeting of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association at which a protest from Sherbrooke in regard to its series of games with St. Francois was considered and rejected.

Art works imported into the United States last year are estimated to have been worth $65,000,000.

Books published in England last year numbered 15,393, or 1,000 more than in 1929.

FUGAZY AFTER CARNERA AND SHARKEY BOUT

Bruen, Too, Appears to Seek Match Between Italian and Boston Gob.

JOHNSON IN LEAD

NEW YORK, March 13—Humbert J. Fugazy, for years the outstanding rival of the late Tex Richard, and Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, Wednesday became involved in the frenzied efforts to "steal" giant Primo Carnera from Madison Square Garden.

James J. Johnston, the bull elephant of the forces opposing the Garden,admitted he is holding Walker as an alternative for Carnera against Jack Sharkey, evidently fearing he may have difficulty in arranging a satisfactory deal with the Italian.

Thereupon, the gates swung wide open for Fugazy, who, while a new figure in the negotiations, has been working on the same match for weeks. Fugazy has only one card in mind, Sharkey and Carnera, which naturally endears him to the Carnera forces. They distrust promoters who go shopping about, like Johnston.

Johnston Has Edge

However, Johnston still leads the procession. He has Sharkey, and he can have Carnera by agreeing to Primo's terms. For some unknown reason the Carnera people have given Johnston first choice, although they prefer dealing with Fugazy above any New York promoter.

William F. Carey, president of Miami yesterday, would make no comment on the situation. He the Garden, who returned from said he would not discuss Carnera so long as the big fellow is under suspension in this State.

WHO KNOWS WHOSE NOSE IS NOSIEST

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 13.—Signor Ernesto Lombardi is ready to measure noses with that Broadway clown Jimmy Durante, who has challenged the big Brooklyn catcher to a schnozzola contest.

"I've heard of this Durante," says Lombardi, "and I've seen pictures of his smeller, but I don't think he can outmeasure me either in length or depth. I have the best hook in baseball. I'll bet this Durante you can stuff more nickels in my horn than his."

Durante's supremacy in this line has never been seriously disputed until now.

"My scouts have tipped me off that Durante has a couple of sparring partners named Clayton and Jackson, who pulls his beak and stretch it six nights and two matinees a week," the big boy from Oakland says. "Well I never allowed any guy to twist my beezer more than once, but even so, I think I can outpoint Durante."

STARS TAKE 2—1 VICTORY IN FIRST GAME FOR CITY LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Winners Combine Nicely for Offensive But Score Goals on Lone Rushes.

HOLD EDGE ON PLAY.

Bath, Dallin and G. Jay Are Successful Marksmen of the Fray.

In the first of the City League play-offs at the Brock last night, Stars played a great game to take a 2-1 decision from the Sea-horses. They will carry this one-goal lead into the final game next week for the championship of the league. The ice was fast and a good crowd of fans was on hand for the contest.

The winners had a slight edge most of the way, getting through often for wicked shots. They combined nicely, but scored both their goals on lone rushes. Sea-horses worked hard and flashed great hockey in spots but didn't work together as well as usual. The game was slow to start with, but soon speeded up and the last two frames were plenty exciting.

The boys started easy and there was nothing doing for some time, both squads backchecking and keeping the rubber in the neutral zone. Five minutes after the beginning Bath stickhandled his way through the Sea-horses 'defense to bulge the twine for the first. Play speeded up with both outfits combining and shooting hard when the frame ended.

The middle go was fast and fairly even. About halfway through Dallin took a pass from McCulloch to even the score. It was two minutes later when G. Jay came down the left boards and lifted a high one from the blue line. It got past Clarke and the count was 2-1 for the Stars. The latter crew kept breaking fast and had an edge on the play the rest of the stanza.

See-saw in Third

It was touch-and-go the last chapter. The boys were travelling fast and chasing the boot heel up and down continuously. Plent of hard shots kept the goalies jumping but there was no scoring. The play was rough enough in this period, the boys resenting the stiff bodychecks. Ellis and Wately went close in on several pretty Star thrusts. But Dallin and Thirnbeck threatened the Star citadel more than once, going right in on the goalie in an effort to tie the game. The losers had four men up the ice and had most of the play at the last bell.

Clarke and Sanderson, opposing net-minders, turned aside a flock throughout the battle. George Jay and Young worked hard for the winners, with Frost and Bath also doing good work. The others all contributed to the victory as well. For the Sea-horses, Dallin McCulloch and Thirnbeck were the most effective, while Payne and the alternates never slowed up. Woods played nice defensive hockey but was a little off-form in his rushes.

The teams:

Johnson Sea-horses: Goal, Clarke; right defense, Woods; left defense, Dallin; centre, McCulloch; right wing Payne; left wing, Thirnbeck; alternates, Sproat, Higgins and Kirkwood.

Here is One for Batters to Solve; It's a Slide Ball

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 13 (A.P.)—Stewart Bolen, left hander drafted by the Phillies from Baltimore, is bringing something new to majors—a "slide" ball. He says it either breaks like a curve, drops like a knuckler or hops like a forker, just takes a sudden, sideways slide when it reaches the batter. "even the umpires miss that one the first time they work behind me," Bolen said. Manager Shotton thinks the "slide" has possibilities.

PEGGERS BEAT BRANDON 6-1

Winnipegs Favored to Win Manitoba Championship in Saturday's Game.

SITUATION CLEARER.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 13. (CP) It will be another day before the West knots it full Allan Cup lay-out, but a triumph here last night helped to clear up the muddle to a degree that made possible entries discernible. Winnipegs were as close to the Manitoba senior title to-day as Edmonton Superiors to the Alberta crown and Trail Smoke Eaters to the British Columbia throne-room.

Winnipegs, held to a scoreless tie in the first of the provincial finals by Brandon, whipped the Wheat Kings 6 to 1 in the second and need only a Saturday-night win to sweep into the Allan cup fray. The Peggers, again before a home crowd, were odds—on favorites to complete Brandon's elimination.

Trail will play Lumby intermediates to-night and likely become British Columbia's hopes for Dominion honors again. Edmonton's city champions are favored to again beat Cranmore and qualify to represent Alberta.

Only recognized provincial champions in the west to date, Regina Vics to-day found a protest pending against them. Saskatoon Quakers, beaten by Vics in the Saskatchewan final, announced last night they had protested eligibility of Bill Conn, Regina defence man. Vics won the round from Quakers 2 to 1, losing the second contest by 1 to 0 from the defending champs.

Starting on their fifth consecutive campaign for the Memorial cup, Elmwood Millionaires of Winnipeg were held to a scoreless tie by Fort William Westfort Maroons last night at the Lakehead. The second of the two-game series will be played here next Monday, the winner to meet the survivors of the Calgary Canadian-Regina Pats series in the western junior final.

SKI CLUB RUNS

Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, members of the Ski Club will meet at Park Hill Road and Water Street for a "run" to Nassau. Again on Sunday, they will meet at the same corner at eleven o'clock for another "run."

The skiers have had a very successful winter andh ave made great progress since the club was founded. As these "runs" are likely to be the last this year, everybody is urged to be on hand to make it a grand finish.

Buffalo Majors Gain 4th Place In League

CHICAGO, March 13. (CP) — Tulsa Oilers, at the top of the American hockey league, are wondering to-day whether Friday the 13th is really misfortunate. Buffalo Majors last night trounced the leaders 5 to 1, handing them their 13th defeat of the season. In two weeks' play, the Tulsans have won but one game and have seen their lead cut from eight to four points.

Buffalo's win put them in fourth place alone, instead of alongside of Chicago Shamrocks.

Pirate Juniors Willing Accept Grove Challenge

The Pirate Juniors of the South End City League offer to play the Lakefield Grove School team here any time. The game, however, cannot take place on Saturday as the Brock Street rink is not available till next week. Grove challenged any city league team to a game here to be played at the Brock.

Pirates recently tied the Grove outfit 3-3 in Lakefield playing the game without a sub. They feel confident they can take the undefeated School team in a return game.

HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS IN THE SPORTS WORLD

BOOSTS AND KNOCKS For EVERYONE

A couple of Ski Club "runs" ove r the week-end will probably wind up skiing activities around here for the winter. This sport has quite a few local followers. That includes several first-class jumpers.

• • • • • • •

The Ski Club is holding a dance Easter Monday at the Conservatory. Maybe Fred Roy will run off some of his skiing motion pictures which he took during the winter. It would be a fitting finale.

• • • • • • •

The City Basketball League is running off some smart games at the "Y." They play Wednesday and Saturday nights. The affairs are notably fast and clean, with plenty of teamwork shown.

• • • • • • •

From Providence, comes word that the Rhode Island "Reds" are in second place behind Springfield in the Can.-American Association Our old friend Mickey Murray has been starring in the nets for the "Reds" all season.

• • • • • • •

If they can just hold their position a few more weeks, they'll be playing off for the title early in April. Mickey can be relied on to do his share. He was one swell goalie when he left this burg. And there's been worse third basemen around here, too.

• • • • • • •

To-night will wind up the East Peterborough League race. Norwood will have to step to hold that one-goal margin on Lakefield ice. But Alex Kempt' spucksters are pretty Scotch in the matter of giving out goals.

• • • • • • •

The Grove School hockey team will have to wait until next week to get a game at the Brock. The rink management want to preserve the ice for skating on Saturday night. Choates will play them any time they can make the trip.

• • • • • • •

"Gamey" Jarvis was inclined to be lenient in the City League game last night. At least three times the number of penalties should have been dished out.

Arrangements Made For Initial Games

Stratford Plays Niagara Falls in Ontario League on Friday Night.

GUELPH, Ont., March 13 (C.P.)—Ontario Hockey League officials who were in session here failed to complete the schedule for the loop play-offs, but made sufficient progress to permit the contending team to arrange for games within the next few days.

Decision was reached to have Stratford Nationals play in Niagara Falls on Friday night of this week, with Guelph Leafs going to Stratford next Monday night, but the balance of the draw was left in abeyance.

Chief discussion at the meeting centred around the protest lodged by the Galt club over Kitchener gaining permission to use goalkeeper Paddy Farrel, who had not been on the club roster by February 15, and the debate in which the delegates engaged waxed very warm at times.

The trouble was finally smoothed over in a manner satisfactory to all concerned when it was agreed that Kitchener and Galt play home and home games, the first in Galt Friday night and the second in Kitchener Saturday night, goals to count and the winner to meet Oshawa Pats in sudden death game for the privilege of going into the league play-offs. It was also ruled that goalie Farrel would be eligible to play for Kitchener in these play-offs.

Tommy Loughran Not Worrying Because He Meets Ernie Schaaf On Friday, 13th

NEW YORK, N.Y., Mar. 13.—(By the Canadian Press.)—To the superstitious, Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia dancing master, seems to be attempting a little too much in his ten round battle with Ernie Schaaf, rugged Boston heavyweight, in Madison Square Garden tonight.

In the first place, Loughran twice has been beaten by Schaaf; in the second, it's Friday the thirteenth; and in the third, Tommy's the betting favorite. The faithful shudder every time they think what's happened to favorites at the Garden this year.

But the one-time light heavyweight champion of the world is not worrying about these things. He turned in one of the finest boxing performances of his career in outpointing Max Bae: from here to County Clare at the Garden recently. Having saved his weight to little more than 180 pounds, Tommy has regained much of his old-time speed sfoot and his left jab is just as annoying and effective as it was when he was beating all in the business without any particular trouble.

Schaaf, on the other hand, is just as confident. He has beaten Loughran twice in three attempts and he's taken the stiffest blows of much more dangerous punchers than Loughran without foundering. He is a much more damaging puncher than Tommy and just about as rugged and strong as heavyweights come.

Bowling Alley Gossip

By Pin Boy

The poster advertising the fifth annual five pin tournament at Karrys Recreation Club, Toronto, has made its appearance in the Duffus Alleys. The contest this year will run from April 11 to 18 and all entries must be in by April 4. Locally no definite arrangements have been made but there is a possibility of an independent team making the trip.

The boys down on the K. of C. alsles are still mowing down the maple in great style and as yet have not been able to dope out just why they can spill more pins in a game here than at the other alleys. This week Tom McCabe surprised even himself when he trumbled 357 pins in a single game of open bowling.

The Ranger outfit in their first appearance in the last half of the Monday Night League were for the Sharp quintet, who suffered a loss of eight points. Fred Jones, Joe Jones and Ranger led in heavy hitting for the winners with tripies of 749, 731 and 728 respectively and each of these totals contained a 300 single. C. Shaughnessy was the only battle on the opposing team who got going properly, securing 742 while Mel Starr was next with 662.

Thirty hard hitting pin so'llers from the Toronto Davenport Works of the Canadian General Electric Co. will invade the Duffus Recreation Academy on Saturday to engage an equal number of bowlers from the local C.G.E. in the annual interworks bowling tournament. The visitors are determined that this year they will carry away the honours of battle in retaliation for last season's decisive defeat, but the locals boast some rather heavy gunners and a real battle should ensue.

The Toronto players should arrive here about five o'clock and an elaborate program has been planned by the C.G.E. Club under the capable direction of Fred Martin and Bud Weese for the entire evening. The first number on the program will be a banquet at the Empress Hotel starting at five thirty, from there the sixty bowlers will proceed to the Capitol Theatre for the first show and the tournament should start about nine thirty with six men to an alley.

There is a possibility that later in the season a tournament will be arranged between the lady bowlers in both plants, and although no definite decision has been reached it is understood that the interested parties have been corresponding.

The first of the group play-offs in the C.G.E. Shop Bowling League played last night produced plenty of whoopee, the Cost No. 1 team third placers, tangling with the Tool Room in a three game contest. Last week the Tool Makers ousted the Accountants from second place in the team standing and last night completed the havoc by eliminating them from the race for group honors. The battle was a touch and go affair, the Tool Room winning first game and their opponents taking the second, the former however sewed things up proper in the last game when they cut loose a heavy barrage to win by 100 pins.

Letellier broke even with Rutherford this week at the K. of C. alleys in the Monday Night League in a rather hotly contested duel, both teams turning in consistent scores. Curvin with 241, 262, 290 was the biggest threat on the Letellier team while Doris with 169, 235, 230 kept the Rutherford crew in the fight.

Ottawa-Leaf Game To Be Played at Toronto

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13. —(CP) —Ottawa Hockey Association officials announced late last night that the National Hockey League game between Toronto Leafs and Ottawa Senators, scheduled for Ottawa on Saturday March 21, has been switched to Toronto and will be played there on the same date.

Several Ottawa homes games this season were played in Detroit and Boston to bolster finances of the local club and this last move is for the same reason. Attendances have been dropping off here all season and only 2,000 people saw the Philadelphia-Ottawa game here Tuesday last.

Legless Ball Pitcher Twirls Nine Frames

NEW YORK, March 13—John Dollard, legless pitcher and all-scholastic luminary at Brooklyn Prep last year, turned out for Bill Woerner's Fordham freshman baseball squad yesterday afternoon, together with twenty-five other aspirants.

Dolard was critically injured in a railroad disaster several years ago, necessitating the amputation of both legs at the knee. Although equipped with artificial limbs Johnny proved he was able to move about with natural agility.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, Mar. 17.—Heavier egg receipts yesterday again forced prices lower on the local market, country shippers receiving a reduction of two cents per dozen on extras and firsts, and a one cent reduction on seconds. Retailers were offered extras and firsts at three cents less per dozen and seconds at one cent less. Brokers also found supplies too plentiful and had to make sales at a lower range of prices.

Egg Prices.

Country shippers were quoted 21c for extras, 19c for firsts and 16c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned, while retailers were offered extras in cartons at 26c, extras loose at 26c, firsts loose, 2[illegible] and seconds loose, 20c per dozen. Brokers quoted graded eggs, in free cases, at 24c for extras, 22c for firsts, 20c for pullet extras and 18c for seconds.

Poultry Steady.

New poultry price lists were issued yesterday, but there was only one change apparent from previous quotations, old roosters being up one cent at 15c alive, and 18c dressed, over five pound each.

Butter.

There was little more activity on the butter market, with no important change in prices. Ontario creamery solids were quoted at 31¼c for No. 1, and 30¼c for No. 2, and sellers of Western supplies were asking 31½c for No. 1.

Cheese.

Trade in cheese was slow and prices were firm at 14¾c for new large, 15c for twins and 15¼c for triplets, to shippers, and 16c for new large, 16¼c for twins and 16½c for triplets to retailers.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Receipts at the Union stock yards yesterday were: 200 cattle, 95 calves, 181 hogs, 4 sheep and lambs.

The fresh supply of cattle was heavier than usual for Thursday. Dealers had been asking for killers owing to the short supply earlier in the week, he offering was practically cleared up by 11 o'clock, with prices steady at the week's advance, although The demand for plain killers was slowing up. Some choice heavy steers sold up to $7.50 a cwt. and choice handy butcher steers from $6.25 to $7 a cwt. A few good to choice butcher cows made $4 to $5 a cwt. Supply for the week totalled some 200 head less than the week previous.

The calk market was sharply lower, with choice vealers closing at $9 to $9.50 a cwt., with light vealers downward to $6 a cwt. Snow-blocked roads, preventing normal supply by trucks, were responsible for the strength in calf prices on the mid-week market, ore trucks managed to get through today.

Lamb supply was too light to make a market. Good ewes and wethers sold steadier than earlier in the week at $9 a cwt., and sheep sold firm at a range of $2.50 to $6 a cwt.

he hog market today was firm at $7.75 to $8 a cwt., f.o.b., or $8T.50 to $8.75 a cwt. w.o.c., for bacon.

Gains of 1c were established in the early trading, but reactions occurred from time to time and prices slipped gradually from the peak. A firm tone was in evidence at the close. Export sales were estimated at 550,000 bushels.

Cash wheat trading was light, with only odd lots changing hands. Spreads showed no material change from Wednesday.

Coarse grains were again featured by export sales of barley. It was reported 750,000 bushels were marked up for export overnight. Prices in this commodity were 1⅛c up during the morning and the May held most of this advance.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Mar. 13.—Grain prices receded late yesterday from early upturns. Wheat bulges failed to hold in the face of persistent heavy receipts and of auspicious winter crop conditions, as well as beneficial moisture in spring wheat teritory, especially Canada and North Dakota. Corn fell back with wheat, although corn receipts were the smallest in a long while.

Wheat closed irregular at ½c decline to 1-8c to 1-4c advance; corn unchanged to 3-8c up, oats 1-8c to 1-2c higher, and provisions showing 2c to 12c decline.

MONTREAL, March 13. — It was announced here yesterday on the produce and dairy market that bulk shipments of New Brunswick potatoes would be discontinued on March 16. Prices of eggs were lower and butter, cheese and potato quotations were unchanged on the market yesterday.

Instead of shipping the potatoes in bulk, shipments will be made in 75-pound bags, according to an agreement between the railways and the shippers. Up to now the potatoes have been loaded loose and bagged here. With the starting of this method of shipping, New Brunswick will follow the same practice now in effect in Prince Edward Island. N. B. Green Mountains were quoted at 80 cents per 90 pounds bulk and to retailers, 90 cents per 80-pound bag. N.B. Green Mountains for shipment after the sixteenth were quoted at 77½ cents per 80-pound bag.

Carlot prices of fresh British Columbia eggs were unchanged, extras being quoted at 29 cents, firsts at 27 cents and pullets at 26 cents a dozen. Fresh Ontario and prairie extras, in carlots, were also unchanged at 27 to 28 cents, while firsts and seconds were quoted at 25 to 26 cents and 19 to 20 cents a dozen. To retailers, fresh firsts cost one cent at 29 cents a dozen. Receipts were 1,901 cases.

On the butter market regraded Eastern Townships and fresh Western No. 1 were quoted at 31½ cents a pound and to retailers solids were 33 to 34 cents, and prints 34 to 35 cents a pound. Receipts were 50 boxes.

EFFICIENCY LEAGUES.

Interesting Program Put on at Both Havelock and Rush Point Meetings.

HAVELOCK, Mar. 13 (Examiner Correspondence). — The regular meeting of the Efficiency League of the United Church was held in the school room on Monday evening, March 9th, with President Miss Edith Roberts in the chair. After a brief service of worship, and the transaction of business, the missionary vice-president, Mrs. Archer, took charge for the program.

The opening number was a piano solo by Miss Alma Hagerman. Mrs. Archer then gave a brief outline of the life of William Carey, missionary to India. A vocal duet by Misses Una Archer and Barbara Fennell followed. Miss Robson then reviewed the first chapter and discussed the second chapter of the missionary study book, "Japan, the Country and Its People." The recreation period consisted of a contest, in which the white and khaki groups were tied for first place, with blues second and reds third. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Rush Point League.

The regular meeting of Rush Point Efficiency League was held on Thursday evening, March 5th, in the church, and was well attended.

The meeting opened with singing of hymn 225, "Take My Life and Let It Be." Rev. Mr. Archer led the devotional exercise, after which hymn 229, "Weary Pilgrim on Life's Pathway," was sung.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. First Vice-President Miss Jean Pollock then took the meeting. Mr. Archer gave a lesson on playing the violin. Miss Jean Pollock read the Scripture lesson, Second Corinthians, fifth chapter, eleventh to nineteenth verses. Miss Pollock also took the topic entitled "Conversion." Messrs. Archie McMillan and Carl Barton gave a vocal duet, "When You and I Were Young Maggie," which was followed by a reading, "Christian Science," by Miss Beavis. This was followed by a contest in which all took part, and which was greatly enjoyed. Afterwards the collection was taken, and the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

More than 40,000,000 linen handkerchiefs were shipped from the United Kingdom last year.

Here's good news

lessens shaving irritation

MEN with tender skin discovered this luxury shave. They found that after it their faces felt cool and smooth, and that their razors never pulled. They passed the idea on to their friends, and now there's quite a group of "Vaseline" shavers. They are not all men with tender skins and tough beards, either. ANY man's face, normal or sensitive, shows its gratitude for this simple, soothing treatment.

Wouldn't you like to join this comfort club? Membership is open. All you have to do is spread a thin film of "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly over the beard before you shave. Lather as usual. Your razor strokes quicker and closer and your face looks and feels better. The "Vaseline" Jelly heals any little nicks or scratches, too, and softens dry or chapped skin.

Try it once and you'll never shave without "Vaseline" Jelly. You can buy it in jars or tubes at all good drug stores. Chesebrough Manufacturing Company, Consolidated, 5520 Chabot Avenue, Montreal, Canada.

Her Two Children Coughed Day And Night

Mrs. Fred. T. Klinappel, R.R. No. 1, St. Agatha, Ont., writes:—"My two children were coughing, day and night, from a very severe, whoopy cough. I tried every kind of medicine I could think of, but they got no relief. A friend told me I should try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got two bottles of it, and before they were used the children were rid of their coughs. It is a very good medicine, and I would not be without a bottle in the house."

Gilbert Hall Favored To Defeat Rainville

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., March 13 (C.P.). — Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N.J., had a paper advantage over Marel Rainville of Montreal as they met in an internatinal combat here to-day for the Florida-East Coast tennis championship.

Hall, ceded Number 1 for the tournament, was a heavy favorite, but the splendid uphill battle in the semi-finals yesterday of Rainville, Canadian Davis Cup star, gave him at least a following.

Hall advanced to the final round in straight sets over G. Carlton Shafer of Philadelphia, while Rainville sprang an upset when he defeated Phil Neer, California star, in five torrid sets.

MURPHY LEADS PACK.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, March 13 (C.P.). — Driving Bill Corey's eight Siberian huskies through a heavy snow and a whipping wind, Jack Murphy was the victor here yesterday in the H. Wendel Endicott Dog Derby, opening race of the Fairbanks spring classics. The 16-mile course was covered by the "dark horse" team in 1 hour 14 minutes 57 seconds.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 11 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As the father told his son this story of his life, he forgot one thing—the principal one—that the boy at his side, listening with eager ears, was the son of Tarzan of the Apes. After the two said good night, Lord Greystoke told his wife of the evening's events. Lady Jane, foreseeing that their son must sometime know of those frightful years, prayed that the boy would not inherit the lure she knew was still strong in the father's heart.

Tarzan visited Akut, as he promised, but refused to take Jack along. This time, Tarzan met the wily owner of the ape but failed to recognise in the decrepit wretch his Russian enemy of former days. Influenced by Akut's pleadings, he tried to purchase the beast, but the crafty Paulvitch refused to sell....Several days later the boy himself found his way into that mean section of London where he had discovered the Russian and Akut lived.

Often, thereafter, the boy stole away to spend hours with his ape-friend, until little by little Paulvitch came to know his story and identity. Now into that evil brain crept a plan whereby he might revenge himself for fancied wrongs and further increase his pile of gold. Left alone with Akut, the boy soon found he could make the great beast understand him.—Many of the words of the anthropoid's language came instinctively to him.

After having discovered Tarzan the ape had consistently refused to perform upon the stage. No longer was he a source of revenue and Paulvitch at last accepted a fabulous sum from Lord Greystoke whereby Akut was to be delivered to a vessel sailing for Africa. Lady Jane was delighted as her husband spoke of this arrangement. Now her son would think of other things, she thought. But Jack listened with far different thoughts!

TWO HOMES LOST IN COBOCONK FIRE

Fire-fighters Forced to Throw Snow Upon Burning Buildings—Third House Damaged.

LINDSAY, Ont., Mar. 13.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Fire which broke out early to-day in the House of George Burridge, of Cobcconk, accounted for the destruction of two homes and caused slight damage to a third building in the small village of Cobocconk. No fire fighting equipment or water was available so the residents of the village threw snow on the walls and roofs of the buildings. A large pile of snow on the roof of Archie McGregor's home extinguished the blaze before it did serious damage to his building.

LABORITE GOV'T ESCAPES DEFEAT BY ONLY 5 VOTES

Tense Division Comes Unexpectedly as House is Voting on Supply.

RESULT 173 TO 168.

Situation Made Critical by Revolt of Labor Backbenchers.

(By George Hambleton, C. P. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, March 13.—The Labor Government escaped defeat in the House of Commons today by only five votes.

The tense division came unexpectedly as the House was voting on supply. The House was in the report stage on supply for a new commission which is to forward the work of reorganizing the British coal industry, and it looked like a dull day.

The Chairman of the Commission, an eminent civil servant, is to receive a salary of $35,000 annually.

The Conservatives attacked the supply vote by moving a technical reduction of $500. The Conservatives did not object to the chairman personally. Their objections were based on what they termed the misleading way in which the Minister of Mines had previously stated the position to the House, and to the manner in which the appointment was made.

In the ordinary way the Conservative amendment meant little more than formal registration of their objections.

Back Benchers Revolt

But today the Labor back-benchers, and those from Glasgow in particular, were in revolt. The dull Friday in supply suddenly developed into a menace of Government defeat. As the Labor revolt spread, Emanuel Shinwell, Secretary for the Mines Department, could be seen in earnest discussion with Rt. Hon. William Graham, President of the Board of trade, behind the Speaker's chair.

When the division came, it was obvious the Labor leaders were seriously concerned. Then, as the Government tellers took their stand on the right of the clerk's table, indicating the Government was sustained, there were loud Labor cheers.

But it was the turn of the Conservatives to cheer as the figures were announced—173 to 168, a Government majority of only five.

"Resign, resign," shouted Opposition members. The Government had escaped defeat, but it was an unpleasant reminder of an earlier day when Lord Rosebery's Liberal Government was defeated (June 24, 1895) on an adverse vote in regard to a question of the supply and reserve of small arms ammunition.

FARTHING FUND.
The Examiner has received to-day the sum of $2 as a donation to the Farthing family whose home was destroyed by fire on Thursday morning.

A WARNING!
Since the beginning of this month and until the last day of April, the time known to motor transport owners as "half-load" season is in force, during which trucks much carry only half their loads, whether on solid or pneumatic tires. Trucks with a capacity of three tons or less can, however, providing they are equipped with pneumatic tires carry their full load, or if equipped with solid tires only half a load.

Police are enforcing this regulation, which is framed with the idea of protecting the highways, which at this season of the year are easily damaged, according to road builders. Varying fines and penalties are meted out to those who disregard the regulation, and traffic officers have been requested to exercise particular vigilance in these matters this season.

BANDIT KILLED AS POLICE BALK TWO ROBBERIES

Three Other Gunmen Wounded in Pair of Hold-ups on New York Streets.

EXTRA PATROL EFFECTIVE

NEW YORK, Mar. 11.—To the increased Saturday night force and greater vigilance police officials Monday attributed the preventing of two hold-ups early in the day, in which one bandit was killed and three other men identified as gunmen wounded.

Throughout the night, with 10,000 men patrolling the streets of the city, fifty-three arrests were made.

The first of the pi tol battles took place after midnight in Charlie's Grill, the Bronx, when three robbers entered. A patron near the door slipped out and informed Patrolmen Clarence Grieter and Louis Martin. Grieter crouched at the door and fired.

Death For One.

One bandit was killed instantly A man, identified later as a companion, dropped with a bullet in his arm. The third bolted through the door and escaped. The wounded man identified himself as Rodolfo Alaca. The slain man was not identified.

A little later five bandits entered the Rumanian restaurant, at 170 Norfolk st. Max Katz, a patron who has a permit to carry a pistol, started to battle with the bandits. Patrolman Pereski, of the Clinton St station, came running.

Two May Die.

Edward Kirby, 16 of the Hopkinson Baths, Brooklyn, was shot in the chest, as was another man, known only as "Sally." These two were taken to Gouverneur Hospital in critical condition Three others escaped.

At 3:30 a. m. a burglar entered the home of Silvio Mondi, The Bronx. Mondi awakened, started after the intruder, who struck Mondi on the head with a revolver butt.

The man then beat Mondi's wife, Mary, and Elizabeth, their three-year-old daughter, who had also been awakened. The burglar escaped.

The Mondis were taken to Fordham Hospital where it was said the child may have received a skull fracture.

10 Questions Asked Of British People

LONDON, March 12 (By The Canadian Press).—Ten questions will have to be answered by, or for, every man, woman and child in Great Britain on April 26, the day the National Cencus will be taken The precedent established by the last census, 1921, of requiring information showing the number of divorced persons is being continued. So is the precedent requiring age to be stated in years and months and not in round figures.

Relationship to the head of the household must be stated, whether wife, son, mother or other relative, visitor, boarder or servant. The full postal address of each person's usual residence must be given if it is not in the house he or she is in on the night of the census. Those with no settled place of residence will write "None."

Then come the questions relating to sex and age, marriage and birthplace. The latter question must give the name of the county and of the town or parish. If born at sea the answer must be made "At sea." All persons over the age of 14 who follow an occupation must clearly indicate its nature, even though the individual is out of work at the time. If a man is without employment he must state his calling and add the words "Out of work."

The final question is for persons who do not follow an occupation or have not retired from one. They are required to indicate whether they have private means, home duties as in the case of a wife, or are students.

In future a census will be taken every five years instead of 10.

King George School Association Meeting

The King George Home and School Association held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, March 10. After the business part of this meeting was concluded J. Ellis took the chair.

A program, spiced with an Irish flavor, interested the audience. Pleasing piano solos were rendered by Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Hepburn, Mr. Binks and Master Gerald Perks. Crystal and Robert Henry sang a duet. Choruses were sung by boys from Miss Fusee's class and by girls from the Jr. IV Class.

Mr. Copp gave a very interesting account of educational problems in the newer parts of Northern Ontario. The teaching of children of many nationalities presents many difficulties. A good idea of the type of country was given by pictures that Mr. Copp showed.

Birmingham Shuts Out Sunderland in English Association Series.

Winning Teams in the Two Series All Registered Shut-outs.

LEEDS, Eng., Mar. 14.—(C. P. Cable)—When Birmingham beat Sunderland by two goals to nil in their semi-final in the English Football Association Cup competition today they entered the final for the historic soccer trophy for the first time in the club's history.

Scottish Association

Celtic 3, Kilmarnock 0.
Motherwell 1, St. Mirren 0.

English Association

Birmingham 2, Sunderland 0.
West Bromwich Albion 1, Everton 0.

Birmingham and Sunderland played at Elland's Road, before an enormous crowd and under perfect conditions. A bright sun was shining while a gentle breeze swept the grounds. The pitch was in perfect condition having completely recovered from recent severe frosts. Both teams were at full strength. Birmingham won the toss and play for the first fifteen minutes was mainly in midfield. One raid by Birmingham looked promising and then Sunderland put up a rush and Connor tested Hibbs in the Birmingham goal. A moment later another rush was tangled up by the Birmingham defence which rallied and cleared. Sunderland seemed to lack punch near the goal although they launched three attacks to Birhingham's one. After thirty minutes of play Curtis scored for Birmingham with a surprise shot. The lead obtained by Birmingham was all against the run of play. Sunderland were not discouraged and continued to attack but could not score. Birmingham holding their one goal lead at half time.

Rousing Attacks

Sunderland renewed the struggle with rousing attacks, but the Birmingham defence was splendid. Hibbs played a courageous game and smothered a number of shots. Birmingham's accurate passing looked like producing another goal, but Shaw and Andrew saved. Hibbs caused another thrill by beating Connor in a race for the ball when Sunderland attacked. The struggle continued with unflagging vigor, the Birmingham wingers becoming more active while, whenever Sunderland tried a shot, inaccuracy spoiled the effort. Three minutes from the finish Curtis gain scored.

BLAZE SWEEPS TORONTO HOME

Family Clad in Night Attire Cling to Roof Till Rescued By Neighbor.

FATHER RESCUES JEWELS.

TORONTO, Ont., March 14 (C.P.).—Trapped in the sleeping quarters on the third floor of their smoke-filled home on Strathcona Boulevard, early to-day, Alfred Pearce, his wife and daughter were forced to climb, clad only in night attire, to safety on a snow-covered roof. Clinging to the roof the family cried for help, finally attracting the attention of a neighbor, who came to their assistance with a ladder.

Remembering that his wife's valuable jewels and their prize Pekinese dog was still in the house, Mr. Pearce, despite the dense clouds of smoke which were pouring from the windows, climbed back up the ladder and into the bedroom, bringing the jewels and dog to safety.

Their funerals will be held just 24 hours apart, and Rev. G. H. Johnston of Bethany Tabernacle, will conduct both services.

DETROIT OFFICER KILLS ONE BANDIT WOUNDS SECOND

Patrolman Surprises Pair Breaking Into Garage in Early Morning.

RUNNING FIGHT FOLLOWS.

Finger Prints on Record Reveal Both Been Arested Several Times.

DETROIT, Mich., Mar. 14.—(CP)—One man was shot to death and another was wounded when patrolman Charles Chedester, of the Hunt station, caught them breaking into a garage here today.

The patrolman had been assigned to guard the building, where several robberies had occurred recently. One of the men scaled an iron grating and started smashing in a window while his companion stood lookout, the officer said. When both men started to run away Patrolman Chedester called on them to surrender. They kept on running and he opened fire.

Emory Young, 30, was killed. Olean Robinson was seriously wounded. Both were identified through finger prints on police records which showed they had been arrested several times.

GOV'T IS VICTOR IN $129,512 SUIT

Sum is Amount Forfeited in Four Bonds Executed by Consolidated Distillers Corp.

LIQUOR LANDED AT SEA.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 14 (C.P.)—Judgment in favor of the Government in its claim for $129,512.00 against the Consolidated Distilleries Corporation Limited, was rendered to-day by Mr. Justice MacLean in the Exchequer Court. This amount covers four bonds executed by the corporation to cover a guarantee that certain quantities of liquor released for export would be landed at their port of destination. Mr. Justice MacLean found that the liquor in question had been discharged at sea, that landing certificates produced by the master of the vessel on which the liquor was carried were false and fraudulent, and that, therefore, the corporation was liable in the amount of the bonds.

Premier's Phone Call Had To Be Postponed

OTTAWA, Ont., March 14 (C.P.).—So immense were the crowds at the opening of the Buenos Aires Exhibition to-day that at two o'clock this afternoon, Ottawa time, the Prince of Wales and Sir George Perley were unable to reach the long distance telephone equipment specially arranged to converse with Premier R. B. Bennett in the east block of the Parliament Buildings. Lady Perley, wife of Canada's representative at the Exhibition, conveyed this information to the Prime Minister over the long distance telephone. The Prince of Wales had shortly before spoken in English and Spanish and the Canadian exhibit had been the first show opened.

"Trotters" Annexed English Cup in 1923, 1926 and 1929

The famous Bolton Wanders who are shown above have won the English Cup three times since the war and today occupy an envious position in soccerdom in the Old Country. In their game today they defeated Sheffield United six goals to two. Here are the lads who sport the famous white jersey at the "Trotters" and all except McClelland are still in the service of the club. McClelland was transferred some time ago to Preston and subsequently went to Blackpool in time to score a goal against his former teammates. Bob Haworth broke a leg recently. The Wanderers won the cup in 1923, 1926 and 1929. Haworth, Pym, Butler, Nuttall and Seddon figured in all three finals. Reading from left to right those in the above picture are: Back Row: C. E. Tiny Egg Discarded on Top of Furnace Produces Lusty Chick on Friday, 13th

Friday the 13th is a lucky day to some, in spite of its evil reputation. A chicken (the feathered variety) came to life yesterday in the basement of the home of Ambrose Beausoleil, 369 Brock Street, under peculiar circumstances. Finding a small egg in a batch purchased some three weeks ago it was placed in some sand on top of the furnace in the cellar.

Yesterday while fixing his furnace M. Beausoleil was greeted with a cheery "cheep, cheep" and to his amazement saw a small chicken with a very few feathers which was trying to find its bearings in a big, new world. Needless to say the bird will be given a chance for its life, but may have to scratch hard for a living.

This chicken appears to have beaten "The Globe" robin as a herald of spring.

SQUAW IS BEATEN ATTACKER JAILED

Young Indian Driven to Deed by Belief Aged Woman Cast Spell on Family.

DESPERATION OUSTS FEAR.

DESERONTO, Mar. 14.—(C.P.) — The age-old Indian fear of witchcraft, smouldering in the heart of a native named Horse Maracle despite generations of civilization, inspired an alleged brutal attack on an 82-year old squaw, Mrs. Peter Doreen, who is in serious condition, while Maracle is under arest in Deseronto jail.

Frightened by a series of illnesses and misfortunes to his children, the superstitious young Indian decided that the aged woman had cast a spell on his family and, desperation overcoming fear, is alleged to have lured the woman from her house, seized her and carried here two miles to the reservation, there choking her and mistreating her in his efforts to "drive the evil spirit from her body."

After Maracle had, according to the police, carried the injured squaw back to her home, Dr. J. F. Boyce was called, and his report led Chief Constable J. W. Tomlinson to go to the reserve and place Maracle under arrest.

The case, which has aroused great excitement on the reserve and the white settlement surrounding it, will be tried before Magistrate Bedford next Wednesday.

Both craft were taken to the coastguard base at East Boston for examination, but neither had suffered apparent damage.

The 171 grounded first and the 190 went ashore in attempting to aid her sister vessel.

Switzerlands 1930 imports of rayon were $800,000 greater than those of the preceding year.

1,500 JOLIET CONVICTS RIOT

Prisoners Take Refuge in Penitentiary Buildings as Guards Fire Warning Shots.

STATE POLICE CALLED.

JOLIET, Ill., March 14 (C.P.).—Disorder broke out in the State Penitentiary at noon to-day, 1,500 convicts breaking into the prison yard and taking refuge in a building as guards fired warning shots over their heads.

A cordon of city and state highway police rushed to the old prison and surrounded its high castellated stone walls. Machine gunners manned the top of the walls. The prisoners apparently had no weapons.

The trouble began immediately after luncheon, when the men refused to return to their cells. Shouting defiance at the guards, they made a rush for the doors and gathered in the open area.

Warden Henry C. Hill immediately gave an alarm and reserves were sent to the walls. Firing over the heads of the mutineers they drove them to refuge.

FIREMEN AND STUDENTS BATTLE STUBBORN BLAZE IN GRANT HALL QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY BUILDING

Fears That Entire Building Will Be Destroyed Are Entertained.

BUILT 30 YEARS AGO.

Blaze Started in Furnace Room and Shot Up Through the Elevators.

KINGSTON, Ont., March 14 (C.P.). — Fire broke out at noon in Grant Hall, one of the Queen's University buildings, and was raging strongly.

Fears that the entire building would be destroyed were entertained.

The fire apparently started in what is known as the new Arts Building, which is joined to Grant Hall.

The blaze is believed to have started in the furnace room and shot up through the elevator shaft, and was burning under the roof.

At one o'clock it was believed that the fire was being confined to one room at the top of the building.

Firemen and students were battling the fire while much smoke was pouring out of the building.

The new Arts Building was built nearly thirty years ago, and is of Kingston limestone.

TERM IS EXTENDED.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 14 (C.P.).—The term of Judge F. M. Morson, Toronto, on the York County Court bench has been extended for a period of three months. Approval of the Order-in-Council was given by the administrator shortly after the noon hour to-day.

PRINCE OF WALES OPENS EXHIBITION IN BUENOS AIRES

Twenty-two Million Dollars Worth of British-made Goods Are on Display.

THOUSANDS ATTEND.

BY CLAUDE MELANCON
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

BUENOS AIRES, March 14.—"Failure to recognize trade is interchange; obstacles placed in the way of reciprocal trade, are perhaps the main causes of the world's present troubles," declared H.R.H. the Prince of Wales in his speech formally inaugurating the great British Empire Trade Exhibition here today.

Remarking that the Spanish term "intercambio commercial" was a much clearer definition than "foreign trade," the Prince went on:

"If, as we all hope, the response of the Argentine purchasing public to the appeal of the exhibition leads in some measure to the revival of industrial prosperity in Great Britain and consequently to a diminution of industrial unemployment, a reciprocal result of increase in British consumption of Argentine meat and Argentine cereals is certain.

Exchange Of Ideas

"Interchange however has no narrow meaning restricted to commerce. Of equal significance is the development of mutual cultural knowledge. England desires exchange with Argentina of ideas and visitors as well as of goods. This exhibition will have that effect."

The Prince made special mention of the prominent part taken by Canada in the present effort. "The pavillion of the Dominion of Canada," said His Royal Highness, "will show fully and graphically for the first time to the Argentine nation, the progress of another great nation in the north, which is developing its vast resources in a way which must be full of interest in a country which has so many similar economic problems."

The Prince declared there was a spirit of revival amongst British industrialists, of which the exhibition was concrete evidence.

Twenty-two million dollars worth of British goods and the British heir, the Prince of Wales, and Prince George were the principal attractions at the opening.

CHICAGO ROBBER GIVEN 14 YEARS

Verdict Ends Long Case and Robs Underworld of Notorious Criminal.

MURDERED POLICEMAN.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 14.—(CP)—William "Three Fingered Jack" White, robber and gangster, was convicted today of the murder of Policeman Edward Plaume of Forest Park. The jury fixed the penalty at 14 years in prison.

The verdict robbed the Chicago underworld of another notorious criminal, but the punishment was lighter than that assessed at his first trial. Sentenced to death for the murder five years ago, he won a reversal in the Supreme oCurt which held it had not been proved that Officer Pflume and his companions had the right to arrest White. The case lingered on the docket until White, was listed by the Chicago Crime Commission as one of the 28 "public enemies," and the murder charge was revived in the campaign to rid Chicago of criminals.

NORRIS DECLARES FOR ELECTION OF LIBERAL TO PRESIDENCY, 1932

Declaration is Practically Invitation to Democrats to Nominate Gov. Roosevelt.

AGAINST OWEN D. YOUNG.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 14 (By Ken Clark, C. P. Staff Correspondent).—Political action along two lines opens out before the Liberals or Progressives as a result of their two-day convention just concluded here. At the closing session, Senator George W. Norris, the white-haired orator from Nebraska "passing the torch of Progressivism" to younger Bert M. Lafollette of Wisconsin, declared for the election of a Liberal to the Presidency in 1932. Since the Republican Party will almost certainly nominate Herbert Hoover, Norris's declaration amounts to an invitation to the Democratic Party to nominate Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York; whose stand on such matters as hydro-electric power and tariff; parallels that of the hundreds Progressives who gathered here. Norris himself intimated that if the Democrats should nominate Owen D. Young there would not be a candidate for whom the Progressives might conscientiously vote. Here is indicated one step the Progressives might take.

Committees Named

Secondly, the conference appointed committees to draw up a formula upon which Progressive elements in the next Congress, nicely balanced between Republicans and Democratic

He is 60 years of age, and began to earn his own living at the age of eight as an agricultural laborer. Later he worked as groom and a clerk. He put himself through Nottingham University College and Heidelburg University. He sat for six years on the London County Council, and was elected member of Parliament for East Woolwich in 1922.

After serving on the commission of enquiry into the Palestine riots he was made a commander of the Order of the British Empire in 1930.

CONDITION IS SERIOUS.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 14 (C.P.).—Mrs. R. J. Manion, wife of the Dominion Minister of Railways, who underwent an emergency operation last night, following a severe attack of appendicitis, was reported to-day to be as well as could be expected. She passed a fair night, and while her condition remained serious, it was not considered to be critical.

Many large modern busses which were sent from France to Algeria for the touring season are being returned to France for similar duty during the summer season.

ELECTION ASSURED IN BELMONT AS SIX QUALIFY FOR COUNCILLORS

W. J. Seeney and J. E. McNeely Drop Out, Leaving Two New Men, T. Bannon and J. H. Scott, in Running.

ELECTION SET FOR MAR. 19.

HAVELOCK, March 14 (Examiner Correspondence).—That an election will be held in Belmont next Thursday was made definitely known here last evening at 9 p.m., when more than the required number of nominees qualified as candidates for the township council.

The dropping out of W. J. Seeney and Joseph E. McNeeley left the question of an election rest with Thomas Bannon and John H. Scott, who both qualified about 3.30 p.m. yesterday. W. E. Griffith, last year's reeve, signed up just before the time limit, thus keeping his promise that he would not cause an election.

All day Friday the possibility of an election gave the man on the street something more than the weather to talk about. Some were positively sure there would be a hot fight, while others were of the opinion that after all the trouble of a recount, a protest, the resignation of the six-weeks'-old council, and finally a nomination last Thursday, the resigned council would be accorded acclamation. But this would not be in keeping with the past history of Belmont township, where a fight is the order of the day.

Ex-Councillor C. F. Steenburg, in his nomination address, stated that while he would sign up as a candidate for the council in the event of there being no election and the immediate past council being accorded acclamation, he reserved the right to withdraw if only one outsider qualified, and thereby obviate the necessity of an election.

This arrangement was upset, by the signing up of two candidates, who by their action took the blame of another election from the shoulders of last year's reeve. He had stated that if only four councillors qualified along with the reeve, he would not qualify.

However, be that as it may, there will assuredly be a contest, and the outcome is uncertain.

The election date is set for March 19th, and according to Clerk Grant Dafoe, the same D.R.O.'s will act as previously, while the appointment of poll clerks will be left to their own discretion. Although it is claimed the last election here was run in the same manner as in previous years, the election was declared null and void on the ground of certain irregularities, which were set forth in affidavits, sworn out by various ratepayers in the township. It is almost certain that constables will be engaged to usher out any voted in the coming election who would be inclined to linger longer than necessary to vote in the polling booth.

TURKISH SHIP ON ROCKS

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 14 (A.P.)—The Turkish ship, Hilal, with 110 passengers and a cargo of sheep, went on the rocks near Kefken, in the Black Sea, during a heavy fog at dawn yesterday.

Salvage vessels were sent to its aid this morning, when word of the mishap first reached here. The ship has no wireless.

Chaplin Enmeshed In German Politics

BERLIN, March 14 (A.P.)—Charlie Chaplin to-day found himself unwillingly enmeshed in German political discussion.

The "Young Guard," Communist youth organ, quoted the movie actor as declaring to its editor: "My greetings and all my sympathies are with the Communist youth of Germany."

The Conservative Nationalist 'Boersenzeitung' asserted that if the remarks were true it constituted an unwarranted meddling with Germany's internal affairs.

Chaplin denies having made any such statement.

MESSAGE SENT TO KING GEORGE BY COMMONERS

Death's Visitations Are Regretfully Noted in House of Commons.

TWO VACANT SEATS.

Message of Condolence Sent His Majesty Over Passing of Princess Royal.

OTTAWA, March 14. — Death's visitations upon the British Royal Family and among the members of the House of Commons occupied the attention of the house of Commons members, and were the subject of earnestly expressed regrets, at yesterday's brief session.

Premier Bennett, as was his duty, introduced the gloomy subject with a motion for the presentation to His Majesty the King of an address expressive "of the deep concern of this House at the loss which His Majesty has sustained by the death of Her Royal Highness the Princess Royal; and to condole with His Majesty and to assure His Majesty that this House participates with the most affectionate and dutiful attachment in whatever concerns the feelings and interests of His Majesty."

He added: "On this occasion we are reminded that our sovereign lord the King, who is the Crown to us, has suffered a great bereavement through the death of his beloved sister. It is fitting at this time that we should record our deep concern at the loss he has sustained and the sorrow he has endured.

Symbol of Unity.

"That touch of nature that makes the whole world kin, the hand of death, affords us the opportunity to express our concern not only in this present matter, but in all that affects the welfare and happiness of our King, who is sign and symbol of that single authority which binds together a quarter of the world's surface into what we know as the British Empire."

Right Hon. Mackenzie, King concurred on behalf of his followers, declaring that the Prime Minister had expressed "the voice of us all."

Robert Gardiner, Progressive Leader, on behalf of the independent groups, then added his expression of sympathetic agreement.

Feelingly, and amid more than one expression of keen sorrow on either side of the House, Premier Bennett then expressed his deep regrets over the loss from Commons membership since last session of two of its members, Colonel George Septimus Rennie, late Conservative member for Hamilton East, and Arthur Bettes, late Liberal member for Three Rivers, Quebec. Public expression of sorrow, he said, was one of those duties which might well be spared a Prime Minister, and he went on to recite the qualities and careers of service of the two members lately taken by death.

BEAUHARNOIS PLANS

OTTAWA, March 14.—Plans of the Beauharnois Power Company for the diversion of additional water from St. Lawrence has not yet been received by the Dominion Government, so that it is difficult to forecast what action will be taken by the Federal authorities. The Department of Public Works is concerned only with the safe-guarding of navigation, but may hold up the plans indefinitely if the Dominion Government does not approve of them.

CAMPBELLFORD DECIDES TO USE RELIEF MONEY ON HAVELOCK ROAD

BILL MEET OPPOSITION.

KITCHENER, Ont., March 13 (C.P.). — J. Albert Smith, president of the Ontario Horticultural Association of 30,000 members, to-day stated some opposition is likely to be given a Bill in the Federal Parliament to place heavy duty taxes on imported bulb and other nursery stocks. It is claimed the Bill would protect Canadian commercial growers at the expense of amateur gardeners and home beautifiers.

Church Hill Section to be Drained and Water Main May be Laid.

$1,200 SURPLUS LEFT.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, March 14. — More work is being supplied by the town of Campbellford to assist in the relief of the unemployed. With a surplus of about $1,200 from the Government grant for this purpose, which must be expended by the end of March, it was decided at the last council meeting, when the question was brought up by Mayor J. M. Bygott, to proceed with construction work on the Havelock road.

This will consist of the laying of a tiled drain on that portion of the road known as the Church Hill, and will necessitate a great deal of filling, as the ditch at this point is very deep. It is also anticipated that the town engineer R. Scott, will see fit to lay a water main at the same time in readiness for a service in this section.

Tiles have already been ordered for this work and it is expected that a start will be made the early part of next week.

The streets of the town are assuming their normal appearance again after the storm. The emergency squads employed to clear the snow drifts are still busy and making a thorough clean up. The Campbellford-Brighton Highway is now open and passable for traffic, although a little rough. Township roads are still blocked however, the farmers using their runners to travel to town.

BASS HATCHERY FOR PETERBORO' BE GREAT BOOM

Local Fishermen Are Asked to Join Association Make Project Possible.

VIEW PICTURES.

Peterborough fishermen should join the local Fish and Game Association and assist in raising the membership and funds of the association to such strength that the association could establish its own bass hatchery, J. W. Gravestock last night told an audience of local game sportsmen in Austin's Tea Rooms. Mr. Gravestock explained that in order for bass fry to thrive in local waters the fry should be obtained and grown locally. A small hatchery, he said, would not be expensive and could be easily established if the funds of the local association were sufficient.

More than one hundred sportsmen gathered at the meeting to view one of the Canadian Forestry motion pictures. The picture was a lesson in the damage done when a fisherman fishes during the spawning season. Fishing on June 16, one fisherman in one day caught 50 bass. The fish were spawning on their nests and eagerly bit at his plug. However, the picture showed the marauder getting his just deserts when he drew the attention of the fire rangers by not putting out his fire, and later was arrested by the game warden, being fined $200 in court..

Protect the Fish

Mr. Gravestock in his brief address declared that the picture removed for all time the argument that fishing should be allowed before July 1. He explained that the purpose of the association was to protect fish and game and see that the laws were obeyed.

During the past year, he stated, the association had been instrumental in having the Government place thousands of fish fry in local waters. It is fully expected that more fry in large quantities will be secured again this season. Also it is hoped that a special warden may be appointed for the spawning season and the association is now working toward that end.

He pointed out that the activities and force of the association here was limited by shortage of members and urged every game sportsman to line up with the association to further its work. In St. Mary's there is a membership of 1,000; in St. Thomas 350 and 20 volunteer game wardens, he said. The local association now has 160 members and last year the membership was doubled.

Mr. Gravestock reported that extensive tests had been carried out which proved positively that of trout caught on a fly only 2½ per cent died if they were thrown back into the water immediately, and only 10 per cent when caught with a hook and worm. He declared that this removed for all time the former wrong opinion among some trout fishermen, that trout once removed from the water would die, and that there was no use tossing back the small trout.

CALGARY HOTEL SWEPT BY FIRE

Forty-three Guests Make Hurried Exit to Street in Early Morning Hours.

NONE INJURED.

CALGARY, Alta., March 14. (CP) Trailed by huge volumes of smoke and small darts of flame, 43 guests at the American Hotel made a safe but hurried exit from their rooms to the street early this morning after fire had broken out and within half an hour had gutted the whole building, one of the oldest in Calgary.

Flames and smoke spread rapidly, while the hotel staff rushed through the hallways to rouse guests and usher them to safety while a dozen guests rushed to the street in night attire, the majority took time to don heavier clothing before going into the chilly air.

DUPRE MAY GET RAISE.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13 (C.P.),—The salary of the Solicitor-General, Hon. Maurice Dupre, will probably be increased this session from $7,000 to $10,000 per annum. A resolution placed on the order paper of the House of Commons to-day to this effect is preliminary to a bill for the increase which would place the salary of the Solicitor-General on equality with that of the other Cabinet Ministers.

MOTHER DROWNS TWO OF CHILDREN TAKES OWN LIFE

Third Lad Hurled Off Mattapoisett Dock Clings to Rocks and Reaches Shore.

FOUND SEEKING HELP.

Grappling Fails to Reveal Bodies of Despondent Woman or Two Young Victims.

MATTAPOISETT, Mass., Mar. 14. —(CP)— Mrs. William Chester Allison of Sayleville, R. I., last night hurled her three children from a Mattapoisett dock and jumped into the water to her death after them.

Wayne Allison, 9, who was found dripping wet and exhausted a mile from the dock, told the story to the State Police. The lad said that his mother had taken him, his sister, Hope, 6, and his baby brother, De Witt, 3, to the dock on the pretense of showing them the New York boat. She hurled them into the water, he said, as they stepped to the edge of the wharf and then jumped in herself.

Clings To Rocks

Wayne, unable to swim, clung to rocks beneath the wharf and pulled himself ashore. The vicinity was deserted and the boy started to walk for help. Ralph Purrington found him on the street and called a constable, Sylvester Savage, who heard the exhausted and frightened lad's story.

The boy was wrapped in bed at Purrington's home and New Bedford and State Police began a search for the bodies of the brother, sister, and mother. They had not been recovered today after several hours of grappling.

The husband and father, who learned of the tragedy on his return from work started for Mattapoisett immediately.

Mother Been Ill

Wayne told police that his mother had been ill for some time and that

ORGANIZATION IS COMMENCED FOR PROVINCIAL PLOWING MATCH

Prizes in Both Goods and Money Will Be Solicited By Committee.

CUP ALREADY DONATED.

Prizes in the form of both goods and money are to be solicited for the International Plowing Match to be held in Peterborough from October 12-16, and the list of contributions is being headed by a gift of $50 from the Imperial Oil and the promise of a free supply of lubricant oil throughout the Match, through the generosity of Art Blade. These items were the main topics discussed at the meeting of the Committee of the Peterborough Plowmen's Association held last evening in J. J. Duffus' office.

The correspondence was read by J. B. Nelson, the secretary. A letter from the Bank of Montreal (Water street) stated that they would present a silver cup for competition. The letter from Art Blade, containing a substantial cheque, was read, and the members of the Association signified their appreciation of the gratuitous offer of oil for the coming Match.

The prize list was reviewed by J. J. Duffus. The Match will be open to teams used by competitors, the minimum weight being 2,600 pounds. The prizes are to be donated by the Livestock Branch of the Federal Government (horse division) the Ontario Horse Breeders' Association, and the Ontario Plowmens' Association, and will be awarded to bona fide ownersof horses. The prize list is as follows: 1st $50, 2nd $45, 3rd $40, 4th $35, 5th, $30, 6th 25 and 14 prizes of $20 each. Last year there was a

FEUD IN MONACO BROUGHT TO END

Citizens Cooperate With Casino in Effort to Bring Back Tourist Gold.

HARD TIMES FELT.

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, March 14 (C.P.). — Citizens of this midget state finally settled their feud with the Casino, paving the way for a complete accord in the municipality.

The Casino victory in the negotiations is principally moral, for by meeting the citizens' demands first for preference in Casino employment, second for strict adherence to the old policy of no taxation for certified citizens its former enemies have been turned into its best friends.

The pinch of hard times here instead of creating a revolution, has brought at least temporary peace to Monaco, for the citizens now are willing to do almost anything to bring back tourist gold, which has been notably lacking lately.

"I Never Saw You Looking So Well"

YOU should know why, for, it was you who recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to me and it certainly deserves the credit.

"I don't have to tell you how tired and useless I felt for many months before beginning this treatment. Really I never expected to be able to walk as far as we have today.

"Why, I could not sleep and the way I did dread the long nights and getting up tired and languid in the mornings.

Of course I was nervous and excitable and worried almost constantly but thank goodness, you told me about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you can see what it has done for me."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unquestionably a most satisfactory means of forming new, rich blood and feeding the exhausted nervous system back to health and vigor. It will not disappoint you because it works hand in hand with nature.

MUSINGS AT A MANSE WINDOW

ONCE upon a time — how long ago I do not care to say — the name of Samuel Rutherford conveyed a whole lot more to the average churchman than it seems to do today! Most congregations can sing — or try to sing—"The Sands of Time" without wondering who wrote it; or if they do see the name of Rutherford attached to it, it seems to convey little or nothing to their minds. Yet, to every well-informed churchman, that name is associated with some of the most hallowed memories in the history of the Christian Church.

Picked From a Preface.

The preface of a book which I possess starts off wth the following:

"The story of the life of Samuel Rutherford is so generally known that, in a mere Preface like the present, the briefest reference to its leading facts must suffice."

I am afraid that the above paragraph would have to be revised if it were to be written to-day. Unfortunately the story of the life of Samuel Rutherford is far from being "generally known" in this sophisticated age of ours!

Believing that his was a unique life, I feel that I am doing this community a real service in bringing it to the attention of the readers of this page. If he had done nothing else but pen the matchless letters which are known to real book-lovers everywhere as "Rutherford's Letters" he would have lived to have left the world forever in his debt.

Village-Born.

If you were to cross the sea to Scotland and visit that part of the romantic little land known as "The Scott Country," you would probably come upon the village of Nisbet in Roxburghshire! It would not take much discernment to discover that it was no longer young! From the general sleepy, contented air of the place you might very easily believe that it hadn't changed in its appearance since the year 1600 when, within its borders, there was born one of Scotland's most saintly sons. Little did the villagers, or any other body, realize the destiny of that child born twenty-five years before the reign of James VI. came to a close. It was a time of great trouble and turmoil for Presbyterianism in Scotland. From 1567 to 1625 the dispute between James and the Presbyterians never ceased.

The year that Samuel Rutherford was born was the year of the real beginning of Episcopacy in Scotland. It was in the year 1600 that three bishops were appointed.

England and Scotland United.

Three years after Samuel Rutherford was born in the quiet little village of Nisbet, James, said to be one of the queerest looking kings that ever sat upon a throne, received a prize for which he had long wished.

March 24, 1603, came in on a Saturday. That night a horseman rode up to Holyrood, where James was then staying, to announce the fact that Queen Elizabeth was dead. Two days later there came a message from the Privy Council of England to say that James had been chosen as her successor. It was in this way that the King of Scots became King of England and Ireland as well.

As to conditions in the rest of the world, we shall say nothing here. All his life was lived in Scotland—and it will be enough to give what we have already given regarding the religious and the political conditions at the time of his birth.

A Man's Education.

The foundations for his education were laid in Jedburgh; and in his seventeenth year he went to the University of Edinburgh where, four years later, he took his degree of Master of Arts. Because of his "eminent abilities of mind and virtuous dispositions," he was elected Regent or Professor of Humanity in 1623. Four years later he was settled as pastor of the parish of Anwoth, Stewartry of Kirkcudbright.

Here, for nine wonderful years, he preached Christ in all the glory and sufficiency of His redemptive work. Few men exalted the Son of God as Samuel Rutherford did. To him Jesus Christ was the fairest of all the sons of men.

Happy indeed were the people gathered from the hills and shore around Anwoth who listened to this ambassador of the Cross, and privileged were the homes of his parishioners which he visited.

The Reverend Alexander Duff says:

"By his powerful, persuasive, heart-melting eloquence in the pulpit; by his assiduous attentions in visiting the sick, catechising the members of his flock, and instructing them from house to house, as well as by his zealous and unremitting labours in the surrounding districts, he soon came to be revered and beloved as a spiritual father, not only by his own parish, but by the whole county of Galloway."

Blessed be the education system that will lead a man to dedicate his gifts and graces to the service of his fellows and the glory of God.

A Violent Rupture.

I have a lot of sympathy with the mind that wonders why such a happy and fruitful pastoral relationship should be fated to experience such a violent rupture as was experienced by Rutherford!

The Bishop of Brechin, a man lax in doctrine, and of fierce and fiery intolerance in practice, having been appointed to the See of Galloway, erected a High Commission Court for his own diocese.

In 1636, Rutherford was summoned before this unscrupulous tribunal and charged with the offence of preaching against the doctrine of Arminianism and the recently ordained ceremonies of public worship.

Of course, it was a foregone conclusion that he would be convicted of the charge. As a punishment he was deprived of his parochial office, sternly prohibited from speaking in public, and sentenced strictly to confine himself, before August 20th, as a state prisoner within the town of Aberdeen, and there remain during the King's pleasure!

This sentence was duly confirmed by the Supreme Court at Edinburgh, and he had no option but to leave his parish and his people amid the lamentations and bitter wailings of thousands of attached friends, and shut himself up, as a silenced speaker for God, with ungenial and scowling associates in the grand fortress and bulwark of Arminianism and Ritualism in the North.

Doctor Duff Speaks.

The power that silenced Rutherford gave the utmost liberty to the champions of those teachings which he was accused of having attacked. Alexander Duff, in his excellent Preface to the "Letters of Samuel Rutherford" tells us that Rutherford was speedily and even furiously assailed by "the learned doctors," or champions of heterdoxy and prelacy.

They might close his lips and prevent them from preaching to the crowds, but they could not close his life. His saintly walk and godly edifying converse in private gradually gained him many earnest affectionate friends, who learned to hail his enforced presence amongst them as they would that of an angel visitant from the upper world.

While his tongue was thus bound, and his person subjected to virtual imprisonment, his pen was free and all a-glow with the touch of a live coal from the heavenly altar; so that the winged words, fraught with seraphic ardour, which emanated therefrom, soon converted his humble writing-table into, perhaps, the most effective and most widely resounding pulpit then in Christendom.

Thus signally were the sinister designs of a remorseless despotism, civil and religious, not only defeated, but turned into an occasion of glorious triumph to the persecuted cause of truth and righteousness.

And so it has ever been under the government of an all-wise, all-gracious God.

Shut-Up But Not Silenced.

As from the Mamertine dungeons of pagan Rome proceeded some of Paul's weightiest epistles, now transferred, as food and regalement for hungry and thirsty souls, into almost all languages under heaven; as from Bunyan's "Den" in Bedford jail proceeded the most admired of allegories, which, for two centuries, has fed, cheered, and refreshed myriads of God's redeemed ones in all lands;—so, from Rutherford's cold and icy prison-house in Aberdeen, proceeded those matchless Letters, glowing with celestial fire, which, for generations, with undimished or rather ever augmenting power, have rekindled and fanned the flame of burning devotion in the breasts of multitudes, alike in the old world and the new. Such, and so conspicuous have always been the over-rulings of the wonder-working providence of Him, who, in His own good time and way, will always "destroy the wisdom of the wise, and bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent."

Time and Space Permit Not!

We have neither the time nore the space at our disposal just now to trace the steps by which Rutherford was led back into a public life and ministry again. The most superficial study of history will convince anyone but a fool or a bigot that there is a Superintending Power which takes a very real part in the affairs of men and nations.

Rutherford quietly, and without any molestation, returned to Anwoth. Towards the close of the year, he was sent as a delegate to the memorable General Assembly, which met in Glasgow, and consummated the ecclesiastical revolution, under the presidency of the celebrated Alexander Henderson. By the Commission of that Assembly he was, to the overwhelming grief and sorrow of his friends in the south, appointed, in the following year, Professor of Divinity in the New College St. Andrew's.

There, we are told, did "God so singularly second his indefatigable pains, both in teaching and preaching, that the University" (which had degenerated into a very nursery of error in doctrine and superstition in worship), "forthwith became a Lebanon, out of which were taken cedars for building the house of God throughout the land."

What a privilege it is to be permitted to minister to those who, in turn, are going out to minister to others!

A Great Contributor.

We should have liked to dwell upon the contributions he made to much of the religious life and language of the Christian Church! He played an important part in the preparation of the Confession Faith, the Larger and Shorter Catechisms, and other subordinate standards. It would have been interesting to have written of his return to the New College first as Professor of Divinity, then as Principal. An unsuccessful attempt was made to get him to occupy the Chair of Divinity and Hebrew in the University of Hardewyrk in Holland, as also the Chair of Divinity in the University of Utrecht.

Off To Immanuel's Land.

Trouble again came to the Church in Scotland and among the first to suffer was saintly Rutherford. His great work, entitled "Lex Rex," was publicly burnt, with every mark of ignominy and scorn, at the cross of Edinburgh. The same degrading ceremony was repeated by the unprincipled renegade, Archbishop Sharpe, beneath the Principal's windows in St. Andrew's. He was, at the same time, relentlessly deprived of his offices in the college, with their accompaning emolument, himself confined to his own house, and summoned to appear before the next Parliament, on a charge of high treason.

Having been long suffering from ill-health when the harsh and unfeeling summons reached him, his affecting reply to the messenger was, "Tell them that I have got a summons already, before a superior court and judicatory, and I behoove to answer my first summons; and, ere your day arrive, I shall be where few kings and great folks come."

And so it happened. No doubt if he had appeared before Parliament he would have been destined to die the death of a martyr. But, before Parliament met, he was, as he joyously anticipated, far beyond the grasp of all earthly tyrants.

On the morning of the 20th of March, 1661, in the sixty-first year of his age, he gently, sweetly, peacefully fell asleep in Jesus, with the seraphic utterance on his lips, "Glory, glory dwelleth in Immanuel's land."

Yours in the service of the same Master, Allan Fairbairn.

Looking Through a Tear

ASTRONOMERS have built telescopes which can show myriads of stars unseen before; but when a man looks through a tear in his own eye, that is a lens which opens reaches in the unknown, and reveals orbs which no telescope, however skilfully constructed, could do; nay, which brings to view even the throne of God, and pierces that nebulous distance where are those eternal verities in which true life consists.

If bitterness has crept into the heart in the friction of the busy day's unguarded moments, be sure it steals away with the setting sun. Twilight is God's interval for peace-making.

THE HIGHER LIQUOR PRICES

Increasing the price of liquor in the Government stores in Ontario will add strength to the criticism of those opposed to Government sale that the tendency is to become more and more dependent upon liquor revenue for purposes of Government financing.

So long as that tendency, however, takes the present form and seeks more revenue by raising prices rather than by stimulating sale, the objection is not so serious.

The price-raising, however, can only be carried so far—and the real danger will come when that method of securing funds has been stepped up to the limit.

Then the administration that happens to be in power will have to steel itself against the temptation to seek the revenue it needs through the simple, but perilous method of removing some of the control features and boosting sales.

The effect of the present raise which is aimed at securing an additional revenue of $750,000 may be to cut down to some extent the sale of hard liquors and to divert the business thus affected to the sale of beer and wines, the price of which have not been changed.

The Provincial Treasurer stated on Thursday that he expected an increase of $2,500,000 from the operations of the Control Board this year, but this will not by all means come from liquor consumption, but will represent the total profits of the Board, it is said.

MAY APPOINT TRUSTEES.

The city's bill authorizing the City Council to appoint four trustees to the Board of Nicholls Hospital and empowering the city to grant money to the Trust after a favorable vote by the non-Catholic ratepayers has been passed by the private bills committee of the Legislature.

This measure paves the way for the submission of another by-law to the Protestant ratepayers, and at the same time removes one of the most important objections to city grants to the hospital.

When approval was sought in the past for financial assistance for the institution to make possible the enlargement and modernization of the hospital the argument was advanced that the city, not being directly represented on the Trustee Board, there would be no direct control so far as the elected representatives of the ratepayers were concerned.

The original Nicholls Hospital Act has now been amended to give the City Council power to name four members of the board—an arrangement that should prove more satisfactory to everybody, and one that should assist in procuring a more favorable vote when the question of enlarging the hospital comes before the Protestant ratepayers again.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

It is significant that while reports from Ottawa indicate that the Dominion Government will assume most of the cost of old age pensions, the Ontario Government apparently expects to pay its full share this year at least, and an estimate covering this expenditure appears in Mr. Dunlop's budget.

No definite statement has been made by the Bennett Government as to its intentions in this respect, but the reference to pensions in the Speech from the Throne would seem to justify the press despatches which hint that the national adoption of old age pensions will be carried out in progressive stages—in other words, that the Government will gradually assume the burden, increasing its proportion year by year instead of absorbing the whole expense this year.

At present Quebec and the Maritime Provinces do not participate in the present old age pension scheme under which the Federal Government pays half the cost wherever the Provincial Government is ready to pay the other fifty per cent.

If a progressive scheme is introduced and the Dominion Government starts out by paying, say sixty per cent. of the total instead of fifty, the provincial administrations not already taking part in the plan would have to contribute the remaining 40 per cent.

In that case the Provinces not already launched out into the providing of old age pensions will probably decide to defer action until the federal plan has progressed to the stage wherein practically all the cost will be assumed by the Dominion.

THE TURNOVER TAX.

With speculation general as to whether the Bennett Government, in order to secure the additional revenues that are urgently needed will increase the sales tax, levy a turnover tax or choose some other form of taxation, a bulletin comparing the sales tax with the turnover tax that has just been issued by the Citizens' Research Institute should be of great interest.

The institute sums the whole thing up in the statement that if the turnover tax can succeed better than the sales tax in keeping well within the bounds beyond which business begins to decline and tax returns to the Government begin to diminish, and if its administration is shown to be practically possible in spite of the larger number making returns under it, it will prove to be sounder from the standpoint of the Government, from that of the practical business economist and from that of the ultimate consumer.

The possibility of a 1 per cent. turnover tax producing as much revenue for the Government as a 6 per cent limited sales tax, the institute points out, depends on two factors: (1) its interfering less with business and therefore favoring larger gross sales and reduced costs to the ultimate consumer, and (2) its application to all sales of commodities and possibly to all sales of services.

As to whether or not the turnover tax would be shifted to the consumer, the bulletin is emphatic in declaring that under normal conditions it would necessarily be, or otherwise most business and industry would be compelled to suspend.

Up to a certain point business and industry are remarkably productive of taxes but when an additional investment of energy and dollars brings in a disheartenningly small return, the additional effort and investment, the Institute remarks in many cases will not be forthcoming.

THAT NUISANCE.

From cities as far apart as Detroit and Montreal come objurgations to police departments to take quick and drastic action against what is known as the splashing motorist. March may be expected to provide considerable wallow, and April, too, for this type of motorist to the distress of the helpless pedestrian of either sex. The Detroit Free Press has this to say:

"This sort of recklessness is not confined to taxi drivers. The damage and embarrassment that can be caused by a shower of slush thrown up by an expensive car is quite as great as that which can be caused by a flivver. There will probably be more slush in our streets before the winter is over. There are always puddles of water in them after a summer rain. Unless the splashers are disciplined by their motor clubs, they should be taken in hand by the police and disciplined by the courts. A man who is reckless of the clothes of others is liable to be equally reckless of their life or limb."

The London Free Press says a "good pull-up by the police" would be a salutary thing, while The Montreal Star avers:

"It is only natural that the pedestrian whose trousers are bespattered or the woman whose fur coat is half-smothered with liquid dirt flung up when automobiles drive carelessly and too fast over thawing snow should nurse feelings of bitter resentment against the driver."

It may not be popular to advocate police prosecution for reckless driving, but if that is the only method to induce some thoughtfulness for the rights of others, then let it be prosecution and let it start at home.—St. Catharines Standard.

TEN MEN TO RUN IT.

Virtually one hundred per cent. of all hydro-electric power generated in Ontario is produced under public ownership and control. The rudiments of this gigantic enterprise in public ownership are known to every citizen in the Province. Scarcely two decades old, the system is unsurpassed by any other in the world. It is a monument to Canadian ingenuity.

The Niagara Power System comprises three major power development plants, operated by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, and owned collectively by the municipalities in the Province who are able to supply power at cost to their citizens.

These three major plants are known as the Queenston-Chippawa, the Ontario Power and the Toronto Power developments. The Queenston plant is far the largest of the three. It is the most efficient single hydro-electric power plant in the world and, incidentally, it is the newest, having commenced to generate power only nine years ago.

People who have not visited the plant are incapable of visualizing the mammoth proportions of the structure which took nearly a decade in the building. The power house itself, if placed in front of the American Falls, would nearly obscure them.

An interesting souvenir booklet handed to visitors who inspect the plant tells something of its structural greatness. The plant is situated in the Niagara gorge, about one mile south of the village of Queenston, at which point the banks rise more than 300 feet above the level of the river. Its super-structure is of massive concrete carried down to rock foundation. It rises 180 feet from its foundation, or about half-way up the cliff.

* * * *

There are ten main turbines or generating units in the plant. Their capacities vary from 55,000 to 63,000 horse-power, making the total capacity of the development 550,000 horse-power. Aluminum conductors carry current out through specially designed structures on the roof of the station, up the cliff to steel towers erected on the edge of the escarpment, and thence to the transmission lines radiating throughout southern Ontario. Some of the power is sent as far west as Windsor and Sarnia, about 250 miles distant. A large proportion circles the end of Lake Ontario and reaches Toronto. A portion crosses the Niagara River and is distributed in the State of New York.

To the lay mind it is difficult to convey an appreciation of the enormous power concentrated in this gigantic plant. Here is a graphic illustration. A single one of these ten main units the plant will supply the average needs of an industrial city of 200,000 people for electrical energy to turn the wheels of its factories, to drive its street cars and elevators, to light its streets and business houses, to pump its water, and to supply a superior electrical service to the homes of its citizens.

* * * *

In the power house itself, the operators are constantly on guard against mechanical and electrical troubles; failure of lubricating systems, cooling systems relaying and signalling systems and many other things. In many cases they have only a few seconds to recognize trouble, to decide upon the corrective measures, and to make the only move that may save thousands of dollars and safeguard the service, the excellence of which is only maintained by eternal vigilance.

Perhaps the most amazing feature of the whole plant, with all its immensity, is the fact that it requires only ten men to operate it—to supply practically this whole section of Ontario with hydro-electric power day in and day out. Thirty men are actually employed in operating the plant. They work in eight-hour shifts, ten men to a shift.

The fact that a number of men, that can be counted on the fingers of both hands, can operate this gigantic development, is made all the more amazing when it is taken into consideration that at one time during its construction 7,800 men were employed.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Friday the 13th—and liquor prices take a jump!

The Globe points out that when a British Laborite moved to abolish the navy he was attempting something that Napoleon and the Kaiser both failed to do.

Kingston is to erect a cairn to mark the spot where the first game of modern hockey was played. Some other enterprising community should instal a similar memorial showing where a referee was first mobbed.

The Speech from the Throne Thursday was one of the longest in history. It is to be hoped the session will not be as long in proportion.

Provincial Treasurer Hon. E. A. Dunlop is the only member of the present Legislature who sat in the House when the Liberals were in power in Ontario. A lot of water has run under the bridge in the meanwhile.

Provincial Legislatures are bound to keep Mr. Bennett at work. Nova Scotia favors a national coal policy, and British Columbia proposes that Canada should take the lead in organizing an international conference to stabilize the price of silver.

Sydney Boy Scout Will Receive Medal

SYDNEY, N.S., March 14.—(CP)—In recognition of his heroic action in saving the life of a boy who fell through the harbor ice three years ago, Billy Rice, fourteen year old son of Dr. W. H. Rice, will shortly be presented with the silver cross, second highest award for bravery which can be received by any boy scout in Canada.

Young Rice, who was eleven at the time of his heroic act, plunged into the waters of the harbor to rescue a young lad named McKinnon, who, but for his timely assistance, would in all likelihood have drowned.

The Red-Headed Goddess

By

ALICE ROSS COLVER

"Silver Tongue wasnit as clever as I thought, Chin Lee. He hasnt found the white girl and boy. But you and I will find them. Hah!" He burst into a great roar of laughter at the joke of this, and clapped the hunchback on the shoulder. "Hah! We'll outwit the Indian on his own desert! We'll get the reward ourselves! What'll we do with ten thousand dollars, Chin Lee? Never mind, now. Come on!" He ended, giving the Chinaman a push ahead of him. "Come on! We must hurry."

In a moment Chin Lee was filling the radiator of the old Ford with water, while Red Jim poured all the gasoline he had into his tank. That done he strode hastily into his shack, seized the canteen he always carried on desert trips, filled it with water, and gave it to the Chinaman to put in the car. Then he stared about his shabby, bare little room thoughtfully.

"Blankets, pillows—" he seized them and stuffed them into the arms of Chin Lee, who had returned from outside in a flutter of excitement. "Get some chicken wire, in case we get stuck in the sand," he ordered. "And the ax." Then, as the Chinaman scudded away, he bent down and pulled from under his bed a square wooden box. "Medicine kit, and I guess that's all." He opened the cover and examined the contents to be sure everything he might need was in its place, and there, in surprising contrast to the rest of his possessions, lay, in neat order, a collection of bandages of various sizes, a small bottle of liniment, a disinfectant, a sponge, a salve, needles and thread a few other necessities for first aid. With this in his hands, he strode out to join Chin Lee at the car. In a second the old junk heap that could boast little more than an engine was shaking with the energy of its pounding, and bounded away over the desert.

"Look through this," said Red Jim, thrusting the glasses into the hands of Chin Lee, "and keep your eye on 'em so you can direct me."

Chin Lee stared obediently through the glasses for a long five minutes, but at last he ventured a remark:

"White flokes all glone again. No can see."

"You donkey!" roared Red Jim in a fury. "Of course you can't see the white folks! It's the birds! Keep your eye on those black vultures in the sky! They're the ones! See 'em? Well, don't lose 'em. Jove, if there was a dunce class on the desert you'd pass high. You're the prize yellow idiot. What do I need you for, I'd like to know! You worthless rascal, you fool! No, I'm the fool to have you about! Do you see 'em? All right. Keep your eyes glued to them and your silly tongue glued to your cheeck."

After this outburst, the journey was continued in silence, save for the rattling of the crazy car. Red Jim sat hunched over the wheel, his huge bulk making the machine under him seem like a toy in his hands. Chin Lee crouched beside him, one yellow hand clutching the side of the seat, to keep him from pitching out, the other holding the field glasses to his eyes.

Before them the trail twisted in an almost undiscernablefashion across the gray desert. There were stretches where the sand had drifted completely over the shallow ruts and through these Red Jim grimly drove, getting out wherever the going became impossible, and boosting the Ford along with his arms and shoulders, while Chin Lee gripped the wheel. On and on they went, in the clear October sunshine, straight through the group of strange idols, where the red, wind-carved figures grimaced down upon them in silent mirth, past this and on and on to a flat, monotonous stretch, where there was nothing to guide them but the wheeling black birds, clearly visible now, and th. tiny white Greek temple.

On and on, with the sun rising higher and higher as the morning slipped away. On and on, with the black birds of prey now quite large and clear to the naked eye, swooping lower and lower to the still invisible figures Red Jim knew lay stretched on the sand beneath them. On and on, with the sweat pouring down his face, with the wh el slippery under his grasp, with the rattling of the car and the pound of the engine the only sounds in the vast solitude. On and on, on and on—Jack rabbits as big as small dogs leaped in the air, startled from their holes, and dashed madly off across the sand. A coiled snake, lying beneath the hot rays of the sun, struck with venomous fury at the monster bearing down upon it, and was left crushed and writhing on a flat rock. Chin Lee wet his dry lips in mute discomfort, longing for a drink, but Red Jim was oblivious to everything, save the need to reach the white people—his own kind—who were stretched out ahead somewhere on the grim desert.

At last he could see in the distance a prone shape and soon he knew it to be a man. But it did not stir as he approached. Was he already dead? No. For the vultures had not yet touched him, through they were circling menacingly close. Red Jim stepped on the accelerator and bumped furiously over the last hundred yards. A moment later he had leaped out and was kneeling beside the prostrate Dirk, feeling his pulse, lifting his swollen eyelids, peering under the soiled bandage on which flies and insects clustered thickly, and discovering finally the swollen foot. It was then that he turned to the scared, shivering Chinaman and shook his head slowly.

"This man's in bad shape, Chin Lee. And we're got a long, hard trip to make, that's got to be made slowly." He rose and stood a moment in silence, regarding the unconscious Dirk; then, with a low mutter of words, he returned to his car and got out his medicine kit. With extraordinarily skillful fingers he removed the filthy rag on Dirk's head, cleaned out the cut, and bound it up freshly, probed gently at the injured leg, until he had satisfied himself there were no broken bones when he bandaged that, too, snug and tight, in clean gauze. Finally he poured a little water between Dirk's cracked lips, and lifted his long slender form as tenderly and easily as though he were a child, into the back seat, which he had arranged with pillows and blankets into as comfortable a bed as possible. Chin Lee was then ordered to get in the back seat also and crouch on the floor beside the sick man, to keep him from pitching off on their homeward way, and to hold a moist cloth on his fevered lips and over his eyes. With this accomplished, Red Jim fired at the angry vultures, cheated of their meal, and startled them to hasty flight, after which he stared for a long moment through his glasses at the desert all about him.

He was troubled about the girl. Where was the white girl with the red hair? This man would not have deserted her. Doubtless she was in a worse condition than he, to have forced him to leave her in a vain attempt to find aid. Patiently, with painstaking care, he swept the world about him with his powerful lenses; but not a sign was to be seen of another human being. Then he turned his attention to Dirk's staggering tracks, starting to follow the circular winding maze they wove in the sand. After a moment he came to the spot where they went in a fairly direct line, and here he paused. Should he investigate further? Ought he to follow this man's trail back and see if the girl was yonder somewhere, fallen behind a bush or a rock? Or ought he to start immediately for his shack with the sick boy, who e condition he knew was grave? A second of consideration, and he had decided to retrace this trail, as the fellow could not possibly have come far in his present condition, and it would not take him long. Turning, he shouted back to Chin Lee:

"I'm going to scout for the girl!"

He could, of course, have taken the car, but it would have meant a terrific jolting for Dirk, as the faintly marked road did not lie in this direction. There were, moreover, excellent chances for sinking deep in the sand, which would make for unnecessary delay. Therefore footwork, under such conditions, was both quicker for him and safer for the injured man. Thinking thus, he strode rapidly on his way, his keen eyes searching ahead for an end to his weak and wandering track.

He had not walked more than fifteen minutes before he came to the place where Dirk's imprints ran into those of another person. Scanning them carefully, he saw that they were much smaller, and he concluded instantly that they were the girl's. The man had come with her to this point, he figured, but here, for some reason, there was a divergence of paths. Puzzled, Red Jim stared at Lorraine's tracks. Straight and true they led to the distant Greek Temple. If she could walk, or run, like that, she was not ill, he concluded. But why had she left him? Why had they not kep together? and where had she vanished to in the distance?

It was a mystery he could not fathom at first, and he stood in doubt as to his next course. To pursue her trail would mean an hour's walk at least. (He gauged his time by the distance to the Greek temple.) It was impossible to consider driving over this waste of uneven ground, because of the sick man who should not be further exposed to dangers and delays. While he deliberated, it occured to him that she might have vanished completely, anyway, and he would have his search for nothing, unless—

Suddenly a light broke on him. Silver Tongue lived in a canyon near the Greek Temple. Had the girl found this out and followed him? Had she, perchance, seen him when he was searching for her and been unable to make him hear, yet marked the place of his disappearance and remembered it? Had she realized Dirk's increasing helplessness and defiberately left him, to rush ahead and seek aid for him from the Indians? Her tracks seemed swift and purposeful and, the more he considered the matter in this light, the more probable it seemed to him that this conclusion was the right one. She had gone direct to the encampment and was in Silver Tongue's hands right now. The thought relieved him of responsibility. In that case, she was safe for the Indian would not let her get away. He would, in all probability, return here, under her direction, and take up the sick man's trail where she had left it. To follow that, to find Red Jim's car tracks and discover who had come to Dirk's rescue, would be simple work for Silver Tongue. Red Jim, therefore, would waste no further time or thought on the girl. If she had gotten to the canyon she was safe, and Silver Tongue would appear at Red Jim's shack in a day or two, with her, or with a demand from her that he carry the man back to her.

Just as he turned to go back to his car, there came a piercing cry from Chin Lee. Looking up quickly, he saw the little Chinaman helpless in the delirious grip of the sick man, who was shaking him as a dog shakes a rat. Red Jim set out at a run for the Ford, leaped upon it, and overpowered Dirk just as he collapsed into insensibility once more. Chin Lee shaking with terror, and gagging for breath, leaned over the back of the front seat, while the big giant stared down at the stranger, breathing hard from his exertion. After a second, he lifted him gently on to his blankets again, covered him up, and swung over into the front. The Chinaman started to scramble over after him in a panic, but, with a single backward sweep of his arm, Red Jim toppled him back again.

"Stay there."

"Chin Lee no lik-a fight," he whimpered feebly.

"Do you like sudden death better?" demanded his master shortly, turning to glare at him.

"My glolly! No! All lite. Chin Lee blee nice nurse allee time. Sure. Chin Lee velly velly happy take care crazy sick man." And he sank, a miserable huddled bunch, as far as possible out of reach of Dirk's dangling hand.

What To-day Means To You

"PISCES"

If March 14th is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. from 1:15 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 6:30 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to noon and from 4:15 p.m. to 6 p.m.

The astrological signs of March 14th denote an atmosphere of lassitude and a desire to loaf. Under such conditions it will be useless to attempt to do anything of importance and routine duties should only be essayed. The evening promises many agreeable surprises—especially to lovers.

Children born on this March 14th will be quiet and unassuming but very capable. They will think logically act with good judgment and always have their emotions under control. They will lack enthusiasm be fond of travel and be adaptable. The home will be their chief delight.

If you were born on a March 14th you are independent both in thought and action. You weigh matters carefully without being influenced by externals or emotion reach a conclusion and then take action in a deliberate manner. You are rather intoleraut of the views of others when they do not coincide with your own although you claim in season and out of season to be a champion of free thought and free action. You are eminently practical and worldly although there is a ve'n of mysticism in your life which baffles you. You are chivalrous always play the game and at times quixotic—especially when the interests of your friends are involved. If in any undertaking you are hampered by restrictions and limitations failure must inevitably result. If however you are allowed to "gang your ain gait" and run things to suit yourself with the corresponding responsibility that a free hand implies success is assured.

You command the respect and affection of subordinates. You direct them with decision but without harshness. You possess exceptional natural ability. The one handicap which may hold you back in your march to a fixed goal is your attraction for the opposite sex. Once you fall in love you will fall heavily and unless the one on whom your affections are centred is a worthy mate and companion your life promises to be a shadow rather than a sunbeam.

If March 15th is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from noon to 2 p.m. from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and from 9 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. The danger hours are from 10 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. and from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

March 15th promises astrologically to be a day of contentment without any distracting excitement or powerful urges. In the evening the influences will stimulate emotion and breed imagination; an ideal opportunity for those engaged in literary work.

A child born on this March 15th will after an ailing infancy develop into a persistent and ambitious human controlled by high ideals. It will in adulthood be appreciative of all forms of art become a painstaking student—always striving to add to its store of knowledge. Although having a happy disposition it will be impractical.

If March 15th is your birthday you are conscientious and thorough, and never say "die." You are artistic, and have a large degree of temperament. Original and inventive, you are, if a man, interested in all mechanical devices; if a woman, interested in everything connected with arts and crafts. In your habits, you are cosmopolitan and Bohemian, and prefer a life of individual freedom to one restricted by obligat ons and convention. You are kind and generous. You are sympathetic and always ready to help when there is any emergency or danger, as your resourcefulness can be counted on at all times, to see a thing through.

The signs denote that you will travel extensively, and the urge to roam will still for a long time the preva ent desire to settle down in a small circle and a home of your own. It is very hard for you to remain long in one place, as your spirit is a restless one.

If a woman, you are self-contained, quiet and reserved, with admirable poise. You are one of the few women who can keep a secret. Men and women born on March 15th, are romantic. Not until, however, that they have expelled the "wanderlust" from their system, should they contemplate marriage, as to do so at an early age would be to court disaster.

NEW YORK LIST FIRMER TO-DAY

Consolidated and Brooklyn Gas Lead Upward Movement in Utilities.

GENERAL ADVANCE SMALL.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 14 (C.P.)—Weakened short covering by bears who had been unable to bring out any volume of liquidation in recent sessions firmed stock prices during the two-hour market to-day. Trading, however, was listless and sales approximated only a million shares.

Consolidated Gas, Brooklyn Union Gas and Public Service of New Jersey led the upward movement in the utilities with gains of 2 points or so; Allied Chemical rallied about as much but advances elsewhere were smaller. New York Central, Southern Railway, United Gas Improvement, Warner Brothers, Fox, Loew's, Radio, American Can and Eastman Kodak moved up 1 to 1½. United States Steel, American Telephone and General Electric were dull.

BIG MISSOURI GAINS 4 POINTS

New Issues in Current Activity on Standard Market To-day.

IN HEAVY TURNOVER.

TORONTO, Ont., March 14 (C.P.).—New issues joined in the current activity on the mining market to-day, with brisk price action appearing among lower-priced stock in practically all sections. Rate of turnover was exceptionally heavy for the two-hour session, a total of 827,000 shares comparing with 1,242,000 share for the full five hour yeterday.

Central Manitoba was a feature, price moving up 9 to 21. Barry-Hollinger gained a couple to 19 renewed demand, and Big Missouri and San Antonio advanced 4 apiece. Eldorado dropped below $1 in late trade, last sale going through at 95 for a loss of 6 on the day. Northern Canada also registered a decline of 3 at 36.

In the higher-priced golds Teck-Hughes was up 5 to $7.20 and balance of the dividend-payers holding. Granada gained 10 to $1.75 and Vipond 3 to $1.10.

Ventures featured the base metal group, closing up 16 for the day at 81. International Nickel gained the best part of a point and Noranda was steady. Pend Oreille was 7 higher at $1.32, and Chibougamau Prospectors up 5 to 45.

Nordon added 3 to yesterday's gain to close at 45. Peninsular Pete dropped 4 to 23 in evident liquidation. Other lower-priced oils were quiet.

5 POINT GAIN IN DOME MINES

Irregularity in Majority of High-priced Issues Prevails on Toronto Exchange.

MIN. CORP. UP A POINT.

TORONTO, March 14 (C.P.).—Irregularity in the majority of the higher price issues prevailed at the opening of the two-hour session on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day. Dome Mines was slightly stronger selling 5 higher at 11.15, while Mining Corporation moved up a point to 2.70. Lake Shore was easier, receding 10 to 25.5, while Eldorado and Nipissing both declined a point to 1.00 and 1.79 respectively.

CANADIAN EXCHANGES' ACTION CONFINED TO MINING ISSUES

Gold, Copper and Lower Priced Oils Move Into Higher Ground.

WHEAT SITUATION SAME.

(By Thomas C. Thompson.)

TORONTO, March 14 (By The Canadian Press.)—Activity amongst mining stocks marked trading on Canadian stock exchanges this week.

The result of the sudden diversion of market interest was a slow but uninterrupted decline in the prices of industrial shares, many of which reflected an almost complete absence of buying.

Activity in mining issues brought a return of "million share" days on Standard Stock and Mining Exchange. At the close of the week the majority of gold, copper and lower-priced oils were moving definitely toward higher price levels.

The underlying cause of dullness on the Toronto and Montreal stock markets and the contrasting activity of the mines was not difficult to discover. Business news, affecting industrial shares was neither favorable nor unfavorable; leadership from the New York share list was completely lacking, and there was still no sign of a turning point in the wheat situation. Mines, however, attracted renewed attention by reason of the world gold situation, news that several gold mines are planning to resume active development, and higher prices for silver bullion. Copper markets were uncertain.

Although International Nickel at $17.75 compares with $18.85 last week, and Noranda at $17.40 also shows a loss for the week in comparison with $17.60, these leaders were influenced more by the lethargic industrial market than by the week's events on the mining exchanges. Bidgood, on the other hand, experienced a sharp increase in trading volume prior to to-day's announcement that the company is to resume active development of its Kirkland Lake gold property, and Eldorado, another low-priced issue, was a strong feature of the week. Bidgood at 9¼ cents shows a net rise of more than 2 cents a share, while Eldorado at $1.25 on Friday showed an advance of 50 cents, although last sales were at $1.01 a share

Mining Corporation at $2.69 against $2.60 last week, Ventures at 69 cents against 54 cents last week, and Lake Shore at $25.60 all reflected buying activity at the close of the week. Golds as a group were also firm.

Oils Move Forward.

Lower-priced oils on eastern and western Canadian exchanges also moved forward.

In sharp contrast to the cheaper oils, such stocks as Imperial Oil, International Petroleum and British American Oil sold down to levels that were at or close to the lowest prices of the year to date. Lower gasoline prices, crude oil price cuts in the United States and fears that production of oil is still far ahead of actual consumption were some of the factors which led to selling of these stocks. Imperial Oil closed at a net decline of more than a point; International Petroleum is down from 13 5-8 to 12 1-4, and British American ends the week at 13 or a full point net lower.

Despite the limited volume of liquidation and the fact that selling pressure against the industrials was at no time severe, these issues in nearly all cases show losses. Brazilian Traction experienced a brief recovery on Thursday but at 26 3-4 is more than a point lower for the week; Ford of Canada "A" shows a loss of a fraction at 26 3-4, and Massey-Harris at 8 shows no change from a week ago, despite the appearance of its financial statement for 1930.

C.P.R. closed on Friday at 42, or a net loss of 2 points for the week. Like other interlisted issues it fluctuated erratically during the week, sharing this condition with New York stocks.

bonds of $34,094, $39,994, $27,515 and $27,909, executed between the Consolidated Distilleries Ltd., and the Crown by the Collector of Customs at Belleville. All four were drawn up and covered shipments of whiskey which were to be exported through the agency of the Consolidated Exporters Corporation of Vancouver, from that Pacific Coast port to Corinto, Nicaragua. The vessel conveying the liquor was the S.S. Malahat. Under the provisions of the statute; if proof were adduced that the liquor had been landed at a foreign port, the bonds would be cancelled. If not, forfeiture of the bonds would follow.

The liquor was shipped to John Douglas and Co., at Corinte; a firm which, the Court found, was fictitious.

Winnipeg Review

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bawlf Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

There was very little going on in the wheat market yesterday, exports and outside interest was negligible and local prices were lower throughout, the market apparently sinking of its own weight and lack of interest more than selling pressure, as offerings were very light at all times. Foreign markets were weak, Liverpool closing 1 penny lower, when due about unchanged, and Buenos Aires was 1 3-8 lower at 3 o'clock. There was a few scattered loads worked for export overnight, and at times seaboards houses took odd small lots during the session but there was no feature to anything going on. The demand for cash wheat continued fair with spreads mostly unchanged and offerings very light, only odd car lots changing hands. The flour situation was generally unchanged with a fair domestic trade passing but practically nothing doing in export channels.

Bradstreets North American shipments this week were 5,039,000 bushels, and the indications are that world shipments will run slightly over 15,000,000 bushels for the week. The U.S. Government Bureau will issue a report yesterday afternoon on the farmers intention to plant. Country marketings of wheat in Western Canada Thursday were 250,000 bushels as against 162,000 a year ago. Winnipeg futures closed 1 3-8 to 1 5-8 lower, practically on the bottom. Chicago held firm most of the day but sold off during the last hour, and closed about 1¼ lower, the July making a new low since last December.

Coarse Grains.—There was very little doing in the Coarse Grains yesterday. A good business was worked in barley Wednesday night and Thursday but no new business was received yesterday. Oats closed 5-8 to 3-8 lower, barley ¾ to 7-8 lower, and rye 1 cent to 7-8 lower. Flax dull and featureless closing ¾ to 3-8 lower.

Liverpool Cables due 7-8 to 1 lower based on Winnipeg.

U.S. WINTER WHEAT IN GOOD CONDITION

Best Since 1918 Which Set April Record of 99.8 Per Cent That Year.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 14 (By The Canadian Press).—Trade authorities reported likelihood to-day that April unofficial crop summaries would show United States winter wheat to be in the best condition registered since 1918. The 1918 April record of the crop was 99.8 per cent., and rarely equalled. Some observers contend, however, that there is evidence of no little shifting of sentiment to the buying side of wheat because apparently all bearish possibilities have now been brought into plain sight, and allowed for.

Compared with a week ago, wheat prices this morning ranged from ½ cent lower to 3-8 advance, with corn 1-8 to 7-8 down, oats ¼ off to ¼ up, and provisions varying from 17 cents decline to 7 cents gain.

In addition to the excellent outlook for winter wheat, the spring wheat prospect both south and north of the Canadian boundary has been improved so that misgivings about surface dryness as a handicap to seeding have been eliminated for at least the present. Meanwhile, most traders look upon domestic winter wheat crop conditions as suggesting a yield well above that harvested in 1930.

With a relatively high level of hog prices prevailing and low figures on corn, specialists say there is every incentive for farmers to market corn through live stock.

Light Upward Move On Montreal Market

MONTREAL, Que., March 14 (C.P.)—A few issues turned upward at the close of the short session of the Montreal Stock Market to-day. Atlantic Sugar maintained an early loss of a point at 32½, and Bell Telephone was off 1 at 147½.

Cement was up a point at 17, Montreal Power up 1¼ at 62¾, and Quebec Power recovered 2 points to close at 47. Nickel advanced ¼ to 18¼. Brazilian gained ¼ at 27, National Brewers was up ½ at 34, and Dominion Textile was up ½ at 78.

strength, might act as a unit. Out of the conference also came a group of Progressive ideas on economic and political subjects which may form the basis at some future time for a Liberal party.

At the present, however, Sen. Norris made it clear there was no intention of establishing a third party. The Progressives, both Democrats and Republicans, consider it more expedient to preserve their party affiliation for use at the polls, reserving to themselves the right to act as an independent bloc in Congress.

Sen. Lafollette has been made the head of a committee which will make a survey of unemployment conditions throughout the United States and should its finding establish the Progressive belief as to the seriousness of these, President Hoover will be asked to summon a special session of Congress, something which he has no intention of doing.

GIBBONS IS GIVEN TERM AT GUELPH

Pleaded Guilty to Three Charges of Breaking and Entering Stores.

TO BE TAUGHT A TRADE.

Donald Gibbons, second youngest of the burglar gang of six local youths, was this morning sentenced to two years less one day in the Ontario Reformatory, Guleph, on each of three charges of breaking and entering, to which he had pleaded guilty; the sentences to run concurrently.

He appeared before His Honor Judge E. C. S. Huycke, by whom he h. been remanded yesterday for sentence at a special sitting of the County Judge's Criminal Court.

In the course of an eloquent and touching plea for clemency, Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., explained that the prisoner was only seventeen years of age on January 17th, last. When he was eighteen months old his father was killed overseas and his mother had died shortly afterwards. He had been brought up by his grandmother in extreme poverty, and at the time the offences with which he was charged, were committed he was out of employment.

For some reason Mr. Gordon stated, Dr. Howson was not present to testify, but he had called upon him to state that the prisoner was suffering from tuberculosis.

Counsel contended that the way the accused had been brought up indicated that the foundation had been laid for him to develop very much in the way he had done.

"From what the Chief of Police says," he continued, "Gibbons is alert mentally and I would suggest that the condition of his health be considered by your Honor, and that prisoner be given the opportunity to learn a trade, and that he be sent to an institution where he would be able to get out in the open air, in view of this condition."

Find Boy Work.

Mr. Gordon called attention to the fact that an uncle of the accused was in court having come down from Sudbury where he is employed as a chef. He had promised to take care of the boy and to find him work in the north country.

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., outlined the activities of the gang with which the accused had associated, and in reply to His Honor stated that from November 16 last up to March 2, when they were caught, the gang had made a practice of going out early in the morning and breaking into stores.

"They used an automobile," he declared, "and it was their practice to break the glass in the doors with a hammer, releasing the catch, and entering the premises and helping themselves to groceries, candies, and cigarettes."

He described the offences as very deliberate and thorough, and spoke of the loss which small grocers on the outskirts of the city had suffered as a result of the gang's activities, remarking "the boys have taken advantage of the lack of proper police protection in the outlying parts of the city."

The Crown Attorney suggested that a substantial term at the Guelph Reformatory would meet the demands of justice. It was a place where the physical needs of the prisoner would be cared for and where he would have the opportunity to learn a trade.

He recalled the fact that Gibbons was convicted of theft on May 9, 1930, when he was given one year's suspended sentence, and at the time of the recent thefts in which he was involved was reporting regularly to the Chief of Police.

"There was an admission by some of the accused," Mr. McElderry went on, "that the gang would wait for the police on duty in the outlying sections to go off on some other beat. They were familiar with the duties of the police."

His Honor: I suggest that the city Council be persuaded to get more police. These robberies would not have occurred in a city properly policed.

Chief Newhall, speaking from a close knowledge of the prisoner's home environment, said "His life has always been in a shady place. The only redeeming feature is that the accused is truthful."

His Honor, addressing prisoner: Why did you do this? You knew you were doing wrong?

Prisoner: Yes, Your Honor.

"Can you tell us why you did these things?" persisted the Judge.

Prisoner: I don't know, Your Honor.

"I don't know that you are really a bad boy; you have a good open face," stated His Honor, in sentencing the accused.

He observed that it gave him a great deal of anxiety as to know what was best of the prisoner, who is only seventeen years old, and at a very impressionable time of life, and continued to point out to accused the seriousness of the crime for which he was being senteneed.

His Honor asked the accused not to consider his sentence merely as punishment, but as an opportunity for receiving a training which would fit him to become a useful citizen later in life.

In reply to a question as to what trade he would like to learn, prisoner stated, "I would like to be a mechanic, Your Honor." He also gave his promise that he would work hard.

"Well, if you do, you will have ample opportunity to become a good boy and a good man, and I am going to ask that a recommendation be sent to the Superintendent of the institute to which you are committed, asking that you be given an opportunity to redeem yourself and that you be taught a trade," His Honor said.

The Kroehler Co. have an enviable reputation for quality living room furniture, and these suites are their newest products, manufactured at a figure to permit of retailing at prices considerably lower than those of many years ago. "Harry", as he is intimately known, has lived here practically all his life, and enjoys a well-earned reputation for four-square dealing in all business relations. He invites inspection of his new show room and spring merchandise, without obligation in any way.

MARILYN MILLER OUT TO WRITERS

"Sally" a Wet Smack to Paris Scribes.

PARIS, March 14.—Marilyn Miller has proven a wet smack as far as ambitious young reporters go. She's been here now almost two weeks and nobody's so much as got her on the phone by mistake. She's "resting," and when she isn't resting "she's out."

This little formula worked on the embittered brains of the local cubs, so that they went back to the office and tore off laughing remarks at Marilyn's expense about how nobody will admit being engaged to her—Fred Astaire, Alex Gray and the really serious non-committal Michael Farmer.

Anyway, since the remarks were so obviously hokum nobody enjoyed them much, least of all Miss Miller.

Paramount's revival of musicals will not begin before June, when a George Marion junior football story, starring Jack Oakie, starts production.

Meanwhile Par is waiting and observing what other studios will do.

Evelyn Laye's option has been permitted to lapse by Samuel Goldwyn while her almost concluded contract with Warners was nullified by a home office order that W. Paramount is throwing all the player strength it can into "The Lawyer's Secret." Charles Rogers, Fay Wray, Clive Brook and Richard Arlen have been assigned.

"Charlie Chaplin."

Serious Yarn, "Rights" and "Toast" Have M-G Scribes Hustling

HOLLYWOOD, March 14. — Metro has three stories in process of development for Marie Dressler. One is a serious yarn on which Frances Marion is working.

Starting within two weeks for Miss Dressler will be "Women's Rights," an original by C. Gardner Sullivan and Wells Root, based on an idea by Robert Hopkins.

A third shaping up for her is "Toast of the Town," which Sam Marks has shifted around to many writers and now is in the hands of Al Cohn for final try.

Still a little shaky from her recent heart attack, Miss Dressler left last week for Santa Barbara to rest before going in again.

When Food SOURS

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless liquid; pleasant, efficient and harmless. But it kills excess acids. It has remained the standard with physicians for more than 50 years.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for over fifty years in correcting excess acids. 50c bottles—any drugstore. The genuine is always a liquid—it is never made in tablet form. So look for the name Phillips on wrapper and bottle. Made in Canada.

A PETERBORO BOY.

From the head office in Kingston, Ont, comes the announcement that W. T. Fortye, son of Mr. R. H. Fortye, of Peterboro, has been appointed Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Relief Life Insurance Company, in succession to the late J. N. Alexander.

Mr. Fortye brings to his new duties a ripe business experience gained in the field of finance. Born at Peterborough, where he attended the Public and High schools, Mr. Fortye entered the service of the Bank of Montreal in 1910 and served in Montreal, Toronto, Chicago and Kingston, with two years in the head office of the Bank of Montreal as inspector for Ontario.

Early in 1915, he entered the Great War with one of the battalions from Hamilton and later was transferred to the Royal Canadian Dragoons in which he attained the rank of Captain.

Demobilized in May, 1919, he reentered the service of the Bank of Montreal where he remained until 1928, when he was appointed Manager of the firm of F. W. Macdonald & Company, Stock Brokers. Two years later, Mr. Fortye joined Hanson Bros. Incorporated, of Toronto, severing his connection with this company to come to the Mutual Relief Life Insurance Company as Secretary-Treasurer, for which position he is so well qualified.

ORGANIZATION IS COMMENCED

"Perth County Special"—6 awards of $25 each and silver medals and ribbons showing placings. It is expected that Peterborough County will do even better than this in their special prizes.

At this point, the President, J. J. Duffus, explained that the International Plowing Match was under the auspices of the Ontario Plowmens' Association. The local committee was empowered to arrange the details previous to the Match, but that the Provincial body would take over the contest on the Monday preceding the Match. The County match will be held on Tuesday, October 13.

All the members of the Association were asked to solicit prizes, both cash and goods, because it would be the "chance of a lifetime" for local merchants to exhibit their wares. The prizes are a great attraction, and the members were urged to induce all those with good teams to enter the contest.

It was formally decided that the committee should meet on the third Friday of every month. Wm. Cleghorn of Otonabee was proposed as Honorary Chairman, and T. H. Graham as Vice-Chairman. The names of Mayor Denne, E. A. Peck, M.P., J. F. Strickland, M.L.A. T. P. Lancaster, M.L.A., and Warden Tanner were proposed as honorary members of the committee.

The Grounds Committee were asked to prepare a map showing the farms and fields on which the plowing match is to take place.

J. B. Nelson announced that a boy's plowing demonstration would be given, under the auspices of the Peterborough Department of Agriculture in the various townships during the two weeks previous to the Plowing Match in October.

Towards the close of the meeting there arose much discussion regarding the clashing of the dates of the Norwood Fair and the Match. It was finally decided that J. J. Luffus, J. B. Nelson and Wm. Knox would hold consultation with the President of the Fair for the purpose of shifting its date so as not to conflict with the Match or the other fairs which followed in close succession at that time.

LIEUT.-COL. W. GORDON HALL, V.D. COMMAND 7TH INFANTRY BRIGADE

Officers of the Peterborough Rangers Hold Their Annual Mess Banquet.

COL. ANDERSON PRESENT.

In words expressive of the highest praise and commendation, Colonel W. B. Anderson, C.M.G., D.S.O., District Officer Commanding M.D. No. 3, referred to the progress made by the Peterboroug Rangers Regiment during the past year, at the annual banquet of the officers mess held in the Armouries last evening, and at which every unit in the Peterborough Garrison was fully represented; he also announced that Lieut.-Colonel W. Gordon Hall, V.D., has been appointed to succeed to the command of the 7th Brigade in succession to Colonel Roscoe Vanderwater, D.S.O., M.C., whose tenure of command shortly expires.

During the course of a very pleasant evening, honor was also done to Colonel H. E. Goodeve, District Paymaster, who was presented with a gift on behalf of the officers of the garrison as a token of the esteem in which he is held, and to mark his appointment as paymaster of M.D. 6 Halifax. The presentation was made by Captain G. Munroe, paymaster of the Peterborough Rangers, who spoke highly of the cordial relationship which has always existed between Colonel Goodeve and the regiment.

Colonel Goodeve responded in a short and suitable address, in which he expressed his thanks to the officers of the garrison, and to the officers of the Peterborough Rangers and their paymaster in particular.

Captain G. Monkman, M.C., president of the Peterborough Ranger's Officer's Mess, capably discharged the duties as toastmaster, and after the King had been honoured, called upon the Padre, Major R. C. Blagrave, D.D., to extend a welcome to the visitors. In the course of a short address, the padre thought that the main object of the annual dinner was to stimulate pride in military matter.

"We are all on the side of International peace," he declared, "and rejoice to see the Labour Party in the Old Land attempt to reconcile the military policy of Italy and France with that of Great Britain's most modest military policy."

He contended that some people do not agree with military preparedness, but he pointed out the necessity for being prepared to uphold the integrity of our throne and King.

Major J. Dewart, M.C., Officer Commanding C Company, 4th Battalion, C.M.G.C., proposing the toast to "Headquarters' Staff," eulogised the wonderful administrative work which is done by them. He recalled some war-time incidents, saying he believed that the Canadian Corps had the most efficient staff ever to control an army in ancient, medieval or modern times. He was sorry to learn that Colonel Goodeve was leaving Kingston, and spoke at length on the wonderful relationship which has ever existed between "the staff at the headquarters of M.D. 3 and the Peterborough garrison."

Responding to the toast, Colonel Anderson thanked Major Dewart for his kind emarks, and thought he could confidently state that his staff at M.D. 3 could not be excelled in any other district in Canada.

"This dinner tonight is the annual dinner of the Peterborough Rangers," the speaker remarked, "and it is on such occasions that I generally have suggestions to make for the improvement of the unit." He admitted, however, that on the present occasion he had few if any suggestions to put forward, as he was entirely satisfied with the work of the Rangers.

"I said in my annual report that this regiment was the most progressive unit in the district and I meant every word of it," he averred.

The Colonel proceeded to convey to the gathering the apology of Major Whitelaw, who was regretfully unable to be present at the function as he had fully intended.

"He has repeatedly spoken to me of the tactical training undertaken by this regiment," said Colonel Anderson, 'and gives full credit for that success to Major Winterbottom."

Announcing the retirement of Colonel Vanderwater from the command of the brigade, the speaker stated, "he goes out soon, much to the regret of everyone. For the last three years he has been giving me the best of advice and great support. He has been full of enthusiasm, and as this is probably the last occasion on which we shall be together in public, I wish to give him my very best thanks for his assistance."

"Colonel Gordon Hall, former O.C. of the Rangers, has been appointed to succeed him."

Here Colonel Anderson was forced to pause, as he waited for the outburst of cheering which drowned his voice, for a few minutes, after which he resumed, and stated how much he appreciated the work of the entire district. "Everybody here seems to be very enthusiastic over the militia," he concluded.

Called for a speech, Colonel Vanderwater congratulated the Peterborough Rangers on the choice which had been made in Colonel Hall as his successor in office. He also pointed out the wonderful honour which had been vested in the regiment in so much as they were privileged to perpetuate the 2nd Battlion—the battlion in which he and many other officers present around the banquet table, were privileged to serve in during the late war.

Colonel Hall, Former O. C.

"In some ways I have a hard job ahead but in other ways I have not," remarked Colonel Hall in the course of a few remarks. "I am following after a Brigade Commander, who, as everyone present knows, had a splendid record overseas, and also in the post which he is about to relinquish. He is a hard man to follow."

He continued to speak of the wonderful progress which had been made in the regiment under the command of Colonel M. H. Park, V.D., and of the wholehearted support Colonel Park had always received from all his officers. He thought that a large measure of the success of the success was also due to the feeling of espirit de corps which exists to a marked degree between all other units of the garrison, and between the garrison and headquarters' staff.

The Rangers.

Proposing a toast to the "Peterborough Rangers," Colonel J. W. Miller, V.D., spoke of the honour it was to propose such a toast, having been, as he was connected with soldiering in Peterborough since the year '65. He thought that no bond is so strong between men as that created by the uniform. In reminiscent mood, the 'grand old man'—a veteran of the Fenian raids and the American Civil War, recalled many of the old soldiers who have long since passed on.

Response by O. C.

Accorded quite an ovation as he rose in response to the toast, Colonel Park, O. C. Rangers, thought it fitting that the toast should have been proposed by the oldest living O. C. of the Rangers. He contended that Colonel Miller may always be relied upon to sound a note of patriotism, and he added, "we need lots of that today."

He proceeded to review the work of the past year, expressing his deepest appreciation to his fellow officers, and speaking very highly of the work of his predecessor, Colonel Hall, and expressing the opinion that the results of this year will put the regiment a notch higher in efficiency if he can still rely upon the hundred per. cent. support of his officers and men which has never been lacking in the past.

The Colonel called attention to three new electric lights which have recently been installed in the mess, and which were donated by Colonel Hall, and he expressed the hope that the lights would prove to be symbolic of the light which Colonel Hall would continue to shed in his new capacity.

Concluding with further remarks as to the appropriate remarks given by Colonel Miller, the speaker coupled with Colonel Miller's name that of Major R. T. Hounsell, V.D., an old and honoured officer.

During the dinner period the Regimental band, under Lieut. W. H. Peryer, rendered numerous selections, much to the delectation of the diners. The tables were occupied with silver regimental trophies, won in various events over a period of many years honoured history.

BANDIT IS SHOT BY POLICE CHIEF

Second Jail Breaker is Caught After Chase in Vancouver Suburbs.

REFUSED TO SURRENDER.

VANCOUVER, March 14 (C.P.) — Defiant in the face of threatened arrest, Ellis Wilcox, 21-year-old bandit, was shot dead yesterday on the outskirts of Vancouver after a gun battle with police. Fraser McDougall, aged 25, who made a spectacular escape from Oakalla Prison with Wilcox eight days ago, surrendered as his mate dropped in death agony.

Wilcox died as he was being rushed to the home of a near-by doctor within a few moments after he had been shot down by Chief of Police W. J. Devitt of Burnaby, Vancouver suburb, accompanied by two constables. Chief Devitt had rushed to a spot near the Vancouver-Burnaby line, where it had been reported that two men in a small automobile were hiding in the bush.

Armed with a rifle, Chief Devitt ordered the bandits to surrender. Wilcox drew a revolver and fired, but dropped under a charge from the policeman's rifle, which pierced his stomach. McDougall dodged behind the bandits' car, which had been stolen after their escape from jail, and pointed his revolver at the Chief. He threw up his hands in surrender, however, when Chief Devitt fired another shot, which hit the machine.

Charge of attempted murder will be laid against McDougall for his part in the gun fight, according to Chief Devitt. The young bandit was first taken to Burnaby Jail, but was later moved to Oakalla Prison by Provincial Police.

JUNIOR FARMERS HEAR FINE PAPER ON PROBLEMS OF RURAL BOY, GIRL

J. P. Nelson Organizes Home Garden Club of 25 Havelock District Youths.

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS

HAVELOCK, March 14 (Examiner Correspondence).—The enclosed paper was read at the March meeting of the Havelock Junior Farmers' Association held in the Orange Hall recently. J. B. Nelson, Agricultural Representative of Peterborough was present and organized a Home Garden Club of twenty-five boys.

Rural Boy's Problems

The following is an address by Prof. W. R. Graham, Poulty Department, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ontario.

What are the problems of the rural boy and girl? It might be more fitting if the boys and girls were answering the questions, rather than one of the old boys. As I see it, there are two big problems: 1, education, 2, a happy home. Some one said that education consisted of learning to see and to think, and then to act upon what one sees and thinks. It has likewise been said that knowledge is power, but it may be low power, without thinking and action.

One thinks of education as schools, colleges and universities, but perhaps the greatest school is Dad's and Mother's school. The real question in education is the desire and need to know. Do you know your parents? Or equally, do your parents know you? Are your parents your chums, or are they simply something that one must put up with during a certain stage of life?

In your home where the daily activities of life are going on, have you confidence enough in your parents, and do you really know them well enough to sit down and discuss the planning and financing of the home problems?

I have no hesitation in saying that I learned a great deal from my father, and it was done in a very simple manner and yet I missed a great deal for the simple reason that I was reluctant to chum with him, perhaps from fear, yet that can hardly be the truth for as far I can remember he never gave me what one can term a whipping, but he did occasionally scold me for not thinking about what I was doing.

Learned Much From Father

I learned from my father by actual measurements in the fields, how much effort was lost by not driving straight; how much milk was lost by having one man drive the cows from a distant pasture field, as compared to another man; this was done by actually weighing the milk; how to sow seeds by measuring a certain plot of ground, and then sowing on this a definite amount of grain, so that one could see the unevenness of distribution; next letting the hens out of the house to eat the grain; (If different grains were sown on different days, one could not help noticing the hens' prefrence for certain grains) a very simple observation of

LAWN ESSENTIAL AS BEAUTY SPOT

Permanent Affair of This Kind Requires Much Work in Advance.

USE BEST SEED

While it has its very practical advantages, the lawn is absolutely essential also from the standpoint of beauty in connection with any garden, an even, velvety sward of rich, green grass is necessary to set off brilliant flowers while it makes an ideal spot for the children to play, as well as a location for such sports as miniature golf, croquet, hand ball, tennis and other things.

Even in the smallest garden grass is advisable. We can at least use this material for our paths between the beds, though if there is much traffic it may not stand up as well as more permanent material like brick, flagstones, gravel, concrete or cinders. But our lawn must be even, the grass should be dark green, there must be no weeds and no bare spots.

Grass like any other plant responds to fertilizer and while well rotted manure is one of the best agencies in this connection, in the case of lawns it is not so advisable as coarse fertilizer on account of the danger of weed seeds. A good commercial mixer high in nitrogen, which element furnishes the green growth, is the best to use.

A vital factor in this, as well as all other forms of gardening, is the seed. There are dozens of mixtures on the market and prices vary. But good grass costs money because seed giving a fine, velvety sward that will stand up year after year is expensive. Cheap mixtures will make a fine appearance the first year, but kill out badly with frost and are inclined to develop more and more into coarse, rank growing grass as time goes on.

Reputable seed houses who depend on trade year after year for their own protection only handle grass that will give the best results under Canadian conditions and their mixtures, tested and approved by Government officials, are safe. One pound of seed is required for every two hundred square feet, and where the ground is shaded special seed should be used.

In planting a permanent affair of this kind most of the work must be done in advance. It is essential that the ground be thoroughly dug and levelled before the grass is sown. If at all possible, give any weak seeds a chance to sprout and then cultivate to kill them before we seed it down. Late frosts and heavy spring rains will settle the soil after which we should rake level again.

Roll or pound the seeded ground thoroughly. This same practice is recommended for treating bare spots upon which the seed should be raked in thoroughly and some protection against birds like wire or branches should be placed over the new seeded spot.

BUY GOOD BULL FOR DAIRY HERD TO GAIN SUCCESS

In Selecting Sire Trace Ancestor's Record for at Least Two Generations.

BULL IS HALF THE HERD

Co-operative Movement Borrowed From Europe Proving Highly Successful.

By Dr. L. D. LeGear

It is said that moving picture stars are assisted in their journey along the road to fame by well-paid publicity agents.

Without any such artificial aid the bull has become famous in the public mind. First a well-known tobacco manufacturer named his product after the bull and dotted the landscape with huge billboards depicting a magnificent animal challenging the world.

In recent years the expression "throwing the bull" and other versions of the same thing have been added to our rapidly growing vocabulary of slang terms.

Serious Factor

In dairying the bull is a serious factor, so much so that the success or failure of a herd may easily rest on the proper selection of a sire.

Experiments have shown that a pure-bred bull when serviced with scrub cows will produce daughters whose milk production will exceed that of their mothers by one-third to one-half. There are countless records at experiment stations to prove this. Second generation cows from the same or equally high-grade sires will likewise show big increases in milk production.

In selecting a bull be sure to look into his parentage. Remember it is the blood line that counts for everything. Do not be deceived by the fact that his mother has a big milk record. She may be an exception in a herd of cows from the same sire whose average production is low. Experience shows that a dam will transmit the characteristics of her family, not alone of herself. So if possible know the record of the young bull's ancestors at least two generations back.

Half the Herd

According to a well-known law, one-half of the characteristics of an animal or human being come from the male and the other half from the female. But in discussing those characteristics keep in mind that they are an accumulation from many ancestors, in other words, they are family, not individual, traits. Therefore when you use one bull in a herd, which is usually the case, and he is mated with all the cows, one-half of the characteristics of all the calves come from the sire. In other words, the bull is half the herd, for better or worse.

We have in mind the record of one bull which had a very good pedigree. But most of the daughters from this bull were failures. They averaged nearly 1,500 pounds of milk and 70 pounds of butterfat a year less than their mothers. Think of the loss that meant to the owner of the herd, since the cost of feeding, milking and marketing was the same.

In the last twenty years we have seen the co-operative bull association movement successfully introduced in this country. The idea is borrowed from Europe. A group of farmers or dairymen get together and form an association for the purpose of buying and maintaining a pure-bred bull. In this way owners of small herds, who could not possibly afford to own a good bull, have the advantage of the best.

Groups Organized

Frequently a number of groups are organized, adjoining each other. If there are three groups, for instance, three bulls are purchased. They generally plan to have about 50 to 75 cows to be served in each group. Then, to prevent inbreeding, the sires are moved from one group to another every two years.

There is no estimating the benefits that have accrued to the dairy industry as a whole by the introduction of co-operate bull associations, but they undoubtedly have done as much as any one thing to put us abreast of the times.

Another advantage of the co-operative buying is that you can afford to keep the bulls during their best years. It is true that the young sire can begin service shortly after he is one year old. But his best period is between the ages of two to five years. When past eight years the majority are slow and uncertain.

Farmer Benefits By Keeping Budget

Writing in the Economic Annalist, official organ of the Agricultural Economics Branch, Ottawa, A. E. Gosselin, endorsing the budget system for farms, says:—

"Budgets help the farmer to work out the best combination of crops and live stock, to make a good distribution of labor throughout the season, to determine in advance the amount of seed, fertilizers, feed and other supplies likely to be needed during the year, the amount of cash necessary to operate the farm and when it will be needed. Budgets help also in determining the total net returns that may be expected, so the necessary financial arrangements may be made to meet living expenses, payments of different kinds, and to make the necessary adjustments between the probable expenses, and the estimated returns. Budgeting is a common practice used by commercial firms, public agencies, and Governments. It has also been recommended and used with success by leading farmers of different countries."

Good Pruning Aids Success in Orchard

Much of the success in fruit growing is secured through the proper pruning and preparation of trees for their natural purpose. With the warm sunny days of spring just a few weeks ahead orchardists are beginning to think of getting their orchards into shape for the year's work. For good results there should be a definite objective, particularly in the work of pruning, and for this purpose the horticultural experts of the Federal Department of Agriculture have prepared a bulletin, "Modern Orchard Practices" (No. 129). This bulletin is proving popular with orchardists and is available without charge on application to the Publications Branch of the Department at Ottawa.

GET SWEET PEAS PLANTED EARLY

No Need for Discouragement If Few Simple Rules Are Followed.

RICH SOIL NEEDED

Many of us have become discouraged in trying to grow sweet peas but this beautiful flower should never be given up and will not be by the beginner or any one else if a few simple rules are followed in handling it.

Briefly, these call for early planting, just as soon as one can work in the soil without muddying ones boots. Often there is a week during March or early April when the earth in the warmer and better drained part of the garden becomes fit to plant. One can determine this time by taking a handful of earth and squeezing it lightly. If it crumbles it is safe to plant but if it compacts into a tight ball, leave it alone for a few days.

Require Rich Soil

Sweet peas require a rich porous soil containing plenty of humus. It is a good plan to dig a trench about two feet deep. In the bottom put a layer down and then put a layer of six inches of good garden soil.

Plant the sweet peas about two inches deep and about five inches apart in this and gradually, as the plants grow, fill in the soil until we have the trench completely filled by about the first week in May, with the peas always showing a half an inch above the earth. This will encourage deep and expansive root growth and give the plants that vital moisture and cool foundation that are so necessary. A light application of a good commercial fertilizer is also advisable once or twice during the spring months.

Provide at least three feet and, better still, four or five with up to ten feet in British Columbia, of climbing support in the form of strings, an old tennis net, brush or chicken wire, although the latter because it is liable to heat up in the sun and its sharp edges are likely to cut the plants, is not the best to use. Select the colors you prefer and good varieties, rather than mixtures.

Seed

Because seed is so cheap and one of the least important factors in the cost of gardening, we are too apt to overlook its importance. Good seed is essential and we should purchase that especially suited to Canadian conditions. Certain varieties which may give wonderful results in England or the Southern States are not likely to do well in our country, and on this account gardeners are strongly advised to obtain their supply of both seeds and plants from those sources which cater to Canadian purchasers.

GIVE CHICKS FEED WITHOUT DELAY

Chicks Get Hungry and Eat Litter Which Binds Digestive Organs.

OLD THEORY REPLACED

A great many poultrymen last year, upon the recommendations of the experiment stations and poultry feed manufacturers, began feeding their chicks, with very satisfactory results, just as soon as they were taken out of the incubator, or as soon as they received them from the hatchery.

For a good many years poultry authorities insisted that chicks should not be fed until they were 48 to 72 hours old, so as to give the yolk which is drawn into the chick's body just before it leaves the shell a chance to be digested. They were of the opinion that feeding chicks as soon as they were taken out of the incubator interfered with the digestion of the yolk and it would eventually decompose, causing many chicks to die.

Chicks Get Hungry

What really happened was that the chicks got hungry, and not having had anything to eat nor having been taught what constituted feed, they started to pick away at the litter on the floor. They actually would eat a considerable amount of the sand, shavings or straw, filling their tender digestive systems with the fibrous material, which they later were unable to dispose of and thus starved to death when a week to ten days old.

If you did not try feeding the chicks just as soon as they were put in the brooder last year, be sure to try it this year. Chicks that are old enough to be taken out of the incubator are old enough to eat Starter. You are less apt to lose them and they will actually make better growth. When you stop to consider that a chick gains 26 times its original weight in the first twelve weeks, it is easy to understand that proper nourishment is very vital the first few days of its life. Health, growth and ability to digest and assimilate its feed later depends directly upon it.

Feed Granite Grit

There has been a difference of opinion as to the necessity of grit and types of grit to feed. Years ago poultrymen fed a granite grit; then scientists discovered the value of direct sunlight in the assimilation of minerals, and in their eagerness to supply an abundance of calcium in the ration recommended limestone grit. The real purpose for feeding grit was forgotten.

Limestone grit is readily soluble in acid. With the presence of hydrochloric acid in the stomach, a limestone grit is dissolved before it can be of any assistance in breaking down of the feed so the digestive pulces can work on it properly. Lack of proper grinding material is apt to result in certain types of paralysis, diarrhoea, toe picking, cannibalism, feather eating, slow growth and poor feathering.

Give It a Test

Chicks need a hard, rough, acid-insoluble, granite grit. If you are not sure of the kind of grit you are feeding, put a few pieces of it in a glass of vinegar. If, after a few minutes, bubbles continue to rise, it is limestone and should not be used as grit.

If you want the chicks to grow rapidly and evenly, be well feathered, and not eat each other up, keep granite grit available. By sprinkling grit over the mash each morning the chicks are sure to get what they need in the way of grit.

Canadian Champion

The champion egg-layer of Canada, "No Drone 5 H," a white Leghorn, the property of Mrs. William Whiting of Port Kells, B.C., established a world's record by producing 375 eggs in 365 days. Each of the eggs was of standard size or better than standard weight. If "No Drone" wishes to cackle over her feat, she certain has earned the right to do so.

SEED PRODUCTION IN ONTARIO 1930 IS UP TO MARK

Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland Play Part in Yield of Alsike, Canning Peas.

EASTERN CROPS GOOD

Alfalfa Yield of 50,000 Bushels is Decided Improvement Over Former Years.

There is considerable of interest to farmers and the trade in the report of the Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture with respect to production and conditions throughout the area for 1930.

The production of seeds in Ontario is confined largely to the counties bordering on Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence and those in the Ottawa Valley. Alsike is grown in large commercial quantities in the counties of Northumberland, Victoria and Peterborough and in some years red clover also.

Alfalfa grows intermittently in all the water front counties as far east as Lennox and Frontenac. Russell and Prescott supply some commerical red clover seed.

Canners Peas

Timothy is confined mainly to the counties of Dundas and Russell, while commercial quantities of canners' peas, both for canning and seed, are produced in practically all of the Lake Ontario counties and in Peterborough and Victoria.

The quantities of commercial clover and grass seed from the above named areas in 1930 were approximately as follows:

Red Clover	400,000 lbs.
Aslike	1,000,000 lbs.
Alfalfa	100,000 lbs.
Timothy	100,000 lbs.

In northern Ontario along the T.N. and O. line from New Liskeard to Cochrane there are usually produced large quantities of mixed seed of alsike and timothy and lesser quantities of red clover, the total production ranging from 500,000 to 1,000,000 lbs., but yields were practically nil in 1930 owing to excessive rainfall during the summer.

In the Rainy River District and the Oxdrift-Dryden section of northwestern Ontario conditions were more favorable. Aslike in the vicinity of Kenora was better than average, and yielded as much as 6 bushels per acre of good seed, while at La Vallee, where threshing is still in progress, yields are lighter.

The production of seed grain in Eastern Ontario in 1930, was, from the standpoint of both quality and quantity, one of the best on record, but owing to the economic situation now existing the market for this superior seed grain is seriously limited.

Little Timothy Grown

In south-western Ontario the chief areas of production for alfalfa, red clover and aslike are the counties of York, Simcoe, Peel, Halton, Lambton, Elgin and Haldimand; for sweet clover, the counties of Grey and Simcoe and for blue grass the county of Haldimand. Timothy seed is grown only in negligible quantities.

About 8,000 acres of blue grass were harvested which yielded an approximate average of 200 lbs. of seed per acre. As the weight of this seed is only 14 lbs. per bushel, the estimated total yield is, therefore, 114,286 bushels.

Red clover was a much smaller crop than in 1929, yields per acre being between 2 and 3 bushels with a total yield of from 8,000 to 9,000 bushels, the quality of which is from fair to good.

Between 25,000 and 30,000 acres of alfalfa were cut for seed which yielded a total of about 50,000 bushels. This is a decided improvement over former recent years.

Aslike Acreage Reduced

The aslike acreage was greatly reduced owing to the dry summer of 1929, to severe winter killing and late frosts in May. The average yield was from 4 to 4½ bushels per acre, totalling from 60,000 to 65,000 bushels, the quality of which was good for size, color and cleanliness.

The total probable yield of sweet clover would be between 10,000 and 12,000 bushels, the average per acre being 2 and 4 bushels. The general quality was satisfactory.

Like eastern Ontario, south-western Ontario has ample supplies of seed cereals of high quality.

South-western Ontario had the best corn crop in many years and will be able to provide much of the province's requirements of seed corn for 1931 planting. Owing to recent changes in the regulations under the Destructive Insect and Pest Act, effective on and after February 17, 1931, allowing of freer movement of corn products, the trade in Ontario grown seed corn will be greatly facilitated.

The quality of all classes of peas was the best in recent years.

CHICK PRODUCTION IS BECOMING GREAT INDUSTRY IN DOMINION

More Than 80 Million Will Be Hatched to Maintain Poultry Flocks.

SCIENTIFIC BASIS

By R. A. Whitman
(Special to The Examiner—Copyright 1931)

OTTAWA, March 14—The end of February marked the opening of one of the largest seasonal enterprises in the Dominion-chick production. To maintain Canada's poultry flocks at their present number of over 56,000,000 a committee of experts at Ottawa estimated that it will be necessary to produce 80,000,000 chicks. The season for this apparently huge quantity is essential because 25 per cent of the chicks hatched will not survive their first three weeks of existence on account of disease, and another 5 per cent will be lost from other causes.

The modern chick hatchery is a model of efficiency. The majority of commercial hatcheries operating in Canada—a total of 134 with a combined egg capacity of nearly two million—are operating this year under what is known as the Hatchery Approval Policy, and this marks the greatest forward movement in establishing the chick business and egg and poultry production as an outstanding Canadian industry on a sound basis.

Clucking Hen's Day Done

The day of the clucking hen fussily shepherding her chirping brood about the farmyard is past, and there are three good reasons for this. The first of these is that to get the best for eggs the farmer or poultryman must have pullets which begin laying early in the winter; the second reason is the terrific mortality which makes the old-fashioned methods of chick hatching no longer profitable investments.

The complete story of Canada's chick business begins at the farm. Years of applied research have shown that the progeny of flocks of known production abilities they have demonstrated. It is for this reason that the egg supply for hatcheries is fundamentally important. As hatchery approval is a big feature in chick production this year a review of its operation should be of interest. The egg supply comes from government inspected flocks selected for health vigor, vitality and trueness to breed type by government inspectors. These are known as approved flocks.

With delivery at the hatchery the eggs are carefully inspected and only such as are clean, normal as to size and shape and weighing not less than twenty-three ounces to the dozen are set in the incubator trays.

Sanitation is the cardinal requisite in the operation of approved hatcheries, and before setting, and between each setting every part of the plant is carefully cleaned and disinfected. It is highly important for the hatcherymen to be sure that none of the chicks hatched will develop that most dreaded of chick disease of Pullorem, as one chick infected with the germs of this disease may cause the deaths of hundreds or thousands through the germs which will be carried in the warm air circulated through the plant.

Tiers of Eggs Change

At the end of the twenty-one day period of incubation the endless rows of eggs, tier on tier in the incubator, begin losing their symmetrical appearance, giving place to peeping, fuzzy, fluffy baby chicks. It is then that the busy days start for the hatcheryman.

The Federal Government's policy of hatchery approval carries the safeguard of government inspection and operation in accordance with specific regulations. Among these safeguards is the requirement that only such chicks as are normally hatched and weigh not less than eight ounces may be sold as approved chicks.

The buyer of chicks must keep in mind that for every hundred chicks supplied he only stands the chance of losing perhaps ten percent through disease during the first three weeks, but of the remaining ninety percent, one-half will be cockerels. Most hatcheries sell incubator run chicks at a flat rate, and double that rate when guaranteeing all pullets in the supply. This, however, is often a decided advantage to the buyer.

It is the early hatched chick from the approved hatchery that assures greatest promise of profitable return on the chick investment, and in these days of scientific feeding and specialization in early laying pullets, the old hen has been forced to give way to the modern incubator.

Otonabee Holstein Finishes R.O.P. Test

"Marie Mutual Echo," a mature Holstein cow bred by S. G. McIntosh of North Monaghan and now owned by Petrie and Sons of Otonabee recently finished an R.O.P. record producing in 301 days 10,612 lbs. of milk containing 475 lbs. of butter giving her an average test of 3.58 per cent fat. This cow was sired by DeKol Mutual Count, and was milked twice daily for the entire period, and during one month of her lactation period gave 1,736 lbs. of milk containing 60.78 lbs fat.

The four-year-old Holstein heifer, "Highview Veeman Pet," owned by J. N. Hall and Son of Lindsay, has also finished a year's work in the R.O.P. with a production in 301 days totalling 11,718 lbs. of milk containing 553.75 lbs. of butter, giving her an average test of 3.78 per cent.

'LAKESIDE SUSIE' SETS FINE MARK

Holstein Owned by W. A. Anderson, R.R. 8, Peterborough, Gives 12,099 Lbs. Milk in 283 Days.

GRANTED CERTIFICATE

"Alcartra Lakeside Susie," bred by W. A. Anderson of R.R. 8, Peterborough has recently been granted a certificate by the Extension Department of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, indicative of a creditable production in both milk and butter fat. Milked twice daily throughout her lactation period this cow gave 12,099 lbs. of milk containing 453.75 lbs. of butter in 283 days.

A nice number of records in the R.O.P. are now being finished, also by members of Colonel A. H. Fair's Hemlock Park Farms Holstein herd at Kingston. The extension department of the association announces seven certificates have been granted within the past few days. One of these certificates shows that another 20,000 pound record has just been completed by a Canadian bred Holstein cow. This four-year-old, Belle Dewdrop Mercena, bred by W. R. Boyer, Charlottetown, P.E.I. in her lactation period of 365 days gave 20,450 lbs. of milk containing 933.75 lbs butter, her test averaging 3.65 per cent fat. In each of three months of her yearly work, this heifer produced over 2,200 lbs of milk, with a top of 2,673 lbs. containing 88.50 lbs fat. The three-year-old, Emily Daisy Posch, bred by Hon. Walter M. Lea, Victoria, P.E.I. on twice a day milking produced in 365 days 16,139 lbs milk containing 718.75 lbs butter, her test averaged 3.56 per cent fat. The certificates also show that the four-year-old cow, Korndyke Artis Pontiac, bred by Bertram Hoskin of Cobourg qualified in her year of 365 days with 14,721 lbs. of milk containing 662.50 lbs. butter, giving her an average test of 3.60 per cent fat. Others included in the group follow:—

Laningdale Queen Jess 2nd, bred by Robert C. Lanning, Waterford, Ont., 12,805 lbs milk containing 625 lbs butter in 305 days; Elmville Bellfan Walker, bred by Robert Merritt, Sillsville, Ont., 13,940 lbs milk containing 598.75 lbs butter in 277 days; and Island Annie, bred by W. R. Boyer, 12,762 lbs milk containing 577.50 lbs butter in 305 days. The last three mentioned animals were milked twice daily throughout their whole lactation periods. The first mentioned had an average test of 3.90%, and the latter 3.62% fat.

TULSA IS SHAKEN BY GIANT BLAST

Thousands Startled as 400 Quarts of Nitroglycerine in Magazine Blow Up.

BLAME GRASS FIRE.

TULSA, Okla., March 14.—(C.P.)—Tulsa and its environs were shaken early to-day by the explosion of 400 quarts of nitroglycerine stores in a magazine two miles west of Red Fork, near Tulsa.

Scores of windows were broken and thousands of persons were alarmed by the shock. Officials of the American Glycerine Company, owners of the explosive, said no watchman was on duty and that no lives were believed to have been lost.

They expressed the opinion a grass fire might have been responsible.

Trees near the scene were torn into ribbons, small bits of the steel house which covered the explosive were found miles distant. The explosion was heard at Vinita, Okla., more than 65 miles away.

LONDON MERGER NEAR COMPLETED

Scheme Involves Absorbing Tubes, Tramways, Buses Into One Public Owned Undertaking.

Transport Board Created.

LONDON, March 14 (C.P.). — The Ministry of Transport is bringing to a head its plans for $650,000,000 merger absorbing London's tubes, tramways, buses, and other transport services into one large publicly owned undertaking.

The Ministry to-day issued the text of a Bill creating a London Transport Board, which will issue its own stock in exchange for existing privately owned stock of the separate corporations so absorbed. The board will admbinister the consolidated services as a business undertaking with the object of making them pay their way.

The Bill is a lengthy measure embodying safeguards for all foreseen emergencies in connection with the merger and subsequent operation. Subject to the Transport Minister's approval and provision of suitable alternative facilities the board is empowered to abandon the tramways which hitherto have been such an important factor in the city's transportation system.

PRINCIPAL SEEKING PUBLIC SCHOOL FAIR

N. S. Rogers to Replace T. E. Rorabeck as Caretaker of Schools.

NORWOOD, March 14 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Norwood Board of Education met recently when members present included T. H. Webster, E. L. Buck, J. G. Keefer, J. A. Finlay, H. Godin, J. Marks and E. C. Squire.

Principal R G. Lawlor of the High School addressed the meeting in regard to a piano and this matter was left over until the next meeting.

Mr. Nelson, principal of the Public School, spoke to the Board about a school fair for Norwood Public School. J. B. Nelson, Department of Agriculture, promised assistance if the school fair was carried on by the Norwood Public School.

On motion, Messrs. Buck, Webster and Packenham were appointed a committee to look into this matter and report at the next meeting.

The resignation of T. E. Roraback, caretaker of the schools, was read and, on motion, it was decided to confirm the action of the committee in engaging N. S. Rogers as caretaker temporarily.

The motion made by Mr. Packenham and Mr. Finlay that N. S. Rogers be appointed caretaker of the schools at the same salary as Mr. Rorabeck received; carried. Mr. Marks was chosen delegate to attend the Trustees' and Ratepayers' Convention in Toronto.

The matter of building an office in the Public School was left over until the next meeting.

the effect of solid and liquid measure on pasture fields; and a host of other things including some bookkeeping of the labor on different fields and various crops.

Now the final thing may be of some interest to you; an offer was made to me that I should have the cash from the milk of any number of cows that I would milk during the cheese factory season on the understanding that I was to milk the cows at the same time as the balance of the herd were milked by the men on the farm. And if for any reason, other than sickness, I was late or dodged the job, I lost all the money coming to me. I finally agreed to try seven cows, as a boy of twelve years of age. Next father decided that he and I would buy the cows. Well I remember driving him to a farm where there were cows for sale, and being told, when we arrived, "Well, my boy, you are a very good driver, I do not think there was a stone in the road you did not hit." I there learned something about driving a horse. Cojointly the boy and Dad purchased the cows, drove home and started to work. The boy received the money but he had to learn to organize some of his time, think what was his job; in order to gain the award, the work must be done to conform with the other work on the farm, and many other things including that most of one's successes depends on one's self. When one loses out, it might be well to sit down and try and figure what was the cause or causes of the personal failure.

Part of the cow money was spent in buying a flock of good chickens and Dad was rather fond, at times, of telling his friends that "A fool and his money soon parts" and that there was no way of curing me of the Chicken Fever.

Abuse of Family Car

Did you ever stop to think of the use and abuse of the family car? I know a lot of boys that burn up a lot of gasoline, who say farm life is dull. If they had to pay for the car's maintenance, or had some real responsibility they might think more before they act.

One learns by doing, therefore, take the responsibility when it is offered you. Young people grow and develop and one of the fine things for the older people is observing the development of youth.

There is another very important thing, that is, can you put yourself to work, or has somebody got to tell you what to do, and when to do it? Can you see a job, and can you think how to do it well?

It is frequently said that there is only on person in ten who can put himself to work and but one in a hundred who can put the other ninety-nine to work, or in other words most people must be told what to do Which class do you belong in?

Look around your community and just note of the well managed farms or businesses. There is a lot of wasted effort. Very few of us organize our time to advantage. Personally, I would that I could stop the wastage of time. I do not mean to have no fun. There is, as you know, a joy in doing something that you want to do. Sell yourself the job. There are some people who work because they want to know, the desire to see the end stimulates them to go on, and that is fun or pleasure. Some thing one must be forced to do, that is, work without pleasure.

A happy home is where there is team work and confidence in each other and the joy of doing. It is optimistic, studious and progressive. Once a student, always a student. Read, think and act.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass.
No envy sour the mind,
But each shall seek the common weal,
The good of all mankind.

MILLBROOK

A talk on plants and their care occupied a considerable space on an Institute program, and during the discussion that followed one member brought up the matter of whether health is affected adversely, or favorably, by the custom of keeping plants in a sleeping apartment.

The general opinion seemed to be that plants should not be in the bedroom because they give off carbon dioxide, especially at night, and thus poison the air for humans. This was contradicted, however, by the visiting cousin of the president who had been giving the talk of the afternoon, since plant culture was a particular hobby of hers. Plants, she agreed, do certainly exude the gas mentioned, but in such small quantities there is practically no ulterior effect upon the health of the occupants of the room in which they are kept.

"There is only one reason," the speaker insisted, "for not keeping plants in a bedroom, and that is lest they grow chilled, since your room windows should be open at night for a plentiful supply of fresh air while you are sleeping. With windows raised, plants are apt to freeze, for of course we are taking of the winter keeping of plants, since out of doors is their proper place in summer. So it is really your own welfare, not that of the plants, that makes the latter not desirable as room mates during the cold months."

"In living-rooms plants are useful accessories, not alone for their delightful habit of making the room more 'homey,' and bringing something of summer within doors during the dull weeks and months, but also because they give off a quantity of moisture, thus counterbalancing the too dry air of our houses when furnaces fire are kept well going', was a further contribution of the visiting speaker. So the need of plenty of water for the plants, that the inmates of the home might benefit by the really surprising amount of evaporation keeping the air wholesomely moist, was made quite plain.

Along the line of plant life came the suggestion that the wise homemaker will plan to have in her kitchen window, particularly if she is fortunate enough to have a sunny one a box or two of her favorite vegetable flavors, such as parsley, sage, maybe a few plants of turnip-rooted celery, or a pot of mint. The green leaves are a pleasure to watch developing, and many a tasty dish on her table will owe its special niceness to the flavor imparted by the pieces snipped from the 'window garden.'

In closing, one member gave a recipe she had successfully tried out for a new salad, which included cranberries in its ingredients, thus: 1 pint cranberries cooked in 1 cup water; add pinch of salt, 1 cup white sugar, and 1 package of jelly powder. When beginning to harden, stir in 1 cup chopped celery, ¼ cup chopped nuts, and when quite cold cut in squares, lay on lettuce leaves, and top with salad dressing.

CAVAN

In a recent article of Laura Rose Stevenson's, she gives a few economy wrinkles, gleaned from her own and friend's exerience which are very apt in these times. She said for a couple of years she had been saving grease which she could not use in baking. She said she almost feared to bring it from the basement, but found it all o.k. and with the following recipe made excellent soap:

5 pounds grease, 2½ pints hot water, 1 can lye, 2 tablespoons powdered borax, and ½ pint gasoline.

Strain grease, combine hot water, lye and borax. Stir until dissolved. Let cool until luke-warm. Pour lye and etc. into the lukewarm fat, slowly, stirring constantly until smooth. Add gasoline, mix well, pour into mould. Let cool, then cut into bars. This makes 15 to 16 bars. This soap lathers and is soft to the hands.

Last winter she made two very nice crocheted mats a blue and black and a yellow and black, from rags sewn years ago, by an aged relative for a rag carpet.

Another suggestion was concerning mattresses, which had not protecting sheets. She mended up all nearly worn out sheets and uses one of these under the bottom sheet. It has only to be washed occasionally and is a saving to the mattress and to a good sheet. This is a suggestion which could be carried out before the spring work begins.

Thin sheets can be split down the middle, and put the edges to the inside. Another good idea is to cover the ticking on pillows. This keeps the pillows clean and makes the pillow-slip look so much nicer as no color shows from underneath. Flour sacks from which the blue ink has been removed (by coal oil, for this) make excellent coverings for pillows. Make the sack the proper size. Slip the pillow in and sew it up.

A strip of thin wash material about half a yard in width put on one end of the much-used quilts and comforters is easily taken off to be washed when soiled from coming in contact with the face and hands.

Save discarded stockings and woollen pieces, for rug making, hooked crocheted and braided.

A clean flour saks is a hand receptacle in which to save all pieces of cloth. When enough has accumulated quilts can be patched. This makes nice work for the winter months, or for the long days in March, before the regular housecleaning starts.

WARSAW

The Scottish Women's Rural Institutes were organized first in 1917 directly as a result of the good work seen being done by English and Welsh Institutes. Mrs. Watt, the organizer from Canada organized in Scotland as she had in England and in Wales.

They have about the same number of branches, according to population, as has England; 715 branches with a membership of about 40,000. The chairman of the Board of Agriculture for Scotland was very anxious to see Institutes, as he had seen the excellent work done by the Institute of Canada. Consequently for the first five years the Institutes were formed and organized by that Board.

In 1922 the organization was handed over to the Institutes themselves, and the government granted £3,000 a year (about $15,000) each year for five years. At the end of that time the Institutes became self-supporting, except for a very small grant from the Development Commissioners. There are branches in every county in Scotland, in the Shetland and Orkney Islands and in the Outer and Inner Hebrides.

There is a central office for all Institutes in Edinburgh. Once a year or more often if need be a central council meets. The members of this Central Council appoint from their number their executive and their finance committees, also any sub-committees needed, for such objects, as publication, education, hand-crafts. Every county has a representative on the Central Board.

In 1925 a hand-craft guild was started. Throughout Scotland, handcrafts have improved enormously since Institutes were started. Members attend classes, instruction is free, after having passed their tests and gotten their certificates, they in turn, are expected to give a certain amount of time to teaching in the Institutes.

The agricultural show committee was so pleased with their work that they have given a large hut for their exhibits.

Through the kindness of the Carnegie Trustees for some years they have been able to hold classes for dramatic art, choir singing, and folk dancing, which have been very successful, every county in Scotland having had some classes. In many counties they have held competitions, and much talent has been developed. The Scottish people have a strong dramatic talent.

In some northern counties, no classes of any kind had ever before been held for women. These classes have opened a new life to them and many walk several miles across the hills and moors, other have rowed three miles to attend the classes.

There is no doubt in the minds of those who have observed in Scotland that the Women's Rural Institutes are a vital force in the country-women's lives. The Scottish people are intelligent and intellectual, and the idea of co-operation and desire for knowledge, and the spirit of friendship and comradeship appeals very strongly to them.

FASHION SERVICE

3026

A charming example of the result of a dress with slimming points, especially thought out for the mature figure.

For instance, the cross-over bodice with its cross-over vestee, and vertical side-front closing are most helpful features to conceal breadth.

The skirt is slightly circular and joins the long-waisted bodice. The removable belt may be placed at the most becoming point to the wearer.

This smart print combined the season's two most important colors in gray ground overplaided in navy. The vest choosed the gray tone—the buttons the navy shade.

MRS. JOHN HARPER CELEBRATES 91ST BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Aged Fenella Resident Has Lived in This Country For Past 81 Years.

ENJOYS GOOD HEALTH.

FENELLA, March 14.—(Examiner Correspondence).—To-day, March 14, Mrs. John Harper, Fenella, celebrates the ninety-first anniversary of her birthday, and the best wishes of a large circle of friends and acquaintances go out to her on this occasion. While her great crown of years rests more heavily on Mrs. Harper than during the previous years, yet she moves about her home and sits in her chair, and as is the way of age ponders on the great changes that have taken place since she came to this country, from the old land, eighty-one years ago. Mrs. Harper has two sons, C. D. Harper, Fenella, with whom she resides, W. J. Harper of Warkworth, and one daughter, Mrs. Leonard Brisbin of Roseneath, whose thoughts of their mother are very tender on this day when thinking of this aged lady one is reminded of the words of the poet:

"As a white candle in a holy place,
So is the beauty of an aged face
As the spent radiance of a summer sun,
So is a woman when her travail done
Her brood gone from her,
Her thoughts are still
As are the waters
Under a ruined mill."

Saving Wrecked Ship To Be Difficult Task

VICTORIA, B.C., March 14 (C.P.)—With a rent 12 feet long in her underbody forward and several other holes of smaller dimensions nearby, the Danish freighter Guldborg, which crashed on Maude Island in a driving rain Wednesday night while bound for Nanoose Bay to load lumber, may prove a difficult salvage job.

Divers discovered the extent of the damage when they went down and surveyed the hull yesterday, and immediately arrangements were made to lighten the cargo from No. 1 and No. 2 holds where there are about 90,000 feet of lumber stowed. This is expected to take from two to three days, when an attempt will be made to haul the Guldborg off, it was learned from Nanoose last night.

STUDENTS ENJOY SPORTS PROGRAM

High and Public Schools Combine for Sports Night at Norwood Arena.

NORWOOD, March 14. (Examiner Correspondence).—The members of the High and Public Schools enjoyed an evening of sports at the Norwood Rink recently, under the direction of Principal Nelson, of the public School and Mr. Walker, musical director, assisted by the staffs of both schools.

The members of the High School wore hats of their school colors, red and green, while the Public School pupils wore purple and gold, these lending attractiveness to the occasion.

The pupils of the High school put on the first item on the program, a mob race, Osmund O'Conor-Fenton coming in first and Harold Davis second. The junior mob race of the Public School was won by Teddy Baskin with Donald Bedore in second place.

The second event was a caterpillar race with five teams taking part; Harvey Andrew's team came in first, being composed of Jean Webb, Georgina Beavis, Osmund O'Conor-Fenton Maynard Bongard and Jack Stewart, while Jack Kempt's rink came in second.

The potato race was the third one on the program with Donald Bedore coming first, Teddy Baskin second and George Clements third.

After this singing was enjoyed lead by Mr. Walker while Jack Kempt presided at the piano. An orchestra composed of piano, harmonica, an bandjo ukelele contributed a selection.

The horse race, in which four horses took part, was won by Jack Stewart and Ted Fennel. In the relay race, Osmund O'Conor-Fenton's team being winners with Ernest Godin's team second and John Hamblin's third.

A sweepstakes, an amusing and novel event was played and was very much like a hockey game, only played with brooms and a basket ball. Osmund O'Conor-Fenton's team won from Jack Kempt's in this event.

Two games of hockey finished the sports. The first game was played between High School boys and Public School boys, the latter winning by a score of 1-0.

Three members of the School Board, J. Marks, H. Godin and D. B. Cutcliffe, acted as judges during the evening.

FIRST AID CLASS IS WELL ATTENDED

Capable Instruction Given to Members of Millbrook C.G.I.T. Group.

MILLBROOK, March 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—Eighteen members of the C.G.I.T. group were present on Wednesday evening for the regular weekly gathering, when the second lesson in the course on First Aid was given by William Theobald.

The lecture material occupied the first hour of the time, the instructor taking up Anatomy, with special reference to the bones of the body, and following this with fractures and their causes.

The last part of the evening was given up to practical instruction in bandaging, when further knowledge on this important section of first aid was added to that already obtained during the initial lesson of the course. So far the girls have been using the triangular bandage, and learning a few of its many uses.

Next week the meeting will follow the regular Canadian Girls Training program, and will be at the leader's home. A special mission study is being planned for the group, that will probably take the form of a missionary play, "He Came Seeing," and arrangements will be completed at next Wednesday evening's gathering.

The group has added one or two new names to its membership list recently, and has the promise of more in the immediate future. A prize has been offered for the best 'group yell' to be submitted within the next month, and members are urged to send in their contribution at the earliest possible date.

The girls have kept in touch with two of their number who have had an extended period of ill-health, and are glad to know that one is completely restored and with the coming of spring health will be fully normal with the other also.

DONALDA RICHARDSON WINNER IN STIRLING ORATORY CONTEST

Five Speakers Take Part in Literary Meeting Held in High School.

PLEASING PROGRAM.

STIRLING, March 14. (Examiner Correspondence).—An open literary meeting was held on Thursday in the Assembly Room of the High School when an Oratorical Contest was the main feature of the evening.

Gordon Bailey presided and after the opening number by the Glee Club, gave an address.

Three members of Form I entered the contest, Ray Williams, speaking on "The British Navy"; Mabelle Bateman "Athletics" and Alton Hadley, "Water Power." Those from Form II who entered were, Donald Richardson, "What Canada Has to Offer the New Canadian"; Betty McGee, "Hydro Power."

The judges were Miss Lois Saunderscook, Miss K. Mundy and Rev. A. N. Reid. A play, "A Travelling Companion" was staged by five girls and six boys.

The next number was a shadow act following which the judges made their decisions as follows: Form I, Ray Williams, 1st; Mabelle Bateman, 2nd and Alton Hadley, 3rd. Form II Donald Richardson, 1st and Betty McGee, 2nd.

Donalda Richardson won the prize for the best speaker of the five contestants. Miss Grace Crawford was the accompanist for the evening and Charles Allen played the music for dancing.

The following are the papers given by the two first prize winners:

The British Navy

This is the paper given by Ray Williams: "Who wants to be a raw recruit for life, all thumbs and narrow minded? Well, that is what a boy or girl is bound to be if they grow up ignorant of what the Navy of our Motherland has done to give the British Empire birth life and growth, and all the freedom of the sea.

Our liberty depends on the fighting service of sea, land and air.

The Royal Navy keeps true watch over all the British highways of the sea—close the seaways and we perish.

Man is a land animal, seamen are few. The sea, while three times bigger than the land, is three times less known. British history without sea power is like a watch without a main spring, or a wheel without a hub. Seapower has these adgantages: 1st. You often travel better by water than land; 2nd, you can carry goods better by water than by land; 3rd, you may learn to master sea power.

Does the sea unite us by being under British control, or does it divide us by being under enemy control? United we stand, divided we fall.

When the Iroquois paddled their birch bark canoes past Quebec in 1600 and showed daring and defied the French Governor to stop them; they commanded the St. Lawrence just as well as the British Grand Fleet commanded the North Sea in the Great War. The navy that can beat its enemy from all the shortest ways across the sea must win the war. During the Great War the Germans introduced the submarine. The British introduced the "U" Boat. The U Boat was in reality an armed cruiser disguised as a merchant vessel. The guns would be concealed and different sets of crews appointed."

Donalda Richardson

Donalda Richardson chose for her subject, "What Canada Has to Offer to the New Canadian." "Our country has opportunities for the new settler superior to any other nation. Canada was originally discovered in 1492 but Canada became a British possession in 1763, when the French Regime ended. In 1867 four separate Canadian provinces (since increased to 9) entered a confedereation as the Dominion of Canada. As a new country her resources are only being developed. She is Britain's largest overseas Dominion. Canada has plenty of room for more people. In foreign lands many families are crowded and are trying to make a living on a patch of five or six acres.

It would mean a great deal to these people to own a farm of one hundred acres. The unemployment problem causes a great many young people to leave their homes and seek opportunity in a new field. Canada has many advantages to offer her citizens. Agriculture—Canada leads in production of wheat; Dairying and stock raising—these are also large factors; fisheries, most extensive in the world; forests, most wonderful timber and fuel; minerals, leads the world in nickel and asbestos; has gold, silver and iron in abundance; fur-bearing animals, transportation facilities of the best; railways are extensive, the C.N.R. being longest publicly owned in the world; natural beauty, unsurpassed mountains, prairies, forests and lakes.

Canada has effective labor laws; religious and political liberty; universal suffrage; high degree of self government; splendid educational institutions.

The word "Canada" is taken from the Algonquin word "cantata" meaning welcome and supposed to have been used when the Indians first saw Cartier. We wish to extend this to all citizens coming into our country."

TREVELYAN RAPS GOVERNMENT

LONDON, March 14 (C. P. Cable)—Sir C. P. Trevelyan, erstwhile President of the Board of Education in the Labor Cabinet, yesterday sharply criticized the Government, charging it lacked vigor and enterprise. Sir Charles, nevertheless, said he had "an abiding home" within the Labor Party.

FOR ANY CHILD

CHILDREN are happy and carefree by nature, so when they cry for no apparent reason any careful mother worries. No one can always guess just what is wrong but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as baby has a fretful spell, is feverish and cross and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes it is constipation. Just keep Castoria handy and give freely for any of the above conditions; relief will follow promptly.

All through babyhood, Castoria is a mother's standby, and wise mothers do not change to stronger medicines as the child grows older. Just increase the dose of Castoria and keep the youngster's stomach sweet and the bowels in good order.

In the gay basket of green paper that served as a money-box, the green streamers of the Green Room of the Young Women's Christian Association and the green and white adornments of the bright-faced colleens who acted as waitresses, the note of the St. Patrick's season was sounded in the tea and sale of home-made cooking held yesterday afternoon at the "Y" under the auspices of the Otonabee Chapter I.O.D.E. It was a very successful tea, a large crowd of members and friends attending during the afternoon hours to be welcomed by the Regent, Mrs. C. A. White, and the immediate past Regent, Mrs. F. L. Robinson. Mrs. R. J. Wolstenholm was in charge of the tea table and decorations, which were very appropriate. The tea table, with its cloth of filet lace, had a centrepiece in a large oblong basket of frilly green and white paper filled with yellow daffodils, white narcissus and pale rose tulips. The servers were in green and yellow china, as were the low china holders for the green candles tied with emerald bows, and the green and white frilly paper baskets and trays for sandwiches and candies. Green candles, a green centrepiece and green and yellow china were used also for the table of home-made cooking in charge of Mrs. J. P. Pulkinghorn and Mrs. W. Burrell. Tea was poured by Mrs. F. H. Dearborn and Mrs. D. W. Clark. Assistants, who wore flaring colleen caps and aprons of green, ornamented with white shamrocks, over white frocks, were Mrs. D. R. Fleming, Mrs. A. Beal, Mrs. B. W. Harvey, and Mrs. W. N. Hayes. Mrs. J. A. Robinson acted as treasurer. A pleasing addition to the program was the dancing by two young girls, Gladys Johnson and Jean Cole, and songs by Miss Daisy Davidson, with accompaniments played by Mrs. Matthews.

The green and yellow of the spring time and the shamrocks of old Erin were high lights in the arrangement of the table in the studio of the Conservatory of Music yesterday afternoon, when tea was served at the conclusion of Miss Ruth Home's illustrated talk on Period Furniture to members and friends of the Lyceum Women's Art Association. The studio was bright with a mild grate fire, lighted floor lamps and vases of daffodils, while there was an interesting exibit also of pieces of old silver owned by members, among them a claret jug belonging to Miss Mabel Wyatt, and presented to her uncle by Sir John A. Macdonald. The table was done with a cloth of filet lace strewn with real shamrocks, and was centred by a silver urn holding daffodils and narcissus. Little green paper baskets held green and white mints and emerald tapers were in junior holders of green glass. Mrs. H. E. Connelly was in charge of refreshments. Tea was poured by Mrs. A. Barton and Mrs. F. E. Saltman, assisted by Mrs. Walter Blackwell, Miss Mabel Wyatt, Miss Esther Deyell, Miss Isabel Connelly, and Miss Halliday Clementi.

Mrs. James Robertson, Lock St., lent her home yesterday afternoon and evening for a St. Patrick's Tea held under the auspices of the South End Sewing Circle of the Woman's Association of Knox United Church. Mrs. Robertson was assisted in receiving by the president, Mrs. J. Londerville, and Mrs. C. Cook. The guests were ushered into the tea-room by Mrs. Whitfield and tea was poured by Mrs. B. Forbes and Mrs. Fred Engliah. The table was charmingly done with a centrpiece of Darwin tulips, and tall green candles in silver holders at either end. Wide green satin ribbon streamers accentuated the spirit of St. Patrick, stretched diagonally across the snow-white tea cloth. The tea-room assistants were Mesdames E. Johnston, A. Pitchford, A. Long, J. P. Ego, D. Lindsay, Whitfield, Buckham, and the Misses Kay Benson and Katie Robertson. Green and white decorated living rooms, dining room and halls, and there was a profusion of Spring flowers.

Mrs. J. J. Pollock as convenor, was responsible for the excellent program given during the afternoon and evening, when songs and readings of Old Erin were predominant and the groups contributed much enjoyed numbers: Mrs. Bert Cutmore, "The Swallows" and "Killarney"; Mrs. T. E. Curvin, "Baby," and "A Little Bunch of Shamrocks"; Mr. A. Pitchford, "Come Back to Erin," and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes"; Mrs. E. Johnston, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "Dawn of To-morrow"; Miss Isabel Black, "The Sunshine of Your Smile," "Moonlight and Roses," "The Same Old, Dear Old Place" and "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses"; Mrs. N. Todd, "Mother Machree"; "When the Organ Played at Twilight," and "The Song That Reached My Heart"; Mr. Walter Farr, "One Alone, "Sweet Mystery of Life," and "O'er the Billowy Sea." Mr. Alex. Robertson contributed a charming group of violin solos. The Misses Olive Prest, A.T.C.M.; Muriel Wilson, and Mildred Hetherington were the accompanists. The musical program was interspersed with readings by favorite local artists. Mrs. E. J. Brown won much applause with her rendering of Drummond's "The Wreck of the Julie Plante," while Miss Margaret Pitchford's delineation was excellent in "A Small Boy at the Dime Museum," "The Seven Ages of Man," "Prior to Miss Bell's Appearance" and "Pat's Reason." Mrs. Henry Turner's first number, "Striking the Boss," was exceedingly humorous. In response to an encore she gave "The Christmas Prayer." Another reader who has an eviable repertoire is Miss Eileen Scholes, who gave a delightful and amusing group: "He Was There and So Was I," "Tom Boy," "Tit for Tat," and "Entertaining the Minister." A happy gesture at the conclusion of the program was the presentation to the hostess, Mrs. Robertson, of a lovely basket of tulips by Mrs. C. Cook on behalf of Knox Woman's Association. Mrs. Cook also tendered the thanks of the society to everyone who had contributed to the success of the occasion. Among those present were: Mesdames Parks, Fletcher, Nicholls, Londerville, Davis, J. Gerard, Flannery, J. Foster, E. Johnston, Donovan, Buchanan, Goodfellow, J. Jackson, Monk, T. Holyman, Bowen, Emery, Hubel, Greombridge, W. Watt, Young, C. H. A very entertaining and informal program which opened with a short service of prayer and praise was given during the afternoon with the president, Mrs. W. D. Sargent presiding. Miss Geneva Sedgwick sang "There is no night there", Mrs. Fell and Mrs. Sollitt contributed a duett "The Master stood in His Garden" which were all greatly enjoyed. Several readings of a humorous character received encores to which Mrs. Emery responded. Her numbers were "The Modern Christian's Prayer" and "The Man Who Quit"; while Mrs. F. D. Armstrong gave a very appealing number on Temperance. A pleasant interlude was provided in a "Things about the House" contest in which everyone took part. Mrs. J. A. Fry acted as treasurer of this successful tea which was patronized by nearly fifty members and friends of the ciety.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

TIRED HEART MORE SERIOUS THAN LEAKY VALVE

You, perhaps, have a friend who has had heart disease for many years. He has been rejected by insurance companies and was also rejected for the army. Yet he continues at his work every day, eats and sleeps well, and enjoys life to the fullest.

Now there is no question but that he has a "leak" in the valve or the valves of the heart, that he has what is known as heart disease. There is a pronounced murmur caused by the leaking valve.

You may have another friend or acquaintance who has been accepted by life insurance companies, and was accepted for the army, who contracts a sore throat, and a short while afterwards develops rheumatism. After the acute or severe symptoms pass away he gets up and about, but is warned to be very careful as the rheumatism has affected his heart. He finds himself getting out of breath easily, not able to do the ordinary things like walking, or going upstairs, without real difficulty in breathing. And yet, there doesn't seem to be much of a murmur, if any. Nevertheless it is this individual who runs the greater chance of dying with heart disease in a few months or a few years.

Why?

Because the heart has been greatly damaged, not only the heart muscle itself, but the blood vessels, and conducting nerves also. The heart has lost much of what is called "reserve," that something that enables it to recover its strength after any real strain has been put upon it. This strain may be rheumatism or any other illness such as influenza, typhoid fever or pneumonia.

The chap with the leaking valve and loud murmur still has plenty of reserve.

Sometimes the heart has been subjected to a continuous strain from some gland disturbance in the body, such as thyroid trouble, and this also has been sapping away its reserve.

Now a leaking valve may not be serious, but getting out of breath easily is serious and calls for immediate treatment, if the heart reserve is to be preserved. This treatment is rest. Rest gives the heart a chance to rebuild its reserve. Rest after any illness is very necessary.

Don't wait until the feet or other parts begin to swell, because that shows that the heart is actually beginning to fail.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Recently in a conversation I happened to mention something about boiled celery and one of the ladies was quite surprised that one could boil celery and explained that she had never eaten celery cooked.

• • • • • • •

Celery is very nice cooked with a white sauce and salt, pepper and butter added.

• • • • • • •

And not only celery, but many succulent vegetables which were once considered edible only when served and uncooked are given not only variety but a tasty flavor.

• • • • • • •

Swiss chard and spinach can be baked with or without egg or cheese and a combination of spinach and celery either sauted or baked is novel.

• • • • • • •

Separate lettuce leaves, wash in cold water until crisp, and dry on a towel. Dust lightly with flour and drop into a sauce pan containing steaming hot butter.

• • • • • • •

Fry for a few minutes only, remove from pan and set on brown paper in a warm oven. Many leaves can be sauted at one time for they will drumple and dwindle very decidedly. Dust with salt and pepper and serve piping hot.

• • • • • • •

For lettuce saute with cream prepared as above. Put a trifle more butter in the pan after all the leaves have been sauted, then dust in as much flour as the amount of added butter, that is one tablespoon of flour to one tablespoon of butter.

• • • • • • •

Brown the flour a trifle and add enough cream or rich milk to make a creamy sauce. Season with salt and pepper and pour over the lettuce leaves when they are in their serving dish.

• • • • • • •

Celery can be washed, dried and parboiled before sauteing or it can be sauted without previous cooking. Cut the celery stalks into squares or strips, dip in seasoned batter and saute a light brown in hot butter. Serve with or without tomato sauce.

• • • • • • •

For Swiss Chard or Spinach Saute, wash and slightly chop spinach, the Swiss Chard will require more chopping as it comes in large leaves.

• • • • • • •

Have an omelet pan holding hot melted butter, turn in either the chard or spinach according to the vegetable being prepared, and fry in the butter, stirring constantly for three or four minutes.

• • • • • • •

Cover with milk seasoned with salt and pepper. Cover and let it remain over a low fire until the milk is scalding hot. Serve at once.

• • • • • • •

Grated cheese can be dusted over either vegetable just before serving, if so desired.

MISS RUTH HOME ADDRESSES CLUB

English Furniture is Subject of Most Interesting Address.

The "gay monarque" and his light o' love — the Duchess of Portsmouth, with the hammered silver that made her solid toilet-table, her mirror frame and the standards of her tall perfume jars —

The garlick and hogs' lice that, pounded together, made up the physick for the troubled stomach of the gloomy king, William the Third—

The cupids and curves and circles of Thomas Chippendale, maker of bowlegged chairs —

Four hundred years of period furniture history in the space of ninety minutes.

With the aid of lantern slides that pictured the subject of her discourse, Miss Ruth Home, lecturer at the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto, spoke yesterday in the studios at the Conservatory of Music, under the auspices of the Lyceum Women's Art Association, on the subject of Period Furniture, prefacing her talk with a brief reference to old silver and to the methods used in making Sheffield plate.

Pieces of old silver owned by members of the society were on view around the rooms. The lecture by Miss Home, who spoke here some time ago on "Old Lace," proved exceptionally interesting.

"There are five great periods in English furniture," said Miss Home, "that of the Elizabethan era; after the Restoration; the Queen Anne period; that of Chippendale and Sheraton, and lastly, the cluttery darkness of the Victorian era, when everything was a reproduction."

In the spacious days of Queen Bess, scarcity and gorgeousness marked the furniture of the houses, where rush-strewn floors covered the accumulation of dried crusts and bones left by the dogs. Those were the English houses that Erasmus declared were so evil-smelling, but in them were wonderful four-poster beds ornamented with the "covered goblet" or "melon bulb" design of the period, the joynt stools and the chests which contained many things of value: the master's armor, the mistress' wearing apparel and toilet accessories.

The History of the Chair.

The history of English period furniture might well be epitomized in the history of its chairs. There was the solid-backed and sided chair of the Elizabethan period, designed to protect its owner from draughts in the rear while his face was toasted in front before the fireplace; the beautiful chairs that came in with the Restoration of Charles Second, with their carving, noble lines, their slender beauty and durability, their rattan backs and seats, their rungs of twisted wood and their acanthus-leaf carving; the rococo flamboyancy of the following era, with its walnut and gilt chairs, ornamented with painted flowers, cherry-colored velvet and fringe; the "transition" chair with a wider seat and a design in elliptical floral shape as adornment; the Queen Anne chairs with the legs termed cabriole, or "dancing goat," whose first shape was exactly that of a goat's hind quarters, with hoof and fetlock that later modified itself into the claw and ball pattern and still later to the "thimble" type. This "claw and ball," said Miss Home, arose from the Eastern idea of the dragon claws holding the pearl of the sun in their grasp.

Then there was the sophisticated chair of Thomas Chippendale, with the wider seats to accommodate the farthingales of the mode, and the lowered backs. They had new, straight legs and ribbon-back ornamentation, with a slender ribbon design terminating in a bow knot of wood at the top. "They were made for deep drinkers," declared the speaker, "so their legs had to be straight."

Chinese Influence.

Chippendale made settees which were really three chairs in one, and also went in for black lacquer chairs which followed out his erroneous ideas with regard to Oriental modes. And his chairs were of richest red mahogany, whereas his contemporary, Adam, who strove to inculcate a classical simplicity in the furniture of the time, leaned to the pale greys and yellows, maple and pearwood, rosewood and satinwood.

Heppelwhite, who, with Sheraton, was another contemporary, introduced the shield-back, resembling a Greek urn, and the designs of these, through text-books issued by them, influenced the furniture of the colonies, of France, Italy, and of Spain.

The picture of a table like a mediæval trestle brought a reference to the vast number of retainers needed to minister to the wants of the nobles of those days. In a week-end spent at the home of the Duke of Norfolk, Elizabeth and her retinue required, among other comestibles, ten loads of oysters, twenty-three hundred pounds of butter, two thousand eggs and forty bucks.

The bookcase of Samuel Pepys, with the original diaries behind its glass doors, aroused considerable interest, as did the characteristic cupids carved by Grinling Gibbons on the base of a table, the fine marqueterie carving on wood and the serpentine stretchers on a day-bed of 1670, with ornate upholstery of figured red and white velvet. There was a picture of a marvellous bed, costing $50,000, its cream satin valance bordered with gold and silver lace, its drapes of shirred and puffed silk and its curtains of cherry-red velvet.

Miss Home was warmly thanked by the president, Mrs. W. Blackwell, V. R. Henry, M.A., operated the lantern. Afternoon tea was served at the close of the address.

Women Not Favored For U.S. Gov't Posts

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 14.—(CP)—In 1862 the United States Government allowed a woman to come and cut its paper currency. This was the first woman whoever got a Government job in this country. Now the United States employs 8,000 women.

Miss Mary Anderson of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor says women are still discriminated against when they seek Government jobs.

Some few have reached high positions. One is a civil service commissioner, and women are chiefs of the children's, women's and home economics' bureau.

Lakefield Wins E.P.L. Honors and Peck Cup

COMBINES LOSE SECOND TANGLE BY 4—2 COUNT; HOMESTERS WIN ROUND

Dropping First Game 2-1, Lakefield Victors in Series By One Goal.

GREAT FINISH TO SEASON.

Northerners Score Goals In First and Second Frames—Heavy Checking.

LAKEFIELD, March 14. — By the score of four goals to two, Lakefield defeated Norwood here last night, and came through with the East Peterborough Hockey League championship on the long end of the total count on the final round of five goals to four.

Norwood won at home Wednesday night by 2—1, and impartial supporters of the new league were almost convinced then that a lead of one goal was too slim a margin to survive the deciding game in the northern village. And their doubts and expectations were fulfilled. "Moosie" Murduff's team, after leading the league all season, started the engagement at top speed, and although Norwood held them off for fifteen minutes Lakefield grabbed the first goal that put them on even terms with the visitors and stimulated them in their E. A. Peck Cup quest in spite of the sudden set-back in less than a minute when Norwood tied up the game and regained their one goal advantage on the round. Lakefield rang up another before the period ended, and pushed over two more in the second. Alex. Kempt's team scored the only goal in the final period, and weary and groggy as they looked, they were battling away to the final bell.

From the standpoint of the East Peterborough League, it was a great finish to the first season. The rink was packed to the rafters. Norwood, Havelock and Peterborough sent up large delegations, and the Grove School boys occupied half the rail positions along the east side. The decision was in doubt practically to the last few minutes, and although the game was fast and the checking close and hard, it was a comparatively clean contest marked by good feeling that should be a substantial asset for next season.

Lakefield's Checking

Lakefield checked the Norwood crew to a standstill, and two factors that diminished the effectiveness of the visitors were the lack of substitutes and the condition of the ice. Ira Lennox had turned out a fairly hard sheet, but there were a few soft spots, and the surface was brittle and became somewhat heavy. The visitors were without the capable relief of Lynn Hill of Hastings, leaving them with Becky Jacks and Rogers as substitutes. Stevenson, Hill and Voyer were the absentees, and the regulars had to bear the brunt of the battle with few and brief rests. And they looked leg weary along in the third period, although Windy Ware's goal with about five minutes to go revived their spirits as the chance of tieing the score suddenly loomed up as a possibility. Ware nearly turned the trick, at that, on a brisk play that seemed to expend his last reserve of energy, but Junkin in the Lakefield goal, speared the shot. In the remaining couple of minutes Norwood was held back from the blue line, and it was obviously all over then but the Cementville celebration.

The teams were as follows:—

Referee.—Ray Rose.

Penalty Timers.—Roy Armstrong of Norwood and Joe Hill of Lakefield.

Straight Timers.—Fred Kempt of Norwood and Jim McDonnell of Lakefield.

Goal Umpires.—Bill Hamblin of Lakefield and R. E. Barrie of Norwood.

Summary

First Period

1—Lakefield, Blewett 14.30
2—Norwood, Ware (Wright) 0.35
3—Lakefield, Wannamaker (Wingett) 2.00

Second Period

4—Lakefield, Mahood (L. Sabatino) 16.30
5—Lakefield, Wannamaker (L. Sabatino) 4.00

Third Period

6—Norwood, Ware 18.00

The First Period

Lakefield got away fast at the barrier and swept into the Combines' defense area. They played their usual style, which hasn't varied much all season with the exception of the night they went to Markham, when they opened up and nearly trimmed the Reesor group winners at their own game. Otherwise Lakefield's system seems to be a determined round-up of the puck carrier, a back-checking habit that stalls their opponent's rushes, and is especially profitable on the Lakefield rink. They are on the play all the time, coming and going, alert for openings and particularly dangerous around any man's goal.

Louie Sabatino with his pals, Blewett and Stabler, beat the opposition into the goal zone, Louie bouncing the puck off a post. Shannon went up with Brennan stepping along with him, but an opening for a pass was tossed away.

The First Tally

It was during one of the Lakefield raids that "Chubby" Blewett evened the score on the round and gave the Cementville fans what they wanted, "the first goal" of the night. "Chubby" picked the disc up lying loose in front of the twine and laid it behind Beavis before he had a chance to clear. That was at 14½ minutes. Half a minute later, Wright tore through and missed, and Ware, swooping in, tipped the rubber into Junkin's citadel to tie the count and give the team a goal lead again on the round.

Two quick counts gave the crews new life and things happened fast and furious for the next minute or so, neither outfit backing out of the way much. Only two minutes had ticked off in a series of whirlwind skating when Wannamaker took a pass from Wingett near centre and on a bullet drive from the blue line, beat Beavis for the second score of the period.

Wright came near the mark in a desperate attempt to even it up, but Johnny Sabatino appeared a trifle too fast, and spoiled the drive. Stuffy Mahood got in some tricky work around the goal and Shannon was given a rest for upending Stuffy against the boards just before the bell rang.

Second Period

With Shannon starting the second period as a temporary spectator, Lakefield turned on the works again and for a while had the bulk of the play. From the face-off Wood and Blewett carried the puck within fairly close range. Wood and Louie Sabatino gave Beavis two hard drives to handle, and Ware and Wright carried the attack to the other end. McLaughlin drew a penalty for dumping White, a timely interference, as White was racing toward the Norwood goal. Ware broke through the pack and again Beavis saved. Ware replaced McLaughlin with the timers for a slash in the direction of L. Sabatino. A smart combination by Brennan and Wright failed to pierce the Beavis blockade. Ware was almost through the home defense when White tripped him. It was an illegal method but it may have deprived Norwood of a goal. Wood and Shannon collided along the boards, and the Marmora boy seemed to be badly shaken up.

After more than fifteen minutes of the period had ticked off to the accompaniment of furious skating, Lakefield increased their score to 3—1 by fast work around the goal. L. Sabatino gathered in the puck from a face-off inside the Norwood blue line, and his shot from the right wing was blocked by Beavis; but Stuffy Mahood grabbed the puck behind the goal line and pulled off his favorite stunt by circling the goal and pushing the puck in.

Beavis stopped two in a row from Blewett and Wood. Ware and McLaughlin switched the play to the other end. Blewett and Stabler returned with a fast-passing play, but Beavis set the "stop" signal against the shot.

Lakefield set Norwood back another goal when Louie Sabatino went into the corner behind the Beavis net and passed out to Wannamaker, who flashed the puck between the posts.

The Third Period

The sustained pace was telling on the Norwood regulars. Ware got through for a shot, but missed. White's rush was steered into a corner by Shannon. Stabler carried the puck neatly all the way up to McLaughlin, and repeated with a similar rush. McLaughlin barged through the Lakefield line and had only Johnnie Sabatino to beat, but Sabatino upset him and was received by the keepers of the penalty station. Wannamaker joined him for checking Ware too strenuously. The eastern Combines tried to break through Lakefield's weakened line. Charlie Brennan breezed a close one at Junkin. McLaughlin, with two of his mates alongside him, tried to break through the Lakefield rearguard, but Wood and White relieved him of the puck and that play ended as a dud. On another rush McLaughlin handed Ware a perfect pass, and Junkin made a splendid save on Ware's shot.

Wingett dumped Ware and got the gate. Wood and J. Sabatino broke into the limelight with a rush that failed to beat Beavis, and Junkin stopped one from Ware on a pass by Wright. Ware scored Norwood's second goal on a shot from near the Lakefield blue line. It found an opening about ankle high, and breezed past Junkin probably before he had time to glimpse it.

The Norwood line braced on that break, and Ware dodged along the boards and uncorked a shot from about ten feet that Junkin tossed around the net. It was another great save by the Lakefield goalie, and the last thrust by the Combines.

The Lakefield crowd celebrated the victory uproariously, and Moosie Murduff and his team received many congratulations as the first champions of the county league.

The whole team contributed to the season's, and especially the night's success. Their defense was of reinforced concrete quality, and the principal reinforcement was the persistent back-checking with Louie Sabatino following back on almost every Norwood attack. He skated tirelessly and had a hand in a couple of the goals. Harry Stabler didn't reach the score sheet, but his stick-handling and solo rushes were a feature. It was one of the best games he has played all season. Blewett was as reliable as ever. He started Lakefield on its scoring, and helped a lot in the checking game that stalled the Norwood team's game. Stuffy Mahood and and Wannamaker accounted for three goals, a big contribution from the reserve forward line. Junkin, Wood, White and Johnny Sabatino comprised the rearguard, and the score indicates the effectiveness of their job. Sabatino was playing with a sprained hand, but he didn't favor it while he was in action, and his generalship was a substantial factor in the Lakefield victory.

As for Norwood, they failed to make the impression against Lakefield which they probably expected. Here, last night, on the smaller ice they were watched too closely, and some of their chances in the open were wasted by occasional "hogging" the puck when a pass might have got another goal or two. Windy Ware did not spare himself and gave the visitors all the hockey he had. It was strenuous going for him, but he kept coming back right up to the end. Glen Wright was handicapped in that kind of game, but at that he starred at times with his stick-handling and also by his hook-checking. Charlie Brennan played his position steadily, and repeatedly broke away on passes out to the blue line, but he was unable to find an opening in the Lakefield goal. McLaughlin and Shannon started a lot of the visitors' attacks, but the most of their rushes were solo attempts, and individual work did not get far with a couple of Lakefield men hanging on like leeches to the opposing puck carriers. Beavis gave his team stout backing, and the goals that beat him were certainly not of the soft variety.

Abbie Rose used a lot of good judgment in his decisions. He was impartial and watched the game closely. One of the most gratifying aspects of this battle was the fact that it was the end of the season's long grind and the close race for the league honors, and in spite of the rivalry and the tension there was no unpleasant incident to spoil its sportsmanship.

'DOGS CLINCH PLAY-OFF BERTH

Windsor Outlasts Cleveland Indians to Register 5-4 Victory Last Night.

DESY ROCHE LEADS PACK.

TORONTO, Ont., March 14 (C.P.) —One at least, of the two Canadian teams in the International Hockey League will participate in the championship play-offs. Playing on home ice last night, Windsor Bulldogs outlasted Cleveland Indians to register a 5 to 4 victory and clinch a dividend paying position.

Desy Roche, recruited by Montreal Maroons of the National League from last season's Allan Cup champions and farmed out to the Bulldogs, proved the main cog in the Windsor team's triumph.

The Indians started hostilities impressively and at the 14-minute mark enjoyed a two-goal lead through the efforts of Captain Alex Gray and Doug Young. Weakened by the absence of defenceman Stan Brown and early injuries to "Bat" Phillips and Frank Duncan, Bulldog prospects of victory did not look bright.

Late in the opening frame Roche netted the first Windsor goal and early in the second Lever knotted the count, but Ken Doraty sent the Clevelanders to the front once more; Lorne Duguid squared the count for the second time in the closing minutes.

Young notched his second marker of the game in the first minute of the third session. Five minutes later, however, Roche and Lever combined for two pretty goals and the Bulldogs were in front for the first time, where they stayed to the finish.

Four games are scheduled over the week-end. Only two have any material bearing on the standing of the contending teams. To-night London Tecumsehs travel to Cleveland while Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets entertain the last place Syracuse Stars.

Both the Tecumsehs and Yellow Jackets are greatly in need of the points. These teams are fighting it out for the fourth and last play-off berth, with only one point separating them.

Detroit Olympics play the league-leading Bisons in the third Saturday fixture, while in the Sunday game the Stars and Olympics play at Syracuse.

Milwaukee Brewers' Club May Be Without Services Of Shires (The Great) This Year

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 13 (C.P.). — Usually easy to locate by the sound of his voice, Art Shires is missing—or at least the management of the Milwaukee Brewers can't find him.

The "Great One's" presence here has been heralded daily for a week, but so far he has failed to put in an appearance for the spring training with the Milwaukee Club of the American Association.

President Louis Nahin of the Brewers decided last night Shires had delayed his appearance long enough and sent out a tracer in the form of a telegram, and it came back undelivered. Nahin said he had no idea where Art is or when he would report, but that he was long overdue.

Shires—if he shows up—is expected to play first base for the Brewers.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, I clicked with 1 prediction anyway when I called Niagara Falls to win the jr. O.H.A. title. Local fans will be delighted with the win because there is a little consolation in knowing that while this city ain't produced a junior championship team since the days of wooden sidewalks we at least have provided a player for the champs of this year, Mister Archie Weir, who patrols the left lane for the second squad of Niagara Falls' attackers, having learned his hockey with the St. John's team, of which outfit he was the captain last season. Mister Gene Fraser, of Niagara Falls, has been trying a long time to assemble a junior winner, and he has turned the trick at last after having brung in players for years. His present team is a kinda hand-picked organization, and it has delivered the goods for him, but now that the Falls has finally got a winner it wouldn't do no harm for the O.H.A. magnates to drop a gentle hint that there is going to be an embargo so far as hockey tourist activity into the honeymoon centre is concerned. Enough is sufficient, and when jr. stars is being picked up wholesale it don't do the game no good.

The E. P. playoffs will likely be over before this stuff is printed. The Norwood Combines win the 1st game of the round 2 to 1, which may be enough and may not to carry them through the 2nd engagement in the home rink of the battling northerners. Anyway the customers will know all about that by this time. Mister Curtis' loop has meant a lotta fun and excitement round these parts this winter, and it looks like it will round out into a permanent league.

Well, Mac, although the weather this week ain't no encouragement to baseball talk, they is some going on just the same, and fans is asking whether we're going to have a senior team this year. Sorry I ain't got the answer. All I know is there is material enough here for a senior outfit if there is the right co-operation shown, but if the local teams battle each other from now until the season opens it ain't likely they will be much doing in the senior line. Meanwhile we got the O.B.A.A. annual meeting here next month, which will put us on the ball map for a while anyway.

Sport'll be flat here for the next few weeks, and the talkies and such oughta get a play.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

Consider Player By Name of Bryant Not Eligible Under Residence Rule.

WILL CALL MEETING.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 14. (Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Stirling has protested the game played last Wednesday at Belleville, in which Madoc trimmed them and went away with the Trent Valley trophy tucked under their arm. At a meeting of the Stirling Hockey Club held Thursday morning it was decided to enter formal protest on the grounds that Madoc played a man named Bryant, who, although signed up in the regular way, does not in their calculation, come within the resident rule of the league.

The resident rule referred to was voted in and passed at the Trent Valley Hockey League executive meeting held November 26 last, at Stirling.

This is an O.H.A. regulation and reads that a player must be a continuous resident of the town or village to which the club belongs since the first day of January preceding the game. Stirling claim that Bryant has resided in Lindsay for the past six weeks at least. One thing is to be noted however, that according to te report of this meeting this rule does not come into effect until the season 1931-1932.

However, it seems that Stirling think that they should be the victors. With this idea in mind, if this protest is pushed, it will have to come before a meeting of the executive and receive a majority vote. Manager Whitty of Stirling phoned the Campbellford hockey officials in regard to the matter, and it appears that the Maroons will have the deciding vote if the question comes to a head. Tweed, it seems, are lined up with Stirling, and Frankford with Madoc, Campbellford officials did not commit themselves, however, but notified the Stirling club that their view would be expressed when a meeting was called to decide the issue at stake.

Toronto Refuses To Play In Afternoon

CHICAGO, Ill., March 14. — (CP)—Chicago's first afternoon National League hockey match will have to be played some other time than next Sunday.

Major Frederic McLaughlin, owner of the Blackhawks, had announced that Sunday's match with Toronto Maple Leafs would be played in the daytime so children might attend. Officials of the Toronto club, however, refused to play in the afternoon, claiming their players would not have enough rest. The Leafs still figure as possibilities for the Stanley Cup playoffs, and they refused to meet the powerful Hawks without all the rest possible.

'TEN NIGHTS' FILM BOOST FOR DRYS

Not a Word About Modern "Speakeasies" in Old-Timer.

NEW YORK, March 14.—At the Central Theatre there is still lingering that fine old classic of other years, "Ten Nights in a Barroom," which is taken with due seriousness by its producers, by William Farnum, the leading player, and by the director, William O'Connor.

There are sixteen in the cast of this denunciation of drink. Mr. Farnum never did anything more moviesque in his first days in cinema work than he does here and he shrewdly speaks his lines to suit his gestures and expressions. He impersonates Joe Morgan, last of a long line if bibulous Morgans. He is a miller, who at the beginning of the story works with a vim, always having in mind his coughing little daughter, Mary. She is a nice little girly, constantly wanting to know when "daddy is coming home."

Then Morgan takes a drink. No sooner has he disposed of one than he remembers what George Ade said —that a bird can't fly on one wing. He takes a second and thus accounts for the floying power of the bird and then remembers the tail feathers and all the other feathers, with the result that when he gets back home he is a fitting representative of his red-nosed forefathers.

And once home he insists that he is going to take a drink any time he needs a drink. He still loves Mary. He brings her home a doll and Mrs. Morgan at once thinks that it is a bottle wrapped in paper. This vexes Joe, so he has a few more drinks later on.

From the first night that Joe tasted rye to a little before the picture ends, he spends most of his taime in Simon Slade's barroom. It may be a year of nights or six months of them, one does not know, but Joe Morgan's business goes to pot and the poor fellow rolls about town, dirty and disheveled.

But at the last sequence Joe Morgan is chiefly the cause of the burning down of Slade's saloon.

And one feels reasonably sure that so long as there is no saloon for Morgan to go to he will keep away from strong drink and attend to work and mayhap regain possession of his mill.

The story is told by a character called Dr. Romaine, who knew Joe Morgan in the old days. Dr. Romaine is a teetotaler and the man who saved the life of little Mary.

NOISELESS PAPER

Through an accident, unrealized for several months, one of radio's and talking picture's biggest headaches looks like being solved. The problem solver is a crinkle-less paper, invented about six months ago and now on the market for the first time.

Although already tested for radio work, it has not yet been tried out by any picture studios.

The new paper is made out of cotton and doesn't make any noise when ruffled. That means, for radio work, that a singer or speaker can hold his speech in his hand without worrying about the noise the paper makes. In picture studios opening a letter won't send out enough thunder to silence the rest of the action. Also that scripts can be held by people on the set without worry of disturbance.

SAINTS DEFEAT WESTCLOX 5-3 WHILE "Y" SENIORS WIN FROM SENIOR SCHOOL QUINTET 13-6

Latter Result Places Two Teams in Tie For Second Place.

NICE 'CAGE PLAY.

"Y" Elementary Have Little Trouble Drubbing Wohelo Club in Junior Fixture.

In the second round of the play-offs staged in the Ladies' Basketball League last evening, St. Paul's downed the Westclox 5-3, to go into undisputed possession of first place and the "Y" Seniors defeated the Senior School squad 13-6 putting the two teams in a tie for second place.

In the Junior fixture, the "Y" Elementary had little trouble drubbing the Wohelo Club by a 26-3 count.

The curtain riser of the evening between the Presbyterians and the Seniors was not the fast and thrilling contest that was expected but developed into a slow, sluggish battle as both squads fought for the lead. The contest had its bright points however, and both outfits showed nice bursts of speed on occasions.

The Seniors appeared to have slightly the better of the argument throughout but were weak in their work around the baskets.

No particular stars showed up on the winning team but Isobel Davidson scored the first marker for her team and played a steady game until she was forced out with a sprained ankle.

Hazel Jackson and Girlie Hewitt did nice work on the defence and were largely responsible for the low score of the opposition.

Stars for Clockmakers

Leona Kingdon and Elda Bradley were probably the pick of the Clockmakers, although the entire squad played a heavy and hard game while Dot Webb worked nicely on defence but marred her play with four personal fouls.

Neither team showed to advantage in the first half and with the checking very heavy, baskets were at a premium, the half time count and was 3-2 for the Westclox.

The teams looked somewhat better in the final period and the Seniors accounted for a single and a basket bringing their total to five while the opposition were held scoreless.

The teams:

M. Holmes		E. Bradley

More Open Game

The Senior School-St. Paul's tussle was a much faster exhibition than the opener and provided more open basketball for the spectators. The Church quintette took the decision 13-6 but at no time did they have the game put away.

The first half found St. Paul's having things pretty much their own way in the matter of scoring and while the opposition had several shots, each one drew a blank. Maisie Cowan was the sharpshooter of the period and accounted for the entire three baskets.

The school team appeared to be over anxious and several fumbles resulted. It wasn't till the second half that Jeanne Harvey, Helen Cole and Doris Rogers started to tally and the team shook itself from the trance of the previous period.

Good Defensive Work

Both teams' defensive work was of a high standard, Kay Lang and Olive Elcombe turning in nice efforts for the school and Jeannette Allin, Edna Morrow and Sybil Jackson working hard for the Saints.

Early in the final half Toady Patterson registered two baskets but the School team came to life and tallied six points in quick succession. Doris Rogers getting a nice long shot and Helen Cole and Jeanne Harvey tallying on close in attempts. St. Paul's came back with one more marker before full time, Maisie Cowan scoring, to bring the total to 13 and give them the game 13-2 and first place in the standing.

The teams:

Win Easy Decision

In a Junior play-off fixture the "Y" Elementary took an easy decision from the Wohelo Club 26-3. At no time during the fray were the Wohelos in the picture, but they played a hard game in an endeavour to curb the Elementary.

The half time count was 10-0 for the "Y" and it was not till the closing minutes of the tussle that Olive More tallied a beautiful long shot for a Wohelo score.

Margaret Simpson led the scoring with 12 points to her credit and was closely followed by Sybil Ecobichon with 10 markers. Edythe Lynch at center accounted for the other two baskets. Olive More, diminutive forward, was the bright light on the Wohelo attack and accounted for the only field basket her team made.

In the second half the Elementary squad went on a scoring bee and chalked up 16 points to bring the final count to 26-3 in their favour.

The lineup:

WOHELO	"Y" ELEMENTARY
O. More	F. M. Simpson
D. Lambert	F. S. Ecobichon
M. Young	C. E. Lynch
M. Jaguith	G. J. Dawson
M. Johnson	G. P. Patterson

"Last Time He Will Train With Minor Club" Says Gabby Arthur Shires In First Day Out

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 14 (C.P.)—Arthur Shires broadcast to-day that it is impossible to keep a great man down, wherefore he is due to become greater than ever, despite his present sojourn in the minors and a little financial difficulty because of the business depression.

Mr. Shires arrived here yesterday only a week late for a bit of Spring training with the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association, and hardly had time to get his breath before he announced in no uncertain tone this would be the last time he would train with a minor league club.

His reason for coming to Hot Springs, he said, was to start a climb back to the majors, and he said his stay there when he got back would be permanent.

"The depression," said Mr. Shires, "was hard on me. In the first place I was shipped to the minors. Then I lost money in a Hollywood Building and Loan Association now in the hands of receivers.

"Then"—and this with a broad grin—"I got married. But you watch. I'm coming back and I'm coming back strong."

The gabby one, lately of the Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators, arrived here after an anxious Brewer management had become worried over his non-appearance and had started sending out wires in an effort to locate him. He explained his absence by saying he was caught in a snowstorm in Chicago.

He arrived here after driving all with his wife. But a little thing like that didn't bother him, and after a few winks of sleep he was out in a Brewer uniform for the morning practice.

HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS IN THE SPORTS WORLD

BOOSTS AND KNOCKS For EVERYONE

The Capitol Theatre Cup was presented to Capt. Mowry Thursday night by J. A. Stewart in the Capitol. It took place just before the feature picture of the first show. The winners of the junior section of the South End City League, the Stars, were all on hand. The Canucks, runners-up, were present too.

• • • • • • •

Stewart gave a brief talk concerning sportsmanship, developing of young hockey players and encouraging the South End City League. Mowry thanked him on behalf of the team, and the boys stayed to enjoy the show. The executive of the league thanked Mr. Stewart for his helpful interest.

• • • • • • •

Bellleboro and Keene played a snappy game of hockey at the Brock Thursday night with the latter taking the nod 2-0. They were a rugged fast bunch of players and play a clean brand of the sport.

• • • • • • •

The Keene girls tide the Westclox 1-1 at the Brock right after after the boys' game. The fair ones play a nice game, but men need not fear them in this line of sport for a while yet. And that's something.

• • • • • • •

Too bad there wasn't more girls' hockey around here during the winter. The fans get a big kick out of it and would probably turn out in large numbers to see league games. And the weaker sex—more or less—seem to enjoy it plenty too.

• • • • • • •

Perhaps the girls will form a field hockey league this summer. It's a very popular sport among girls in the States. They have school, church and mercantile leagues and have a whale of a time. There is very little expense attached to this summer game and it draws a lot of spectators.

• • • • • • •

Charlie Gehringer, the Tigers' star second-baseman, is showing up good in spring training. He is the most valuable player on the Detroit lineup. It was only a few years ago when he was playing with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

• • • • • • •

It's all over now in the East Peterborough League. Lakefield took the round 5-4 to win the championship and the E. A. Peck trophy. They had to earn it, too. The Norwood boys are a bunch of scrappers from the goalie out. Well, it's been a great season for the league.

• • • • • • •

A big crowd attended the final game last night. They were just jammed in. And were they noisy? There was plenty of reason for being excited most of the time.

• • • • • • •

Louie Sabatino broke up dozens of Norwood rushes with his tireless backchecking. More than once he made the Combines look slow. And Harry Stabler stickhandled through the losers like nobody's business time and again.

• • • • • • •

Windy Ware had the Lakefield crew worried more than once. He was a dangerous boy when he got hold of that boot heel. Norwood should have had more alternates last night.

• • • • • • •

Madoc and the Senior B. team of Belleville are to meet Monday night to battle for the Rowsome Cup and the championship of Hastings County. The Belleville team will trot out a good team for the game.

• • • • • • •

According to some of the Belleville fans, the Trent Valley League was just a bunch of "bush leaguers", but after seeing that Madoc-Stirling affair, they have a healthy respect for the winners.

• • • • • • •

Sea-horses suffered their first reverse this year when Stars handed them a 2-1 licking Thursday. It was a great game and the final battle on Monday night should see the sparks fly. They'll meet at seven o'clock at the Brock for the final play-off of the City League.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN AGAIN RESTS AMONG HEAVYWEIGHT CONTENDERS

Canny Philadelphian Wins Easy Decision From Ernie Schaaf of Boston.

POPULAR WITH FANS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 14. (CP) The best left hand in the business again has boosted Tommy Loughran into a contending position among the heavyweights.

The canny Philadelphian, one of the smartest of ring warriors, showered a bewildering barrage of annoying jabs on Ernie Schaff, big and strong Bostonian, in Madison Square Garden to win the decision hands down.

More important, perhaps, than Tommy's magnificent exhibition of boxing was the Philadelphian's rousing ovation from the crowd of 11,000. Loughran always has been popular here but never in the days of his long reign as light heavyweight champion did he receive so spontaneous a reception as greeted him when he entered the ring and again when he left it, a decisive victor over a man who twice had beaten him.

Some close followers of the sport took it that Loughran, by reason of his successive masterly exhibitions against Max Baer and Echaff, together with his undoubted personal popularity, was in line for another shot at Jack Sharkey in an outdoor show here this summer. Sharkey knocked out the Philadelphia dancing master in three rounds in their first clash.

SILVERWOODS AND CATARACTS WIN ONTARIO LOOP PLAY-OFFS

Kitchener Emerges With 6-3 Victory Over Galt After 60 Minutes of Bruising Hockey.

STRATFORD FALLS 4-2.

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 14.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Stepping right into Galt last night Kitchener Silverwoods battled the Terriers of that city to a standstill and emerged after 60 minutes of bruising hockey with a 6 to 3 victory tucked to their belts. The game as the first of a home and home series to decide a winner to meet Oshawa and break the three-way tie which existed at the conclusion of the Ontario Hockey League regular schedule.

The teams play the next game at Kitchener to-night. Total goals count on the round and as the Silverwoods displayed much the best hockey in Galt they are favored to meet Oshawa in a "sudden-death" game, the winner qualifying to compete in the play-offs proper.

In a regular play-off match last night Niagara Falls defeated Stratford 4 to 2 after 10 minutes overtime. The Cataracts finished second in the league standing and were beaten in the first play-off tilt with Guelph Maple Leafs. The latter finished first while Stratford ended in third place. The other three squads, Galt, Oshawa and Kitchener finished in a tie for fourth.

SMOKE-EATERS ARE VICTORS

TRAIL, B.C., March 14. (CP) Trail Smoke-Eaters, senior amateur hockey champions of British Columbia, earned the right to meet the Alberta winners in the Allan cup playdowns by defeating Lumby, intermediate champions of the province, 11-1 here last night in the second contest of a two-game series. Trail won the first game, 6-0, thus taking the round 17-1. Wheatley and Jordan led the Trail scorers.

OLIVER BALDWIN ASKED TO RESIGN.

LONDON, March 14 (C.P. Cable). —As a sequel to his resignation from the Labor Party, Oliver Baldwin, young son of the former Conservative Prime Minister, has been requested by the local Labor Party to resign his seat in the House of Commons.

Mr Baldwin was elected Labor member of Dudley, in the last general elections, by a majority of 3,043 in a three-cornered fight. He has elected to follow the group under Sir Oswald Mosley, called "The New Party," which is campaigning for a more vigorous treatment of the unemployment situation.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, March 14.—With the absence of outside support the wheat market executed an "about-face" yesterday, eased off at the opening, and traded at lower levels for the balance of the session, finishing with net losses of 1¾c in all three futures.

Volume of trading was small and pit operations were mostly local in character. Disappointing for cables transactions caused traders to pause in their operations. Intermarked trade was negligible.

The cash wheat market was a dull affair. Spreads were firm and unchanged. Coarse grains trading experienced a lull with prices holding steady on very limited offerings.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Mar. 14.—Trade on the local butter market was slightly better this week, due probably to the decrease in prices, but no great sales were made, and buyers were bidding for supplies at the lower level of the new range. Yesterday brokers were quoting 31c to 31¼c for No. 1 creamery solids and 30c to 30¼c for No. 2.

Cream

Cream prices found a better level, from the shippers' standpoint, and closed at the week-end at 32c for special, 31c for No. 1, and 28c for No. 2.

Cheese

Trade in cheese was fair, but prices held to the steady level of 14¾c for triplets, to the country shippers, and 16c for new large, 16¼c for twins and 16½c for triplets to retailers.

Eggs

Prices to country shippers for ungraded eggs, delivered, cases returned, were 20c for extras, 18c for firsts and 15c for seconds, a drop on the week of 3c per dozen. These prices were in effect yesterday, other decreases having been made on Tuesday and Thursday. Retailers benefited to the extent of 3c to 4c on the week, as yesterday they were offered extras at 28c in cartons; extras 26c; loose; firsts, 24c, and seconds 20c. Brokers were asking 24c for extras, 22c for firsts and 19c for pullet extras, and 18c for seconds, graded and in free cases.

First Robin

After the severe storm one hates to talk of spring, but there have been evidences in town that it is not far distant. Commissioner James Blue saw the first robin of the season yesterday, surveying the attractions of his back yard and no doubt looking for a summer location, and later in the day Mr. W. I. Stillman also viewed the welcomed visitor.

The regular meeting of the Anglican Young People's Club which was held on Wednesday evening, took the form of a visit to the residence of Mrs. Hollings, where the business of the organization was transacted.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Sharp and Mr. and Mrs. Allie Parr of Hoards and Mrs. Harry Dunkley of Carrying Place attended the funeral of the late William S. Grills on Thursday.

Don't forget the Chautauqua dates, March 27, 28, 30, 31.

Mrs. Roy McGee has had as her guest for a few days her mother, Mrs. Alex McInroy of West Huntingdon.

SLIDE SLACKENED BY FINE WEATHER

French Gov't Rushes Aid to Evacuate Houses in Threatened Village.

RELIEF MONEY SENT.

CHAMBERI, France, March 14.—(AP)—Fine weather to-day came to the aid of the picturesque Le Chatelard, mountainside hamlet near here and lessened danger of its destruction by a landslide which threatened it.

Two other villages already have fallen before the landslide, and a third Les Granges, it appeared today, could be saved only by a miracle. Troops and army trucks during the night removed furniture and belongings from the houses of village while residents looked on disconsolately. The Government sent 20,000 francs (about $800) for immediate needs of the victims.

Rain and snow of early in the week precipitated the landslide, which moved down the hill side at the rate of about 500 feet an hour, but with sunny weather the slide became less mobile and to-day its speed was considerably slackened. Army engineers are engaged in an attempt to divert it.

Heart Attack Victim Drops in Street Upturned Hat Collects Throng's Dimes

CHICAGO, Ill., March 14 (C.P.). — An old man sat on a sidewalk on a busy Chicago street with head bowed, legs sprawled, and his back propped up against the wall of a building.

In his lap lay his hat, with the bottom side up, as though placed that way to receive the alms.

Among those who hurried past the old fellow was a man. He dropped a dime into the hat. Others came by, tossing nickels and pennies in as they rushed on their way to give their thoughts to sights pleasanter to see.

Then there came the last of the givers—a woman. She, too, dropped a coin, but she was more interested in the man himself. She looked at him in a sad way, and reaching down she touched his wrist. It was cold.

She toppled over in a faint. Someone called a physician. He revived her, and she, too, hurried on her way. Then the doctor turned to the man.

He was dead.

Life had gone from him long before the dropping coins had begun to fall.

He was not a beggar.

He was August Kichenberg, who never thought of begging.

Overcome by a heart attack he had leaned against the wall, slumping gradually until his body reached the posture assumed by mendicants.

THE WILL TO DO

Someone has said "You can do what you will to do". That is just as true of homeownership as it is of any other desirable accomplishment. Few homes are paid for in full at the time of purchase, but given the will to do, the man on a salary can soon own his home.

Let us show you how. We have just the place for you and yours. Get in touch with us.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 12 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The beginning of the Apes' trip back to the jungle freedom was set for the very day on which the future Lord Greystoke was to return to school. Generously supplied with money, he had seemingly busied himself with preparing for the event, and had invested in many strange purchases, which he managed to pack, undetected. With his parents' permission, he had gone for a last farewell with Akut, and here he was soon earnestly pleading with old Paulvitch.

"Let me take the ape to Dover," he said. "I can do it and still arrive at my school in time. No one will be any the wiser. It will save you the tiresome journey, no harm will be done, and I will have an extra day with my jungle friend before I lose him forever." The wad of bills he placed in the Russian's hand was almost unnecessary, for the plan fitted perfectly into that which the wicked Paulvitch had in his own devilish brain.

That afternoon Lord and Lady Greystoke bade their son good-by and saw him safely settled in a first-class compartment of the railway carriage that would set him down at Eton in a few hours. Little did they realize then that many years were to elapse and strange things happen before, if ever, they were to see him again!....When they had left him, the boy gathered his bags, left the train and drove directly to the Russian's address.

It was dusk when he arrived. He found Paulvitch awaiting him—pacing the floor nervously. The ape was tied with a stout rope to the bedpost. It was the first time the boy had seen the animal secured. He looked questioningly at the Russian. The man mumbled some excuse. Another rope was in the villain's hand; with a noose in its end. The man's pockmarked face worked horribly as he talked to himself. His action made the lad uneasy.

HOME FURNISHERS ARE CELEBRATING

McBride and Franks Observe Their Ninth Anniversary By Timely Sale.

Commencing to-day McBride & Franks, 224 Charlotte Street, are celebrating the ninth anniversary of their entry into the furniture and house furnishings business in Peterborough. As is customary with this ever-expanding business house, their annual birthday observance takes the shape of a seven-days' sale, featured by a cutting down of prices to a level that gives a tremendous advantage to patrons. And it should be borne in mind that the sky-high bargains listed in yesterday's advertisement are greater than any possible in years for absolutely new quality merchandise—new in manufacture, original in design, and most of it laid down here at McBride & Franks for the anniversary sale.

This presentation of special values comes at a time when housewives are looking forward to house-cleaning needs—additions and replacements of furniture, drapes, blinds, and rugs. These days, more than ever before, perhaps, economic conditions call for the practise by householders of the strictest economy; and McBride & Franks are catering to that economic need with values that discount those before the war.

McBride & Franks are looking back upon a year's business exceeding their expectations in the face of country-wide depression; and they attribute their steady business growth to that "customer-must-be-pleased" policy, which, interpreted, means satisfaction in price, value, quality, and service.

GASTLE UNABLE TO PROVIDE BAIL ON ARSON CHARGE

Remanded to Barrie Jail Till Friday Unless $20,000 Is Forthcoming.

SMALLER BOND REFUSED.

Police Continue Probe Into Burning of Palmer House at Waubushene.

BARRIE, Ont. Mar. 16. (CP)—G. R. Frank Gastle, arrested in Hamilton yesterday, was remanded in custody until Friday, when he was unable to provide $20,000 bail in police court to-day. Gastle faced charges of "conspiring, combining, confederating and agreeing with one R. J. Elliott and with others to commit an indictable offence, to wit, the crime of arson to set fire to the Palmer House at Waubaushene" and "of committing the crime of arson by burning down the Palmer House at Waubaushene" on Dec. 16, 1930.

Smaller Bail Refused

D. F. McCuaig, Mayor of Barrie, who appeared for Gastle and who is also acting for Elliott, asked for a smaller bail than was asked in Elliott's case. However, Inspector Stringer, in the absence of Crown Attorney F. G. Evans, requested that the same bail be set. "I am asking for lower bail because he could easily have slipped away" said Gastle's counsel. "Instead he remained at home with the intention of giving himself up the following day. On Friday, when the case comes up, I will make application for lower bail."

MRS. JAS. STUBBS DIES IN TORONTO

Death's Call Comes Only Few Hours After Hearing Prince's Broadcast.

BURIED IN PETERBORO'.

TORONTO, March 16.—While her life was ebbing, Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Sarah J. Stubbs of Peterborough requested to be permitted to hear by radio the address of the Prince of Wales delivered at the opening of the British Trade Exposition in Buenos Aires. Mrs. Stubbs, suffering with pneumonia, listened intently and with full understanding to the radiocast of the British heir, and at its conclusion expressed her gratification to those gathered at her bedside at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lilly Stubbs, 323 Brunswick Avenue. Death's call came only a few hours later, on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Stubbs, who was the widow of James Stubbs of 'Peterborough, was 78 years of age. She was widely known in Peterborough, and was held in especial affection as the "mother" of the George Street United Church Sunday school, with which she had been identified since the beginning of the congregation. Her record of 32 years' continuous service as a teacher in the Sunday school was unbroken up to last Sunday. She was, as well, a member of the church's Board of Trustees. Her late husband in earlier years was engaged in the construction field, and later was widely known in Central Ontario as a lecturer.

She was a member of the Official Board of George Street United Church, and was the only lady member of the Board. The deceased was also a member of the Women's Missionary Society, and taught for 32 years continuously in the Sunday school of her church. Mrs. Stubbs was a member of the Visiting Committee of the Ladies' Aid Society, and in his capacity made hundreds of visits to the sick and shut-ins of the church. During the week previous to her fatal trip to Toronto, she made 30 sick calls, spreading sunshine and happiness right up to the time of her death.

It was during the raging storm 8 days ago that Mrs. Stubbs contracted her pneumonia. She was making a trip to Toronto at the time, but her courage in braving the storm proved too much for her. Her death less than a week later came as a great shock to a large circle of relatives and friends to whom she had endeared herself during a lifetime of devotion and unselfishness.

Mrs. Stubbs, whose maiden name was Sarah Jane Donell, attended school in Peterborough, and for some years was a teacher. Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Margaret Chittick, 207 Delaware Avenue, Toronto, and a grandson, Edgar Stubbs, 323 Brunswick Avenue, Toronto. The funeral will be held in Peterboro' Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the George Street United Church to Little Lake Cemetery

LABORITE GOV'T HAS CLOSE CALL ON REFORM BILL

Amendment By Conservatives Only Rejected By Vote of 178 to 168.

UNIVERSITY QUESTION.

Possible Defeat Seen at Final Division of House at End of Debate.

LONDON, March 16.—(A.P.)—The majority of the Labor Government in the House of Commons shrank to ten today when an amendment by the Conservatives to the section of the Electoral Reform Bill dealing with university constituencies was rejected 178 to 168.

The amendment provided that Queen's University in Belfast should be excluded from the general abolition of university constituencies for which the bill calls.

The Government was declared by observers to face a possibility of defeat tonight in a final division of the house at the end of debate. The section under argument involves the representation in parliament of certain universities, including Oxford and Cambridge, whose graduates are now permitted to vote and send a member of their own to Parliament. the Bill calls for abolishing these constituencies.

Certain Liberals and the full strength of the Conservative party are opposed to the measure and this afternoon's division on the amendment indicated a close vote.

Although a defeat would be a blow to the Government's prestige it is not deemed likely that Premier Macdonald would regard it as a matter calling for his resignation, since no broad general principle is involved.

Survivors Drift In Open Atlantic Huddled on Floes

Message From Horse Island States Ship Unidentified as Yet But Believed to be the Viking, Burned to the Water's Edge Following Blast.

VIKING'S OWNERS CLAIM WHOLE SEALING FLEET SHOULD BE IN HAILING DISTANCE OF STRICKEN SHIP

Tug and Steamer Rushing to Aid—Barkentine Carried Crew of 138, Two Stowaways, Y. Frissell. Talking Film Promoter and H. Sargent, Explorer.

ST. JOHN'S Newfoundland, March 16.—(CP)—Marooned on a loose ice-pack in the North Atlantic, surviving members of the crew of an unidentified vessel, believed to be the sealing ship "Viking", were drifting seaward with the flow off White Bay, it was stated in messages reaching the Government from that point today. The vessel had burned to the water's edge, the report said.

The message read:

"Message from Horse Island, White Bay, reports explosion on steamer. Viking only steamer in vicinity. Will advise particulars when available."

Bowring Company officials said the steamer would be in the thick of the ice.

"The crew could escape on the ice if anything," they said. "In addition the whole sealing fleet is within hailing distance and could quickly render aid. There is a hospital at Glencoe, St. Anthony's across the bay, which could be reached over the ice."

Crew Seen on Ice.

The telegraph operator at Horse Island, near White Bay, said the burning ship could be seen from the shore as could the survivors huddled on the drifting ice. From the same point word came that an explosion and fire had been observed offshore on Saturday night. The sealing vessel Viking, commanded by Captain Abram Kean, Jr., was the only craft known to be in the neighborhood.

Her crew numbered 138 with two stowaways. With Varri K. Frissell, promotor of the talking film "White Thunder," a Paramount production, were A. E. Penrod, cameraman, who had filmed "Down to the Sea in Ships," and Harry Sargent, an explorer, who was taking a leading part in the production. The tugs Foundation, Franklin, and S.S. Sagona are being rushed to the scene.

BATTLE LIVENS UP IN ST. GEORGE'S AS "BIG GUNS" BEGIN TAKING HAND

Lady Diana Cooper Makes Debut as Public Speaker, in Husband's Cause.

LETTERS PUBLISHED.

LONDON, Eng., Mar. 16. (By Geo. Hambleton, C. P. Staff Correspondent).—The political "big guns" are being brought into the St. George's battlefield for the closing stages of the by-election campaign.

There are only two candidates—captain A. Duff Cooper, official Conservative, and Sir Ernest Petter, unofficial Conservative, who is receiving the support of Lord Beaverbrook and Lord Rothmere.

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conserative leader who is being strongly attacked by the Beaverbrook-Rothermere press, will speak at Queen's Hall to-morrow evening on behalf of Captain Duff Cooper.

Lady Diana Cooper, better known as Lady Diana Manner, is making her debut as a public speaker at a meeting in the Marchioness of Hartington's drawing-room, Eaton Square. The "below-stairs" staff will be honored guests.

Some observers have suggested that Lady Diana's social influence in such an exclusive division will be of greater effect that the speakers who have rallied to the support of her husband, captain Cooper.

Letter Published

Captain Cooper has made public a letter sent him by 45 members of the House of Commons who reside in the division, including a Laborite member, who have promised their support in protest against what they term "scurrilous press propaganda" against Mr. Baldwin.

Sir Ernest Petter's press supporters however are in the thick of the fray. They prominently publish today a letter from a Conservative M.P. in support of Sir Ernest, and it is understood the writer has already been hauled over the coals by

Service Station Fire Occurs At Fenelon

LINDSAY, March 16. — A service station owned and operated at Fenelon Falls by Little Brothers was damaged by fire, and at one time was in danger of destruction. For an hour the volunteer firemen fought the blaze and prevented it from spreading from the upper story to other parts of the garage. Damage by water was considerable, especially in the adjoining establishment of Mr. Deyman, undertaker and furniture dealer. Mr. Little, the proprietor, was attending a motor convention in Toronto at the time.

OVERHEATED STOVE PIPE.

CAMPBELLFORD, Mar. 16. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). Fire which broke out Sunday morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Nichols Nasby Road, Campbellford, completely destroyed the house and contents. The Campbellford fire brigade, responding to the alarm about nine o'clock, rushed to the scene of the blaze only to find that the fire was beyond control. The building was a wood structure and had been burning for some time before the brigade arrived. It is thought that the origin of the fire was overheated stove pipes.

Burglars Force Way Into Lindsay Brewery But Are Unable To Break Into Large Safe

LINDSAY, Ont., March 16 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Lindsay Bewery at the corner of Lindsay and King Streets was entered by burglars on Saturday night and an attempt made to jimmy the safe. The burglary was discovered this morning. The thieves entered the rear door by breaking open two large locks. They rifled one carton of beer in the cellar and then made their way to the office on the floor above. Here the burglars got 50 cents in loose change and then attempted to open the safe. That they were inexperienced was evident because they used an axe on the safe door instead of regular tools. The handle was damaged but the combination was not hurt. The thieves were apparently after money, as they only stole a few bottles of beer. Chief Lawler is working on the case and has hopes of rounding up a couple of suspects.

THREE FASCISTS HELD FOR DEATH OF RED BURGESS

Assassination Occurs on Bus About to Enter Hamburg Saturday Night.

15 SHOTS FIRED.

Two Women and Man Wounded in Wild Firing—Communists Wrought Up.

HAMBURG Germany, March 16. (CP)—Three Fasists, one a former policeman who was dismissed from the force six months ago for his political activities have been arrested charged with the assassination of the Communist Burgess, Ernest Henning, in an auto-bus here Saturday night.

The assassination took on an added significance to-day in view of the shooting Friday of the Government Councillor Lassaly by a police sergeant whom he had called on the carpet in connection with alleged fascist activities. Hamburg's Communists are greatly wrought up over the two affairs and police are taking considerable precautions against retaliatory measures.

Henning's murder was carried out with striking clumsiness, two women being wounded in the course of the shooting while another Communist passenger sitting beside Henning escaped with a slight headwound by falling to the floor and pretending death. Five of the fifteen shots fired entered the thigh of a woman teacher, while a sixth tore off the thumb of another woman.

The wounded teacher stumbled out of the bus and sat on the curb whereupon one of te assassins murmuring words of apology spread his overcoat on the ground and attempted to make her comfortable, and then fled. The Communists allege one of the assassins was wearing a Fascist uniform.

The telephone wire leading to Hamburg was cut. The buss was just about to enter the city.

PROBE BY "SECRET SIX."

JOLIET Ill., Mar. 16. — Warden Henry C. Hill said to-day the Rev. George Whitmeyer, State Penitentiary Chaplain, had been asked to resign three weeks ago after the discovery of evidence that he had been fomenting disaffection and carrying letters to and from prisoners.

Investigators for the 'Secret Six" Crime Fighting committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce demanded of the prison administration that Chaplain Whitmeyer be removed.

His resignation was received Feb. 25, three days after the fatal ambush of three escaping prisoners whose death he called "murder at the hands of prison guards."

Milton Man Fails To Gain Discharge

TORONTO, Ont., March 16 (C.P.). —Mr. Justice Hedwich, in a judgment handed down at Osgoode Hall to-day, dismisses a motion made for an order discharging Walter Riesy from the common jail at Milton upon the return of a writ of habeas corpus.

The prisoner sought his discharge on the ground that there was no evidence before the magistrate upon which he could be committed for trial.

Riesy was originally charged before Magistrate H. McIlveen at Oakville: "That he did on December 8, 1930, unlawfully kill and slay one Frances Rumney, contrary to Section 259 of the Criminal Code, Sub-Section D of the code."

Riesy was charged after an accident in which his car was said to have struck down the child, Frances Rumney, at Oakville.

Experts Busy Drafting Final Naval Accord

LONDON, March 16 (C.P.). — The British Government to-day called a meeting of experts to begin here on Thursday the work of drafting in its final form the Anglo-French-Italian naval agreement.

COMPLETE ROUT OF RELIGION IS PLAN OF SOVIET

Russia the Most Interesting as Well as Most Dangerous Country Speaker Says.

ROTARY ADDRESS.

E. Bruce Fowler Describes Russian Experiment as Viewed From Its Social Aspect.

Describing Russia as alike the most interesting and the most dangerous country of to-day and the Russian situation as the most serious problem the world is facing, E. Bruce Fowler held the close attention of the Peterborough Rotary Club to-day, in a most interesting address upon the Soviet experiment.

Introduced by Rotarian R. F. Downey, Mr. Fowler set the stage for his paper by describing Russia as a country greater in area than the United States and Canada, immensely rich in natural resources and with a population of 150,000,000 people, and by explaining the various classes that existed before the revolution: the aristocrats, the intelligentia, the merchants, property owners, the proletariat, the peasant owners, the peasants themselves and the still lower class of people who lived on the fringes of the agricultural districts and eked out a living as best they could.

Discussing the experiment from its social rather than its economic aspect Mr. Fowler explained that the Russian plan was founded on the destruction of religion, the wiping out of private property, the virtual extinction of family life, and the ignoring of the moral code as known in our civilization.

The speaker dealt at some length with the campaign against religion, which was referred to as the most serious attack Christianity had had to endure, inasmuch as it was not an instances of one sect trying to drive out another, but rather a deliberate plan to uproot religion completely.

Mr. Fowler explained that one of his most interesting and authentic sources of information on the subject had been the book, "Humanity Uprooted," by Maurice Minus, a Russo-American, who had spent much time in Russia and viewed the situation with the detachment of an American and yet with the sympathetic interest of a native-born Russian.

Of the plan to do away with private property the speaker said that it was being proceeded with steadily and systematically. Under the present system the ownership of property sufficient for the owners' needs was permitted, but so many penalties were imposed upon those who held private property that the tendency was to drive men into the service of the State where they were sure of more dignity, prestige and material benefit.

Family life was being done away

HOUSE BEGINS FIRST DEBATE

V. Porteous, M. D. Cormier Move and Second Address in Reply to Speech from Throne.

KING, BENNETT SPEAK.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 16 (C.P.)—With crowded galleries and nearly a full attendance of members, the House of Commons to-day began its first full debate of the session. Preliminary business was swept aside Thursday and Friday, leaving the boards clear for the address in reply to the speech from the throne to-day.

Victor Porteous (Cons., Grey North) and M. D. Cormier (Con., Restgouche-Madawaska) moved and seconded the address in their maiden speeches before the House. Later in the day, Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, Liberal Leader, and Prime Minister R. B. Bennett were to speak. Robert Gardiner, Progressive Leader, was to participate to-day in the debate if time permitted. Otherwise he will speak to-morrow.

In some political quarters, it is believed the debate in reply will be extended and that several private members from both sides of the House will take part. Economic conditions in the country and how they should be bettered will probably be the basis of most of the speeches, both from Government and Opposition members.

City Will Protest Income Tax Change

Mayor Denne and City Assessor William J. Henry will voice Peterborough's opposition to the proposed change in the Income Tax Act before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature on Wednesday morning. They will point out that this city will lose more than $22,000 annually in taxes if the collection of taxes on incomes is done away with, and that this loss of necessity be met by an increased tax on property and business.

It is confidently expected that nearly every city and town in the Province will have representatives present and spokesmen will be appointed to give the municipalities' view of the proposed change.

SECOND ARREST IS SEEN AS LINK IN HOTEL FIRE

Gordon R. Castle, of Barrie, is Captured After 2-day Hunt, Near Hamilton.

REVIVES FATAL CAR CRASH.

Prisoners Questioned Regarding Waubushene Hotel Owner's Death.

TORONTO, March 16. — Another link was forged Saturday in the chain of circumstances, so far isolated and inconclusive, appearing to connect, with sinister aspects, the burning last December of the Palmer House Hotel in Waubushene and the death on February 18 last of the hotel's owner, Mrs. David Heisey of Midland, whose car ran into the river at Niagara Falls.

Gordon R. Frank Gastle of Barrie was arrested near Hamilton Saturday by the Provincial police after an intensive search of two days and lodged in the jail at Barrie along with Robert J. Elliott of Barrie, who was arrested last Thursday. Both are charged with conspiracy to commit arson in connection with the hotel fire, but police authorities are questioning them closely and investigating all circumstances surrounding Mrs. Heisey's death and its suspected connection with the fire.

New Features

Alfred Cuddy, deputy provincial police commissioner, last night stated that he and his subordinates so far had little to go on but suspicion, but that the investigation so far had revealed a number of peculiar features bearing on the fire, the woman's death, and the relation between her and the two men.

Inquiry into the fatality at Niagara Falls has been revived there, particularly regarding Gastle's claim that the car, which he was driving, shot off the road and into the river just before he managed to jump out.

At the inquest in Niagara Falls the jury found that the woman's death was due, not to drowning, but to a fractured skull, adding that it was "unable to discover when or how the injury was sustained." There was "evidence of negligence on the part of Gordon Gastle," the verdict said.

Investigation of some days by Inspector W. H. Stringer, of the provincial criminal investigation department, said Deputy Commissioner Cuddy, indicated that Elliott was associated with Mrs. Heisey in a business way. Also, Gastle is a cousin of Mrs. Elliott.

ST LOUIS GUNMAN MAY END TRIAL

L. V. Brothers Goes Before Judge Accused of Slaying Jake Lingle.

MOTIVE STILL PUZZLE.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 16 (C.P.).—Trail's end to the mystifying Jake Lingle murder mystery may be found in the trial, opening to-day, of Leo V. Brothers, St. Louis, accused of being the man who fired a bullet from a snub-nosed pistol into the back of the Tribune reporter's head last June.

As the preliminary skirmishes got under way the St. Louis gangster, whose name had never been linked with Chicago gangland activities until after his arrest last December 21, calmly awaited the outcome which included the possibility that he would be led to the electric chair.

Brothers, arrested in St. Louis 60 times and wanted there for a taxi war slaying, has never been convicted of a crime. He was arrested in the Lingle case after months of inquiry.

But aside from Brothers guilt or innocence, the big question that awaited an answer was:

"Why was Lingle killed?"

Boxing in Ring Brings Ostracism For Indian Women

MADRAS, India, March 16. — (AP)—Feminine India is literally up in arms against her two sisters, Kamala Bai and Sita Bai, who face social ostracism and disgrace because they engaged in a six round fight at the White City carnival here yesterday.

That Hindu women, the most conservative of all their eastern sisters, should invade the boxing ring, which heretofore had been regarded as the most exclusive preserve of men in the realm of sport has shocked and pained even India's men who for centuries have kept wives and daughters in strict seclusion behind the veil.

Even Gandhi, liberal minded though he is, characterized the affair as "degrading, disreputable and totally unbecoming the finer instincts of womanhood.'

DOG SAVES LIFE OF RED OFFICIAL

Animal Leaps on Assassin Receiving Two of Shots Meant For Russian.

SHOOTING IN TOKYO.

TOKYO, March 16 (A.P.)—Police credited a dog with having saved the life of a high Soviet official from an assassin here to-day.

The intended victim, Paul Anikeieff, Soviet Commercial Counsellor here and chief of the trade delegation handling the Japan-Russian fisheries dispute, was wounded dangerously. He probably would have been shot to death, police asserted, had not a dog belonging to a Japanese neighbor interfered.

Nobukatsu Sato, 34, later surrendered, declaring he was responsible for the shooting.

Anikeieff, en route to the Russian Embassy, had just turned his car from the driveway of his home when the assassin leaped to the running board of the machine and opened fire with a small automatic pistol. Two bullets struck the Russian before the dog leaped at the assassin. The man swung on the dog, sending two shots into its body, then returned to Anikeieff. The Russian received the last bullet in his chest.

Sato is a Japanese with a Russian wife. He formerly was a Vladivostok merchant, having returned, he said, to Japan 18 months ago because the Russians did not give him a "square deal."

The Japan-Russian fisheries' discussions for months have been on the verge of a breakdown because of the Soviet's uncompromising stand. Physicians said Anikeieff probably would recover.

Diphtheria Crisis Passes At Lone Post

POINT BARROW, Alaska, March 16.—Dr. Henry Griest and his small staff, who have been working day and night fighting a diphtheria epidemic in the farthest north community on the continent, believed to-day the crisis had passed.

A week-end investigation into every igloo in this vicinity resulted in the discovery of two new cases, making a total of 27 which were serious. Dr. Griest said he found about half the native population of 300 was affected more or less with 60 natives immunized yesterday. Antitoxin had been administered to the entire village, including the dozen white residents.

Another house was quarantined. Word that there was no sickness in the nearby village at Cape Halkeet was pointed to as indicating the effectiveness of the strict quarantine.

FAILURE FOR GODLESS RED REGIME PREDICTED BY REV. ROBERT POGUE

Former Peterborough Pastor Speaks to Sons and Daughters of Ireland at Toronto Church.

TEMPORARY BROTHERHOOD.

TORONTO, Mar. 16.—"Just as the fraternity of the French Revolution was short-lived, so, too, the contemporary effort of the Soviets is doomed to failure. It was a brotherhood with God and Christ left out. Such brotherhood has always failed, and it will fail in Russia," said Rev. Robert Pogue, former pastor of St. Paul's Church, Peterborough, speaking to the Sons and Daughters of Ireland at St. Enochs United Church last night.

Basing his sermon on the words of Peter, "And live as brethren," the speaker pointed out the "inadequacy of any doctrine of brotherhood that does not find its inspiration in Jesus Christ. A brand of human brotherhood based on nature alone is failure-bound. Temporarily, a touch of nature may blend humanity into a unit, but only the Spirit of the Saviour can unite men in a fellowship which cannot be broken."

Reference was made by Rev. Mr. Pogue to various aspects of today's situation in Russia. "It is a communism without God," he said. "It is not the communism of the New Testament, where we read: 'All that believed were together, and had all things in common, and sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.' Any other attempt at fraternity will come to naught. Some of the Russian leaders would have us believe that Russia today is a kind of 'Paradise Regained,' such is the spirit of equality, fraternity and co-operation which moves and controls the Soviet Union. But those who have seen and know the facts, and have come out to tell us, know how far otherwise it is. But even if it could be said that anything approaching a true 'spirit of brotherhood' existed, it will be short-lived with God left out."

PRINCE ENJOYS RIDE AS COWBOY

Royal Brothers and Party in Six Planes Visit Great Ranch.

INSPECT VAST HERDS.

LA MARION RANCE, CORDOBA, Argentina, March 16 (A.P.). — The Prince of Wales realized the small boy's wish to-day and became a gaucho (cowboy) for a few exciting hours.

Booted and spurred, he rode with men to whom the lariat is gospel and the bull whip law, and inspected one of the largest herds of shorthorn cattle in the Argentine.

The Prince, his young brother Prince George, and members of their party literally dropped into La Marion hacienda last night, six planes landing them here from Buenos Aires just before dark.

Their host, Carlos Brown, and some other guests met them at the natural landing field on the vast pampas, and walked with them back through his gardens to the ranch house, where they spent the night.

They were up with the sun for an inspection of the shorthorn herds and ranch buildings.

Dolton Promises Help To Fight "New Party"

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., March 16.—(C.P.).—Hugh Dolton, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, promised the help of the Labor Executive in "fighting these disloyal elements" in a speech here last night in which he attacked the Mosley "new party."

Their boast that they would run 400 candidates at the next election, he said, was an empty one, commenting that he wondered where they would find the money to run them. He said that Sir Oswald had never understood the spirit of the Labor movement, that he had been in the party but a few short years but had never been a part of it.

LITTLE STRIFE LAST YEAR.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 16. (AP)—The Saorstat may drown the Shamrock to-morrow if the Dail gives an expected decision some time to-day on a bill legalizing open public houses for a few hours on Saint Patrick's Day.

Otherwise only Ulster and North Ireland, where liquor restriction laws are less strict, will be the only section of the Emerald Isle which can carry out the old custom with the fervor it deserves.

This year's Saint Patrick's Day promises to be one of the happiest in years, despite the economic depression. The past year has been marked with less of the political turmoil of which Ireland has known so much recently and spirits of everyone are remarkably high.

There will be military parades and open air mass in the barracks and squares all over the Free State, with special services in all churches. There will be an imposing military parade and review through Dublin in the forenoon, the Minister of defense taking the salute at College Green. Airplanes will circle overhead and a sprig of shamrock will be worn by every soldier.

Athletic events are arranged for the afternoon. Amusements and ceremonies will have a national character and the celebrations will be no less ardent in Cork, Limerick, Athlone and elsewhere than in Dublin itself. Everywhere the Saorstat youth will dance the night through.

Four Persons Killed In Automobile Crash

VANCOUVER, March 176. — Four persons were killed and two gravely injured early on Saturday when an automobile travelling west on the Georgia Street Viaduct struck an obstruction in the roadway, crashed through the railing and plunged 40 feet to the railway tracks below. The motor car was demolished.

END PILES QUICK

No Salves—No Cutting

Your itching, bleeding, protuding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this City, that McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store, says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile agony or money back.

Greater Activity In Grain Shipments

LINDSAY, Mar. 16 (Special to The Examiner).—There has been marked activity in grain shipments from Port McNicoll through Lindsay and Peterborough via C.P.R. during the past week. These shipments consisted of wheat, which have been hauled east for export. There is still about three million bushels of wheat in the elevators at Port McNicoll.

POTATO GROWERS ASK GOV'T ACTION

Eastern Provinces Claims Existence Threatened by Cuban Duty.

WIRE SENT BENNETT.

WOLFVILLE, N.S., March 16. (CP) Prominent growers and shippers of the district facing a heavy loss as a result of Cuba's action in extending the duty on importations of table potatoes so as to cover the entire year, affecting the bulk of potato shipments from the Maritime provinces, have sent the following telegram to Premier R. B. Bennett:—

"Inasmuch as Nova Scotia ships to Cuba about 80 percent. of her entire export of potatoes. New Brunswick 60 per cent. and Prince Edward Island 50 per cent., it appears to the growers generally that the Canadian Government should protest against any change in operations present Cuban duty whereby the four months' trade now enjoyed with Cuba would be diverted to the United States.

"Every possible step should be taken by the Government, to have this trade to the Maritime provinces continued, as the very existence of our potato growing industry is threatened."

VICEROY PLEADS

mined after the further discussion at London, in which the Nationalists are expected to join.

The Viceroy suggested that the personal expenditures of the rulers should be moderated in order to allow the utmost revenue for the welfare of their communities. They should also establish some means for maintaining contact between their governments and the governor, he urged. Religious toleration and conciliation should rule.

Nothing To Fear.

Many States had nothing to fear from the publication of their affairs, the Viceroy frankly went on, but the personal extravagance of some of the rulers had injured their States' financial stability. He appealed for some improvement in this respect. Lord Irwin congratulated the Princes again on their adherence to the idea of federation and he was confident their labors would produce a united, stable and prosperous India.

The proceedings will continue for a week. To-day's sitting concluded with the unveiling of a fine statue of Lord Reading, former Viceroy of India.

Moslem League Meets

NEW DELHI, India—Meeting at the same time as the Chamber of Princes, the All-India Moslem League today reaffirmed the demand of the Aga Khan, Moslem leader, for 33 1-3 per cent representation at the Central Government for the Moslems of India the Moslems also demanded a majority of the seats in the Punjab and Bengal legislatures, with adequate representation in the other provinces.

The Moslems are anxious to secure the upper hand in the Punjab and Bengal in order that they might balance the Hindu minorities thus created, against the Moslem minorities in other sections of India. Naturally the Hindus who are the prospective "hostages" do not relish the idea. The claims were first put forward at the London Round-Table Conference.

The All-India Nationalist Congress will meet shortly.

1929 TAX RETURNS IN U.S. REVEAL 504 HAVE INCOME OVER $1,000,000

Preliminary Figures For Same Year Show 38,650 Have Over $50,000 Income.

BELOW 1928 TOTAL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 16.—Despite the stock market crash, 504 persons in the United States had incomes in excess of $1,000,000 for the calendar year of 1929, according to Federal income tax returns filed from January 1 to August 31, 1930, it was announced to-day.

For 1928 as shown by returns fyled in the first eight months of 1929, there were 496 "millionaire incomes."

Final figures for 1928, which included returns fyled in the last four months of 1929, showed 511.

The preliminary figures for incomes received in 1929 on which taxes were paid in 1930 showed that 38,650 persons received incomes of $50,000 or more, aggregating $5,952,356,057. Such incomes would be equal to 5 per cent. or more on a capital of $1,000,000, but as in many instances the income realized was from speculative activities rather than investment, it cannot be classified as continuing. The final figures for incomes received in 1928 showed 43,184 had incomes of $50,000 or more, aggregating $6,909,085,000.

Talkies will be produced in India.

Young Son Is Born To Murdered Sailor

LUNENBURG, N.S., March 16. — June Cluett, widow of Captain William P. Cluett on Saturday became the mother of their third child, a boy, weighing 7 pounds.

Seven weeks had elapsed since the United tSates coastguard bullets mortally wounded Captain Cluett of the liquor-laden vessel Josephine K. off Ambrose Light, New York.

The 5-year-old son who walked to his father's grave at the funeral on February 1, and another boy, aged 3, are the other members of the little family.

Captain and Mrs. Cluett, the latter then 22, were married here six years ago. Major the Rev. W. F. Ryder, Anglican rector, who conducted the ceremony, broke the news of the captain's death to her on January 25, the day following the shooting. Captain Cluett had last been home on Christmas Eve, when the youthful couple attended a watch-night service at St. John's Church.

Mother and son are doing well.

Deaths from influenza in England this year are three times as many as in the same period of 1930.

To-morrow is St. Patrick's Day and a festival of Shamrocks is just the thing to have for a St. Patrick's Day party.

• • • • • • •

As this saint's birthday anniversary comes tomorrow it is important that the preparations require little or no time to make. Without sacrificing anything to this necessity the following party has been originated.

• • • • • • •

The Hostess provides many sheets of green paper, crepe paper, wrapping paper or tissue. The first is best. She also has scissors for each person, or asks each to bring his or her own pair.

• • • • • • •

At a given signal each person starts to cut shamrocks from folded paper. At another signal all stop and the person who has cut the most is given a prize.

• • • • • • •

Players form in a line and walk in a circle, supposedly along a garden path, for this game, "Gathering Shamrocks." As they walk they shower the leaves toward the centre.

• • • • • • •

When all have been scattered, each player is given a small green container. A basket made by covering a paper cup with green paper is just the thing.

• • • • • • •

Add a green covered wire handle which may be a bent hairpin wound with paper.

• • • • • • •

At a given signal each player tried to fill his or her basket with the shamrocks picked from the "garden" and the one who gathers most is given the prize.

• • • • • • •

For Shamrock Secrets, supply each person with a white shamrock cut from stiff paper to which a green tally pencil has been attached. Ask each player to white the one word Shamrocks on the cards.

• • • • • • •

At a given signal each player is to find twenty-five words made from the letters of the word. There are many more than this number.

• • • • • • •

Each player exceeding this number is given a prize and the player who finds the least number of words is given the consolation prize.

• • • • • • •

Another prize might be awarded the player who, in a given time forms the best sentence, exclamation or phrase from the words that he or she has discovered secreted in the word, "shamrocks."

But the first bottle of this wonderful tonic changed his opinion because of the marvellous improvement it made in his health.

INSTITUTES HOLD COMBINED MEETING

Senior and Junior Members of Warsaw Branch Discuss Many Subjects.

WARSAW, March 16 (Examiner Correspondence).—The regular meetings of the Women's Institutes junior, and senior, were held in the Institute rooms, on Thursday afternoon. Reports of standing committees on health, education, Agriculture, legislation and Canadian Industries are to be in by April meeting.

The resolution which was adopted at the convention, asking the Department to make scientific teaching of temperance compulsory from the fifth grade up was upheld. The invitation from Miss Alexander to attend her closing afternoon class at Lakefield was given, but, on account of the roads, not accepted. The juniors then joined the seniors and Miss Cora Drain gave her sisters report of the convention in Toronto.

Mrs. Wheeler spoke of Peterborough being in the cold, so far as representatives were concerned. Mrs. Sexsmith, and Mrs. Thomas Cooper have each been vice-chairman. Mrs. Sexsmith several years ago was convener on legislation, and last year Peterborough County's work was mentioned for the first time.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

WHAT CAUSES DECAY OF TEETH

Osler, the greatest of modern physicians, said that more trouble, more ailments, began in the mouth than in any other part of the body. To have a good healthy mouth was a big asset from a health standpoint.

Unfortunately it is while we are young that we build up or tear down our teeth, the ages from 7 to 20 are considered the most important years in development of healthy teeth, or in the starting of decay.

Now what causes decay?

As you know, there have been many different causes given for decay of the teeth—acid digestive juice in the mouth, glandular disturbances so common in young people, harmful organism from food, changes of temperature, and so forth.

However, it is generally agreed now that while there may be other causes, the greatest single cause of decay of the teeth is lack of the proper kinds of food. Drs. Bunting, Hadley, Jay and Hard made a short investigation and found that decay did not occur so often in children who were eating certain foods.

They then made an extensive investigation in which several groups of children were examined, then given certain treatment, and one year later were examined again.

Following one line of treatment in one group the dental decay was present and active in only 5 per cent, that is one in twenty. In another group 50 per cent showed active decay, in another group 49 per cent.

What treatment was found to be most effective in preventing decay?

The diet treatment, a diet in which milk, fruits, and green vegetables were used daily in addition to other nutritious foods.

It was also pointed out tha these children were in excellent general health at the end of the investigation.

And when we remember that food value, the mineral salts, and the vitamins found in milk, fruit and green vegetables, we can readily understand how not only the teeth, but all the tissues of the body are built up.

See that your youngsters get some of all three of these foods stuffs daily.

London school children are, at eight years of age, nearly an inch taller than those of 1913.

ANOTHER WAR STORY

Ex-Service Man and His "Souvenir"

Rheumatism That Got Into His Bones

Here's yet another War story. It's about a Service-man who brought home what he called a "souvenir." Actually it was rheumatism and neuralgia. But he had the soldier's light-hearted way of looking at things. He had also the soldier's scepticism of "remedies," yet he was at length persuaded to try Kruschen.

"From the time of leaving the Army in 1919 until a year ago, I was a constant sufferer from rheumatism, which was frequently accompanied by neuralgia. I had tried various remedies, both internal and external, but with little or no relief. Friends had often told me to try Kruschen, but I'd always turned them down with 'Oh, it's like all the rest of the stuff,' or 'I think it's got thoroughly into my bones in the Army, and I suppose it will remain as a souvenir of the Great War.' Finally, I was persuaded to give Kruschen a trial, but even then I took them just to prove that they were useless. Imagine my surprise when after a few doses both complaints had vanished, and I've never had the slightest rheumatic pain since. Now I, in turn, tell every sufferer I come in contact with what a fine thing Kruschen Salts is."—L. B.

Kruschen strikes at and removes the root cause of rheumatism, which is poison - breeding matter in the intestines. This waste matter, by poisoning the nerves, causes neuralgia, and by poisoning the blood, lowers the whole vitality. Kruschen so stimulates the organs of elimination that every trace of this clogging waste material is regularly and completely expelled. Kruschen keeps your inside clean and serene. And your whole system—body and brain—responds to its purifying force.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 65c. and 75c. per bottle.

FREE TRIAL OFFER OF KRUSCHEN

Try Kruschen now at our expense. We have distributed a great many special "GIANT" packages which make it easy for you to prove our claims for yourself. Ask your druggist for the new "GIANT" 75c package. This consists of our regular 75c bottle together with a separate trial bottle—sufficient for about one week. Open the trial bottle first, put it to the test, and then if not entirely convinced that Kruschen does everything we claim it to do, the regular bottle is still as good as new. Take it back. Your druggist is authorized to return your 75c immediately and without question. You have tried Kruschen free at our expense. What could be fairer?

Gilbert Harrington Burned About Face

HASTINGS, March 16 (Examiner Correspondence).—On Sunday morning Gilbert Herrington met with a very serious accident which might have proved fatal very easily. On getting up, Mr. Herrington looked at his coal fire and found it to be low and in an effort to start it quickly he poured on coal oil, which exploded in his face, causing severe burns. Dr. W. N. Campbell attended the injuries.

THE MODERN MAN BURNS HIMSELF UP.

Excepting trained athletes, we moderns are puny creatures compared with our forefathers. Even athletes soon burn out eating acid-forming foods, the great cause of modern physical inferiority. From 32 to 50 Dr. Jackson was one of the unfit. At 50 Dr. Osler gave him four months to live, dying from acid-forming foods. He then invented alkali-forming Roman Meal. Before that he had lived on the ground floor, unable to climb stairs. Four years afterwards he climbed the fifty storeys in Washington's Monument, up and down, solely due to the alkalinizing properties in Roman Meal. In September, 1928, when seventy, he ran five miles in forty-five minutes—was not even winded; again due to Roman Meal. Write for free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and other literature, also sample of Roman Meal and Kofy-sub, the new alkaline beverage, to ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D., 502 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont.

JUNIOR GIRLS TO GIVE SHIELD

REGULAR PROGRAM.

HAVELOCK, March 16 (Examiner Correspondence)—The regular meeting of the Junior Institute was held in the Orange Hall on the first Wednesday in March, when there was a good attendance of the membership.

Some correspondence was read and reports of committees received. The quilt which the girls have just completed was reported ready for disposal, and it was decided to have tickets printed and distributed among the members to be sold at ten cents each, and have a drawing some time in the near future, and dispose of the quilt in this way. Permission to hold a drawing have been obtained from the proper authorities. Proceeds will be used for relief work. Moved by Gladys Anderson, seconded by Annie Buchanan, that Hazel Johnston, Irene Craighead, and Mildred Wilde act on that committee. Carried.

Moved by Hazel Johnston, seconded by Annie Buchanan, that eight yards of chintz be purchased, to make a curtain to divide the hall into two rooms during the meeting, carried. Miss Johnston will make the curtain, which is to be ready for the April meeting.

Moved by Hazel Johnston, seconded by Evelyn Leng, that a card be sent to Aletha Vincent, a member who is ill in hospital, carried.

Moved by Gladys Anderson seconded by Mildred Wilde, that Irene Anderson and Alma Hagerman be a committee to visit the sick, carried.

Moved by Mildred Wilde, seconded by Evelyn Leng, that Lena Buchanan and Gladys Anderson be on a committe to look after the programme for next meeting, and have a paper and a demonstration if possible, carried.

Mr. J. B. Nelson who was present at the boys' meeting, was asked to advise the girls whether money or a shield would be the better award for prizes in judging at the School Fair. Mr. Nelson thought a shield would be a very good prize. The girls decided to give a shield to the school winning highest points in a school lunch judging competition. Motion by Irene Anderson, seconded by Margaret Dafoe, carried.

The roll call for the April meeting will be "My Weight, and what is should be."

A paper was then given by Hazel Johnston entitled, Nature Study, and our Spring Birds.

The girls then joined the Agricultural Society and the following programme was given.

Community singing; recitation by Isaac Anderson; piano solo, Miss Pearl Anderson; recitation, Evelyn Leng; God Save the King.

Lunch was then served, and a short period of dancing was afterwards enjoyed.

Keen Degree Contest Provided By Members of Orange Lodges.

One of the best and friendliest meetings was held in the Orange Hall when the competition took place between Reaboro L.O.L. 820 and Peterborough County Lodge for the cup on the Royal Arch Purple Degree. This was the finest contest on record here, with Peterborough winning by one point rom Reaboro. The judges were out two hours and thirty minutes before they could decide the winner, giving Peterborough ninety-six points and Reaboro ninety-five points. The judges were: W. Elliott, P.C.M., of Dunsford, P. A. Lowes, P.C.M., of Omemee Wor. Bro. W. Moncrief, Rt. Wor. Bro. George Porter, of Peterborogh, and Bro. Bert Lockington, County Secretary of Peterborough district. TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to your druggist, and get 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water, and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

SLOW DRIVING NOW AN OFFENSE.

The crawling motorist who delights to dawdle along a main highway regardless of traffic conditions or the inconvenience and danger he may cause to others is at last to be officially noticed.

Among the amendments to the Highway Traffic Act is to be considered at this session and sponsored by Premier Henry, as Minister of Highways, which enacts that "subject to the provisions of Sections 26 and 27, no motor vehicle shall be driven upon a highway at such a slow rate of speed as to impede or block the normal and reasonable movement of traffic thereon, except when such slow rate of speed is necessary for safe operation, having regard to all the circumstances."

Such a regulation will meet with the hearty approval of most motorists, who realize that the loafing driver on a highway where traffic is heavy and where his slow speed occasions constant "cutting-in" is a menace to the general safety.

The amendment means that under normal conditions a driver who does not travel at a speed of at least twenty-five miles an hour when by slow driving he would inconvenience other motorists will be liable to be fined.

Where there is no traffic and where a loafing pace does not interfere with others, a motorist can drive as slowly as he likes, but he will no longer be permitted to impede traffic on the King's highway.

THE USE OF RECORDS.

New regulations in regard to the use of records in radio broadcasting have been announced by Hon. Alfred Duranleau, Minister of Marine.

Canadian stations under these regulations may not use records between the hours of 7.30 p.m. and midnight for more than three and one-quarter hours per week, and the records must be electrical transcriptions especially prepared for broadcasting, and must be produced and manufactured in Canada.

There are no restrictions as to the use of records in day-time hours, stations being free to broadcast as many as they please.

The use of records is not such a heinous offence in the opinion of many radio listeners-in as is the blatant advertising that is sandwiched in between the electrical transcriptions, and apparently the new regulations do not touch this question of advertising.

As a matter of fact, well selected records produced by worth-while artists probably make better radio entertainment than original programs by mediocre performers.

It is the vast amount of advertising that goes with the use of records that radio fans quarrel with, and that if not controlled and to a large extent eliminated will seriously jeopardize the future of radio broadcasting.

Listeners would not object to the broadcasting of first-class reproductions if they did not have to absorb at the same time a vast quantity of commercial publicity.

CANADA AT BUENOS AIRES.

The opening of the British Empire Trade Exhibition at Buenos Aires by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales on Saturday was an event in which Canadians should have been greatly interested, particularly as the Canadian pavilion at the Exhibition is one of the prominent features of this great effort to stimulate British trade with the Argentine.

No more ambitious attempt to build up business relations between two peoples has been known than the British campaign in the Argentine, the importance of which was signally recognized by the visit of the Prince of Wales and Prince George to the great Exhibition at which twenty-two million dollars' worth of British goods are on display.

The Canadian Government, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association were quick to sense the possibilities of this huge drive for Argentine trade, with the result that Canada is represented by a magnificent building full of attractive displays and by an imposing delegation headed by Sir George Perley and Chief Justice Anglin.

There is every reason to feel confident that Canadian co-operation in this enterprise will be rewarded by greater trade with the prosperous and fast growing South American republic.

His Royal Highness very graciously emphasized Canada's participation in his speech on Saturday.

"The pavilion of the Dominion of Canada," he declared, "will show fully and graphically for the first time to the Argentine nation the progress of another great nation in the north which is developing its vast resources in a way which must be full of interest to a country which has so many similar economic problems."

THE REPORTER WOULD BE SAFE.

Juan Ortiz is a young reporter in Panama City who wanted a chance to go into a cage with a lion named Caesar. He bet a circus man that the lion would not eat him and the circus man wagered that the lion would take him in two gulps. Then the mayor of the city stepped in and called off the bet.

So Juan does not know whether the lion would have eaten him or not; and the lion doesn't know what a reporter would taste like—nothing has been proved except the power of the mayor's veto.

We don't imagine a lion would eat the average reporter; if he did make a start he'd quit after the first helping; he'd know enough not to pass back his plate for more.

The lion would find the reporter full of tips that people had been giving him ever since he started at the business; these are poor diet; so few of them are good and so many are utterly bad.

Then the lion would find a collection of stub pencils and wads of paper in the reporter's pockets; he would discover that all his money was in dimes and nickels, and these things are hard on the teeth; if the reporter had put in his time on the police beat the lion would find that he was a skeptic and believed only one-quarter of what he heard, and that tends to make him tough.

Then, too, the lion would find marks on the reporter's body where he had bitten himself upon finding that his pet story for the day didn't get past the city desk. Such scars, we imagine, would spoil a meal even for a hungry lion. The mayor in Panama City was alarmed unnecessarily; that lion Caesar would never have eaten Juan, the reporter.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

FISH FROM PRAIRIE LAKES.

The prairies, to the uninitiated, might not seem to be a likely region in which to expect prolific fisheries. But every well informed Canadian has long been aware that the lakes of the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta produce enough excellent fresh water fish, not only to satisfy the needs of their own people, but to export in considerable quantities to Chicago, the Twin Cities, and other American, as well as Canadian centres. For several seasons catches from the lakes of the northern parts of the Provinces have been successfully marketed in these places. For instance, fish from Lake Athabaska, Northern Alberta, have won great favor, notwithstanding the fact that they have to be transported 700 miles from the lake to the Canadian boundary alone.

Just recently, however, a new development in transportation has taken place. The prairie fish have taken to the air, and indeed rise much higher than the flying fish familiar to sailors of the briny deep, even if they have to wait until after their demise to do so. Fish caught in Lac la Ronge, Northern Saskatchewan, are carried by aeroplane twice daily to Prince Albert, a distance of two hundred miles, each machine carrying about 1,600 pounds of fish in an unfrozen state. On their arrival the fish are immediately iced and packed for shipment in boxes of fifty pounds, some of which eventually travel as far east as New York City.

Though the transportation is reported to be satisfactory, it was found that the increasing demand made necessary additional facilities, so two motor tractors, each hauling a heated caboose with a carrying capacity of 7,000 pounds, were pressed into service. A trip from the lake by the two tractors means that approximately enough fish are brought to Prince Albert to make up a carload lot for shipment. The prairies are going into the fishing business in a big way, and this is good news to those who see promise of national economic stability in a multiplication of the variety of industries upon which each part of the country depends.—Brantford Expositor.

TRADE AND UNEMPLOYMENT.

Comparative figures of unemployment and the causes behind it are constant subjects for discussion in Britain. One of the latest articles on the subject appears in the current Review of Reviews, Mr. Wickham Stead's magazine, where the debate on "To Spend Or Not To Spend," is reviewed. Sir Hugh Bell says, "The best way to spend money now is to save it." Mr. J. M. Keynes, the well-known economist, says, "Whenever you save 5s, you put a man out of work for a day." This is in accord with the old proverb that "Money is round and goes round." If it does not go round we get stagnant business.

Harrod's, the big store in London, placed an order for a million pounds' worth of goods recently, and was followed by Selfridge's with an order for two and a half million pounds' worth.

The bankers and economists hold that the primary cause of unemployment is the time-lag of retail prices behind "commodity" or material prices; that the latter are down to pre-war level, while retail prices remain high, the cost-of-living index being 53 per cent. above the 1914 line. Everyone postpones buying; the factories lack orders; the workers are discharged; the present figure of 2,600,000 unemployed has been reached in Britain.

Sir William Beveridge shows that British exports fell off by 22 per cent. last year, but if they did, United States exports fell off by 27 per cent., while the U. S. unemployed were estimated from 4,500,000 to 7,000,000, and Germany on January 15, 4,765,000 unemployed.

Retail prices are now falling everywhere and no doubt the general cost of production must reach lower level, but if wages are cut down too much, the buying power of the people will be kept below the level of normal purchase, and no relief to the present situation can be expected.

Dividends reached enormous figures in the United States last year, in spite of the hard times, and many economists are convinced that more is being taken out of business than business has in it. If this goes on we shall have a ready explanation of hard tmes, depression in trade, unemployment and all the other difficulties of the situation.

John Ruskin is supposed to be out-of-date, but his little book, "Unto This Last," may be nearer the truth than the investing public care to think.—Hamilton Herald.

CHAPTER XV

POPCORN

When Lo raine awoke the next morning, the first thing she saw was a cluster of childish black heads at the doorway of her hogan. As soon, however, as their startled gaze met hers, the curtain dropped and there was a scamper of bare feet outside to indicate a hasty retreat. Smiling to herself, Lorraine straightened up and looked about her small shelter. The lamb rose and stretched too.

She found herself in a large circular house made of small tree trunks, the openings between which were covered with a mixture of earth and grass. The floor was dirt, and there was a hole in the conical roof overhead to permit the escape of smoke. Except for herself and the lamb and the pile of old blankets on which she sat, there seemed at first to be nothing in the hogan. Then, as her eyes became accustomed to the dim light she made out a few articles strung out on the ground about the wall—a hand-made comb, a little doll, a soiled blouse, a dried piece of meat and a pair of old moccasins.

She was about to rise and go out of doors to join the others, having not the slightest idea what time it was, and entertaining no uncertain feelings of hunger; but just at that moment the blanket at her door was lifted and in came two Indian women, as though they had been informed by the peeping children. One bore a handful of twigs, with which she at once lit a fire beneath the hole in the roof, the other carried in her hands a coffee pot and a bowl. The pot was placed on the fimaes, and then a large flat stone was shoved close to the fire on which was put the bowl.

While these preparations were going on for her breakfast, another ceremony was afoot—one that left Lorraine bright-eyed with surprise and pleasure. For into her hogan, one by one, silent-footed and close-mouthed, but wreathed in shy smiles, came all the Indian women of the encampment, bearing gifts for Estsanatlehi. There was no singing or dancing as the dark-skinned people made their presentations, but it seemed to the girl a much more sincere homage than the more elaborate courtesy extended to her the night before. It was, she thought, human; for these were not snakeskins or scalp-locks in her lap. These were all presents such as might be given from one woman to another, and they included such beautiful things as a ich, newly woven Navajo blanket that was dropped at her feet by a wrinkled, grinning old woman, a soft deerskin dress with gaily painted designs covering both front and back, moccasins with leather embroidery of delicate and intricate pattern, and silver bracelets and necklaces heavily studded with turquoises.

I was impossible to express her appreciation, but the whole proceeding had been so utterly unexpected, and so simply and quietly done, that when the littlest toddler shyly handed her a new Indian doll, she could no longer restrain herself. Catching the child in her arms she kissed her several imes and then, with little Bird-in-the-Sand on her lap, and Creep-Foot and Morning-Star on either side of her, she tried to make herself understood.

"I think these are lovely. I'm crazy about them all. I'll take such good care——"

The attempt ended in a gale of laughter led by Lorriane, for the solemn faced Indians merely stared stolidly at her, and she felt as though her words were balls thrown against the hard wall. At her laughter, however, the swarthy faces broke into smiles so that, by the time she accepted breakfast, there was established between them an air of friendliness that their round eyes, steady, silent scutiny could not disturb. She ate leisurely, with fifteen or so women and girls gathered in a circle on the floor of her hogan about her.

It was, she thought, not a half savage breakfast, with coffee again, a strange kind of mush that would almost pass for cereal—lacking cream and sugar—and a cornmeal cake that was baked like a flapjack on top of the hot flat stone by the fire. The mush she was glad to share with the lamb, who licked it all up hungrily and promptly climbed into her lap,as much as to say he had adopted her for his mother, with much the same determination with which she had adopted him for her doll. She sat there stroking the little animal and wondering what would happen now, when she came dimly to a realization that the next move was hers.

"Well, all right then," she thought. "Let's get out of this California bungalow and see if there's any way of staging a bath. Do goddesses bathe, I wonder?"

Springing up, she indicated, with what she felt were truly regal gestures, that the two oldest of the girls were to follow her with the blankets on which she had slept. Her new dress, moccasins, and blanket she carried with pride herself and, with them in her arms, she stepped outside of her hogan and gazed around.

She was at the bottom of a narrow canyon, the walls of which were so high they appeared almost to meet overhead, and there came over her again the feeling of being imprisoned, which she had experienced with Dirk when they had descended from their cliff dwelling. But it passed in a moment, for the sun was shining brightly down into the opening, making the tumbling, rushing brook over at one side near the wall, twinkle with a thousand lights. It caught her eye immediately, and after casting a quick look at the assembled Indians, she ran eagerly to its edge.

Here, after exploring up and down the canyon for a way, she found a shelter of rocks where she thought she might safely bathe. The pool was shallow, and warmed to a fairly comfortable degree by the sun, and so shielded on three sides by the outcroppings of stone that when the Indian girls stretched the blankets along the fourth side she was perfectly hidden. In delight then she slipped her old clothes from her, and lay in luxury in a tub of cool, clean water, using for soap a bowl of warm yellow suds made from the yucca root, which was smilingly handed to her by an old woman.

While she was bathing and dressing she was busy thinking. Her hasty glimpse of the gathering of men had not revealed Silver Tongue. He had, then, gone as he had promised, and was before this with Dirk. By now, she reasoned, Dirk was assured of her safety, had been given food and was told of the plan for their return to civilization. Soon, also her father would get news of her and would start on his long journey to meet her. It was unbelievably good luck, but it was true. It was true! The relief of this, combined with the bright sunlight and the friendliness of the Indian women, worked like magic on her spirits touching the whole affair with the bright color of adventure, so that she walked out among them all again, clad in her new deerskin dress and soft moccasins and wrapped in her lovely blanket, simply radiant with pleasure.

Almost at once, however, a little chill fell on her exuberance. The men were sitting on the ground, immobile and silent, in an attitude of patient waiting, and as her glance swept the group she encountered the steady gimlet stare of old Scarface. Something in his manner, some vague hint of calm, judicial aloofness, penetrated her bright contentment, and in a flash she recalled Silver Tongue's warning to her:

"It will be well if Estsanatlehi performs ceremonies to her husband the Sun God, in the dawning."

She paused before them, feeling angry as a child who has had the sure promise of delight snatched rudely away. Then came a little rush of determination to have it back—that sense of safety and well being—and the confident belief that it would be simple to accomplish. These Indians, with their blind, primitive, unreasoning faith, would be easy to bluff. The incident of the cigarette lighter was proof of that, and the memory of it gave her now a reckless kind of confidence. The next moment—careless, fun-loving, with the terrors of the night vanished in the light of day, and the whole affair taking on an aspect of an amusing experience to be lightly lived through—she lifted her head and threw herself with sparkling eyes into the playing of her role.

Assuming to the best of her ability a most queenly walk, she advanced toward the men as if unaware of them. Then, when she stood squarely before Scarface, she stooped and, taking him by the hand, led him forth from the others. First she curtsied deeply to the east, then to the west, to the south and to the north, as she remembered seeing it done last night, after which she indicated demurely to Scarface that he was to do exactly as she did. He tried at first to follow the custom of his tribe, and merely bow with lifted arms, but Lorraine, grave and unsmiling, insisted that he curtsy, as she had, and felt tremor after tremor of laughter shaking her as she watched his awkward attempts. Unable to trust herself to further amusement with the old medicine man just at this moment, she waved him back to his place and lifted her arms in prayer.

What To-day Means To You

"PISCES"

If March 16th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from noon to 2 p.m. and from 10:30 p.m. to midnight.

Creative mental workers will find themselves inspired and stimulated by astrological influences on this date, and should give their best efforts to the world. A splendid time for travel, and all that requires energy and quick decision. Propitious for dealing with correspondence.

The child born on this March 16th will have a nimble mind and nimble fingers. It will be ambitious, and a hard-rider over obstacles. It will love sports, seek adventure, and surround itself with friends. A fondness of music, and the fine arts generally, is shown.

Your virtues are mostly negative ones, and you are the shadow of all stronger personalities which may surround you, and the victim of advice-mongers. You should learn to flee from those who try to take command of the ship of your soul. You are too willing to abdicate your own judgment, and too quick to listen to "you should not do that," or "you ought to do this." You have lost the power of decision and initiative.

You have a cordial disposition, pleasing manners, democratic views, and the gift of being amusing. Your words have no sting—far be it from you, to desire to hurt anyone by word or deed. You trust too much to luck, and do not take advantage of your opportunities, especially those of a material nature. It may be said however, that you never feel sorry for yourself, and never whine for sympathy, no matter what your status may be. You always realize that there are others much worse off than you are, and you appreciate your blessings.

You are not afraid of work, but you fear solo responsibilities. You are also afraid to take the initiative in anything, but you can keep step with a leader. You have heart for your work, and zest for your play—you do not lack enthusiasm. If you be a woman, you are destined to find happiness within your home. If you be a man, an ambitious mate may ruin your peace through nagging.

STRONGER TONE BOND SECTION

New York Market Begins New Week With Moderately Cheerful Tone.

ADVANCES MODERATE.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 16.—(A. P.)—The financial markets began the new week with a moderately cheerful tone, but apparently reconciled to the theory that the pace of business recovery demands patience.

Share prices maintained the up trend started on Saturday, and bonds showed a somewhat better tone. Trading was apathetic, nevertheless, and advances were moderate.

Professional traders in the stock market appeared to be tiring of the ineffectual churning about of shares.

A broad list of stocks sold up a point or more, some of the leading Eastern Utilities were again conspicuously strong. Consolidated Gas sold up 2 points to the year's best price, and United Gas Improvement, Public Service of N. J., and Brooklyn Gas Improvement, Public Service of N. J., and Brooklyn Union Gas reached new highs with smaller advances. Shares gaining a point or so included U. S. and Bethlehem Steels, American Can, Union Carbide, Woolworth, Sears, American Colortype, American and Foreign Power, American Telephone, Standard of N. J. and Nash. A few shares, including Eastman, Loews, Byers, Allied Chemical and Case gained 2 to 3.

court, to make further investigations.

As yet Elliott has been unable to raise his $20,000 bail, Mr. Elliott appeared in court to-day and conferred with Mr. McCuaig and Castle after the court.

The Palmer House was owned by Mrs. David Helsey, who died from a fractured skull suffered when her motor car, driven by Castle, crashed into the forebay of the Ontario power plant at Niagara Falls, Ont., several weeks ago. Castle leaped plunged into the water and suffered injuries to his head.

Chicago Wheat Drop To New Low For Year

CHICAGO, Ill., March 16 (C.P.).—Wheat slid down early today to a fresh low price record for the season. Liverpool reported that Canadian and Argentine offerings were cheaper and that for the first time in a considerable period Liverpool wheat stocks showed an increase. Opening 1-8 to 5-8 cents off, wheat afterward held near to the initial limits. Corn started unchanged to ½ up and subsequently displayed little change.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 16 (C.P.)—Prime merchantile paper 2½ to 2¾ per. cent.

Foreign exchange steady; demand rates (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents) Great Britain, $4.85 5-8; France, 3.91¼; Italy, 5.23½; Germany, 23.79½; Canadian dollars at par.

Railway Men Oppose Spread-Over System

LONDON, March 16 (By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Correspondent).—Despite reports that various mass meetings of railway workers are expressing resentment against the wage reductions recommended by the National Railways Wages Board, it will probably be found, when full feeling has been ascertained, that the general body of workers are not so opposed to the reductions of 2½ per cent as they are to the recommendations regarding the "spread-over" system of working time.

J. Kemp Transferred To Lindsay Office

LINDSAY, March 16. (Special to The Examiner).—J. Kemp, who has been chief clerk at the C.P.R. office at Peterborough, has been appointed uptown C.P.R. agent at Lindsay, and has assumed his new duties. W. A. Brown, whom he succeeds, has been transferred to Chatham.

TORONTO LIST HOLDS STEADY

Price Movements Confined to Fractions With Volume of Sales at a Minimum.

NORANDA SLIGHTLY HIGHER.

TORONTO, Ont., March 16 (C.P.).—Price movements were confined to fractions on Toronto stock exchange this afternoon with volume of sales at a minimum.

International Nickel and Noranda were both slightly above the last close. The former rising an 18 to 18 3-8 while Noranda gained 70 cents to 18. Others in the mining group were strong with Macassa as a leader.

Oils were firm throughout with gains of a small nature scattered abou th list.

Interlisted shares were slightly above their last final this movement was instigated in New York where, with the exception of frail issues, the marke is strong.

Steels and liquors were unchanged to a bit h'gher nearing noon. Motor shares added fractions to the last close.

MINING BRIEFS.

TORONTO, Ont., March 16 (Special to Examiner).—According to word from W. W. Smith, who, with a gang of men is developing the gold discovery made in Pascalis township, northwestern Quebec, last year, camps have been completed, a road cut from the government road to the property, a distance of three miles, and trenching started. Four pits are being put down and in one what looks like ore already has been encountered. Preliminary sampling gave values of approximately $7.50 across 15 feet, $10 across 12 feet and around $24 across 5 feet. Toronto interests behind the development will visit the property shortly and if sampling of trenches warrants, may decide to send in a diamond drill.

Absolute official denial of all rumours to the effect ventures and Nipissing were contemplating closer association of interests was issued today by the head office of Ventures Limited. There is no basis for reports that Ventures was planning either the purchase of additional shares in Nipissing or a consolidation of development efforts in any way, it was tated. Ventures still retains the block of Nipissing stock purchased last year and Halstead Lindsley remains a member of the Nipissing board, but no closer affiliation is under consideration by either company.

The mill of Lake Shore is improving the percentage of recovery. The mining methods are also being improved upon so as to eliminate waste and minimize dilution. As a result, somewhat higher recovery is expected per ton of ore treated. Recent production has reached about $200,000 per week, with indications of $225,000 per week in the near future.

Shaft sinking is making steady progress to the next objective of 3,000 feet. Sinking will be a more or less continuous operation. As new levels can be reached and stations cut, the veins will be developed by drifts. The ore coming from development will flow directly to the mill, the balance being drawn from stopes only at such a rate as may be required to maintain the mill at full capacity.

As the development gains headway, the amount of ore in sight and not drawn upon to any great extent may reasonably be expected to pave the way towards a further increase in mill capacity. The present rate of a little over 2,000 tons daily is adequate to provide profits of around $5,000,000 annually and at the same time care for the additional development as well as enable the company to accumulate a larger treasury surplus.

SIX HOMES BURN

flames the village's water supply having run very low. The Quebec Fire Department sent assistance but owing to the lack of water supply the local firemen were handicapped. With the help of volunteer fire brigade and much hard work the fire was brought under control at about 4.30 a.m.

The belief among the villagers that the blaze was set by firebugs was strengthened by the fact that a series of fires practically ruined the place last year. No less than eighteen fires have occurred since March, 1930, all of unknown origin. Several weeks ago the Ange Gardien parish church, one of the oldest Roman Catholic edifices in Canada, was gutted.

Minister of 96 Conducts Service

SPRINGFIELD, Ont., March 16 (C.P.). — The church service of Springfield United Church yesterday morning were conducted by Rev. Hiel Wood, who celebrated his 96th birthday on the 13th.

His dinner was served by granddaughters. Four generations were seated at the table. Mr. Wood has been 75 years in the ministry. One of his most valued possessions is a walnut table, the top of which is a solid board four feet by five feet, from a tree seven feet in diameter cut by himself and his father. To obtain the correct-sized board for the table the log was sent to Philadelphia to be cut. Some of the slabs were sent to the World's Fair in Paris many years ago.

Winnipeg Review

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bawlf Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

Wheat prices continued their downward trend yesterday when there was moderate selling of July wheat by Chicago and New York interests, which was understood to be spreading operations between here and Chicago. The buying was thin although the market met resting orders through commission houses on the scale down, while there was fair buying against the daily bids. On the extreme dip prices were 1¼ cents under the close Friday night. A few scattered load were reported worked for export overnight but the figures were small and very disappointing especially when considering the decline of Friday during the last hour. Liverpool closed 3-8 to 5-8 lower, and Buenos Aires closed ¾ to 1 1-8 lower. There was very little doing in the cash wheat market. Offerings were very light, only the odd car coming out which was being taken by terminal interests or shippers. Spreads were mostly unchanged except on 1 and 2 Northern, which were 1-8 better which was only the narrowing of the carrying charges. Some further snows were received in Manitoba but little or no precipitation elsewhere. Wheat deliveries by farmers in Western Canada from August 1st, last, to Friday night, March 13th, total 269,903,000 bushels, as against 217,122,000 for the same period a year ago. Winnipeg futures closed 1 cent to 1 1-8 lower.

Coarse Grains.—The weakness in wheat was reflected in the coarse grains and all markets were lower. Outside of a little scattered liquidation there was not much pressure in evidence but demand was very thin and there was no business in either domestic or export channels overnight. Flax continued dull and featurless. Scattered liquidation in evidence.

Liverpool Cables due 7-8 lower based on Winnipeg.

WELSH MINERS FAVOR STRIKING

Workers Put Up Stout Resistance to Seven Pence a Day Wage Cut.

LEADERS URGE CAUTION.

CARDIFF, Wales, March 16 (A.P.)—Stout resistance of coal miners in South Wales to a wage cut of seven pence (fourteen cents a day, awarded recently by the chairman of a joint concilation board, was manifested today at a conference of miners' delegates from an extensive coal field.

Leaders cautioned against extreme action, but many districts had instructed their delegates to vote for a strike in protest. At the noon recess no decision had been reached, but it was reported the general tone of discussion veered toward a strike policy.

The conference was adjourned late this afternoon to permit delegates to take home and place before their local groups the recommendations of union executives.

the Labrador coast for several years. He is a Yale graduate and a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society.

Last year a Varick Frissell expedition left New York in January and returned in March with a photographic and sound record of the Labrador sealers at work capturing seals on ice floes, 100 miles off the coast of Labrador. Captain Robert A. Bartlett, who captained Peary's ship in the North Pole Expedition, was captain for Frissell.

It was believed in motion picture circles in New York that Frissell was in the North making another picture. Last year he exhibited "The Silent Enemy" and the year before "Vikings of the North" both of which were made with native characters in the Hudson's Bay country.

He was associated with W. C. Chanler of New York in the production of these pictures. No American actors were used.

BIG MISSOURI UP TWO POINTS

Irregularity Develops in Gold Stocks on Standard Exchange To-day.

MINING CORP. STRONG.

TORONTO, Ont., March 16 (C.P.).—Price action among the gold stocks developed some irregularity in the opening session of the week on the mining market today, but lower-priced issues remained firm and when taken at noon the list displayed a majority of small advances.

Mining Corporation and Wright-Hargreaves were among the strong spots, both stocks showing a gain of 5 at $2.79 and $2.10 respectively. Big Missouri was active and up a couple at 2 and Moss and Siscoe gained a cent or so apiece. Eldorado dropped back to 6 to 89 and McLeod and Teck Hughes were somewhat easier.

Noranda, a point from Saturday's close, was the leader in a more buoyant base metal section.

Nordon continued strong in the oil group, price gaining another 3 to 49. Home Oil dropped just below $1 for a loss of 2½ and Associated and Acme Gas were off a cent or so apiece.

COMPLETE ROUT OF RELIGION

with under the Soviet development. Divorces were easy to secure, their was little binding about marriage contracts and a new viewpoint as to family life was being established. The moral code as understood in other countries had given way to a new liberty in these matters.

Mr. Fowler pointed out that the result of the Russian experiment was of tremendous importance to the rest of the world. If the collective plan as exemplified by the Soviet triumphed over the individualism of other countries, then some form of collective effort might be expected to spread in other countries.

England was looked upon in Russia as the arch-enemy of Bolshevism and while the British people were admired for their democracy, yet they were feared because of their opposition to the Soviet ideas.

Rotarian Fred L. Roy expressed the thanks of the club to Mr. Fowler for his most instructive paper.

Church Broken Into Plate, Clock Taken

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Mar. 16.—Thieves who broke into the church of Christ here on Saturday night stole the communion service and a large clock from the wall.

The robbery was discovered just before the Sunday morning service when the communion cups were missed. Later it was noted that the clock had also vanished. A broken window indicated the manner in which entrance to the edifice had been gained.

the President of his divisional caucus.

Religion also enters into the by-election. Rev. Hugh Chapman announced from the pulpit of the Savoy Chapel yesterday that it would be a religious work to support Captain Duff Cooper. He called on every "Christian clergyman" to express his views of the deplorable way in which the election was being conducted.

The seat is vacant by the death of Sir Laming Worthington Evans, former Conservative War Minister, elected with a majority of 16 164 in a straight fight with a Labor opponent in 1929.

Bovril Company Has Good Year In 1930

Presiding at the thirty-fourth annual general meeting of Bovril, Limited, held in London recently, Lord Luke of Pavenham (chairman) said that the directors met the shareholders again with pleasure, and were able to present a satisfactory report and set of accounts.

Advertising As a Business Tonic.

On the right-hand side of the profit and loss account the gross profit stood at £568,636, as against £603,196 in 1929, a record year. They would note that they charged all advertisements before arriving at this gross profit, and he might say that advertising showed a five-figure excess in 1930 over 1929. They were, however, quite impenitent at having spent this additional sum. They realized that, during a period of depression such as they had been going through, a given amount of publicity could not be expected to give the same results; but they believed it was nevertheless necessary in order to hold their trade until more prosperous times enabled them to make a further advance.

EDITOR OF HUSH HITS AT COUNTY

Gordon and Elliott Intend to Serve Notice Under Libel and Slander Act.

SLIGHTLY CONFUSED.

Allegations reflecting on the integrity of the Treasurer of the County of Peterborough, and contained in an editorial in the current issue of "Hush" under the heading "Government Action Needed," were to-day challenged by A. L. Elliott, of the law firm of Gordon & Elliott, who was in telephone communication with Strathearn Boyd Thomson, managing editor of that journal, published in Toronto. Admitting that they had confused the County Treasurer of this county with another County Treasurer who has recently been in the limelight as a result of serious defalcations, the publishers of "Hush" have promised to retract their statements in a future issue of the paper, while Mr. Elliott has stated his intention of serving a notice on the publishers under the Libel and Slander Act.

Called to his attention by The Examiner, Edward M. Elliott, who is completing his twenty-seventh year as clerk and treasurer of the county, declared most emphatically, "We can account for every dollar spent in this county. The editorial is ambiguous and ridiculous, but the implications it contains are serious. The county auditors," he added, "are Messrs. B. W. Squire of Norwood and Rae Williams of Havelock, who are remunerated at the rate of $5.00 each annually."

FOUR ACT DRAMA FOR MARCH 17

Kathleen Mavourneen Will Be Presented in Grand Opera House Tuesday Night.

EAST CITY ORCHESTRA.

One of the old favorites of the 17th of Ireland, St. Patrick's Day, in "Kathleen Mavourneen," a four-act comedy drama, is being presented to-morrow evening at the Grand Opera House by a cast recruited from the three Catholic parishes of the city.

These annual Irish plays have been a popular institution for many long years, and they are eagerly looked forward to by the citizens, and there are many of them who have a drop of the Celtic blood in their veins. They bring back memories of real old-time Irish music and acting and re-create for their audiences the poetry and romance of the Old Sod.

In to-morrow night's play, the cast will include the Misses Minnie Allen, Peggy Roche, Stella Brady, and Messrs. W. Collins, Jack Madden, Joe Clancy, V. McCabe, Herb Masterson, Tom Lynch, and Don. McKinnon.

The East City Orchestra, directed by P. O'Toole, will play, and Miss Lillian Simons will direct the production. Specialties between acts will include songs by Mrs. Lee Picard and Miss Geraldine Collins. Messrs. W. Collins and Joe Clancy readings by Miss Lillian Simons, and dances by the Misses Clancy, Flynn, and Curtin.

Similar gifts have been received from Australia and India, and the Canadian gift marks the completion of the panelling of the chapel.

GOD'S PROMISES BEING FULFILLED IN ANGLO-CELTIC-SAXON PEOPLES

British Israelite Society in Peterborough Hears Several Interesting Addresses.

INVITE COL. McKENDRICK.

(Contributed)

The Peterborough Branch of the British Israel World Federation met on Thursday evening at 451 Water street. It was agreed to invite Col. McKendrick, of Toronto, and author of several books on Anglo-Celtic-Israel subjects, to address a public meeting here in the near future.

Some addresses followed, showing God's promises to Israel being fulfilled to the Anglo-Celtic-Saxon peoples of Britain and the United States. The promise that we would hold the gates of our enemies was portrayed by Mr. Milby, who spoke of the defences of Gibraltar and how other points could be fortified, but was not so. He spoke of the efforts of the enemy during the Great War and how unavailing in the Suez Canal. "All the straits and fortified trade routes in the world are in the hands of Britain and the United States, another evidence that we are Israel."

Mrs. Bell spoke on the three pictures from the Old and New Testaments, down to 1931. The first picture 1st Kings 12.6, "And King Rehoboam consulted with the old men that stood before Solomon his Father and sand, 'How do ye advise me to answer this people' and they spake unto him saying if 'thou wilt be servant unto this people this day and will serve them; then they will be thy servants forever; but he consulted with the young men who said make Israel's yoke heavier. Your Father chastised them with whips but you chastise them with Scorpions, wherefore the King harkened not to the people, 'For this thing was of God.'" God meant the separation of the ten tribes from Judah and Benjamin. The lack of serving others caused the first break in the twelve tribes of Israel.

The second picture is of "The Man," despised and rejected of men; a Man of sorrows and acquainted with grief, our Beloved Master, Jesus Christ, and the third picture in 1931 A.D., is of the old line of King David, our Prince David of Wales, travelling over the world to attract commerce and goodwill for his Commonwealth of nations and peoples, fulfilling his great motto, "Ich Dien" (I serve).

Lt.-Col. Miller spoke on the subject of our privileges and our rewards as descendants of Israel. "We find that there are no two nations loving one another, but all looking for something for self. The members of the B.I. Society claim that we are the descendants of the ten lost tribes of Israel. God has placed us as a nation on the Isles of the Sea with a promise that we will not be disturbed. The Spanish Armada came with the intention of taking the fleet and conquering these isles but the Mighty Arm of God scattered the Armada to the winds and seas. Later Napoleon gathered a greater fleet, with the same intention and advanced to meet Wellington at Waterloo.

"We know our armies and fleets have not brought their trophies to the feet of the King, but to the feet of the King of Kings. Thus Britain has been signally blest. We are pleased to know of the hundred and thirty thousand missionaries to-day, 75 per cent being Anglo- Saxan. Our men and women have carried the Word to the darkest corners wherever the way was opened by our race. We have a wonderful heritage, given us by God and because much has been given, much will be expected of us."

The wandering of our ancestors the Ten Tribed Kingdom, Israel, from their separation from two tribed Judah about 975 B.C., was spoken of by Mr. Bell. Because of their rebellion against God the ten tribes were finally conquered by the Assyrians under Shalmanezer and carried into captivity in 721 B.C. Thereafter their movements are told only by contemporary historians. The two tribed Kingdom of Judah also was taken to Babylon at about 599 B.C. Of all Israel only some forty thousands of the "chief of the Fathers of Judah and Benjamin and of the Priests and the Levites" returned according to the prophets, Ezra and Nehemiah. Esdras, a writer, states that then ten tribes left the land part of the first century, A.D., states they were now a great multitude beyond the Euphrates. Herodotus descibes them as wanderers and gives the name only to those who left the Caspian about 650 B.C. Thucydides and Trogus Pompeius refers to them complimentarily. They advanced along the valleys of the Drave and Danube. They defeated Roman armies at Noreia and Arausio. These advances of the Khumri, Prof. Mommsen declares, shook the Roman Empire. From the shores of the Baltic and the mouths of the Elbe, they entered Britain, as waves of Jutes, Anglo Saxons, Danes, Normans and an earlier migration of seafarers as Britons. Britain was never invaded but by the succeeding waves of the tribes of Israel. Their ancient name is gone for their identity was to be lost until the last days. "Should shalt be called Great" and Britain is Hebrew for Covenant Land. Throughout the whole course of their migrations place names and stones have been found to confirm their historians. If the Jews were to be sifted through every nation, their brethren of the ten tribes were not to be lost but for a purpose. General Allenby's entrance into Jerusalem forshadows the end of the reunion."

ROBERT ABBOTT GUEST SPEAKER

Service Clubs and Their Aims Subject of Interesting Address.

FRIDAY NIGHT SUPPER CLUB.

Robert Abbott was the guest speaker at the Friday Night Club last evening and the club listened to a fine address on the subject of Service Clubs and their aims.

Bub Killaly introduced the speaker and mentioned that he was by no means a stranger to the boys, having spoken to the club on previous occasions.

Mr. Abbott being a Rotarian, said that he was naturally more at home when speaking about the aims of Rotary but in as much all Service Clubs are generally more or less similar in their make up and aims, he thought that a brief discussion on Rotary might give the boys a slant on the idea of Service Clubs.

Rotary, Mr. Abbott continued, was really started in 1905 when a Chicago lawyer felt the need of the society of other business men. Each week these men would meet, first in one office and the following weeks in the offices of the various business men which formed this unique group. In this way the name Rotary came to be known. The founder was Paul Harris of Chicago and to-day hundreds of thousands of Rotarians are meeting regularly throughout the world.

As in other clubs, the membership is restricted and only one person from each department of business is allowed membership. For example there is but one lawyer, one surgeon, one dentist in the club and in this way quite a general opinion can be obtained on any desired question.

The speaker added that the Rotary Club was decidedly not a charity organization although it did endeavor to aid certain cases.

Many cripples and other unfortunates who have a goal in life are helped by clubs like the Rotary and the speaker gave instances where certain Peterborough boys were given the opportunity to obtain an education and in every case the boys made good and were able to repay the loan.

Service Clubs, while great social organizations, have high ideals and really strive for the ideal.

A comprehensive outline of the aims of Rotary were given by Mr. Abbott and are as follows: An ideal of service as a basis of all enterprise, high ethical standards in business and profession. An application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal business and community life, the development of aquaintance as an opportunity for service, the recognition of worthiness of all useful occupations and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society. The advancement of understanding, good will, and international peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

The speaker concluded by comparing the Friday Night Club to a service club and said that he could feel that one of the main aims of the friendships would be made here that many years separation could never erase.

The thanks of the club were tendered by Allan Heideman and Neal Gemmell.

The evening's program was interpersed with the well known club songs and yells.

Presentation Made Major J. F. Belford

The executive members of the Brighton Branch of the Canadian Legion met recently at an informal dinner in the Clarendon Hotel, when during the evening Major Belford was presented with a Past President's Jewel and the following address was read:—

"Major James F. B. Belford: Since 1915 you have been working in the interests of soldiers. During the war you had their interests at heart but since the Armistice was signed you have devoted considerable time and influence to the welfare of returned men their widows and orphans. This has all been done willingly and for the good of those who were not in a position or fitted to properly obtain the benefits they needed and in most cases were entitled to.

Time and labor in this work had apparently always been the last consideration, your untiring efforts in the grateful work has not passed unnoticed. Due reward cannot help but come for your many personal sacrifices you have made for the good of your fellow-men, women and children.

As a token of appreciation, we, your comrades of Brighton Branch Canadian Legion No. 100, request that you accept this Past President's Jewel. May you long be spared to continue this good work among your comrades and their dependants. — Brighton Branch, Legion 100."

The presentation was made by O. A. Sharpe, president of the Branch.

Leafs Retain Unbeaten Record With Hawks and Lead Over Maroons.

CANADIENS DRAW SENATORS

Maroons Practically Clinch Play-off Position by Downing Quakers.

BY GEORGE MAGUIRE
(Canadian Press Sports Writer)

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 16. — The second last week-end schedule of games in the National Hockey League's regular season has determined the six teams to participate in the league and Stanley Cup playoffs.

Montreal Maroons, fighting an uphill battle to secure a hold on the third rung, registered their sixth straight victory in Philadelphia Saturday night over the tail-end Quakers, 3 to 2, and clinched this disputed berth. New York Americans, the other contending team, fought 70 minutes of goalless hockey with their intra-city rivals, the Rangers, in Madison Square Garden and splitting the points cost the Amerks any chance they had of moving the Montrealers out.

The Maroons are now two points in the van of the Gothamites whom still can tie the Munromen in the point column, if the Maroons lose their remaining two games and the Amerks win their only scheduled fixture. However, the Montrealers have three more victories to their credit than the Amerks and this factor entitles them to third place in the Canadian group.

Big Lionel Conacher, clever defenceman led the Maroons into the contending class by scoring his team's first goal in the second period when the Quakers were leading, 2 to 1, and then notching the equalizer, seven minutes after the start of the last session. Jimmy Ward got the winning goal seven minutes later.

The number seven has been figuring prominently in the big Maroon team's play during recent weeks. They have not been beaten in the last seven starts and previously they had not won a game in seven starts.

Toronto Maple Leafs made certain of entering the coveted circle in Chicago Sunday night when they handed the Blackhawks a 2 to 1 setback. This was the third straight victory for the Duncanites over the Windy City artists and it enabled them to maintain their game and a half lead over the Maroons.

The Leafs took the lead late in the first period when "King" Clancy engineered an opening for Hal Cotton to skate through and score. Late in the second frame Joe Primeau picked up "Red" Horner's pass to clinch the verdict. A series of five man thrusts in the closing minutes of the game netted the Chicagoans only one goal due to some fine goalkeeping by Lorne Chabot. As the Torontonians play their remaining fixtures on home ice they appear to have second place pretty well in hand.

Montreal Canadiens, champions of the northern section, were given a stiff workout by the tail-end Ottawa Senators in a gem which ended in a 3-all stalmate. Howie Morenz league leading point scorer, returned to the Habitant line-up and showed splendid form after a several game lay-off due to injuries.

In the other scheduled match Detroit Falcons upset Boston Bruins 5 to 2 in the Motor City. The Bruins, champions of the United States division, had managed to hold the speeding Motor Magnates to a 2-2 tie during the regulation time but in the extra frame the Falcons ran wild and caught the Bruin defence out of position to score three markers.

INDIANS LOSE CLOSE STRUGGLE

Although Losing Saturday's Decision to Indians, Tecumsehs Not Yet Out of Race.

JACKETS BEAT STARS 6-3.

TORONTO, Ont., March 16 (C.P.) —London Tecumsehs are not too sure to-day they will figure in the International League play-offs. With a victory on Saturday against the Indians in Cleveland apparently tucked well in the win column as the result of two sparkling tallies by Eric Pettinger, the Londoners saw their hopes blasted when last season's champions rallied and knotted the count before the opening frame was over.

The Indians took the lead in the second 20 minutes but the Tecumsehs proved their courage by notching the equalizer shortly after Captain Al Gray stickhandled through the entire Canadian team for the winning marker half-way through the third period.

While the Tecumsehs lost they are not yet out of the race. The Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets defeated Syracure Stars, 6 to 3, in the Smoky City, to oust the Tecumsehs from fourth place by the margin of one point. The Yellow Jackets, however, have played one more game than Roy Brothers' hockeyists, who have three more games on tapis.

In the other week-end matches the league-leading Buffalo Bisons clinched the top rung by doubling the score on Detroit Olympics, 4 to 2, and the Stars returned to home ice to hold the Detroiters to a 6-all tie on Sunday. The standing:—

SUDBURY WOLVES EASY FOR TIGERS

Hamilton Team Blanks Northerners 5-0—Kane and McGowan Star.

TORONTO, Mar. 16.—The Sudbury Wolves, who ran wild and made short work of the Royal Military College team of Kingston here last Thursday night, looked very tame when they met the snarling Tigers of Hamilton here Saturday afternoon, and the Yellow and Black crew crept off the ice holding a five-goal lead for their return game in Hamilton to-night. The final score was 5 to 0, and the Tigers always looked the better team. They should have little trouble adding to the already large margin and step into the next round of the Allan Cup playdowns.

These Wolves are a game little pack, but they were outclassed completely. The game lacked the usual thrills and was witnessed by just a fair crowd of about 3,000 fans who found little to cheer about. Hamilton looked much the better until well on in the final period, when the Northerners forced the play into Tiger territory in a wild endeavor to avert a shut-out, but "Hawse" March rose to great heights to turn aside shots from every angle and the barrier he presented proved insurmountable.

PLAY-OFF BERTHS CINCHED IN CANADIAN-AMERICAN LOOP

Springfield, Providence and Boston Top League as Result of Saturday's Games.

HEXIMER LEADS SCORERS.

BOSTON, Mass., March 16.—With the Canadian - American Hockey League entering the final week of its schedule, all three play-off berths are practically decided. Springfield, which led the circuit all season, clinched first place Saturday night by defeating the New Haven Eagles.

The Providence Reds, last year's champions, cannot be overtaken by the late-spurting Boston Bruins-Cubs, who need another victory to insure them third place.

The official standing, including games of March 14:—

	W.	L.	T.	Pts.
Springfield	28	7	2	58
Providence	21	10	6	48
Boston	13	21	4	32
Philadelphia	11	23	4	26
New Haven	8	23	6	22

While battling the Eagles, Obs Heximer, star Springfield forward, scored a goal and two assists, which brought his point total to 57, thereby tying the high scoring record made last year by Frank "Deacon" Waite. Heximer has been the league's highest scorer during most of the season. Leo Gaudreault, Providence center, finished another week in second place, with 38 points, and Eddie Burke of Boston was third, a point behind his Rhode Island rival.

Callighen of Springfield, topped the penalty carriers with 104 minutes of punishment. Coulter of Philadelphia, was second with 99 minutes, and Chris. Convey, New Haven, was third with 98 minutes of idleness.

DISTRICT TEAMS WIN DECISIONS

Victors in Semi-finals of Robertson Cup Series at Belleville.

FINALS ON WEDNESDAY.

BELLEVILLE, March 16.—Campbellford Maroons and Madoc won the semi-finals of the Robertson hockey cup series here Friday night. The former defeated the Picton Imperial Oil team, champions of Prince Edward county by a score of 7 to 2, while Belleville "Y" men winners of the city league lost to Madoc, titleholders in the Trent Valley league, by 4 to 1. Both contests were fairly fast.

The Campbellford team will now meet Madoc in the finals here on Wednesday night of next week. Picton, while they put up a sturdy battle, were unable to meet the sweeping attack of the present holders of the trophy, Campbellford. In the second period Fred Ingram scored three goals for the winners in rapid succession. Only smart goalkeeping on the part of Campney in the Picton net saved the team from a worse beating. Church, Myatt and Rorke were best for Picton with Ingram, Whittpn and McArthur standing out for the Maroons.

Picton—Goal, Campney; defence, Church and Cole; centre, Myatt; wings, Brooks and Welsh; subs., Rorke, Dowden, Boyle and Welch.

Campbellford—Goal, Sanders; defence, McArthur and Cowell; centre Whitton; wings, McKay and Ingram; subs., Bush, Lambert and Hendy.

Referee—Stan Burgoyne Belleville.

The "Y" men trotted out a strong line-up, but the Madoc team was in complete command of the play from the start. The game was fairly fast but the Trent Valley champions had the scoring punch, winning 4 to 1. Mulvihill, Holway and Runions all played well for the "Y" men with McGuire, Andrews and L'Heureux staring for Madoc. McGuire, Watson, Johnston and L'Heureux were the marksmen for the winners with Runions getting Belleville's lone counter.

Belleville—Goal, Jeffery; defence, Holway and Weir; centre, Leachman; wings, Smith and Mulvihill; sub., V. Weir, Runions and H. Buck.

Madoc—Goal, Hulin; defence, Andrews and McGuire; centre, L'Heureux; wings, Henderson and Johnston; subs., Moon and Watson.

Referee—Stan Burgoyne, Belleville.

GALT TERRIERS ARE ELIMINATED

Lose Ontario League Play-off Series to Kitchener By 8-6 Count.

SILVERWOODS MEET PATS.

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 16.—(CP)—Galt Terriers, leaders in the Ontario Hockey League race during the major part of the season, have been eliminated from the championship race.

At Kitchener Saturday night the Terriers beat the Silverwoods, 3 to 2, in the second of home and home games, but having suffered 6 to 3 defeat at Kitchener in the first tilt, lost the round 8 to 6.

Silverwoods will now meet Oshawa Pats in a two game series. The winner qualifies to enter the play-offs proper with Guelph, Niagara Falls and Stratford. Kitchener travels to the motor city tonight in the first game, while in the play-offs Guelph Maple Leafs entertain Stratford.

STIRLING PROTEST TO BE HEARD TO-DAY

Player Question Will Be Aired By Trent Valley League Executive.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 16. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The protest of the Stirling Hockey Club against the Madoc outfit for playing Bryan will be aired on Monday afternoon at Stirling when the executive of the Trent Valley Hockey League will meet at that place to consider evidence and give a decision.

This protest was lodged by Stirling after the Belleville game last Wednesday when Madoc won the round and walked away with the Trent Valley Cup. The officials of all teams in the league will be present and an interesting session is anticipated.

HOUNDS LOSE FIRST TANGLE

Winners at One Time Hold Three Goal Advantage in Provincial Play-off.

FINAL COUNT 5 TO 3.

TORONTO, Mar. 16. — Niagara Falls juniors, champions of the O.H.A., will carry a two-goal lead into tonight's final fray against the fleet Soo Greyhounds, the Cataracts having won the opening game of the series on Saturday evening by 5 to 3. It was a sensational battle, made doubly so by the great uphill fight staged by the Northerners, who, early in the fray had trailed by 3 to 0. Tonight's struggle should even eclipse the initial encounter in point of thrills and interest.

Gene Fraser's men leaped into the lead in the first ten minutes when they played rings around the Greyhounds and rang the scoring "bell" three times in a row. The fans groaned in the disappointment, and even the Falls' rooters didn't anticipate such a performance. But the Hounds would not be dismayed, and their "dogged" courage won them the admiration of all the spectators.

Soo's Great Comeback

The Soo reduced the lead when Lauzon secured possession after a scramble in the corner, wheeled around and raced in to score, opposed only by Goalkeeper Dunham, but less than a minute later Steele, on an individual attack, counted for the Cataracts to regain that three-goal advantage. Just before the period closed, however, Maki made one of the most thrilling rushes of the game, rounded the defense and beat Dunham from close range.

Falls rooters, shaken somewhat by the "comeback' by the Hounds, were given cause to worry eleven minutes after the second session opened, when Hunter combined with Maki to bring the Northerners within one goal of the southern champions. The going was fast and furious, with neither team showing signs of distress. It was the Soo's chance to get up there, but Max Kaminsky, the best player on the ice, made victory sure for the Falls, when he went in alone and beat Conway with a wicked and accurate shot from the side. There was no scoring in the final twenty minutes. Those bare details tell their own story. They show how the Cataracts ran up the count before the Hounds got going, they show that the Soo are a courageous lot, but they also indicate that the Falls players can stand up firmly in the face of strong opposition. Had they wavered at all when the Greyhounds struck for victory the result might have been reversed.

Penalties were about evenly divided, the Cataracts getting six and the Hounds seven. All offenses were of a minor nature, most of them being accidental trips brought about by overanxiety on the part of the speeding youngsters.

To-night's Schedule.

Smooth Inside-Play Work Enables Assumption College To Win Round

TORONTO, Ont., Mar. 26.—(By the Canadian Press.)— Assumption College, Windsor, have reached the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association senior final. Playing brilliantly here Saturday the Windsorites trounced Broadview "X" 31 to 27. They lost the first of the home and home series but won the round 76 to 74. Commenting on the game the Mail and Empire says:

"Assumption College basketball team of Windsor rather pulled a surprise on Saturday night when they defeated Broadview by four points to win the round by two. The visitors, with youth on their side, gave a wonderful exhibition of accurate, as well as fake passing. Their system of blocking a man bordered on the illegal, and had the locals plainly at sea. The players were not the only ones, as the referee was puzzled. He did not know whether it was interference or not, so smooth was the work of Assumption in getting players in the way of the man, although, at that, there was no bodily contact.

"To be short, Assumption College demonstrated the local teams were a year or so behind on inside teamplay. The visitors' system is along the lines adopted by St. Catharines, the answer to which is that both teams have United States' coaches.

"Incidentally, it is learned that Eddie Dawson, captain of Assumption College team, will attend University of Toronto next year."

GROVE SENIORS DEFEAT TIGERS

School Team Adds Another Victory to Long Series of Triumphs.

WIN OUT BY 8-3 COUNT.

LAKEFIELD, March 16 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Grove Senior team added another victory to their season's triumphs on Wednesday when they defeated the Tigers of Peterborough by a score of 8—3. The school team is in first class form and fully lived up to the brilliant record of their season. The ice was fairly keen and the crowd enthusiastic with popular sentiment naturally for The Grove team.

The game was well handled by K. A. Mackenzie. The record of the play by periods is as follows:

1st goal—Macrae 5.00
2nd goal—Stuart 10.00
3rd goal—Wright from Stuart... 4.00

The period was fast and clean with two minor penalties.

In the second period Burgess, on a pass from Bogg, scored 7 minutes after the played opened and three minutes later Bogg scored on a rush which got past all the defence and caught the goalies unawares. Three minutes later Macrae landed one behind McArle and in one minute Stuart found his way to the net and planted one. Only one penalty and that a minor one, marked the absolute harmony of the period.

The visitors tightened up and made the third period count. Watson scored three minutes after the puck was dropped, and two minutes later Weir added another. Stuart added The Grove's last counter five minutes later and Gibson in six minutes got past Disney's stone-wall defence of his citadel.

The game was fast and clean throughout, and McArle, in spite of the adverse score, made same splendid "saves."

The visitors, like The Grove, had had a winter's triumph, and came out to Lakefield over heavy roads to meet their Waterloo, but they left behind a good impression of a fast, clean team whose return visit will be welcomed.

The line-up was as follows:—

Grove.—Disney, goal; F. Carson, r. defence; Wright, l. defence! Macrae, centre; Elmsley, r. wing; Stuart, l. wing; Beardmore, R. Carson, Burgess, Bagg, subs.

Tigers.—McArle, goal, Weir, r. defence; Gibson, l. defence; Watson, centre; Fields, r. wing; Kearney, l. wing; Boiler, Kingdon, Pilling, subs.

Flyers Win Out

The Hot Dogs and Flyers played the final game of the season on Wednesday afternoon with a victory for the Flyers of 2—1. These teams are Public School boys, who are a little too young for the Juvenile class, but are shaping up well and from them will be drawn recruits for the Colts and Cubs teams to supply the places of the boys who will have passed their sixteenth birthday by next season. Small boys compose the teams, but it is the training ground for potential O.H.A. teams.

Many amusing stories are told of the snow storm and the efforts people made to resume their regular activities. One of the most amusing was that of the enterprising children who hitched a pet calf to a toboggan to draw them to school.

Allan Cup Finals Dates Are Set Back

REGINA, Sask., Mar. 16. (CP) Due to the fact that there have been several tie games in Eastern Canada with result that winners have not been decided on time, it has been found necessary to set dates back for the Allan Cup finals. These were announced last night by Jack Hamilton, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

The finals, originally slated for March 30, April 1 and April 3 if necessary, have been changed to March 31, April 2 and April 4, if three games are required to decide the winners. The annual meeting will be held April 4, date of the last game.

If the original dates were adhered to, it might cause a hardship to teams in the east who would have to play on successive nights, it was stated.

CAMPBELLFORD TO CLASH MADOC

Will Play Off in J. J. Robertson Trophy Finals at Belleville on Wednesday.

Special Train Will Be Run.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 16 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent)—The Campbellford Maroons staged a come-back Friday evening when they delivered a beating to Picton, winners of the Prince Edward County League, to the tune of 7—2, in the playoffs for the J. J. Robertson trophy in a game staged at the Belleville Arena. This was a double header event, with Madoc, the Trent Valley League champions, clashing with the "Y's" Men, winners of the Belleville City League and coming out on top with a 4—1 score.

Campbellford and Madoc will now clash in the finals for this cup in a game that is scheduled for Wednesday evening at Belleville. Both these teams put up a game fight on Friday, and the Wednesday event gives evidence of being a fast and furious struggle. In their clashes during the Trent Valley schedule, both Madoc and Campbellford have staged some real fine hockey.

It seems a whim of the game that Campbellford, who is in the cellar position of the league, should play the last game of the season with the leading team. However, it was also a peculiar fact that the cellar team should lick the winners of the Prince Edward County League with such a high count.

A special train is expected to run from Campbellford on Wednesday, calling at points on the line, Hoards, Madoc Junction and Stirling, and it is hoped that the fans will be on hand to see one of the best games of the season.

ROLY YOUNG IN THE TORONTO STAR said: "Every once in a while some one produces a talkie that is far away in advance of anything in its particular line. "VIENNESE NIGHTS" which the producers call an OPERETTA, is without doubt the finest musical entertainment the screen has offered. "VIENNESE NIGHTS" has everything—A capable cast, a wonderful score, full of tuneful melodies, good comedy, fine ensembles, stupendous back grounds—and most important of all A SPLENDID STORY."
